Any reference to the IBC Code includes any amendments adopted by the IMO which are considered by the Secretary of State to be relevant from time to time and are specified in a Merchant Shipping Notice: Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 2(2)(b) (amended by SI 2004/930). In interpreting the IBC Code: (1) the provisions of the IBC Code having been made mandatory under the Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 4(2), (3) (see PARA 405), the language thereof is to be construed accordingly; (2) references to the Administration are, in relation to United Kingdom ships, references to the Secretary of State and references to the Port Administration are, in relation to all ships in United Kingdom national waters, references to the Secretary of State; (3) any reference to the 1974 SOLAS Convention is a reference to the SOLAS Convention as defined in the Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010 (see note 17): reg 2(3).

'Non-polluting substance' means a substance listed in the IBC Code Ch 17 or 18 having against it in col 'c' the entry III: Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 2(1). 'Oil-like substance' means a substance listed as such in either MEPC Circular 2/CIRC.1 or provisionally assessed as an oil-like substance: Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 2(1).

5 For these purposes, 'unassessed liquid substance' means a liquid substance which is neither a noxious liquid substance nor a non-polluting substance and is not oil as defined in the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Oil Pollution) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/2154 (see PARA 365 note 8): Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 2(1).

6 For these purposes, 'chemical tanker' means a self-propelled cargo ship constructed or adapted and used for the carriage in bulk of any liquid substance listed in the IBC Code Ch 17 but does not include an offshore support vessel or a dry cargo ship with deep tanks: Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 2(1). 'Constructed' means the date when the keel of a ship is laid or the building is at a similar stage of construction; and 'similar stage of construction' means the stage at which (1) construction identifiable with a specific ship begins; and (2) assembly of that ship has commenced, comprising at least 50 tonnes or 1% of the estimated mass of all structural material, whichever is the less: reg 2(1).

7 For these purposes, 'dangerous substance' means a substance listed in the IBC Code Ch 17 having against it in col 'd' an entry 'S': Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 2(1).

8 For these purposes, 'oil tanker' means a ship constructed or adapted primarily to carry oil in bulk in its cargo spaces and includes a combination carrier when it is carrying a cargo or part cargo of oil in bulk: Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 2(1).

9 For these purposes, 'pollution hazard substance' means a substance listed in the IBC Code Ch 17 having against it in col 'd' an entry 'P': Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 2(1).

10 Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 3(1)(a). Regulation reg 3(1)(a) is subject to reg 3(1)(b) (see the text and notes 11-16): reg 3(1)(a).

14 Ie the Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 16: see PARA 418.

15 For these purposes, 'controlled waters' means the waters designated as controlled waters by the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution) (Limits) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/2128 (amended by SI 1997/506) (see PARA 363 note 2): Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 2(1).

17 For these purposes, 'SOLAS Convention' means the International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea 1974 (London, 1 November 1974 to 1 July 1975; TS 46 (1980); Cmnd 7874), with Protocol (London, 1 June 1978 to 1 March 1979; TS 40 (1981); Cmnd 8277): Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 2(1). Any reference to the SOLAS Convention includes any amendments adopted by the IMO which are considered by the Secretary of State to be relevant from time to time and are specified in a Merchant Shipping Notice: Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 2(2)(f) (amended by SI 2004/930).

18 For these purposes, 'MARPOL Convention' means the International Convention for the Prevention of Pollution from Ships (London, 8 October to 2 November 1973; Misc 26 (1974); Cmnd 5748), with its Protocols, Annex II (but no other Annex) and appendices thereto, as amended by the 1978 Protocol to that Convention and includes all the amendments adopted by the IMO up to 11 October 2002: Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 2(1) (definition amended by SI 2004/930). Any reference to the MARPOL Convention includes any amendments adopted by the IMO which are considered by the Secretary of State to be relevant from time to time and are specified in a Merchant Shipping Notice: Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 2(2)(e) (amended by SI 2004/303).

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(iii) Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk/405. Construction, equipment and operation.

405. Construction, equipment and operation.

Every ship¹ carrying in bulk² noxious liquid substances³ or unassessed liquid substances⁴ must comply with the relevant provisions⁵.

Except as provided in heads (2) and (3) below, chemical tankers⁶ constructed⁷ before 1 July 1986 must be constructed, fitted, equipped, arranged and operated in accordance with those requirements of the BCH Code⁸ relevant to it⁹.

Every ship specified in head (1), (2) or (3) below must be constructed, equipped and operated in accordance with those requirements of the IBC Code¹⁰ relevant to it:

- 734 (1) chemical tankers constructed on or after 1 July 1986;
- 735 (2) ships converted to being chemical tankers on or after that date except oil tankers¹¹:
- 105
 - 32. (a) which were built before that date;
 - 33. (b) which are converted for the purpose of carrying pollution hazard substances¹² only;
 - 34. (c) the conversion of which consists only of modifications necessary for compliance with the BCH Code¹³; and
- 106
 - 736 (3) to the extent that the Secretary of State considers reasonable and practicable, chemical tankers which were constructed before 1 July 1986 but undergo repairs, alterations and modifications of a major character on or after that date¹⁴.

Where a chemical tanker is constructed or adapted to carry substances listed in the IGC Code¹⁵, then, to the extent that the requirements of the IBC and IGC Codes are inconsistent, the requirements of the IGC Code prevail¹⁶.

In every chemical tanker constructed on or after 1 July 1986 the pumping and piping arrangements serving any tank designated for the carriage of a Category B substance¹⁷ or a Category C substance¹⁸ must be such that they comply with the specified requirements¹⁹.

407. Loading and carriage in bulk of dangerous or noxious liquid substances.

No ship¹ must load in bulk², or carry in bulk, any dangerous³ or noxious liquid⁴ substances or substances to a tripartite agreement⁵ unless:

- 737 (1) there is in force in respect of that ship and that substance a valid NLS Certificate⁶, BCH Code Certificate⁷ or IBC Code Certificate⁸ (as applicable) issued and indorsed in accordance with the Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996⁹ and the loading and carriage of that substance is in accordance with the terms of that certificate; or
- 738 (2) either the Secretary of State¹⁰ or the government of a state party to the SOLAS¹¹ or MARPOL Conventions has given written permission for its carriage and any conditions subject to which that permission was given are complied with; or
- 739 (3) if the substance is an oil-like substance¹², there is in force in respect of the ship a valid IOPP Certificate¹³ or a UKOPP Certificate¹⁴ suitably indorsed for the substance in question, the loading and carriage of that substance is in accordance with the terms of that certificate and if of Category C¹⁵ or D¹⁶ it is handled and carried in accordance with the specified requirements¹⁷.

408. Procedures and Arrangements Manual.

Every ship¹ carrying noxious liquid substances² must be provided with a Procedures and Arrangements Manual complying with IMO Standards³.

Such a manual must be approved, in the case of a United Kingdom ship, by the Secretary of State or, in the case of a ship registered in a state party to the MARPOL Convention⁴, by or on behalf of the government of that state⁵.

The Procedures and Arrangements Manual must:

- 740 (1) be kept on board the ship in such a place as to be readily available for inspection⁶;
- 741 (2) in the case of a United Kingdom ship, be in English and, in the case of any other ship, be in, or include a translation into, English or French⁷.

409. Cargo record book.

Every ship¹ carrying noxious liquid substances² must be provided with a cargo record book in the prescribed form³.

Whenever any of the following operations takes place in respect of any noxious liquid substance, a record of the operation must be made in the cargo record book in relation to each tank affected by the operation:

- 742 (1) loading of cargo;
- 743 (2) internal transfer of cargo;
- 744 (3) unloading of cargo;
- 745 (4) cleansing of cargo tanks;
- 746 (5) ballasting of cargo tanks;
- 747 (6) discharge of ballast from cargo tanks;
- 748 (7) disposal of residues to reception facilities;
- 749 (8) discharge of residues into the sea⁴;
- 750 (9) removal of residues by ventilation⁵.

In the event that any emergency discharge⁶ of any noxious liquid substance or mixture containing such a substance is made or occurs, an entry must be made without delay in the cargo record book stating the circumstances of, and the reason for, the discharge⁷.

The entries in the cargo record book, in the case of a United Kingdom ship, must be in English and, in the case of any other ship, in the official language of the state in which the ship is registered, and, where that language is neither English nor French, in English or French⁸. Each entry must be signed by the officer or officers in charge of the operation and each page must be signed by the master⁸.

The cargo record book must be kept in such a place as to be readily available for inspection and, except in the case of unmanned ships under tow, must be kept on board the ship⁹. It must be retained on board the ship for a period of three years after the last entry in it has been made¹⁰.

410. Marine pollution emergency plan for noxious liquid substances.

Every ship¹ of 150 GT² and above certified to carry noxious liquid substances in bulk must carry on board a shipboard marine pollution emergency plan for noxious liquid substance³.

Such a plan must (1) be approved in the case of a United Kingdom ship by the appropriate Certifying Authority⁴ for that ship, and in the case of any other ship be approved by or on behalf of the administration of the country in which the ship is registered; (2) be in accordance with specified guidelines⁵; (3) be written in a language or languages understood by the master and officers of the ship; and (4) consist at least of (a) the procedure to be followed by the master or other persons having charge of the ship to report a noxious liquid substance pollution incident⁶, based on the guidelines developed by the International Maritime Organisation⁷; (b) the list of authorities or persons to be contacted in the event of a noxious liquid substance pollution incident; (c) a detailed description of the action to be taken immediately by persons on board to reduce or control the discharge of noxious liquid substances following the incident; and (d) the procedures and point of contact on the ship for co-ordinating shipboard action with national and local authorities in combating the pollution⁸.

1 As to the meaning of 'ship' see PARA 404 note 2.

2 'GT' means gross registered tonnage; and the gross registered tonnage of a ship having alternative gross registered tonnages is taken to be the larger of those tonnages: Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 2(1) (definition added by SI 2004/930).

2 As to the meaning of 'ship' see PARA 404 note 2.

3 As to the meaning of 'noxious liquid substance' see PARA 404 note 4.

4 In relation to a United Kingdom chemical tanker constructed in compliance with the requirements of the IBC Code, the relevant certificate is an IBC Code Certificate: see the Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 9(2) (reg 9 substituted by SI 2004/930). As to the meaning of 'IBC Code' see PARA 404 note 4. As to the meaning of 'IBC Code Certificate' see PARA 407 note 8. In relation to a United Kingdom chemical tanker constructed in compliance with the requirements of the BCH Code, the relevant certificate is a BCH Code Certificate: see the Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 9(3) (as so substituted). As to the meaning of 'BCH Code' see PARA 405 note 8. As to the meaning of 'BCH Code Certificate' see PARA 407 note 7. In any other case the relevant certificate is an NLS Certificate: see the Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 9(1) (as so substituted). SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(iii) Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk/412. Issue and indorsement of certificates.

412. Issue and indorsement of certificates.

Where the appropriate Certifying Authority¹ is satisfied after the completion of an initial or renewal survey², that the requirements of the MARPOL Convention Annex II³, the IBC Code⁴ or the BCH Code⁵, as the case may be, are being complied with, the Authority must issue (1) in the case of a United Kingdom chemical tanker constructed in compliance with the requirements of the IBC Code, an IBC Code Certificate⁶; (2) in the case of a United Kingdom chemical tanker constructed in compliance with the requirements of the BCH Code, a BCH Code Certificate⁷; or (3) in any other case, an NLS Certificate⁸.

Where the appropriate Certifying Authority is satisfied after the completion of an intermediate or annual survey⁹ that the requirements of the MARPOL Convention Annex II, the IBC Code or the BCH Code, as the case may be, are being complied with, the Authority must indorse the applicable certificate¹⁰.

The Secretary of State¹¹ may, through a proper officer or otherwise, request the administration of a state which is a party to the MARPOL Convention or the administration of a contracting government to the SOLAS Convention¹² to carry out a survey of a United Kingdom ship and, if satisfied that the survey has been completed in accordance with specified requirements¹³, to (a) issue or authorise the issue of an NLS Certificate, an IBC Code Certificate or a BCH Code Certificate, as appropriate, to the ship, or to indorse or authorise the indorsement of such a certificate in accordance with the relevant requirements; (b) include in the certificate a statement to the effect that it has been issued at the request of the Secretary of State; and (c) transmit a copy of the survey report and the certificate to the Secretary of State as soon as possible¹⁴.

The Secretary of State may, at the request of the administration of a party to the MARPOL Convention, survey a ship registered in that state and, if satisfied that the requirements of Annex II are complied with, issue or authorise the issue to the ship of an NLS Certificate, or indorse or authorise the indorsement of such a certificate¹⁵. The Secretary of State may, at the request of the administration of a party to the SOLAS Convention, survey a ship registered in that state and, if satisfied that the requirements of the IBC Code or the BCH Code are complied with, issue or authorise the issue to the ship of an IBC Certificate or a BCH Code Certificate, as appropriate, or indorse or authorise the indorsement of such a certificate¹⁶. The Secretary of State must include or have included in any certificate so issued or indorsed a statement to the effect that it has been issued or indorsed at the request of the administration, and must transmit a copy of the survey report and the certificate to that administration as soon as possible¹⁷.

413. Duration and validity of certificates.

Subject to the following provisions, an NLS Certificate¹, IBC Code Certificate² or BCH Code Certificate³ must be issued (1) on the date of the completion of the relevant survey; (2) as being valid from the date of issue; and (3) for a period of validity not exceeding five years⁴.

Where a renewal survey⁵ has been completed within a period of three months before the expiry of the existing certificate, the new certificate must be issued for a period of validity not exceeding five years from the date of expiry of the existing certificate⁶. Where a renewal survey has been completed after the expiry of an NLS Certificate, IBC Code Certificate or BCH Code Certificate, the new certificate must be issued as being valid from the date of expiry of the existing certificate⁷.

Where an annual or intermediate survey⁸ is completed before the period prescribed⁹ for such a survey (a) the anniversary date¹⁰ shown on the NLS Certificate, IBC Code Certificate or BCH Code Certificate must be amended by indorsement to a date which must not be more than three months later than the date on which the survey was completed; (b) subsequent annual or intermediate surveys must be completed at the prescribed¹¹ intervals using the new anniversary date; and (c) the expiry date may remain unchanged provided one or more annual or intermediate surveys, as appropriate, are carried out so that the maximum intervals between the surveys are not exceeded¹².

An NLS Certificate, IBC Code Certificate or BCH Code Certificate ceases to be valid (i) if its period of validity has been exceeded and the certificate has not been extended by the Certifying Authority¹³ or the period of any such extension has expired; (ii) if the relevant surveys have not been completed within the specified periods, and the certificate indorsed¹⁴; or (iii) on transfer of the ship to the flag of another state¹⁵.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(iii) Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk/414. Extension of validity of certificates.

414. Extension of validity of certificates.

Where an NLS Certificate¹, IBC Code Certificate² or BCH Code Certificate³ has been issued for a period of validity of less than five years and the surveys required⁴ have been completed, the appropriate Certifying Authority⁵ may extend the validity of that certificate so that the certificate is valid for a maximum period of five years⁶.

Where a renewal survey⁷ has been completed before the expiry of an NLS Certificate, IBC Code Certificate or BCH Code Certificate, as the case may be, but the new certificate cannot be issued or placed on board the ship before the expiry of the existing certificate, the appropriate Certifying Authority may indorse the existing certificate as valid for a period not exceeding five months from the expiry date of the existing certificate⁸. Where a renewal survey has not been completed before the expiry of an NLS Certificate, IBC Code Certificate or BCH Code Certificate, as the case may be, and at the time of expiry the ship is not in a port in which it is to be surveyed, the appropriate Certifying Authority may, where it appears to it proper and reasonable to do so, extend the validity of the certificate, solely for the purpose of allowing the ship to complete its voyage to its port of survey, for a period of no more than three months⁹.

Where no other extension has been granted, the appropriate Certifying Authority may extend the validity of the NLS Certificate, IBC Code Certificate or BCH Code Certificate, as the case may be, of a ship used solely on short international voyages¹⁰ for a period of no more than one month¹¹.

In special circumstances as determined by the Maritime and Coastguard Agency¹², where a renewal survey has been completed (1) after the expiry of the NLS Certificate, IBC Code Certificate or BCH Code Certificate, as the case may be; (2) during the period for which the validity of the NLS Certificate, IBC Code Certificate or BCH Code Certificate, as the case may be, has been extended¹³; or (3) during the period for which the validity of the NLS Certificate, IBC Code Certificate or BCH Code Certificate, as the case may be, has been extended¹⁴, the new certificate may be issued as being valid from the date of the completion of the renewal survey¹⁵.

10 'Short international voyage' means a voyage from a port in one country to which the Convention applies to a port in another country, or conversely (1) in the course of which a ship is not more than 200 nautical miles from a port or place in which the passengers and crew could be placed in safety; and (2) which does not exceed 600 nautical miles in distance between the last port of call in the country in which the voyage begins and the last port of call in the scheduled voyage before beginning a return voyage, and which on the return voyage does not exceed 600 nautical miles in distance between the port of call in which the ship commences its return voyage and the first port of call in the country in which the voyage began, and for this purpose no account is taken of any deviation by a ship from her intended voyage due solely to stress of weather or any other circumstances that neither the master nor the owner nor the charterer (if any) of the ship could have prevented or forestalled: Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 2(1) (definition added by SI 2004/930).

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(iii) Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk/415. Responsibilities of owner and master.

415. Responsibilities of owner and master.

The owner and master of every ship must ensure that (1) the condition of the ship and its equipment is maintained to conform with specified requirements¹ so as to ensure that the ship in all respects will remain fit to proceed to sea without presenting an unreasonable threat of harm to the safety of ships or persons on them, or an unreasonable threat of harm to the marine environment²; (2) after any survey³ of the ship has been completed, no change is made in the structure, equipment, systems, fittings, arrangements or material covered by the survey, without the approval of the appropriate Certifying Authority⁴, or of the administration of the state which carried out the survey for that ship, except by direct replacement⁵; and (3) whenever an accident occurs to a ship or a defect is discovered which, in either case, substantially affects the integrity of the ship or the efficiency or completeness of its equipment (a) if the ship is a United Kingdom ship, it is reported at the earliest opportunity to the Secretary of State and to any other appropriate Certifying Authority; (b) if the ship is a United Kingdom ship in a port outside the United Kingdom, it is also reported to the proper officer and to the appropriate authorities of the country in which the port is situated; and (c) if the ship is a non-United Kingdom ship in a port in the United Kingdom, it is reported at the earliest opportunity to the Secretary of State⁶.

Whenever an accident or defect is reported under the above provisions to the Secretary of State, a Certifying Authority or the proper officer, the Secretary of State, Certifying Authority or proper officer, as the case may be, must cause investigations to be initiated to determine whether or not a survey by a surveyor is necessary, and, if a survey is found to be necessary, must require that survey to be carried out⁷.

1 In the case of a United Kingdom ship, or any ship surveyed pursuant to the Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, the requirements are those of those Regulations; in the case of a non-United Kingdom ship, the requirements are those of those Annex II, the IBC Code or the BCH Code, as the case may be: Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/3010, reg 10(1) (reg 10 substituted by SI 2004/930). 417. Exemptions.

The Secretary of State¹ may exempt any ship² or class or description of ship from any of the requirements of the provisions relating to dangerous or noxious substances in bulk³, subject to such conditions as he may specify, and may alter or cancel any exemption so granted⁴.

2 As to the meaning of 'ship' see PARA 404 note 2.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/8. SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(iii) Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk/418. Offences.

418. Offences.

If there is any contravention of the provisions relating to dangerous or noxious substances in bulk¹ (other than of the provision relating to the discharge of cargo tanks²) the owner and master of the ship³ are each guilty of an offence punishable by a fine⁴.

If any noxious liquid substance⁵ is discharged from a ship in contravention of the relevant provision⁶ any person who causes or contributes to that discharge is guilty of an offence⁷ and liable on conviction to a fine⁸.

If there is any contravention of the provision about tank washing or prewashing⁹ in respect of a ship the owner and master of the ship are each guilty of an offence¹⁰ and liable on conviction to a fine¹¹.

It is a defence for a person charged with such an offence (other than a contravention of the provision in regard to the discharge of a noxious liquid substance¹²) to prove that he took all reasonable steps to ensure that the provisions in question were complied with¹³.

No proceedings for an offence of contravening the provisions relating to the discharge of cargo tanks¹⁴ by a ship which is not a United Kingdom¹⁵ ship, which relates to a discharge in the internal waters, territorial waters or exclusive zone of another state may be instituted unless:

- 751 (1) that state, the flag state or a state damaged or threatened by the discharge requests that proceedings be taken; or
- 752 (2) the discharge has caused or is likely to cause pollution in the internal waters, territorial sea or controlled waters of the United Kingdom¹⁶.

Where proceedings for an offence of contravening the provisions relating to the discharge of cargo tanks which is not a United Kingdom ship which relates to a discharge in the internal waters, territorial sea or exclusive economic zone of another state have been instituted but not concluded, and that state requests suspension of the proceedings, then:

- 753 (a) proceedings must be suspended;
- 754 (b) the Secretary of State must transmit all the evidence and court records and documents relating to the case to that state¹⁷.

It is a defence to a charge of contravening the provisions relating to the discharge of cargo tanks for the accused to show:

- 755 (i) that the ship is not a United Kingdom ship; and
- 756 (ii) the discharge took place outside United Kingdom waters and controlled waters; and
- 757 (iii) the ship was in a port in the United Kingdom at the time of institution of proceedings by reason only of stress of weather or other reason beyond the control of the master or charterer¹⁸.

419. Inspection and detention.

A ship¹ is subject in any United Kingdom port to inspection by persons appointed by the Secretary of State².

The inspector may investigate any regulated operation³ if there are clear grounds for believing that the master or crew are not familiar with essential ship board procedures for preventing pollution by a specified substance⁴. In the event of any such inspection revealing deficiencies, the inspector must take such steps as he may consider necessary to ensure that the ship will not sail until the situation has been brought to order⁵.

In any case where:

- 758 (1) a ship does not comply with the requirements of the Merchant Shipping (Dangerous or Noxious Liquid Substances in Bulk) Regulations 1996⁶;
- 759 (2) the steps to be taken by an inspector⁷ involve detention of the ship;
- 760 (3) an accident occurs to a non-United Kingdom ship, or a defect is discovered in a non-United Kingdom ship, either of which substantially affects the integrity of the ship or the efficiency or completeness of its equipment, and a full and proper report of that accident or defect has not been made to the appropriate authority for that ship; or
- 761 (4) within a reasonable period of a report being made of an accident to or defect in a non-United Kingdom ship the Secretary of State is not satisfied that action taken as respects that ship is sufficient to restore the integrity of the ship or the efficiency or completeness of its equipment, the ship is liable to be detained⁸.

Where a ship other than a United Kingdom ship is detained under head (1) above, the Secretary of State must immediately inform the consul or diplomatic representative of the state whose flag the ship is entitled to fly or the appropriate maritime authorities of that state⁹.

420. Suspension of proceedings at flag state request.

Where an offence of contravening the provisions relating to the discharge of cargo tanks¹ by a ship² which is not a United Kingdom ship, in relation to a discharge beyond the United Kingdom's territorial sea³, is alleged, any proceedings for such an offence must be suspended if the court is satisfied that the flag state has instituted proceedings corresponding to the proceedings in the United Kingdom in respect of the discharge, within six months of the institution of proceedings in the United Kingdom, except in a case where the discharge resulted in major damage to the United Kingdom or the Secretary of State certifies that the flag state has repeatedly disregarded its obligation to enforce effectively the requirements of the Convention in respect of its ships⁴.

Where proceedings instituted by the flag state have been brought to a conclusion, the suspended proceedings must be terminated⁵.

(iv) Waste Reception Facilities at Harbours

421. In general.

The Secretary of State may by regulations make such provision as he considers appropriate in relation to:

762 (1) the provision at harbours¹ in the United Kingdom of facilities for the reception of waste from ships ('waste reception facilities'); and 763 (2) the use of waste reception facilities provided at such harbours².

In making the regulations, the Secretary of State must take into account the need to give effect to provisions which are contained in any international agreement³ which has been ratified by the United Kingdom and which relate to waste reception facilities⁴.

2 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 ss 130A(1), 130E (ss 130A, 130E added by the Merchant Shipping and Maritime Security Act 1997 s 5). The Merchant Shipping Act 1995 ss 130B-130D (see PARAS 422-424) make further provision with respect to the regulations that may be made under s 130A: s 130A(3) (as so added). As to the making of regulations generally see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 65; and as to the Secretary of State's power to appoint committees for the purpose of advising him when considering the making or alteration of any regulations see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 41. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 2. As to the regulations made see the Merchant Shipping and Fishing Vessels (Port Waste Reception Facilities) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1809; and see in particular reg 4 (requirement to provide adequate waste reception facilities), reg 5 (direction to provide adequate waste reception facilities), reg 12 (amended by SI 2009/1176) (delivery of ship-generated waste), the Merchant Shipping and Fishing Vessels (Port Waste Reception Facilities) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1809, reg 16 (delivery of cargo residues) and reg 17 (amended by SI 2009/1176) (non-compliance or suspected non-compliance).

422. Waste management plans.

The regulations¹ may make provision requiring a harbour authority² for a harbour³ in the United Kingdom:

- 764 (1) in such circumstances as may be prescribed⁴, to prepare a plan with respect to the provision and use of waste reception facilities⁵ at the harbour; and
- 765 (2) to submit the plan to the Secretary of State for approval⁶.

The regulations may make provision requiring a person:

- 766 (a) if directed to do so by the Secretary of State, to prepare a plan with respect to the provision and use of waste reception facilities at any terminals⁷ operated by him⁸ within a harbour which is in the United Kingdom and is specified in the direction; and
- 767 (b) to submit the plan to the Secretary of State for approval⁹.

The regulations may make provision with respect to the form and content of waste management plans¹⁰ and may in particular require such plans to include:

- 768 (i) proposals as to the information to be provided about waste reception facilities to those who are expected to use them;
- 769 (ii) proposals designed to ensure that adequate provision will be made for the disposal of waste deposited in waste reception facilities; and
- 770 (iii) proposals about how costs incurred in establishing and running waste reception facilities will be recovered¹¹.

The regulations may require a person preparing a waste management plan to have regard to such matters as the Secretary of State may prescribe or in a particular case direct¹².

The regulations may make provision as to the procedures to be followed in connection with waste management plans and may in particular:

- 771 (A) require a person preparing a waste management plan to consult such persons as the Secretary of State may prescribe or in a particular case direct;
- 772 (B) enable the Secretary of State to approve waste management plans with or without modification or to reject such plans;
- 773 (C) enable the Secretary of State, if he is satisfied that a person who is required to prepare a waste management plan is not taking any steps necessary in connection with the preparation of the plan, to prepare such a plan;
- 774 (D) require harbour authorities and persons operating terminals to implement waste management plans once approved, or to take such steps as the Secretary of State may in a particular case direct for the purpose of securing that approved plans are implemented;
- 775 (E) enable waste management plans, in such circumstances as may be prescribed, to be withdrawn, altered or replaced¹³.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(iv) Waste Reception Facilities at Harbours/423. Charges for and use of waste reception facilities.

423. Charges for and use of waste reception facilities.

The regulations¹ may make provision enabling a statutory harbour authority², on levying ship, passenger and goods dues³, to impose charges for the purpose of recovering the whole or a part of the costs of the provision by or on behalf of the authority of waste reception facilities⁴ at the harbour⁵.

The regulations may make provision requiring the master⁶ of a ship:

- 776 (1) if reasonably required to do so by a Departmental officer⁷; or
- 777 (2) in such other circumstances as may be prescribed⁸, to deposit any waste carried by the ship, or any prescribed description of such waste, in waste reception facilities provided at a harbour in the United Kingdom⁹.

The regulations may make provision:

- 778 (a) for the reference to arbitration of questions as to whether requirements made under regulations made in pursuance of head (1) above were reasonable; and
- 779 (b) for compensation to be payable by the Secretary of State where a requirement is found to have been unreasonable¹⁰.

The regulations may make:

- 780 (i) provision prohibiting the imposition by persons providing waste reception facilities at harbours in the United Kingdom of charges for the depositing of waste, or any prescribed description of waste, in the facilities; or
- 781 (ii) provision authorising the imposition by such persons of such charges subject to such restrictions as may be prescribed¹¹.

If the regulations make provision enabling a statutory harbour authority to impose charges for the purpose of recovering the whole or a part of the costs of the provision by or on behalf of the authority of waste reception facilities at the harbour¹²:

- 782 (A) the regulations may require information about the charges to be published in a way that is designed to bring the charges to the notice of persons likely to be affected¹³;
- 783 (B) the regulations may provide for the charges to be reduced at the instance of the Secretary of State following the making of an objection by a person of a prescribed description¹⁴.

The regulations may make provision as to the recovery of any charges imposed by virtue of the above provisions¹⁵.

424. Additional provisions.

The regulations¹ may provide that, where a person contravenes² a requirement under the regulations, he is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction on indictment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or a fine, or to both, or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum³.

The regulations may:

- 784 (1) provide for exemptions from any provision of the regulations;
- 785 (2) provide for references in the regulations to any specified document to operate as references to that document as revised or reissued from time to time;
- 786 (3) make different provision for different cases;
- 787 (4) include such incidental, supplemental and transitional provision as appears to the Secretary of State to be expedient⁴.

Regulations made under the general provisions⁵ which contain any provision of a description mentioned in the provisions relating to charges for and the use of waste reception facilities⁶, whether or not they also contain other provision, must not be made unless a draft of the statutory instrument containing the regulations has been laid before and approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament⁷.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/8. SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(v) Oil Pollution/A. IN GENERAL/425. Discharge of oil from ships into certain United Kingdom waters.

(v) Oil Pollution

A. IN GENERAL

425. Discharge of oil from ships into certain United Kingdom waters.

If there is a relevant discharge¹, the following are² guilty of an offence, that is to say:

- 788 (1) if the discharge is from a ship, the owner or master³ of the ship, unless he proves that the discharge took place and was caused as mentioned in head (2) below;
- 789 (2) if the discharge is from the ship but takes place in the course of a transfer⁴ of oil to or from another ship or a place on land⁵ and is caused by the act or omission of any person in charge of any apparatus in that other ship or that place, the owner or master of that other ship or, as the case may be, the occupier⁶ of that place⁷.

The above provisions do not apply to any discharge from an offshore installation which:

- 790 (a) is made into the sea; and
- 791 (b) is of a kind or is made in circumstances for the time being prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State⁸.

A person guilty of an offence under the above provisions is liable on conviction to a fine⁹.

1 For these purposes, 'relevant discharge' means (1) a discharge of oil or a mixture containing oil which is made (a) from a ship which is an offshore installation; and (b) into United Kingdom national waters which are navigable by sea-going ships; or (2) a discharge of oil or a mixture containing oil which is made (a) from a ship which is not an offshore installation; and (b) into United Kingdom national waters which are navigable by sea-going ships but which do not form part of the sea: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 131(1A) (added by SI 2009/1210).

Any reference in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 Pt VI Ch II (ss 131-136A) (see PARA 426 et seq), other than in s 136 (see PARA 430), to the discharge of oil or a mixture containing oil, or to its being discharged, from a ship, place or thing, except where the reference is to its being discharged for a specific purpose, includes a reference to the escape of oil or mixture or, as the case may be, to its escaping, from that ship, place or thing (s 151(4)); and for the purposes of any provision of Pt VI Ch II relating to the discharge of oil or a mixture containing oil from a ship, any floating craft, other than a ship, which is attached to a ship is to be treated as part of the ship (s 151(5)). 'Oil' means oil of any description and includes spirit produced from oil of any description, and also includes coal tar: s 151(1). Any reference in any provision of Pt VI Ch II to a mixture containing oil is to be construed as a reference to any mixture of oil or, as the case may be, of oil of a description referred to in that provision, with water or with any other substance: s 151(3).

As to the meaning of 'ship' see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 229. For the purposes of s 131, 'offshore installation' means any mobile or fixed drilling or production platform or any other platform used in connection with the exploration, exploitation or associated offshore processing of sea bed mineral resources: s 131(3A) (added by SI 2009/1210). Also for the purposes of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 131, 'sea' includes any estuary or arm of the sea: s 131(4). As to the meaning of 'United Kingdom waters' see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 48 note 10.

2 Ie subject to the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 Pt VI Ch II (ss 131-136A): see PARA 426 et seq.

3 As to the meaning of 'master' see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 424.

4 For these purposes, 'transfer', in relation to oil, means transfer in bulk: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 151(1).

5 For these purposes, 'place on land' includes anything resting on the bed or shore of the sea, or of any other waters included in United Kingdom national waters, and also includes anything afloat, other than a ship, if it is anchored or attached to the bed or shore of the sea or any such waters: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 ss 131(5), 151(1).

6 For these purposes, 'occupier', in relation to any such thing as is mentioned in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 131(5) (see note 5), if it has no occupier, means the owner thereof: s 131(6).

7 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 131(1) (amended by SI 2009/1210). As to the application of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 131 to government ships see PARA 438; as to the Secretary of State's power to grant exemptions from the provisions of s 131 see PARA 437; and as to the powers of inspectors appointed under s 256(6) (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 46) to serve improvement notices or prohibition notices where s 131 and the provisions of any instrument of a legislative character having effect thereunder are being contravened, or where activities to which s 131 applies are carried on so as to involve serious personal injury or serious pollution, see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 50 et seq.

The provisions of s 131(1) do not apply to any discharge which is made under an authorisation granted under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt I (ss 1-28) (prospectively repealed) (see PARA 159 et seq) or a permit granted under regulations under the Pollution Prevention and Control Act 1999 s 2 (see PARAS 186, 187) or an authorisation or permit granted under any corresponding provisions of the law of Northern Ireland: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 136A (added by the Pollution Prevention and Control Act 1999 Sch 2 para 13; and amended by SI 2002/3153). As from a day to be appointed, the reference to an authorisation under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt I is removed: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 136A (prospectively amended by the Pollution Prevention and Control Act 1999 Sch 3). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

8 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 131(2) (amended by SI 2009/1210). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made and none have effect as if so made. As to the making of regulations generally see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 65. The Secretary of State's power under s 301 to appoint committees for the purpose of advising him when considering the making or alteration of any regulations does not apply to regulations under s 131: see s 301(1) and SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 41.

9 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 131(3) (amended by the Merchant Shipping and Maritime Security Act 1997 s 7(1)). Such a person is liable on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding £250,000; or on conviction on indictment, to a fine: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 131(3) (as so amended). For defences see PARAS 426, 427. As to offences under s 131 see also s 143 (prosecutions and enforcement of fines) (see PARA 433), ss 144, 145 (power to detain ships) (see PARA 434) and s 146 (enforcement and application of fines) (see PARA 435).

See further, in relation to the application of s 131(3), with modifications, in respect of such contravention of regulations made under the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage) Order 2006, SI 2006/2950, as maybe specified in those regulations in respect of an offence under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 131, the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage) Order 2006, SI 2006/2950, art 6.

As to the time limit for summary offences see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 1100; as to offences by officers of bodies corporate see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 1102; as to jurisdiction in relation to offences see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 1103; as to jurisdiction over ships lying off the coast see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 1104; as to jurisdiction in the case of offences on board ship see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 1105; as to offences committed by British seamen see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 1106; and as to proof etc of exemption see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 1112.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(v) Oil Pollution/A. IN GENERAL/426. Defences of owner or master charged with offence.

426. Defences of owner or master charged with offence.

Where a person is charged with an offence of discharging oil from a ship into certain United Kingdom waters¹ as the owner or master² of a ship³, it is a defence to prove that the oil⁴ or mixture⁵ was discharged⁶ for the purpose of:

- 792 (1) securing the safety of any ship;
- 793 (2) preventing damage to any ship or cargo; or
- 794 (3) saving life, unless the court is satisfied that the discharge of the oil or mixture was not necessary for that purpose or was not a reasonable step to take in the circumstances⁷.

Where a person is charged with such an offence as the owner or master of a ship, it is also a defence to prove:

- 795 (a) that the oil or mixture escaped in consequence of damage to the ship, and that, as soon as practicable after the damage occurred, all reasonable steps were taken for preventing, or, if it could not be prevented, for stopping or reducing, the escape of the oil or mixture; or
- 796 (b) that the oil or mixture escaped by reason of leakage, that neither the leakage nor any delay in discovering it was due to any want of reasonable care, and that, as soon as practicable after the escape was discovered, all reasonable steps were taken for stopping or reducing it⁸.

1 le an offence under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 131: see PARA 425.

2 As to the meaning of 'master' see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 424.

427. Defences of occupier charged with offence.

Where a person is charged, in respect of the escape of any oil¹ or mixture containing oil², with an offence of discharging oil from a ship into certain United Kingdom waters³ as the occupier⁴ of a place on land⁵, it is a defence to prove that neither the escape nor any delay in discovering it was due to any want of reasonable care and that, as soon as practicable after it was discovered, all reasonable steps were taken for stopping or reducing it⁶.

1 As to the meaning of 'oil' see PARA 425 note 1.

2 As to the meaning of 'mixture containing oil' see PARA 425 note 1.

3 Is an offence under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 131: see PARA 425.

4 As to the meaning of 'occupier' see PARA 425 note 6.

5 As to the meaning of 'place on land' see PARA 425 note 5.

6 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 133. As to the application of s 133 to government ships see PARA 438; as to the Secretary of State's power to grant exemptions from the provisions of s 133 see PARA 437; and as to the powers of inspectors appointed under s 256(6) (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 46) to serve improvement notices or prohibition notices where s 133 and the provisions of any instrument of a legislative character having effect thereunder are being contravened, or where activities to which s 133 applies are carried on so as to involve serious personal injury or serious pollution, see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 50 et seq.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/8. SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(v) Oil Pollution/A. IN GENERAL/428. Protection for acts done in exercise of certain powers of harbour authorities etc.

428. Protection for acts done in exercise of certain powers of harbour authorities etc.

Where any oil¹, or mixture containing oil², is discharged³ in consequence of:

- 797 (1) the exercise of any power conferred by the statutory provisions relating to the removal of wrecks⁴; or
- 798 (2) the exercise for the purpose of preventing obstruction or danger to navigation, of any power to dispose of sunk, stranded or abandoned ships⁵ which is exercisable by a harbour authority⁶ under any local enactment⁷, and the authority exercising the power, or a person employed by or acting on behalf of the authority, would otherwise⁸ be guilty of an offence⁹ in respect of that discharge, the authority or person must not be convicted unless it is shown that it or he failed to take such steps, if any, as were reasonable in the circumstances for preventing, stopping or reducing the discharge¹⁰.

1 As to the meaning of 'oil' see PARA 425 note 1.

2 As to the meaning of 'mixture containing oil' see PARA 425 note 1.

3 As to the meaning of 'discharge' see PARA 425 note 1.

5 As to the meaning of 'ship' see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 229.

6 For these purposes, 'harbour authority' means a person or body of persons empowered by an enactment to make charges in respect of ships entering a harbour in the United Kingdom or using facilities therein: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 151(1). 'Harbour in the United Kingdom' means a port, estuary, haven, dock or other place the waters of which are within United Kingdom national waters and in respect of entry into or the use of which by ships a person or body of persons is empowered by an enactment (including a local enactment) to make any charges other than charges in respect of navigational aids or pilotage: s 151(1). 'Charges in respect of navigational aids' means general light dues, local light dues and any other charges payable in respect of lighthouses, buoys or beacons: s 151(2). As to the meaning of 'harbour' see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 49; as to the meaning of 'port' see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 49; and as to the meaning of 'United Kingdom waters' see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 48 note 10.

7 For these purposes, 'local enactment' means a local or private Act, or an order confirmed by Parliament or brought into operation in accordance with special Parliamentary procedure: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 151(1).

9 Ie an offence under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 131: see PARA 425.

10 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 134(1). Section 134(1) applies to the exercise of any power conferred by the Dockyard Ports Regulation Act 1865 s 13 (removal of obstructions to dockyard ports) (see PORTS AND HARBOURS vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 693) as it applies to the exercise of the powers under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 ss 252, 253 (see note 4), and has effect, as so applying, as if references to the authority exercising the power were references to the Queen's harbour master for the port in question: s 134(2). As to Queen's harbour masters see the Dockyard Ports Regulation Act 1865 s 4; and PORTS AND HARBOURS vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 693.

As to the application of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 134 to government ships see PARA 438; as to the Secretary of State's power to grant exemptions from the provisions of s 134 see PARA 437; and as to the powers of inspectors appointed under s 256(6) (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 46) to serve improvement notices or prohibition notices where s 134 and the provisions of any instrument of a legislative character having effect thereunder are being contravened, or where activities to which s 134 applies are carried on so as to involve serious personal injury or serious pollution, see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 50 et seq.

429. Restrictions on transfer of oil at night.

No oil¹ must be transferred between sunset and sunrise to or from a ship² in any harbour in the United Kingdom³ unless the requisite notice has been given in accordance with the following provisions or the transfer is for the purposes of a fire and rescue authority or other employer of fire-fighters⁴.

A general notice may be given to the harbour master⁵ of a harbour that transfers⁶ of oil between sunset and sunrise will be frequently carried out at a place in the harbour within such period, not ending later than 12 months after the date on which the notice is given as is specified in the notice; and, if such a notice is given, it is the requisite notice for these purposes as regards transfers of oil at that place within the period specified in the notice⁷.

The requisite notice for these purposes is⁸ a notice given to the harbour master not less than three hours nor more than 96 hours before the transfer of oil begins⁹.

If any oil is transferred to or from a ship in contravention¹⁰ of the above provisions, the master¹¹ of the ship, and, if the oil is transferred from or to a place on land¹², the occupier of that place, is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale¹³.

430. Duty to report discharge of oil into waters of harbours.

If any oil¹ or mixture containing oil²:

799 (1) is discharged³ from a ship⁴ into the waters of a harbour in the United Kingdom⁵; or

800 (2) is found to be escaping or to have escaped from a ship into any such waters, the owner or master⁶ of the ship must forthwith report the occurrence to the harbour master⁷, or, if the harbour has no harbour master, to the harbour authority⁸.

A report so made must state whether the occurrence falls within head (1) or (2) above⁹.

If a person fails to make a report as so required, he is liable to a fine¹⁰.

431. Safety directions.

The Merchant Shipping Act 1995 contains general provisions as to safety directions which may be given in respect of accidents involving ships, including directions in regard to an accident creating a risk of pollution by a hazardous substance¹. This is dealt with elsewhere in this work².

1 See the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 108A, Sch 3A (added by the Marine Safety Act 2003 Sch 1). It should be noted that the previous provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 relating to shipping casualties (ie ss 137-141) were repealed by the Marine Safety Act 2003 s 3, Sch 2 para 2, Sch 3.

B. ENFORCEMENT

432. Oil records.

The Secretary of State may make regulations requiring oil record books to be carried in United Kingdom ships¹ and requiring the master² of any such ship to record in the oil record book carried by it:

- 801 (1) the carrying out, on board or in connection with the ship, of such of the following operations as may be prescribed relating to:
 35. (a) the loading of oil cargo;
 36. (b) the transfer³ of oil cargo during a voyage;
 37. (c) the discharge⁴ of oil cargo,
 38. (d) the ballasting of oil tanks, whether cargo or bunker fuel tanks, and the discharge of ballast from, and cleaning of, such tanks;
 39. (e) the separation of oil⁵ from water, or from other substances, in any mixture containing oil⁶;
 40. (f) the disposal of any oil or water, or any other substance, arising from operations relating to any of the matters specified in heads (a) to (e) above; or
 41. (g) the disposal of any other oil residues⁷;
- 108 802 (2) any occasion on which oil or a mixture containing oil is discharged from the ship for the purpose of securing the safety of any ship, or of preventing damage to any ship or cargo, or of saving life;
- 803 (3) any occasion on which oil or a mixture containing oil is found to be escaping, or to have escaped, from the ship in consequence of damage to the ship, or by reason of leakage⁸.

The Secretary of State may make regulations requiring the keeping of records relating to the transfer of oil to and from ships while they are within United Kingdom waters⁹; and the requirements of any regulations so made are in addition to the requirements of any regulations made¹⁰ under the above provisions¹¹.

Any records required to be kept by regulations so made¹² must, unless the ship is a barge¹³, be kept by the master of the ship, and must, if the ship is a barge, be kept, in so far as they relate to the transfer of oil to the barge, by the person supplying the oil and, in so far as they relate to the transfer of oil from the barge, by the person to whom the oil is delivered¹⁴.

Regulations under the above provisions requiring the carrying of oil record books or the keeping of records may:

- 804 (i) prescribe the form of the oil record books or records and the nature of the entries to be made in them;
- 805 (ii) require the person providing or keeping the books or records to retain them for a prescribed period;

- 806 (iii) require that person, at the end of the prescribed period, to transmit the books or records to a place or person determined by or under the regulations;
- 807 (iv) provide for the custody or disposal of the books or records after their transmission to such a place or person¹⁵.

Regulations under the above provisions may be made with respect to all or with respect to any one or more of the classes of ship or other matters to which the provisions relate, and may make different provision for different classes of ship or otherwise for different classes of case or different circumstances¹⁶.

If any ship fails to carry such an oil record book as it is required to carry under these provisions, the owner or master is liable to a fine¹⁷.

If any person fails to comply with any requirements imposed on him by or under these provisions, he is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale¹⁸.

If any person makes an entry in any oil record book carried or record kept under these provisions which is to his knowledge false or misleading in any material particular, he is liable on conviction on indictment to a fine or imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years, or to both, or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum or imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, or to both¹⁹.

In any proceedings²⁰:

- 808 (A) any oil record book carried or record kept in pursuance of regulations made under the above provisions is admissible as evidence of the facts stated in it;
- 809 (B) any copy of an entry in such an oil record book or record which is certified by the master of the ship in which the book is carried or by the person by whom the record is required to be kept to be a true copy of the entry is admissible as evidence of the facts stated in the entry;
- 810 (C) any document purporting to be an oil record book carried or record kept in pursuance of regulations made under the above provisions, or purporting to be such a certified copy as is mentioned in head (B) above, is to be presumed, unless the contrary is proved, to be such a book, record or copy, as the case may be²¹.

433. Prosecutions and enforcement of fines.

Proceedings for an offence under the provisions relating to oil pollution¹ may, in England and Wales, be brought only:

811 (1) by or with the consent of the Attorney General; or 812 (2) if the offence is:

42. (a) any offence² which is alleged to have been committed by the discharge³ of oil⁴, or a mixture containing oil⁵, into the waters of a harbour in the United Kingdom⁶;

43. (b) any offence in relation to a harbour in the United Kingdom⁷; and

44. (c) any offence⁸ relating to the keeping of records of the transfer⁹ of oil within such a harbour,

45. by the harbour authority¹⁰; or

813 (3) unless the offence is one mentioned in head (2)(b) or (2)(c) above, by the Secretary of State or a person authorised by any general or special direction of the Secretary of State¹¹.

The above provisions apply in relation to any part of a dockyard port¹² as follows:

814 (i) if that part is comprised in a harbour in the United Kingdom, the reference to the harbour authority is to be construed as including a reference to the Queen's harbour master¹³ for the port;

815 (ii) if that part is not comprised in a harbour in the United Kingdom, the references to such a harbour are to be construed as references to such a dockyard port and the reference to the harbour authority as a reference to the Queen's harbour master for the port¹⁴.

Any document required or authorised, by virtue of any statutory provision, to be served on a foreign company¹⁵ for the purposes of the institution of, or otherwise in connection with, proceedings for an offence of discharging oil from a ship into certain United Kingdom waters¹⁶ alleged to have been committed by the company as the owner of the ship is to be treated as duly served on that company if the document is served on the master¹⁷ of the ship¹⁸.

Any person authorised to serve any document for the purposes of the institution of, or otherwise in connection with, proceedings for any offence¹⁹ has the right, for that purpose, to go on board the ship in question²⁰.

434. Power to detain ships.

Where a harbour master¹ has reason to believe that the master² or owner of a ship³ has committed an offence⁴ by the discharge⁵ from the ship of oil⁶, or a mixture containing oil⁷, into the waters of the harbour, the harbour master may detain the ship⁸.

Where a harbour master so detains a ship other than a United Kingdom ship⁹, he must immediately notify the Secretary of State, who must then inform the consul or diplomatic representative of the state whose flag the ship is entitled to fly or the appropriate maritime authorities of that state¹⁰.

A harbour master who so detains a ship must immediately release the ship:

- 816 (1) if no proceedings for the offence are instituted¹¹ within the period of seven days beginning with the day on which the ship is detained;
- 817 (2) if proceedings for the offence, having been instituted within that period, are concluded without the master or owner being convicted¹²;
- 818 (3) if either the sum of £255,000 is paid to the harbour authority by way of security, or security which, in the opinion of the harbour authority, is satisfactory and is for an amount not less than £255,000 is given to the harbour authority, by or on behalf of the master or owner; or
- 819 (4) where the master or owner is convicted of the offence, if any costs or expenses ordered to be paid by him, and any fine imposed on him, have been paid¹³.

The harbour authority must repay any sum paid in pursuance of head (3) above or release any security so given:

- 820 (a) if no proceedings for the offence are instituted within the period of seven days beginning with the day on which the sum is paid; or
- 821 (b) if proceedings for the offence, having been instituted within that period, are concluded without the master or owner being convicted¹⁴.

Where a sum has been paid, or security has been given, by any person in pursuance of head (3) above and the master or owner is convicted of the offence, the sum so paid or the amount made available under the security must be applied as follows:

- 822 (i) first in payment of any costs or expenses ordered by the court to be paid by the master or owner; and
- 823 (ii) next in payment of any fine imposed by the court; and any balance must be repaid to the first-mentioned person¹⁵.

The above provisions do not apply in relation to a ship of Her Majesty's navy or any government ship¹⁶.

1 For these purposes, any reference to a harbour master or a harbour authority is to be construed, where the harbour in question consists of or includes the whole or any part of a dockyard port within the meaning of the Dockyard Ports Regulation Act 1865 (see PORTS AND HARBOURS vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 613), as including a reference to the Queen's harbour master for the port: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 144(7). 8 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 144(1). Section 284 (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 1253), in its application to the detention of a ship under s 144, has effect with the omission of s 284(1), (6), (7) and as if: (1) in s 284(2) the reference to competent authority were a reference to the harbour authority; and (2) in s 284(4) the persons in relation to whom s 284(4) applies were the harbour master or any person acting on his behalf: s 144(2).

As to the application of ss 144, 145 to government ships see PARA 438; as to the Secretary of State's power to grant exemptions from the provisions of ss 144, 145 see PARA 437; and as to the powers of inspectors appointed under s 256(6) (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 46) to serve improvement notices or prohibition notices where s 144 or, as the case may be, s 145 and the provisions of any instrument of a legislative character having effect thereunder are being contravened, or where activities to which s 144 or, as the case may be, s 145 applies are carried on so as to involve serious personal injury or serious pollution, see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 50.

9 For these purposes, 'United Kingdom ship' has the same meaning as in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 85 (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 230): s 144(3).

10 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 144(3). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58.

11 For these purposes, proceedings for an offence under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 131 are instituted: (1) when a justice of the peace issues a summons or warrant under the Magistrates' Courts Act 1980 s 1 (see MAGISTRATES) in respect of the offence; (2) when a person is charged with the offence after being taken into custody without a warrant; (3) when a bill of indictment is preferred under the Administration of Justice (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1933 s 2(2)(b): Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 145(1), (2)(a). As from a day to be appointed, another head is added to the above as follows 'when a public prosecutor issues a written charge and requisition in respect of that offence' and a new provision is added providing that in s 145(2) 'public prosecutor', 'requisition' and 'written charge' have the same meaning as in the Criminal Justice Act 2003 s 29: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 145(2), (2A) (s 145(2) prospectively amended and s 145(2A) prospectively added by the Criminal Justice Act 2003 Sch 36 Pt 2 para 13). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. Where the application of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 145(2)(a) would result in there being more than one time for the institution of proceedings, they are to be taken to have been instituted at the earliest of those times: s 145(4). As to when proceedings are instituted in Northern Ireland see s 145(3)(a).

12 For these purposes, proceedings for the offence are concluded without the master or owner being convicted on the occurrence of one of the following events: (1) the discontinuance of the proceedings; (2) the acquittal of the master or owner; (3) the quashing of the master's or owner's conviction of the offence; (4) the grant of Her Majesty's pardon in respect of the master's or owner's conviction of the offence: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 145(1), (2)(b). As to when proceedings are concluded in Northern Ireland see s 145(3)(b).

13 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 144(4) (amended by the Merchant Shipping and Maritime Security Act 1997 s 7(3)). 435. Enforcement and application of fines.

Where a fine imposed by a court in proceedings against the owner or master¹ of a ship² for an offence under the provisions relating to pollution³ is not paid, or any costs or expenses ordered to be paid by him are not paid, at the time ordered by the court, the court has power, in addition to any other powers of enforcing payment, to direct the amount remaining unpaid to be levied by distress of the ship and its equipment⁴.

Where a person is convicted of an offence of discharging oil from a ship into certain United Kingdom waters⁵, and the court imposes a fine in respect of the offence, then, if it appears to the court that any person has incurred, or will incur, expenses in removing any pollution, or making good any damage, which is attributable to the offence, the court may order the whole or part of the fine to be paid to that person for or towards defraying those expenses⁶.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(v) Oil Pollution/B. ENFORCEMENT/436. Enforcement of Conventions relating to oil pollution.

436. Enforcement of Conventions relating to oil pollution.

Her Majesty may by Order in Council empower such persons as may be designated by or under the Order to go on board any Convention ship¹ while the ship is within a harbour in the United Kingdom², and to require production of any oil record book required to be carried in accordance with the Convention³.

Such an Order in Council may, for the purposes of the Order, and with any necessary modifications, apply any of the provisions⁴ relating to the production and inspection of oil record books and the taking of copies of entries therein, and to the admissibility in evidence of such oil record books and copies, including any penal provisions⁵ in so far as they relate to those matters, and may also apply the provisions⁶ giving inspectors powers in relation to premises and ships⁷.

If satisfied that the government of any country has accepted, or denounced, the Convention, or that the Convention extends, or has ceased to extend, to any territory, Her Majesty may by Order in Council make a declaration to that effect⁸.

1 For these purposes, 'Convention ship' means a ship registered in: (1) a country the government of which has been declared by an Order in Council under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 147(3) (see the text and note 8) to have accepted the Convention, and has not been so declared to have denounced it; or (2) a territory to which it has been so declared that the Convention extends, not being a territory to which it has been so declared that the Convention has ceased to extend: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 147(4). 'Convention' means any Convention accepted by Her Majesty's government in the United Kingdom in so far as it relates to the prevention of pollution of the sea by oil: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 147(4).

2 As to the meaning of 'harbour in the United Kingdom' see PARA 428 note 6.

3 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 147(1). At the date at which this volume states the law no such Order in Council had been made but, by virtue of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(b), the Prevention of Oil Pollution (Convention Countries) Order 1981, SI 1981/612, has effect as if so made.

C. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

437. Secretary of State's power to grant exemptions.

The Secretary of State may exempt from any of the provisions relating to oil pollution¹ or of any regulations made thereunder, either absolutely or subject to such conditions as he thinks fit:

- 824 (1) any ship² or classes of ships;
- 825 (2) any discharge³ of, or of a mixture containing⁴, oil⁵.

438. Application to government ships.

The provisions relating to oil pollution¹ do not apply to ships of Her Majesty's navy nor to government ships² in the service of the Secretary of State while employed for the purposes of Her Majesty's navy³.

Subject to this⁴, provisions relating to oil pollution⁵:

826 (1) which are expressed to apply only to United Kingdom ships⁶ apply to government ships registered⁷ in the United Kingdom and also to government ships not so registered but held for the purposes of Her Majesty's government in the United Kingdom⁸;

827 (2) which are expressed to apply to ships generally apply to government ships⁹.

439. Annual report.

As soon as possible after the end of each calendar year, the Secretary of State must make a report on the exercise and performance of his functions under the provisions relating to oil pollution¹ during that year².

Every such report must include such observations as he may think fit to make on the operation during that year of those provisions and of any Convention accepted by Her Majesty's government in the United Kingdom in so far as it relates to the prevention of pollution of the sea by oil³.

The Secretary of State must lay a copy of every such report before each House of Parliament⁴.

(vi) Liability for Oil Pollution

A. IN GENERAL

441. Parties to the Liability Convention.

If Her Majesty by Order in Council declares that any state specified in the Order is a party to the International Convention on Civil Liability for Oil Pollution Damage 1992 (the 'Liability Convention'), in respect of any country so specified, the Order is conclusive evidence, while in force, that that state is a party to that Convention in respect of that country¹.

¹ Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 152(1), (2). As from a day to be appointed a reference is added to the International Convention on Civil Liability for Bunker Oil Pollution Damage 2001 (the 'Bunkers Convention'): Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 152(1), (2) (prospectively amended by SI 2006/1244). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. At the date at which this volume states the law no such Order in Council had been made. The Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 306(3) (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 65) does not apply to a statutory instrument containing an Order in Council under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 152(2): s 306(3).

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(vi) Liability for Oil Pollution/A. IN GENERAL/442. Power to make transitional provisions.

442. Power to make transitional provisions.

Until 30 May 1996 alternative provisions¹ relating to liability for oil pollution had effect².

Her Majesty may³ by Order in Council make such provision as appears to Her Majesty to be appropriate in connection with the implementation of any transitional provisions contained in the 1992 Protocol⁴ or the Conventions which they amend⁵.

1 Ie the provisions set out in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 171(1), Sch 4 as Pt VI Ch III (ss 152-171).

2 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 171(1); Merchant Shipping Act 1995 (Appointed Day No 1) Order 1996, SI 1996/1210, art 2.

3 Ie notwithstanding the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 171(1): see the text and notes 1, 2.

4 For these purposes, '1992 Protocol' means the Protocol of 1992 to amend the International Convention on Civil Liability for Oil Pollution Damage (Brussels, 29 November 1969 to 31 December 1970; TS 106 (1975); Cmnd 6183) signed in London on 27 November 1992: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 171(3).

5 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 171(2). Any such Order may in particular provide, in relation to occurrences of any description specified in the Order: (1) for specified provisions of Pt VI Ch III (ss 152-171), whether as contained in Pt VI Ch III (ss 152-171) or in Pt VI Ch III (ss 152-171) set out in Sch 4, to have effect; (2) for any such provisions to have effect subject to specified modifications: s 171(2). For these purposes, 'specified' means specified in the Order: s 171(3). In exercise of the power so conferred Her Majesty made the Merchant Shipping (Liability and Compensation for Oil Pollution Damage) (Transitional Provisions) Order 1996, SI 1996/1143 (revoked by SI 1997/2566). SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(vi) Liability for Oil Pollution/B. LIABILITY/443. Liability for oil pollution in case of tankers.

B. LIABILITY

443. Liability for oil pollution in case of tankers.

Where, as a result of any occurrence, any oil¹ is discharged or escapes² from:

- 830 (1) any ship³ constructed or adapted for carrying oil in bulk as cargo; and
- 831 (2) where any ship so constructed or adapted is capable of carrying other cargoes besides oil, any such ship while it is carrying oil in bulk as cargo and, unless it is proved that no residues from the carriage of any such oil remain in the ship, while it is on any voyage following the carriage of any such oil, but not otherwise, the owner⁴ of the ship is liable⁵:

- 832 (a) for any damage⁶ caused outside the ship in the territory⁷ of the United Kingdom by contamination resulting from the discharge or escape; and
- 833 (b) for the cost of any measures reasonably taken after the discharge or escape for the purpose of preventing or minimising any damage so caused in the territory of the United Kingdom by contamination resulting from the discharge or escape; and
- 834 (c) for any damage caused in the territory of the United Kingdom by any measures so taken⁸.

Where, as a result of any occurrence, there arises a grave and imminent threat of damage being caused outside such a ship by the contamination that might result if there were a discharge or escape of oil from the ship, the owner of the ship is liable⁹:

- 835 (i) for the cost of any measures reasonably taken for the purpose of preventing or minimising any such damage in the territory of the United Kingdom; and
- 836 (ii) for any damage caused outside the ship in the territory of the United Kingdom by any measures so taken; and any such threat is referred to as a relevant threat of contamination¹⁰.

Where a person incurs such a liability¹¹, he is also liable for any damage or cost for which he would be so liable if the references¹² to the territory of the United Kingdom included the territory of any other Liability Convention country¹³.

Where:

- 837 (A) as a result of any occurrence, a liability is so incurred by the owner of each of two or more ships; but
- 838 (B) the damage or cost for which each of the owners would be liable cannot reasonably be separated from that for which the other or others would be liable, each of the owners is liable, jointly with the other or others, for the whole of the damage or cost for which the owners together would be liable under the above provisions¹⁴.

1 For these purposes, 'oil' means persistent hydrocarbon mineral oil: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 170(1). As from a day to be notified in the Gazette, a reference is added to an exception for 'bunker oil' (see note 8): s 170(1) (definition prospectively amended by SI 2006/1244). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been notified.

2 For these purposes: (1) references to a discharge or escape of oil from a ship are references to such a discharge or escape wherever it may occur, and whether it is of oil carried in a cargo tank or of oil carried in a bunker fuel tank; (2) where more than one discharge or escape results from the same occurrence or from a series of occurrences having the same origin, they are to be treated as one, but any measures taken after the first of them are deemed to have been taken after the discharge or escape: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 153(7)(a), (b). As to the meaning of 'ship' see note 3. Section s 153(7), (8) is repealed by SI 2006/1244 as from a day to be notified in the Gazette. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been notified.

3 For these purposes, 'ship' means, subject to the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 154(5) (see PARA 444), any sea-going vessel or sea-borne craft of any type whatsoever: s 170(1).

4 For these purposes, 'owner' means the person or persons registered as the owner of the ship or, in the absence of registration, the person or persons owning the ship, except that, in relation to a ship owned by a state which is operated by a person registered as the ship's operator, it means the person registered as its operator: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 170(1). In relation to any damage or cost resulting from the discharge or escape of any oil from a ship, or from a relevant threat of contamination, references to the owner of the ship are references to the owner at the time of the occurrence or first of the occurrences resulting in the discharge or escape or, as the case may be, in the threat of contamination: s 170(2). As from a day to be notified in the Gazette, the 'owner' definition becomes the definition for 'registered owner' and references in s 170(2) are added to 'bunker oil' and 'registered owner': s 170(1), (2) (prospectively amended by SI 2006/1244). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been notified.

6 For these purposes, 'damage' includes loss: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 170(1).

See Black v Braer Corpn 1999 SLT 1401, OH (damage may include psychological injuries). Claims for economic loss do not come within the scope of a ship owner's liability as they are too remote: P & O Scottish Ferries Ltd v Braer Corpn [1999] 2 Lloyd's Rep 535, OH (decided under the former Merchant Shipping (Oil Pollution) Act 1971).

7 For these purposes, references to the territory of any country include the territorial sea of that country and: (1) in the case of the United Kingdom, any area specified by virtue of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 129(2)(b) (see PARA 362); and (2) in the case of any other Liability Convention country, the exclusive economic zone of that country established in accordance with international law, or, if such a zone has not been established, such area adjacent to the territorial sea of that country and extending not more than 200 nautical miles from the baselines from which the breadth of that sea is measured as may have been determined by that state in question in accordance with international law: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 170(4) (amended by the Merchant Shipping and Maritime Security Act 1997 s 31(3), Sch 6 para 5). 'Liability Convention country' means a country in respect of which the International Convention on Civil Liability for Oil Pollution Damage 1992 is in force: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 152(1). As from a day to be notified in the Gazette, a reference is added in head (2) above to a Bunkers Convention country: s 170(4) (prospectively amended by SI 2006/1244). Also as from a day to be so notified 'Bunkers Convention country' means a country in respect of which the International Convention on Civil Liability for Bunker Oil Pollution Damage 2001 is in force: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 152(1) (definition prospectively added by SI 2006/1244). At the date at which this volume states the law no such days had been notified.

8 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 153(1), (3), (4). As from a day to be notified in the Gazette, in s 153(1), (2), (6) the references to 'owner' are replaced by references to 'registered owner' and a new provision is added: s 153(1), (2), (2A), (6) (s 153(1), (2), (6) prospectively amended and s 153(2A) prospectively added by SI 2006/1244). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been notified.

As to the application of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 153 to warships and ships used by the government of any state for other than commercial purposes see PARA 457; and as to savings for recourse actions see PARA 458.

As from a day to be notified in the Gazette, the new provision set out below (s 153A: 'liability for oil pollution by bunker oil') is prospectively added by SI 2006/1244. Subject to the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 153A(3), where, as a result of any occurrence, any bunker oil is discharged or escapes from a ship then (except as otherwise provided by Pt VI Ch III (ss 153-171) the owner of the ship is liable (1) for any damage caused outside the ship in the territory of the United Kingdom by contamination resulting from the discharge or escape; and (2) for the cost of any measures reasonably taken after the discharge or escape for the purpose of preventing or minimising any damage so caused in the territory of the United Kingdom by contamination resulting from the discharge or escape; and (3) for any damage caused in the territory of the United Kingdom by any measures so taken: s 153A(1) (as so prospectively added). Subject to s 153A(3), where, as a result of any occurrence, there arises a grave and imminent threat of damage being caused outside a ship by the contamination that might result if there were a discharge or escape of bunker oil from the ship then (except as otherwise provided by Pt VI Ch III) the owner of the ship is liable (a) for the cost of any measures reasonably taken for the purpose of preventing or minimising any such damage in the territory of the United Kingdom; and (b) for any damage caused outside the ship in the territory of the United Kingdom by any measures so taken: s 153A(2) (as so prospectively added). There is no liability under s 153A in relation to a discharge or escape of bunker oil from a ship to which s 153 applies; or a threat mentioned in s 153A(2) arising in relation to a potential discharge or escape of bunker oil from such a ship, where that bunker oil is also persistent hydrocarbon mineral oil: s 153A(3) (as so prospectively added). In the subsequent provisions of Pt VI Ch III a discharge or escape of bunker oil from a ship, other than a discharge or escape of oil excluded by s 153A(3), is referred to as a discharge or escape of bunker oil falling within s 153A(1); and a threat mentioned in s 153A(2), other than one excluded by s 153A(3), is referred to as a relevant threat of contamination falling within s 153A(2): s 153A(4) (as so prospectively added). Where a person incurs a liability under s 153A(1) or (2) he is also liable for any damage or cost for which he would be liable under that provision if the references in it to the territory of the United Kingdom included the territory of any other Bunkers Convention country: s 153A(5) (as so prospectively added). Where, as a result of any occurrence, a liability is incurred under s 153A by the owner of each of two or more ships, but the damage or cost for which each of the owners would be liable cannot reasonably be separated from that for which the other or others would be liable, each of the owners is liable, jointly with the other or others, for the whole of the damage or cost for which the owners together would be liable under s 153A: s 153A(6) (as so prospectively added). In Pt VI Ch III (except in section 170(1)) 'owner', except when used in the term 'registered owner', means the registered owner, bareboat charterer, manager and operator of the ship: s 153A(7) (as so prospectively added). Also as from a day to be appointed a new definition is added for 'bunker oil' (any hydrocarbon mineral oil (including lubricating oil) which is carried by a ship and used or intended to be used for the operation or propulsion of that ship and any residues of such oil): s 170(1) (definition prospectively added by SI 2006/1244). At the date at which this volume states the law no such days had been notified.

Also as from a day to be notified in the Gazette, the new provision set out below (s 156A: 'liability under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 153, s 153A or s 154: supplementary provisions') is prospectively added by SI 2006/1244. For the purposes of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 Pt VI Ch III: (i) references to a discharge or escape of oil or bunker oil from a ship are references to such a discharge or escape wherever it may occur; (ii) references to a discharge or escape of oil from a ship include a discharge or escape of oil carried in the bunkers of the ship; (iii) where more than one discharge or escape of oil or bunker oil results from the same occurrence or from a series of occurrences having the same origin, they are treated as one, but any measures taken after the first of them are deemed to have been taken after the discharge or escape; and (iv) where a relevant threat of contamination results from a series of occurrences having the same origin, they are treated as a single occurrence: s 156A(1) (as so prospectively added). The Law Reform (Contributory Negligence) Act 1945 (see NEGLIGENCE vol 78 (2010) PARA 75 et seq) applies in relation to any damage or cost for which a person is liable under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 153, s 153A or s 154 (see PARA 444), but which is not due to his fault, as if it were due to his fault: s 156A(2) (as so prospectively added). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been notified.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(vi) Liability for Oil Pollution/B. LIABILITY/444. Liability for oil pollution in case of other ships.

444. Liability for oil pollution in case of other ships.

Where, as a result of any occurrence, any oil¹ is discharged or escapes² from a ship³ other than a tanker⁴, the owner⁵ of the ship is liable⁶:

- 839 (1) for any damage⁷ caused outside the ship in the territory⁸ of the United Kingdom by contamination resulting from the discharge or escape; and
- 840 (2) for the cost of any measures reasonably taken after the discharge or escape for the purpose of preventing or minimising any damage so caused in the territory of the United Kingdom by contamination resulting from the discharge or escape; and
- 841 (3) for any damage so caused in the territory of the United Kingdom by any measures so taken⁹.

Where, as a result of any occurrence, there arises a grave and imminent threat of damage being caused outside a ship other than a tanker¹⁰ by the contamination which might result if there were a discharge or escape of oil from the ship, the owner of the ship is liable¹¹:

- 842 (a) for the cost of any measures reasonably taken for the purpose of preventing or minimising any such damage in the territory of the United Kingdom; and
- 843 (b) for any damage caused outside the ship in the territory of the United Kingdom by any measures so taken; and any such threat is referred to as a relevant threat of contamination¹².

Where:

- 844 (i) as a result of any occurrence, a liability is incurred under the above provisions by the owner of each of two or more ships; but
- 845 (ii) the damage or cost for which each of the owners would be liable cannot reasonably be separated from that for which the other or others would be liable, each of the owners is liable, jointly with the other or others, for the whole of the damage or cost for which the owners together would be liable under the above provisions¹³.

As from a day to be notified in the Gazette, new provisions set out below (see s 154(2A), (2B)) are prospectively added by SI 2006/1244. No liability is incurred under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 154 by reason of (1) a discharge or escape of oil from a ship to which s 153 (see PARA 443) applies or a relevant threat of contamination falling within s 153(2); (2) a discharge or escape of bunker oil falling within s 153A(1) (see PARA 443) or a relevant threat of contamination falling within s 153A(2): s 154(2A) (as so prospectively added). In the subsequent provisions of Pt VI Ch III (ss 152-171) (a) a discharge or escape of oil from a ship, other than one excluded by s 154(2A), is referred to as a discharge or escape of oil falling within s 154(1); and (b) a threat mentioned in s 154(2), other than one excluded by s 154(2A), is referred to as a relevant threat of contamination falling within s 154(2): s 154(2B) (as so prospectively added). 445. Exceptions from liability.

No liability is incurred by the owner¹ of a ship² by reason of any discharge or escape³ of oil⁴ from the ship, or by reason of any relevant threat of contamination⁵, if he proves that the discharge or escape, or, as the case may be, the threat of contamination:

- 846 (1) resulted from an act of war, hostilities, civil war, insurrection or an exceptional, inevitable and irresistible natural phenomenon; or
- 847 (2) was due wholly to anything done or omitted to be done by another person, not being a servant or agent of the owner, with intent to do damage; or
- 848 (3) was due wholly to the negligence or wrongful act of a government or other authority in exercising its function of maintaining lights or other navigational aids for the maintenance of which it was responsible⁶.

As from a day to be notified in the Gazette, new provisions set out below (see s 155(1), (2)) are prospectively substituted and amended by SI 2006/1244. No liability is incurred by a person (the 'defendant') under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 153, s 153A (see PARA 443) or s 154 (see PARA 444) by reason of a discharge or escape of oil or bunker oil from a ship, or of a relevant threat of contamination, if the defendant proves that s 155(2) applies: s 155(1) (as so prospectively substituted and amended). Section 155(2) applies if the discharge or escape or the relevant threat of contamination (as the case may be) (1) resulted from an act of war, hostilities, civil war, insurrection or an exceptional, inevitable and irresistible natural phenomenon; or (2) was due wholly to anything done or omitted to be done by another person, not being a servant or agent of the defendant, with intent to do damage; or (3) was due wholly to the negligence or wrongful act of a government or other authority in exercising its function of maintaining lights or other navigational aids for the maintenance of which it was responsible: s 155(2) (as so prospectively amended). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been notified.

446. Restriction of liability for oil pollution.

Where, as a result of any occurrence, (1) any oil¹ is discharged or escapes² from a ship, whether a tanker³ or other ship⁴, or (2) there arises a relevant threat of contamination⁵, then, whether or not the owner⁶ of the ship in question incurs a liability under the provisions relating to oil pollution in the case of tankers⁷ or the provisions relating to oil pollution from other ships⁸:

- 849 (a) he is not liable otherwise than under those provisions⁹ for any such damage¹⁰ or cost as is mentioned in them; and
- 850 (b) no person to whom these provisions apply¹¹ is liable for any such damage or cost unless it resulted from anything done or omitted to be done by him either with intent to cause any such damage or cost or recklessly and in the knowledge that any such damage or cost would probably result¹².

The provisions in head (b) above apply to:

- 851 (i) any servant or agent of the owner of the ship;
- 852 (ii) any person not falling within head (a) above but employed or engaged in any capacity on board the ship or to perform any service for the ship;
- 853 (iii) any charterer of the ship, however described and including a bareboat charterer, and any manager or operator of the ship;
- 854 (iv) any person performing salvage operations with the consent of the owner of the ship or on the instructions of a competent public authority;
- 855 (v) any person taking any measures after the discharge or escape for the purpose of preventing or minimising any damage caused¹³;
- 856 (vi) any servant or agent of a person falling within head (c), (d) or (e) above¹⁴.

The liability of the owner of a ship¹⁵ for any impairment of the environment is to be taken to be a liability only in respect of any resulting loss of profits and the cost of any reasonable measures of reinstatement actually taken or to be taken¹⁶.

C. LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

447. Limitation of liability for oil pollution in case of tankers.

Where, as a result of any occurrence, the owner¹ of a ship² incurs liability for oil pollution in the case of a tanker³ by reason of a discharge or escape⁴ or by reason of any relevant threat of contamination⁵:

857 (1) he may limit that liability⁶; and

858 (2) if he does so, his liability, being the aggregate of his liabilities⁷ resulting from the occurrence, must not exceed the relevant amount⁸.

7 In the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 153. See note 8.

8 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 157(1). As from a day to be notified in the Gazette, in s 157(1), (3) references to 'owner' are replaced by references to 'registered owner' and in s 157(1) after the reference to 'relevant threat of contamination' a reference is added to s 153(2): s 157(1), (2) (prospectively amended by SI 2006/1244). At the date at which this volume states the law no such days had been notified. As to the meaning of 'registered owner' see PARA 443 note 4. For the purposes of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 157(1), the 'relevant amount' means: (1) in relation to a ship not exceeding 5,000 tons, 4.51 million special drawing rights; (2) in relation to a ship exceeding 5,000 tons, 4.51 million special drawing rights together with an additional 631 special drawing rights for each ton of its tonnage in excess of 5,000 tons up to a maximum amount of 89.77 million special drawing rights; but the Secretary of State may by order make such amendments of heads (1) and (2) above as appear to him to be appropriate for the purpose of giving effect to the entry into force of any amendment of the limits of liability laid down in the International Convention on Civil Liability for Oil Pollution Damage 1992 art V para 1: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 157(2) (amended by SI 2003/2559). A ship's tonnage is its gross tonnage calculated in such manner as may be prescribed by an order made by the Secretary of State: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 157(4). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. Any such order must, so far as it appears to the Secretary of State to be practicable, give effect to the regulations in the International Convention on Tonnage Measurement of Ships 1969 (London, 23 June to 23 December 1969; TS 50 (1982); Cmnd 8716) Annex 1: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 157(5). As to an order made under s 157(2) see Merchant Shipping (Oil Pollution Compensation Limits) Order 2003, SI 2003/2559. As to the making of orders see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 65.

The Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 157(1) does not apply in a case where it is proved that the discharge or escape, or, as the case may be, the relevant threat of contamination, resulted from anything done or omitted to be done by the owner either with intent to cause any such damage or cost as is mentioned in s 153 or recklessly and in the knowledge that any such damage or cost would probably result: s 157(3). As to prospective amendment see above.

448. Limitation actions.

Where the owner¹ of a ship² has or is alleged to have incurred a liability for oil pollution in the case of a tanker³, he may apply to the court⁴ for the limitation of that liability to a specified amount⁵.

If, on such an application, the court finds that the applicant has incurred such a liability but has not found that he is not entitled to limit it, the court must, after determining the limit of the liability and directing payment into court of the amount of that limit:

- 859 (1) determine the amounts that would, apart from the limit, be due in respect of the liability to the several persons making claims in the proceedings; and
- 860 (2) direct the distribution of the amount paid into court, or, as the case may be, so much of it as does not exceed the liability, among those persons in proportion to their claims, subject to the following provisions⁶.

A payment into court of the amount of a limit so determined must be made in sterling; and:

- 861 (a) for the purpose of converting such an amount from special drawing rights into sterling, one special drawing right is to be treated as equal to such a sum in sterling as the International Monetary Fund⁷ has fixed as being the equivalent of one special drawing right for the day on which the determination is made or, if no sum has been so fixed for that day, the last day before that day for which a sum has been so fixed;
- 862 (b) a certificate given by or on behalf of the Treasury, stating that a particular sum in sterling has been so fixed for the day on which the determination was made or that no sum has been so fixed for that day and that a particular sum in sterling has been so fixed for a day which is the last day for which a sum has been so fixed before the day on which the determination was made, is conclusive evidence of those matters⁸;
- 863 (c) a document purporting to be such a certificate must, in any proceedings, be received in evidence and, unless the contrary is proved, is deemed to be such a certificate⁹.

No claim must be admitted in such proceedings unless it is made within such time as the court may direct or such further time as the court may allow¹⁰.

Where any sum has been paid in or towards satisfaction of any claim in respect of the damage¹¹ or cost to which the liability extends:

- 864 (i) by the insurer¹²; or
- 865 (ii) by a person who has or is alleged to have incurred a liability, otherwise than under the provisions relating to liability for oil pollution in the case of a tanker¹³, for the damage or cost and who is entitled to limit his liability in connection with the ship¹⁴, the person who paid the sum is, to the extent of that sum, in the same position with respect to any distribution made in proceedings under these provisions as the person to whom it was paid would have been¹⁵.

Where the person who incurred the liability has voluntarily made any reasonable sacrifice or taken any other reasonable measures to prevent or reduce damage to which the liability extends or might have extended, he is in the same position with respect to any distribution made in proceedings under these provisions as if he had a claim in respect of the liability equal to the cost of the sacrifice or other measures¹⁶.

If it thinks fit, the court may postpone the distribution of such part of the amount to be distributed as it deems appropriate having regard to any claims that may later be established before a court of any country outside the United Kingdom¹⁷.

No lien or other right in respect of any ship or other property affects the proportions in which any amount is distributed in accordance with head (2) above¹⁸.

D. COMPULSORY INSURANCE

453. Compulsory insurance against liability for pollution.

Any ship¹ carrying in bulk a cargo of more than 2,000 tons of oil² of a description specified in regulations made by the Secretary of State must not enter or leave a port³ in the United Kingdom or arrive at or leave a terminal in the territorial sea of the United Kingdom⁴ nor, if the ship is a United Kingdom ship⁵, a port in any other country or a terminal in the territorial sea of any other country, unless there is in force a certificate complying with the following provisions and showing that there is in force in respect of the ship a contract of insurance or other security satisfying the specified requirements⁶.

If a ship enters or leaves, or attempts to enter or leave, a port or arrives at or leaves, or attempts to arrive at or leave, a terminal in contravention⁷ of the above provisions⁸, the master⁹ or owner¹⁰ is liable to a fine¹¹.

If a ship attempts to leave a port in the United Kingdom in contravention of the above provisions, the ship may be detained¹².

The certificate must be:

- 870 (1) if the ship is a United Kingdom ship, a certificate issued by the Secretary of State;
- 871 (2) if the ship is registered in a Liability Convention country¹³ other than the United Kingdom, a certificate issued by or under the authority of the government of the other Liability Convention country; and
- 872 (3) if the ship is registered in a country which is not a Liability Convention country, a certificate issued by the Secretary of State or by or under the authority of the government of any Liability Convention country other than the United Kingdom¹⁴.

Any certificate so required to be in force in respect of a ship must be carried in the ship and must, on demand, be produced by the master to any officer of customs and excise or of the Secretary of State and, if the ship is a United Kingdom ship, to any proper officer¹⁵.

If a ship fails to carry, or the master of a ship fails to produce, a certificate as so required, the master is liable to a fine¹⁶.

6 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 163(1), (2). The requirements so specified are those of the International Convention on Civil Liability for Oil Pollution 1992 art VII: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 163(2). Section 163(1) is subject to the provisions of Pt VI Ch III (ss 152-171) (see PARA 441 et seq and PARA 454 et seq) relating to government ships: s 163(1). As to the meaning of 'government ship' see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 20 note 3. As to the application of s 163 to warships and ships used by the government of any state for other than commercial purposes see PARA 457; and as to savings for recourse actions see PARA 458.

As from a day to be notified in the Gazette, the new provision set out below (s 163A: 'compulsory insurance against liability for pollution by bunker oil') is prospectively added by SI 2006/1244. Subject to the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 Pt VI Ch III relating to Government ships, s 163A(2) (see below) applies to any ship having a gross tonnage greater than 1,000 tons calculated in the manner prescribed by an order made by the Secretary of State under Sch 7 Pt II para 5(2) (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 1048): s 163A(1) (as so prospectively added). The ship must not enter or leave a port in the United Kingdom or arrive at or leave a terminal in the territorial sea of the United Kingdom nor, if the ship is a United Kingdom ship, a port in any other country or a terminal in the territorial sea of any other country, unless there is in force (1) a contract of insurance or other security in respect of the ship satisfying the requirements of the International Convention on Civil Liability for Bunker Oil Pollution Damage 2001 art 7; and (2) a certificate complying with the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 163A(3) (see below) showing that there is in force in respect of the ship a contract of insurance or other security satisfying those requirements: s 163A(2) (as so prospectively added). The certificate must be (a) if the ship is a United Kingdom ship, a certificate issued by the Secretary of State; (b) if the ship is registered in a Bunkers Convention country other than the United Kingdom, a certificate issued by or under the authority of the government of the other Bunkers Convention country; and (c) if the ship is registered in a country which is not a Bunkers Convention country, a certificate issued by the Secretary of State or by or under the authority of the government of any Bunkers Convention country other than the United Kingdom: s 163A(3) (as so prospectively added). Any certificate required by s 163A to be in force in respect of a ship must be carried in the ship and must, on demand, be produced by the master to any officer of Revenue and Customs or of the Secretary of State and, if the ship is a United Kingdom ship, to any proper officer: s 163A(4) (as so prospectively added). If a ship enters or leaves, or attempts to enter or leave, a port or arrives at or leaves, or attempts to arrive at or leave, a terminal in contravention of s 163A(2) by reason of there being no certificate in force as mentioned in that provision, the master or registered owner is liable on conviction on indictment to a fine, or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum: s 163A(5) (as so prospectively added). If a ship fails to carry, or the master of a ship fails to produce, a certificate as required by s 163A(4), the master is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: s 163A(6) (as so prospectively added). If a ship attempts to leave a port in the United Kingdom in contravention of s 163A(2), the ship may be detained: s 163A(7) (as so prospectively added). Any document required or authorised, by virtue of any statutory provision, to be served on a foreign company for the purposes of the institution of (or otherwise in connection with) proceedings for an offence under s 163A(5) against the company as registered owner of the ship is treated as duly served on the company if the document is served on the master of the ship and for these purposes, 'foreign company' means a company or body which is not one to which the Companies Act 2006 s 1139 (see companies) applies so as to authorise the service of the document in question: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 163A(8) (as so prospectively added; and amended by SI 2009/1941). Any person authorised to serve any document for the purposes of the institution of (or otherwise in connection with) the institution of proceedings for an offence under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 163A has, for that purpose, the right to go on board the ship in question: s 163A(9) (as so prospectively added). In the case of a ship of which, at any relevant time, the tonnage has not been and cannot be ascertained in the manner set out in s 163A(1), the best available evidence must be used in calculating the tonnage of the ship in accordance with any order under Sch 7 Pt II para 5(2): s 163A(10) (as so prospectively added). SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(vi) Liability for Oil Pollution/D. COMPULSORY INSURANCE/454. Issue of certificate by the Secretary of State.

454. Issue of certificate by the Secretary of State.

If the Secretary of State is satisfied, on the application for a certificate of compulsory insurance¹ in respect of a United Kingdom ship² or a ship registered in any country which is not a Liability Convention country³, that there will be in force in respect of the ship, throughout the period for which the certificate is to be issued, a contract of insurance or other security satisfying the specified requirements⁴, the Secretary of State must issue such a certificate to the owner⁵.

If, however, the Secretary of State is of opinion that there is a doubt whether the person providing the insurance or other security will be able to meet his obligations thereunder, or whether the insurance or other security will cover the owner's liability⁶ in all circumstances, he may refuse the certificate⁷.

The Secretary of State may make regulations providing for the cancellation and delivery up of a certificate under these provisions in such circumstances as may be prescribed by the regulations⁸. If a person required by such regulations to deliver up a certificate fails to do so, he is liable to a fine⁹.

The Secretary of State must send a copy of any certificate so issued by him in respect of a United Kingdom ship to the Registrar General of Shipping and Seamen¹⁰; and the Registrar must make the copy available for public inspection¹¹.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(vi) Liability for Oil Pollution/D. COMPULSORY INSURANCE/455. Rights of third parties against insurers.

455. Rights of third parties against insurers.

Where it is alleged that the owner¹ of a ship² has incurred a liability³ as a result of any discharge or escape⁴ of oil⁵ occurring, or as a result of any relevant threat of contamination⁶ arising, while there was in force a contract of insurance or other security to which a certificate of compulsory insurance⁷ related, proceedings to enforce a claim in respect of the liability may be brought against the person who provided the insurance or other security (the 'insurer')⁸.

In any proceedings so brought against the insurer it is a defence, in addition to any defence affecting the owner's liability, to prove that the discharge or escape, or, as the case may be, the threat of contamination, was due to the wilful misconduct of the owner himself⁹.

The insurer may limit his liability in respect of claims so made in like manner and to the same extent as the owner may limit his liability; but the insurer may do so whether or not the discharge or escape, or, as the case may be, the threat of contamination, resulted from anything done or omitted to be done¹⁰ by the owner either with intent to cause damage or cost¹¹ or recklessly and in the knowledge that any such damage or cost would probably result¹².

Where the owner and the insurer each apply to the court¹³ for the limitation of his liability, any sum paid into court in pursuance of either application is to be treated as paid also in pursuance of the other¹⁴.

6 As to the meaning of 'relevant threat of contamination' see PARA 443.

7 Ie such a certificate as is mentioned in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 163: see PARA 453.

8 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 165(1).

As from a day to be notified in the Gazette, the reference to 'owner' is replaced by a reference to 'registered owner', the reference to 's 163' is changed to a reference to 's 163(2)' and the reference to '("the insurer")' is removed: s 165(1) (prospectively amended by SI 2006/1244). At the date at which this volume states the law no such days had been notified. As to the meaning of 'registered owner' see PARA 443 note 4.

Also as from a day to be notified in the Gazette, new provisions are added as follows: Where it is alleged that the owner of a ship has incurred a liability under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 153A (see PARA 443) as a result of any discharge or escape of bunker oil occurring, or as a result of any relevant threat of contamination arising, while there was in force a contract of insurance or other security to which such a certificate as is mentioned in s 163A(2) (see PARA 453) related, proceedings to enforce a claim in respect of the liability may be brought against the person who provided the insurance or other security: s 165(1A) (s 165(1A), (1B) prospectively added by SI 2006/1244). In the following provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 165, 'insurer' means the person who provided the insurance or other security referred to in s 165(1) or s 165(1A), as the case may be: s 165(1B) (as so prospectively added). At the date at which this volume states the law no such days had been notified.

As to the application of s 165 to warships and ships used by the government of any state for other than commercial purposes see PARA 457; and as to savings for recourse actions see PARA 458.

9 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 165(2).

As from a day to be notified in the Gazette, there is revision so that the reference is to proceedings being brought 'in respect of liability under s 153', the reference to 'owner's' is replaced by a reference to 'registered owner's' and the reference to 'owner' is replaced by a reference to 'registered owner': s 165(2) (prospectively amended by SI 2006/1244). At the date at which this volume states the law no such days had been notified.

10 If anything done or omitted to be done by the owner as mentioned in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 157(3): see PARA 447.

11 If any such damage or cost as is mentioned in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 153.

12 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 165(3).

As from a day to be notified in the Gazette, there is revision so that the reference is to proceedings being brought 'in respect of liability under s 153' and the limitation of liability is 'under s 157' and the references to 'owner' are replaced by references to 'registered owner': s 165(2) (prospectively amended by SI 2006/1244). At the date at which this volume states the law no such days had been notified.

13 As to the meaning of 'court' see PARA 448 note 4.

14 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 165(4). The Third Parties (Rights against Insurers) Act 1930 (see INSURANCE vol 25 (2003 Reissue) PARA 678 et seq) does not apply in relation to any contract of insurance to which such a certificate as is mentioned in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 163 relates: s 165(5).

As from a day to be notified in the Gazette, there is revision of s 165(4) so that the reference to 'owner' is replaced by a reference to 'registered owner' and after the reference to applying to the court for the elimination of liability there is a reference to 'in relation to liability under s 153': s 165(4) (prospectively amended by SI 2006/1244). Also as from a day to be notified in the Gazette, in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 165(5) after the reference to 's 163' an additional reference is added to 's 163A': s 165(4) (prospectively amended by SI 2006/1244). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day or days had been notified.

Also as from a day to be notified in the Gazette, new provisions are added as follows: In any proceedings brought against the insurer by virtue of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 165 in respect of liability under s 153A (see PARA 443) it is a defence (in addition to any defence affecting the owner's liability) to prove that the discharge or escape, or (as the case may be) the threat of contamination, was due to the wilful misconduct of the owner himself: s 165(4A) (s 165(4A)-(4C) prospectively added by SI 2006/1244). The insurer may limit his liability in respect of claims in respect of liability under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 153A which are made against him by virtue of s 165 in like manner and to the same extent as the owner may limit his liability by virtue of s 185 (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 1042); but the insurer may do so whether or not the discharge or escape, or (as the case may be) the threat of contamination, resulted from any act or omission mentioned in the Convention on Limitation of Liability for Maritime Claims 1976 art 4 set out in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 Sch 7 Pt I (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 1046): s 165(4B) (as so prospectively added). Where the owner and the insurer each apply to the court for the limitation of his liability (in relation to liability under s 153A) any sum paid into court in pursuance of either application is treated as paid also in pursuance of the other: s 165(4C) (as so prospectively added). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day or days had been notified.

E. SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS

456. Jurisdiction of United Kingdom courts; registration of foreign judgments.

Where:

873 (1) any oil¹ is discharged or escapes² from a ship³ but does not result in any damage⁴ caused by contamination in the territory⁵ of the United Kingdom and no measures are reasonably taken to prevent or minimise such damage in that territory; or

874 (2) any relevant threat of contamination⁶ arises but no measures are reasonably taken to prevent or minimise such damage in the territory of the United Kingdom, no court in the United Kingdom may entertain any action, whether in rem or in personam, to enforce a claim arising from any relevant damage or cost⁷:

875 (a) against the owner⁸ of the ship; or

876 (b) against any specified person⁹ unless any such damage or cost resulted from anything done or omitted to be done¹⁰ by him either with intent to cause any such damage or cost or recklessly and in the knowledge that any such damage or cost would probably result¹¹.

1 As to the meaning of 'oil' see PARA 443 note 1.

2 As to the meaning of 'discharge or escape' see PARA 443 note 2.

3 As to the meaning of 'ship' see PARA 443 note 3.

4 As to the meaning of 'damage' see PARA 443 note 6.

5 As to the meaning of 'territory' see PARA 443 note 7.

6 As to the meaning of 'relevant threat of contamination' see PARAS 443, 444.

7 For these purposes, 'relevant damage or cost' means: (1) in relation to any such discharge or escape as is mentioned in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 166(2)(a) (see head (1) in the text), any damage caused in the territory of another Liability Convention country by contamination resulting from the discharge or escape, or any cost incurred in taking measures to prevent or minimise such damage in the territory of another Liability Convention country; (2) in relation to any such threat of contamination as is mentioned in s 166(2)(b) (see head (2) in the text), any cost incurred in taking measures to prevent or minimise such damage in the territory of another Liability Convention country; or (3) any damage caused by any measures taken as mentioned in s 166(3)(a) or (b) (see heads (1), (2) above); and s 156(2)(e) (see PARA 446 head (v)) has effect for the purposes of s 166(2)(ii) (see head (b) in the text) as if it referred to any person taking any such measures as are mentioned in s 166(3)(a) or (b): s 166(3). As to the meaning of 'damage' see PARA 443 note 6; and as to the meaning of 'Liability Convention country' see PARA 443 note 7.

8 As to the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 443 note 4.

9 Ie any person to whom the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 156(1)(ii) applies: see PARA 446 head (b).

10 le anything done or omitted to be done as mentioned in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 156(1)(ii).

11 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 166(2).

As from a day to be notified in the Gazette, there are a number of revisions to s 166(2) as follows: (1) in head (1) in the text the words 'any oil is discharged or escapes from a ship but' are replaced by the words 'there is a discharge or escape of oil from a ship to which s 153 applies, or a discharge or escape of oil falling within s 154(1), which'; (2) in head (2) in the text after the reference to 'any relevant threat of contamination' there is added the words 'falling within s 153(2) or s 154(2)'; and (3) in head (a) in the text the reference to 'owner' is replaced by a reference to 'registered owner': s 166(2) (prospectively amended by SI 2006/1244). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been notified. As to the meaning of 'registered owner' see PARA 443 note 4.

Also as from a day to be notified in the Gazette, new provisions are added as follows: Where (a) there is a discharge or escape of bunker oil falling within the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 153A(1) (see PARA 443) which does not result in any damage caused by contamination in the territory of the United Kingdom and no measures are reasonably taken to prevent or minimise such damage in that territory; or (b) any relevant threat of contamination falling within s 153A(2) (see PARA 443) arises but no measures are reasonably taken to prevent or minimise such damage in the territory of the United Kingdom, no court in the United Kingdom may entertain any action (whether in rem or in personam) to enforce a claim arising from any relevant damage or cost (i) against the owner of the ship; or (ii) against any person to whom s 156(2A)(ii) (see PARA 446 note 14 head (b)) applies, unless any such damage or cost resulted from anything done or omitted to be done as mentioned in that provision: s 166(3A) (s 166(3A), (3B) prospectively added by SI 2006/1244). In the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 166(3A), 'relevant damage or cost' means (A) in relation to any such discharge or escape as is mentioned in s 166(3A)(a) (see head (a) above), any damage caused in the territory of another Bunkers Convention country by contamination resulting from the discharge or escape, or any cost incurred in taking measures to prevent or minimise such damage in the territory of another Bunkers Convention country; (B) in relation to any such threat of contamination as is mentioned in s 166(3A)(b) (see head (b) above), any cost incurred in taking measures to prevent or minimise such damage in the territory of another Bunkers Convention country; or (C) any damage caused by any measures taken as mentioned in head (A) or (B) above; and s 156(2B)(d) (see PARA 446 note 14 head (iv)) has effect for the purpose of s 166(3A)(ii) (see head (ii) above) as if it referred to any person taking any such measures as are mentioned in head (A) or head (B) above: s 166(3B) (as so prospectively added). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been notified. As to the meaning of 'Bunkers Convention country' see PARA 443 note 7.

As to the application of s 166 to warships and ships used by the government of any state for other than commercial purposes see PARA 457; and as to savings for recourse actions see PARA 458.

The Foreign Judgments (Reciprocal Enforcement) Act 1933 Pt I (ss 1-7) (see CONFLICT OF LAWS vol 8(3) (Reissue) PARA 171 et seq) applies, whether or not it would so apply apart from the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 166, to any judgment given by a court in a Liability Convention country to enforce a claim in respect of a liability incurred under any provision corresponding to s 153 (see PARA 443); and in its application to such a judgment the Foreign Judgments (Reciprocal Enforcement) Act 1933 Pt I has effect with the omission of s 4(2), (3) (see CONFLICT OF LAWS vol 8(3) (Reissue) PARAS 177, 178): Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 166(4).

Also as from a day to be notified in the Gazette, there is a replacement to s 166(4) as follows: The Foreign Judgments (Reciprocal Enforcement) Act 1933 Pt I (ss 1-7) applies, whether or not it would so apply apart from the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 166, to any judgment given by a court in a Liability Convention country to enforce a claim in respect of a liability incurred under any provision corresponding to s 153 (see PARA 443); and (b) any judgment given by a court in a Bunkers Convention country to enforce a claim in respect of a liability incurred under any provision corresponding to s 153A (see PARA 443); and in its application to any such judgment Foreign Judgments (Reciprocal Enforcement) Act 1933 Pt I has effect with the omission of s 4(2), (3): Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 166(4) (prospectively substituted by SI 2006/1244). 457. Government ships.

Nothing in the provisions relating to liability for oil pollution¹ applies in relation to any warship or any ship² for the time being used by the government of any state for other than commercial purposes³.

Every Liability Convention state⁴ is deemed, for the purposes of any proceedings brought in a court in the United Kingdom to enforce a claim in respect of a liability for oil pollution in the case of a tanker⁵, to have submitted to the jurisdiction of that court, and accordingly rules of court may provide for the manner in which such proceedings are to be commenced and carried on; but nothing in this provision authorises the issue of execution against the property of any state⁶.

2 As to the meaning of 'ship' see PARA 443 note 3.

3 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 167(1). In relation to a ship owned by a state and for the time being used for commercial purposes, it is a sufficient compliance with s 163(2) (see PARA 453) if there is in force a certificate issued by the government of that state and showing that the ship is owned by that state and that any liability for pollution damage as defined in the International Convention on Civil Liability for Oil Pollution Damage 1992 art I will be met up to the limit prescribed by art V: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 167(2).

As from a day to be notified in the Gazette, there is a replacement to s 167(2) as follows: In relation to a ship owned by a state and for the time being used for commercial purposes (1) it is sufficient compliance with s 163(2) (see PARA 453) if there is in force a certificate issued by the government of that state and showing that the ship is owned by that state and that any liability for pollution damage as defined in International Convention on Civil Liability for Oil Pollution Damage 1992 art I will be met up to the limit prescribed by art V; and (2) it is sufficient compliance with s 163A(2) (see PARA 453) if there is in force a certificate issued by the government of that state and showing that the ship is owned by that state and that any liability for pollution damage as defined in the International Convention on Civil Liability for Bunker Oil Pollution Damage 2001 art 1 be met up to the limits set out in the Convention on Limitation of Liability for Maritime Claims 1976 Ch II in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 Sch 7 Pt I (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 1048 et seq): Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 167(2) (prospectively substituted by SI 2006/1244). Also as from a day to be notified in the Gazette, 'Bunkers Convention state' means a state which is party to the International Convention on Civil Liability for Bunker Oil Pollution Damage 2001: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 152(1) (definition prospectively added by SI 2006/1244). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day or days had been notified.

4 For these purposes, 'Liability Convention state' means a state which is a party to the International Convention on Civil Liability for Oil Pollution Damage 1992: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 152(1).

A. IN GENERAL

459. Parties to the Fund Convention.

If Her Majesty by Order in Council declares that any state specified in the Order is a party to the International Convention for the Establishment of an International Fund for Compensation for Oil Pollution Damage 1992 (the 'Fund Convention'), in respect of any country so specified, the Order is conclusive evidence, while in force, that that state is a party to the Fund Convention in respect of that country¹. This² also applies in relation to the Protocol of 2003 to the Fund Convention (the 'Supplementary Fund Protocol') as it applies in relation to the Fund Convention³.

1 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 172(1)(b), (2). At the date at which this volume states the law no such Order in Council had been made. Section 306(3) (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 41) does not apply to a statutory instrument containing an Order in Council under s 172(2): s 306(3).

The termination of the membership of Her Majesty's government in the United Kingdom of the 1971 Fund does not affect the application to that Fund of the International Organisations Act 1968 s 1 (see INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS LAW vol 61 (2010) PARA 309): Merchant Shipping and Maritime Security Act 1997 ss 27(2), 31(3). For these purposes, '1971 Fund' means the International Oil Pollution Compensation Fund established by the International Convention on the Establishment of an International Fund for Compensation for Oil Pollution Damage 1971 opened for signature in Brussels on 18 December 1971 (TS 95 (1978); Cmnd 7383): Merchant Shipping and Maritime Security Act 1997 s 27(1).

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(vii) International Oil Pollution Compensation Fund/A. IN GENERAL/460. Power to make transitional provisions.

460. Power to make transitional provisions.

Until 30 May 1996 alternative provisions¹ relating to the International Oil Pollution Compensation Fund had effect².

Her Majesty may³ by Order in Council make such provision as appears to Her Majesty to be appropriate in connection with the implementation of any transitional provisions contained in the 1992 Protocol⁴ or the Conventions which they amend⁵.

1 Ie the provisions set out in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 182(1), Sch 4 as Pt VI Ch IV (ss 172-182).

3 Ie notwithstanding the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 182(1).

4 For these purposes, '1992 Protocol' means the Protocol of 1992 to amend the International Convention on the Establishment of an International Fund for Compensation for Oil Pollution Damage (Brussels, 18 December 1971; TS 95 (1978); Cmnd 7383) signed in London on 27 November 1992: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 182(3).

5 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 182(2). Any such Order may in particular provide, in relation to occurrences of any description specified in the Order: (1) for specified provisions of Pt VI Ch IV (ss 172-182), whether as contained in Pt VI Ch IV (ss 172-182) or in Pt VI Ch IV (ss 172-182) set out in Sch 4, to have effect; (2) for any such provisions to have effect subject to specified modifications: s 182(2). For these purposes, 'specified' means specified in the Order: s 182(3). In exercise of the power so conferred Her Majesty made the Merchant Shipping (Liability and Compensation for Oil Pollution Damage) (Transitional Provisions) Order 1996, SI 1996/1143 (revoked by SI 1997/2566). As to the making of Orders in Council see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 65.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(vii) International Oil Pollution Compensation Fund/A. IN GENERAL/461. Power to give effect to the Supplementary Fund Protocol.

461. Power to give effect to the Supplementary Fund Protocol.

Her Majesty may by Order in Council make such provision as she considers appropriate for the purpose of giving effect to the Supplementary Fund Protocol¹ and any international agreement relating to compensation for oil pollution from ships which modifies, or replaces the whole or any part of, the Liability Convention², the Fund Convention or the Supplementary Fund Protocol³. Such an order may, in particular:

- 877 (1) require contributions to be paid to an international compensation fund in accordance with the international agreement to which the order relates;
- 878 (2) authorise the Secretary of State to make an order by statutory instrument⁴;
- 879 (3) provide for the delegation of functions exercisable by virtue of the order;
- 880 (4) create summary offences or offences triable either way⁵;
- 881 (5) make provision with respect to the extra-territorial operation of the order;
- 882 (6) make provision with respect to the application of the order in relation to the Crown⁶;

Such an order may not make provision taking effect before ratification by the United Kingdom of the international agreement to which it relates unless the provisions appear to Her Majesty to be necessary to enable the United Kingdom to meet a requirement imposed on a state wishing to ratify the agreement⁷. No recommendation may be made to Her Majesty to make an Order in Council unless a draft of the order has been laid before and approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament, the order relates to the Supplementary Fund Protocol, or the order extends only to specified possessions⁸.

1 'Supplementary Fund Protocol' means the Protocol of 2003 to the Fund Convention, which establishes the Supplementary Fund for pollution damage claims and provides for contributions to, and payments of compensation by, that Fund: Merchant Shipping (Pollution) Act 2006 s 1(1)(a). 'Fund Convention' has the same meaning as in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 172 (see PARA 459): Merchant Shipping (Pollution) Act 2006 s 1(1)(b). A statutory instrument containing an Order in Council which relates only to the Supplementary Fund Protocol is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: see s 1(7).

2 'Liability Convention' has the same meaning as in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 172 (see PARA 441): Merchant Shipping (Pollution) Act 2006 s 1(1)(b).

3 Merchant Shipping (Pollution) Act 2006 s 1(2). As to an order under s 1(2), (4)-(6) see the Merchant Shipping (Oil Pollution) (Supplementary Fund Protocol) Order 2006, SI 2006/1265.

4 This is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: see the Merchant Shipping (Pollution) Act 2006 s 1(7).

5 This is subject to the limitation that the order may not authorise the imposition, on conviction on indictment, of a term of imprisonment exceeding two years: see the Merchant Shipping (Pollution) Act 2006 s 1(4).

6 Merchant Shipping (Pollution) Act 2006 s 1(4). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. An order may (1) make different provision for different circumstances; (2) modify or apply, with or without modification, provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 or any other enactment or instrument; (3) make incidental, supplemental, consequential or transitional provision; and (4) make provision extending to any relevant British possession: Merchant Shipping (Pollution) Act 2006 s 1(5). As to the meaning of 'relevant British possession' see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 342. See note 3.

7 Merchant Shipping (Pollution) Act 2006 s 1(3).

8 Merchant Shipping (Pollution) Act 2006 s 1(6). The reference is to any relevant British possessions, within the meaning of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 17): see the Merchant Shipping (Pollution) Act 2006 s 1(6). See note 3.

B. CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE FUND

462. Contributions by importers of oil and others.

Contributions are payable to the International Fund established by the Fund Convention¹ (the 'Fund') and to the Protocol of 2003 to the Fund Convention (the 'Supplementary Fund')² in respect of oil³ carried by sea to ports⁴ or terminal installations⁵ in the United Kingdom otherwise than on a voyage only within its national waters⁶, whether or not the oil is being imported, and even if contributions are payable in respect of carriage of the same oil on a previous voyage⁷.

Contributions are also payable to the Fund in respect of oil when first received in any installation in the United Kingdom after having been carried by sea and discharged in a port or terminal installation in a country which is not a Fund Convention country⁸; and to the Supplementary Fund in respect of oil when first received in any installation in the United Kingdom after having been carried by sea and discharged in a port or terminal installation in a country which is not a Supplementary Fund Protocol country⁹.

The person liable to pay contributions is:

- 883 (1) in the case of oil which is being imported into the United Kingdom, the importer¹⁰; and
- 884 (2) otherwise, the person by whom the oil is received¹¹.

A person¹² is not liable to make contributions in respect of the oil imported or received by him in any year if the oil so imported or received in the year does not exceed 150,000 tonnes¹³.

The contributions payable by a person for any year:

- 885 (a) must be of such amount as may be determined, in the case of contributions to the Fund, by the Director of the Fund¹⁴ and notified to that person by the Fund, and, in the case of contributions to the Supplementary Fund, by the Director of the Supplementary Fund¹⁵;
- 886 (b) are payable in such instalments, becoming due at such times, as may be so notified to him;

and, if any amount due from him remains unpaid after the date on which it became due, it bears interest from then on at a rate determined from time to time by the Assembly of the Fund or the Assembly of the Supplementary Fund (as the case may be), until it is paid¹⁶.

The Secretary of State may by regulations impose on persons who are or may be liable to pay contributions under these provisions obligations to give security for payment to the Secretary of State, or the Fund¹⁷. Such regulations:

- 887 (i) may contain such supplemental or incidental provisions as appear to the Secretary of State expedient; and
- 888 (ii) may impose penalties for contravention¹⁸ of the regulations punishable by a fine¹⁹.

2 See PARA 459 note 1.

3 For these purposes, 'oil' means crude oil and fuel oil; and (1) 'crude oil' means any liquid hydrocarbon mixture occurring naturally in the earth whether or not treated to render it suitable for transportation and includes crude oils from which distillate fractions have been removed and crude oils to which distillate fractions have been added; (2) 'fuel oil' means heavy distillates or residues from crude oil or blends of such materials intended for use as a fuel for the production of heat or power of a quality equivalent to the 'American Society for Testing and Materials' Specification for Number Four Fuel Oil (Designation D396-69)', or heavier: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 173(10).

4 As to the meaning of 'port' see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 49.

5 For these purposes, 'terminal installation' means any site for the storage of oil in bulk which is capable of receiving oil from waterborne transportation, including any facility situated offshore and linked to any such site: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 173(10).

6 'National waters', in relation to the United Kingdom, means United Kingdom waters landward of the baselines for measuring the breadth of its territorial sea: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 313(2)(b).

7 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 173(1), (2) (s 173(1) amended by SI 2006/1265). As to the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 2.

8 For these purposes, 'Fund Convention country' means a country in respect of which the Fund Convention is in force: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 172(1)(d).

9 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 173(3) (amended by SI 2006/1265). For these purposes, 'Supplementary Fund Protocol country' means a country in respect of which the Supplementary Fund Protocol is in force: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 172(1)(g) (added by SI 2006/1265).

10 For these purposes, 'importer' means the person by whom or on whose behalf the oil in question is entered for customs or excise purposes on importation; and 'import' is to be construed accordingly: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 173(10).

11 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 173(4).

12 For these purposes: (1) all the members of a group of companies are to be treated as a single person; and (2) any two or more companies which have been amalgamated into a single company are to be treated as the same person as that single company: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 173(6). 'Company' means a body incorporated under the law of the United Kingdom or of any other country; and 'group', in relation to companies, means a holding company and its subsidiaries as defined by the Companies Act 2006 s 1159 (see COMPANIES vol 14 (2009) PARAS 1, 25), subject, in the case of a company incorporated outside the United Kingdom, to any necessary modifications of those definitions: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 173(10) (definition of 'group' amended by SI 2009/1941).

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(vii) International Oil Pollution Compensation Fund/B. CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE FUND/463. Power to obtain information.

463. Power to obtain information.

For the purpose of transmitting to the Fund¹ or the Supplementary Fund² the names and addresses of the persons who³ are liable to make contributions to the Fund or Supplementary Fund for any year, and the quantity of oil⁴ in respect of which they are so liable, the Secretary of State may by notice require any person engaged in producing, treating, distributing or transporting oil to furnish such information as may be specified in the notice⁵.

Such a notice may specify the way in which, and the time within which, it is to be complied with⁶.

In proceedings by the Fund or the Supplementary Fund against any person to recover any amount due⁷, particulars contained in any list transmitted by the Secretary of State to either of the Funds are admissible, so far as those particulars are based on information obtained under these provisions, as evidence of the facts stated in the list; and, so far as particulars which are so admissible are based on information given by the person against whom the proceedings are brought, those particulars are presumed to be accurate until the contrary is proved⁸.

If a person discloses any information which has been furnished to or obtained by him under, or in connection with the execution of, these provisions, then, unless the disclosure is made:

- 889 (1) with the consent of the person from whom the information was obtained; or
- 890 (2) in connection with the execution of these provisions; or
- 891 (3) for the purposes of any legal proceedings arising out of these provisions or of any report of such proceedings, he is liable to a fine⁹.

A person who:

- 892 (a) refuses or wilfully neglects to comply with a notice under these provisions; or
- 893 (b) in furnishing any information in compliance with such a notice, makes any statement which he knows to be false in a material particular, or recklessly makes any statement which is false in a material particular, is liable to a fine or imprisonment or both¹⁰.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(vii) International Oil Pollution Compensation Fund/C. COMPENSATION FOR PERSONS SUFFERING POLLUTION DAMAGE/464. Liability of the Fund.

C. COMPENSATION FOR PERSONS SUFFERING POLLUTION DAMAGE

464. Liability of the Fund.

The Fund¹ is liable for pollution damage² in the territory³ of the United Kingdom if the person suffering the damage⁴ has been unable to obtain full compensation⁵:

894 (1) because the discharge or escape⁶, or the relevant threat of contamination⁷, by reason of which the damage was caused:

46. (a) resulted from an exceptional, inevitable and irresistible phenomenon; or

47. (b) was due wholly to anything done or omitted to be done by another person, not being a servant or agent of the owner⁸, with intent to do damage; or

48. (c) was due wholly to the negligence or wrongful act of a government or other authority in exercising its function of maintaining lights or other navigational aids for the maintenance of which it was responsible,

49. and because liability is accordingly wholly displaced⁹; or

895 (2) because the owner or guarantor¹⁰ liable for the damage cannot meet his obligations¹¹ in full; or 896 (3) because the damage exceeds the liability¹² as duly¹³ limited¹⁴.

The Fund incurs no obligation under these provisions if:

897 (i) it proves that the pollution damage resulted from an act of war, hostilities, civil war or insurrection, or was caused by oil¹⁵ which has escaped or been discharged from a warship or other ship¹⁶ owned or operated by a state and used, at the time of the occurrence, only on government non-commercial service; or 898 (ii) the claimant cannot prove that the damage resulted from an occurrence involving a ship identified by him, or involving two or more ships one of which is identified by him¹⁷.

If the Fund proves that the pollution damage resulted wholly or partly:

899 (A) from anything done or omitted to be done with intent to cause damage by the person who suffered the damage; or

900 (B) from the negligence of that person, the Fund may be exonerated wholly or partly from its obligations to pay compensation to that person¹⁸.

Where the liability¹⁹ in respect of the pollution damage is limited to any extent²⁰, the Fund is exonerated to the same extent²¹.

1 As to the meaning of 'Fund' see PARA 462.

2 For these purposes, 'pollution damage' means: (1) damage caused outside a ship by contamination resulting from a discharge or escape of oil from the ship; (2) the cost of preventive measures; and (3) further damage caused by preventive measures, but does not include any damage attributable to any impairment of the environment except to the extent that any such damage consists of any loss of profits or the cost of any reasonable measures of reinstatement actually taken or to be taken: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 181(1).

Expenses reasonably incurred, and sacrifices reasonably made, by the owner voluntarily to prevent or minimise pollution damage are treated as pollution damage for the purposes of s 175; and accordingly he is in the same position with respect to claims against the Fund under s 175 as if he had a claim in respect of liability under s 153 (see PARA 443): s 175(6).

For these purposes, 'preventive measures' means any reasonable measures taken by any person to prevent or minimise pollution damage, being measures taken after an incident has occurred or in the case of an incident consisting of a series of occurrences, after the first of those occurrences (s 181(1)); and 'incident' means any occurrence, or series of occurrences having the same origin, resulting in a discharge or escape of oil from a ship or in a relevant threat of contamination (s 181(1)). As to the meaning of 'oil' see note 15; as to the meaning of 'ship' see note 16; and as to the meaning of 'discharge or escape' see note 6.

3 For these purposes, references to the territory of any country are to be construed in accordance with the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 170(4) (see PARA 443 note 7) reading the reference to a Liability Convention country as a reference to a Fund Convention country: s 181(3). As to the meaning of 'Fund Convention country' see PARA 462 note 8.

4 For these purposes, 'damage' includes loss: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 181(1). The fund is not liable for secondary economic loss: Algrete Shipping Co Inc v International Oil Pollution Compensation Fund 1971, The Sea Empress [2003] EWCA Civ 65, [2003] 2 All ER (Comm) 1, [2003] 1 Lloyd's Rep 327.

5 Ie under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 153: see PARA 443.

6 For these purposes, 'discharge or escape', in relation to pollution damage, means the discharge or escape of oil from the ship: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 181(1). References to a discharge or escape of oil from a ship are references to such a discharge or escape wherever it may occur, and whether it is of oil carried in a cargo tank or of oil carried in a bunker fuel tank; and, where more than one discharge or escape results from the same occurrence or from a series of occurrences having the same origin, they are to be treated as one: s 181(2)(a), (b).

7 For these purposes, 'relevant threat of contamination' means a grave and imminent threat of damage being caused outside a ship by contamination resulting from a discharge or escape of oil from the ship: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 181(1).

8 For these purposes, 'owner' means the person or persons registered as the owner of the ship or, in the absence of registration, the person or persons owning the ship, except that, in relation to a ship owned by a state which is operated by a person registered as the ship's operator, it means the person registered as its operator: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 181(1). As to the meaning of 'registered' see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 254.

9 Ie by the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 155: see PARA 445.

10 For these purposes, 'guarantor' means any person providing insurance or other financial security to cover the owner's liability of the kind described in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 163 (see PARA 453): s 181(1).

11 For these purposes, an owner or guarantor is to be treated as incapable of meeting his obligations if the obligations have not been met after all reasonable steps to pursue the legal remedies available have been taken: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 175(5).

12 Ie the liability under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 153.

14 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 175(1). As to the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 2.

Section 175(1) applies with the substitution for the words 'United Kingdom' of the words 'a Fund Convention country' where: (1) the headquarters of the Fund are for the time being in the United Kingdom, and proceedings under the Liability Convention for compensation for the pollution damage have been brought in a country which is not a Fund Convention country; or (2) the incident has caused pollution damage in the territory of the United Kingdom and of another Fund Convention country, and proceedings under the Liability Convention for compensation for the pollution damage have been brought in a country which is not a Fund Convention country or in the United Kingdom: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 175(2). 'Liability Convention' has the same meaning as in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 Pt VI Ch III (ss 152-171) (see PARA 441): s 172(1)(a). As to limitation of the Fund's liability see PARA 465.

Where the incident has caused pollution damage in the territory of the United Kingdom and of another country in respect of which the Liability Convention is in force, references in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 175 to the provisions of Pt VI Ch III (ss 152-171) include references to the corresponding provisions of the law of any country giving effect to the Liability Convention: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 175(3).

Where proceedings under the Liability Convention for compensation for pollution damage have been brought in a country which is not a Fund Convention country and the Fund is liable for that pollution damage by virtue of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 175(2)(a), references in s 175 to the provisions of Pt VI Ch III (ss 152-171) are treated as references to the corresponding provisions of the law of the country in which those proceedings were brought: s 175(4).

15 For these purposes, 'oil' means persistent hydrocarbon mineral oil: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 181(1).

16 For these purposes, 'ship' means any ship, within the meaning of Merchant Shipping Act 1995 Pt VI Ch III (ss 152-171) (see PARA 443 note 3) to which s 153 (see PARA 443) applies: s 181(1).

17 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 175(7).

18 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 175(8). Section 175(8) does not apply where the pollution damage consists of the costs of preventive measures or any damage caused by such measures: s 175(10).

19 See note 12.

20 Ie by the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 153(8).

21 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 175(9). Section 175(9) does not apply where the pollution damage consists of the costs of preventive measures or any damage caused by such measures: s 175(10).

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(vii) International Oil Pollution Compensation Fund/C. COMPENSATION FOR PERSONS SUFFERING POLLUTION DAMAGE/465. Limitation of the Fund's liability.

465. Limitation of the Fund's liability.

The liability of the Fund¹ is subject to the limits imposed² by the Fund Convention³.

A court giving judgment against the Fund in proceedings⁴ must notify the Fund⁵ and:

- 901 (1) no steps must be taken to enforce the judgment unless and until the court gives leave to enforce it;
- 902 (2) that leave must not be given unless and until the Fund notifies the court either that the amount of the claim is not to be reduced⁶, or that it is to be reduced to a specified amount; and
- 903 (3) in the latter case the judgment is enforceable only for the reduced amount⁷.

Any steps taken to obtain payment of an amount or a reduced amount in pursuance of such a judgment as is mentioned above must be steps to obtain payment in sterling and:

- 904 (a) for the purpose of converting such an amount from special drawing rights into sterling, one special drawing right is to be treated as equal to such a sum in sterling as the International Monetary Fund⁸ has fixed as being the equivalent of one special drawing right for the relevant day, namely the day on which the Assembly of the Fund decides the date for the first payment of compensation in respect of the incident⁹, or, if no sum has been so fixed for the relevant day, the last day before that day for which a sum has been so fixed; and

Any document purporting to be such a certificate as is mentioned above¹² must, in any legal proceedings, be received in evidence and, unless the contrary is proved, is deemed to be such a certificate¹³.

2 Ie by the International Convention on the Establishment of an International Fund for Compensation for Oil Pollution Damage 1992 art 4(4), (5), which imposes an overall limit on the liabilities of the Fund and the text of which is set out in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 176(1), Sch 5 Pt I (amended by SI 2003/2559). In those provisions references to the Liability Convention are references to the Liability Convention within the meaning of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 Pt VI Ch IV (ss 172-182) (see PARA 464 note 14): s 176(1). A certificate given by the Director of the Fund stating that the International Convention on the Establishment of an International Fund for Compensation for Oil Pollution Damage 1992 art 4(4)(c) is applicable to any claim under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 175 is conclusive evidence for the purposes of Pt VI Ch IV (ss 172-182) that it is so applicable: s 176(2).

The Secretary of State may by order make such amendments of s 176 and Sch 5 Pt I as appear to him to be appropriate for the purpose of giving effect to the entry into force of any amendment of the provisions set out in Sch 5: s 176(5). Liability of the Supplementary Fund.

466. Liability of the Supplementary Fund.

The Supplementary Fund¹ is liable for pollution damage² in the territory³ of the United Kingdom in accordance with the Supplementary Fund Protocol⁴ in the circumstances mentioned in that Protocol⁵.

Nothing in these provisions⁶ applies to pollution damage resulting from an incident⁷ if (1) in the case of a single occurrence, it took place before the day on which the Supplementary Fund Protocol enters into force as respects the United Kingdom; or (2) in the case of a series of occurrences having the same origin, the first of those occurrences took place before that day⁸.

Limitation of the Supplementary Fund's liability.

467. Limitation of the Supplementary Fund's liability.

The liability of the Supplementary Fund¹ is subject to (1) certain provisions² of the Supplementary Fund Protocol (which impose an overall limit on the liabilities of the Supplementary Fund); and (2) certain other provisions³ of the Supplementary Fund Protocol (which prevent the Supplementary Fund from paying compensation temporarily and permanently where obligations to communicate information to the Director⁴ have not been met)⁵.

For the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of the Supplementary Fund Protocol referred to in head (1) above a court giving judgment⁶ against the Supplementary Fund must notify the Supplementary Fund, and:

- 906 (a) no steps must be taken to enforce the judgment unless and until the court gives leave to enforce it;
- 907 (b) that leave must not be given unless and until the Supplementary Fund notifies the court either that the amount of the claim is not to be reduced under those provisions, or that it is to be reduced to a specified amount; and
- 908 (c) in the latter case the judgment is enforceable only for the reduced amount⁷.

Any steps taken to obtain payment of an amount or a reduced amount in pursuance of such a judgment as is mentioned above⁸ must be steps to obtain payment in sterling; and:

- 909 (i) for the purpose of converting such an amount from special drawing rights into sterling, one special drawing right is to be treated as equal to such a sum in sterling as the International Monetary Fund have fixed as being the equivalent of one special drawing right for (A) the relevant date⁹; or (B) if no sum has been so fixed for the relevant date, the last day before that date for which a sum has been so fixed; and
- 910 (ii) a certificate given by or on behalf of the Treasury stating (A) that a particular sum in sterling has been so fixed for the relevant date; or (B) that no sum has been so fixed for the relevant date and that a particular sum in sterling has been so fixed for a day which is the last day for which a sum has been so fixed before the relevant date, is conclusive evidence¹⁰ of those matters¹¹.

Any document purporting to be such a certificate as is mentioned in head (ii) above must, in any legal proceedings, be received in evidence and, unless the contrary is proved, be deemed to be such a certificate¹².

D. SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS

468. Jurisdiction; effect of judgments.

Where, in accordance with rules of court made for these purposes, the Fund¹ has been given notice of proceedings brought against an owner² or guarantor³ in respect of liability for oil pollution⁴, (1) the notice is deemed to have been given to the Supplementary Fund⁵ as well; and (2) any judgment given in the proceedings, after it has become final and enforceable, becomes binding upon the Fund and the Supplementary Fund in the sense that the facts and evidence in the judgment may not be disputed by the Fund or the Supplementary Fund, even if it has not intervened in the proceedings⁶.

1 As to the meaning of 'Fund' see PARA 462.

2 As to the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 464 note 8.

3 As to the meaning of 'guarantor' see PARA 464 note 10.

4 Ie liability under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 153: see PARA 443.

5 As to the meaning of 'Supplementary Fund' see PARA 462.

6 Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 177(2) (amended by SI 2006/1265). Where a person incurs a liability under the law of a Fund Convention country corresponding to the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 Pt VI Ch III (ss 152-171) (see PARA 441 et seq) for damage which is partly in the territory of the United Kingdom, s 177(2) applies, for the purpose of proceedings under Pt VI Ch IV (ss 172-182) (see PARA 459 et seq), with any necessary modifications to a judgment in proceedings under that law of that country: s 177(3). As to the meaning of 'damage' see PARA 464 note 4; as to the meaning of 'territory' see PARA 464 note 3; and as to the meaning of 'Fund Convention country' see PARA 462 note 8. As to the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 2.

Subject to s 177(5), (6) (see below), the Foreign Judgments (Reciprocal Enforcement) Act 1933 Pt I (ss 1-7) (see CONFLICT OF LAWS vol 8(3) (Reissue) PARA 171 et seq) applies, whether or not it would so apply apart from the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 177(4), to (1) any judgment given by a court in a Fund Convention country to enforce a claim in respect of a liability incurred under any provision corresponding to s 175 (see PARA 464); (2) any judgment given by a court in a Supplementary Fund Protocol country to enforce a claim in respect of a liability incurred under any provision corresponding to s 176A (see PARA 466), and in its application to such a judgment the Foreign Judgments (Reciprocal Enforcement) Act 1933 Pt I has effect with the omission of s 4(2), (3) (see CONFLICT OF LAWS vol 8(3) (Reissue) PARAS 177, 178); Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 177(4) (s 177(4), (5) substituted by SI 2006/1265). As to the meaning of 'Supplementary Fund Protocol country' see PARA 462 note 9.

No steps may, however, be taken to enforce such a judgment unless and until (a) in the case of a judgment within head (1) above, the Fund notifies the court either that the amount of the claim is not to be reduced under the Fund Convention art 4 paras 4, 5 (as set out in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 Sch 5 Pt 1 (amended by SI 2003/2559)) or that it is to be reduced to a specified amount; or (b) in the case of a judgment within head (2) above, the Supplementary Fund notifies the court either that the amount of the claim is not to be reduced under the Supplementary Fund Protocol art 4 paras 2, 3 (as set out in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 Sch 5ZA (added by SI 2006/1265)) or that it is to be reduced to a specified amount: Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 177(5) (as so substituted). Where the court is so notified that a claim is to be reduced to a specified amount, the judgment may be enforceable only for the reduced amount: s 177(6) (added by SI 2006/1265).

The Administration of Justice Act 1956 Sch 1 para 1(1)(d) (Admiralty jurisdiction in claims for damage done by ships) must be construed as extending to any claim in respect of a liability falling on the Fund or the Supplementary Fund under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 Pt VI Ch IV (ss 172-182): see s 177(1) (amended by SI 2006/1265).

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(vii) International Oil Pollution Compensation Fund/D. SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS/469. Extinguishment of claims.

469. Extinguishment of claims.

No action to enforce a claim against the Fund¹ may be entertained by a court in the United Kingdom unless:

- 911 (1) the action is commenced; or
- 912 (2) a third party notice² of an action to enforce a claim against the owner³ or his guarantor⁴ in respect of the same damage⁵ is given to the Fund, not later than three years after the damage occurred⁶.

No action to enforce a claim against the Fund⁷ may be entertained by a court in the United Kingdom unless the action is commenced not later than six years after the occurrence, or first of the occurrences, resulting in the discharge or escape⁸, or, as the case may be, in the relevant threat of contamination⁹, by reason of which the claim against the Fund arose¹⁰.

The above provisions¹¹ apply in relation to claims against the Supplementary Fund¹² as they apply in relation to claims against the Fund, with the substitution for the reference to the Fund in head (2) above of a reference to the Supplementary Fund¹³.

For the purposes of these provisions¹⁴ (a) a person who commences an action to enforce a claim against the Fund in relation to any damage is deemed also to have commenced an action to enforce any claim he may have against the Supplementary Fund in relation to that damage; and (b) a person who gives a third party notice to the Fund in relation to any damage as mentioned in head (2) above is deemed also to have given a notice to the Supplementary Fund in relation to that damage¹⁵.

471. Proceedings involving the Fund and the Supplementary Fund.

Any proceedings by or against the Fund¹ may either be instituted by or against the Fund in its own name or be instituted by or against the Director of the Fund as the Fund's representative².

Evidence of any instrument issued by any organ of the Fund or of any document in the custody of the Fund, or any entry in or extract from such a document, may be given in any legal proceedings by production of a copy certified as a true copy by an official of the Fund; and any document purporting to be such a copy must, in any such proceedings, be received in evidence without proof of the official position or handwriting of the person signing the certificate³.

The above provisions⁴ apply in relation to the Supplementary Fund⁵ as they apply in relation to the Fund, with the substitution for references to the Director, any organ or an official of the Fund of references to the Director, any organ or an official of the Supplementary Fund⁶.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/A. IN GENERAL/472. Power to give effect to the Convention.

(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances

A. IN GENERAL

472. Power to give effect to the Convention.

Her Majesty may by Order in Council make such provision as She considers appropriate for the purpose of giving effect to:

- 913 (1) the International Convention on Liability and Compensation for Damage in Connection with the Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances by Sea 1996¹ (the 'Convention') on or after its ratification by the United Kingdom; or
- 914 (2) any revision of the Convention which appears to Her Majesty in Council to have been agreed to by the government of the United Kingdom².

The power so conferred to make provision for the purpose of giving effect to the Convention or an agreement revising the Convention includes power to provide for the provision to come into force even though the Convention or the agreement has not come into force³.

Such an Order may include provision⁴:

- 915 (a) requiring contributions to be paid in accordance with the Convention to the International Hazardous and Noxious Substances Fund⁵ established under the Convention;
- 916 (b) for applying for the above purpose⁶ any enactment or instrument relating to the pollution of the sea or other waters, including provisions creating offences, with such modifications, if any, as may be prescribed by the Order;
- 917 (c) making such modifications of any enactment or instrument⁷ as appear to Her Majesty to be appropriate⁸;
- 918 (d) with respect to the application of the Order to the Crown;
- 919 (e) for detaining any ship⁹ in respect of which a contravention¹⁰ of a provision made by or under the Order is suspected to have occurred and, in relation to such a ship, for applying the provisions relating to enforcing the detention of ships¹¹ with such modifications, if any, as are prescribed by the Order;
- 920 (f) for a certificate issued by or on behalf of the Secretary of State and stating that at a particular time a particular substance was, or was not, a hazardous or noxious substance for the purposes of the Convention to be conclusive evidence of that matter¹².

Such an Order may:

- 921 (i) make different provision for different circumstances;
- 922 (ii) make provision for references in the Order to any specified document to operate as references to that document as revised or reissued from time to time;
- 923 (iii) provide for the delegation of functions exercisable by virtue of the Order;

- 924 (iv) include such incidental, supplemental and transitional provisions as appear to Her Majesty to be expedient for the purposes of the Order; and
- 925 (v) authorise the making of regulations for the purposes of these provisions, except the purposes of heads (a), (b) and (c) above¹³.

A draft of an Order in Council proposed to be made by virtue of the above provisions must not be submitted to Her Majesty in Council unless it has been approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament¹⁴.

1 Ie the Convention on Liability and Compensation for Damage in Connection with the Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances by Sea 1996 (London, 3 May 1996; Misc 5 (1997); Cm 3580). The text of the Convention, excluding the annexes, is set out in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 s 182A(2), Sch 5A (see PARA 474 et seq); s 182A(2) (ss 182A, 182B added by the Merchant Shipping and Maritime Security Act 1997 s 14(1)). The annexes to the Convention constitute an integral part of the Convention: Convention on Liability and Compensation for Damage in Connection with the Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances by Sea 1996 art 2.

In interpreting the definition of 'hazardous and noxious substances' in art 1(5) (see PARA 476), any reference in art 1(5) to a particular convention or code as amended is to be taken to be a reference to that convention or code as amended from time to time, whether before or after the commencement of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 Pt VI Ch V (ss 182A-182C): s 182A(3) (as so added).

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/A. IN GENERAL/473. Secretary of State's power to make orders.

473. Secretary of State's power to make orders.

The Secretary of State may by order make such amendments to the statutory provisions containing the International Convention on Liability and Compensation for Damage in Connection with the Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances by Sea 1996¹ and any Order in Council made by Her Majesty² as appear to him to be appropriate for the purpose of giving effect to any amendment of a relevant limit³ which is adopted in accordance with that Convention⁴.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/B. APPLICATION OF THE CONVENTION/474. Damage and preventive measures.

B. APPLICATION OF THE CONVENTION

474. Damage and preventive measures.

The Convention¹ applies exclusively:

- 926 (1) to any damage² caused in the territory, including the territorial sea³, of a state party⁴;
- 927 (2) to damage by contamination of the environment caused in the exclusive economic zone of a state party, established in accordance with international law, or, if a state party has not established such a zone, in an area beyond and adjacent to the territorial sea of that state determined by that state in accordance with international law and extending not more than 200 nautical miles from the baselines from which the breadth of its territorial sea is measured;
- 928 (3) to damage, other than damage by contamination of the environment, caused outside the territory, including the territorial sea, of any state, if this damage has been caused by a substance carried on board a ship⁵ registered in a state party or, in the case of an unregistered ship, on board a ship entitled to fly the flag of a state party; and
- 929 (4) to preventive measures⁶, wherever taken⁷.

1 As to the meaning of 'Convention' see PARA 472.

2 As to the meaning of 'damage' see PARA 475.

3 As to the extent of the territorial sea (or waters) of the United Kingdom see the Territorial Sea Act 1987 s 1; INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS LAW vol 61 (2010) PARA 124; and WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 100 (2009) PARA 31.

4 As to signature etc of the Convention see PARA 515.

5 For these purposes, 'ship' means any sea-going vessel and seaborne craft, of any type whatsoever: Convention on Liability and Compensation for Damage in Connection with the Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances by Sea 1996 art 1(1).

6 For these purposes, 'preventive measures' means any reasonable measures taken by any person after an incident has occurred to prevent or minimise damage: Convention on Liability and Compensation for Damage in Connection with the Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances by Sea 1996 art 1(7). 'Incident' means any occurrence or series of occurrences having the same origin, which causes damage or creates a grave and imminent threat of causing damage (art 1(8)); and 'person' means any individual or partnership or any public or private body, whether corporate or not, including a state or any of its constituent sub-divisions (art 1(2)).

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/B. APPLICATION OF THE CONVENTION/475. Meaning of 'damage'.

475. Meaning of 'damage'.

'Damage' means¹:

- 930 (1) loss of life or personal injury on board or outside the ship² carrying the hazardous and noxious substances³ caused by those substances⁴;
- 931 (2) loss of or damage to property outside the ship carrying the hazardous and noxious substances caused by those substances;
- 932 (3) loss or damage by contamination of the environment caused by the hazardous and noxious substances, provided that compensation for impairment of the environment other than loss of profit from such impairment must be limited to costs of reasonable measures of reinstatement actually undertaken or to be undertaken; and
- 933 (4) the costs of preventive measures⁵ and further loss or damage caused by preventive measures⁶.

Where it is not reasonably possible to separate damage caused by the hazardous and noxious substances from that caused by other factors, all such damage is deemed to be caused by the hazardous and noxious substances except if, and to the extent that, the damage caused by other factors is damage of a specified⁷ type⁸.

476. Meaning of 'hazardous and noxious substances'.

'Hazardous and noxious substances' ('HNS') means¹:

934 (1) any substances, materials and articles carried on board a ship² as cargo, referred to in heads (1)(a) to (1)(g) below:

- 50. (a) oils carried in bulk³;
- 51. (b) noxious liquid substances carried in bulk⁴;
- 52. (c) dangerous liquid substances carried in bulk⁵ and the dangerous products for which the preliminary suitable conditions for the carriage have been prescribed⁶;
- 53. (d) dangerous, hazardous and harmful substances, materials and articles in packaged form⁷;
- 54. (e) liquefied gases⁸ and the products for which preliminary suitable conditions for the carriage have been prescribed⁹;
- 55. (f) liquid substances carried in bulk with a flashpoint not exceeding 60°C, measured by a closed cup test;
- 56. (g) solid bulk materials¹⁰; and

935 (2) residues from the previous carriage in bulk of substances referred to in heads (1)(a) to (1)(c) and (1)(e) to (1)(g) above¹¹.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/B. APPLICATION OF THE CONVENTION/477. Claims.

477. Claims.

The Convention¹ applies to claims, other than claims arising out of any contract for the carriage of goods and passengers, for damage² arising from the carriage of hazardous and noxious substances³ by sea⁴.

The Convention does not apply to the extent that its provisions are incompatible with those of the applicable law relating to workers' compensation or social security schemes⁵; nor does the Convention apply to pollution damage⁶ or to damage caused by a radioactive material⁷.

The provisions of the Convention do not apply⁸ to warships, naval auxiliary or other ships owned or operated by a state and used, for the time being, only on government non-commercial service⁹; but a state party¹⁰ may decide to apply the Convention to its warships or other vessels¹¹, in which case it must notify the Secretary General¹² thereof specifying the terms and conditions of such application¹³.

With respect to ships owned by a state party and used for commercial purposes, each state is subject to suit in the specified jurisdictions¹⁴ and must waive all defences based on its status as a sovereign state¹⁵.

478. Exclusions.

A state may, at the time of ratification, acceptance, approval of, or accession to, the Convention¹, or any time thereafter, declare that the Convention does not apply to ships²:

- 936 (1) which do not exceed 200 gross tonnage; and
- 937 (2) which carry hazardous and noxious substances³ only in packaged form; and
- 938 (3) while they are engaged on voyages between ports or facilities of that state⁴.

Where two neighbouring states agree that the Convention does not apply also to ships which are covered by heads (1) and (2) above while engaged on voyages between ports or facilities of those states, the states concerned may declare that the exclusion from the application of the Convention declared under the above provisions⁵ covers also ships referred to⁶ in this provision⁷.

Any state which has made the above declaration⁸ may withdraw such declaration at any time⁹.

A declaration so made and the withdrawal of the declaration must be deposited with the Secretary General¹⁰ who must, after the entry into force of the Convention, communicate it to the Director¹¹.

Where a state has so made a declaration and has not withdrawn it, hazardous and noxious substances carried on board such ships are not considered¹² to be contributing cargo¹³.

The HNS Fund¹⁴ is not liable to pay compensation for damage¹⁵ caused by substances carried by a ship to which the Convention does not apply pursuant to a declaration made under the above provisions to the specified¹⁶ extent¹⁷.

13 Convention on Liability and Compensation for Damage in Connection with the Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances by Sea 1996 art 5(5). For these purposes, 'contributing cargo' means any hazardous and noxious substances which are carried by sea as cargo to a port or terminal in the territory of a state party and discharged in that state; cargo in transit which is transferred directly, or through a port or terminal, from one ship to another, either wholly or in part, in the course of carriage from the port or terminal of original loading to the port or terminal of final destination is to be considered as contributing cargo only in respect of receipt at the final destination: art 1(10). 'Terminal' means any site for the storage of hazardous and noxious substances received from waterborne transportation, including any facility situated offshore and linked by pipe-line or otherwise to such site: art 1(14).

14 For these purposes, 'HNS Fund' means the International Hazardous and Noxious Substances Fund established under the Convention on Liability and Compensation for Damage in Connection with the Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances by Sea 1996 art 13 (see PARA 487): art 1(11).

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/D. LIABILITY/(A) Owner's Liability/480. Liability of the owner.

D. LIABILITY

(A) OWNER'S LIABILITY

480. Liability of the owner.

The owner¹ at the time of an incident² is liable³ for damage⁴ caused by any hazardous and noxious substances⁵ in connection with their carriage by sea⁶ on board the ship, provided that, if an incident consists of a series of occurrences having the same origin, the liability attaches to the owner at the time of the first of such occurrences⁷.

No liability attaches to the owner, however, if the owner proves that:

- 939 (1) the damage resulted from an act of war, hostilities, civil war, insurrection or a natural phenomenon of an exceptional, inevitable and irresistible character; or
- 940 (2) the damage was wholly caused by an act or omission done with the intent to cause damage by a third party; or
- 941 (3) the damage was wholly caused by the negligence or other wrongful act of any government or other authority responsible for the maintenance of lights or other navigational aids in the exercise of that function; or
- 942 (4) the failure of the shipper or any other person⁸ to furnish information concerning the hazardous and noxious nature of the substances shipped either has caused the damage, wholly or partly, or has led the owner not to obtain insurance⁹, provided that neither the owner nor its servants or agents knew or ought reasonably to have known of the hazardous and noxious nature of the substances shipped¹⁰.

If the owner proves that the damage resulted wholly or partly either from an act or omission done with intent to cause damage by the person who suffered the damage or from the negligence of that person, the owner may be exonerated wholly or partially from liability to such person¹¹.

No claim for compensation for damage may be made against the owner otherwise than in accordance with the Convention¹².

No claim for compensation for damage under the Convention or otherwise may be made¹³ against:

- 943 (a) the servants or agents of the owner or the members of the crew;
- 944 (b) the pilot or any other person who, without being a member of the crew, performs services for the ship;
- 945 (c) any charterer (howsoever described, including a bareboat charterer), manager or operator of the ship;
- 946 (d) any person performing salvage operations with the consent of the owner or on the instructions of a competent public authority;
- 947 (e) any person taking preventive measures¹⁴; and
- 948 (f) the servants or agents of persons mentioned in heads (c), (d) and (e) above, unless the damage resulted from their personal act or omission, committed with the intent to cause such damage, or recklessly and with knowledge that such damage would probably result¹⁵.

Nothing in the Convention prejudices any existing right of recourse of the owner against any third party, including, but not limited to, the shipper or the receiver¹⁶ of the substance causing the damage, or the persons indicated in heads (a) to (f) above¹⁷.

1 For these purposes, 'owner' means the person or persons registered as the owner of the ship or, in the absence of registration, the person or persons owning the ship; but, in the case of a ship owned by a state and operated by a company which in that state is registered as the ship's operator, 'owner' means such company: Convention on Liability and Compensation for Damage in Connection with the Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances by Sea 1996 art 1(3). 15 Convention on Liability and Compensation for Damage in Connection with the Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances by Sea 1996 art 7(5).

16 For these purposes, 'receiver' means either: (1) the person who physically receives contributing cargo discharged in the ports and terminals of a state party, provided that, if at the time of receipt the person who physically receives the cargo acts as an agent for another who is subject to the jurisdiction of any state party, the principal is deemed to be the receiver, if the agent discloses the principal to the HNS Fund; or (2) the person in the state party who in accordance with the national law of that state party is deemed to be the receiver of contributing cargo discharged in the ports and terminals of a state party, provided that the total contributing cargo received according to such national law is substantially the same as that which would have been received under head (1) above: Convention on Liability and Compensation for Damage in Connection with the Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances by Sea 1996 art 1(4). (B) INCIDENTS INVOLVING TWO OR MORE SHIPS

481. In general.

Whenever damage¹ has resulted from an incident² involving two or more ships³ each of which is carrying hazardous and noxious substances⁴, each owner⁵, unless exonerated from liability⁶, is liable for the damage; and the owners are jointly and severally liable for all such damage which is not reasonably separable⁷.

Owners are, however, entitled to the limits of liability applicable⁸ to each of them⁹.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/8. SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/D. LIABILITY/(C) Limitation of Liability/482. Limitation of liability.

(C) LIMITATION OF LIABILITY

482. Limitation of liability.

The owner¹ of a ship² is entitled to limit liability under the Convention³ in respect of any one incident⁴ to an aggregate amount calculated as follows:

- 949 (1) 10 million units of account⁵ for a ship not exceeding 2,000 units of tonnage⁶;
and 950 (2) for a ship with a tonnage in excess thereof, the following amount in addition to that mentioned in head (1) above:
- 115 57. (a) for each unit of tonnage from 2,001 to 50,000 units of tonnage, 1,500
units of account;
58. (b) for each unit of tonnage in excess of 50,000 units of tonnage, 360 units of account;

provided that this aggregate amount does not in any event exceed 100 million units of account⁷.

The owner is not entitled to limit liability under the Convention if it is proved that the damage⁸ resulted from the personal act or omission of the owner, committed with the intent to cause such damage, or recklessly and with knowledge that such damage would probably result⁹.

The owner must, for the purpose of benefiting from the limitation provided for under the above provisions, constitute a fund for the total sum representing the limit of liability so established with the court or other competent authority of any one of the states parties¹⁰ in which action is brought¹¹, or, if no action is brought, with any court or other competent authority in any one of the states parties in which an action can be so brought¹². The fund can be constituted either by depositing the sum or by producing a bank guarantee or other guarantee, acceptable under the law of the state party where the fund is constituted, and considered to be adequate by the court or other competent authority¹³.

The fund must be distributed¹⁴ among the claimants in proportion to the amounts of their established claims¹⁵.

If, before the fund is distributed, the owner or any of the servants or agents of the owner or any person¹⁶ providing to the owner insurance or other financial security has, as a result of the incident in question, paid compensation for damage, such person acquires, up to the amount that person has paid, by subrogation the rights which the person so compensated would have enjoyed under the Convention¹⁷. Such right of subrogation may also be exercised by a person other than those mentioned above¹⁸ in respect of any amount of compensation for damage which such person may have paid but only to the extent that such subrogation is permitted under the applicable national law¹⁹.

Where owners or other persons establish that they may be compelled to pay at a later date in whole or in part any such amount of compensation, with regard to which the right of subrogation would have been enjoyed²⁰ had the compensation been paid before the fund was distributed, the court or other competent authority of the state where the fund has been constituted may order that a sufficient sum be provisionally set aside to enable such person at such later date to enforce the claim against the fund²¹.

Claims in respect of expenses reasonably incurred or sacrifices reasonably made by the owner voluntarily to prevent or minimise damage rank equally with other claims against the fund²².

The insurer or other person providing financial security is entitled to constitute a fund in accordance with these provisions on the same conditions and having the same effect as if it were constituted by the owner²³. Such a fund may be constituted even if the owner is not entitled²⁴ to limitation of liability, but its constitution does not in that case prejudice the rights of any claimant against the owner²⁵.

Claims in respect of death or personal injury have priority over other claims save to the extent that the aggregate of such claims exceeds two-thirds of the total amount established²⁶ under the above provisions²⁷.

483. Conversions of amounts into national currency.

The amounts constituting the owner's liability¹ must be converted into national currency on the basis of the value of that currency by reference to the Special Drawing Right on the date of the constitution of the fund². The value of the national currency, in terms of the Special Drawing Right, of a state party³ which is a member of the International Monetary Fund, must be calculated in accordance with the method of valuation applied by the International Monetary Fund in effect on the date in question for its operations and transactions⁴. The value of the national currency, in terms of the Special Drawing Right, of a state party which is not a member of the International Monetary Fund, must be calculated in a manner determined by that state⁵.

Nevertheless, a state party which is not a member of the International Monetary Fund and whose law does not permit the application of the above provisions⁶ may, at the time of ratification, acceptance, approval of or accession to the Convention⁷ or at any time thereafter, declare that the unit of account referred to above⁸ be equal to 15 gold francs⁹. The conversion of the gold franc into the national currency must be made according to the law of the state concerned¹⁰.

The calculation¹¹ and the conversion¹² mentioned in the above provisions must be made in such manner as to express in the national currency of the state party as far as possible the same real value for the amounts constituting the owner's liability as would result from the application¹³ of the above provisions¹⁴. States parties must communicate to the Secretary General¹⁵ the manner of calculation¹⁶, or the result of the conversion¹⁷, as the case may be, when depositing an instrument of ratification, acceptance, approval of or accession to the Convention and whenever there is a change in either¹⁸.

484. Effect of constitution of a fund.

Where the owner¹, after an incident², has constituted a fund³ and is entitled to limit liability:

- 951 (1) no person⁴ having a claim for damage⁵ arising out of that incident is entitled to exercise any right against any other assets of the owner in respect of such claim; and
- 952 (2) the court or other competent authority of any state party⁶ must order the release of any ship⁷ or other property belonging to the owner which has been arrested in respect of a claim for damage arising out of that incident, and must similarly release any bail or other security furnished to avoid such arrest⁸.

The above provisions only apply, however, if the claimant has access to the court administering the fund and the fund is actually available in respect of the claim⁹.

E. COMPULSORY INSURANCE OF THE OWNER

485. Maintenance of insurance etc.

The owner¹ of a ship² registered in a state party³ and actually carrying hazardous and noxious substances⁴ is required to maintain insurance or other financial security⁵, such as the guarantee of a bank or similar financial institution, to cover liability for damage⁶ under the Convention⁷.

Any sums provided by insurance or by other financial security maintained in accordance with the above provisions must be available exclusively for the satisfaction of claims under the Convention⁸.

Each state party must ensure, under its national law, that insurance or other security in the sums specified above is in force in respect of any ship, wherever registered, entering or leaving a port in its territory, or arriving at or leaving an offshore facility in its territorial sea⁹.

Any claim for compensation for damage may be brought directly against the insurer or other person providing financial security for the owner's liability for damage¹⁰. In such case the defendant may, even if the owner is not entitled to limitation of liability, benefit from the limit of liability¹¹. The defendant may further invoke the defences, other than the bankruptcy or winding up of the owner, which the owner would have been entitled to invoke¹². Furthermore, the defendant may invoke the defence that the damage resulted from the wilful misconduct of the owner; but the defendant may not invoke any other defence which the defendant might have been entitled to invoke in proceedings brought by the owner against the defendant¹³. The defendant has in any event the right to require the owner to be joined in the proceedings¹⁴.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/E. COMPULSORY INSURANCE OF THE OWNER/486. Compulsory insurance certificates.

486. Compulsory insurance certificates.

A compulsory insurance certificate attesting that insurance or other financial security is in force in accordance with the provisions of the Convention¹ must be issued to each ship² after the appropriate authority of a state party³ has determined that the requirements for compulsory insurance⁴ have been complied with⁵. With respect to a ship registered in a state party such compulsory insurance certificate must be issued or certified by the appropriate authority of the state of the ship's registry⁶; with respect to a ship not registered in a state party it may be issued or certified by the appropriate authority of any state party⁷. This compulsory insurance certificate must be in the prescribed form⁸ and must contain the following particulars:

- 953 (1) name of the ship, distinctive number or letters and port of registry;
- 954 (2) name and principal place of business of the owner;
- 955 (3) IMO ship identification number;
- 956 (4) type and duration of security;
- 957 (5) name and principal place of business of insurer or other person giving security and, where appropriate, place of business where the insurance or security is established; and
- 958 (6) period of validity of certificate, which must not be longer than the period of validity of the insurance or other security⁹.

The compulsory insurance certificate must be in the official language or languages of the issuing state; if the language used is neither English, nor French nor Spanish, the text must include a translation into one of these languages¹⁰.

The compulsory insurance certificate must be carried on board the ship and a copy must be deposited with the authorities who keep the record of the ship's registry or, if the ship is not registered in a state party, with the authority of the state issuing or certifying the certificate¹¹.

An insurance or other financial security does not satisfy the requirements of these provisions if it can cease, for reasons other than the expiry of the period of validity of the insurance or security specified in the certificate¹², before three months have elapsed from the date on which notice of its termination is given to the authorities¹³, unless the compulsory insurance certificate has been issued within such period¹⁴. The above provisions similarly apply to any modification which results in the insurance or security no longer satisfying the requirements of these provisions¹⁵.

The state of the ship's registry must determine¹⁶ the conditions of issue and validity of the compulsory insurance certificate¹⁷.

Compulsory insurance certificates issued or certified under the authority of a state party¹⁸ must be accepted by other states parties for the purposes of the Convention and are to be regarded by other states parties as having the same force as compulsory insurance certificates issued or certified by them, even if issued or certified in respect of a ship not registered in a state party¹⁹. A state party may at any time request consultation with the issuing or certifying state should it believe that the insurer or guarantor named in the compulsory insurance certificate is not financially capable of meeting the obligations imposed by the Convention²⁰.

A state party must not permit a ship under its flag to which these provisions apply to trade unless a certificate has been duly²¹ issued²².

If insurance or other financial security is not maintained in respect of a ship owned by a state party, the provisions of art 12 relating thereto are not applicable to such ship, but the ship must carry a compulsory insurance certificate issued by the appropriate authorities of the state of the ship's registry stating that the ship is owned by that state and that the ship's liability is covered within the limit prescribed in accordance with art 12(1): art 12(12). Such a compulsory insurance certificate must follow as closely as possible the model prescribed by art 12(2): art 12(12).

Purpose of the HNS Fund.

F. COMPENSATION BY THE HNS FUND

(A) ESTABLISHMENT OF THE HNS FUND

487. Purpose of the HNS Fund.

The International Hazardous and Noxious Substances Fund (the 'HNS Fund') is established with the following aims:

- 959 (1) to provide compensation for damage¹ in connection with the carriage of hazardous and noxious substances² by sea³, to the extent that the protection otherwise afforded⁴ is inadequate or not available; and
- 960 (2) to give effect to the related tasks⁵.

The HNS Fund must in each state party⁶ be recognised as a legal person capable under the laws of that state of assuming rights and obligations and of being a party in legal proceedings before the courts of that state⁷. Each state party must recognise the Director⁸ as the legal representative of the HNS Fund⁹.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/F. COMPENSATION BY THE HNS FUND/(B) Compensation/488. Payment of compensation.

(B) COMPENSATION

488. Payment of compensation.

For the purpose of fulfilling its function¹, the HNS Fund² must pay compensation to any person³ suffering damage⁴ if such person has otherwise been unable to obtain full and adequate compensation for the damage⁵:

- 961 (1) because no liability for the damage otherwise arises⁶;
- 962 (2) because the owner⁷ liable for the damage⁸ is financially incapable of meeting the obligations under the Convention⁹ in full and any financial security that may be provided¹⁰ does not cover or is insufficient to satisfy the claims for compensation for damage, an owner being treated as financially incapable of meeting these obligations and a financial security being treated as insufficient if the person suffering the damage has been unable to obtain full satisfaction of the amount of compensation due¹¹ after having taken all reasonable steps to pursue the available legal remedies;
- 963 (3) because the damage exceeds¹² the owner's liability¹³.

Expenses reasonably incurred or sacrifices reasonably made by the owner voluntarily to prevent or minimise damage are treated as damage for these purposes¹⁴.

The aggregate amount of compensation payable by the HNS Fund¹⁵ is in respect of any one incident limited¹⁶, so that the total sum of that amount and any amount of compensation actually paid¹⁷ for damage within the scope of application of the Convention¹⁸ must not exceed 250 million units of account¹⁹. The aggregate amount of compensation so payable by the HNS Fund for damage resulting from a natural phenomenon of an exceptional, inevitable and irresistible character must not exceed 250 million units of account²⁰.

The amounts mentioned in the above provisions must be converted into national currency on the basis of the value of that currency with reference to the Special Drawing Right on the date of the decision of the Assembly of the HNS Fund²¹ as to the first date of payment of compensation²².

Where the amount of established claims against the HNS Fund exceeds the aggregate amount of compensation payable²³, the amount available must be distributed in such a manner that the proportion between any established claim and the amount of compensation actually recovered by the claimant under the Convention is the same for all claimants²⁴. Claims in respect of death or personal injury have priority over other claims, however, save to the extent that the aggregate of such claims exceeds two-thirds of the total amount duly²⁵ established²⁶.

The Assembly of the HNS Fund may decide that, in exceptional cases, compensation in accordance with the Convention can be paid even if the owner has not constituted²⁶ a fund²⁷.

489. Circumstances in which compensation not payable.

The HNS Fund¹ incurs no obligation to pay compensation² if:

- 964 (1) it proves that the damage³ resulted from an act of war, hostilities, civil war or insurrection or was caused by hazardous and noxious substances⁴ which had escaped or been discharged from a warship or other ship⁵ owned or operated by a state and used, at the time of the incident⁶, only on government non-commercial service; or
- 965 (2) the claimant cannot prove that there is a reasonable probability that the damage resulted from an incident involving one or more ships⁷.

If the HNS Fund proves that the damage resulted wholly or partly either from an act or omission done with intent to cause damage by the person who suffered the damage or from the negligence of that person, the HNS Fund may be exonerated wholly or partially from its obligation to pay compensation to such person⁸. The HNS Fund must in any event be exonerated to the extent that the owner may⁹ have been exonerated¹⁰. There is, however, no such exoneration of the HNS Fund with regard to preventive measures¹¹.

(D) CONTRIBUTIONS

491. General provisions on contributions.

The HNS Fund¹ must have a general account, which must be divided into sectors².

The HNS Fund must also have³ separate accounts in respect of:

- 971 (1) oil⁴ ('oil account');
- 972 (2) liquefied natural gases of light hydrocarbons with methane as the main constituent ('LNG') ('LNG account'); and
- 973 (3) liquefied petroleum gases of light hydrocarbons with propane and butane as the main constituents ('LPG') ('LPG account')⁵.

There must be initial contributions⁶ and, as required, annual contributions⁷ to the HNS Fund⁸.

Contributions to the HNS Fund must be made into the general account⁹, to separate accounts¹⁰ and to either the general account or separate accounts¹¹. The general account must be available¹² to compensate damage caused by hazardous and noxious substances covered by that account, and a separate account must be available to compensate damage caused by a hazardous and noxious substance¹³ covered by that account¹⁴.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/F. COMPENSATION BY THE HNS FUND/(D) Contributions/492. General provisions on annual contributions.

492. General provisions on annual contributions.

Annual contributions to the general account and to each separate account must be levied only as required to make payments by the account in question¹.

Annual contributions payable² must be determined by the Assembly³ and must be duly calculated⁴ on the basis of the units of contributing cargo⁵ received or, as the case may be⁶, discharged during the preceding calendar year or such other year as the Assembly may decide⁷.

The Assembly must decide the total amount of annual contributions to be levied to the general account and to each separate account⁸. Following that decision the Director⁹ must, in respect of each state party¹⁰, calculate for each person liable to pay contributions¹¹, the amount of that person's annual contribution to each account, on the basis of a fixed sum for each unit of contributing cargo reported in respect of the person during the preceding calendar year or such other year as the Assembly may decide¹². For the general account, the above-mentioned fixed sum per unit of contributing cargo for each sector must be calculated pursuant to the relevant regulations¹³. For each separate account, the fixed sum per unit of contributing cargo referred to above must be calculated by dividing the total annual contribution to be levied to that account by the total quantity of cargo contributing to that account¹⁴.

The Assembly may also levy annual contributions for administrative costs and decide on the distribution of such costs between the sectors of the general account and the separate accounts¹⁵.

The Assembly must also decide on the distribution between the relevant accounts and sectors of amounts paid in compensation for damage caused by two or more substances which fall within different accounts or sectors, on the basis of an estimate of the extent to which each of the substances involved contributed to the damage¹⁶.

Annual contributions to the general account.

493. Annual contributions to the general account.

Annual contributions to the general account must be made¹ in respect of each state party² by any person who was the receiver³ in that state in the preceding calendar year, or such other year as the Assembly⁴ may decide, of aggregate quantities exceeding 20,000 tonnes of contributing cargo⁵, other than specified substances⁶ which fall within the following sectors:

- 974 (1) solid bulk materials⁶;
- 975 (2) substances referred to below⁷; and
- 976 (3) other substances⁸.

Annual contributions are also payable to the general account by persons who would have been liable to pay contributions to a separate account⁹ had its operation not been¹⁰ postponed or suspended¹¹. Each separate account the operation of which has been so postponed or suspended forms a separate sector within the general account¹².

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/F. COMPENSATION BY THE HNS FUND/(D) Contributions/494. Annual contributions to separate accounts.

494. Annual contributions to separate accounts.

Annual contributions to separate accounts must be made¹ in respect of each state party²:

977 (1) in the case of the oil account³:

65. (a) by any person who has received in that state in the preceding calendar year, or such other year as the Assembly⁴ may decide, total quantities exceeding 150,000 tonnes of contributing oil⁵ and who is or would be liable to pay contributions to the International Oil Pollution Compensation Fund⁶; and

66. (b) by any person who was the receiver⁷ in that state in the preceding calendar year, or such other year as the Assembly may decide, of total quantities exceeding 20,000 tonnes of other oils carried in bulk⁸;

978 (2) in the case of the LNG account⁹, by any person who in the preceding calendar year, or such other year as the Assembly may decide, immediately prior to its discharge, held title to an LNG¹⁰ cargo discharged in a port or terminal¹¹ of that state;

979 (3) in the case of the LPG account¹², by any person who in the preceding calendar year, or such other year as the Assembly may decide, was the receiver in that state of total quantities exceeding 20,000 tonnes of LPG¹³.

The separate accounts referred to above become effective¹⁴ at the same time as the general account¹⁵.

The initial operation of a separate account¹⁶ is to be postponed until such time as the quantities of contributing cargo¹⁷ in respect of that account during the preceding calendar year, or such other year as the Assembly may decide, exceed the following levels:

980 (i) 350 million tonnes of contributing cargo in respect of the oil account;

981 (ii) 20 million tonnes of contributing cargo in respect of the LNG account; and 982 (iii) 15 million tonnes of contributing cargo in respect of the LPG account¹⁸.

The Assembly may suspend the operation of a separate account if:

983 (A) the quantities of contributing cargo in respect of that account during the preceding calendar year fall below the respective level specified in heads (i) to (iii) above; or 984 (B) when six months have elapsed from the date when the contributions were due, the total unpaid contributions to that account exceed 10 per cent of the most recent levy¹⁹ to that account²⁰.

The Assembly may reinstate the operation of a separate account which has been so suspended²¹.

Any person who would be liable to pay contributions to a separate account the operation of which has been so postponed²² or suspended²³, must pay into the general account the contributions due by that person in respect of that separate account²⁴. For the purpose of calculating future contributions, the postponed or suspended separate account forms a new sector in the general account and is subject to the HNS points system²⁵.

The fixed sum and the units for the different sectors within the general account as well as for each separate account⁶ must be determined by the Assembly⁷.

Initial contributions must be paid within three months following the date on which the HNS Fund⁸ issues invoices in respect of each state party to persons liable⁹ to pay contributions¹⁰.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/F. COMPENSATION BY THE HNS FUND/(D) Contributions/496. Reports.

496. Reports.

Each state party¹ must ensure that any person liable to pay contributions² appears on a list to be established and kept up to date by the Director³ in accordance with the following provisions⁴.

For these purposes, each state party must communicate to the Director, at a time and in the manner to be prescribed in the internal regulations of the HNS Fund⁵, the name and address of any person who in respect of the state is liable to pay contributions⁶, as well as data on the relevant quantities of contributing cargo⁷ for which such a person is liable to contribute in respect of the preceding calendar year⁸. For the purposes of ascertaining who are, at any given time, the persons liable so to pay contributions and of establishing, where applicable, the quantities of cargo to be taken into account for any such person when determining the amount of the contribution, the list is prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein⁹.

Where a state party does not fulfil its obligations to communicate to the Director the information referred to above and this results in a financial loss for the HNS Fund, that state party is liable to compensate the HNS Fund for such loss¹⁰. The Assembly¹¹ must, on the recommendation of the Director, decide whether such compensation be payable by a state party¹².

In respect of contributing cargo carried from one port or terminal¹³ of a state party to another port or terminal located in the same state and discharged there, states parties have the option of submitting to the HNS Fund a report with an annual aggregate quantity for each account covering all receipts of contributing cargo, including any quantities in respect of which contributions are¹⁴ payable¹⁵. The state party must, at the time of reporting, either:

- 985 (1) notify the HNS Fund that that state will pay the aggregate amount for each account in respect of the relevant year in one lump sum to the HNS Fund; or
- 986 (2) instruct the HNS Fund to levy the aggregate amount for each account by invoicing individual receivers¹⁶ or, in the case of LNG¹⁷, the title holder who discharges within the jurisdiction of that state party, for the amount payable by each of them; and these persons must be identified in accordance with the national law of the state concerned¹⁸.

498. Optional liability of states parties for the payment of contributions.

A state party¹ may², at the time when it deposits its instrument of ratification, acceptance, approval or accession or at any time thereafter, declare that it assumes responsibility for obligations imposed by the Convention³ on any person liable to pay contributions⁴ in respect of hazardous and noxious substances⁵ received or discharged in the territory of that state⁶. Such a declaration must be made in writing and must specify which obligations are assumed⁷.

Where such a declaration is made prior to the entry into force of the Convention⁸, it must be deposited with the Secretary General⁹ who must after the entry into force of the Convention communicate the declaration to the Director¹⁰.

Such a declaration which is made after the entry into force of the Convention must be deposited with the Director¹¹.

A declaration made in accordance with the above provisions may be withdrawn by the relevant state giving notice thereof in writing to the Director; such a notification takes effect three months after the Director's receipt thereof¹².

Any state which is bound by a declaration made under the above provisions must, in any proceedings brought against it before a competent court in respect of any obligation specified in the declaration, waive any immunity that it would otherwise be entitled to invoke¹³.

(E) ORGANISATION AND ADMINISTRATION

499. The Assembly and its functions.

The HNS Fund¹ must have an Assembly²; and the Assembly must consist of all states Parties³ to the Convention⁴.

The functions of the Assembly are:

- 987 (1) to elect at each regular session⁵ its President and two Vice-Presidents who hold office until the next regular session;
- 988 (2) to determine its own rules of procedure, subject to the provisions of the Convention;
- 989 (3) to develop, apply and keep under review internal and financial regulations relating to the aim of the HNS Fund⁶ and the related tasks of the HNS Fund⁷;
- 990 (4) to appoint the Director⁸ and make provisions for the appointment of such other personnel as may be necessary and determine the terms and conditions of service of the Director and other personnel;
- 991 (5) to adopt the annual budget⁹;
- 992 (6) to consider and approve as necessary any recommendation of the Director regarding the scope of definition of contributing cargo¹⁰;
- 993 (7) to appoint auditors and approve the accounts of the HNS Fund;
- 994 (8) to approve settlements of claims against the HNS Fund, to take decisions in respect of the distribution among claimants of the available amount of compensation¹¹ and to determine the terms and conditions according to which provisional payments in respect of claims be made with a view to ensuring that victims of damage are compensated as promptly as possible;
- 995 (9) to establish a Committee on Claims for Compensation with at least seven and not more than 15 members and any temporary or permanent subsidiary body it may consider to be necessary, to define its terms of reference and to give it the authority needed to perform the functions entrusted to it; when appointing the members of such body, the Assembly must endeavour to secure an equitable geographical distribution of members and to ensure that the states parties are appropriately represented; the Rules of Procedure of the Assembly may be applied mutatis mutandis for the work of such subsidiary body;
- 996 (10) to determine which states not party to the Convention, which Associate Members of the Organisation¹² and which intergovernmental and international non-governmental Organisations be admitted to take part, without voting rights, in meetings of the Assembly and subsidiary bodies;
- 997 (11) to give instructions concerning the administration of the HNS Fund to the Director and subsidiary bodies;
- 998 (12) to supervise the proper execution of the Convention and of its own decisions;
- 999 (13) to review every five years the implementation of the Convention with particular reference to the performance of the system for the calculation of levies and the contribution mechanism for domestic trade; and 1000 (14) to perform such other functions as are allocated to it under the Convention or are otherwise necessary for the proper operation of the HNS Fund¹³.

Meetings of the Assembly.

500. Meetings of the Assembly.

Regular sessions of the Assembly¹ must take place once every calendar year upon convocation by the Director²; and extraordinary sessions of the Assembly must be convened by the Director at the request of at least one-third of the members of the Assembly³ and may be convened on the Director's own initiative after consultation with the President⁴ of the Assembly⁵. The Director must give members at least 30 days' notice of such sessions⁶.

A majority of the members of the Assembly constitutes a quorum for its meetings⁷.

The following provisions apply to voting in the Assembly:

- 1001 (1) each member has one vote;
- 1002 (2) decisions of the Assembly must be made⁸ by a majority vote of the members present and voting;
- 1003 (3) decisions where a two-thirds' majority is required must be a two-thirds' majority vote of members present; and
- 1004 (4) for these purposes, the phrase 'members present' means 'members present at the meeting at the time of the vote', and the phrase 'members present and voting' means 'members present and casting an affirmative or negative vote'; members who abstain from voting are to be considered as not voting⁹.

The following decisions of the Assembly require a two-thirds' majority:

- 1005 (a) a decision¹⁰ to suspend or reinstate the operation of a separate account;
- 1006 (b) a decision¹¹ not to take or continue action against a contributor;
- 1007 (c) the appointment of the Director¹²;
- 1008 (d) the establishment of subsidiary bodies¹³ and matters relating to such establishment; and
- 1009 (e) a decision¹⁴ that the Convention¹⁵ continue to be in force¹⁶.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/F. COMPENSATION BY THE HNS FUND/(E) Organisation and Administration/502. The Director.

502. The Director.

The Director is the chief administrative officer of the HNS Fund¹. Subject to the instructions given by the Assembly², the Director must perform those functions which are assigned to the Director by the Convention³, the internal regulations of the HNS Fund and the Assembly⁴.

The Director must in particular:

- 1010 (1) appoint the personnel required for the administration of the HNS Fund;
- 1011 (2) take all appropriate measures with a view to the proper administration of the assets of the HNS Fund;
- 1012 (3) collect the contributions due under the Convention⁵;
- 1013 (4) to the extent necessary to deal with claims against the HNS Fund and to carry out the other functions of the HNS Fund, employ the services of legal, financial and other experts;
- 1014 (5) take all appropriate measures for dealing with claims against the HNS Fund, within the limits and on conditions to be laid down in the internal regulations of the HNS Fund, including the final settlement of claims without the prior approval of the Assembly where these regulations so provide;
- 1015 (6) prepare and submit to the Assembly the financial statements and budget estimates for each calendar year;
- 1016 (7) prepare, in consultation with the President of the Assembly⁶, and publish a report on the activities of the HNS Fund during the previous calendar year; and
- 1017 (8) prepare, collect and circulate the documents and information which may be required for the work of the Assembly and subsidiary bodies⁷.

The Director is the legal representative of the HNS Fund⁸.

503. Performance of duties.

In the performance of their duties the Director¹ and the staff and experts appointed by the Director must not seek or receive instructions from any government or from any authority external to the HNS Fund². They must refrain from any action which might adversely reflect on their position as international officials³. (F) TAX EXEMPTIONS AND CURRENCY REGULATIONS

505. In general.

The HNS Fund¹, its assets, income, including contributions, and other property necessary for the exercise of its functions² must enjoy in all states parties³ exemption from all direct taxation⁴.

When the HNS Fund makes substantial purchases of movable or immovable property, or of services which are necessary for the exercise of its official activities in order to achieve its aims⁵, the cost of which include indirect taxes or sales taxes, the governments of the states parties must take, whenever possible, appropriate measures for the remission or refund of the amount of such duties and taxes⁶. Goods thus acquired must not be sold against payment or given away free of charge unless it is done according to conditions approved by the government of the state having granted or supported the remission or refund⁷.

No exemption must be accorded in the case of duties, taxes or dues which merely constitute payment for public utility services⁸.

The HNS Fund must enjoy exemption from all customs duties, taxes and other related taxes on articles imported or exported by it or on its behalf for its official use⁹. Articles thus imported must not be transferred either for consideration or gratis on the territory of the country into which they have been imported except on conditions agreed by the government of that country¹⁰.

Persons contributing to the HNS Fund as well as victims and owners receiving compensation from the HNS Fund are subject to the fiscal legislation of the state where they are taxable, no special exemption or other benefit being conferred on them in this respect¹¹.

Notwithstanding existing or future regulations concerning currency or transfers, states parties must authorise the transfer and payment of any contribution to the HNS Fund and of any compensation paid by the HNS Fund without any restriction¹².

G. CLAIMS AND ACTIONS

507. Limitation of actions.

Rights to compensation under the provisions relating to liability¹ are extinguished unless an action is brought thereunder within three years from the date when the person² suffering the damage³ knew or ought reasonably to have known of the damage and of the identity of the owner⁴.

Rights to compensation under the HNS Fund⁵ are extinguished unless an action is brought thereunder or a notification has been made⁶ within three years from the date when the person suffering the damage knew or ought reasonably to have known of the damage⁷.

In no case, however, may an action be brought later than ten years from the date of the incident which caused the damage⁸. Where the incident consists of a series of occurrences, that ten-year period runs from the date of the last of such occurrences⁹.

Where an incident¹ has caused damage² in the territory, including the territorial sea or in a specified area³, of one or more states parties⁴, or preventive measures⁵ have been taken to prevent or minimise damage in such territory including the territorial sea or in such area, actions for compensation may be brought against the owner⁶ or other person providing financial security for the owner's liability only in the courts of any such states parties⁷.

Where an incident has caused damage exclusively outside the territory, including the territorial sea, of any state and either the conditions for application of the Convention⁸ have been fulfilled or preventive measures to prevent or minimise such damage have been taken, actions for compensation may be brought against the owner or other person providing financial security for the owner's liability only in the courts of:

- 1018 (1) the state party where the ship⁹ is registered or, in the case of an unregistered ship, the state party whose flag the ship is entitled to fly; or
- 1019 (2) the state party where the owner has habitual residence or where the principal place of business of the owner is established; or
- 1020 (3) the state party where a fund has been duly¹⁰ constituted¹¹.

Reasonable notice of any action so taken¹² must be given to the defendant¹³.

Each state party must ensure that its courts have jurisdiction to entertain actions for compensation under the Convention¹⁴.

After a fund¹⁵ has been constituted by the owner or by the insurer or other person providing financial security¹⁶, the courts of the state in which such fund is constituted have exclusive jurisdiction to determine all matters relating to the apportionment and distribution of the fund¹⁷.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/G. CLAIMS AND ACTIONS/509. Jurisdiction in respect of action against the HNS Fund or taken by the HNS Fund.

509. Jurisdiction in respect of action against the HNS Fund or taken by the HNS Fund.

Subject to the following provisions, any action against the HNS Fund¹ for compensation² must be brought only before a court having jurisdiction³ in respect of actions against the owner⁴ who is liable for damage⁵ caused by the relevant incident⁶ or before a court in a state party⁷ which would have been competent if an owner had been liable⁸.

In the event that the ship⁹ carrying the hazardous or noxious substances¹⁰ which caused the damage has not been identified, the provisions relating to jurisdiction¹¹ apply mutatis mutandis to actions against the HNS Fund¹².

Each state party must ensure that its courts have jurisdiction to entertain such actions¹³ against the HNS Fund¹⁴.

Where an action for compensation for damage has been brought before a court against the owner or the owner's guarantor, such court has exclusive jurisdiction over any action against the HNS Fund for compensation¹⁵ in respect of the same damage¹⁶.

Each state party must ensure that the HNS Fund has the right to intervene as a party to any legal proceedings instituted in accordance with the Convention¹⁷ before a competent court of that state against the owner or the owner's guarantor¹⁸.

The HNS Fund is not bound¹⁹ by any judgment or decision in proceedings to which it has not been a party or by any settlement to which it is not a party²⁰.

Where an action under the Convention for compensation for damage has been brought against an owner or the owner's guarantor before a competent court in a state party, each party to the proceedings is entitled²¹ under the national law of that state to notify the HNS Fund of the proceedings²². Where such notification has been made in accordance with the formalities required by the law of the court seized and in such time and in such a manner that the HNS Fund has in fact been in a position effectively to intervene as a party to the proceedings, any judgment rendered by the court in such proceedings becomes binding, after it has become final and enforceable in the state where the judgment was given, upon the HNS Fund in the sense that the facts and findings in that judgment may not be disputed by the HNS Fund even if the HNS Fund has not actually intervened in the proceedings²³.

510. Recognition and enforcement.

Any judgment given by a court with jurisdiction¹, which is enforceable in the state of origin where it is no longer subject to ordinary forms of review, must be recognised in any state party², except:

- 1021 (1) where the judgment was obtained by fraud; or
- 1022 (2) where the defendant was not given reasonable notice and a fair opportunity to present the case³.

A judgment so recognised is enforceable in each state party as soon as the formalities required in that state have been complied with⁴. The formalities must not permit the merits of the case to be reopened⁴.

Any judgment given against the HNS Fund⁵ by a court having jurisdiction⁶ must⁷, when it has become enforceable in the state of origin and is in that state no longer subject to ordinary forms of review, be recognised and is enforceable in each state party⁸.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/G. CLAIMS AND ACTIONS/511. Subrogation and recourse.

511. Subrogation and recourse.

The HNS Fund¹ acquires, in respect of any amount of compensation for damage paid by the HNS Fund², by subrogation the rights that the person³ so compensated may enjoy against the owner⁴ or the owner's guarantor⁵.

Nothing in the Convention prejudices any rights of recourse or subrogation of the HNS Fund against any person⁶, in so far as they can limit their liability⁷. In any event the right of the HNS Fund to subrogation against such persons must not be less favourable than that of an insurer of the person to whom compensation has been paid⁸.

Without prejudice to any other rights of subrogation or recourse against the HNS Fund which may exist, a state party⁹ or agency thereof which has paid compensation for damage in accordance with provisions of national law acquires by subrogation the rights which the person so compensated would have enjoyed under the Convention¹⁰.

I. SUPPLEMENTAL PROVISIONS

515. Signature, ratification etc.

The Convention¹ is open for signature at the headquarters of the Organisation² from 1 October 1996 to 30 September 1997 and thereafter remains open for accession³.

States may express their consent to be bound by the Convention by:

- 1023 (1) signature without reservation as to ratification, acceptance or approval; or
- 1024 (2) signature subject to ratification, acceptance or approval, followed by ratification, acceptance or approval; or
- 1025 (3) accession⁴.

Ratification, acceptance, approval or accession must be effected by the deposit of an instrument to that effect with the Secretary General⁵.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/I. SUPPLEMENTAL PROVISIONS/516. Entry into force.

516. Entry into force.

The Convention¹ enters into force 18 months after the date on which the following conditions are fulfilled:

- 1026 (1) at least 12 states, including four states each with not less than two million units of gross tonnage, have expressed their consent to be bound by it; and
- 1027 (2) the Secretary General² has received information³ that those persons in such states who would be liable to contribute⁴ have received during the preceding calendar year a total quantity of at least 40 million tonnes of cargo contributing to the general account⁵.

For a state which expresses its consent to be bound by the Convention after the conditions for entry into force have been met, such consent takes effect three months after the date of expression of such consent, or on the date on which the Convention enters into force⁶, whichever is the later⁷.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/I. SUPPLEMENTAL PROVISIONS/517. Revision and amendment.

517. Revision and amendment.

A conference for the purpose of revising or amending the Convention¹ may be convened by the Organisation².

The Secretary General³ must convene a conference of the states parties⁴ to the Convention for revising or amending the Convention, at the request of six states parties or one-third of the states parties, whichever is the higher figure⁵.

Any consent to be bound by the Convention expressed after the date of entry into force of an amendment to the Convention is deemed to apply to the Convention as amended⁶.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(3) MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT 1995/(viii) Carriage of Hazardous and Noxious Substances/I. SUPPLEMENTAL PROVISIONS/518. Amendment of the limits of liability.

518. Amendment of the limits of liability.

The special procedure in these provisions applies¹ solely for the purposes of amending the limits of liability² for compensation³.

Upon the request of at least one-half, but in no case less than six, of the states parties⁴, any proposal to amend those limits must be circulated by the Secretary General⁵ to all members of the Organisation⁶ and to all contracting states⁷.

Any amendment so proposed and circulated must be submitted to the Legal Committee of the Organisation (the 'Legal Committee') for consideration at a date at least six months after the date of its circulation⁸.

All contracting states, whether or not members of the Organisation, are entitled to participate in the proceedings of the Legal Committee for the consideration and adoption of amendments⁹.

Amendments must be adopted by a two-thirds' majority of the contracting states present and voting in the Legal Committee¹⁰ on condition that at least one-half of the contracting states must be present at the time of voting¹¹.

When acting on a proposal to amend the limits, the Legal Committee must take into account the experience of incidents¹² and, in particular, the amount of damage¹³ resulting therefrom, changes in the monetary values and the effect of the proposed amendment on the cost of insurance¹⁴. It must also take into account the relationship between the established¹⁵ limits¹⁶.

No amendment of the limits under these provisions may be considered less than five years from the date the Convention was opened for signature¹⁷ nor less than five years from the date of entry into force of a previous amendment under these provisions¹⁸.

No limit may be increased:

1028 (1) so as to exceed an amount which corresponds to a limit laid down in the Convention increased by 6 per cent per year calculated on a compound basis from the date on which the Convention was opened for signature¹⁹;

1029 (2) so as to exceed an amount which corresponds to a limit laid down in the Convention multiplied by three²⁰.

Any amendment adopted in accordance with the above provisions²¹ must be notified by the Organisation to all contracting states; the amendment is deemed to have been accepted at the end of a period of 18 months after the date of notification, unless within that period no less than one-fourth of the states which were contracting states at the time of the adoption of the amendment have communicated to the Secretary General that they do not accept the amendment, in which case the amendment is rejected and has no effect²². An amendment deemed to have been so accepted enters into force 18 months after its acceptance²³.

All contracting states are bound by the amendment, unless they denounce the Convention²⁴ at least six months before the amendment enters into force; and such denunciation takes effect when the amendment enters into force²⁵.

When an amendment has been adopted but the 18-month period for its acceptance has not yet expired, a state which becomes a contracting state during that period is bound by the amendment if it enters into force²⁶. A state which becomes a contracting state after that period is bound by an amendment which has been duly²⁷ accepted²⁸. In such cases²⁹ a state becomes bound by an amendment when that amendment enters into force, or when the Convention enters into force for that state, if later³⁰.

519. Denunciation.

The Convention¹ may be denounced by any state party² at any time after the date on which it enters into force for that state party³.

Denunciation must be effected by the deposit of an instrument of denunciation with the Secretary General⁴.

Denunciation takes effect 12 months, or such longer period as may be specified in the instrument of denunciation, after its deposit with the Secretary General⁵.

Notwithstanding such a denunciation by a state party, any provisions of the Convention relating to obligations to make contributions⁶ in respect of such payments of compensation as the Assembly⁷ may decide relating to an incident which occurs before the denunciation takes effect continue to apply⁸.

520. Extraordinary sessions of the Assembly.

Any state party¹ may, within 90 days after the deposit of an instrument of denunciation the result of which it considers will significantly increase the level of contributions from the remaining states parties, request the Director² to convene an extraordinary session of the Assembly³. The Director must convene the Assembly to meet not less than 60 days after receipt of the request⁴.

The Director may take the initiative to convene an extraordinary session of the Assembly to meet within 60 days after the deposit of any instrument of denunciation, if the Director considers that such denunciation will result in a significant increase in the level of contributions from the remaining states parties⁵.

If the Assembly, at an extraordinary session, convened in accordance with the above provisions⁶ decides that the denunciation will result in a significant increase in the level of contributions from the remaining states parties, any such state may, not later than 120 days before the date on which the denunciation takes effect, denounce the Convention⁷ with effect from the same date⁸.

521. Cessation of the Convention.

The Convention¹ ceases to be in force:

- 1030 (1) on the date when the number of states parties falls below six; or
- 1031 (2) 12 months after the date on which data concerning a previous calendar year were to be communicated to the Director², if the data show that the total quantity of contributing cargo³ to the general account⁴ received in the states parties⁵ in that preceding calendar year was less than 30 million tonnes⁶.

Notwithstanding head (2) above, if the total quantity of contributing cargo to the general account⁷ received in the states parties in the preceding calendar year was less than 30 million tonnes but more than 25 million tonnes, the Assembly⁸ may, if it considers that this was due to exceptional circumstances and is not likely to be repeated, decide before the expiry of the above-mentioned 12-month period that the Convention continue to be in force⁹. The Assembly may not, however, take such a decision in more than two subsequent years¹⁰.

States which are bound by the Convention on the day before the date it ceases to be in force must enable the HNS Fund¹¹ to exercise its functions¹² and remain, for that purpose only, bound by the Convention¹³.

522. Winding up of the HNS Fund.

If the Convention¹ ceases to be in force, the HNS Fund² nevertheless:

- 1032 (1) must meet its obligations in respect of any incident³ occurring before the Convention ceased to be in force; and
- 1033 (2) is entitled to exercise its rights to contributions to the extent that these contributions are necessary to meet the obligations under head (1) above, including expenses for the administration of the HNS Fund necessary for this purpose⁴.

The Assembly⁵ must take all appropriate measures to complete the winding up of the HNS Fund including the distribution in an equitable manner of any remaining assets among those persons⁶ who have contributed to the HNS Fund⁷.

For the purposes of the above provisions, the HNS Fund remains a legal person⁸.

523. Depositary.

The Convention¹ and any amendment duly adopted² must be deposited with the Secretary General³.

The Secretary General must:

1034 (1) inform all states which have signed the Convention or acceded thereto, and all members of the Organisation⁴, of:

123

- 67. (a) each new signature or deposit of an instrument of ratification, acceptance, approval or accession together with the date thereof;
- 68. (b) the date of entry into force of the Convention;
- 69. (c) any proposal to amend the limits on the amounts of compensation which has been made⁵;
- 70. (d) any amendment which has been adopted⁶;
- 71. (e) any amendment deemed to have been accepted⁷, together with the date on which that amendment enters into force⁸;
- 72. (f) the deposit of any instrument of denunciation of the Convention together with the date on which it is received and the date on which the denunciation takes effect; and
- 73. (g) any communication called for by any provision in the Convention; and

1035 (2) transmit certified true copies of the Convention to all states which have signed the Convention or acceded thereto⁹.

As soon as the Convention enters into force, a certified true copy thereof must be transmitted¹⁰ by the depositary to the Secretary General of the United Nations¹¹.

(i) Licensing

A. REQUIREMENTS OF LICENCES

525. Deposit of substances and articles in the sea etc.

A licence¹ is needed²:

1036 (1) for the deposit of substances or articles within United Kingdom waters³ or United Kingdom controlled waters⁴, either in the sea⁵ or under the sea bed:

125

- 74. (a) from a vehicle, vessel⁶, aircraft, hovercraft or marine structure⁷;
- 75. (b) from a container floating in the sea; or
- 76. (c) from a structure on land constructed or adapted wholly or mainly for the purpose of depositing solids in the sea;

126

1037 (2) for the deposit of substances or articles anywhere in the sea or under the sea bed:

127

- 77. (a) from a British vessel⁸, British aircraft⁹, British hovercraft¹⁰ or British marine structure¹¹; or
- 78. (b) from a container floating in the sea, if the deposit is controlled from a British vessel, British aircraft, British hovercraft or British marine structure;

1038 (3) for the scuttling of vessels:

129

- 79. (a) in United Kingdom waters or United Kingdom controlled waters; or
- 80. (b) anywhere at sea, if the scuttling is controlled from a British vessel, British aircraft, British hovercraft or British marine structure; or

1039 (4) for the loading of a vessel, aircraft, hovercraft, marine structure or floating container in the United Kingdom or United Kingdom waters with substances or articles for deposit anywhere in the sea or under the sea bed;

1040 (5) for the loading of a vehicle in the United Kingdom with substances or articles for deposit from that vehicle as mentioned in head (1) above; and 1041 (6) for the towing or propelling from the United Kingdom or United Kingdom waters of a vessel for scuttling anywhere at sea¹².

¹ For these purposes, 'licence' means a licence under the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 Pt II (ss 5-15) (see also PARA 526 et seq): s 24(1).

² ie subject to the provisions of the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 ss 6-15: see PARA 526 et seq.

note 5. As to the extent of the territorial sea (or waters) of the United Kingdom see the Territorial Sea Act 1987 s 1; INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS LAW vol 61 (2010) PARA 124; and WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 100 (2009) PARA 31.

In relation to marine areas where the United Kingdom has jurisdiction beyond its territorial sea, any competent authority having functions relevant to marine conservation under the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 Pt 2 (ss 5-15) must exercise those functions so as to secure compliance with the requirements of EEC Council Directive 79/409 (OJ L103, 25.4.79, p 1) on the conservation of wild birds and EEC Council Directive 92/43 (OJ L206, 22.7.92, p 7) on the conservation of natural habitats and of wild flora and fauna (see PARA 54): see the Offshore Marine Conservation (Natural Habitats etc) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1842, reg 6.

4 For these purposes, 'United Kingdom controlled waters' means any part of the sea within the limits of an area designated under the Continental Shelf Act 1964 s 1(7) (see INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS LAW vol 61 (2010) PARA 172): Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 24(1) (definition amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 146(1), (7)).

5 For these purposes, 'sea' includes any area submerged at mean high water springs and also includes, so far as the tide flows at mean high water springs, an estuary or arm of the sea and the waters of any channel, creek, bay or river: Food and Environment Protection Act 1990 s 24(1).

6 For these purposes, 'vessel' has the meaning assigned to 'ship' by the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 229): Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 24(1) (definition amended by the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 Sch 13 para 75(b)).

7 For these purposes, 'marine structure' means a platform or other man-made structure at sea, other than a pipe-line: Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 24(1).

8 For these purposes, 'British vessel' means a vessel registered in the United Kingdom or a vessel exempted from such registration under the Merchant Shipping Act 1995: Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 24(1) (definition amended by the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 Sch 13 para 75(a)). As to registration of ships see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 254.

9 For these purposes, 'British aircraft' means an aircraft registered in the United Kingdom: Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 24(1).

10 For these purposes, 'British hovercraft' means a hovercraft registered in the United Kingdom: Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 24(1).

11 For these purposes, 'British marine structure' means a marine structure owned by or leased to an individual residing in or a body corporate incorporated under the law of any part of the United Kingdom: Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 24(1).

12 Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 5 (amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 146(1), (2), Sch 16 Pt VIII; and the Statute Law (Repeals) Act 1993 Sch 1 Pt II). As from a day to be appointed, the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 5 is further amended by the replacement of references to the United Kingdom and United Kingdom waters by references to Scotland and/or 'the Scottish inshore region' and a number of paragraphs are removed (see s 5(b), (e)(ii)): s 5 (prospectively amended by the Marine and Coastal Access Act 2009 Sch 8 Pt 1 para 2, Sch 22 Pt 2). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

As to the duty of each licensing authority to maintain registers of licences issued by them see PARA 551 et seq.

As to the application of the Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010, SI 2010/490, regs 61, 62 ('the assessment provisions') to the granting of a licence, consent or other approval for marine works (the latter expression including any activity requiring a licence under the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 Pt II (ss 5-15)), see the Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010, SI 2010/490, reg 100; and OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE.

B. EXEMPTIONS

527. Power to make exemptions.

A licensing authority¹ may jointly by order made by statutory instrument specify operations which are not to need a licence² or which are not to need a licence if they satisfy conditions specified in the order³.

The conditions that such an order may specify include conditions enabling a licensing authority to require a person to obtain the authority's approval before he does anything for which a licence would be needed but for the order⁴. Such approval may be without conditions or subject to such conditions as the authority considers appropriate⁵.

A licensing authority (1) must consult the Food Standards Agency⁶ as to any order the authority contemplates making⁷; and (2) must from time to time consult that Agency as to the general approach to be taken by the authority in relation to the granting of approvals and the imposition of conditions⁸ (including the identification of circumstances in which it may be desirable for the Agency to be consulted in relation to particular cases)⁹.

A statutory instrument containing an order under the above provisions is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament¹⁰.

1 For these purposes, 'licensing authority' means in relation to England and Wales whichever of the Ministers is responsible for fisheries in the place where an operation to which a licence would relate would be carried out or commenced: Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 24(1) (definition substituted by SI 1999/1756). For these purposes, the 'Ministers' means the Minister of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food (no longer in existence: see PARA 58 note 1) and the Secretary of State: Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 24(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

2 As to the meaning of 'licence' see PARA 525 note 1.

3 Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 7(1). In exercise of the power so conferred the Minister of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food and the Secretary of State (but see also note 1), acting jointly, made the Deposits in the Sea (Exemptions) Order 1985, SI 1985/1699 (amended by SI 1994/1056; SI 2002/1355; SI 2005/2055; SI 2007/3538; and SI 2010/304) (see PARAS 528-530) which came into operation on 1 January 1986 (Deposits in the Sea (Exemptions) Order 1985, SI 1985/1699, art 1(1)) but does not apply to Northern Ireland or to United Kingdom waters adjacent to Northern Ireland (art 2). As to the making of orders see PARA 570.

Nothing in the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 Pt II (ss 5-15) applies to anything done (1) for the purpose of constructing or maintaining a pipeline as respects any part of which an authorisation (within the meaning of the Petroleum Act 1998 Pt III (ss 14-28) (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1740 et seq) is in force; or (2) for the purpose of establishing or maintaining an offshore installation within the meaning of Pt IV (ss 29-45) (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1729 et seq): Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 7A(1) (s 7A added by the Petroleum Act 1998 Sch 4 para 20, and the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 7A(1) renumbered as such and s 7A(2)-(5) added by the Energy Act 2008 Sch 1 paras 1, 2(b)). Nothing in the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 Pt II applies to anything done in the course of carrying on an activity for which a licence under the Energy Act 2008 s 4 or s 8 (gas unloading, storage and recovery, and carbon dioxide storage) (see FUEL AND ENERGY) is required: Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 7A(2) (as so added). For this purpose, activities are to be regarded as activities for which such a licence is required if, by virtue of such a licence, they are activities which may be carried on only with the consent of the Secretary of State or another person: s 7A(3) (as so added). Section 7A(2) does not apply in relation to anything done in the course of carrying out an activity for which a licence the Energy Act 2008 s 4 is required in, under or over (a) the territorial sea adjacent to Scotland, Wales or Northern Ireland; or (b) waters in a Gas Importation and Storage Zone which are United Kingdom controlled waters adjacent to Scotland: Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 7A(4) (as so added). Section 7A(2) does not apply in relation to anything done in, under or over the territorial sea adjacent to Wales or Northern Ireland in the course of carrying on an activity for which a licence under the Energy Act 2008 s 18 (see FUEL AND ENERGY) is required: Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 7A(5) (as so added). As from a day to be appointed, s 7A is further amended by the replacement of s 7A(4)(a), (b) by a reference to 'the Scottish inshore region' and the removal of s 7A(5): s 7A (prospectively amended by the Marine and Coastal Access Act 2009 Sch 8 Pt 1 para 2, Sch 22 Pt 2). UPDATE

NOTE 1--Definition of 'licensing authority' in Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 24(1) amended: Marine and Coastal Access Act 2009 Sch 8 para 2(9), Sch 22 Pt 2 (not yet in force).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/8. SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(4) DEPOSITS IN THE SEA/(i) Licensing/B. EXEMPTIONS/528. Exempt operations.

528. Exempt operations.

A licence¹ is not needed:

- 1044 (1) for an operation specified in heads (a) to (z) below which satisfies the conditions, if any, specified therein in relation to the operation; or
- 1045 (2) for the loading of a vehicle, vessel, aircraft, hovercraft, marine structure or floating container in the United Kingdom or United Kingdom waters with substances or articles for deposit in the sea or under the sea bed in the course of an operation specified in heads (a) to (z) below which satisfies the conditions, if any, specified therein².

The operations not needing a licence are:

- 1046 (a) the deposit from a vessel, hovercraft or marine structure of sewage originating on the vessel, hovercraft or marine structure³;
- 1047 (b) the deposit from, or incineration on, a vessel, hovercraft or marine structure of garbage⁴ originating in or on the vessel, hovercraft or marine structure⁵;
- 1048 (c) the deposit from a vessel of cooling water and of ballast water, tank washings or other residues resulting from tank cleaning or tank ballasting after carriage of any substance other than a substance deposited or incinerated in pursuance of a licence⁶;
- 1049 (d) the deposit from a vessel or marine structure of any oil or mixture containing oil in such manner or in such circumstances as to constitute a discharge of a specified kind⁷;
- 1050 (e) the deposit of cable and associated equipment (otherwise than for the purpose of disposal) in the course of cable laying or cable maintenance, other than the deposit (in the coursing of its laying) of a cable transmitting a charge of 132 kilovolts or more, and associated equipment, for the purpose of transmitting electricity from a generating station constructed on the sea bed⁸;
- 1051 (f) the deposit of any substances from a vessel, vehicle, aircraft, hovercraft or marine structure for the purpose of fighting any fire or preventing the spread of any fire⁹;
- 1052 (g) the deposit of fishing gear, whether fixed or not, otherwise than for the purpose of disposal¹⁰;
- 1053 (h) the deposit, by way of return to the sea, of fish or shellfish or parts thereof in the course of fishing operations or fish processing at sea¹¹;
- 1054 (i) the deposit, by way of return to the sea, by a fishing vessel of any article, other than a fish or shellfish, taken from the sea by the vessel in the course of normal fishing operations¹²;
- 1055 (j) the deposit of any substance or article, otherwise than for the purpose of disposal, in the course of, for the purpose of, or in connection with, the propagation or cultivation of fish or shellfish¹³;

- 1056 (k) the deposit, by way of return to the sea, of any substance or article dredged from the sea bed in connection with the propagation or cultivation of shellfish¹⁴;
- 1057 (l) the deposit from a vessel, hovercraft or marine structure of any substance or article, other than bulky waste, in the course of the normal navigation or maintenance thereof¹⁵;
- 1058 (m) the deposit of any substance or article, otherwise than for the purpose of disposal, in the course of salvage operations¹⁶;
- 1059 (n) the deposit on the site of drilling for, or production of, oil or gas or any drill cuttings or drilling muds in the course of such drilling or production¹⁷;
- 1060 (o) the deposit under the sea bed on the site of drilling for, or production of, oil or gas of any substance or article in the course of such drilling or operation¹⁸;
- 1061 (p) the deposit for which a permit is required under the Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002¹⁹, or for which a permit would be required under those Regulations²⁰;
- 1062 (q) the incineration of hydrocarbons resulting from the exploration for, or production of, oil or gas²¹;
- 1063 (r) the deposit on the site of dredging for aggregates or other minerals of any substance or article taken from the sea in the course of such dredging²²;
- 1064 (s) the deposit in the normal course of operation of a dredging vessel of waters overflowing from the hold of the vessel²³;
- 1065 (t) the deposit of any article in connection with the provision of moorings or aids to navigation by a harbour authority or lighthouse authority or by any other person, if the consent of a harbour authority or lighthouse authority is required²⁴;
- 1066 (u) the deposit of any article or substance in the maintenance of harbour, coast protection, other than beach replenishment, drainage or flood control works, if made on the site of the works²⁵;
- 1067 (v) the deposit for the purpose of treating oil on the surface of the sea of any substance produced for that purpose subject to the conditions that the substance is a substance the use of which is for the time being approved by the licensing authority, that the substance is used in accordance with any conditions to which the approval was subject and that no deposit is made in an area of the sea of a depth of less than 20 metres or within one mile of any such area save with the approval of the licensing authority²⁶;
- 1068 (w) the deposit of any equipment for the purpose of controlling, containing or recovering oil, mixtures containing oil, flotsam or algal blooms on or near to the surface of the sea²⁷;
- 1069 (x) the deposit of any scientific instrument or associated equipment, otherwise than for the purpose of disposal, in connection with scientific experiment or survey²⁸;
- 1070 (y) the launching of vessels or marine structures²⁹;
- 1071 (z) the deposit under the sea bed of any substance or article, otherwise than for the purpose of disposal, in connection with the construction or operation of a bored tunnel subject to the conditions that notice of intention to construct the tunnel is first given to the licensing authority, and that the approval of the licensing authority is first obtained to the doing of anything which might disturb the marine environment or the living resources which it supports³⁰.

1 For these purposes, 'licence' means a licence under the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 Pt II (ss 5-15) (see PARAS 525-527, 531 et seq): Deposits in the Sea (Exemptions) Order 1985, SI 1985/1699, art 1(2).

2 Deposits in the Sea (Exemptions) Order 1985, SI 1985/1699, art 3 (amended by SI 1994/1056). The Deposits in the Sea (Exemptions) Order 1985, SI 1985/1699, art 3 is subject to art 4 (see PARA 529): art 3 (as so amended).

- 3 Deposits in the Sea (Exemptions) Order 1985, SI 1985/1699, art 3, Schedule para 1.

529. Exemptions involving waste.

The provisions relating to exempt operations¹ apply to an establishment or undertaking in relation to an exempt operation² involving the recovery³ or disposal⁴ of waste⁵ if:

- 1072 (1) it is carrying out its own waste disposal at the place of production or waste recovery; and
- 1073 (2) the type and quantity of waste involved, and the method of disposal or recovery, are consistent with the need to attain the objective of ensuring that waste is recovered or disposed of without endangering human health and without using processes or methods which could harm the environment and in particular without risk to water, air, soil, plants or animals or causing nuisance through noise or odours or adversely affecting the countryside or places of special interest⁶.

2 le an operation specified in the Deposits in the Sea (Exemptions) Order 1985, SI 1985/1699, art 3, Schedule: see PARA 528 heads (a)-(z).

3 For these purposes, 'recovery' has the meaning given by the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538 (see PARA 663 note 1): Deposits in the Sea (Exemptions) Order 1985, SI 1985/1699, art 4(2) (art 4 added by SI 1994/1056; and the Deposits in the Sea (Exemptions) Order 1985, SI 1985/1699, art 2 amended by SI 2007/3538).

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(4) DEPOSITS IN THE SEA/(i) Licensing/B. EXEMPTIONS/530. Registration of establishments and undertakings carrying on exempt operations.

530. Registration of establishments and undertakings carrying on exempt operations.

It is an offence for an establishment or undertaking to carry on, after 31 December 1994, an exempt activity¹ without being registered with the licensing authority²; and a person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 2 on the standard scale³.

It is the duty of each licensing authority to establish and maintain a register for the above purposes of establishments and undertakings carrying on exempt activities in the area for which it is the licensing authority⁴.

The register must contain the following particulars in relation to each such establishment or undertaking:

- 1074 (1) the name and address of the establishment or undertaking;
- 1075 (2) the activity which constitutes the exempt activity; and
- 1076 (3) the place where the activity is carried on⁵.

The licensing authority must enter those particulars in the register in relation to an establishment or undertaking if it receives notice of them in writing or otherwise becomes aware of those particulars⁶.

Each licensing authority must secure that any register maintained by the authority under the above provisions is available, at all reasonable times, for inspection by the public free of charge and must afford to members of the public facilities for obtaining copies of entries, on payment of reasonable charges⁷.

Registers under the above provisions may be kept in any form⁸.

1 For these purposes, 'exempt activity' means any operation specified in the Deposits in the Sea (Exemptions) Order 1985, SI 1985/1699, art 3, Schedule (see PARA 528 heads (a)-(z)): art 5(8) (art 5 added by SI 1994/1056).

C. ISSUE ETC OF LICENCES

531. Issue of licences.

In determining whether to issue a licence¹, a licensing authority²:

- 1077 (1) must have regard to the need to protect the marine environment, the living resources which it supports and human health and to prevent interference with legitimate uses of the sea³; and
- 1078 (2) may have regard to such other matters as the authority considers relevant⁴.

Where it appears to a licensing authority that an applicant for a licence has applied for the licence with a view to the disposal of the substances or articles to which it would relate, the authority, in determining whether to issue a licence, must have regard⁵ to the practical availability of any alternative methods of dealing with them⁶.

A licensing authority:

- 1079 (a) must include such provisions in a licence as appear to the authority to be necessary or expedient to protect the marine environment, the living resources which it supports and human health and to prevent interference with legitimate uses of the sea; and
- 1080 (b) may include in a licence such other provisions as the authority considers appropriate⁷.

A licensing authority may include⁸:

- 1081 (i) in any licence provisions requiring that no operation authorised by the licence be carried out until the licensing authority has given such further consent to or approval of the operation as the licence may specify and that automatic equipment be used for recording such information relating to any operation of deposit, scuttling or incineration mentioned in the licence as the licensing authority may specify; and
- 1082 (ii) in a licence which only authorises specified operations⁹ provisions requiring that any operation of deposit, scuttling or incineration which is mentioned in it take place at a specified site, whether in United Kingdom waters¹⁰ or not¹¹.

A licensing authority may require an applicant for a licence to supply such information and permit such examination and tests as in the opinion of the authority may be necessary or expedient to enable the authority to decide whether a licence should be issued to the applicant and the provisions which any licence that is issued to him ought to contain¹².

The matters to which a licensing authority is to have regard in exercising powers under the above provisions¹³ include any advice or information given to that authority by the Food Standards Agency (whether of a general nature or in relation to the exercise of a power in a particular case)¹⁴. A licensing authority must from time to time consult the Food Standards Agency as to the general manner in which the authority proposes to exercise these powers in cases involving any matter which may affect food safety or other interests of consumers in relation to food (including the identification of circumstances in which it may be desirable for the Agency to be consulted in relation to particular cases)¹⁵.

532. Fees.

A licensing authority¹ may require an applicant for a licence², on making his application, to pay a reasonable fee in respect of the administrative expenses of processing his application³.

A licensing authority may also require an applicant for a licence to pay a further reasonable fee towards the expense:

- 1083 (1) of carrying out any examination and tests which in the opinion of the authority are necessary or expedient to enable the authority to decide whether to issue a licence to the applicant and the provisions which any licence issued to him ought to include;
- 1084 (2) of checking the manner in which operations for which a licence is needed have been or are being conducted; and
- 1085 (3) of monitoring the effect of such operations⁴.

Such fees must be determined on principles settled by the Ministers⁵ with the consent of the Treasury and after consultation with organisations appearing to the Ministers to represent persons who are likely to apply for licences⁶.

533. Variation or revocation of licences.

A licensing authority¹ may vary or revoke a licence² which the authority has issued if it appears to the authority:

- 1086 (1) that there has been a breach of any of its provisions³;
- 1087 (2) that the licence ought to be varied or revoked:

83. (a) because of a change in circumstances relating to the marine environment, the living resources which it supports or human health;

84. (b) because of increased scientific knowledge relating to any of those matters; or

85. (c) for any other reason that appears to the authority to be relevant⁴.

534. Representations.

If, within 28 days of the issue of a licence¹, the person to whom it is issued requests the licensing authority² to give him notice in writing of the reasons for the inclusion of any provision in it, the authority must comply with his request within 28 days of receiving it³.

If a licensing authority refuses an application for a licence, the authority must give the applicant notice in writing of the reasons for the refusal⁴.

If a licensing authority varies or revokes a licence without the holder's consent, the authority must give the holder notice in writing of the reasons for the variation or revocation⁵.

If, within 28 days of receipt of any such notice giving a licensing authority's reasons, the person to whom it is given makes written representations to the authority concerning the matter to which the notice related, the authority must constitute a committee to consider his representations⁶.

Each licensing authority must draw up and from time to time revise a panel of persons who are specially qualified in the authority's opinion to be members of committees so constituted; and any committee constituted by an authority must be drawn from members of the authority's panel⁷.

If a licensing authority constitutes a committee, the authority must appoint one of the members of the committee to be its chairman⁸.

It is the duty of the chairman:

- 1088 (1) to serve on the person who made the representations a notice requiring him to state within 14 days of receipt of the notice whether he wishes to make oral representations to the committee; and
- 1089 (2) to serve on him, not earlier than the date of the notice under head (1) above, notice of the place, date and time of the meeting of the committee⁹.

A notice under head (2) above must not specify a date for the meeting of the committee earlier than 21 days from the date of the notice, unless the person who made the representations has agreed to an earlier meeting¹⁰.

If he expresses a wish to make oral representations, the committee must afford him an opportunity to do so, either in person or by any person authorised by him in that behalf¹¹.

The committee must consider:

- 1090 (a) the reasons given by the authority under these provisions; and
- 1091 (b) any representations made;

and must make a report to the licensing authority after the close of its consideration, giving its findings of fact and its recommendations; and the licensing authority must reconsider the decision of the authority to which the representations relate in the light of the report¹².

The licensing authority must notify the person who made the representations of the result of the authority's reconsideration and the reasons for it and must send him a copy of the committee's report¹³.

A licensing authority may pay to a person who makes representations such sum as the authority considers appropriate in respect of costs or expenses incurred by that person in connection with the making of the representations and of any hearing relating to them by a committee¹⁴; but no payment must be made in a case where the result of the reconsideration is that the authority confirms the original decision without modification¹⁵.

A licensing authority may make arrangements for securing that such of the authority's officers as the authority considers are required are available to assist a committee constituted by the authority under the above provisions¹⁶.

A licensing authority may pay such fees and allowances for members of such committees and such other expenses of such committees as the authority may with the consent of the Treasury determine¹⁷.

(ii) Offences relating to Licensing System etc

535. Doing or causing or permitting anything to be done except in pursuance of a licence.

A person who:

- 1092 (1) except in pursuance of a licence¹ and in accordance with its provisions, does anything for which a licence is needed; or
- 1093 (2) causes or permits any other person to do any such thing except in pursuance of a licence and in accordance with its provisions, is guilty of an offence and liable to imprisonment, a fine or both².

It is a defence for a person charged with an offence under head (1) or (2) above in relation to any operation to prove:

- 1094 (a) that the operation was carried out for the purpose of securing the safety of a vessel³, aircraft, hovercraft or marine structure⁴ or of saving life; and
- 1095 (b) that he took steps within a reasonable time to inform one or other of the Ministers⁵ of the operation, of the locality and circumstances in which it took place and of any substances or articles concerned⁶.

A person does not have the above defence if the court is satisfied:

- 1096 (i) that the operation was not necessary for any purpose mentioned in head (a) above and was not a reasonable step to take in the circumstances; or
- 1097 (ii) that it was necessary for one of those purposes but the necessity was due to the fault of the defendant⁷.

It is a defence for a person charged with an offence under head (1) or (2) above in relation to any operation which is a specified operation⁸ and which was carried out outside United Kingdom controlled waters⁹, and not within United Kingdom waters¹⁰, to prove that the following provisions¹¹ are satisfied in respect of that operation:

- 1098 (A) in respect of the deposit of substances or articles anywhere in the sea or under the sea bed¹², if the vessel, aircraft, hovercraft, marine structure or container, as the case may be, was loaded in a Convention state¹³ or the national or territorial waters of a Convention state with the substances or articles deposited; or
- 1099 (B) in respect of the scuttling of vessels anywhere at sea¹⁴, if the vessel scuttled was towed or propelled from a Convention state or the national or territorial waters of a Convention state to the place where the scuttling was carried out; or
- 1100 (C) in respect of the incineration of substances or articles on a vessel or marine structure anywhere at sea¹⁵, if the vessel or marine structure on which the incineration¹⁶ took place was loaded in a Convention state or the national or territorial waters of a Convention state with the substances or articles incinerated¹⁷; and 1101 (D) in respect of an operation, if the operation took place in pursuance of a licence issued by the responsible authority in the Convention state concerned and in accordance with the provisions of that licence¹⁸.

Proceedings for such an offence may be taken, and the offence may for all incidental purposes be treated as having been committed, in any place in the United Kingdom¹⁹.

536. False or reckless statements or failure to disclose material particulars.

A person who, for the purpose of procuring the issue of a licence¹, or in purporting to carry out any duty imposed on him by the provisions of a licence:

- 1102 (1) makes a statement which he knows to be false in a material particular;
- 1103 (2) recklessly makes a statement which is false in a material particular; or
- 1104 (3) intentionally fails to disclose any material particular, is guilty of an offence and liable to a fine².

Proceedings for such an offence may be taken, and the offence may for all incidental purposes be treated as having been committed, in any place in the United Kingdom³.

537. Offences by bodies corporate.

Where an offence under the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 which has been committed by a body corporate is proved to have been committed with the consent or connivance of, or to be attributable to any neglect on the part of, a director, manager, secretary or other similar officer of the body corporate, or any person who was purporting to act in any such capacity, he as well as the body corporate is guilty of that offence and liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly¹.

Where the affairs of a body corporate are managed by its members, the above provisions apply in relation to the acts and defaults of a member in connection with his functions of management as if he were a director of the body corporate².

538. General defence of due diligence.

In any proceedings for an offence under the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 it is a defence for the person charged to prove that he took all reasonable precautions and exercised all due diligence to avoid the commission of the offence¹.

A person is to be taken² to have established the defence provided by the above provisions if he proves:

- 1105 (1) that he acted under instructions given to him by his employer; or
- 1106 (2) that he acted in reliance on information supplied by another person without any reason to suppose that the information was false or misleading, and, in either case, that he took all such steps as were reasonably open to him to ensure that no offence would be committed³.

If in any case the defence so provided involves an allegation that the commission of the offence was due to an act or omission by another person, other than the giving of instructions to the person charged with the offence by his employer, or to reliance on information supplied by another person, the person charged is not entitled, without the leave of the court, to rely on that defence unless, within a period ending seven clear days before the hearing, he has served on the prosecutor a notice giving such information identifying or assisting in the identification of that other person as was then in his possession⁴.

539. Power to take remedial action.

A licensing authority¹ may carry out any operation which appears to him to be necessary or expedient for the purpose of protecting the marine environment, the living resources which it supports and human health, or of preventing interference with legitimate use of the sea², in any case where anything for which a licence³ is needed appears to have been carried out otherwise than in pursuance of a licence and in accordance with its provisions⁴.

If a licensing authority carries out such an operation, he may recover any expenses reasonably incurred by him in carrying it out from any person who has been convicted of an offence in consequence of the act or omission which made it appear to the licensing authority to be necessary or expedient to carry out the operation⁵.

540. Powers of officers; use of force.

A licensing authority¹ may authorise any person, subject to such limitations as may be specified in the instrument authorising him, to enforce the statutory provisions² relating to deposits in the sea³.

A person so authorised may enter:

- 1107 (1) land and vehicles in the United Kingdom;
- 1108 (2) foreign vessels⁴, foreign aircraft, foreign hovercraft and foreign marine structures⁵ in the United Kingdom or within United Kingdom waters⁶ or United Kingdom controlled waters⁷;
- 1109 (3) British vessels⁸, British aircraft⁹, British hovercraft¹⁰ and British marine structures¹¹, wherever they may be,

if he has reasonable grounds for believing that any substances or articles intended to be deposited in the sea¹² or under the sea bed or incinerated on a vessel or marine structure at sea are or have been present there¹³.

A person so authorised may board any vessel within United Kingdom waters or United Kingdom controlled waters and any British vessel wherever it may be, if it appears to him that it is intended to be scuttled¹⁴.

A person so authorised must not enter premises used only as a dwelling for the purposes of enforcement¹⁵.

An officer¹⁶ may use reasonable force, if necessary, in the performance of his functions¹⁷.

542. Power to question.

In order to perform his functions¹, an officer² may require a person whom he has reasonable cause to believe is able to give information which will assist him in carrying out those functions to answer such questions as the officer thinks it appropriate to ask³, and to sign a declaration of the truth of his answers⁴. The person questioned may nominate a person to be with him when he gives his answers⁵, and only that person⁶ and a person authorised by the officer⁷ may be present when the answers are given. A person cannot refuse to answer such questions on the ground that he or his spouse or his civil partner might be incriminated of an offence, but a statement or admission so made is not admissible in evidence against them in proceedings for any offence⁸.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(4) DEPOSITS IN THE SEA/(iii) Enforcement/A. OFFICERS AND THEIR POWERS/543. Powers in relation to vessels, aircraft etc.

543. Powers in relation to vessels, aircraft etc.

In order to perform his functions, an officer¹ may require any person:

- 1110 (1) to give details of any substances or articles on board a vessel², aircraft, hovercraft or marine structure³; and
- 1111 (2) to give information concerning any substances or articles lost from a vessel, aircraft, hovercraft or marine structure⁴.

In order to perform any such functions, an officer:

- 1112 (a) may require any vessel, aircraft, hovercraft or marine structure to stop; and
- 1113 (b) may require the attendance of the master⁵, captain⁶ or commander⁷ of a vessel, aircraft or hovercraft, of the person in charge of a marine structure and of any other person who is on board a vessel, aircraft, hovercraft or marine structure; and may require any person on board to assist him in the performance of his functions⁸.

In order to perform his functions, an officer may:

- 1114 (i) require the master, captain or commander of a vessel, aircraft or hovercraft and the person in charge of a marine structure to take it and its crew to the port which appears to the officer to be the nearest convenient port or may take it there himself⁹;
- 1115 (ii) detain a vessel, aircraft, hovercraft or marine structure¹⁰.

If an officer detains a vessel, aircraft, hovercraft or marine structure, he must serve on the master, captain or person in charge a notice in writing stating that it is to be detained until the notice is withdrawn by the service on him of a further notice in writing signed by an officer¹¹.

544. Containers etc.

In order to perform his functions, an officer¹ may:

- 1116 (1) open any container;
- 1117 (2) carry out searches, inspections, measurements and tests;
- 1118 (3) take samples;
- 1119 (4) require the production of documents, books and records; and
- 1120 (5) photograph or copy anything whose production he has power to require under head (4) above².

An officer exercising any power of entry conferred by Part III of the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985³ may photograph anything which he has reasonable cause to believe may be relevant in connection with the exercise of his functions⁴.

545. Evidence of officer's authority.

An officer¹ must be furnished with a certificate of his authorisation²; and, when he proposes to perform any function, it is his duty, if so requested, to produce that certificate³.

It is also his duty, if so requested, to state:

- 1121 (1) his name;
- 1122 (2) the function that he proposes to perform; and
- 1123 (3) his grounds for proposing to perform it⁴.

547. Entry into dwellings.

An officer¹ may only enter a dwelling for the purpose of performing his functions if a justice of the peace has issued a warrant authorising him to enter and search that dwelling².

A justice may only issue such a warrant if, on an application made by the officer, he is satisfied:

1124 (1) that the officer has reasonable grounds for believing that there is present in the dwelling anything to which those functions relate; and 1125 (2) that:

86. (a) it is not practicable to communicate with any person entitled to grant entry to the dwelling; or

87. (b) a person entitled to grant entry to the dwelling has unreasonably refused an officer entry; or

88. (c) entry to the dwelling is unlikely to be granted unless a warrant is produced; or

89. (d) the purpose of entry may be frustrated or seriously prejudiced unless an officer arriving at the dwelling can secure immediate entry to it³.

B. ENFORCEMENT OF CONVENTIONS

550. In general.

A licensing authority¹ may jointly by order made by statutory instrument:

- 1129 (1) declare that any procedure which has been developed for the effective application of the London Convention² or the Oslo Convention³ and is specified in the order is an agreed procedure as between Her Majesty's government in the United Kingdom and the government of any Convention state⁴ so specified; and
- 1130 (2) specify any of the powers conferred by the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 for the purpose of enforcing Part II of that Act⁵ as a power that may be exercised, by such persons, in such circumstances and subject to such conditions or modifications as may be specified, for the purpose of enforcing that procedure⁶.

A person who exercises any powers by virtue of such an order has the same rights and liabilities in relation their exercise that a person authorised under the enforcement provisions⁷ would have in relation to the exercise of any powers for the purpose of enforcing Part II of the 1985 Act⁸.

A statutory instrument containing such an order is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament⁹.

SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(4) DEPOSITS IN THE SEA/(iv) Public Registers/551. Duty of licensing authority to keep public registers of information.

(iv) Public Registers

551. Duty of licensing authority to keep public registers of information.

It is the duty of each licensing authority¹, as respects licences² for which it is the licensing authority, to maintain, in accordance with regulations, a register containing prescribed³ particulars of or relating to:

- 1131 (1) applications for licences made to that authority;
- 1132 (2) the licences issued by that authority;
- 1133 (3) variations of licences effected by that authority;
- 1134 (4) revocations of licences effected by that authority;
- 1135 (5) convictions for offences⁴;
- 1136 (6) information obtained or furnished⁵;
- 1137 (7) the occasions on which either of the Ministers⁶ has carried out any remedial action⁷;
- 1138 (8) such other matters relating to operations for which licences are needed as may be prescribed⁸.

No information must be included in any register which, in the opinion of either of the Ministers, is such that its disclosure on the register:

- 1139 (a) would be contrary to the interests of national security; or
- 1140 (b) would prejudice to an unreasonable degree some person's commercial interests⁹.

Information excluded from a register by virtue of head (b) above is treated as ceasing to prejudice a person's commercial interests at the expiry of the period of four years beginning with the date on which the Minister made his decision; but, on the application of any person to whom it relates, the Minister must decide whether the information should be included or continue to be excluded from the register¹⁰.

Where information of any description is excluded from a register by virtue of head (b) above, a statement must be entered in the register indicating the existence of information of that description¹¹.

It is the duty of each licensing authority:

- 1141 (i) to secure that the register maintained by the authority is available, at all reasonable times, for inspection by the public free of charge; and
- 1142 (ii) to afford to members of the public facilities for obtaining copies of entries, on payment of reasonable charges¹².

Registers under the above provisions may be kept in any form¹³.

Either of the Ministers may exercise any power to make regulations under the above provisions and any such power is exercisable by statutory instrument, subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament¹⁴.

568. Application to the Crown.

A person authorised to enforce Part II of the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985¹ may perform any functions under that Act in relation to land in which there is a Crown interest².

Such a person must not, however, perform any functions in relation to land in which there is no interest other than a Crown interest or a Duchy interest³ or in relation to land which is exclusively in Crown occupation⁴.

1 le the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 Pt II (ss 5-15): see PARA 525 et seq.

2 Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 20(2), (4)(c). For these purposes, 'Crown interest' means any interest belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Crown or belonging to a government department or held in trust for Her Majesty for the purposes of a government department: s 20(5).

3 For these purposes, 'Duchy interest' means an interest belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Duchy of Lancaster, or belonging to the Duchy of Cornwall: Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 20(5).

4 Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 20(3). For these purposes, 'Crown occupation' means occupation by Her Majesty in right of the Crown or occupation by a government department: s 20(5).

C. FINANCIAL PROVISIONS

569. Financial provisions.

There must be paid out of money provided by Parliament all sums required for the purpose of making payments on behalf of Her Majesty's government in the United Kingdom to the international organisations¹.

Any expenses of a Minister of the Crown or government department incurred in consequence of the provisions of the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 must also be paid out of money provided by Parliament².

Any receipts of a Minister of the Crown or government department under the 1985 Act must be paid into the Consolidated Fund³.

1 Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 23(1). As to the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 2. For these purposes, 'international organisation' means any organisation established in pursuance of the Convention for the Prevention of Marine Pollution by the Dumping of Wastes and Other Matter 1972 (London, Mexico City, Moscow and Washington, 29 December 1972 to 31 December 1973; TS 43 (1976); Cmnd 6486) art XIV or the International Convention for the Prevention of Marine Pollution by Dumping from Ships and Aircraft (Oslo, 15 February 1972; TS 119 (1975); Cmnd 6228) art 16: Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 24(1).

D. POWER TO MAKE ORDERS ETC

570. Orders and regulations.

Any power conferred by the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 to make orders or regulations may be exercised:

1247 (1) either in relation to all cases to which the power extends, or in relation to all those cases subjected to specified exceptions, or in relation to any specified cases or classes of case; and

1248 (2) so as to make, as respects the cases in relation to which it is exercised:

90. (a) the full provision to which the power extends or any less provision, whether by way of exception or otherwise;

91. (b) the same provision for all cases in relation to which the power is exercised, or different provision for different cases or different classes of case, or different provision as respects the same case or class of case for different purposes of the 1985 Act;

92. (c) any such provision either unconditionally, or subject to any specified condition, and includes power to make such incidental or supplemental provision in the orders or regulations as the Minister making them considers appropriate¹.

571. Channel Islands etc.

Her Majesty may by Order in Council make provision for extending Part II of the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985¹ to any of the Channel Islands, the Isle of Man or any colony², with such exceptions, adaptations or modifications as may be specified in the Order³.

Such an Order which makes provision for extending Part II of the 1985 Act to any place outside the United Kingdom may also make provision for extending Part IV of the 1985 Act⁴ to that place with such exceptions, adaptations or modifications as may be specified in the Order, in so far as it appears to Her Majesty that the extension of Part IV of the 1985 Act to that place is appropriate⁵.

TEXT AND NOTES--Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 26 repealed: Marine and Coastal Access Act 2009 Sch 22 Pt 2 (not yet in force).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/8. SHIPPING AND POLLUTION/(5) SEWAGE AND GARBAGE/(i) Pollution by Sewage and Garbage/572. Prevention of pollution from ships.

(5) SEWAGE AND GARBAGE

(i) Pollution by Sewage and Garbage

572. Prevention of pollution from ships.

The Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008¹ implement certain parts of the International Convention for the Prevention of Pollution from Ships² (the 'Convention') relating to the prevention of pollution by sewage and the prevention of pollution by garbage.

In relation to the prevention of pollution by sewage³, the 2008 Regulations make provision for the surveys⁴ to be carried out and sewage certificates⁵ to be issued⁶. They also provide for surveys of United Kingdom ships⁷ to be carried out voluntarily, where the ships are not subject to the requirements but the owners request a survey⁸. They also provide for ships to have certain equipment⁹. The discharge of sewage into the sea¹⁰ is prohibited, apart from in controlled and regulated circumstances¹¹.

In relation to the prevention of pollution by garbage¹², the 2008 Regulations prohibit the disposal of plastics or mixtures of garbage into the sea¹³, and prohibit the disposal of other garbage except in certain circumstances¹⁴. United Kingdom ships are restricted from entering the Antarctic area¹⁵ unless they have sufficient capacity for the retention of garbage on board¹⁶, and requirements are imposed for the carrying of placards relating to the disposal of garbage¹⁷. Ships are required to have a garbage management plan¹⁸; and requirements are also imposed in relation to keeping a garbage record book¹⁹.

The Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008²⁰ make provision in relation to powers of inspection and detention of ships, for offences and defences, service of documents on foreign companies and enforcement²¹. Provision is also made for jurisdiction over offences committed outside the United Kingdom²² and for suspension of proceedings at flag state request²³.

1 Ie the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, which came into force on 1 February 2009: see reg 1. The 2008 Regulations revoke and replace the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Garbage) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1377 (which themselves revoked and replaced the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Garbage) Regulations 1988, SI 1988/2292) and go further than the revoked regulations by making provision for the prevention of pollution by sewage: see the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, reg 5. As to the application of the 2008 Regulations see reg 6.

2 Ie the International Convention for the Prevention of Pollution from Ships 1973 (London, 8 October to 2 November 1973; Misc 26 (1974); Cmnd 5748) which constitutes attachment 1 to the final act of the International Conference on Marine Pollution signed in London on 2 November 1973 (as modified by the Protocol of 1978 relating to that Convention). The parts are Annex IV (Regulations for the Prevention of Pollution by Sewage) and Annex V (Regulations for the Prevention of Pollution by Garbage). Annex IV came into force internationally on 27 September 2003, and a revised Annex IV came into force on 1 August 2005. Annex V came into force internationally on 31st December 1988. See also PARA 360.

3 Ie the Convention Annex IV. For the purposes of the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, 'sewage' means (1) drainage and other wastes from any form of toilets and urinals; (2) drainage from medical premises (including, for example, a dispensary or sick bay) via wash basins, wash tubs and scuppers located in such premises; (3) drainage from spaces containing living animals; or (4) other waste waters when mixed with any drainage referred to in head (1), (2) or (3) above: reg 2(2)(c). A 'discharge', in relation to sewage, means any release howsoever caused from a ship, and includes any escape, disposal, spilling, leaking, pumping, emitting or emptying, and cognate expressions are to be construed accordingly: reg 2(2)(a). Generally, a 'discharge' does not include: (a) dumping within the meaning of the Convention on the Prevention of Marine Pollution by Dumping of Wastes and Other Matter, signed at London on 13 November 1972, as amended by the 1996 Protocol; or (b) the release of sewage for the purposes of legitimate scientific research into pollution abatement or control: Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, reg 2(3).

4 For these purposes, 'survey' means a survey carried out by a surveyor, and 'surveyor' a surveyor of ships, or any other person appointed by a Certifying Authority (other than the Secretary of State) to be a surveyor: Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, reg 2(1). 'Certifying Authority' means the Secretary of State or any organisation which is an authorised organisation for the purposes of the Merchant Shipping (Ship Inspection and Survey Organisations) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/2908 (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 601): Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, reg 2(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58.

5 For these purposes, 'sewage certificate' means an International Sewage Pollution Prevention Certificate referred to in the Convention Annex IV reg 5: Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, reg 2(1).

6 See the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, regs 7-19. The 2008 Regulations provide for initial, renewal and additional surveys of ships (see regs 7, 8, 10); responsibilities of the owner and master of the ship (see reg 9); the issue, duration, extension, cancellation and surrender of sewage certificates (see regs 10-15, 18); the procedure to be adopted when a ship is deficient (see reg 16); arbitration where an applicant is dissatisfied with a survey (see reg 17); prohibition of non-United Kingdom ships proceeding to sea without a sewage certificate (see reg 19).

7 For these purposes, a 'United Kingdom ship' means a ship which (1) is registered in the United Kingdom; or (2) is not registered under the law of any country but is wholly owned by persons each of whom is (a) a British citizen, a British overseas territories citizen or a British Overseas citizen; or (b) a body corporate which is established under the law of any part of the United Kingdom and has its principal place of business in the United Kingdom: Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, reg 2(5). 'Ship' means a vessel of any type whatsoever, including a hydrofoil boat, an air-cushion vehicle, a submersible, a floating craft and a fixed or floating platform, which is operating in the marine environment: reg 2(1). As to the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 2.

8 See the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, reg 20. This provision effectively covers the survey and certification of ships to which regs 7, 8 and 10 do not apply.

9 As to sewage systems see the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, reg 21; and as to discharge connections see reg 22.

10 For these purposes, 'sea' includes any estuary or arm of the sea: Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, reg 2(1).

11 See the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, regs 23-25. As to the prohibition against discharging sewage from a ship into the sea see reg 23; as to the exception for a ship equipped with a sewage treatment plant see reg 24; and as to the exception for other ships see reg 25.

12 See the Convention Annex V. For the purposes of the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, 'garbage' means all kinds of victual, domestic and operational wastes generated during the normal operation of a ship and liable to be disposed of continuously or periodically, but does not include fresh fish and parts thereof, sewage, or any other substance the disposal of which is prohibited or otherwise controlled under an Annex to the Convention other than Annex V: Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, reg 2(2) (b).

13 See Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, reg 26.

14 As to the prohibition on disposal of garbage other than plastics from a ship outside a special area see the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, reg 27; as to the prohibition on disposal of garbage from a ship within a special area see reg 28; and as to the prohibition of garbage from a relevant platform or from a ship alongside a relevant platform see reg 29. For these purposes, a 'special area' is any of the following areas, that is to say (1) the Antarctic area, which means the sea area south of latitude 60° S; (2) the Baltic Sea area, which means the Baltic Sea proper with the Gulf of Bothnia, the Gulf of Finland and the entrance to the Baltic Sea bounded by the parallel of the Skaw in the Skagerrak at 57°44.8' N; (3) the Black Sea area, which means the Black Sea proper with the boundary between the Mediterranean and the Black Sea constituted by the parallel 41° N; (4) the Gulfs area, which means the sea area located north-west of the rhumb line between Ras al Hadd (22°30' N, 59°48' E) and Ras al Fasteh (25°04' N, 61°25' E); (5) the Mediterranean Sea area, which means the Mediterranean Sea proper including the gulfs and seas therein with the boundary between the Mediterranean and the Black Sea constituted by the 41° N parallel and bounded to the west by the Straits of Gibraltar at the meridian 5°36' W; (6) the North Sea area, which means the North Sea proper including the seas within the following boundaries: (a) the North Sea southwards of latitude 62° N and eastwards of longitude 4° W; (b) the Skagerrak, the southern limit of which is determined east of the Skaw by latitude 57°44.8' N; and (c) the English Channel and its approaches eastwards of longitude 5° W and northwards of latitude 48°30' N; (7) the Red Sea area, which means the Red Sea proper including the Gulfs of Suez and Aqaba bounded at the south by the rhumb line between Ras si Ane (12°28.5' N, 43°19.6' E) and Husn Murad (12°40.4' N, 43°30.2' E); (8) the Wider Caribbean Region, which means the Gulf of Mexico and Caribbean Sea proper including the bays and seas therein and that portion of the Atlantic Ocean within the boundary constituted by the 30° N parallel from Florida eastward to 77°30' W meridian, thence a rhumb line to the intersection of 20° N parallel and 59° W meridian, thence a rhumb line to the intersection of 7°20' N parallel and 50° W meridian, thence a rhumb line drawn south-westerly to the eastern boundary of French Guiana: regs 2(1), 3(1). However an area referred to in head (3), (5), (7) or (8) above is not a special area until such date as the International Maritime Organisation (i) establishes, pursuant to Annex V reg 5 para (4)(b), as the date from which the requirements of that regulation take effect in respect of the area in question; and (ii) publishes on the website of the International Maritime Organisation: Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257, reg 3(2). 'Relevant platform' means a fixed or floating platform which is used in connection with the exploration, exploitation or associated offshore processing of seabed mineral resources: reg 2(1). As to the International Maritime Organisation see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 13.

(6) DUMPING OF SLUDGE

574. Monitoring of dumping of sludge from ships.

It is the duty of the licensing authority¹:

1249 (1) to monitor or procure the monitoring by a competent authority or appropriate body of amounts and composition of sludges disposed of to surface waters by means of dumping from ships;

1250 (2) to carry out or procure the carrying out by a competent authority or appropriate body of monitoring and any other relevant studies to verify that the disposal of sludge to surface waters by means of dumping from ships does not adversely affect the environment².

The Environment Agency³ and the licensing authority must retain any information collected by them or by a competent authority or appropriate body in complying with the above provisions and must make it available to the Secretary of State on request⁴.

1 le within the meaning of the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 s 24: see PARA 527 note 1.

It was the duty of the licensing authority, in the exercise of its functions under Pt II (ss 5-15) (see PARA 525 et seq), to secure that: (1) the dumping of sludge from ships to surface waters is phased out by 31 December 1998; and (2) the total amount of toxic, persistent or bioaccumulable materials in sludge so disposed of is licensed for disposal and progressively reduced in the period ending on that date: Urban Waste Water Treatment (England and Wales) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/2841, reg 9.

(7) EMISSION OF DARK SMOKE

575. Emission of dark smoke from vessels.

The prohibition of emissions of dark smoke¹ applies in relation to vessels² in:

- 1251 (1) all waters not navigable by sea-going ships; and
- 1252 (2) all waters navigable by sea-going ships which are within the seaward limits of the territorial waters of the United Kingdom³ and are contained within any port, harbour, river, estuary, haven, dock, canal or other place so long as a person or body of persons is empowered by or under any Act to make charges⁴ in respect of vessels entering it or using facilities in it, as it applies in relation to buildings⁵.

For these purposes, a vessel in any such waters which are not within the district of the local authority⁶ is deemed to be within the district of the local authority whose district includes that point on land which is nearest to the spot where the vessel is⁷.

The owner of, and the master or other officer in charge of, the vessel is guilty of an offence if, on any day, dark smoke is emitted from the vessel and is liable to a fine⁸.

Except as provided by the above provisions, nothing in the Clean Air Act 1993⁹ applies to smoke, grit or dust from any vessel¹⁰.

1 Ie the prohibition in the Clean Air Act 1993 s 1: see PARA 214.

2 As to the meaning of 'vessel' see PARA 210 note 11.

3 As to the extent of the territorial sea (or waters) of the United Kingdom see the Territorial Sea Act 1987 s 1; INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS LAW vol 61 (2010) PARA 124; and WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 100 (2009) PARA 31.

4 For these purposes, 'charges' means any charges with the exception of light dues, local light dues and any other charges payable in respect of lighthouses, buoys or beacons and of charges in respect of pilotage: see the Clean Air Act 1993 s 44(5); and PARA 216. As to light dues see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 1083; as to local light dues see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 1088; and as to pilotage charges see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 573.

5 See the Clean Air Act 1993 s 44(1), (4); and PARA 216. In the application of s 1 to a vessel: (1) for the reference in s 1(1) to the occupier of the building there must be substituted a reference to the owner of, and to the master or other officer or person in charge of, the vessel; (2) references to a furnace must be read as including references to an engine of the vessel; and (3) s 1(5) must be omitted: see s 44(2)(a)-(c); and PARA 216.

Section 44 applies, with the omission of the reference in s 44(2) (see the text and note 8) to the owner, to vessels owned by the Crown, except that it does not apply to vessels of Her Majesty's navy or to government ships in the service of the Secretary of State while employed for the purposes of Her Majesty's navy: see s 46(4); and PARA 216.

As to the right of an authorised person to board a vessel for the purposes of any functions conferred by virtue of the Clean Air Act 1993 or to carry out an inspection see s 56; and PARA 244.

6 As to the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 99.

7 See the Clean Air Act 1993 s 44(3); and PARA 216.

8 see the Clean Air Act 1993 s 44(2); and PARA 216. The owner is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see s 44(2). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142.

9. ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS

(1) GAS AND ELECTRICITY

(i) Introduction

576. Specific environmental obligations imposed by gas and electricity legislation.

Both the Gas Act 1986 and the Electricity Act 1989 impose on the Secretary of State¹ and the Gas and Electricity Markets Authority ('GEMA')² certain obligations with regard to the environment. The Secretary of State must issue guidance to the Authority about the attainment of environmental policies and the Authority must have regard to such guidance when carrying out its duties under those Acts³. Both Acts require the Authority to set targets for reductions in carbon emissions⁴ and the Electricity Act 1989 additionally allows the Secretary of State to impose obligations on designated electricity suppliers to ensure that a certain proportion of their supplies to consumers comes from renewable sources⁵. Fossil fuel levy continues to be payable by licensed electricity suppliers⁶ and the Energy Act 1976 imposes controls on the use of certain fuels for electricity generating stations⁷.

These, and other environmental controls, are considered in detail in other parts of this work⁸.

(ii) Environmental Impact Assessment of Gas Pipeline Works

577. Requirement for assessment.

Pipeline works¹ by a gas transporter² required for the purposes of its undertaking and consisting of the laying underground of mains, pipes or other apparatus³ may require environmental impact assessment under the Gas Transporter Pipeline Works (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations 1999⁴, as discussed elsewhere in this work⁵. Other pipeline works⁶ may require such assessment under the Pipeline Works (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations 2000⁷ or the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999⁸, which are also discussed elsewhere in this work⁹.

1 As to the meaning of 'pipeline works' for these purposes see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 844 note 1.

2 As to the meaning of 'gas transporter' see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 844 note 2.

3 I.e. pipeline works which fall within the class of development described as permitted development in the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, art 3(1), Sch 2 Pt 17, Class F(a): see TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING vol 46(1) (Reissue) PARA 341. As to development not permitted by Sch 2 Pt 17, Class F see TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING vol 46(1) (Reissue) PARA 343; as to the general conditions subject to which such development is permitted see TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING vol 46(1) (Reissue) PARA 255; as to the special conditions subject to which such development is permitted see TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING vol 46(1) (Reissue) PARA 342; and as to directions restricting permitted development see TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING vol 46(1) (Reissue) PARA 258 et seq.

4 See the Gas Transporter Pipeline Works (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1672. See also note 5. The 1999 Regulations in their amended form implement EEC Council Directive 85/337 (OJ L175, 5.7.85, p 40) (amended by EC Council Directive 97/11/EC (OJ L73, 3.3.97, p 5); European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2003/35 (OJ L156, 25.6.2003, p 17); and European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2009/31 (OJ L140, 5.6.2009, p 14)) on the assessment of the effects of certain public and private projects on the environment in so far as it relates to proposed pipeline works by a gas transporter (see PARAS 7, 18). The 1999 Regulations were made as the Public Gas Transporter Pipeline Works (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1672, but are retitled as the Gas Transporter Pipeline Works (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1672, by virtue of the Utilities Act 2000 s 76(7): see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 805.

Preservation of amenity.

(iii) Preservation of Amenity; Assessment of Environmental Impact in certain Electricity Proposals

578. Preservation of amenity.

In formulating any proposals ('relevant proposals'):

- 1253 (1) for the construction¹ or extension² of a generating station³ of a capacity not less than 10 megawatts, or such other capacity as may be specified by order made by the Secretary of State⁴, or for the operation of such a station in a different manner;
- 1254 (2) for the installation, whether above or below ground, of an electric line⁵; or
- 1255 (3) for the execution of any other works for or in connection with the transmission⁶ or supply⁷ of electricity⁸, a licence holder⁹ or a person authorised by exemption¹⁰ to generate¹¹, distribute¹², supply or participate in the transmission of electricity¹³ must:

- 1256 (a) have regard to the desirability of preserving natural beauty, of conserving flora, fauna and geological or physiographical features of special interest and of protecting sites, buildings¹⁴ and objects of architectural, historic or archaeological interest¹⁵;
- 1257 (b) do what he reasonably can to mitigate any effect which the proposals would have on the natural beauty of the countryside or on any such flora, fauna, features, sites, buildings or objects¹⁶.

In considering any relevant proposals for which his consent is required¹⁷, the Secretary of State must have regard to the desirability of the matters mentioned in head (a) above and the extent to which the person by whom the proposals were formulated has complied with his duty under head (b) above¹⁸.

A licence holder must within 12 months from the grant of his licence prepare, and from time to time modify¹⁹, a statement setting out the manner in which he proposes to perform his duty under heads (a) and (b) above, including in particular the consultation procedures he intends to follow²⁰. Before so preparing or modifying a statement, he must consult:

- 1258 (i) where the activities which he is authorised by his licence to carry out include activities in England, Natural England²¹ and the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage')²²; and
- 1259 (ii) where those activities include activities in Wales, the Countryside Council for Wales²³ and the Welsh Ministers²⁴.

As soon as practicable after preparing or modifying such a statement, the licence holder must publish it as so prepared or modified in such manner as he considers appropriate²⁵.

ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(1) GAS AND ELECTRICITY/(iii) Preservation of Amenity; Assessment of Environmental Impact in certain Electricity Proposals/579. Assessment of environmental impact.

579. Assessment of environmental impact.

The Secretary of State¹ must not grant a section 36 consent² or a section 37 consent³ which relates to EIA development⁴ unless certain prescribed requirements⁵ have been satisfied⁶.

An applicant must submit in relation to any application for a section 36 consent or a section 37 consent which relates to EIA development an environmental statement⁷ which includes certain prescribed information⁸. In relation to any such application, the Secretary of State must not grant the required consent unless: (1) he is satisfied that the applicant has complied with his obligations; (2) he has taken into consideration the environmental information⁹ and states in his decision in relation to that consent that he has done so; and (3) certain prescribed procedures¹⁰ have been followed in so far as they are applicable¹¹.

For full details reference should be made to the Electricity Works (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 2000¹² which are discussed elsewhere in this work¹³.

¹ As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. See also FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 601 note 1.

² I.e. a consent under the Electricity Act 1989 s 36 to construct, extend or operate a generating station (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1249); see the Electricity Works (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1927, reg 2(1); and FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1254 note 2.

³ I.e. a consent under the Electricity Act 1989 s 37 to install or keep installed an electric line above ground (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1252); see the Electricity Works (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1927, reg 2(1); and FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1254 note 3.

⁴ As to the meaning of 'EIA development' (which includes Schedule 1 and Schedule 2 developments and anything else that the Secretary of State determines is EIA development) see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1254. In spite of the fact that any development is not Schedule 1 development or Schedule 2 development, the Secretary of State may, having taken into account such of the prescribed criteria (see the Electricity Works (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1927, Sch 3; and FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1254 note 18) as are relevant to the development, make a determination (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1254 note 19) that an application for a section 36 consent or a section 37 consent is for EIA development as the development is likely to have significant effects on the environment by virtue of factors such as its nature, size or location: see Electricity Works (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1927, reg 3(4); and FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1254 note 20.

Environmental impact assessment for decommissioning of nuclear reactors.

(2) NUCLEAR INDUSTRY

580. Environmental impact assessment for decommissioning of nuclear reactors.

A licensee¹ must not commence a project² unless he has applied to the Health and Safety Executive (the 'Executive')³ for a consent to carry out the project and such a consent has been granted for these purposes by the Executive⁴.

For full details reference should be made to the Nuclear Reactors (Environmental Impact Assessment for Decommissioning) Regulations 1999⁵ which are discussed elsewhere in this work⁶.

1 le a person to whom a nuclear site licence has been granted under the Nuclear Installations Act 1965 (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1490) whether or not that licence remains in force: see the Nuclear Reactors (Environmental Impact Assessment for Decommissioning) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2892, reg 2(1); and FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1614.

2 As to the meaning of 'project' see the Nuclear Reactors (Environmental Impact Assessment for Decommissioning) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2892, reg 2(1), 3; and FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1614. In essence this means the carrying out of any dismantling or decommissioning work on any nuclear power station or nuclear reactor to which the Nuclear Reactors (Environmental Impact Assessment for Decommissioning) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/2892 (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1615 et seq) apply, namely, subject to certain exceptions (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1614), nuclear power stations and other nuclear reactors, except research installations for the production and conversion of fissionable and fertile materials whose maximum power does not exceed 1 kilowatt continuous thermal load.

(i) Licensing

A. ASSESSMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL EFFECTS

581. Requirements as to contents of licences and use of floating or mobile installations.

The Secretary of State¹ may not grant any licence² which does not require the licensee to obtain the prior consent of the Secretary of State to any of the following operations wholly or partly in the relevant area³: (1) the commencement or recommencement of the drilling of any well⁴; (2) the extraction of petroleum⁵, otherwise than as a by-product of the drilling or the testing of any well, where the amount extracted exceeds 500 tonnes per day in the case of oil⁶ and 500,000 cubic metres per day in the case of gas⁷; or (3) the erection of any structure⁸ in connection with a development⁹. Nor may the Secretary of State exercise any power conferred on him to vary the terms of a licence so as to relieve the licensee of any requirement to obtain his consent to any of the operations to which heads (1) to (3) above apply¹⁰.

Notwithstanding any provision in any licence, an undertaker¹¹ must not without the prior written consent of the Secretary of State¹²: (a) use a floating installation¹³ in connection with a relevant project comprising a development; or (b) use any mobile installation for the extraction of petroleum where the principal purpose of the extraction is the testing of any well¹⁴.

For full details reference should be made to the Offshore Petroleum Production and Pipelines (Assessment of Environmental Effects) Regulations 1999¹⁵ which are discussed elsewhere in this work¹⁶.

B. CONSERVATION OF HABITATS

582. General duty of the Secretary of State when exercising relevant functions.

The Secretary of State¹ must² exercise functions conferred on him in relation to or in connection with offshore oil and gas activities³ ('relevant functions')⁴ in such manner and to such extent as he considers necessary to secure that such activities are carried out in a manner that is consistent with the requirements of the Habitats Directive⁵ and the Wild Birds Directive⁶.

The conservation of natural habitats is more fully dealt with elsewhere in this work⁷.

² In the extent not already provided for by the Conservation (Natural Habitats, etc) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/2716: see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 728 et seq. However see now also the Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010, SI 2010/490 (replacing and consolidating the 1994 Regulations); and OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE.

⁶ See the Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 3(1), (2) (substituted by SI 2007/77). 'Wild Birds Directive' means EEC Council Directive 79/409 (OJ L103, 25.04.79, p 1) on the conservation of wild birds (see PARAS 18, 54; and ANIMALS vol 2 (2008) PARAS 994, 1006; OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 728): Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 2(1).

⁷ See PARA 54; and OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 728 et seq.

ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(3) PETROLEUM PRODUCTION/(i) Licensing/B. CONSERVATION OF HABITATS/583. Consent for geological surveys.

583. Consent for geological surveys.

In so far as they relate to oil and gas activities¹, the following activities or procedures must not be carried out in a relevant area² without the prior written consent of the Secretary of State³:

- 1260 (1) prospecting or carrying out geological surveys by physical or chemical means;
- 1261 (2) drilling for the purpose of obtaining geological information about strata; or
- 1262 (3) testing the surveying or drilling equipment to be used in the activities or procedures falling within head (1) or head (2) above⁴; and this applies notwithstanding any provision in any Petroleum Act licence⁵.

The conservation of natural habitats is more fully dealt with elsewhere in this work⁶.

1 As to the meaning of 'oil and gas activities' see PARA 582 note 3.

2 As to the meaning of 'relevant area' see PARA 582 note 3.

3 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. See also FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 601 note 1.

4 Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 4(1) (reg 4 substituted by SI 2007/77).

5 Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 4(2) (as substituted: see note 4). 'Petroleum Act licence' means a licence which is granted under or has effect as if granted under the Petroleum Act 1998 or a licence which is to be granted under that Act: Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 2(1) (definition added by SI 2007/77). As to such licences see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1639 et seq.

6 See PARA 54; and OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 728 et seq.

584. Appropriate assessments.

Before granting any Petroleum Act licence¹, any consent², any authorisation³ or any approval⁴, the Secretary of State⁵ must, where he considers that anything that might be done or any activity which might be carried on pursuant to such a licence, consent, authorisation or approval is likely to have a significant effect on a relevant site⁶, whether individually or in combination with any other plan or project, including but not limited to any other relevant project⁷, make an appropriate assessment of the implications for the site in view of the site's conservation objectives⁸. For the purposes of the assessment the Secretary of State must consult the appropriate nature conservation body⁹ and must have regard to any representations made by that body within such reasonable time as he may specify and he must also, if he considers it to be appropriate, take the opinion of the general public¹⁰. Subject to the exception set out below¹¹, in the light of the conclusions of the assessment the Secretary of State may grant any such licence, consent, authorisation or approval only after having ascertained that nothing that might be done and no activity that might be carried out pursuant thereto would have an adverse effect on the integrity of a relevant site¹². This does not, however, apply to the doing of anything in connection with the carrying out of any relevant project affecting a relevant site:

- 1263 (1) to which, in the opinion of the Secretary of State, there is no satisfactory alternative; and
- 1264 (2) which the Secretary of State has certified in writing as a project which should be carried out for imperative reasons of overriding public interest, which may include reasons of a social or economic nature¹³.

The Secretary of State may not give a certification pursuant to head (2) above in respect of a project that is likely to have an adverse effect on the integrity of a site hosting a priority natural habitat type or a priority species¹⁴ unless:

- 1265 (a) the reason for so certifying relates to human health or public safety, or to beneficial consequences of primary importance for the environment; or
- 1266 (b) he has obtained the opinion of the European Commission as to whether the project might be carried out for imperative reasons of overriding public interest other than those referred to in head (a) above and his decision to give a certification is consistent with that opinion¹⁵.

Where the Secretary of State has given a certification pursuant to head (2) above, he must secure that any necessary compensatory measures are taken to ensure that the overall coherence of Natura 2000¹⁶ is protected, and in determining what such necessary compensatory measures may be, he must consult the appropriate nature conservation body¹⁷.

At such intervals as he thinks fit, the Secretary of State must carry out or cause to be carried out such investigation as he considers appropriate in relation to the effects of offshore oil and gas activities on the conservation status of natural habitats and species of wild fauna and flora, with particular regard to priority habitat types and priority species¹⁸. In the light of the results of such investigation he must consider whether he ought to exercise any relevant power¹⁹ for the purposes of protecting such a natural habitat or species²⁰.

The conservation of natural habitats is more fully dealt with elsewhere in this work²¹.

1 As to the meaning of 'Petroleum Act licence' see PARA 583 note 5.

2 For these purposes and for the purposes of the Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 7 (see PARA 618), 'consent' means (1) a consent granted pursuant to reg 4(1) (see PARA 583); or (2) a consent granted pursuant to a Petroleum Act licence, including any consent required pursuant to the Offshore Petroleum Production and Pipelines (Assessment of Environmental Effects) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/360 (see PARA 581; and FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 644 et seq): Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, regs 2(1), 4(3) (definition in reg 2(1) and reg 4(3) respectively amended and substituted by SI 2007/77).

3 'Authorisation' means an authorisation granted pursuant to the Petroleum Act 1998 s 14 relating to the construction or use of a pipeline (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1743): Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 2(1).

4 'Approval' means approval of an abandonment programme pursuant to the Petroleum Act 1998 Pt IV (ss 29-45) (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1729 et seq): Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 2(1).

5 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. See also FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 601 note 1.

6 'Relevant site' means (1) a special area of conservation (ie a site of Community importance designated by the member states through a statutory, administrative and/or contractual act where the necessary conservation measures are applied for the maintenance or restoration, at a favourable conservation status, of the natural habitats and/or the populations of the species for which the site is designated: see EEC Council Directive 92/43 (OJ L206, 22.7.92, p 7) art 1(l)); (2) a site of Community importance which has been placed on the list of selected sites which have been adopted, referred to in art 4(2); (3) a site hosting a priority natural habitat type or priority species in respect of which consultation has been initiated under art 5(1), during the consultation period or pending a decision of the Council under art 5(3); (4) an area classified pursuant to EEC Council Directive 79/409 (OJ L103, 25.4.79, p 1) art 4(1) or (2); or (5) a site included in the list of sites which has been transmitted to the Commission by the United Kingdom pursuant to EEC Council Directive 92/43 (OJ L206, 22.7.92, p 7) art 4: Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 2(1) (definition amended by SI 2007/1842). A site ceases to qualify as a site under head (5) above at such time as (a) the draft list of sites of Community importance is established under EEC Council Directive 92/43 (OJ L206, 22.7.92, p 7) art 4(2) where in any case the site is not included in that list; or (b) the list of sites referred to in art 4(2) is adopted by the Commission: Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 2(1). 'Natural habitats' means terrestrial or aquatic areas distinguished by geographic, abiotic and biotic features, whether entirely natural or semi-natural; 'priority natural habitat types' means natural habitat types in danger of disappearance, which are present on the territory referred to in EEC Council Directive 92/43 (OJ L206, 22.7.92, p 7) art 2 and for the conservation of which the Community has particular responsibility in view of the proportion of their natural range which falls within the territory referred to in art 2; these priority natural habitat types are indicated by an asterisk in Annex I; and 'priority species' means species referred to in art 1(g)(i) for the conservation of which the Community has particular responsibility in view of the proportion of their natural range which falls within the territory referred to in art 2; these priority species are indicated by an asterisk in Annex II: see art 1(b), (d), (h); definitions applied by the Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 2(2). As to the meaning of 'appropriate nature conservation body' see note 9. As to EEC Council Directive 92/43 see PARAS 18, 54; and OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 728 et seq. As to EEC Council Directive 79/409 see PARAS 18, 54; ANIMALS vol 2 (2008) PARAS 994, 1006; and OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 728.

7 'Relevant project' means any plan or project which relates to offshore oil and gas activities: Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 2(1) (definition amended by SI 2007/77). As to the meaning of 'offshore oil and gas activities' see PARA 582 note 3.

8 Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 5(1) (reg 5(1), (2), (4) amended by SI 2007/77).

9 'Appropriate nature conservation body' means such body with responsibilities for providing relevant advice on nature conservation in relation to the land or waters within or adjacent to the relevant site, which the Secretary of State considers appropriate: Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 2(1) (definition added by SI 2007/77).

- 10 Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 5(2) (as amended: see note 8).
- 11 Is subject to the Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 6: see the text and notes 13-20.
- 12 Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 5(3).

- 15 Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 6(2).
- 16 'Natura 2000' means the European network of special areas of conservation, and special protection areas under the Wild Birds Directive, provided for by EEC Council Directive 92/43 (OJ L206, 22.7.92, p 7) (the 'Habitats Directive') art 3(1): Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 2(1). See note 6.
- 17 Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 6(3) (reg 6(3), (4)(a) amended by SI 2007/77).
- 18 Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 6(4)(a) (as amended: see note 17).
- 19 'Relevant power' means any power exercisable by the Secretary of State in relation to or in connection with offshore oil and gas activities including, without limitation, powers exercisable under the Petroleum Act 1998 or any licence granted or having effect as if granted under that Act: Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1754, reg 2(1) (definition amended by SI 2007/77).

A. POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL

(A) IN GENERAL

585. Prevention and control of pollution; in general.

Under the Pollution Prevention and Control Act 1999, the Secretary of State¹ has power by regulations² to make provision for specified purposes³ with the general purposes of:

- 1267 (1) implementing European Union legislation⁴ concerning integrated pollution prevention and control;
- 1268 (2) regulating, otherwise than in pursuance of that legislation, activities⁵ which are capable of causing any environmental pollution⁶; and
- 1269 (3) otherwise preventing or controlling emissions capable of causing any such pollution⁷.

Regulations and orders under the 1999 Act may make provision applying in relation to, and to places above and below:

- 1270 (a) the territorial waters adjacent to any part of the United Kingdom⁸;
- 1271 (b) the sea in any designated area within the meaning of the Continental Shelf Act 1964⁹; and
- 1272 (c) the sea in any area in a foreign sector of the continental shelf¹⁰ which comprises any part of a cross-boundary field¹¹ and is specified for certain purposes¹² of the Petroleum Act 1998¹³.

² As to the making of such regulations see the Pollution Prevention and Control Act 1999 s 2(3), (7)-(9); and PARA 186 note 2.

³ As to the specified purposes see the Pollution Prevention and Control Act 1999 Sch 1 Pt I; and PARA 187.

ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(3) PETROLEUM PRODUCTION/(ii) Offshore Workings and Installations/A. POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(B) Restrictions on Discharge of Oil from Offshore Petroleum Activities/586. Restrictions on discharge of oil; discharge permits.

(B) RESTRICTIONS ON DISCHARGE OF OIL FROM OFFSHORE PETROLEUM ACTIVITIES

586. Restrictions on discharge of oil; discharge permits.

Subject to certain exceptions¹, no oil² must be discharged³ into relevant waters⁴ save in accordance with the terms of, and conditions attached to, a permit granted in accordance with the Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005⁵. Contravention of this provision is an offence⁶.

A person who discharges oil into relevant waters must provide the Secretary of State⁷ with such information as the Secretary of State may reasonably require for the purpose of performing his functions under the 2005 Regulations⁸; and failure to do so is an offence⁹.

An application for the grant of a permit must be made in writing¹⁰ by the operator¹¹ of the offshore installation and must contain:

- 1273 (1) a description of the offshore installation from which the discharge is to take place, including the location of the offshore installation;
- 1274 (2) a description of the oil to which the application relates and of the circumstances in which it is to be discharged; and
- 1275 (3) a description of the measures planned to monitor the discharge in relation to which a permit is sought¹².

For the purpose of considering such an application, the Secretary of State may by notice in writing require the operator to provide such other information as may be specified in the notice¹³.

Where the Secretary of State receives an application for a permit, he may either grant or refuse it¹⁴. There is a right of appeal to the High Court against such a refusal¹⁵.

The Secretary of State may attach conditions to any permit granted by him which are calculated to ensure that:

- 1276 (a) the concentration, frequency, quantity, location or duration of any discharge is subject to appropriate restrictions;
- 1277 (b) appropriate measures are taken to minimise pollution¹⁶ including, in particular, the appropriate use of technology to limit discharges;
- 1278 (c) necessary measures are taken to prevent accidents affecting the environment or, where they occur, to limit their consequences in relation to the environment;
- 1279 (d) there is carried out appropriate monitoring of the discharges to which the permit relates, and such conditions may include:

- 93. (i) provisions relating to measurement techniques, the frequency of measurement and evaluation procedures; and

94. (ii) obligations to supply the Secretary of State with data required for checking compliance with the permit, including any data setting out the actual concentration, frequency, quantity, location or duration of any discharges which have occurred during a specified period¹⁷.

In addition to any conditions that may be attached to any permit by virtue of heads (a) to (d) above, the Secretary of State may attach to a permit such other conditions as he thinks fit¹⁸.

A permit must specify the period for which it is to have effect¹⁹, and a fee may be charged for the grant of a permit²⁰ or for its subsistence²¹.

1 le subject to the Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 3(2), (3): reg 3(1). There are exempt from the requirement for a permit under the 2005 Regulations discharges regulated by (1) the Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355 (see PARA 595 et seq); (2) the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Oil Pollution) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/2154 (see PARA 365 et seq); or (3) the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Garbage) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/1377 (revoked) (see now Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution by Sewage and Garbage from Ships) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/3257) (see PARA 572): Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 3(2). Where a person is carrying on a discharge of oil to which an existing exemption applies, reg 3(1) does not apply in respect of that discharge until (a) such time as the Secretary of State may specify by notice in writing to that person; or (b) if no notice is given by the Secretary of State in accordance with head (a) above, the date after the day on which the period of two years commencing on the date the 2005 Regulations came into force (ie 20 August 2005: see reg 1) expired: see reg 3(3). 'Existing exemption' means an exemption granted by the Secretary of State pursuant to the Prevention of Oil Pollution Act 1971 s 23 (see PARA 356) being an exemption which was in force on the day before 20 August 2005: Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 2.

A written document may be sent, given or issued to the intended recipient by (i) delivering it to him; or (ii) leaving it at his proper address; or (iii) sending it by post to him at that address (reg 17(2)); and 'written document' includes an application, a permit, information, data, evidence, a representation or a notice under the 2005 Regulations or a copy thereof (reg 17(1)). A written document may be sent, given or issued (A) to a body corporate by being sent, given or issued to its secretary or clerk; (B) to a firm (including a Scottish partnership) by being sent, given or issued to a partner in the firm or to a person having management or control of the partnership business; (C) to an unincorporated body by being sent, given or issued to a member of its governing body: reg 17(3). For these purposes, and the purposes of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 7 in its application to this provision, the proper address (except in a case falling within the Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 17(7)) of: (aa) the Secretary of State is the address of the principal office of the holder of the office of Secretary of State who for the time being exercises the functions of the Secretary of State under the 2005 Regulations; (bb) a body corporate is the address of its registered or principal office; (cc) a firm (including a Scottish partnership) or unincorporated body is the address of its principal office; (dd) any other person is his last known address: reg 17(4). Where, by virtue of the above provisions, the proper address of the intended recipient of a written document is outside the United Kingdom, references in reg 17 to the proper address of a body corporate, firm or unincorporated body include its principal office (if any) in the United Kingdom; and references to the proper address of any other person include his last known address in the United Kingdom unless he is known no longer to have an address in the United Kingdom: reg 17(5). If the person to whom a written document is to be sent, given or issued has furnished the person by whom the written document is to be sent, given or issued with an address pursuant to any provision of the 2005 Regulations, that address must also be treated for these purposes as his proper address: reg 17(6). Where a written document is to be sent, given or issued by means of an electronic communication, the proper address of any person includes the number or address which he has indicated is to be used by him for receipt of the communication: reg 17(7). 'Electronic communication' means a communication transmitted either by means of an electronic communications network or by other means but while in electronic form: reg 17(1). Regulation 17 is without prejudice to any other lawful method of giving or serving notice: reg 17(8).

2 For these purposes, 'oil' means any liquid hydrocarbon or substitute liquid hydrocarbon, including dissolved or dispersed hydrocarbons or substitute hydrocarbons that are not normally found in the liquid phase at standard temperature and pressure, whether obtained from plants or animals, or mineral deposits or by synthesis: Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 2.

3 'Discharge', in relation to oil, means its release from an offshore installation; and 'offshore installation' has the same meaning as in the Petroleum Act 1998 s 44 (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1729 note 4): Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 2.

4 For these purposes, 'relevant waters' has the same meaning as in the Petroleum Act 1998 s 44 (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1729 note 4) save that it (1) does not include Scottish controlled waters; and (2) includes places below relevant waters; and 'Scottish controlled waters' means any waters which are controlled waters within the meaning of the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 30A(1): Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 2.

5 Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 3(1). The Prevention of Oil Pollution Act 1971 ss 1, 2, 3, 6, 23 (see PARA 348 et seq) do not apply to discharges of oil which are regulated by a permit granted under the 2005 Regulations: Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 18(1).

6 See the Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 16(1)(a); and PARA 594.

9 See the Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 16(1)(d); and PARA 594.

10 See note 1.

11 'Operator' means any person who operates an offshore installation: Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 2.

12 Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 5(1).

15 See the Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 15; and PARA 593.

16 'Pollution' means the introduction by man, directly or indirectly, of substances or energy into relevant waters which results, or is likely to result, in hazards to human health, harm to living resources and marine ecosystems, damage to amenities or interference with other legitimate uses of the sea: Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 2.

17 Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 4(2).

18 Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 4(4).

19 Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 4(3).

20 See the Offshore Petroleum Activities (Oil Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 6(1), (2)(a). The Secretary of State may, in accordance with a charging scheme made by him for this purpose, charge operators fees in respect of any of the matters to which reg 6(1) applies: reg 6(1). As to those matters see reg 6(2)(a)-(h); note 21; and PARAS 587-590. A charging scheme made under reg 6 must be so framed that the fees and charges payable under the scheme are sufficient, taking one year with another, to cover such expenditure as may be incurred by or on behalf of the Secretary of State in connection with any of the matters to which reg 6(1) applies: reg 6(3).

ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(3) PETROLEUM PRODUCTION/(ii) Offshore Workings and Installations/A. POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(B) Restrictions on Discharge of Oil from Offshore Petroleum Activities/587. Variation of permit terms and conditions.

587. Variation of permit terms and conditions.

The Secretary of State¹ may, whenever he thinks fit, review the terms and conditions attached to any permit². A permit holder³ may apply in writing⁴ for a variation of the terms and conditions of a permit⁵ and when an application is so made the Secretary of State must review the terms and conditions attached to the permit in question⁶.

Where, having conducted a review in accordance with the above provisions, the Secretary of State considers that the terms and conditions of a permit should be varied, he must give notice⁷ to the permit holder in writing of his intention to vary those terms and conditions⁸. Such a notice must provide details of the proposed variation and specify the date (the 'relevant date') on which the proposed variation is to take effect⁹. Where the Secretary of State proposes to vary the terms and conditions of a permit otherwise than in accordance with an application made by the permit holder:

- 1280 (1) the relevant date must be not less than 14 days after the date on which notice is given of the intention to make the variation¹⁰;
- 1281 (2) the permit holder is entitled to make representations in writing as to whether, and if so how, the terms and conditions should be varied;
- 1282 (3) where no such representations are received prior to the relevant date, the variation has effect on that date; and
- 1283 (4) where representations under head (2) above are received prior to the relevant date, the Secretary of State must consider them in determining whether or not to vary the terms and conditions as originally notified¹¹, and may determine that revised terms and conditions are to come into effect on a date later than the relevant date¹².

Where an application for variation is made by the permit holder¹³ and the Secretary of State decides not to vary the terms and conditions of the permit in question, he must give notice in writing of his decision to the permit holder¹⁴.

A fee may be charged for the variation of a permit or of the conditions to which it is subject¹⁵.

588. Assignment of permits.

Where a permit holder¹ wishes to assign his permit to another person (the 'proposed assignee'), the permit holder and the proposed assignee must each make an application to the Secretary of State² to effect the assignment³; and the Secretary of State must effect the assignment provided he is satisfied that the proposed assignee will become the operator⁴ of the installation to which the permit relates after the assignment is effected⁵. He may, by notice⁶, require the permit holder or the proposed assignee to furnish such further information specified in the notice, within the period so specified, as he may require for the purpose of determining such an application⁷.

The Secretary of State must effect such an assignment by causing the permit to be indorsed with the name and other particulars of the proposed assignee as the permit holder⁸. A fee may be charged for the assignment of a permit⁹.

589. Revocation and surrender of permits.

The Secretary of State¹ may by notice in writing² revoke a permit granted pursuant to the relevant regulations³ where he is of the opinion that:

1284 (1) any application made under those regulations in connection with that permit contained or was supported by any information or statement which was false or misleading in a material particular; or 1285 (2) any person has been guilty of a breach of any term or condition attached to the permit⁴.

A permit holder⁵ may surrender his permit by notice in writing to the Secretary of State⁶.

ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(3) PETROLEUM PRODUCTION/(ii) Offshore Workings and Installations/A. POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(B) Restrictions on Discharge of Oil from Offshore Petroleum Activities/590. Inspectors.

590. Inspectors.

The Secretary of State¹ may, if he thinks fit, appoint one or more inspectors:

- 1286 (1) to investigate whether the requirements, restrictions or prohibitions imposed by or under the relevant regulations² have been, or are being complied with; or
- 1287 (2) to monitor any discharge³ of oil⁴;

and the inspectors must report to the Secretary of State in such manner as he may direct⁵.

An inspector so appointed may, for any of the purposes mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above and on producing evidence of his appointment:

- 1288 (a) at any reasonable time (or, in a situation which in his opinion may give rise to a risk of significant pollution⁶ as a result of the discharge of oil, at any time) board any offshore installation⁷;
- 1289 (b) on boarding an offshore installation, take with him any other person authorised by the Secretary of State for the purposes mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above and any equipment or materials that he thinks he may require;
- 1290 (c) make such examination or investigation as he considers necessary (including any examination or investigation of the offshore installation or of the maintenance or monitoring of apparatus on the offshore installation);
- 1291 (d) give a direction requiring that any part of the offshore installation be left undisturbed (whether generally or in particular respects) for so long as is reasonably necessary for the purposes of any such examination or investigation;
- 1292 (e) take such measurements and photographs and make such recordings as he considers necessary for the purpose of any such examination or investigation;
- 1293 (f) take samples of any articles or substances found on the offshore installation or take samples of the atmosphere, land, sea bed (including the subsoil thereof) or water in the vicinity of the offshore installation;
- 1294 (g) in the case of any article or substance which he finds on the offshore installation, cause it to be dismantled or subjected to any process or test (but not so as to damage or destroy it unless, in the circumstances of the case, that is necessary);
- 1295 (h) in the case of any such article or substance as is mentioned in head (g) above, take possession of it and detain it for so long as is necessary for all or any of the following purposes, namely:

- 95. (i) to examine it and do to it anything which he has power to do under that provision;
- 96. (ii) to ensure that it is not tampered with before his examination of it is completed; and
- 97. (iii) to ensure that it is available for use as evidence in any proceedings relating to an offence under the relevant regulations⁸;

142

1296 (i) require any person whom he has reasonable cause to believe is able to give any information relevant to any examination or investigation under head (c) above:

143

98. (i) to attend at a place and time specified by the inspector;

99. (ii) to answer (in the absence of any person other than persons whom the inspector may allow to be present and a person nominated to be present by the person upon whom the requirement is imposed) such questions as the inspector thinks fit to ask; and

100. (iii) to sign a declaration as to the truth of his answers⁹;

1297 (j) require the production of, and inspect and take copies of:

145

101. (i) any records which by virtue of any provision of any permit granted under the relevant regulations are required to be kept; and

102. (ii) any records which he considers it necessary for him to see for the purposes of any examination or investigation under head (c) above¹⁰; and

1298 (k) require any person to afford him such facilities and assistance with respect to any matters or things within that person's control or in relation to which that person has responsibilities as the inspector considers are necessary to enable him to exercise any of the powers conferred on him by these provisions¹¹.

A fee may be charged for the testing or analysis of substances, the validating of, or of the results of, any testing or analysis of substances and the assessment of the effect upon the environment of the release into it of any oil; but only in cases where the testing, analysis, validating or assessment is in any way in anticipation of, or otherwise in connection with, the making of permit applications or is carried out in pursuance of conditions to which the permit is subject¹².

It is an offence wilfully to obstruct an inspector, or to fail, without reasonable excuse, to comply with a requirement imposed in pursuance of heads (a) to (k) above¹³.

In criminal proceedings in which such person as is mentioned in reg 12(4) is charged with an offence to which reg 12(5) applies no evidence relating to that person's answer may be adduced and no questions relating to it may be asked by or on behalf of the prosecution unless evidence relating to it is adduced by or on behalf of that person: reg 12(5). Regulation 12(5) applies to any offence other than one under: (1) reg 16(1)(g)(ii) (see PARA 594); (2) the Perjury Act 1911 s 5 (false statements made otherwise than on oath) (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 717); (3) the corresponding provisions under the law of Scotland or Northern Ireland: see the Offshore Petroleum Activities (Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 12(6).

10 Nothing in the Offshore Petroleum Activities (Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 12 is to be taken to compel the production by any person of a document of which he would, on grounds of legal professional privilege, be entitled to withhold production on an order for disclosure or discovery in a claim in the High Court or in the High Court in Northern Ireland or, in relation to Scotland, on an order for the production of documents in an action in the Court of Session: reg 12(7).

12 See the Offshore Petroleum Activities (Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 6(1), (2)(f)-(h). As to the power to make a charging scheme for fees see PARA 586 note 20.

POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(B) Restrictions on Discharge of Oil from Offshore Petroleum Activities/591. Allowance trading.

591. Allowance trading.

The Secretary of State¹ is authorised to make:

- 1299 (1) a plan or plans for the allocation of allowances in relation to specified emissions² ('allocation plans'); and
- 1300 (2) one or more emissions trading schemes (the 'trading schemes') for the purpose of facilitating the trading of allowances allocated under the allocation plans³.

He may include in the rules of the trading schemes:

- 1301 (a) provision for penalties in respect of contraventions of the terms and conditions of the trading scheme; and
- 1302 (b) provision for the amount of any penalty under the trading scheme to be such as may be set out in or calculated in accordance with the scheme⁴.

For the purposes of the trading schemes he must establish and maintain one or more registries in which there must be recorded:

- 1303 (i) allocations of allowances;
- 1304 (ii) adjustments of such allocations;
- 1305 (iii) trades of allowances;
- 1306 (iv) transfers of allowances;
- 1307 (v) withdrawals of allowances; and
- 1308 (vi) surrenders of allowances⁵.

The Dispersed Oil in Produced Water Trading Scheme commenced on 1 January 2006.

¹ As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. See also FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 601 note 1.

² For these purposes, 'emission' means the direct or indirect release of substances from individual or diffuse sources into the air or into relevant waters: Offshore Petroleum Activities (Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 2. As to the meaning of 'relevant waters' see PARA 586 note 4.

ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(3) PETROLEUM PRODUCTION/(ii) Offshore Workings and Installations/A. POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(B) Restrictions on Discharge of Oil from Offshore Petroleum Activities/592. Enforcement and prohibition notices.

592. Enforcement and prohibition notices.

If the Secretary of State¹ is of the opinion that any person has contravened or is contravening any condition of a permit or is likely to contravene any such condition, either the Secretary of State or an inspector appointed by him² may serve on the permit holder³ a notice in writing⁴ (an 'enforcement notice') which:

- 1309 (1) states that the Secretary of State is of that opinion;
- 1310 (2) specifies the matters which constituted, constitute or, as the case may be, are likely to constitute the contravention;
- 1311 (3) specifies the steps that must be taken to remedy or, as the case may be, to prevent the contravention, including steps that must be taken to remedy any pollution⁵ caused by the contravention; and
- 1312 (4) specifies the period within which those steps must be taken⁶.

This does not, however, apply where the permit condition in question relates exclusively to one or more of the trading schemes⁷.

Where a person to whom an enforcement notice is addressed has failed to take the action required by it within such time as may be specified by it and such a notice has not been revoked⁸, the Secretary of State may himself undertake any action so required and the reasonable costs and expenses of his so doing are recoverable as a debt from that person⁹. A person to whom an enforcement notice is addressed must afford such assistance as the Secretary of State may reasonably require for the purpose of facilitating the exercise of any powers so conferred on him¹⁰.

The exercise by the Secretary of State of any power conferred by the above provisions is without prejudice to the exercise by him of any other power under any other provision¹¹ of the relevant regulations¹².

If the Secretary of State is of the opinion that the operation of an offshore installation¹³ involves an imminent risk of serious pollution as a consequence of any discharge of oil¹⁴, the Secretary of State or an inspector appointed by him¹⁵ may serve a notice in writing (a 'prohibition notice') on the permit holder¹⁶. A prohibition notice may be served whether or not the risk relates to the contravention of a permit granted under the relevant regulations, and may relate to any aspects of the operation of an offshore installation whether or not regulated by the conditions of such a permit¹⁷. A prohibition notice:

- 1313 (a) must state that the Secretary of State is of the opinion mentioned above;
- 1314 (b) must specify the risk involved in the operation of the offshore installation;
- 1315 (c) must specify the steps that must be taken to remove it and the period within which they must be taken; and
- 1316 (d) may direct that any permit granted under the relevant regulations is, until the notice is withdrawn wholly or in part¹⁸, to cease to have effect; and where the direction applies to part only of the operation of the offshore installation, it may impose conditions to be observed in carrying on that part of the operation which is authorised under the relevant permit¹⁹.

It is the duty of the person to whom the prohibition notice is addressed to comply with its terms save to the extent that it is withdrawn wholly or in part²⁰.

The service of a prohibition notice is without prejudice to the exercise by any person of any power under any other provision of the relevant regulations²¹.

Failure to comply with the terms of an enforcement or a prohibition notice is an offence²².

For these purposes, 'English area', 'Scottish area' and 'Northern Irish area' have the same meanings as in the Civil Jurisdiction (Offshore Activities) Order 1987, SI 1987/2197 (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1656 note 6): Offshore Petroleum Activities (Pollution Prevention and Control) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2055, reg 15(1). 594. Offences.

Subject to certain exceptions¹, a person is guilty of an offence if he:

- 1317 (1) contravenes the prohibition on the discharge of oil into relevant waters without a permit²;
- 1318 (2) fails to comply with the terms of an enforcement notice or a prohibition notice³;
- 1319 (3) fails to supply any information required to be supplied by virtue of the terms or conditions of any permit granted under the relevant regulations⁴;
- 1320 (4) fails to supply any information required to be supplied by virtue of the specified provision⁵;
- 1321 (5) wilfully obstructs an inspector appointed by the Secretary of State⁶;
- 1322 (6) without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with a requirement imposed by an inspector⁷, or prevents another person from complying with such a requirement;
- 1323 (7) knowingly or recklessly makes a statement which he knows to be false or misleading in a material particular where such a statement:

147

- 103. (a) is made in connection with, or for the purposes of, any application for a permit, the renewal of a permit, the variation of a permit⁸ or the assignment of a permit⁹; or

- 104. (b) is made for the purposes of satisfying any requirement under the relevant regulations for the supply of information to the Secretary of State or an inspector appointed by him¹⁰.

Where a person is charged with an offence under any of heads (1) to (4) above, it is a defence to prove that the contravention or failure:

- 1324 (i) arose as a result of something which could not reasonably have been prevented by him; or
- 1325 (ii) was due to something done as a matter of urgency for the purpose of securing the safety of any person¹¹;

but a person does not have the defence provided by head (ii) above if the court is satisfied:

- 1326 (A) that the thing done was not necessary for the purpose mentioned in that head and was not a reasonable step to take in the circumstances; or
- 1327 (B) that it was necessary for the purpose mentioned in that head but the necessity was due to the fault of the defendant¹².

Proceedings for an offence under these provisions may be taken, and the offence may for all incidental purposes be treated as having been committed, in any part of the United Kingdom¹³.

A person guilty of an offence under these provisions is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum and on conviction on indictment to a fine¹⁴.

Where such an offence by a body corporate is proved to have been committed with the consent or connivance of, or to have been attributable to any neglect on the part of, any director, manager, secretary or other similar officer of the body corporate or any person who was purporting to act in any such capacity, he as well as the body corporate is guilty of an offence and is liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly¹⁵; and where the affairs of a body corporate are managed by its members, the above provision applies in relation to the acts or defaults of a member in connection with his functions of management as if he were a director of the body corporate¹⁶.

Where the commission by any person of an offence under the above provisions is due to the act or default of some other person, that other person may be charged with and convicted of the offence whether or not proceedings for the offence are taken against the first-mentioned person¹⁷.

ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(3) PETROLEUM PRODUCTION/(ii) Offshore Workings and Installations/A. POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(C) Restrictions on Discharge of Chemicals from Offshore Installations/595. Requirement for permit to use or discharge offshore chemicals; permit applications and grant of permits.

(C) RESTRICTIONS ON DISCHARGE OF CHEMICALS FROM OFFSHORE INSTALLATIONS

595. Requirement for permit to use or discharge offshore chemicals; permit applications and grant of permits.

Subject to certain exceptions¹, no person may use² or discharge³ any offshore chemical⁴ in the relevant area⁵ after the prescribed date⁶ otherwise than in accordance with the terms of, and conditions attached to, a permit⁷. Contravention of this provision is an offence⁸.

A permit application⁹ must be made in writing¹⁰ and must contain:

- 1328 (1) a description of the offshore installation¹¹ on or from which the offshore chemical is to be used or discharged, and the location of the offshore installation in the relevant area;
- 1329 (2) a description of the proposed technology and other techniques for preventing or, where prevention is not possible, reducing the use or discharge of the offshore chemical from the offshore installation;
- 1330 (3) a description of the measures planned to monitor the use or discharge of the offshore chemical; and
- 1331 (4) an assessment of the risk of harm to the environment from the use and discharge of the offshore chemicals proposed¹².

The Secretary of State¹³ may by notice¹⁴ require a permit applicant either to produce such evidence as he may reasonably call for to verify any information provided in the permit application or to provide such other information as he may specify for the purposes of properly considering a permit application in accordance with the relevant regulations¹⁵.

Except where the permit application is one which is made:

- 1332 (a) in connection with a relevant project¹⁶ for which the Secretary of State gives a direction¹⁷ that no environmental statement¹⁸ need be prepared;
- 1333 (b) in connection with a discharge from a pipeline¹⁹, being a discharge to which the Secretary of State gives a consent pursuant to an authorisation issued under Part III of the Petroleum Act 1998²⁰; or
- 1334 (c) in connection with activities carried out in accordance with an abandonment programme approved by the Secretary of State under Part IV of that Act²¹, a permit applicant must:

- 1335 (i) having regard to the general whereabouts of any persons likely to be interested in, or affected by, the use or discharge of any chemical to which the permit application relates, make a copy of the permit application available for public inspection at an address in the United Kingdom²² between the hours of 10

- am and 4 pm on business days²³ for a period of not less than four weeks immediately following the publication (or last publication, where it is published in more than one newspaper or on more than one occasion) of the notice referred to in head (iv) below;
- 1336 (ii) make available at an address within the United Kingdom enough copies of the permit application to be likely to satisfy all reasonable demands for copies pursuant to head (iii) below;
- 1337 (iii) supply during the period mentioned in head (i) above a copy of the permit application²⁴;
- 1338 (iv) publish in such newspapers on such occasions as to be likely to come to the attention of any persons likely to be interested in, or affected by, the use or discharge of any chemical to which the permit application relates, a notice which contains the prescribed information²⁵; and
- 1339 (v) provide the Secretary of State with copies of the newspapers in which the notice referred to in head (iv) above appeared²⁶.

The Secretary of State may not grant a permit unless he is satisfied that there has been substantial compliance with heads (i) to (v) above²⁷. In considering whether to grant a permit, the Secretary of State must have regard to any opinion expressed by the consultation parties²⁸. Except where the permit application is one to which head (a), head (b) or head (c) above applies, he must also have regard to any opinion expressed by the general public²⁹. Where the Secretary of State grants a permit, he must send it to the permit applicant³⁰; and where he refuses a permit application, he must give notice of such refusal to the permit applicant³¹. The Secretary of State must publish in the Gazettes³² notice of the granting of any permit³³.

The Secretary of State may attach to any permit such conditions as he thinks fit³⁴; and may, without prejudice to the generality of that provision, attach to any permit such conditions as in his opinion are calculated to ensure that:

- 1340 (A) the quantity, frequency, location and duration of any permitted use or discharge of offshore chemicals are subject to appropriate restrictions;
- 1341 (B) any permit granted for the use or discharge of any offshore chemical requires the operator to seek a suitable, less hazardous substitute;
- 1342 (C) all appropriate measures are taken to prevent pollution³⁵ in particular through the appropriate use of technology to limit discharge, emissions and waste;
- 1343 (D) necessary measures are taken to prevent accidents affecting the environment or, where they occur, to limit their consequences in relation to the environment;
- 1344 (E) the appropriate monitoring of the use and discharge of offshore chemicals is facilitated, and such conditions may include provisions relating to measurement techniques, technology and frequency and to evaluation procedures and obligations to supply the Secretary of State with data required for checking compliance with the permit, including any data setting out the actual quantity, frequency and location of the use and discharge of any offshore chemicals which has occurred during a specified period;
- 1345 (F) long-distance or transboundary pollution is minimised; and
- 1346 (G) appropriate measures are taken in relation to conditions other than normal operating conditions including start-ups, leaks, malfunctions, temporary stoppages and permanent cessation of operations³⁶.

A permit may be granted for a period specified in it or without limit of time³⁷.

A fee may be charged for the grant of a permit³⁸ or with regard to its subsistence³⁹. There is a right of appeal to the High Court against a refusal to grant a permit⁴⁰.

1 be subject to the Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 3(2), (3): reg 3(1). Where a person is using or discharging any offshore chemical in connection with any offshore activity that began on or before 15 May 2002 (ie the date on which the 2002 Regulations came into force: see reg 1), that person may continue to use or discharge that offshore chemical until (1) such time as the Secretary of State may specify by notice; or (2) if no notice is given by the Secretary of State in accordance with head (1) above, the date after the day on which the period of two years commencing on the prescribed date expired: reg 3(2). 'Prescribed date' means the date after the day on which the period of three months commencing on 15 May 2002 expired, save that when a permit application was made before that date it means (a) the date on which the permit was granted, whether in pursuance of the application or, on an appeal under reg 17 (see PARA 603), of an order of the court; or (b) where a permit was refused and the permit applicant appealed under reg 17, the date on which the court upheld that refusal; or (c) the date after the day on which the period provided for under reg 17(6) expired, as the case may be: see reg 2. A person using or discharging an offshore chemical in accordance with reg 3(2) must provide the Secretary of State with such information as the Secretary of State may reasonably require for the purpose of performing his functions under the 2002 Regulations: reg 3(3). Failure to do so is an offence: see reg 18(1)(c); and PARA 604. As to the meanings of 'use', 'discharge' and 'offshore chemical' see notes 2-4.

'Notice' means notice in writing: reg 2. A written document may be sent, given or issued to the intended recipient by (i) delivering it to him; or (ii) leaving it at his proper address; or (iii) sending it by post to him at that address: reg 19(2) (reg 19 substituted by SI 2005/2055). 'Written document' includes an application, a permit, information, data, evidence, a representation or a notice under the 2002 Regulations: Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 19(1) (as so substituted). A written document may be sent, given or issued: (A) to a body corporate by being sent, given or issued to its secretary or clerk; (B) to a firm (including a Scottish partnership) by being sent, given or issued to a partner in the firm or to a person having management or control of the partnership business; (C) to an unincorporated body by being sent, given or issued to a member of its governing body: reg 19(3) (as so substituted). For these purposes, and for the purposes of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 7 in its application to this provision, the proper address (except in a case falling within the Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 19(7)) of (aa) the Secretary of State is the address of the principal office of the holder of the office of Secretary of State who for the time being exercises the functions of the Secretary of State under the 2002 Regulations; (bb) a body corporate is the address of its registered or principal office; (cc) a firm (including a Scottish partnership) or unincorporated body is the address of its principal office; (dd) any other person is his last known address: reg 19(4) (as so substituted). Where, by virtue of reg 19(1)-(4), the proper address of the intended recipient of a written document is outside the United Kingdom, references in reg 19 to the proper address of a body corporate, firm or unincorporated body include its principal office (if any) in the United Kingdom; and references to the proper address of any other person include his last known address in the United Kingdom (unless he is known no longer to have an address in the United Kingdom): reg 19(5) (as so substituted). If the person to whom a written document is to be sent, given or issued has furnished the person by whom the written document is to be sent, given or issued with an address pursuant to any provision of the 2002 Regulations, that address is also to be treated for these purposes as his proper address: reg 19(6) (as so substituted). Where a written document is to be sent, given or issued by means of an electronic communication, the proper address of any person includes the number or address which he has indicated is to be used by him for receipt of the communication (reg 19(7) (as so substituted)); and 'electronic communication' means a communication transmitted either by means of an electronic communications network or by other means but while in electronic form (reg 19(1) (as so substituted)). Regulation 19 is without prejudice to any other lawful method of giving or serving notice: reg 19(8) (as so substituted).

2 'Use', in relation to offshore chemicals, means any application in connection with offshore activities that might result in a discharge: Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 2.

3 'Discharge' means the operational release of offshore chemicals, or their degradation and transformation products, from an offshore installation into the relevant area: Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 2. 'Relevant area' means that area (together with places above and below it) comprising (1) those parts of the sea adjacent to England and Wales from the low-water mark to the landward baseline of the United Kingdom territorial sea; (2) the United Kingdom territorial sea apart from those areas comprised in Scottish controlled waters; and (3) those areas of sea in any area for the time being designated under the Continental Shelf Act 1964 s 1(7) (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1636); and 'Scottish controlled waters' means any waters which are controlled waters within the meaning of the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 30A(1) (s 30A applies to Scotland only and is outside the scope of this work): Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 2. As to the meaning of 'offshore installation' see note 11; and generally as to the territorial sea of the United Kingdom see WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 100 (2009) PARA 31.

4 'Offshore chemical' means any chemical, whether comprising a substance or a preparation, intentionally used in connection with offshore activities; 'substance' means a chemical element or compound, in the natural state or obtained by any production process, including any additive necessary to preserve the stability of the product or any impurity deriving from the process used, but excluding any solvent which may be separated without affecting the stability of the substance or changing its composition; 'preparation' means a mixture or solution composed of two or more substances; and 'offshore activities' means any activities in respect of which the Secretary of State exercises functions under the Petroleum Act 1998, being activities carried out in the relevant area: Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 2.

5 See note 3.

6 See note 1.

7 Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 3(1). 'Permit' means an authorisation granted by the Secretary of State pursuant to the 2002 Regulations to use or discharge any offshore chemical in the relevant area: reg 2.

8 See the Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 18(1)(a); and PARA 604.

9 'Permit application' means an application for a permit, being an application which satisfies the requirements of the Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 6(1) (see heads (1)-(4) in the text); and 'permit applicant' is to be construed accordingly: reg 2.

10 As to the use of electronic communications see note 1.

11 For these purposes, 'offshore installation' means any structure or other thing (including any floating production storage and off-loading system or floating storage unit, but not including a ship) in the relevant area which is used for the purposes of, or in connection with, offshore activities (as to which see note 4): Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 2.

12 Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 6(1).

13 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. See also FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 601 note 1.

14 In notice in writing: see note 1.

16 As to the meaning of 'relevant project' see PARA FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) 1645 note 2; definition applied by the Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 2.

17 In pursuant to the Offshore Petroleum Production and Pipelines (Assessment of Environmental Effects) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/360, reg 6: see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1647.

18 As to the meaning of 'environmental statement' see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1646 note 8.

19 For these purposes, 'pipeline' has the same meaning as in the Petroleum Act 1998 s 26 (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1741): Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 2.

21 In under the Petroleum Act 1998 Pt IV (ss 29-45): see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1729 et seq.

22 As to the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 2.

23 'Business day' means any day, except a Saturday, a Sunday, Christmas Day, Good Friday or a day which is a bank holiday in any part of the United Kingdom by virtue of the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971: Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 2.

24 Where a permit applicant is subject to an obligation to supply a copy of a permit application pursuant to a request made under the Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 7(1)(c) (see head (iii) in the text): (1) he must supply a copy of the permit application to the person requesting it as soon as reasonably practicable after receipt of the request; and (2) he may make the supply of a copy of the permit application conditional on the receipt by the permit applicant of a sum calculated by reference to the cost of printing and distributing copies of the permit application, subject to a maximum of £10 for each copy requested: reg 7(3).

25 The notice must: (1) describe the permit application; (2) give the address referred to in the Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 7(1)(a) (see head (i) in the text) at which a copy of the permit application may be inspected; (3) state that a copy of the permit application may be obtained from the address referred to in reg 7(1)(b) (see head (ii) in the text) and, subject to reg 7(3)(b) (see note 24 head (2)) specify the amount of any payment required to be tendered for a copy of the permit application; and (4) state a date not less than four weeks after the date on which the notice is to be last published by which any person may make representations in relation to the permit application to the Secretary of State and specify the address to which any such representations are to be sent: see reg 7(1)(d)(i)-(iv).

31 Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 4(4).

32 'Gazettes' means the London, Edinburgh and Belfast Gazettes: Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 2.

33 Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 4(5).

34 Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 5(1).

35 For these purposes, 'pollution' means the introduction by man, directly or indirectly, of substances or energy into the relevant area which results, or is likely to result, in hazards to human health, harm to living resources and marine ecosystems, damage to amenities or interference with other legitimate uses of the sea: Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 2.

37 Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 9.

38 See the Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 8(1), (2)(a). The Secretary of State may, in accordance with a charging scheme made by him for this purpose, charge operators fees in respect of any of the matters to which reg 8(2) applies: reg 8(1). As to those matters see note 39; and PARAS 597, 599. 'Operator' means any person who operates an offshore installation: reg 2. A charging scheme made under reg 8 must be so framed that the fees and charges payable under the scheme are sufficient, taking one year with another, to cover such expenditure as may be incurred by or on behalf of the Secretary of State in connection with any of the matters to which reg 8(1) applies: reg 8(3).

39 See the Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 8(2)(d).

596. Application for renewal of an existing permit.

Where an operator¹ proposes to continue to use² or discharge³ from an offshore installation⁴ an offshore chemical⁵ after the expiry of any period specified in the permit⁶, he may apply to the Secretary of State⁷ to renew the permit⁸. Such an application must be made in writing⁹ prior to, but no more than three months before, the expiry of the permit in question¹⁰.

The Secretary of State may renew a permit pursuant to such an application, provided that he has consulted the consultation parties¹¹ and taken into account any relevant representations made by them regarding the application¹². Where he so grants an application he may make the granting of the application subject to such further terms and conditions as he thinks fit and, once a notice¹³ giving details of such further terms and conditions has been served¹⁴ on the applicant, they are to have effect¹⁵.

Where the Secretary of State refuses such an application he must serve a notice on the applicant which states that the application is refused¹⁶. There is a right of appeal to the High Court against such a refusal¹⁷.

POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(C) Restrictions on Discharge of Chemicals from Offshore Installations/597. Variation of permit on application of operator.

597. Variation of permit on application of operator.

An operator¹ may apply in writing² for a variation of the terms and conditions of a permit³ relating to the use⁴ or discharge⁵ of an offshore chemical⁶ in the relevant area⁷.

Where the Secretary of State⁸ determines that a variation applied for by the operator would not be a substantial change⁹, he may grant the application and vary the terms and conditions of the permit accordingly provided that he has taken into account any relevant representations regarding the application made by the consultation parties¹⁰. Where he so grants an application, he may make the granting of the application subject to such further conditions as he thinks fit¹¹. Where such an application is granted, the Secretary of State must issue to the applicant a notice¹² giving details of the revised terms and conditions and the revised terms and conditions are to have effect once this notice has been served¹³ on the applicant¹⁴. A fee may be charged for the variation of a permit or the conditions to which it is subject¹⁵.

Where the Secretary of State determines that the change would be a substantial change he must refuse the application and serve a notice on the applicant which states that the proposed change would, in the opinion of the Secretary of State, be a substantial change and that the application is refused¹⁶. There is a right of appeal to the High Court against such a refusal¹⁷.

ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(3) PETROLEUM PRODUCTION/(ii) Offshore Workings and Installations/A. POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(C) Restrictions on Discharge of Chemicals from Offshore Installations/598. Reconsideration of permits and permit conditions.

598. Reconsideration of permits and permit conditions.

The Secretary of State¹ may at such intervals as he thinks fit review any permit² granted in accordance with the relevant regulations³, together with the conditions attached to the permit⁴; and he must review the conditions of a permit where in his opinion the pollution⁵ or risk of pollution caused by the use⁶ or discharge⁷ of an offshore chemical⁸ is of such significance that any existing restrictions on the quantity, frequency or location of the use or discharge of that offshore chemical contained in a permit should be revised or new restrictions on the quantity, frequency or location should be included in the permit⁹.

Where the Secretary of State considers that the conditions of a permit should be revised he must give notice¹⁰ to the operator¹¹ concerned of his intention to revise the permit and that notice must:

- 1347 (1) give details of the conditions of the revised permit; and
- 1348 (2) specify a day (not less than 14 days after the day on which such notice is given) on which the revised permit will have effect¹².

The operator may make representations in writing¹³ as to whether the permit should be revised and as to the conditions of the revised permit¹⁴. Where no representations are received prior to the day specified under head (2) above, the permit is to be revised with effect from that day¹⁵. Where, however, representations are received prior to that day, the Secretary of State must consider them in determining whether or not the permit should be revised as originally notified¹⁶ and may determine:

- 1349 (a) that the permit is to be revised with effect from a later day than the day specified under head (2) above; and
- 1350 (b) that the permit is to be revised otherwise than as originally notified¹⁷.

In exercising his powers under the above provisions, the Secretary of State may take into account any relevant representations made by the consultation parties¹⁸.

The operator has a right of appeal to the High Court against the Secretary of State's decision¹⁹.

599. Revocation and surrender of permits.

The Secretary of State¹ may by notice² revoke a permit³ granted pursuant to the relevant regulations⁴ where he is of the opinion that an application for the grant, renewal or variation of the permit in question contained any information or statement which was false or misleading in a material particular or where the operator in question has been guilty of a breach of any condition attached to the permit⁵. The operator⁶ has the right of appeal to the High Court⁷.

An operator to whom a permit has been granted may surrender the permit by notice to the Secretary of State⁸.

A fee may be charged for the surrender of a permit⁹.

600. Register to be kept by, and information to be given to, the Secretary of State.

The Secretary of State¹ must keep a register at a place in the United Kingdom² in which he must cause to be entered:

- 1351 (1) the terms and conditions of any permits³ granted under the relevant regulations⁴; and
- 1352 (2) the results of any monitoring information required to be sent to him under the conditions of any permit⁵.

The register must be open to public inspection on business days⁶ from 10 am until 4 pm⁷.

The operator⁸ must forthwith provide the Secretary of State with details of any incident or accident involving an offshore chemical⁹:

- 1353 (a) where there has been a breach of the permit or any of its conditions; or
- 1354 (b) where there has been, or may be, any significant effect¹⁰ on the environment¹¹.

Failure to do so is an offence¹².

POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(C) Restrictions on Discharge of Chemicals from Offshore Installations/601. Appointment of inspectors.

601. Appointment of inspectors.

The Secretary of State¹ may, if he thinks fit, appoint one or more inspectors:

- 1355 (1) to investigate whether the requirements, restrictions or prohibitions imposed by or under the relevant regulations² have been, or are being complied with; or
- 1356 (2) to monitor the use³ or discharge⁴ of any offshore chemical⁵; and the inspectors must report to the Secretary of State in such manner as he may direct⁶.

An inspector so appointed may, for any of the purposes mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above and on producing evidence of his appointment:

- 1357 (a) at any reasonable time (or, in a situation which in his opinion may give rise to a risk of significant pollution⁷ to the environment as a result of the use or discharge from an offshore installation⁸ of an offshore chemical, at any time) board any offshore installation;
- 1358 (b) on boarding an offshore installation take with him any other person authorised for those purposes by the Secretary of State and any equipment or materials that he thinks he may require;
- 1359 (c) make such examination or investigation as he considers necessary (including any examination or investigation of an offshore installation, for which purpose he may install or maintain monitoring or other apparatus on the offshore installation);
- 1360 (d) give a direction requiring that any part of the offshore installation be left undisturbed (whether generally or in particular respects) for so long as reasonably necessary for the purposes of any examination or investigation under head (c) above;
- 1361 (e) take such measurements and photographs and make such recordings as he considers necessary for the purpose of any examination or investigation under head (c) above;
- 1362 (f) take samples of any articles or substances found on the offshore installation or in the atmosphere or any land, sea bed (including the subsoil thereof) or water in the vicinity of the offshore installation;
- 1363 (g) in the case of any article or substance⁹ which he finds on the offshore installation, cause it to be dismantled or subjected to any process or test (but not so as to damage or destroy it unless, in the circumstances of the case, that is necessary);
- 1364 (h) in the case of any such article or substance as is mentioned in head (g) above, take possession of it and detain it for so long as is necessary for all or any of the following purposes, namely:

- 105. (i) to examine it and do to it anything which he has power to do under that provision;

106. (ii) to ensure that it is not tampered with before his examination of it is completed; and
107. (iii) to ensure that it is available for use as evidence in any proceedings for an offence under the relevant regulations¹⁰;
- 150
1365 (i) require any person who he has reasonable cause to believe is able to give any information relevant to any examination or investigation under head (c) above:
- 151
108. (i) to attend at a place and time specified by the inspector;
109. (ii) to answer (in the absence of any person other than persons whom the inspector may allow to be present and a person nominated to be present by the person on whom the requirement is imposed) such questions as the inspector thinks fit to ask; and
110. (iii) to sign a declaration of truth of his answers¹¹;
- 152
1366 (j) require the production of, and inspect and take copies of or of any entry in:
- 153
111. (i) any records which by virtue of any provision of any permit¹² granted under the relevant regulations are required to be kept;
112. (ii) any records which he considers it necessary for him to see for the purposes of any examination or investigation under head (c) above¹³; and
1367 (k) require any person to afford him such facilities and assistance with respect to any matters or things within that person's control or in relation to which that person has responsibilities as the inspector considers are necessary to enable him to exercise any of the powers conferred on him by these provisions¹⁴.

A fee may be charged for the testing or analysis of substances, the validating of, or of the results of, any testing or analysis of substances and assessing how the environment might be affected by the release into it of any substances; but this only applies in cases where the testing, analysis, validating or assessing is in any way in anticipation of, or otherwise in connection with, the making of permit applications or is carried out in pursuance of conditions to which any permit is subject¹⁵.

It is an offence wilfully to obstruct an inspector or to fail, without reasonable excuse, to comply with a requirement imposed in pursuance of heads (a) to (k) above¹⁶.

11 An answer given by a person in compliance with a requirement imposed under the Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 16(3)(i) (see head (i) in the text) is admissible in evidence in England and Wales or Northern Ireland against that person in any proceedings or, in Scotland, against that person in criminal proceedings: reg 16(5). In criminal proceedings in which such a person is charged with an offence to which reg 16(6) applies, no evidence relating to that person's answer may be adduced and no question relating to it may be asked by or on behalf of the prosecution unless evidence relating to it is adduced by or on behalf of that person: reg 16(6). Regulation 16(6) applies to any offence other than one under: (1) reg 18(1)(e)(ii) (see PARA 604); (2) the Perjury Act 1911 s 5 (false statements made otherwise than on oath) (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 717); (3) the corresponding provisions under the law of Scotland or Northern Ireland: see the Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 16(7).

13 Nothing in the Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 16 is to be taken to compel the production by any person of a document of which he would on ground of legal professional privilege be entitled to withhold production on an order for disclosure or discovery in a claim in the High Court or the High Court in Northern Ireland or, in relation to Scotland, on an order for the production of documents in an action in the Court of Session: see reg 16(8).

ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(3) PETROLEUM PRODUCTION/(ii) Offshore Workings and Installations/A. POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(C) Restrictions on Discharge of Chemicals from Offshore Installations/602. Enforcement and prohibition notices.

602. Enforcement and prohibition notices.

If the Secretary of State¹ is of the opinion that any person has contravened or is contravening any condition of a permit² or is likely to contravene any such condition, the Secretary of State or an inspector appointed by him³ may serve on the operator⁴ a notice in writing (an 'enforcement notice') which:

- 1368 (1) states that the Secretary of State is of that opinion;
- 1369 (2) specifies the matters which constitute, constituted or, as the case may be, are likely to constitute the contravention;
- 1370 (3) specifies the steps that must be taken to remedy or, as the case maybe, prevent the contravention, including steps that must be taken to remedy any pollution⁵ caused by the contravention; and
- 1371 (4) specifies the period within which those steps must be taken⁶.

Where a person to whom an enforcement notice is addressed has failed to take the action required by it within such time as may be specified by it and such a notice has not been revoked⁷, the Secretary of State may undertake any action so required and the reasonable costs and expenses of his so doing are recoverable as a debt from that person⁸. A person to whom an enforcement notice is addressed must afford such assistance as the Secretary of State may reasonably require for the purpose of facilitating the exercise of any powers so conferred on him⁹.

The exercise by the Secretary of State of any power conferred by the above provisions is without prejudice to the exercise by him of any other power under any other provision¹⁰ of the relevant regulations¹¹.

If the Secretary of State is of the opinion that the operation of an offshore installation¹² involves an imminent risk of serious pollution as a consequence of any use¹³ or discharge¹⁴ of offshore chemicals¹⁵, the Secretary of State or an inspector appointed by him¹⁶ may serve a notice in writing (a 'prohibition notice') on the operator of the installation¹⁷. A prohibition notice may be served whether or not the risk relates to the contravention of a permit and may relate to any aspects of the operation of the offshore installation, whether or not regulated by the conditions of such a permit¹⁸. A prohibition notice:

- 1372 (a) must state that the Secretary of State is of the opinion mentioned above;
- 1373 (b) must specify the risk involved in the operation of the offshore installation;
- 1374 (c) must specify the steps that must be taken to remove it and the period within which they must be taken; and
- 1375 (d) may direct that any permit is, until the notice is withdrawn wholly or in part¹⁹, to cease to have effect; and, where the direction applies to part only of the operation of the offshore installation, it may impose conditions to be observed in carrying on that part of the operation which is authorised under the relevant permit²⁰.

It is the duty of the person to whom the prohibition notice is addressed to comply with its terms save to the extent that it is withdrawn wholly or in part²¹.

The service of a prohibition notice is without prejudice to the exercise by any person of any power under any other provision²² of the relevant regulations²³.

Failure to comply with the terms of an enforcement notice or prohibition notice is an offence²⁴.

603. Appeals to the High Court.

Any permit applicant¹ or any operator² aggrieved by a decision of the Secretary of State³ made under the relevant regulations⁴ may appeal to the court⁵. Such an appeal must be made within 28 days of written notification⁶ of the decision in question⁷.

Unless the court otherwise orders, any decision of the Secretary of State which is the subject of such an appeal is to remain in force pending a final disposal of that appeal⁸.

2 As to the meaning of 'operator' see PARA 595 note 38.

5 Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 17(1). Subject to reg 17(4), 'court' means (1) in respect of a decision relating to the use or discharge of an offshore chemical in the English area, the High Court; (2) in respect of a decision relating to the use or discharge of an offshore chemical in the Scottish area (excluding Scottish controlled waters), the Court of Session; and (3) in respect of a decision relating to the use or discharge of an offshore chemical in the Northern Irish area, the High Court in Northern Ireland: reg 17(2). For these purposes, 'English area', 'Scottish area' and 'Northern Irish area' have the same meanings as in the Civil Jurisdiction (Offshore Activities) Order 1987, SI 1987/2197 (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1656 note 6): Offshore Chemicals Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1355, reg 17(3). Where an offshore chemical is used or discharged or is to be used or discharged in more than one of the areas referred to in reg 17(2), (3), any of the courts having jurisdiction in the area or areas where the offshore chemical is used or discharged or is to be used or discharged has jurisdiction in relation to the decision in question: reg 17(4). ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(3) PETROLEUM PRODUCTION/(ii) Offshore Workings and Installations/A. POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(C) Restrictions on Discharge of Chemicals from Offshore Installations/604. Offences.

604. Offences.

A person is guilty of an offence if he:

- 1376 (1) contravenes the prohibition on the use or discharge of offshore chemicals without a permit¹;
 - 1377 (2) fails to supply any information required to be supplied by virtue of the specified statutory provisions²;
 - 1378 (3) fails to supply any information required to be supplied by virtue of the terms of any permit granted under the relevant regulations³;
 - 1379 (4) knowingly or recklessly⁴ makes a statement which he knows to be false or misleading in a material particular where such a statement:
- 155
- 113. (a) is made in connection with or for the purposes of any permit application⁵ or any application for the renewal or variation of a permit⁶; or
 - 114. (b) is made for the purposes of satisfying any requirement under the relevant regulations for the supply of information to the Secretary of State⁷ or an inspector appointed by him⁸;
- 156
- 1380 (5) wilfully obstructs an inspector appointed by the Secretary of State⁹;
 - 1381 (6) without reasonable excuse fails to comply with a requirement imposed by an inspector¹⁰ or prevents another person from complying with such a requirement; or
 - 1382 (7) fails to comply with the terms of an enforcement notice or a prohibition notice¹¹.

Where, however, a person is charged with an offence under head (1) above, it is a defence to prove that the contravention:

- 1383 (i) arose as a result of something which could not have been reasonably prevented by him; or
- 1384 (ii) was due to something done as a matter of urgency for the purposes of securing the safety of any person¹².

Proceedings for an offence under these provisions may be taken, and the offence may for all incidental purposes be treated as having been committed, in any part of the United Kingdom¹³. A person guilty of such an offence is liable to a fine¹⁴.

Where an offence under these provisions by a body corporate is proved to have been committed with the consent or connivance of, or to have been attributable to any neglect on the part of, any director, manager, secretary or other similar officer of the body corporate or a person who was purporting to act in any such capacity, he as well as the body corporate is guilty of an offence and is liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly¹⁵; and where the affairs of a body corporate are managed by its members, the above provision applies in relation to the acts or defaults of a member in connection with his functions of management as if he were a director of the body corporate¹⁶.

Where the commission by any person of an offence under these provisions is due to the act or default of some other person, that other person may be charged with and convicted of the offence whether or not proceedings for the offence are taken against the first-mentioned person¹⁷.

ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(3) PETROLEUM PRODUCTION/(ii) Offshore Workings and Installations/A. POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(D) Restrictions on Operation of Offshore Combustion Installations/605. Requirement for permit to operate combustion installation; application for permit.

(D) RESTRICTIONS ON OPERATION OF OFFSHORE COMBUSTION INSTALLATIONS

605. Requirement for permit to operate combustion installation; application for permit.

No person may operate a qualifying offshore combustion installation¹ after the prescribed date² otherwise than in accordance with the terms of, and conditions attached to, a permit granted³ in accordance with the relevant regulations⁴; but this did not apply to the operation of an existing qualifying offshore combustion installation⁵ before 30 October 2007 except where that installation was the subject of a change which in the opinion of the Secretary of State⁶ was a substantial change⁷.

An application for the grant of a permit⁸ must be in writing⁹ and must contain a description of:

- 1385 (1) the installation and its activities;
- 1386 (2) the materials, substances and energy used in or generated by the installation;
- 1387 (3) the sources of emissions from the installation;
- 1388 (4) the conditions of the site of the installation;
- 1389 (5) the nature and quantities of foreseeable emissions from the installation into each medium as well as identification of significant effects of the emissions on the environment;
- 1390 (6) the proposed technology and other techniques for preventing or, where this is not possible, reducing emissions from the installation;
- 1391 (7) where necessary, measures for the prevention and recovery of waste generated by the installation;
- 1392 (8) measures planned to deal with the specified matters¹⁰;
- 1393 (9) measures planned to monitor emissions into the environment; and
- 1394 (10) the main alternatives (if any) studied by the applicant, in outline¹¹.

An application for a permit must also include a non-technical summary of the details referred to in heads (1) to (10) above¹². Where any of the information referred to in those heads is contained in a relevant environmental statement¹³, an application for a permit need not specify that information provided that it is accompanied by a copy of the environmental statement¹⁴.

Where the Secretary of State receives an application for a permit he must publish a notice in the Gazettes¹⁵ and by any other means he considers appropriate (which may include an electronic communication)¹⁶. A notice so published must:

- 1395 (a) state that a copy of the application may be obtained on request¹⁷;
- 1396 (b) specify an address from which such a copy may be obtained;
- 1397 (c) specify a date not less than four weeks after the date of publication in the Gazettes or, if the notice is not published on the same day in each Gazette, the last such date of publication, by which persons may make representations regarding the application;

1398 (d) specify an address to which such representations are to be sent;

1399 (e) state, where applicable, the fact that a decision is subject to a national or transboundary environmental impact assessment¹⁸; and 1400 (f) state the nature of possible decisions in response to the application¹⁹.

The Secretary of State must take such steps as he considers appropriate to ensure that additional information²⁰ is made available to the public forthwith so that comments may be made by persons affected by or with an interest in an application²¹. Where additional information is so made available to the public, the Secretary of State must take such steps as he considers appropriate, having regard to the particular circumstances of the case, to allow persons affected by or with an interest in an application to make representations in respect of the application before a permit is granted²².

Where the Secretary of State is aware that the operation of an offshore combustion installation is likely to have a significant effect on the environment of an EEA state²³, or where that state so requests, the Secretary of State must²⁴ forward the information made public²⁵ to the state in question as soon as possible and no later than the date it is made available to the public, except in a case where a request is made by the EEA state after that date²⁶. Where the Secretary of State has supplied a copy of an application for a permit pursuant to the above provision, he must indicate to the EEA state in question the date on which the decision in relation to the granting of the permit is likely to be made and an address to which any representations should be sent, and must take into account any such representations received from persons in those EEA states²⁷.

Nothing in the above provisions regarding publicity²⁸ requires the disclosure of any information which is by virtue of the law of any part of the United Kingdom²⁹ subject to an obligation of confidentiality and:

1401 (i) which relates to an individual; or

1402 (ii) the disclosure of which might adversely affect the interests in a business of any person carrying on that business³⁰;

but this does not prevent the disclosure of other information included with information subject to such an obligation and to which head (i) or head (ii) above applies where that other information can be separated from the information so protected from disclosure³¹.

1 'Qualifying offshore combustion installation' means any combustion installation (other than one which has been rendered inoperable by being wholly or partially dismantled) which (1) is permanently installed on a platform; and (2) on its own or together with any other combustion installation installed on the same site (excluding any installation that has been rendered inoperable by complete or partial dismantling) has a rated thermal input exceeding 50 megawatts: Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 2. 'Combustion installation' means any technical apparatus in which fuels are oxidised to use the heat thus generated and includes gas turbines and diesel and petrol-fired engines and any equipment on a platform connected to such apparatus which could have an effect on emissions from that apparatus or could otherwise give rise to pollution but does not include any apparatus the main use of which is the disposal of gas by flaring or incineration; and 'pollution' includes in particular the discharge or emission into the environment of those substances listed in reg 2, Sch 2: reg 2. The main polluting substances which are so listed are as follows (Sch 2), ie:

5 (a) substances affecting air:

1. (i) sulphur dioxide and other sulphur compounds;

2. (ii) oxides of nitrogen and other nitrogen compounds;

3. (iii) carbon monoxide;
 4. (iv) volatile organic compounds (including methane);
 5. (v) metals and their compounds;
 6. (vi) dust;
6
 7. (vii) asbestos (suspended particulates, fibres);
 8. (viii) chlorine and its compounds;
8
 9. (ix) fluorine and its compounds;
9
 10. (x) arsenic and its compounds;
10
 11. (xi) cyanides; and
11
 12. (xii) substances and preparations which are capable of passing through the air and which have been proved to possess carcinogenic or mutagenic properties or properties which may affect reproduction;
12
- 6 (b) substances affecting water:
13. (i) organohalogen compounds and substances which may form such compounds in the aquatic environment;
13
 14. (ii) organophosphorus compounds;
14
 15. (iii) organotin compounds;
15
 16. (iv) substances and preparations which have been proved to possess carcinogenic or mutagenic properties or properties which may affect reproduction in or via the aquatic environment;
16
 17. (v) persistent hydrocarbons and persistent bioaccumulable organic toxic substances;
17
 18. (vi) cyanides;
18
 19. (vii) metals and their compounds;
19
 20. (viii) arsenic and its compounds;
20
 21. (ix) biocides;
21
 22. (x) materials in suspension;
22
 23. (xi) substances which contribute to eutrophication (in particular, nitrates and phosphates); and 23
 24. (xii) substances which have an unfavourable influence on the oxygen balance (and can be measured using parameters including biological oxygen demand or chemical oxygen demand).
24

'Platform' means any fixed or floating structure situated in the relevant area which: (A) is used for the purposes of or in connection with the production of petroleum; and (B) in the case of a floating structure, is maintained on a station during the course of production; but does not include any structure where the principal purpose of the use of the structure is the establishment of the existence of petroleum or the appraisal of its characteristics, quality or quantity or the characteristics or extent of any reservoir in which it occurs; 'petroleum' includes any mineral oil or relative hydrocarbon and natural gas existing in its natural condition in strata, but does not include coal or bituminous shales or other stratified deposits from which oil can be extracted by destructive distillation; and 'relevant area' means the area (together with places above and below it) comprising (aa) those parts of the sea adjacent to England and Wales from the low-water mark to the landward baseline of the United Kingdom territorial sea; (bb) the United Kingdom territorial sea apart from those areas comprised in Scottish controlled waters; and (cc) those areas of sea in any area for the time being designated under the Continental Shelf Act 1964 s 1(7) (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1636): Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 2. 'Scottish controlled waters' means any waters which are controlled waters within the meaning of the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 30A(1) (s 30A applies to Scotland only and is outside the scope of this work): Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 2. Generally as to the territorial sea of the United Kingdom see WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 100 (2009) PARA 31.

2 'Prescribed date' means the date after the day on which the period of five months commencing on 19 March 2001 (ie the day on which the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, came into force: see reg 1) expired, save that where an application for a permit was made under reg 5 before that date it means: (1) the date on which the permit was granted whether in pursuance of the application or, on an appeal under reg 17 (see PARA 613), of an order of the court; or (2) where a permit was refused and the applicant appealed under reg 17 the date on which the court upheld that refusal; or (3) the date after the day on which the period provided for under reg 17(6) expired, as the case may be: reg 2.

3 Ie granted in accordance with the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091: see the text and notes 4-31; and PARA 606 et seq.

4 Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 3(1).

5 'Existing qualifying offshore combustion installation' means any qualifying offshore combustion installation which (1) was in operation on any platform before 30 October 1999; or (2) was in, or was put into, operation before 1 November 2000 in accordance with a consent granted by the Secretary of State pursuant to any licence granted or having effect as if granted under the provisions of the Petroleum Act 1998, the application for such consent having been made before 30 October 1999: Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 2.

6 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. See also FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 601 note 1.

7 Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 3(2). 'Substantial change' means (1) a change the extent of which is greater than a rated thermal input of 50 megawatts; or (2) a change in operation which may have significant negative effects on people or the environment: reg 2 (definition substituted by SI 2007/938).

8 Ie a permit under the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 4: see PARA 606.

9 A written document may be sent, given or issued to the intended recipient by (1) delivering it to him; or (2) leaving it at his proper address; or (3) sending it by post to him at that address; and for these purposes 'written document' includes an application, a permit, information, data, evidence, a representation or a notice under the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091: reg 19(1), (2) (reg 19 substituted by SI 2005/2055). 'Notice' means notice in writing or by such means of electronic communication as the Secretary of State may decide: Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 2. A written document may be sent, given or issued (a) to a body corporate by being sent, given or issued to its secretary or clerk; (b) to a firm (including a Scottish partnership) by being sent, given or issued to a partner in the firm or to a person having management or control of the partnership business; (c) to an unincorporated body by being sent, given or issued to a member of its governing body: reg 19(3) (as so substituted). For these purposes and the purposes of the Interpretation Act 1978 s 7 in its application to this provision, the proper address (except in a case falling within the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 19(7)) of (i) the Secretary of State is the address of the principal office of the holder of the office of Secretary of State who for the time being exercises the functions of the Secretary of State under the 2001 Regulations; (ii) a body corporate is the address of its registered or principal office; (iii) a firm (including a Scottish partnership) or unincorporated body is the address of its principal office; (iv) any other person is his last known address: reg 19(4) (as so substituted). Where, by virtue of reg 19(1)-(4), the proper address of the intended recipient of a written document is outside the United Kingdom, references in reg 19 to the proper address of (A) a body corporate, firm or unincorporated body include its principal office (if any) in the United Kingdom; (B) any other person include his last known address in the United Kingdom (unless he is known no longer to have an address in the United Kingdom): reg 19(5) (as so substituted). If the person to whom a written document is to be sent, given or issued has furnished the person by whom the written document is to be sent, given or issued with an address pursuant to any provision of the 2001 Regulations, that address is also to be treated for these purposes as his proper address: reg 19(6) (as so substituted). Where a written document is to be sent, given or issued by means of an electronic communication, the proper address of any person includes the number or address which he has indicated is to be used by him for receipt of the communication: reg 19(7) (as so substituted). Regulation 19 (ie amended so as to revoke the definition of 'electronic communication' previously set out therein by SI 2007/938) is without prejudice to any other lawful method of giving or serving notice: Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 19(8) (as so substituted). 'Electronic communication' means a communication transmitted (whether from one person to another, from one device to another or from a person to a device or vice versa) while in an electronic form: reg 2 (definition added by SI 2007/938).

10 Ie the matters referred to in the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 4(2): see PARA 606.

11 Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 5(1) (amended by SI 2007/938).

12 Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 5(2).

13 'Relevant environmental statement' means, in relation to a qualifying offshore combustion installation, an environmental statement which contains information regarding the effects on the environment of the operation of the installation in question; and 'environmental statement' means an environmental statement within the meaning of the Offshore Petroleum and Pipelines (Assessment of Environmental Effects) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/968, reg 2(1) (revoked) or the Offshore Petroleum and Pipelines (Assessment of Environmental Effects) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/360, reg 3(1) (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1646 note 8): Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 2.

14 Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 5(3).

15 'Gazettes' means the London, Edinburgh and Belfast Gazettes: Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 2.

16 Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 7(1) (substituted by SI 2007/938).

17 Subject to the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 7(5) (see the text and notes 28-30), where the Secretary of State receives a request in relation to an application for a permit prior to the granting of that permit, he must forthwith supply to the person requesting it a copy of the application in question: reg 7(2).

18 Ie pursuant to the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 7(3) or (4): see the text and notes 23-27.

19 Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 7(1A) (reg 7(1A)-(1C), (3A), (7) added by SI 2007/938).

20 For these purposes, 'additional information' means any other information of material relevance to the Secretary of State's decision that becomes available to the Secretary of State after an application for a permit has been submitted to him: Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 7(7) (as added: see note 19).

21 Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 7(1B) (as added: see note 19).

22 Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 7(1C) (as added: see note 19).

23 'EEA state' means a member state, Norway, Iceland or Liechtenstein: Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 2 (definition substituted by SI 2007/938).

24 le subject to the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 7(3A), (5). Regulation 7(3) only applies where the Secretary of State has received an application for a permit within the meaning of EC Council Directive 96/61 (OJ L257, 10.10.96, p 26) art 4 or art 12(2): Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 7(3A) (as added: see note 19). Directive 96/61 is repealed and replaced by European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2008/1 (OJ L24, 29.1.2008, p 8) concerning integrated pollution prevention and control (Codified version): see PARAS 6, 18. References to the repealed Directive are to be construed as references to the new Directive: art 22.

25 le pursuant to the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 7(1), (1B): see the text and notes 18-21.

26 Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 7(3) (reg 7(3), (4) amended by SI 2007/938).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/9. ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(3) PETROLEUM PRODUCTION/(ii) Offshore Workings and Installations/A. POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(D) Restrictions on Operation of Offshore Combustion Installations/606. Grant of permit.

606. Grant of permit.

Where the Secretary of State¹ receives an application for a permit², he may grant that application provided that:

- 1403 (1) he has taken into account any relevant environmental statement³ and any representations regarding the application made by the public or made by any EEA state⁴ affected by the operation of the combustion installation⁵; and
- 1404 (2) he is satisfied that there has been substantial compliance with the prescribed requirements⁶ regarding publicity for the application⁷.

The Secretary of State must⁸ attach to every permit so granted by him conditions which in his opinion are framed in such a way as to ensure that:

- 1405 (a) all appropriate measures are taken to prevent pollution⁹, in particular through application of best available techniques¹⁰;
- 1406 (b) no significant pollution is caused;
- 1407 (c) where possible the production of non-gaseous waste is avoided by:

- 115. (i) the use of clean technologies more sparing in their use of natural resources; or
- 116. (ii) the use of products designed to reduce the amount or harmfulness of waste,

158

- 1408 and that where waste is produced, it is recovered or, where that is technically and economically impossible, it is disposed of in such a way as to avoid or reduce any impact on the environment¹¹;

- 1409 (d) subject to the attainment of the objective set out in head (a) above, energy is used efficiently;

- 1410 (e) necessary measures are taken to prevent accidents affecting the environment or where they occur to limit their consequences in relation to the environment;

- 1411 (f) necessary measures are taken upon the final cessation of use of the combustion installation to avoid any pollution risk and to decommission and remove the installation;

- 1412 (g) taking into account the technical characteristics of the installation concerned, its geographical location, local environmental conditions and best available techniques and having regard to the potential for the transfer of the pollution in question from one medium¹² to another, there are controls on the emission of pollutants likely to be emitted from the combustion installation in significant quantities in the form of:

- 117. (i) emission value limits¹³ for such pollutants;
- 118. (ii) where the Secretary of State considers this to be more appropriate, equivalent parameters or technical measures; or

119. (iii) a combination of emission value limits and equivalent parameters and technical measures,
- 160
- 1413 without in any case prescribing the use of any technique or specific technology¹⁴;
- 1414 (h) where necessary, there are appropriate requirements ensuring protection of the soil and ground water and measures concerning waste generated by the installation;
- 1415 (i) there are suitable release monitoring requirements relating to the release of pollutants, specifying measurement methodology and frequency, evaluation procedure and an obligation to supply the Secretary of State with data required for checking compliance with the permit;
- 1416 (j) there are appropriate provisions to minimise long-distance or transboundary pollution; and
- 1417 (k) where in the opinion of the Secretary of State there is a risk to the environment from these, there are measures relating to conditions other than normal operating conditions including start-up, leaks, malfunctions, momentary stoppages and definitive cessation of operations¹⁵.

Heads (a) to (k) above do not, however, apply to the extent that the Secretary of State is satisfied that the matters referred to therein are adequately dealt with by or under the provisions of any other enactment¹⁶.

In addition to any conditions required to be attached to any permit by virtue of heads (a) to (k) above, the Secretary of State may attach to a permit such other conditions as he thinks fit¹⁷.

Where the Secretary of State grants a permit he must send it to the applicant¹⁸. A fee may be charged for the grant of a permit or in respect of its subsistence¹⁹. The Secretary of State must publish in the Gazette²⁰ notice of the granting of any permit²¹.

Where the Secretary of State refuses an application for the grant of a permit he must give notice²² of such refusal to the applicant²³. There is a right of appeal to the High Court against the refusal of a permit²⁴.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. See also FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 601 note 1.

2 Ie in accordance with the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 5: see PARA 605.

3 As to the meaning of 'relevant environmental statement' see PARA 605 note 13.

4 As to the meaning of 'EEA state' see PARA 605 note 23.

5 As to the meaning of 'combustion installation' see PARA 605 note 1.

6 Ie with the requirements of the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 7: see PARA 605.

7 Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 4(1). This is subject to reg 4(3) (see the text and note 16): reg 4(1).

8 Ie subject to the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 4(3) (see the text and note 16) and reg 4(4) (see note 11): reg 4(2). This was also expressed to be subject to reg 4(4A) (see note 14): reg 4(2) (amended by SI 2003/3311 (revoked with savings)). As to the status of that provision, however, see note 14.

9 As to the meaning of 'pollution' see PARA 605 note 1.

10 'Best available techniques' means, having regard to the matters set out in the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 2, Sch 1, the most effective and advanced stage in the development of combustion installations and their methods of operation which can be practically applied on platforms and which allows the setting of emission value limits to reduce or, where possible, eliminate emissions into, and effects on, the environment as a whole from the operation of such installations; and for the purposes of this definition (1) 'available techniques' means those techniques which can be implemented on platforms under economically and technically viable conditions, balancing the costs of their implementation against the benefits to the environment; (2) 'best' means, in relation to techniques, the most effective in achieving a high general level of protection of the environment as a whole; and (3) 'techniques' includes both the technology used and the way in which the installation is designed, built, maintained, operated and decommissioned: reg 2. As to the meaning of 'platform' see PARA 605 note 1; and as to the meaning of 'emission value limit' see note 13.

The matters to be taken into account when determining best available techniques, bearing in mind the likely costs and benefits of a measure and the principles of precaution and prevention, are as follows (Sch 1), namely:

- 7 (a) the use of low waste technology;
- 8 (b) the use of less hazardous substances;
- 9 (c) the furthering of recovery and recycling of substances generated and used in the process and of waste, where appropriate;
- 10 (d) comparable processes, facilities or methods of operation which have been tried with success on an industrial scale;
- 11 (e) technological advances and changes in scientific knowledge and understanding;
- 12 (f) the nature, effects and quantity of emissions concerned;
- 13 (g) the commissioning dates for new or existing installations;
- 14 (h) the length of time needed to introduce the best available technique;
- 15 (i) the consumption and nature of raw materials (including water) used in the process and their energy efficiency;
- 16 (j) the need to prevent or reduce to a minimum the overall impact of the emissions on the environment and the risks to it;
- 17 (k) the need to prevent accidents and to minimise the consequences for the environment; and
- 18 (l) the information published by the European Commission pursuant to EC Council Directive 96/61 (OJ L257, 10.10.96, p 26) art 16(2) (see below) concerning integrated pollution prevention and control or by international organisations.

In regard to head (12) above Directive 96/61 is repealed and replaced by European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2008/1 (OJ L24, 29.1.2008, p 8) concerning integrated pollution prevention and control (Codified version): see PARAS 6, 18. References to the repealed Directive are to be construed as references to the new Directive: art 22.

11 Where an application for a permit includes details of any plan designed to reduce pollution from the combustion installation in question, the Secretary of State may include derogations from any condition imposed in compliance with the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 4(2)(c) (see head (c) in the text) provided that such derogations are limited to the period of six months following the grant of the permit: reg 4(4).

12 'Medium' means the air, water or, as the case may be, land or the sea bed (including its subsoil): Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 2.

13 'Emission value limit' in relation to a polluting substance includes any limit expressed in terms of the emission of a mass of that substance over any given period: Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 2.

14 Subject to the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 4(4B), where emissions of a pollutant from an installation or a part of an installation were the subject of conditions imposed pursuant to the Greenhouse Gas Emissions Trading Scheme Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3311, reg 10(2), (3) (revoked), the Secretary of State might not under the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 4(2)(g) (see head (g) in the text) attach to a permit an emission value limit, equivalent parameter or technical measure in respect of those emissions unless the regulator considered that the value limit, parameter or measure concerned was necessary to ensure that no significant local pollution was caused: see reg 4(4A) (reg 4(4A), (4B) added by SI 2003/3311). This did not apply where the relevant installation or part of an installation was an excluded installation for the purposes of the Greenhouse Gas Emissions Trading Scheme Regulations 2003, SI 2003/3311 (now revoked with savings): Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 4(4B) (as so added). See now the Greenhouse Gas Emissions Trading Scheme Regulations 2005, SI 2005/925; and PARA 616; and see also PARA 260.

18 Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 4(6).

19 See the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 6(1), (2)(a), (d) (reg 6 substituted by SI 2005/2055). The Secretary of State may, in accordance with a charging scheme made by him for this purpose, charge operators fees in respect of any of the matters to which the Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 6(1) applies: reg 6(1) (as so substituted). As to those matters see reg 6(2); and PARAS 607, 609. A charging scheme so made must be so framed that the fees and charges payable under the scheme are sufficient, taking one year with another, to cover such expenditure as may be incurred by or on behalf of the Secretary of State in connection with any of the matters to which reg 6(1) applies: reg 6(3) (as so substituted). 'Operator' means any person who operates a qualifying offshore combustion installation: reg 2. As to the meaning of 'qualifying offshore combustion installation' see PARA 605 note 1.

ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(3) PETROLEUM PRODUCTION/(ii) Offshore Workings and Installations/A. POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(D) Restrictions on Operation of Offshore Combustion Installations/607. Variation of conditions of permit on application of operator.

607. Variation of conditions of permit on application of operator.

An operator¹ must apply in writing for a variation of the terms and conditions relating to a qualifying offshore combustion installation² where he proposes to make a change in the operation³ of that installation and the operation of the installation after the making of that change would no longer be in accordance with the terms and conditions relating to that permit⁴. Where the Secretary of State⁵ determines that the change planned by the operator would not be a substantial change⁶ he may grant the application and vary the terms and conditions of the permit accordingly⁷; and where he grants such an application he may make the granting of the application subject to such further conditions as he thinks fit⁸. Where an application so made is granted, the Secretary of State must issue to the applicant a revised permit⁹. A fee may be charged for the variation of a permit or of the conditions to which it is subject¹⁰.

Where the Secretary of State determines that the change would be a substantial change he must refuse the application and serve a notice¹¹ in writing on the applicant which states that the proposed change would, in the opinion of the Secretary of State, be a substantial change and that the application is refused¹². There is a right of appeal to the High Court against such a refusal¹³.

1 As to the meaning of 'operator' see PARA 606 note 19.

2 As to the meaning of 'qualifying offshore combustion installation' see PARA 605 note 1.

3 'Change in operation' means a change in the nature or functioning, or an extension, of a combustion installation which may have consequences for the environment: Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 2.

4 Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 8(1).

ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(3) PETROLEUM PRODUCTION/(ii) Offshore Workings and Installations/A. POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(D) Restrictions on Operation of Offshore Combustion Installations/608. Reconsideration and updating of permit conditions.

608. Reconsideration and updating of permit conditions.

The Secretary of State¹ must at such intervals as he thinks fit review the conditions attached to every permit granted² under the relevant regulations³. He must review the conditions of a permit where in his opinion:

- 1418 (1) the pollution⁴ caused by the installation is of such significance that all or any emission value limits⁵, equivalent parameters or technical measures of the permit need to be revised;
- 1419 (2) substantial changes in best available techniques⁶ make it possible to reduce emissions significantly without incurring excessive costs; or
- 1420 (3) the operational safety of the process or activity requires other techniques to be used⁷.

Where the Secretary of State considers that the conditions of a permit should be revised following a review pursuant to head (2) or head (3) above:

- 1421 (a) he must, not less than 14 days prior to the relevant day⁸, give notice⁹ to the operator¹⁰ of the installation concerned of his intention to issue the operator with a revised permit and of its terms; and
- 1422 (b) the operator is entitled to make representations, either in writing or by such means of electronic communication as the Secretary of State may determine, as to whether such a revised permit should be issued and as to its terms¹¹.

If no representations made pursuant to head (b) above are received prior to the relevant day, the revised permit is to be issued and to come into effect on that day¹². If, however, representations so made are received prior to the relevant day, the Secretary of State must consider them in determining whether the revised permit as originally notified under head (a) above should be amended, withdrawn or issued and may determine that the revised permit should come into effect on a later day than the relevant day¹³.

Where the Secretary of State considers that the conditions of a permit should be revised following a review pursuant to head (1) above, he must:

- 1423 (i) not less than four weeks prior to the relevant day give notice to the operator of the installation concerned of his intention to issue the operator with a revised permit and of its terms;
- 1424 (ii) publish a notice in the Gazettes¹⁴ and by any other means he considers appropriate (which may include an electronic communication)¹⁵; and
- 1425 (iii) take such steps as he considers appropriate to ensure that any other material information that becomes available only after the prescribed information¹⁶ has been made available to the public¹⁷ is forthwith made available to the public¹⁸.

Where information is made publicly available pursuant to head (ii) or head (iii) above, the Secretary of State must take such steps as he considers appropriate having regard to the particular circumstances of the case to allow persons affected by or with an interest in the proposed revision to make representations¹⁹. If representations so made are received prior to the relevant day, the Secretary of State must consider them in determining whether the revised permit as originally notified under head (i) above should be amended, withdrawn or issued and may determine that the revised permit is to come into effect on a later day than the relevant day²⁰.

Nothing in the above provisions requires the disclosure of any information which is by virtue of the law of any part of the United Kingdom²¹ subject to an obligation of confidentiality and:

1426 (A) which relates to an individual; or

1427 (B) the disclosure of which might adversely affect the interests in a business of any person carrying on that business²²;

but this does not prevent the disclosure of other information included with information subject to such an obligation and to which head (A) or head (B) above applies where that other information can be separated from the information so subject²³.

609. Revocation, surrender and assignment of permit.

The Secretary of State¹ may by notice² revoke a permit granted pursuant to the relevant regulations³ where he is of the opinion that the application for the permit in question contained any information or statement which was false or misleading in a material particular or where the operator⁴ in question has been guilty of a breach of any condition attached to the permit⁵.

An operator may by notice surrender a permit granted to him⁶.

With the consent of the Secretary of State, a permit may be assigned to another person; but where the Secretary of State consents to such assignment it does not take effect until he has issued to the person to whom the permit is to be assigned a permit in that person's name⁷.

A fee may be charged for the revocation, surrender or assignment of a permit⁸.

POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(D) Restrictions on Operation of Offshore Combustion Installations/610. Register to be kept by, and information to be provided to, the Secretary of State.

610. Register to be kept by, and information to be provided to, the Secretary of State.

The Secretary of State¹ must keep a register at a place in the United Kingdom² in which he must cause to be entered:

- 1428 (1) the provisions of any permit granted under the relevant regulations³ and of any conditions and any subsequent amendments;
- 1429 (2) any results of the monitoring of the releases required to be sent to him under the conditions of any permit; and
- 1430 (3) details of public participation in the decision-making process, including a summary of concerns and opinions expressed by persons interested in or affected by the application, together with a summary of the reasons for the decision⁴.

The register must be open to public inspection on business days⁵ between the hours of 10 am and 4 pm, and the Secretary of State may ensure that the entry in the register of the information referred to in head (1) above is made by any means he considers appropriate, including an electronic communication⁶.

In a case where information has been forwarded to an EEA state⁷, the Secretary of State must take the necessary steps to notify each such EEA state of all information to be entered in the register pursuant to heads (1) to (3) above⁸.

The operator⁹ must forthwith provide to the Secretary of State details of any incident or accident involving a qualifying offshore combustion installation¹⁰ where there has been a significant negative effect on the environment¹¹. He must also forthwith provide to the Secretary of State details of any planned changes in the nature or functioning or any planned extension of a qualifying offshore combustion installation which may have consequences for the environment¹².

For the purposes of the discharge by the Secretary of State of any obligation of the United Kingdom under the European Directive concerning integrated pollution prevention and control¹³, the Secretary of State may, by notice served¹⁴ on any person, require that person to furnish such information as may be specified in the notice, in such form and within such period following service of the notice or at such time as is so specified¹⁵. The information which a person may be required to furnish by a notice so served includes information on emissions which, although it is not in the possession of that person or would not otherwise come into the possession of that person, is information which it is reasonable to require that person to compile for the purpose of complying with the notice¹⁶.

It is an offence to fail to supply any information required to be supplied by virtue of the above provisions or by virtue of a notice served under them¹⁷.

ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(3) PETROLEUM PRODUCTION/(ii) Offshore Workings and Installations/A. POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(D) Restrictions on Operation of Offshore Combustion Installations/611. Appointment of inspectors.

611. Appointment of inspectors.

The Secretary of State¹ may, if he thinks fit, appoint in writing any person as an inspector to report to him:

- 1431 (1) whether the requirements, restrictions or prohibitions imposed by or under the relevant regulations² have been complied with; and
- 1432 (2) to monitor the condition or operation of, emissions from or discharges from, any qualifying offshore combustion installation³.

An inspector so appointed may, for any of the purposes mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above:

- 1433 (a) at any reasonable time (or, in a situation which in his opinion may give rise to a risk of significant pollution⁴ to the environment as a result of the operation of any qualifying offshore combustion installation, at any time) board any platform⁵;
- 1434 (b) on boarding a platform take with him any other person authorised by the Secretary of State for the purposes mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above and any equipment or materials that he requires;
- 1435 (c) make such examination and investigation as he considers necessary (for which purpose he may install or maintain monitoring or other apparatus on a platform);
- 1436 (d) give a direction requiring that any part of the platform be left undisturbed (whether generally or in particular respects) for so long as reasonably necessary for the purposes of any examination or investigation under head (c) above;
- 1437 (e) take such measurements and photographs and make such recordings as he considers necessary for the purpose of any examination or investigation under head (c) above;
- 1438 (f) take samples of any articles or substances found on the platform and of the atmosphere or any land, sea bed (including the subsoil thereof) or water in the vicinity of the platform;
- 1439 (g) in the case of any article or substance which he finds on the platform and which appears to him to have caused or to be likely to cause significant pollution, cause it to be dismantled or subjected to any process or test (but not so as to damage or destroy it unless, in the circumstances of the case, that is necessary);
- 1440 (h) in the case of any such article or substance as is mentioned in head (g) above, take possession of it and detain it for so long as is necessary for all or any of the following purposes, namely:

- 120. (i) to examine it and do to it anything which he has power to do under that provision;
- 121. (ii) to ensure that it is not tampered with before his examination of it is completed;
- 122. (iii) to ensure that it is available for use as evidence in any proceedings for an offence under the relevant regulations⁶;

- 1441 (i) require any person who he has reasonable cause to believe is able to give any information relevant to any examination or investigation under head (c) above:
- 163
- 123. (i) to attend at a place and time specified by the inspector;
 - 124. (ii) to answer (in the absence of any person other than persons whom the inspector may allow to be present and a person nominated to be present by the person on whom the requirement is imposed) such questions as the inspector thinks fit to ask; and
 - 125. (iii) to sign a declaration of the truth of his answers⁷;
- 164
- 1442 (j) require the production of, and inspect and take copies of or of any entry in:
- 165
- 126. (i) any records which by virtue of any provision of any permit granted under the relevant regulations⁸ are required to be kept;
 - 127. (ii) any records which he considers it necessary to see for the purposes of any examination or investigation under head (c) above⁹; and
- 166
- 1443 (k) require any person to afford him such facilities and assistance with respect to any matters or things within that person's control or in relation to which that person has responsibilities as the inspector considers are necessary to enable him to exercise any of the powers conferred on him by these provisions¹⁰.

It is an offence wilfully to obstruct an inspector appointed under these provisions or to fail, without reasonable excuse, to comply with an obligation imposed on a person in pursuance of heads (a) to (k) above¹¹.

ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(3) PETROLEUM PRODUCTION/(ii) Offshore Workings and Installations/A. POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(D) Restrictions on Operation of Offshore Combustion Installations/612. Enforcement and prohibition notices.

612. Enforcement and prohibition notices.

If the Secretary of State¹ is of the opinion that any person has contravened or is contravening any condition of his permit, or is likely to contravene any such condition, the Secretary of State or an inspector appointed by him² may serve on the operator³ a notice⁴ in writing (an 'enforcement notice') which:

- 1444 (1) states that the Secretary of State is of such an opinion;
- 1445 (2) specifies the matters which constitute, constituted or, as the case may be, are likely to constitute the contravention;
- 1446 (3) specifies the steps that must be taken to remedy or, as the case may be, prevent the contravention, including steps that must be taken to remedy any pollution⁵ caused by a contravention; and
- 1447 (4) specifies the period within which those steps must be taken⁶.

Where a person to whom an enforcement notice is addressed has failed to take the action required by it within such time as may be specified by it and such a notice has not been revoked⁷, the Secretary of State may undertake any action so required and the reasonable costs and expenses of his so doing are recoverable as a debt from that person⁸. A person to whom an enforcement notice is addressed must afford such assistance as the Secretary of State may reasonably require for the purpose of facilitating the exercise of any powers so conferred on him⁹.

The service of an enforcement notice is without prejudice to the exercise of any other power under any other provision¹⁰ of the relevant regulations¹¹.

If the Secretary of State is of the opinion that the operation of a qualifying offshore combustion installation¹² involves an imminent risk of serious pollution, the Secretary of State or an inspector appointed by him¹³ may serve a notice in writing (a 'prohibition notice') on the operator of the installation¹⁴. A prohibition notice may be served whether or not the manner of operating the combustion installation in question contravenes a condition of the permit and may relate to any aspects of the operation of the combustion installation, whether regulated by the conditions of the permit or not¹⁵. A prohibition notice must:

- 1448 (a) state that the Secretary of State is of the opinion mentioned above;
- 1449 (b) specify the risk involved in the operation of the installation;
- 1450 (c) specify the steps that must be taken to remove it and the period within which they must be taken; and
- 1451 (d) direct that the permit is, until the notice is withdrawn¹⁶, wholly or to the extent specified in the notice, to cease to have effect to permit the operation of the installation, and where the direction applies to part only of the operation of the installation it may impose conditions to be observed in carrying on the part which is authorised to be carried on¹⁷. The service of a prohibition notice is without prejudice to the exercise by any person of any power under any other provision¹⁸ of the relevant regulations¹⁹.

It is the duty of the person to whom the prohibition notice is addressed to comply with its terms save to the extent that it is withdrawn wholly or in part²⁰. Where a person to whom a prohibition notice is addressed has failed to take the action required by it within such time as may be specified in it or, in default of any time being specified, within a reasonable time of service of that notice, and such a notice has not been withdrawn, the Secretary of State may himself undertake any action required and the cost of so doing is recoverable from the person on whom the notice was served²¹. The person to whom such a notice has been addressed must afford such assistance as the Secretary of State may reasonably require for the purpose of facilitating the exercise of any powers so conferred on the Secretary of State²².

The exercise by the Secretary of State of any power conferred on him to take action²³ is without prejudice to any consequences that may arise in respect of any non-compliance with an enforcement notice or a prohibition notice²⁴. It is an offence to fail to comply with the terms of an enforcement notice or a prohibition notice²⁵.

For these purposes, 'English area', 'Scottish area' and 'Northern Irish Area' have the same meanings as in the Civil Jurisdiction (Offshore Activities) Order 1987, SI 1987/2197 (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1656 note 6): Offshore Combustion Installations (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/1091, reg 17(3). 614. Offences.

A person is guilty of an offence if he:

- 1452 (1) operates a combustion installation¹ without a permit;
- 1453 (2) operates a combustion installation in breach of the terms of any condition attached to any permit;
- 1454 (3) fails to comply with the terms of an enforcement notice or a prohibition notice²;
- 1455 (4) fails to supply any information required to be supplied to the Secretary of State³;
- 1456 (5) fails to supply any information required to be supplied by virtue of the terms of any permit granted under the relevant regulations⁴;
- 1457 (6) knowingly or recklessly makes a statement which he knows to be false or misleading in a material particular where such a statement:
- 167 128. (a) is made in connection with, or for the purposes of, any application for a permit or the variation of a permit; or
- 129. (b) is made for the purposes of satisfying any requirement under the relevant regulations for the supply of information to the Secretary of State or an inspector appointed by him⁵;
- 168
- 1458 (7) wilfully obstructs an inspector appointed by the Secretary of State⁶; or
- 1459 (8) without reasonable excuse fails to comply with an obligation imposed by an inspector⁷ or prevents another person from complying with such a requirement⁸.

It is, however, a defence to a charge under head (2) or head (3) above if the person charged with an offence shows that the contravention:

- 1460 (i) arose as a result of something which could not have been reasonably prevented by him; or
- 1461 (ii) was due to something done as a matter of urgency for the purposes of securing the safety of any person⁹.

Proceedings for an offence under these provisions may be taken, and the offence may for all incidental purposes be treated as having been committed, in any part of the United Kingdom¹⁰. A person guilty of such an offence is liable to a fine¹¹.

Where an offence under these provisions by a body corporate is proved to have been committed with the consent or connivance of, or to have been attributable to any neglect on the part of, any director, manager, secretary or other similar officer of the body corporate or a person who was purporting to act in any such capacity, he as well as the body corporate is guilty of an offence and is liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly¹²; and where the affairs of a body corporate are managed by its members, the above provision applies in relation to the acts or defaults of a member in connection with his functions of management as if he were a director of the body corporate¹³.

Where the commission by any person of an offence under these provisions is due to the act or default of some other person, that other person may be charged with and convicted of the offence whether or not proceedings for the offence are taken against the first-mentioned person¹⁴.

- 1463 (2) arrange for the information received from that EEA state to be made available, within a reasonable time, both to the authorities in the United Kingdom which he considers are likely to be concerned by the combustion installation by reason of their particular environmental responsibilities, and to the public;
- 1464 (3) ensure that those authorities and the public in the United Kingdom are given an opportunity, before a decision is reached, to forward to him their comments on the information supplied; and
- 1465 (4) send to the competent authority of the EEA state such comments as he receives⁶.

The Secretary of State must also, in so far as he has received such information, notify those authorities and the public concerned of the content of any decision of the competent authority of the EEA state, and in particular:

- 1466 (a) a copy of the permit and any conditions and subsequent amendments to it; and
- 1467 (b) the main reasons and considerations on which the decision was based including, if relevant, information about the participation of the public⁷.

616. Greenhouse gas emissions permits for combustion installations; charging schemes in respect of offshore installations.

As from 21 April 2005, no person may carry out, among other things, activities of combustion installations with a rated thermal input¹ resulting in emissions of carbon dioxide² except under and to the extent authorised by a greenhouse gas emissions permit³. The Greenhouse Gas Emissions Trading Scheme Regulations 2005⁴, Part 2 of which deals with the grant, variation, transfer, surrender and revocation of such permits⁵, are discussed elsewhere in this title⁶. The Secretary of State⁷ may make, and from time to time revise, a scheme prescribing:

- 1468 (1) fees payable in respect of, or of applications for, a greenhouse gas emissions permit for an offshore installation⁸;
- 1469 (2) fees payable in respect of, or of applications for, the variation, transfer and surrender of such permits;
- 1470 (3) charges payable in respect of the subsistence of such permits;
- 1471 (4) charges payable in respect of, or in respect of applications for, the allocation of allowances to an operator⁹ of an offshore installation;
- 1472 (5) charges payable in respect of, or in respect of applications for, the retention of allowances by an operator of an offshore installation ceasing to carry on an activity to which they relate;
- 1473 (6) charges payable in respect of the revocation of a greenhouse gas emissions permit for an offshore installation; and
- 1474 (7) charges payable in respect of the subsistence of an account required to be held in the registry¹⁰ by an operator of an offshore installation¹¹.

The fees and charges prescribed¹² in such a scheme must be paid to the Secretary of State¹³.

The Secretary of State must take such steps as he considers appropriate for bringing the provisions of any charging scheme made by him which is for the time being in force to the attention of persons likely to be affected by it¹⁴.

8 For these purposes, 'offshore installation' means an installation which is (or will be) situated in the area (together with places above and below it) comprising: (1) those parts of the sea adjacent to England and Wales from the low-water mark to the landward baseline of the United Kingdom territorial sea; (2) the United Kingdom territorial sea apart from those areas comprised in any controlled waters within the meaning of the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 30A(1) (s 30A(1) relates to Scotland only and is outside the scope of this work); and (3) those areas of sea in any area for the time being designated under the Continental Shelf Act 1964 s 1(7) (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1636); 'installation' means (except where it appears in the Greenhouse Gas Emissions Trading Scheme Regulations 2005, SI 2005/925, Sch 1): (a) a stationary technical unit where one or more Schedule 1 activities are carried out; and (b) any other location on the same site where any other directly associated activities are carried out which have a technical connection with the activities carried out in the stationary technical unit and which could have an effect on greenhouse gas emissions and pollution; and references to an installation include references to part of an installation: reg 2(1). Generally as to the territorial sea of the United Kingdom see WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 100 (2009) PARA 31.

9 'Operator' means, subject to the Greenhouse Gas Emissions Trading Scheme Regulations 2005, SI 2005/925, reg 2(2), in relation to an installation, the person who has control over its operation: reg 2(1). Where an installation has not been put into operation, the person who will have control over the operation of the installation when it is put into operation is to be treated as the operator of the installation; and where an installation has ceased to be in operation, the person who holds the greenhouse gas emissions permit which relates to the installation is to be treated as the operator of the installation: reg 2(2)(a), (b). Where a permit holder has ceased to be the operator of an installation to which a greenhouse gas emissions permit relates, references to the operator are to be read as references to the permit holder: reg 2(2)(c).

11 Greenhouse Gas Emissions Trading Scheme Regulations 2005, SI 2005/925, reg 19(1) (amended by SI 2006/737). The Secretary of State must, on making or revising such a scheme, lay a copy of the scheme or of the revisions made to the scheme or, if he considers it more appropriate, the scheme as revised, before each House of Parliament: Greenhouse Gas Emissions Trading Scheme Regulations 2005, SI 2005/925, reg 19(3). Such a scheme may, in particular (1) make different provision for different cases, including different provision in relation to different persons in different circumstances or localities; (2) allow for reduced fees or charges payable in respect of greenhouse gas emissions permits granted to the same operator; (3) provide for the times at which and the manner in which the payments required by the scheme are to be made (subject to the requirements in the 2005 Regulations as to times at which payment is required); and (4) make such incidental, supplementary and transitional provisions as appears to the Secretary of State to be appropriate: reg 19(4).

ENVIRONMENTAL DUTIES IN FUEL AND ENERGY SECTORS/(3) PETROLEUM PRODUCTION/(ii) Offshore Workings and Installations/A. POLLUTION PREVENTION AND CONTROL/(E) Emergency Pollution Control/617. Prevention etc of pollution after accidents involving offshore installations.

(E) EMERGENCY POLLUTION CONTROL

617. Prevention etc of pollution after accidents involving offshore installations.

Under the Pollution Prevention and Control Act 1999, the Secretary of State¹ may, in relation to offshore installations², by regulations³ make provision which, subject to any modifications that he considers appropriate, corresponds or is similar to any provision made by, or capable of being made under, the provisions of the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 which confer powers to prevent and reduce pollution, and the risk of pollution, by oil or other substances following an accident⁴ in relation to ships⁵. The Offshore Installations (Emergency Pollution Control) Regulations 2002⁶, the provisions of which are set out below⁷, are made under those powers.

The intervention powers conferred by the 2002 Regulations⁸ are exercisable where:

- 1475 (1) an accident⁹ has occurred; and
- 1476 (2) in the opinion of the Secretary of State the accident will or may cause significant pollution¹⁰ in the United Kingdom, United Kingdom waters¹¹ or in any designated area¹²; and
- 1477 (3) in the opinion of the Secretary of State the use of those powers is urgently needed¹³.

For the purpose of preventing or reducing pollution, or the risk of pollution, the Secretary of State, or such persons as may be authorised for the purpose by or on behalf of the Secretary of State¹⁴, may give directions as respects any offshore installation:

- 1478 (a) to the operator¹⁵ of the offshore installation; or
- 1479 (b) to the manager of the offshore installation; or
- 1480 (c) to any servant or agent of the operator of the offshore installation¹⁶.

Such directions may require the person to whom they are given to take, or refrain from taking, any action of any kind whatsoever, and without prejudice to the generality of this provision, directions may require that person:

- 1481 (i) to move or not to move the offshore installation, or any part of it, to or from a specified place or area, or over a specified route; or
- 1482 (ii) to unload or discharge, or not to unload or discharge, any oil or other substance; or
- 1483 (iii) to take or not to take specified¹⁷ remedial measures¹⁸.

If in the opinion of the Secretary of State the powers conferred on him to give such directions are, or have proved to be, inadequate for the purpose, the Secretary of State, or such persons as may be authorised for the purpose by or on behalf of the Secretary of State¹⁹, may, for the purpose of preventing or reducing pollution, or the risk of pollution, take, as respects the offshore installation or its contents, any action of any kind whatsoever; and without prejudice to the generality of this provision the Secretary of State may:

- 1484 (A) take any such action as he has power to require to be taken by a direction under these provisions;
- 1485 (B) undertake operations for the sinking or destruction of the offshore installation, or any part of it, of a kind which is not within the means of any person to whom he can give directions; or
- 1486 (C) undertake operations which involve the taking over of control of the offshore installation, whether by boarding the offshore installation or entering and using any premises which appear to him to be premises from which the operations of the offshore installation may be controlled²⁰.

Every person concerned with compliance with directions given, or with action taken, under these provisions must use his best endeavours to avoid any risk to human life²¹.

A person who contravenes or fails to comply with any requirement of a direction given to him under the above provisions is guilty of an offence²² and liable to a fine²³. In proceedings for such an offence it is, however, a defence for the accused to prove either that he has used all due diligence²⁴ to ensure compliance with the direction or that he had reasonable cause for believing that compliance with the direction would have involved a serious risk to human life²⁵.

A person who intentionally obstructs any person who is acting on behalf of the Secretary of State in connection with the giving or service of a direction under the above provisions, acting in compliance with such a direction, or acting under the Secretary of State's powers or on behalf of him under the above provisions²⁶, is also guilty of an offence²⁷ and liable to the like penalties²⁸.

If any action duly taken²⁹ by a person in pursuance of a direction given to him under the above provisions, or any action taken by the Secretary of State or such persons as may be authorised for the purpose by or on behalf of the Secretary of State³⁰, was not reasonably necessary to prevent or reduce pollution or the risk of pollution or was such that the good it did or was likely to do was disproportionately less than the expense incurred, or damage suffered as a result of the action, a person incurring expense or suffering damage as a result of, or by himself taking, the action is entitled to recover compensation from the Secretary of State³¹. The Admiralty jurisdiction of the High Court includes jurisdiction to hear and determine any claim so arising³²; and in considering whether any person is so entitled to recover compensation from the Secretary of State, account must be taken of the extent and risk of pollution if the action had not been taken, the likelihood of the action being effective and the extent of the damage which has been caused by the action³³.

8 le the powers conferred by the Offshore Installations (Emergency Pollution Control) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1861, reg 3: see the text and notes 9-21.

9 For these purposes, 'accident' means any occurrence causing material damage or a threat of material damage to an offshore installation: Offshore Installations (Emergency Pollution Control) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1861, reg 2.

10 For these purposes, 'pollution' includes pollution by oil or any other substance liable to create hazards to human health, to harm living resources and marine life, to damage amenities or to interfere with other legitimate uses of the sea, or by any other substance listed in the Merchant Shipping (Prevention of Pollution: Substances Other than Oil) (Intervention) Order 1997, SI 1997/1869, reg 2, Schedule (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 94 (2008) PARA 686): Offshore Installations (Emergency Pollution Control) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1861, reg 2.

11 For these purposes, 'United Kingdom waters' has the same meaning as in the Merchant Shipping Act 1995 (see SHIPPING AND MARITIME LAW vol 93 (2008) PARA 48 note 10): Offshore Installations (Emergency Pollution Control) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1861, reg 2.

13 Offshore Installations (Emergency Pollution Control) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1861, reg 3(1). The powers under reg 3(1) are subject to reg 3(6) (see the text and note 21): reg 3(1).

14 See the Offshore Installations (Emergency Pollution Control) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1861, reg 3(5).

15 'Operator' in relation to an offshore installation means any person who operates the offshore installation and includes any person who owns it at the time any powers conferred by the Offshore Installations (Emergency Pollution Control) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1861, are exercised in relation to the offshore installation: reg 2.

16 Offshore Installations (Emergency Pollution Control) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1861, reg 3(2). If the Secretary of State (or a person authorised under reg 3(5)) is satisfied that a company or other body, which is the operator of an offshore installation, is not one to whom the Companies Act 2006 s 1139(2) (service of documents on overseas company) or s 1139(1), (4) (service of documents) (see COMPANIES vol 15 (2009) PARA 1836) applies so as to authorise the service of a direction on that body under either of those provisions, he may give a direction under the Offshore Installations (Emergency Pollution Control) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1861, reg 3 to that body, by serving the direction on any person, being a servant or agent of that body, who appears to the Secretary of State to be in charge of the offshore installation: see reg 6(1); and the Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(a). For the purposes of giving or serving a direction under the Offshore Installations (Emergency Pollution Control) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1861, reg 3 to or on any person on a ship or offshore installation, a person acting on behalf of the Secretary of State has the right to go on board the ship or offshore installation: reg 6(2). As to the application of reg 6 to Northern Ireland see reg 6(3).

17 For these purposes, 'specified' in relation to a direction under the Offshore Installations (Emergency Pollution Control) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1861, reg 3, means specified by the direction: reg 3(7).

18 Offshore Installations (Emergency Pollution Control) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1861, reg 3(3).

B. CONSERVATION OF HABITATS

618. Control of activities under licence.

Where the Secretary of State¹ is satisfied that anything done, being done or proposed to be done pursuant to a Petroleum Act licence², consent³, authorisation⁴ or approval⁵:

- 1487 (1) has had, is having, or is likely to have an adverse effect on the integrity of a relevant site⁶; or
- 1488 (2) has caused, is causing, or is likely to cause deterioration of natural habitats⁷ or the habitats of species in such a site or disturbance of species for which that site may be or has been designated or classified pursuant to either the Wild Birds Directive⁸ or the Habitats Directive⁹, in so far as such disturbance could be significant in relation to the objectives of the Habitats Directive; and
- 1489 (3) steps can be taken to avoid, reverse, reduce or eliminate that effect, deterioration or disturbance, he must¹⁰ give a direction in writing requiring the person to whom it is addressed to take such steps or refrain from taking such steps as may be specified in the direction¹¹. Without prejudice to the generality of the above provision, a direction so given may require within such period as may be specified in the direction:

- 1490 (a) the submission to the Secretary of State for his approval of a plan of the steps to be taken;
- 1491 (b) the carrying out of a plan of the kind referred to in head (a) above which has been approved by the Secretary of State;
- 1492 (c) the installation on a fixed or floating structure used in connection with offshore oil and gas activities¹² of such equipment as may be specified in the direction; or
- 1493 (d) the carrying out of a modification of such a structure or the manner in which it is operated¹³.

Prior to any direction being so given the Secretary of State must consult the appropriate nature conservation body¹⁴ as to the steps to be specified in the direction¹⁵.

Any direction given pursuant to these provisions may revoke or modify the terms and conditions of a consent, authorisation or approval¹⁶. It must be in writing and does not have effect unless it has been served¹⁷ on the person to whom it is addressed¹⁸. The Secretary of State may not give a direction to any person unless:

- 1494 (i) he has served on that person a copy of a draft of the direction that he is proposing to give;
- 1495 (ii) that person has been afforded a reasonable opportunity of making representations regarding the content of the proposed direction; and 1496 (iii) the Secretary of State has taken into account any representations made by that person¹⁹;

but this does not apply in a case of urgency where the Secretary of State is of the opinion that the giving of a direction is necessary for the prescribed²⁰ purposes²¹.

A direction must also be given under these provisions in respect of an area which is not a relevant site, but as to which the Secretary of State, having consulted the appropriate nature conservation body, is of the opinion that it would be likely to be classified as a special protection area pursuant to the relevant provision of the Wild Birds Directive²² where the Secretary of State is satisfied that anything done, being done or proposed to be done pursuant to a Petroleum Act licence, consent, authorisation or approval:

1497 (A) has had, is having, or is likely to have an adverse effect on the integrity of that area; or

1498 (B) has caused, is causing, or is likely to cause pollution²³ or deterioration of natural habitats or disturbance of species for which that site is likely to be classified in so far as such disturbance could be significant in relation to the objectives of that provision of the Wild Birds Directive; and

1499 (C) steps can be taken to avoid, reverse, reduce or eliminate that effect, pollution, deterioration or disturbance²⁴.

A direction given pursuant to these provisions may be modified or revoked by a further direction given by the Secretary of State²⁵.

Where a direction pursuant to the above provisions has been served on a person by the Secretary of State, the Secretary of State must review the appropriateness of the direction if requested to do so by that person²⁶; but he is only bound to carry out a review pursuant to such a request where, in the case of the first request to review it, that request is made no earlier than the first anniversary of the giving of the direction and in relation to any subsequent request, the period of one year has elapsed since a request was last made²⁷. Where, having so carried out a review of a direction, the Secretary of State is satisfied that the direction is no longer appropriate, he must modify or revoke it²⁸. He must give notice in writing to the applicant of any decision made under these provisions²⁹.

Any person aggrieved by a direction given to him, or by any decision in relation to that direction, may appeal to the court³⁰. Such an appeal must be made within 28 days of written notification of the direction or decision in question³¹. Unless the court otherwise orders, any direction or decision of the Secretary of State which is the subject of such an appeal remains in force pending the final disposal of that appeal³².

A person who fails, without reasonable excuse, to comply with a direction given in accordance with the provisions set out above is guilty of an offence³³ and liable to a fine³⁴. Proceedings for such an offence may be taken, and the offence may for all incidental purposes be treated as having been committed, in any part of the United Kingdom³⁵; but no prosecution may be commenced in England and Wales except by the Secretary of State or with his consent³⁶. Where the commission by any person of such an offence is due to the act or default of some other person, that other person may be charged with and convicted of the offence whether or not proceedings for the offence are taken against the first-mentioned person³⁷.

Generally the conservation of natural habitats is dealt with elsewhere in this work³⁸.

Conservation of natural habitats etc and protection of species in the offshore marine area; in general.

619. Conservation of natural habitats etc and protection of species in the offshore marine area; in general.

The Offshore Marine Conservation (Natural Habitats, etc) Regulations 2007¹ make provision for implementing the Wild Birds Directive² and the Habitats Directive³ in relation to the offshore marine area⁴, offshore marine installations⁵ and certain ships and aircraft⁶. Those regulations:

- 1500 (1) impose a duty on competent authorities exercising functions relevant to marine conservation to do so in such a way as to secure compliance with the requirements of the Wild Birds Directive and the Habitats Directive⁷;
- 1501 (2) make provision for the selection, registration and notification of sites in the offshore marine area to be protected under the Habitats and Wild Birds Directives ('European offshore marine sites')⁸;
- 1502 (3) make provision about the management of European offshore marine sites, including provision enabling management schemes to be made for those sites⁹, provision requiring competent authorities to establish conservation measures in respect of special areas of conservation in the offshore marine area¹⁰ and provision requiring competent authorities to exercise their functions to secure that steps are taken to avoid the disturbance of species and deterioration of habitat in respect of specified offshore marine sites¹¹;
- 1503 (4) create offences for the protection of wild birds, animals and plants, which in some instances are subject to defences¹²;
- 1504 (5) require the Secretary of State to make arrangements for surveillance and monitoring of species and habitats in the offshore marine area and to take further action for the protection of species, in the light of that surveillance or monitoring¹³;
- 1505 (6) make provision for the licensing of activities which would otherwise be offences under head (4) or head (5) above¹⁴;
- 1506 (7) give to the Secretary of State and competent authorities power to appoint or make arrangements for the appointment of persons ('wildlife officers') to investigate offences under the regulations¹⁵; and
- 1507 (8) deal with a number of miscellaneous matters including education, research and reporting to the European Commission on the implementation of the Habitats Directive¹⁶.

Approvals, authorisations, consents and licences under the Petroleum Act 1998 are, however, excluded from the requirement to make an appropriate assessment under the 2007 Regulations of the implications for a European offshore marine site or a European site¹⁷ before the plan or project in question is authorised¹⁸ and from the requirement to review certain authorisations granted before a site became a European offshore marine site or a European site¹⁹. As already discussed, such approvals, authorisations, consents and licences are subject to the requirements of the Offshore Petroleum Activities (Conservation of Habitats) Regulations 2001²⁰.

Generally the conservation of natural habitats is dealt with elsewhere in this work²¹.

- 4 For these purposes, 'offshore marine area' means (1) any part of the sea bed and subsoil situated in any area designated under the Continental Shelf Act 1964 s 1(7) (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1636); and (2) any part of the waters within British fishery limits (except the internal waters of, and the territorial sea adjacent to, the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man): Offshore Marine Conservation (Natural Habitats, etc) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1842, reg 2(2). Generally as to the territorial sea of the United Kingdom see WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 100 (2009) PARA 31.
- 5 For these purposes, 'offshore marine installation' means any artificial island, installation or structure (other than a ship) which is situated (1) in any part of the waters in any area designated under the Continental Shelf Act 1964 s 1(7) (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1636); or (2) in any part of the waters in any area designated under the Energy Act 2004 s 84(4) (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1310): Offshore Marine Conservation (Natural Habitats, etc) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1842, reg 2(2).

10. WASTE MANAGEMENT

(1) INTRODUCTION

620. In general.

The regulation of waste¹ on land² is primarily³ provided for by Part II of the Environmental Protection Act 1990⁴, replacing the former regime under the Control of Pollution Act 1974⁵.

Under the Environmental Protection Act 1990, there are waste regulation authorities (in practice, the Environment Agency)⁶, waste disposal authorities⁷ and waste collection authorities⁸. Waste regulation authorities were previously mainly concerned with the operation and enforcement of the system of waste management licensing but this system has now been absorbed into and replaced by the environmental permitting regime⁹. Waste disposal authorities were for some time under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 regime not concerned with actual disposal of waste, this function having been transferred to waste disposal companies, but the relevant provisions were repealed¹⁰. Waste collection authorities are responsible for the collection of waste¹¹.

The Environmental Protection Act 1990 and subordinate legislation made under it prohibit the unauthorised or harmful deposit, storage, treatment or disposal of waste¹² and previously provided for the system of waste management licences which has now been replaced by the environmental permitting regime¹³. A duty of care is imposed on any person who imports, produces, carries, keeps, treats or disposes of controlled waste, or, as a broker, has control of such waste¹⁴. Increased importance is given to the recycling of waste¹⁵.

1 As to the meaning of 'waste' see PARA 623.

2 'Land' includes land covered by waters where the land is above the low water mark of ordinary spring tides; and references to land on which controlled waste or extractive waste is treated, kept or deposited are references to the surface of the land (including any structure set into the surface): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 29(1), (8) (s 29(8) amended by SI 2009/1799). As to the meaning of 'controlled waste' see PARA 624. As to low water mark see WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 100 (2009) PARA 31.

3 Other controls include the integrated pollution control regime (see PARA 158 et seq), the pollution prevention and control permitting system (see PARAS 186-188), controls in respect of statutory nuisances (see NUISANCE vol 78 (2010) PARA 155 et seq), controls over water pollution (see PARA 270 et seq), controls over radioactive substances (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1436 et seq), and planning legislation (see generally TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING). See also PARA 33 et seq. As to the transport of waste see the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989; and PARA 709 et seq. As to litter and graffiti etc see PARA 717 et seq.

4 Ie the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt II (ss 29-78). The provisions of Pt II do not apply in relation to the Isles of Scilly, although an order may be made providing for the application of any of those provisions to those Isles: see s 76 (substituted by the Environment Act 1995 s 118(3)). At the date at which this volume states the law no such order had been made.

5 Ie the Control of Pollution Act 1974 Pt I (ss 11-30).

Certain provisions of the Control of Pollution Act 1974 which relate to the collection and disposal of waste are still in force so far as they relate to industrial waste: see ss 12, 13, 14; and PARAS 693, 695, 697.

As to provisions of the Control of Pollution Act 1974 relating to street cleaning see ss 22, 23; and PARAS 724-725.

As to the establishment of joint waste authorities see the Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007 Pt 11 (ss 205-211); and PARA 621.

6 Any reference in the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt II to a waste regulation authority in relation to England and Wales is a reference to the Environment Agency: s 30(1)(a) (s 30(1) substituted by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 22 para 62). As to the Environment Agency see PARA 68 et seq. Any reference to the area of a waste regulation authority is accordingly to be taken as a reference to the area in relation to which the Environment Agency exercises its functions or, in the case of any particular function, the function in question: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 30(1) (as so substituted).

7 The following authorities are waste disposal authorities:

- 19 (1) for any non-metropolitan county in England, the county council (Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 30(2)(a));
- 20 (2) in Greater London: (a) for the area of a London waste disposal authority, the authority constituted as the waste disposal authority for that area; (b) for the City of London, the Common Council of the City of London; (c) for any other London borough, the council of the borough (s 30(2)(b));
- 21 (3) in the metropolitan county of Greater Manchester: (a) for the metropolitan district of Wigan, the district council; (b) for all other areas of the county, the authority constituted as the Greater Manchester Waste Disposal Authority (s 30(2)(c));
- 22 (4) for the metropolitan county of Merseyside, the authority constituted as the Merseyside Waste Disposal Authority (s 30(2)(d));
- 23 (5) for any district in any other metropolitan county in England, the council of the district (s 30(2)(e));
- 24 (6) for any county or county borough in Wales, the council of the county or county borough (s 30(2)(f) (substituted by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 Sch 9 para 17)).

Disposal authorities are similarly defined for the purposes of the Control of Pollution Act 1974: see s 30(1) (definition substituted by SI 1985/1884); the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 30(2A)-(2D) (added by SI 1985/1884); and the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 30(6) (added by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 Sch 9 para 10). As from a day to be appointed, the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 30 is repealed by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 16 Pt II. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

In the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 30, references to particular authorities having been constituted as waste disposal authorities are references to their having been so constituted by the Waste Regulation and Disposal (Authorities) Order 1985, SI 1985/1884, made by the Secretary of State under the Local Government Act 1985 s 10 (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 17), and the reference to London waste disposal authorities is a reference to the authorities named in the Waste Regulation and Disposal (Authorities) Order 1985, SI 1985/1884, Sch 1 Pts I-V; and the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 30 has effect subject to any order made under the Local Government Act 1985 s 10: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 30(4) (amended by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 22 para 62(3), Sch 24).

8 For the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt II, the following authorities are waste collection authorities:

- 25 (1) for any district in England not within Greater London, the council of the district (s 30(3)(a) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 Sch 9 para 17, Sch 18));
- 26 (2) in Greater London, the following: (a) for any London borough, the council of the borough; (b) for the City of London, the Common Council of the City of London; (c) for the Temples, the Sub-Treasurer of the Inner Temple and the Under Treasurer of the Middle Temple respectively (Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 30(3)(b));
- 27 (3) for any county or county borough in Wales, the council of the county or county borough (s 30(3)(bb) (added by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 Sch 9 para 17(3), Sch 18)).

Collection authorities are similarly defined for the purposes of the Control of Pollution Act 1974: see s 30(1) (definition amended by SI 1985/1884); and the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 30(6) (as added: see note 7). As to the prospective repeal of s 30 see note 7.

9 See PARA 662 et seq.

10 The provisions were the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 32, Sch 2 which were repealed by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 Sch 5 Pt 4 in relation to England as from 18 October 2005 and in relation to Wales as from 16 March 2006: see the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 (Commencement No 2, Transitional Provisions and Savings) (England and Wales) Order 2005, SI 2005/2896, art 3(g), (k); and the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 (Commencement No 1 and Savings) (Wales) Order 2006, SI 2006/768, art 2(a), (d).

Under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 32, Sch 2 (repealed), the Secretary of State was required to give directions to certain waste disposal authorities before specified dates to form or participate in forming waste disposal companies (known as 'waste disposal contractors') and transfer to the companies so formed (by and in accordance with a scheme under Sch 2 (repealed)) the relevant part of their undertakings, and the authorities thus had power to form and hold securities in the companies so established: see s 32 (repealed). There were a number of restrictions and conditions and Sch 2 (repealed) contained provisions on such matters as the formation and status of companies, transfer schemes, tax and company provisions, planning permission issues, documentation, construction of agreements, effects on third parties, transfer of staff, information available for transfer purposes, terms of waste disposal contracts, procedure for putting such contracts out to tender and transfer of securities of companies. 'Waste disposal contractor' means a person who in the course of a business collects, keeps, treats or disposes of waste, being either:

- 28 (1) a company formed for all or any of those purposes by a waste disposal authority whether in pursuance of s 32 (repealed) or otherwise; or
- 29 (2) either a company formed for all or any of those purposes by other persons or a partnership or an individual, and 'company' means a company as defined in the Companies Act 2006 s 1(1) (see COMPANIES vol 14 (2009) PARA 1) and 'formed', in relation to a company formed by other persons, includes the alteration of the company's articles so as to add, remove or alter a statement of the company's objects: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 30(5) (amended by SI 2009/1941) (repealed).

Notwithstanding their repeal, the relevant provisions continue to have effect for the purposes of regulating: (a) the activities of a company which a waste disposal authority formed or participated in forming for the purposes of the collection of waste, or the disposal, keeping or treating of waste, where the company remains under the control of the waste disposal authority on 18 October 2005 (in relation to England) or on 16 March 2006 (in relation to Wales); and (b) the functions of a waste disposal authority in relation to such a company for as long as the company remains under the authority's control: see the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 (Commencement No 2, Transitional Provisions and Savings) (England and Wales) Order 2005, SI 2005/2896, art 6 (amended by SI 2006/1002); and the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 (Commencement No 1 and Savings) (Wales) Order 2006, SI 2006/768, art 5 (amended by SI 2006/2797).

11 As to the collection of waste see PARA 693 et seq.

12 See PARA 655. The 'disposal' of waste includes its disposal by way of deposit in or on land; waste is 'treated' when it is subjected to any process, including making it re-usable or reclaiming substances from it; and 'recycle' (and cognate expressions) must be construed accordingly: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 29(1), (6). As to the meaning of 'process' see Nurse v Morganite Crucible Ltd [1989] AC 692, [1989] 1 All ER 113, HL (considering the same phrase in the context of the Factories Act 1961). Regulations made by the Secretary of State may prescribe activities as activities which constitute the treatment of waste for the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt II or any provision of Pt II prescribed in the regulations: s 29(1), (7). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made.

13 As to environmental permitting see PARA 662 et seq.

14 See PARA 645. As to the making of regulations which require developers and contractors of construction and demolition projects to prepare site waste management plans see the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 54; and PARA 654.

621. Joint waste authorities.

A proposal under the relevant provision of the Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007¹ is a proposal to the Secretary of State² that an authority be established for a specified³ area in England to discharge in that area the waste functions⁴ specified in the proposal⁵. Such a proposal⁶ may be made by (and only by) all the local authorities that are local waste authorities⁷ in relation to the area specified in the proposal⁸. Such a proposal may not be made if there is a local authority for the whole of the specified area which currently has all of the specified waste functions⁹. The Secretary of State may by regulations make provision as to (1) matters to be included in such a proposal; (2) information that must accompany a proposal¹⁰. Regulations under head (1) above may in particular provide that such a proposal must include proposals as to the number of members of the proposed authority¹¹; as to the number of members to be appointed by each local authority making the proposal; as to the procedure for appointing a chairman and a vice-chairman; for the costs of the proposed authority to be met by the local authorities making the proposal, and as to the basis on which the amount payable by each of the local authorities is to be determined¹². In making such a proposal the local authorities must have regard to any guidance from the Secretary of State as to what a proposal should seek to achieve; and matters that should be taken into account in formulating a proposal¹³.

A proposal may not be made by any local authorities¹⁴ unless the local authorities prepared a draft of the proposal; and each local authority took reasonable steps to consult the following about the draft: the relevant electors¹⁵; any interested person in the authority's area¹⁶.

Where the Secretary of State receives such a proposal¹⁷ he may by order implement the proposal with or without modifications¹⁸. An authority established by such an order¹⁹ is referred to²⁰ as a 'joint waste authority'²¹. Such an order may make provision enabling the Secretary of State to require the authority established by the order to submit to him a scheme for (a) the winding-up of the authority; and (b) the transfer of its functions, property, staff, rights and liabilities to appropriate local authorities²². The Secretary of State may by order provide for giving effect (with or without modification) to any scheme submitted to him under such provision²³ and for the dissolution of the authority²⁴. The Secretary of State may exercise his powers²⁵ only where (i) he receives a request to do so from all the appropriate local authorities; or (ii) he considers that it is necessary to do so²⁶. The Secretary of State may by order exclude any functions from those for which a joint waste authority was established²⁷. Such an order²⁸ may include incidental, consequential, transitional or supplementary provision²⁹. The power of the Secretary of State³⁰ to implement a proposal with modifications does not include power to (A) establish a joint waste authority for an area that is different from the area specified in the proposal; or (B) establish a joint waste authority to discharge waste functions³¹ that are not specified in the proposal³².

The Welsh Ministers³³ may by order make provision in relation to Wales applying any of the above provisions of the Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007³⁴ with the substitution for references to the Secretary of State of references to the Welsh Ministers; and such other modifications as they consider appropriate³⁵. Such an order³⁶ may include incidental, consequential or supplementary provision, including provision amending or modifying any enactment; and any instrument made under an enactment³⁷.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58.

3 For these purposes, 'specified' means specified in the proposal: Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007 s 205(8).

4 For these purposes, 'waste function' means a function conferred on a local authority by or under (1) the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt II (ss 29-78) (waste on land) (see PARA 620 et seq); (2) the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IV (ss 86-99) (litter etc) (see PARA 721 et seq); (3) the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 32 (joint municipal waste management strategies: England) (see PARA 628); Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007 s 205(8). In Pt 11 (ss 205-211) 'local authority' means (a) a county council; (b) a district council; (c) a London borough council; (d) the Common Council of the City of London; (e) the sub-treasurer of the Inner Temple; (f) the under treasurer of the Middle Temple; (g) an authority established under the Local Government Act 1985 s 10 (joint arrangements for waste disposal functions) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 17); or (h) a joint waste authority established under the Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007 s 207 (see the text and notes 17-32): ss 205(9), 211.

622. European Union legislation.

There is a considerable body of European Union legislation relating to waste management and disposal, and making provision with respect to certain specific types of waste¹. There are also provisions relating to the transport, import and export of waste². Waste management falls within the regime of integrated pollution prevention and control³. EU waste legislation is implemented in England and Wales by the Environmental Protection Act 1990, the Environment Act 1995, the Pollution Prevention and Control Act 1999 and numerous regulations under those statutes⁴, as well as by certain provisions of the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003⁵. In particular, the definition of 'waste' as set out in the EU legislation has been adopted⁶.

623. Meaning of 'waste'.

For the purposes of Part II of the Environmental Protection Act 1990¹, 'waste' means any substance² or object in certain categories³ which the holder⁴ discards or intends or is required to discard⁵.

The categories are:

- 1508 (1) production or consumption residues not otherwise specified in heads (2) to (16) below⁶;
- 1509 (2) off-specification products⁷;
- 1510 (3) products whose date for appropriate use has expired⁸;
- 1511 (4) materials spilled, lost or having undergone other mishap, including any materials, equipment, etc, contaminated as a result of the mishap⁹;
- 1512 (5) materials contaminated or soiled as a result of planned actions (such as residues from cleaning operations, packing materials, containers, etc)¹⁰;
- 1513 (6) unusable parts (such as reject batteries, exhausted catalysts, etc)¹¹;
- 1514 (7) substances which no longer perform satisfactorily (such as contaminated acids, contaminated solvents, exhausted tempering salts, etc)¹²;
- 1515 (8) residues of industrial processes (such as slags, still bottoms, etc)¹³;
- 1516 (9) residues from pollution abatement processes (such as scrubber sludges, baghouse dusts, spent filters, etc)¹⁴;
- 1517 (10) machining or finishing residues (such as lathe turnings, mill scales, etc)¹⁵;
- 1518 (11) residues from raw materials extraction and processing (such as mining residues, oil field slops, etc)¹⁶;
- 1519 (12) adulterated materials (such as oils contaminated with PCBs, etc)¹⁷;
- 1520 (13) any materials, substances or products whose use has been banned by law¹⁸;
- 1521 (14) products for which the holder has no further use (such as agricultural, household, office, commercial and shop discards, etc)¹⁹;
- 1522 (15) contaminated materials, substances or products resulting from remedial action with respect to land²⁰;
- 1523 (16) any materials, substances or products which are not contained in the above categories²¹.

¹ ie the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt II (ss 29-78).

³ ie the categories set out in the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 75(10), Sch 2B (added by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 22 paras 88, 95). The categories of waste set out in the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 75(10), Sch 2B, which reproduce those in EEC Council Directive 75/442 (OJ L194, 25.7.75, p 39) (but see now also European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2006/12 (OJ L114, 27.4.2006, p 9) which is in effect a codification of Directive 75/442 and its amendments) (see PARAS 33, 622), are those set out in heads (1)-(16) in the text. The categories are also the same as those set out in the Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1994, SI 1994/1056, reg 1(3), Sch 4 Pt II (reg 1(3) substituted by SI 2007/3538). See Interpretative Communication on waste and by-products (COM (2007) 59). See also the List of Wastes (England) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/895 (amended by SI 2005/1673), which implement in England EC Commission Decision 2000/532 (OJ L226, 6.9.2000, p 3) establishing a list of wastes (amended by EC Commission Decision 2001/118 (OJ L47, 16.2.2001, p 1); EC Commission Decision 2001/119 (OJ L47, 16.2.2001, p 32); EC Commission Decision 2001/573 (OJ L203, 28.7.2001, p 18)). The List of Wastes was introduced by the List of Wastes (England) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/895, and replaces the European Waste Catalogue; it provides for the classification of wastes and determines whether they are hazardous wastes (see PARA 624), and it includes provisions for the coding of wastes. See, in particular, the Lists of Wastes (England) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/895, reg 3. See also European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2008/98 (OJ L312, 22.11.2008, p 3) on waste and repealing certain Directives; and PARA 33.

4 For these purposes, 'holder' means the producer of the waste or the person who is in possession of it; and 'producer' means any person whose activities produce waste or any person who carries out pre-processing, mixing or other operations resulting in a change in the nature or composition of this waste: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 75(2) (substituted by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 22 para 88(1), (2)). Where a ship sinks and its cargo is discarded, the owner of the ship is a person whose activities produce waste and is therefore a 'producer' and a 'holder' of waste: Case C-188/07: Commune de Mesquer v Total France SA [2009] All ER (EC) 525, [2008] 3 CMLR 445, [2008] All ER (D) 308 (Jun), ECJ.

5 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 75(2) (as substituted: see note 4). To the extent still relevant (see PARA 620), for the purposes of the Control of Pollution Act 1974 Pt I (ss 11-30), 'waste' has the same meaning as it has in the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt II by virtue of s 75(2): Control of Pollution Act s 30(1) (amended by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 22 para 27(b), (c), Sch 24). See generally European Commission Interpretative Communication on waste and by-products (COM (2007) 59 final) which reviews the case law and seeks to clarify the legal principles that have been adopted in defining 'waste'.

The Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 75(2) is substituted and Sch 2B is added for the purpose of assigning to 'waste' in Pt II the meaning which it has in EEC Council Directive 75/442 (OJ L194, 25.7.75, p 39) (see note 3; and PARAS 33, 622), and those provisions are to be construed accordingly: see the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 75(11), (12) (added by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 22 para 88(4); and the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 75(12) amended by SI 2006/937).

The definition of 'waste' in EEC Council Directive 75/442 (OJ L194, 25.7.75, p 39) has been held to be of direct application: see Cases C-304/94, C-330/94, C-342/94, C-224/95: Criminal proceedings against Tombesi [1997] All ER (EC) 639, [1997] ECR I-3561, ECJ. As to the United Kingdom's failure properly to implement EEC Council Directive 75/442 (OJ L194, 25.7.75, p 39) see Case C-62/03: EC Commission v United Kingdom (2005) Times, 6 January, [2004] All ER (D) 279 (Dec), ECJ.

The term 'waste' is not to be interpreted restrictively, and includes a substance which has been disposed of and recovered: Cases C-418/97, C-419/97: ARCO Chemie Nederland Ltd v Minister van Volkshuisvesting, Ruimtelijke Ordening en Milieubeheer, Vereniging Dorpsbelang Hees v Director van de dienst Milieu en Water van de provincie Gelderland [2002] QB 646, [2003] All ER (EC) 237, ECJ.

Waste does not necessarily exclude substances which are capable of economic re-utilisation: Cases C-206/88, C-207/88: Vessoso and Zanetti v Ministero Public of Italy [1990] ECR I-1461, ECJ; Case C-422/92: EC Commission v Germany [1995] ECR I-1097, [1996] 1 CMLR 383, ECJ; Cases C-304/94, C-330/94, C-342/94, C-224/95: Criminal proceedings against Tombesi [1997] All ER (EC) 639, [1997] ECR I-3561, ECJ. As to the concept of 'discarding' see Case C-129/96: Inter-Environnement Wallonie ASBL v Région Wallonne [1998] All ER (EC) 155, [1997] ECR I-7411, ECJ. See A-G's Reference (No 5 of 2000) [2001] EWCA Crim 1077, [2001] 2 CMLR 1025, [2001] All ER (D) 71 (May) (a substance does not have to be subjected to a recovery or disposal operation in order for it to be discarded and therefore capable of being waste). The collection and treatment of waste so that it can be used as a raw material in the production of steel does not constitute recycling, and so such material remains waste material: however, the transformation of that waste into pieces of steel does constitute recycling, and so those pieces of steel are not waste: Case C-444/00: R (on the application of Mayer Parry Recycling Ltd) v Environment Agency [2005] All ER (EC) 647, [2004] 1 WLR 538, ECJ. The re-use of surplus granite which was stored at a quarry was uncertain and foreseeable only in the longer term; accordingly, it had been 'discarded' and was therefore waste: Case C-9/00: Application by Palin Granit Oy [2003] All ER (EC) 366, [2002] ECR I-3533, [2002] 2 CMLR 560, ECJ. Meanings of 'controlled waste', 'household waste', 'industrial waste', 'commercial waste' and 'hazardous waste'.

624. Meanings of 'controlled waste', 'household waste', 'industrial waste', 'commercial waste' and 'hazardous waste'.

For the purposes of Part II of the Environmental Protection Act 1990¹, 'controlled waste' means household, industrial and commercial waste, or any such waste².

'Household waste' means waste from:

- 1524 (1) domestic property, that is to say, a building or self-contained part of a building which is used wholly for the purposes of living accommodation³;
- 1525 (2) a caravan⁴ which usually and for the time being is situated on a caravan site⁵;
- 1526 (3) a residential home⁶;
- 1527 (4) premises forming part of a university or school or other educational establishment⁷;
- 1528 (5) premises forming part of a hospital or nursing home⁸.

'Industrial waste' means waste from any of the following premises:

- 1529 (a) any factory⁹;
- 1530 (b) any premises used for the purposes of, or in connection with, the provision to the public of transport services by land, water or air¹⁰;
- 1531 (c) any premises used for the purposes of, or in connection with, the supply to the public of gas, water or electricity or the provision of sewerage services¹¹;
- 1532 (d) any premises used for the purposes of, or in connection with, the provision to the public of postal or telecommunications services¹²; or
- 1533 (e) any mine or quarry or any premises used for agriculture¹³.

'Commercial waste' means waste from premises used wholly or mainly for the purposes of a trade or business or the purposes of sport, recreation or entertainment¹⁴ excluding:

- 1534 (i) household waste¹⁵;
- 1535 (ii) industrial waste¹⁶; and
- 1536 (iii) waste of any other description prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State for these purposes¹⁷.

'Hazardous waste' means any waste which is hazardous waste for the purposes of the relevant regulations¹⁸.

Regulations made by the Secretary of State may provide that waste of a description prescribed in the regulations is to be treated¹⁹ as being or not being household waste or industrial waste or commercial waste²⁰.

NOTE 13--See R v W [2010] EWCA Crim 927, [2010] All ER (D) 154 (May) (ample evidence that materials were controlled waste).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/10. WASTE MANAGEMENT/(1) INTRODUCTION/625. Offences of making false or misleading statements or false entries.

625. Offences of making false or misleading statements or false entries.

A person who, in purported compliance with a requirement¹ to furnish any information, makes a statement which he knows to be false or misleading in a material particular, or recklessly makes any statement which is false or misleading in a material particular, commits an offence².

A person who commits an offence under these provisions is liable to a penalty³.

1 le imposed by or under any provision of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt II (ss 29-78).

2 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 44(1) (s 44 substituted by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 19 para 4(1); and amended by SI 2007/3538).

3 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 44(3) (as substituted: see note 2). The penalty on summary conviction is a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum (see s 44(3)(a) (as so substituted)); and on conviction on indictment is a fine or imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years, or both (see s 44(3)(b) (as so substituted)). As to the statutory maximum see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 140.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/10. WASTE MANAGEMENT/(1) INTRODUCTION/626. Obtaining of information from persons and authorities.

626. Obtaining of information from persons and authorities.

For the purpose of the discharge of their respective functions under Part II of the Environmental Protection Act 1990¹:

- 1537 (1) the Secretary of State²; and
- 1538 (2) a waste regulation authority³,

may, by notice in writing served on him⁴, require any person to furnish such information specified in the notice as the Secretary of State or the authority, as the case may be, reasonably considers he or it needs, in such form and within such period following service of the notice, or at such time, as is so specified⁵.

The Secretary of State may, by notice in writing, require a waste regulation authority or waste collection authority⁶ to supply to him, or to such other person as may be specified in the notice, such information as may be so specified in respect of: (a) cases where the authority has exercised any powers to require removal of waste unlawfully deposited⁷; and (b) cases where the authority has taken action under any other enactment in respect of any deposit or other disposal⁸ of controlled waste⁹ in contravention of the relevant prohibition¹⁰.

1 le the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt II (ss 29-78).

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

3 As to the meaning of 'waste regulation authority' see PARA 620 note 6.

4 As to service of notices see the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 160; and PARA 147.

5 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 71(2) (amended by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 22 para 86). Certain functions under s 71 are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733. The Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 71 may require a person to provide information which leads to self-incrimination, notwithstanding the provisions of the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (Rome, 4 November 1950; TS 71 (1953) Cmd 8969) art 6: see R v Hertfordshire County Council, ex p Green Environmental Industries Ltd [2000] 2 AC 412, [2000] 1 All ER 773, HL. See also Environment Agency v Steve Parr Haulage and Plant Hire Ltd [1999] All ER (D) 1055.

As from a day to be appointed, a waste collection authority has the power referred to in the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 71(2) for the purpose of the discharge of its functions under ss 34B, 34C (see PARA 659): s 71(2A) (prospectively added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 46(2)(a)). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed in relation to England; in relation to Wales, the appointed day for certain purposes is 16 March 2006: see the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 (Commencement No 1 and Savings) (Wales) Order 2006, SI 2006/768, art 3.

A person who fails, without reasonable excuse, to comply with a requirement imposed under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 71(2) or s 71(2A) is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum, or on conviction on indictment to a fine or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or to both: s 71(3) (amended by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 19 para 4(2), Sch 24; and the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 46(2)(b)). At the date at which this volume states the law the amendment by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 is in force in relation to England; in relation to Wales, the appointed day for certain purposes is 16 March 2006: see the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 (Commencement No 1 and Savings) (Wales) Order 2006, SI 2006/768, art 3. As to the statutory maximum see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 140.

(2) POWERS AND DUTIES

(i) Waste Strategy

627. National waste strategy.

The Secretary of State¹ must as soon as possible prepare a statement (the 'strategy') containing his policies in relation to the recovery and disposal of waste². The Secretary of State may from time to time modify the strategy³.

In preparing the strategy or any modification of it, the Secretary of State must consult: (1) the Environment Agency⁴; and (2) such bodies or persons appearing to him to be representative of the interests of local government, and such bodies or persons appearing to him to be representative of the interests of industry, as he may consider appropriate⁵. He may consult such other bodies or persons as he considers appropriate⁶.

The Secretary of State may give directions to the Environment Agency requiring it to advise him on the policies which are to be included in the strategy⁷. The Secretary of State may also give directions to the Environment Agency requiring it to carry out a survey of or investigation into:

- 1539 (a) the likely kinds or quantities of waste⁸;
- 1540 (b) the facilities which are or appear to the Environment Agency likely to be available or needed for recovering or disposing of any such waste⁹;
- 1541 (c) any other matter upon which the Secretary of State wishes to be informed in connection with his preparation of the strategy or any modification of it¹⁰, and to report its findings to him¹¹.

The Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 introduces provisions for municipal waste management strategies¹².

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

2 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 44A(1) (s 44A added by the Environment Act 1995 s 92(1)). For these purposes, 'strategy' includes the strategy as modified from time to time; and 'statement' must be construed accordingly: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 44A(9) (as so added). As to the meaning of 'waste' see PARA 623. As to the meaning of 'disposal' see PARA 620 note 12. Section 44A makes provision for the purpose of implementing EEC Council Directive 75/442 (OJ L194, 25.7.75, p 39) on waste (see PARAS 33, 623): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 44A(10) (as so added).

The strategy may consist of one or more statements which between them relate to the whole country: see s 44A(2) (as so added). Without prejudice to the generality of what may be included in the strategy, the strategy must include:

- 30 (1) a statement of the Secretary of State's policies for attaining the objectives specified in Sch 2A (s 44A(4)(a) (as so added));
- 31 (2) provisions relating to each of the following, that is to say: (a) the type, quantity and origin of waste to be recovered or disposed of; (b) general technical requirements; and (c) any special requirements for particular wastes (s 44A(4)(b) (as so added)).

The objectives are as follows:

- 32 (i) ensuring that waste is recovered or disposed of without endangering human health and without using processes or methods which could harm the environment and, in particular, without: (A) risk to water, air, soil, plants or animals; (B) causing nuisance through noise or odours; or (C) adversely affecting the countryside or places of special interest (Sch 2A para 1 (Sch 2A added by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 12));
- 33 (ii) establishing an integrated and adequate network of waste disposal installations, taking account of the best available technology not involving excessive costs (Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2A para 2 (as so added));
- 34 (iii) ensuring that the network referred to in head (ii) above enables: (A) the European Union as a whole to become self-sufficient in waste disposal, and the member states individually to move towards that aim, taking into account geographical circumstances or the need for specialised installations for certain types of waste; and (B) waste to be disposed of in one of the nearest appropriate installations, by means of the most appropriate methods and technologies in order to ensure a high level of protection for the environment and public health (Sch 2A para 3 (as so added));
- 35 (iv) encouraging the prevention or reduction of waste production and its harmfulness, in particular by: (A) the development of clean technologies more sparing in their use of natural resources; (B) the technical development and marketing of products designed so as to make no contribution or to make the smallest possible contribution, by the nature of their manufacture, use or final disposal, to increasing the amount or harmfulness of waste and pollution hazards; and (C) the development of appropriate techniques for the final disposal of dangerous substances contained in waste destined for recovery (Sch 2A para 4 (as so added));
- 36 (v) encouraging: (A) the recovery of waste by means of recycling, re-use or reclamation or any other process with a view to extracting secondary raw materials; and (B) the use of waste as a source of energy (Sch 2A para 5 (as so added)).

The 'environment' consists of all, or any, of the following media, namely land, water and the air: s 29(1), (2). As to the meaning of 'recycle' see PARA 620 note 12.

10 See the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 44A(6)(b)(iii) (as added: see note 2). See also note 11.

11 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 44A(6)(b) (as added: see note 2). Section 44A(6) is without prejudice to any power to give directions conferred by the Environment Act 1995 s 40 (see PARA 74): see the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 44A(6) (as so added). A direction under s 44A(6)(b) must specify or describe the matters or the areas which are to be the subject of the survey or investigation, and may make provision in relation to the manner in which: (1) the survey or investigation is to be carried out; or (2) the findings are to be reported or made available to other persons: s 44A(7) (as so added). Where a direction is given under s 44A(6)(b), the Environment Agency must, in accordance with any requirement of the direction:

(a) before carrying out the survey or investigation, consult: (i) such bodies or persons appearing to it to be representative of local planning authorities; and (ii) such bodies or persons appearing to it to be representative of the interests of industry, as it may consider appropriate; and (b) make its findings available to those authorities: s 44A(8) (as so added). 'Local planning authority' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING vol 46(1) (Reissue) PARA 28 et seq): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 44A(9) (as so added).

The Environment Agency must publicise any direction given to it under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 44A(6) in such manner as it considers appropriate: s 44A(8A) (added by SI 2007/3538).

628. Joint municipal waste management strategies in England.

The waste authorities¹ for a two-tier area must: (1) have for the area a joint strategy for the management of waste² from households and other waste that, because of its nature or composition, is similar to waste from households³; (2) keep under review the policies formulated by them for the purposes of their strategy⁴; (3) before formulating policy for the purposes of their strategy, carry out such consultation as they consider appropriate⁵; and (4) set out in a statement any policy formulated by them for the purposes of their strategy⁶. The waste authorities for a two-tier area in Greater London must, when formulating policy for their strategy, have regard to the Mayor of London's municipal waste management strategy⁷ or, where that strategy has been revised, to that strategy as revised⁸.

The Secretary of State may by regulations⁹ make provision for a duty of the waste authorities for a two-tier area¹⁰: (a) not to apply to a waste authority if conditions specified in the regulations are met¹¹; (b) not to apply to a waste authority if, on an application made in accordance with the regulations, the Secretary of State is satisfied that conditions specified in the regulations are met¹²; (c) not to apply to the waste authorities for a two-tier area if, by reason of provision under heads (a) and (b) above, it applies to one or more, but not all, of them¹³; (d) not to apply to the waste authorities for a two-tier area if, on an application made in accordance with the regulations, the Secretary of State is satisfied that conditions specified in the regulations are met¹⁴.

1 The 'waste authorities' for a two-tier area are: (1) the waste disposal authority for the area; and (2) the waste collection authorities within the area: Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 34(b). A 'two-tier area' is the area of a waste disposal authority in England which is not also a waste collection authority: s 34(a). 'Waste disposal authority' and 'waste collection authority' have the same meanings as in the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt 2 (ss 29-78) (see PARA 620 notes 7, 8): Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 34(c).

2 'Waste' means anything that: (1) is waste for the purposes of EEC Council Directive 75/442 (OJ L194, 25.7.75, p 39) on waste (see PARAS 33, 623); and (2) is not excluded from the scope of that Directive by art 2: Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 37.

3 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 32(1). When formulating policy for the purposes of s 32(1), the waste authorities must have regard to any guidance given by the Secretary of State: s 32(5)(a).

The duty applies at all times after the end of the period of 18 months beginning with the day on which the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 is passed (see s 32(1)), although the Secretary of State may by regulations substitute a longer period in relation to a two-tier area specified or described in the regulations (see s 32(10)). The Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 received Royal Assent on 13 November 2003. A statutory instrument that contains regulations under s 32(10) is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 32(11). Any power to make regulations under Pt 1 (ss 1-37) is exercisable by statutory instrument: s 36(3). Any such power includes the power to make different provision for different cases, and power to make incidental, supplementary, consequential or transitional provision or savings: s 36(1). At the date at which this volume states the law, no regulations had been made under s 32(10). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58.

Where s 32(1) is satisfied in relation to a two-tier area by policies set out in a statement prepared before that provision comes into force, it does not matter that the policies were not formulated for the purposes of s 32(1), but s 32(2) applies as though the policies were formulated for the purposes of s 32(1): s 32(8).

4 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 32(2).

5 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 32(3). This requirement may be satisfied by consultation before, as well as by consultation after, s 32(3) comes into force: s 32(9).

6 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 32(4). When preparing the statement under s 32(4), the waste authorities must have regard to any guidance given by the Secretary of State: s 32(5)(b). Where the waste authorities prepare such a statement: (1) they must take such steps as in their opinion will give adequate publicity in the area to the statement; (2) they must send a copy of the statement: (a) to each of the Secretary of State and the Environment Agency; and (b) if the area is in Greater London, to the Mayor of London; (3) each of the authorities must keep a copy of the statement available at all reasonable times at one of its offices for inspection by the public free of charge; and (4) each of the authorities must supply a copy of the statement to any person who requests one, on payment by the person of such reasonable charge as the authority requires: s 32(7). As to the Environment Agency see PARA 68 et seq. As to the Mayor of London see PARA 100; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 44 et seq.

7 As to the Mayor of London's municipal waste management strategy see PARA 630; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 182.

8 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 32(6).

9 Regulations under the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 33(1) (see the text and notes 10-14) may include: (1) provision about the duration of any disapplication under s 33(1) of a duty; (2) provision postponing the application of a duty on the coming to an end of a disapplication under s 33(1) of the duty; (3) provision modifying the application of s 32(1)-(7) (see the text and notes 1-8) in relation to a two-tier area where a duty under those provisions applies to one or more, but not all, of the waste authorities for the area: s 33(5). A statutory instrument that contains regulations under s 33 is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 33(6).

As to the regulations made see the Joint Municipal Waste Management Strategies (Disapplication of Duties) (England) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/63.

10 Is a duty under the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 32(1)-(7): see the text and notes 1-8.

11 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 33(1)(a). Subject to s 33(2), the conditions that may be specified under s 33(1)(a) include, in particular, conditions that may be met only in the case of authorities that from time to time are, by reason of provision made by or under an enactment, of a particular category: s 33(4). The power under s 33(1)(a) or s 33(1)(b) (see the text and note 12) must be exercised so that provision under s 33(1)(a) or s 33(1)(b) will cause a duty under s 32(1)-(7) not to apply to a waste authority only if: (1) the standard of the authority's performance in carrying out its functions has been at, or above, a particular level; and (2) that level is: (a) the level that, in the Secretary of State's opinion, counts as satisfactory performance; or (b) a level that, in his opinion, is higher than that level: s 33(2). A reference in head (1) above to functions of an authority is a reference to functions of the authority in any capacity, and not only to its functions in its capacity as a waste disposal authority or waste collection authority: s 33(7).

12 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 33(1)(b). See also note 11.

13 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 33(1)(c).

14 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 33(1)(d). The power under s 33(1)(d) must be exercised so that provision under s 33(1)(d) will cause a duty under s 32(1)-(7) not to apply to the waste authorities for a two-tier area only if: (1) as respects at least one of the authorities, the standard of its performance in carrying out its functions has been at, or above, a particular level; or (2) as respects at least two of the authorities, each has so carried out its functions that the overall standard of performance in carrying out those functions has been at, or above, a particular level and, in either case, that level is one mentioned in s 33(2)(b) (see note 11 head (2)(b)): s 33(3). A reference in head (1) or head (2) above to functions of an authority is a reference to functions of the authority in any capacity, and not only to its functions in its capacity as a waste disposal authority or waste collection authority: s 33(7).

629. Municipal waste management strategies in Wales.

The Welsh Ministers¹ may by regulations² make provision for requiring a local authority³ to have for its area a strategy for the management of waste⁴. Any such regulations may, in particular: (1) specify matters to be addressed by a strategy⁵; (2) specify wastes to which a strategy is to relate⁶; (3) make provision about policies to be included in a strategy⁷; (4) make provision in connection with review or revision of a strategy⁸; (5) make provision for consultation, or about other procedural matters, in connection with the formulation of policy for the purposes of a strategy⁹; (6) make provision for requiring the preparation of statements setting out policies formulated for the purposes of a strategy¹⁰; (7) make provision about the contents of such statements¹¹; (8) make provision about the form of such statements¹²; (9) make provision for publicising such statements once prepared, for publishing them, for sending copies of them to persons specified in the regulations and for public inspection of them¹³; (10) make provision for the supply of copies of such statements, including provision for the payment of reasonable charges¹⁴; (11) make provision for requiring a local authority, when formulating policy for the purposes of a strategy or preparing such a statement, to have regard to guidance, including future guidance¹⁵; (12) make provision about when duties imposed by the regulations are to be performed, including provision for duties to be performed by times specified in directions given by the Welsh Ministers¹⁶.

The Welsh Ministers may by regulations make provision requiring a local authority¹⁷ to provide them with information: (a) of a description specified by the regulations¹⁸; and (b) relating to, or to a description of, waste that is or has been in, or may or will come into, the authority's area¹⁹. Any such regulations may make provision: (i) in connection with the collection, verification or certification of information whose provision is required by such regulations²⁰; (ii) about the form in which, and the means by which, information is to be provided²¹; (iii) about when duties imposed by the regulations are to be performed, including provision for duties to be performed by times specified in directions given by the Assembly²².

630. London.

Under Part IX of the Greater London Authority Act 1999¹, the Mayor of London² must produce and publish a municipal waste management strategy³. The Secretary of State⁴ may give directions to the Mayor about the municipal waste management strategy where it might be detrimental to any area outside Greater London, or if such a direction is necessary for the implementation of a national waste strategy or landfill strategy for England⁵. Waste authorities⁶ must act in general conformity with the strategy in exercising their functions⁷, and the Mayor may give directions to such authorities in certain circumstances⁸. Waste authorities must furnish certain information about waste contracts⁹ to the Mayor, subject to restrictions as to confidential information¹⁰.

1 le the Greater London Authority Act 1999 Pt IX (ss 351-374). As to duties in regard to climate change, energy, etc see ss 361A-361E; and LONDON GOVERNMENT.

2 As to the Mayor of London see PARA 100; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 44 et seq.

See the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 353; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARAS 182-183. 'Municipal waste' means any waste in the possession or under the control of:

37 (1) a body which, or a person who, is a waste collection authority in Greater London; or

38 (2) a body which is a waste disposal authority in Greater London, whether or not the waste is in the possession or under the control of the body or person under or by virtue of the Environmental Protection Act 1990: Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 360(1), (2). As to the meaning of 'waste' see PARA 623; definition applied by s 360(1), (2). 'Waste collection authority in Greater London' is to be construed in accordance with the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 30(3)(b) (see PARA 620); and 'waste disposal authority in Greater London' is to be construed in accordance with s 30(2)(b) (see PARA 620): see the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 360(1), (2).

4 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58.

5 See the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 354; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARAS 182-183.

6 'Waste authority' means a waste collection authority in Greater London or a waste disposal authority in Greater London: Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 360(1), (2).

7 See the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 355; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 183. As to the London Waste and Recycling Board see ss 356A, 356B; and LONDON GOVERNMENT.

8 See the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 356; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 183. Until the date of first publication of the municipal waste management strategy, ss 356(1), 357(5), 358(3) have effect as if the references to the municipal waste management strategy were references to the policies contained in the strategy prepared by the Secretary of State in accordance with the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 44A (see PARA 627): see the Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 360(5); and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 184.

9 'Waste contract' means a contract which includes or is to include provision relating to municipal waste and is made or to be made by a waste authority in the performance of its functions under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt II (ss 29-78): Greater London Authority Act 1999 s 360(1), (2).

10 See the Greater London Authority Act 1999 ss 357-359; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 184. See also note 8.

(ii) Reducing Biodegradable Municipal Waste for Landfill

631. Landfill targets.

'Landfill' is a site for the deposit of waste¹ onto or into land where the site is a waste disposal site², or used for the storage of waste³. In determining whether a site is a landfill, the following activities at the site are to be ignored: (1) the temporary storage of waste if the site is used for such storage for less than one year⁴; (2) the unloading of waste in order to permit the waste to be prepared for further transport for recovery, treatment⁵ or disposal elsewhere⁶; (3) the storage of waste, prior to recovery or treatment, for a period of less than three years as a general rule⁷; (4) the storage of waste, prior to disposal, for a period of less than one year⁸. The fact that a site for the deposit of waste is at the place of production of the waste does not prevent the site from being a landfill⁹.

As from a date to be appointed, the Secretary of State: (a) must by regulations¹⁰ specify the maximum amount¹¹ by weight of biodegradable municipal waste¹² allowed, in each scheme year¹³ that is a target year¹⁴, to be sent to landfills¹⁵; and (b) may by regulations specify the maximum amount by weight of biodegradable municipal waste allowed, in a scheme year that is not a target year, to be sent to landfills¹⁶.

If the Secretary of State does not exercise his discretion to specify any amount¹⁷, and the year is followed, whether or not immediately, by a target year, the year is a default-rule year, and the maximum amount of biodegradable municipal waste allowed is the amount given by a specified formula¹⁸.

1 As to the meaning of 'waste' see PARA 628 note 2.

5 'Treatment' means the physical, thermal, chemical or biological processes, including sorting, that change the characteristics of waste in order to reduce its volume, reduce its hazardous nature, facilitate its handling, or enhance its recoverability: Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 22(4).

6 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 22(2)(b).

10 Any power to make regulations under the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 Pt 1 (ss 1-37) is exercisable by statutory instrument: s 36(3). Any such power includes the power to make different provision for different cases, and power to make incidental, supplementary, consequential or transitional provision or savings: s 36(1).

A statutory instrument that contains regulations under Pt 1 Ch 1 (ss 1-28) made by the Secretary of State, and is not subject to any requirement that a draft of the instrument be laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament, is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s

28(1). No affirmative-procedure regulations may be made by the Secretary of State unless a draft of the statutory instrument containing the regulations, whether containing them alone or with other provisions, has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: s 28(2). 'Affirmative-procedure regulations' means regulations under s 1 or 2 (see the text and notes 10-16), and the first regulations to be made under each of s 6 (see PARA 634), s 7 (see PARA 635) and s 11 (see PARA 638) by the Secretary of State: s 28(7). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58.

11 Amounts specified in relation to the United Kingdom must be consistent with the obligations of the United Kingdom under EC Council Directive 99/31 (OJ L182, 16.7.99, p 1) art 5(2) (see PARA 43): Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 1(2). As to the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 2.

12 'Biodegradable municipal waste' means waste that is both biodegradable waste and municipal waste: Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 21(2). 'Biodegradable waste' means any waste that is capable of undergoing anaerobic or aerobic decomposition, such as food and garden waste, and paper and paperboard: s 21(1). 'Municipal waste' means waste from households, and other waste that, because of its nature or composition, is similar to waste from households: s 21(3).

13 'Scheme year' means: (1) for England, Scotland and Northern Ireland a year beginning with 1 April in any of 2005-2019; and (2) for Wales, the period of six months beginning with 1 October 2004, or a year beginning with 1 April in any of 2005-2019: Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 23(1) (amended by SI 2004/1936). The Secretary of State may by regulations amend the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 23(1) for the purpose of: (a) providing for a different day to be the first day of a scheme year; (b) adding or omitting one or more scheme years; (c) providing for a scheme year to be a period shorter or longer than a year; (d) changing the target years or any of them; (e) adding or omitting one or more target years: s 23(2). Before making any such regulations, the Secretary of State must consult the Scottish Ministers, the Welsh Ministers and the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs: see s 23(3). Power to make regulations under head (a), (b) or (c) above also includes: (i) power to make different provision in relation to England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland respectively; and (ii) power to make consequential provision amending s 3(6) (see note 18): s 36(2). As to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59. As to the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 452 et seq.

14 'Target year' means a scheme year ending with 31 March in 2010, 2013 or 2020: Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 23(1) (substituted by SI 2004/1936).

15 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 1(1). The Secretary of State must specify maximum allowances from each of the United Kingdom, England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland: s 1(1)(a)-(e). The total of the amounts specified in relation to England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland for a year must not exceed the amount specified in relation to the United Kingdom for that year: s 1(3). The Secretary of State must consult the Welsh Ministers before specifying amounts in relation to Wales: see s 1(4)(b), (5). See the Landfill (Scheme Year and Maximum Landfill Amount) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1936, which specify the maximum amounts for scheme years which are target years.

16 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 2(1). The power to specify the maximum amount of biodegradable municipal waste allowed to be sent to landfills from Wales is exercisable only with the agreement of the National Assembly for Wales: s 2(3). See the Landfill (Scheme Year and Maximum Landfill Amount) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1936, which specify the maximum amounts for the years 2005-2009.

632. Allocating authorities.

The allocating authority for England is the Secretary of State¹ and, for Wales, is the Welsh Ministers².

633. Landfill allowances scheme.

Each allocating authority¹ must for each scheme year² that is a target year³, and for each other scheme year for which an amount is specified⁴ for its area, make among waste disposal authorities⁵ in its area an allocation of allowances authorising the sending in that year of amounts of biodegradable municipal waste⁶ to landfills⁷. In performing this duty, an allocating authority must ensure that the total amount of biodegradable municipal waste authorised to be sent to landfills by the allowances it allocates for a year does not exceed the amount specified⁸ for the year for its area⁹. As soon as an authority has made any such allocation, it must publish a statement detailing, in relation to each waste disposal authority in its area, what allowances have been allocated to it, and explaining the basis of the allocation¹⁰.

An authority that has made an allocation¹¹ may at any time alter the allocation¹², but it may not withdraw an allowance that has already been utilised¹³. As soon as an authority has altered any allocation, it must publish a statement detailing the alteration, and explaining the basis of it¹⁴.

1 As to the allocating authorities see PARA 632.

2 As to scheme years see PARA 631 note 13.

3 As to target years see PARA 631 note 14.

4 Ie under the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 2: see PARA 631.

5 In relation to England, Wales and Scotland, 'waste disposal authority' has the same meaning as in the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt 2 (ss 29-78) (see PARA 620 note 7); and in relation to Northern Ireland means a district council: Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 24(5) (amended by the Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007 s 209(1)(a)).

However for the purposes of the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 Pt 1 Ch 1 (ss 1-28), a joint waste authority for an area in England that has the function of disposing of biodegradable municipal waste is the waste disposal authority for that area: s 24(6) (s 24(6), (7) added by the Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007 s 209(1)(b)). In the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 24(6) a 'joint waste authority' means an authority established by an order under the Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act 2007 s 207 (see PARA 621): Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 24(7) (as so added).

6 As to the meaning of 'biodegradable municipal waste' see PARA 631 note 12.

7 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 4(1). Such an allocation must be made before the beginning of the year to which it relates: s 4(3). As to the meaning of 'landfill' see PARA 631.

For the purposes of Pt 1 Ch 1 (ss 1-28), sending biodegradable waste, or biodegradable municipal waste, to landfills does not include: (1) the spreading of sludges, including sewage sludges and sludges resulting from dredging operations, or similar matter, on the soil for the purposes of fertilisation or improvement; (2) the deposit of non-hazardous dredging sludges alongside small waterways from out of which they have been dredged; (3) the deposit of non-hazardous sludges in surface water or in the bed or subsoil of surface water; or (4) the deposit of unpolluted soil resulting from: (a) prospecting for, or the extraction, treatment or storage of, mineral resources; or (b) the operation of quarries: s 25(1). Sludge is 'non-hazardous' if it is not hazardous waste within the meaning of the Hazardous Waste (England and Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/894, reg 6 (see PARA 624): Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 25(2) (amended by SI 2005/894; and SI 2005/1806). As to the meaning of 'biodegradable waste' see PARA 631 note 12. As to the meaning of 'waste' see PARA 628 note 2.

9 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 4(2).

12 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 5(1).

13 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 5(2). In exercising the power under s 5(1), an authority must ensure that the total amount of biodegradable municipal waste authorised to be sent to landfills by allowances allocated by it for a year does not exceed the amount for the year specified under s 1 or s 2 (see PARA 631) for its area: s 5(3).

WASTE MANAGEMENT/(2) POWERS AND DUTIES/(ii) Reducing Biodegradable Municipal Waste for Landfill/634. Use of landfill allowances allocated for a different scheme year.

634. Use of landfill allowances allocated for a different scheme year.

An allocating authority¹ may by regulations² make provision for a waste disposal authority³ in its area to utilise for a scheme year⁴ landfill allowances⁵ allocated to it for a different scheme year⁶. Any such regulations may not provide for: (1) the utilisation for a target year⁷ of allowances not allocated for that year⁸; (2) the utilisation for a scheme year later than a target year of allowances allocated for a scheme year earlier than that target year⁹; (3) the utilisation for a scheme year earlier than a target year of allowances allocated for a scheme year later than that target year¹⁰.

Such regulations may, in particular: (a) make provision relating only to allowances allocated for specified¹¹ scheme years¹²; (b) make provision for allowances allocated for a scheme year to be utilised for a different scheme year only if: (i) that different scheme year is a specified scheme year; (ii) specified conditions are satisfied¹³; (c) make provision for quantitative limits on inter-year utilisation of allowances¹⁴; (d) make provision authorising the allocating authority to suspend inter-year utilisation of allowances: (i) whether indefinitely or for a fixed period; and (ii) whether generally or to a limited extent¹⁵; (e) make provision for a person to carry out, in relation to inter-year utilisation of allowances, all or any of the functions of registrar and overseer¹⁶; (f) make provision imposing, or enabling the imposition of, requirements on waste disposal authorities to provide information in relation to their inter-year utilisation of allowances¹⁷; (g) make provision for an authority to be liable to a penalty¹⁸ if it fails to comply with a requirement imposed on it by or under provision of the kind mentioned in head (f) above¹⁹; (h) make provision generally in connection with the administration or regulation of inter-year utilisation of allowances²⁰; (i) make provision for the levying of fees and charges on persons engaged in inter-year utilisation of allowances²¹; (j) make provision creating offences for breaches of provisions of any such regulations²².

Before making any such regulations under the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 Pt 1 Ch 1 (ss 1-28), other than regulations under s 1, s 2, s 3 or s 23, an allocating authority must: (1) consult such bodies or persons appearing to it to be representative of the interests of waste disposal authorities in its area as it considers appropriate; (2) consult such bodies or persons appearing to it to be representative of the interests of persons concerned in the operation of landfills in its area as it considers appropriate; and (3) consult such bodies or persons appearing to it to be representative of any other affected persons as it considers appropriate: s 27(1), (2). As to the meaning of 'landfill' see PARA 631. 'Affected person' means a person appearing to the allocating authority to be a person who will or may be affected by the regulations: s 27(3). Such consultation may be before, as well as after, the coming into force of s 27: s 27(5). The allocating authority need not consult as mentioned in head (1) or head (2) above if it appears to it that the interests mentioned in those heads will not be affected by the regulations: s 27(4).

18 Where a waste disposal authority in an allocating authority's area is liable to a penalty: (1) the amount of the penalty is that specified by, or calculated under, regulations made by the allocating authority under the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 26(3); (2) the penalty, and any interest on it, is to be paid to the allocating authority; and (3) the allocating authority may: (a) extend the time for paying the whole or part of the penalty or any interest on it; (b) relieve the waste disposal authority, in whole or in part, from liability to the penalty or any interest on it: s 26(1). Relief under head (3) above may be given: (a) in respect of an amount after, as well as before, it becomes due; (b) in a particular case or in cases of a particular description; (c) unconditionally or subject to conditions: s 26(2). An allocating authority may, as regards penalties to which waste disposal authorities in its area are liable, by regulations: (i) make provision specifying the amounts of penalties or rules for calculating their amounts; (ii) make provision as to when payments in respect of penalties are due; (iii) make provision for interest where payments in respect of penalties are due but unpaid; (iv) make provision for recovering or setting off, and securing, unpaid amounts in respect of penalties or interest: s 26(3). See the Landfill Allowances and Trading Scheme (England) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/3212, regs 20-22 (reg 20 amended by SI 2005/880); and the Landfill Allowances Scheme (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1490, regs 13-15. Where the regulations provide for an offence to be triable only summarily, they may provide for the offence to be punishable: (1) by imprisonment for a term not exceeding such period as is stated in the regulations, which may not exceed three months; (2) by a fine: (a) not exceeding such amount as is so stated, which may not exceed level 5 on the standard scale; or (b) not exceeding such level on the standard scale as is so stated; or (3) by both: s 8(3). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142.

Where the regulations provide for an offence to be triable either summarily or on indictment, they may provide for the offence to be punishable on summary conviction: (i) by imprisonment for a term not exceeding such period as is stated in the regulations, which may not exceed three months; (ii) by a fine not exceeding such amount as is so stated, which may not exceed the statutory maximum, or expressed as a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum; or (iii) by both: s 8(4), (5). As to the statutory maximum see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) para 140.

Where the regulations provide for an offence to be triable either summarily or on indictment, they may provide for the offence to be punishable on conviction on indictment: (a) by imprisonment for a term not exceeding such period as is stated in the regulations, which may not exceed two years; (b) by a fine; or (c) by both: s 8(4), (6).

An allocating authority is required to carry out certain consultations before making any regulations under s 6: see note 6.

WASTE MANAGEMENT/(2) POWERS AND DUTIES/(ii) Reducing Biodegradable Municipal Waste for Landfill/635. Trading and other transfer of landfill allowances.

635. Trading and other transfer of landfill allowances.

An allocating authority¹ may by regulations² make provision for waste disposal authorities³ in its area to transfer, whether by way of trade or otherwise, landfill allowances⁴ allocated by that or any other allocating authority⁵. Any such regulations may not authorise: (1) the acquisition of landfill allowances by a person who is not a waste disposal authority⁶; (2) the utilisation for a target year⁷ of allowances not allocated for that year⁸; (3) the utilisation for a scheme year⁹ later than a target year of allowances allocated for a scheme year earlier than that target year¹⁰; (4) the utilisation for a scheme year earlier than a target year of allowances allocated for a scheme year later than that target year¹¹.

However, such regulations may, in particular, make provision: (a) for allowances to be acquired, or disposed of, only if: (i) allocated by the allocating authority or by specified¹² allocating authorities; (ii) allocated for specified scheme years; (iii) specified conditions are satisfied¹³; (b) for quantitative limits on the transfer of allowances¹⁴; (c) for controlling prices or values put on allowances for the purpose of transferring them¹⁵; (d) authorising the allocating authority to suspend the transfer of allowances: (i) whether indefinitely or for a fixed period; and (ii) whether generally or to a limited extent¹⁶; (e) for allowances acquired by a waste disposal authority to be utilised by the authority for a scheme year only if allocated for that scheme year or for specified scheme years¹⁷; (f) for licensing and regulating persons engaged as brokers in the transfer of allowances¹⁸; (g) for a person to carry out, in relation to the transfer of allowances, all or any of the functions of registrar, clearing house and overseer¹⁹; (h) imposing, or enabling the imposition of, requirements on waste disposal authorities to provide information in relation to their acquisition and disposal of allowances²⁰; (i) for an authority to be liable to a penalty²¹ if it fails to comply with a requirement imposed on it by or under provision of the kind mentioned in head (h) above²²; (j) generally in connection with the administration or regulation of the trading of allowances²³; (k) for the levying of fees and charges on persons engaged, in any capacity, in the trading of allowances²⁴; (l) creating offences²⁵ for breaches of provisions of any such regulations or of conditions of a broker's licence²⁶.

636. Duty not to exceed allowances.

If the allocating authority¹ for an area has made an allocation² for a scheme year³, each waste disposal authority⁴ in the area owes a duty to the allocating authority to secure that the amount of biodegradable municipal waste⁵ sent to landfills⁶ in that year in pursuance of arrangements made by the waste disposal authority does not exceed the amount authorised by the landfill allowances⁷ available to that authority for the year⁸. A waste disposal authority that fails to comply with such a duty is liable to a penalty⁹.

If a waste disposal authority is liable to such a penalty in respect of a target year¹⁰, and the total amount of biodegradable municipal waste sent in the year to landfills in pursuance of arrangements made by waste disposal authorities in the United Kingdom exceeds the amount specified¹¹ for the year, the authority is also liable to a supplementary penalty¹². If a waste disposal authority is liable to a penalty in respect of a scheme year that is not a target year, that scheme year (the 'penalty year') is later than the first target year, and the total amount of biodegradable municipal waste sent in the penalty year to landfills in pursuance of arrangements made by waste disposal authorities in the United Kingdom exceeds the amount specified¹³ for the last target year before the penalty year, the authority is also liable to a supplementary penalty¹⁴.

637. Monitoring authorities.

Each allocating authority¹ must by regulations² appoint a person to be the monitoring authority for its area³. The monitoring authority for an area must: (1) monitor the operation in its area of provisions⁴ relating to landfill allowances⁵ and, in particular, monitor how much biodegradable municipal waste⁶ is sent to landfills⁷ in pursuance of arrangements made by waste disposal authorities⁸ in the area⁹; (2) audit the performance of waste disposal authorities in the area in complying with their obligations¹⁰; (3) comply with any directions by the allocating authority for the area as to the supply to the allocating authority of information acquired by the monitoring authority in carrying out any of its functions¹¹; (4) without delay notify the allocating authority for the area of any case where it appears to the monitoring authority that a waste disposal authority in the area is or may be liable to a penalty¹²; (5) comply with any directions by the allocating authority for the area as to the supply to the allocating authority of information or evidence in connection with any case where it appears to the allocating authority or the monitoring authority that a waste disposal authority in the area is or may be liable to a penalty¹³; (6) co-operate with the monitoring authority for any other area¹⁴.

1 As to allocating authorities see PARA 632.

2 As to the power to make regulations see PARA 631 note 10.

3 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 10(1). The monitoring authority for England and Wales is the Environment Agency: Landfill Allowances and Trading Scheme (England) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/3212, reg 10; Landfill Allowances Scheme (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1490, reg 5. An allocating authority is required to carry out certain consultations before making any regulations under the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 10: see PARA 634 note 6. 638. Scheme regulations.

An allocating authority¹ may by regulations² make provision for the purpose of carrying into effect, in relation to its area, of provisions³ relating to landfill allowances⁴. Any such regulations may, in particular, make provision: (1) about the manner of allocation of, or evidence of entitlement to, landfill allowances⁵; (2) for the maintaining of registers of matters relating to landfill allowances⁶; (3) about what amounts to the utilisation of landfill allowances⁷; (4) for determining the amount of biodegradable municipal waste⁸ in an amount of waste⁹; (5) imposing, or enabling the imposition of, requirements on waste disposal authorities¹⁰ in the area to produce evidence as to amounts of waste, or of waste of any description, sent to landfills¹¹ in pursuance of arrangements made by them¹²; (6) requiring waste disposal authorities in the area, in exercising functions in relation to waste that is or contains biodegradable municipal waste, to have regard to guidance specified in the regulations, including future guidance¹³; (7) imposing or conferring additional functions on the monitoring authority¹⁴ for the area¹⁵. The regulations may also provide for a waste disposal authority that fails to comply with a requirement of the regulations to be liable to a penalty¹⁶.

640. Powers of allocating authorities in relation to landfill operators.

An allocating authority¹ may, for purposes connected with the sending of biodegradable municipal waste² to landfills³, by regulations⁴ make provision for requiring a person concerned in the operation of a landfill to: (1) maintain prescribed⁵ records⁶; (2) gather prescribed information by carrying out prescribed operations on prescribed waste⁷; (3) make prescribed returns, or provide prescribed information or prescribed evidence, to prescribed persons⁸.

An allocating authority may by regulations make provision enabling the monitoring authority⁹ for its area, or persons authorised by the monitoring authority: (a) to require persons concerned in the operation of a landfill to produce records related to the operation of the landfill for inspection or for removal for inspection elsewhere¹⁰; (b) to specify the form in which, the place at which and the time at or by which records are to be produced¹¹; (c) to copy records that are produced¹²; (d) to enter premises¹³ for the purposes of: (i) finding records relating to the operation of a landfill¹⁴; (ii) inspecting them or removing them for inspection elsewhere¹⁵; and (iii) copying them¹⁶; (e) to require persons to afford, to a person exercising any power conferred under heads (a) to (d) above, such facilities and assistance within their control or in relation to which they have responsibilities as are necessary to enable the person to exercise the power¹⁷.

WASTE MANAGEMENT/(2) POWERS AND DUTIES/(ii) Reducing Biodegradable Municipal Waste for Landfill/641. Disclosure of information by monitoring and allocating authorities.

641. Disclosure of information by monitoring and allocating authorities.

A monitoring authority¹ may disclose any of its monitoring information² to any other monitoring authority, or to any allocating authority³, for the purpose of facilitating the carrying out by the recipient of any of its functions⁴. An allocating authority may disclose any of its monitoring information⁵ to any other allocating authority for the purpose of facilitating the carrying out by the recipient of any of its functions⁶.

1 As to monitoring authorities see PARA 637.

2 A monitoring authority's 'monitoring information' is information or evidence: (1) acquired by it in carrying out any of its functions under the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 Pt 1 Ch 1 (ss 1-28); or (2) disclosed to it after having been acquired by another monitoring authority in carrying out any of its functions under Pt 1 Ch 1: s 14(3).

3 As to allocating authorities see PARA 632.

4 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 14(1). The functions referred to in the text are the monitoring authority's functions under Pt 1 Ch 1: s 14(1). Section 14(1) is additional to, and does not prejudice the generality of, the Environment Act 1995 s 113 (see PARA 153): Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 14(5).

5 An allocating authority's 'monitoring information' is information or evidence: (1) acquired by it in carrying out any of its functions under the Waste and Emissions Trading Act Pt 1 Ch 1; or (2) disclosed to it after having been acquired by a monitoring authority, or another allocating authority, in carrying out any of its functions under Pt 1 Ch 1: s 14(4).

6 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 14(2). The functions referred to in the text are the allocating authority's functions under Pt 1 Ch 1: s 14(2). WASTE MANAGEMENT/(2) POWERS AND DUTIES/(ii) Reducing Biodegradable Municipal Waste for Landfill/642. Monitoring information and registers.

642. Monitoring information and registers.

An allocating authority¹ may by regulations² make provision requiring the monitoring authority³ for its area to maintain a register containing such of its monitoring information⁴ as is of a description specified by the regulations⁵.

An allocating authority may, in relation to a register that a person is required to maintain by regulations made by the authority, by regulations: (1) make provision for public inspection of such of the information contained in the register as is of a description specified by the regulations⁶; (2) make provision for members of the public to obtain copies of information in the register that is open to public inspection under head (1) above, including provision for the payment of reasonable charges⁷.

1 As to allocating authorities see PARA 632.

2 As to the power to make regulations see PARA 631 note 10.

3 As to monitoring authorities see PARA 637.

4 A monitoring authority's 'monitoring information' is information or evidence: (1) acquired by it in carrying out any of its functions under the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 Pt 1 Ch 1 (ss 1-28); or (2) disclosed to it after having been acquired by another monitoring authority in carrying out any of its functions under Pt 1 Ch 1: s 15(2).

WASTE MANAGEMENT/(2) POWERS AND DUTIES/(ii) Reducing Biodegradable Municipal Waste for Landfill/643. Strategies for reducing landfilling of biodegradable waste.

643. Strategies for reducing landfilling of biodegradable waste.

The Secretary of State¹ must have a strategy for reducing the amount of biodegradable waste² from England that goes to landfills³, and the amount of biodegradable waste from outside England that goes to landfills in England⁴. Such a strategy must, in particular, include measures to achieve the targets specified⁵ for England⁶. The Secretary of State must set out in a statement any policy formulated for the purposes of his strategy⁷.

Corresponding provision is made in relation to Wales⁸.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58.

2 As to the meaning of 'biodegradable waste' see PARA 631 note 12.

3 As to the meaning of 'landfill' see PARA 631.

4 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 17(1). Where s 17(1) is satisfied by policies set out in a statement under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 44A (see PARA 627), if the statement was prepared before the coming into force of the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 17(1) it does not matter that the policies were not formulated for the purposes of s 17(1): s 17(7). As to the meaning of 'England' see PARA 1 note 2.

5 As specified under the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 1 and s 2 (see PARA 631): s 17(2).

6 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 17(2). Such measures include, in particular, measures to achieve the targets by recycling, composting, biogas production, materials recovery or energy recovery: s 17(3).

7 Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 17(5). Before formulating policy for the purposes of s 17(1), the Secretary of State must: (1) consult the Scottish Ministers, the Welsh Ministers, the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs, the Environment Agency and the Mayor of London; (2) consult such bodies or persons appearing to him to be representative of the interests of local government as he considers appropriate; (3) consult such bodies or persons appearing to him to be representative of the interests of industry as he considers appropriate; and (4) carry out such public consultation as he considers appropriate: see s 17(4). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59. As to the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 452 et seq. As to the Environment Agency see PARA 68 et seq. As to the Mayor of London see PARA 100; and LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 81 et seq.

The Secretary of State must, as soon as a statement is prepared for the purposes of s 17(5), send a copy of it to the Scottish Ministers, the Welsh Ministers, and the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs: see s 17(6).

8 In relation to Wales, the Assembly must consult the Secretary of State, the Scottish Ministers, the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs and the Environment Agency, and the bodies and persons mentioned in note 7 heads (2)-(4): Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 19(4). As to the corresponding strategy for Northern Ireland see s 20.

WASTE MANAGEMENT/(2) POWERS AND DUTIES/(iii) Minimisation of Generation of Waste/644. Power to take steps to minimise generation of controlled waste.

(iii) Minimisation of Generation of Waste

644. Power to take steps to minimise generation of controlled waste.

A relevant authority¹ may do, arrange for the doing of, or contribute towards the expenses of the doing of, anything which in its opinion is necessary or expedient for the purpose of minimising the quantities of controlled waste², or controlled waste of any description, generated in its area³. Where a relevant authority in England (the 'first authority') proposes to exercise any of its powers under these provisions, it must before doing so consult about the proposal every other relevant authority whose area includes all or part of the area of the first authority⁴.

1 For these purposes, 'relevant authority' means a waste collection authority or a waste disposal authority: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 63A(3) (s 63A added by the Waste Minimisation Act 1998 s 1). As to the meaning of 'waste collection authority' see PARA 620 note 8; and as to the meaning of 'waste disposal authority' see PARA 620 note 7.

2 As to the meaning of 'controlled waste' see PARA 624.

3 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 63A(1) (as added: see note 1). Any increase attributable to any provision of the Waste Minimisation Act 1998 in the sums payable under any other enactment out of money provided by Parliament is to be paid out of money so provided: see s 2. This provision does not apply in so far as such a sum is payable by the Welsh Ministers. As to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/10. WASTE MANAGEMENT/(2) POWERS AND DUTIES/(iv) Duty of Care/645. Duty of care etc as respects waste.

(iv) Duty of Care

645. Duty of care etc as respects waste.

It is the duty of any person¹ who imports, produces, carries, keeps, treats or disposes of controlled waste² or, as a broker, has control of such waste, to take all such measures applicable to him in that capacity as are reasonable in the circumstances:

- 1542 (1) to prevent any contravention by any other person of the provisions prohibiting unauthorised or harmful deposit, treatment or disposal of waste³;
- 1543 (2) to prevent any contravention by any other person of certain provisions on environmental permits or of a condition of an environmental permit⁴;
- 1544 (3) to prevent the escape of the waste from his control or that of any other person⁵; and
- 1545 (4) on the transfer of the waste, to secure: (a) that the transfer is only to an authorised person⁶ or to a person for authorised transport purposes⁷; and (b) that there is transferred such a written description of the waste as will enable other persons to avoid a contravention of the provisions prohibiting unauthorised or harmful deposit, treatment or disposal of waste⁸ or any contravention of a permit granted under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007⁹, or a contravention of a condition of an environmental permit and to comply with the duty under this provision as respects the escape of waste¹⁰.

It is the duty of any person who is responsible for the management of extractive waste¹¹ to take all such measures applicable to him in that capacity as are reasonable in the circumstances:

- 1546 (a) to prevent any contravention by any other person of the provisions prohibiting unauthorised or harmful deposit, treatment or disposal of waste¹²;
- 1547 (b) to prevent any contravention by another person of certain provisions on environmental permits¹³ or of a condition of an environmental permit; and
- 1548 (c) to prevent the escape of the waste from his control or that of any other person¹⁴.

The Secretary of State may, by regulations, make provision imposing requirements on any person who is subject to the duty imposed by the above provisions¹⁵ as respects the making and retention of documents and the furnishing of documents or copies of documents¹⁶.

Any person who fails to comply with the duty imposed by the above provisions¹⁷ or with any such requirement is liable to a penalty¹⁸.

The Secretary of State must, after consultation with such persons or bodies as appear to him representative of the interests concerned, prepare and issue a code of practice for the purpose of providing to persons practical guidance on how to discharge the duty imposed on them by the above provisions¹⁹.

1 'Person' is to be widely interpreted: see R v Hertfordshire County Council, ex p Green Environmental Industries Ltd and John Moynihan [1996] JPL B126, [1997] Env LR 114, DC; on appeal [2000] 2 AC 412, [2000] 1 All ER 773, HL.

The duty imposed by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34(1) does not apply to an occupier of domestic property as respects the household waste produced on the property: s 34(2). As to the meaning of 'household waste' see PARA 624; and as to the meaning of 'waste' see PARA 623.

It is, however, the duty of the occupier of any domestic property in England or Wales to take all such measures available to him as are reasonable in the circumstances to secure that any transfer by him of household waste produced on the property is only to an authorised person (see note 6) or to a person for authorised transport purposes (see note 7): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34(2A) (added by SI 2005/2900; and amended by SI 2006/123).

6 The following are authorised persons for the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34(1)(c) and s 34(2A) (see note 1): (1) any authority which is a waste collection authority for the purposes of Pt II (ss 29-78) (see PARA 620 note 8); (2) any person who is the holder of an environmental permit in relation to a waste operation; (3) any person who is carrying on an exempt waste operation; (4) any person to whom the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1) does not apply by virtue of regulations under s 33(3) (see PARA 655); (5) any person registered as a carrier of controlled waste under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 2 (see PARA 710); and (6) any person who is not required to be so registered by virtue of regulations under s 1(3) (see PARA 709): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34(3) (amended by SI 2005/2900; and SI 2007/3538). As to the meanings of 'waste operation' (see head (2) above) and 'exempt waste operation' (see head (3) above) see PARA 663 note 1; definitions applied by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 29(13) (added by SI 2007/3538).

The Secretary of State may by regulations amend the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34(3) so as to add, whether generally or in such circumstances as may be prescribed in the regulations, any person specified in the regulations, or any description of person so specified, to the persons who are authorised persons for the purposes of s 34(1)(c) and s 34(2A): s 34(3A) (added by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 22 para 65; and amended by SI 2005/2900). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

7 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34(1)(c)(i). The following are authorised transport purposes for the purposes of s 34(1)(c) and s 34(2A) (see note 1): (1) the transport of controlled waste within the same premises between different places in those premises; (2) the transport to a place in Great Britain of controlled waste which has been brought from a country or territory outside Great Britain not having been landed in Great Britain until it arrives at that place; and (3) the transport by air or sea of controlled waste from a place in Great Britain to a place outside Great Britain: s 34(4) (amended by SI 2005/2900). As to the meaning of 'transport' see PARA 709 note 4; definition applied by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34(4) (as so amended). As to the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 1 note 2.

10 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34(1)(c)(ii) (amended by SI 2007/3538). For this purpose, a transfer of waste in stages is to be treated as taking place when the first stage of the transfer takes place; and a series of transfers between the same parties of waste of the same description is to be treated as a single transfer taking place when the first of the transfers in the series takes place: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34(4A) (added by the Deregulation and Contracting Out Act 1994 s 33(1)). The Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34(4A) has retrospective effect, except in relation to any proceedings for failure to comply with the duty imposed by s 34(1) which were commenced before 3 November 1994: see the Deregulation and Contracting Out Act 1994 s 33(2). Where any such proceedings have not been disposed of before that date, it is a defence to show that the conduct in question would not have constituted a breach of the duty concerned had s 33(1) been in force at the time: s 33(3).

19 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34(7). The provisions referred to in the text are those of s 34(1): see the text and notes 1-10.

The Secretary of State may from time to time revise a code of practice issued under s 34(7) by revoking, amending or adding to the provisions of the code: s 34(8). A code of practice prepared in pursuance of s 34(7) must be laid before both Houses of Parliament: s 34(9). A code of practice issued under s 34(7) is admissible in evidence and if any provision of such a code appears to the court to be relevant to any question arising in the proceedings it must be taken into account in determining that question: s 34(10). Different codes of practice may be prepared and issued under s 34(7) for different areas: s 34(11). As to the Code of Practice see 'Waste Management: the Duty of Care: a Code of Practice March 1996' (HMSO), which replaced an earlier code produced in 1991. At the date at which this volume states the law, a consultation was being undertaken on a revised duty of care in respect of waste management: as to the relevant website, at that date, see www.defra.gov.uk.

646. Fixed penalty notices.

Where it appears to an enforcement authority¹ that a person has failed to comply with a duty to furnish documents to that authority imposed under regulations made at any time², the authority may serve on that person a notice offering him the opportunity of discharging any liability to conviction for an offence³ by payment of a fixed penalty⁴. Where a person is given such a notice⁵ in respect of an offence: (1) no proceedings may be instituted for that offence before expiration of the period of 14 days following the date of the notice⁶; and (2) he may not be convicted of that offence if he pays the fixed penalty before the expiration of that period⁷. The enforcement authority to which a fixed penalty is payable as described above may make provision for treating it as having been paid if a lesser amount is paid before the end of a period specified by the authority⁸. In any proceedings a certificate which purports to be signed on behalf of the chief finance officer⁹ of the enforcement authority, and states that payment of a fixed penalty was or was not received by a date specified in the certificate, is evidence of the facts stated¹⁰.

The Environment Agency must pay amounts received by it under these provisions on fixed penalty notices¹¹ to the Secretary of State¹². A waste collection authority may use amounts received by it¹³ (its 'fixed penalty receipts') only for the purposes of its functions under Part II of the Environmental Protection Act 1990¹⁴ (including functions relating to the enforcement of offences under Part II), and such other of its functions as may be specified in regulations made by the appropriate person¹⁵. A waste collection authority must supply the appropriate person with such information relating to its use of its fixed penalty receipts as the appropriate person may require¹⁶. The appropriate person may by regulations¹⁷: (a) make provision for what a waste collection authority is to do with its fixed penalty receipts pending their being used for the purposes of functions of the authority¹⁸, or if they are not so used before such time after their receipt as may be specified by the regulations¹⁹; (b) make provision for accounting arrangements in respect of a waste collection authority's fixed penalty receipts²⁰.

1 For these purposes, 'enforcement authority' means the Environment Agency or a waste collection authority: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34A(14) (s 34A added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 45). As to the Environment Agency see PARA 68 et seq. As to the meaning of 'waste collection authority' see PARA 620 note 8.

2 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34A(1) (as added: see note 1). The regulations referred to in the text are those made under s 34(5): see PARA 645.

3 Ie under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34(6): see PARA 645.

4 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34A(2) (as added: see note 1). The fixed penalty payable to an enforcement authority under s 34A is, subject to s 34A(10), £300: s 34A(9) (as so added). The appropriate person may by order substitute a different amount for the amount for the time being specified in s 34A(9): s 34A(10) (as so added). 'Appropriate person' means: (1) in relation to England, the Secretary of State (see PARA 58); (2) in relation to Wales, the Welsh Ministers (see PARA 59): see s 29(1A) (added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 51).

Without prejudice to payment by any other method, payment of the fixed penalty may be made by pre-paying and posting a letter containing the amount of the penalty (in cash or otherwise) to the person mentioned in the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34A(5)(c) (see note 5 head (3)) at the address so mentioned: s 34A(6) (as so added). Where a letter is sent in accordance with s 34A(6) payment is to be regarded as having been made at the time at which that letter would be delivered in the ordinary course of post: s 34A(7) (as so added).

5 The form of a notice under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34A is to be such as the appropriate person may by order prescribe: s 34A(8) (as added: see note 1). At the date at which this volume states the law no such order had been made.

A notice under s 34A must give such particulars of the circumstances alleged to constitute the offence as are necessary for giving reasonable information of the offence: s 34A(4) (as so added). Such a notice must also state: (1) the period during which, by virtue of s 34A(3) (see heads (1) and (2) in the text) proceedings will not be taken for the offence; (2) the amount of the fixed penalty; and (3) the person to whom and the address at which the fixed penalty may be paid: s 34A(5) (as so added).

6 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34A(3)(a) (as added: see note 1).

7 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34A(3)(b) (as added: see note 1).

8 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34A(11) (as added: see note 1). The appropriate person may by regulations restrict the extent to which, and the circumstances in which, an enforcement authority may make provision under s 34A(11): s 34A(12) (as so added). As to the regulations made under s 34A(12) see the Environmental Offences (Fixed Penalties) (Miscellaneous Provisions) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/175. See also the Environmental Offences (Use of Fixed Penalty Receipts) (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/739 (amended by SI 2008/663); and the Environmental Offences (Fixed Penalties) (Miscellaneous Provisions) (Wales) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/663.

9 For these purposes, 'chief finance officer', in relation to an enforcement authority, means the person having responsibility for the financial affairs of the authority: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34A(14) (as added: see note 1).

10 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34A(13) (as added: see note 1).

15 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 73A(2) (as added: see note 12). As to the meaning of 'appropriate person' see note 4.

Regulations under s 73A(2) may, in particular, have the effect that a waste collection authority may use its fixed penalty receipts for the purposes of any of its functions: s 73A(3) (as so added). As to the regulations made under s 73A(2), (3) see the Environmental Offences (Fixed Penalties) (Miscellaneous Provisions) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/175.

16 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 73A(4) (as added: see note 12).

17 Before making regulations under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 73A, the appropriate person must consult: (1) the waste collection authorities to which the regulations are to apply; (2) such other persons as the appropriate person thinks fit: s 73A(7) (as added: see note 12). Such regulations may make different provision for different purposes (including different provision in relation to different authorities or different descriptions of authority): s 73A(8) (as so added). The powers to make regulations so conferred are, for the purposes of the Local Government Act 2003 s 100(1), to be regarded as included among the powers mentioned in s 100(2) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 789): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 73A(9) (as so added).

18 le the functions referred to in the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 73A(2): see the text and note 15.

19 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 73A(5)(a) (as added: see note 12). The provision that may be made if the receipts are not so used includes, in particular, provision for the payment of sums to a person (including the appropriate person) other than the waste collection authority: s 73A(6) (as so added).

(v) Producer Responsibility

647. Introduction.

There is European Union legislation involving 'producer responsibility'¹, and legislation has been made in the United Kingdom² for the purpose of implementing the relevant Directives³.

Also of relevance is the power under the Climate Change Act 2008 to make provision by regulations about charging for the supply of single use carrier bags⁴.

1 See PARAS 33, 39. In the context of 'producer responsibility' reference should also be made to other European Union waste initiatives: see European Commission Communication on Integrated Product Policy (COM (2003) 302 final).

2 As to the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 2.

3 As to the Producer Responsibility Obligations (Packaging Waste) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/871 (made under the European Communities Act 1972 s 2(2) and the Environment Act 1995 ss 93-95: see PARAS 648, 649) see PARA 650. As to the End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635 (made under the European Communities Act 1972 s 2(2)) see PARA 651. As to the Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment Regulations 2006, SI 2006/3289 (also made under the European Communities Act 1972 s 2(2)) see PARA 652.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/10. WASTE MANAGEMENT/(2) POWERS AND DUTIES/(v) Producer Responsibility/648. Power to make regulations and directions concerning producer responsibility obligations.

648. Power to make regulations and directions concerning producer responsibility obligations.

For the purpose of promoting or securing an increase in the re-use, recovery¹ or recycling of products or materials², the Secretary of State³ may by regulations make provision for imposing producer responsibility obligations⁴ on such persons, and in respect of such products or materials, as may be prescribed⁵.

The power of the Secretary of State to make regulations is exercisable only after consultation with bodies or persons appearing to him to be representative of bodies or persons whose interests are, or are likely to be, substantially affected by the regulations which he proposes to make⁶.

Except in the case of regulations for the implementation of: (1) any obligations of the United Kingdom⁷ under the Community treaties⁸; or (2) any international agreement to which the United Kingdom is for the time being a party⁹, the power to make regulations is exercisable only where the Secretary of State, after the required consultation¹⁰, is satisfied as to the following matters¹¹:

- 1549 (a) that the proposed exercise of the power would be likely to result in an increase in the re-use, recovery or recycling of the products or materials in question¹²;
- 1550 (b) that any such increase would produce environmental or economic benefits¹³;
- 1551 (c) that those benefits are significant as against the likely costs resulting from the imposition of the proposed producer responsibility obligation¹⁴;
- 1552 (d) that the burdens imposed on businesses by the regulations are the minimum necessary to secure those benefits¹⁵; and
- 1553 (e) that those burdens are imposed on persons most able to make a contribution to the achievement of the relevant targets having regard to the desirability of acting fairly between persons who manufacture, process, distribute or supply products or materials¹⁶; and taking account of the need to ensure that the proposed producer responsibility obligation is so framed as to be effective in achieving the purposes for which it is to be imposed¹⁷.

The power to make regulations¹⁸ is also exercisable, in a case falling within head (1) or head (2) above, for the purpose of sustaining at least a minimum level of (rather than promoting or securing an increase in) re-use, recovery or recycling of products or materials¹⁹.

The Secretary of State has a duty to exercise the power to make regulations in the manner which he considers best calculated to secure that the exercise does not have the effect of restricting, distorting or preventing competition or, if it is likely to have any such effect, that the effect is no greater than is necessary for achieving the environmental or economic benefits mentioned in heads (a) to (e) above²⁰.

Regulations²¹ may, in particular, make provision for or with respect to:

- 1554 (i) the classes or descriptions of person to whom the producer responsibility obligation²² imposed by the regulations applies²³;
- 1555 (ii) the classes or descriptions of products or materials²⁴ in respect of which the obligation applies²⁵;
- 1556 (iii) the targets which are to be achieved with respect to the proportion (whether by weight, volume or otherwise) of the products or materials in question which are to be re-used, recovered or recycled, whether generally or in any prescribed way²⁶;
- 1557 (iv) particulars of the obligation imposed by the regulations²⁷;
- 1558 (v) the registration of persons who are subject to a producer responsibility obligation and who are not members of registered exemption schemes²⁸, the imposition of requirements in connection with such registration, the variation of such requirements, the making of applications for such registration, the period for which any such registration is to remain in force, and the cancellation of any such registration²⁹;
- 1559 (vi) the approval, or withdrawal of approval, of exemption schemes by the Secretary of State³⁰;
- 1560 (vii) the imposition of requirements on persons who are not members of registered exemption schemes to furnish certificates of compliance to the Environment Agency³¹;
- 1561 (viii) the approval of persons by the Environment Agency for the purpose of issuing certificates of compliance³²;
- 1562 (ix) the registration of exemption schemes, the imposition of conditions in connection with such registration, the variation of such conditions, the making of applications for such registration, and the period for which any such registration is to remain in force³³;
- 1563 (x) the requirements which must be fulfilled, and the criteria which must be met, before an exemption scheme may be registered³⁴;
- 1564 (xi) the powers of the Environment Agency in relation to applications received by it for registration of exemption schemes³⁵;
- 1565 (xii) the cancellation of the registration of an exemption scheme³⁶;
- 1566 (xiii) the fees³⁷, or the method of determining the fees, which are to be paid to the Environment Agency:

169

- 130. (A) in respect of the approval of persons for the purpose of issuing certificates of compliance³⁸;
- 131. (B) on the making of an application for registration of an exemption scheme³⁹;
- 132. (C) in respect of the subsistence of the registration of that scheme⁴⁰;
- 133. (D) on submission to the Environment Agency of a certificate of compliance⁴¹;
- 134. (E) on the making of an application for, or for the renewal of, registration of a person required to register under the regulations⁴²;
- 135. (F) in respect of the renewal of the registration of that person⁴³;

170

- 1567 (xiv) appeals against the refusal of registration, the imposition of conditions in connection with registration, or the cancellation of the registration, of any exemption scheme⁴⁴;
- 1568 (xv) the procedure on any such appeal⁴⁵;
- 1569 (xvi) cases, or classes of case:

171

- 136. (A) in which an exemption scheme is, or is not, to be treated as registered⁴⁶; or
- 137. (B) in which a person is, or is not, to be treated as a member of a registered exemption scheme⁴⁷,

172

1570 pending the determination or withdrawal of an appeal, and otherwise with respect to the position of persons and exemption schemes pending such determination or withdrawal⁴⁸;

1571 (xvii) the imposition on the Environment Agency of a duty to monitor compliance with any of the obligations imposed by the regulations⁴⁹;

1572 (xviii) the imposition on prescribed persons of duties to maintain records, and furnish to the Secretary of State or to the Environment Agency returns, in such form as may be prescribed of such information as may be prescribed for any purposes of, or for any purposes connected with, or related to, these provisions⁵⁰ or any regulations⁵¹;

1573 (xix) the imposition on the Environment Agency of a duty to maintain, and make available for inspection by the public, a register containing prescribed information relating to registered exemption schemes or persons required to register under the regulations⁵²;

1574 (xx) the powers of entry and inspection which are exercisable by a new agency for the purposes of its functions under the regulations⁵³.

Regulations may make different provision for different cases; without prejudice to the generality of this, they may impose different producer responsibility obligations in respect of different classes or descriptions of products or materials and for different classes or descriptions of person or exemption scheme; and they may include incidental, consequential, supplemental or transitional provision⁵⁴.

If it appears to the Secretary of State:

1575 (aa) that any action proposed to be taken by the operator⁵⁵ of a registered exemption scheme would be incompatible with any obligations of the United Kingdom under the Community treaties⁵⁶ or any international agreement to which the United Kingdom is for the time being a party⁵⁷; or

1576 (bb) that any action which the operator of such a scheme has power to take is required for the purpose of implementing any such obligations or agreement⁵⁸, he may direct that operator not to take or, as the case may be, to take the action in question⁵⁹. Any direction under these provisions may include such incidental, consequential, supplemental or transitional provision as the Secretary of State considers necessary or expedient; and, on the application of the Secretary of State, is enforceable by injunction⁶⁰.

1 'Recovery', in relation to products or materials, includes: (1) composting, or any other form of transformation by biological processes, of products or materials; or (2) the obtaining, by any means, of energy from products or materials: Environment Act 1995 s 93(8).

2 'Product' and 'material' include a reference to any product or material (as the case may be) at a time when it becomes, or has become, waste: Environment Act 1995 s 93(8). Regulations may prescribe, in relation to prescribed products or materials, activities, or the activities, which are to be regarded for the purposes of ss 93-95 (see also PARA 649) or any regulations as re-use, recovery or recycling of those products or materials: s 93(8). 'Regulations' means regulations under s 93: s 93(8).

3 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

4 'Producer responsibility obligation' means the steps which are required to be taken by relevant persons of the classes or descriptions to which the regulations in question apply in order to secure attainment of the targets specified or described in the regulations: Environment Act 1995 s 93(8). 'Relevant persons', in the case of any regulations or any producer responsibility obligation, means persons of the class or description to which the producer responsibility obligation imposed by the regulations applies: s 93(8).

Environment Act 1995 s 93(1). 'Prescribed' means prescribed in regulations: s 93(8). The power to make regulations is exercisable by statutory instrument: s 93(9). A statutory instrument containing regulations is not to be made unless a draft of the instrument has been laid before and approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament (s 93(10)), but this does not apply to a statutory instrument by reason only that it contains regulations varying any relevant targets (s 93(11)). 'Relevant targets' means the targets specified or described in the regulations imposing the producer responsibility obligation in question: s 93(8). A statutory instrument which, by virtue of s 93(11), is not subject to any requirement that a draft of the instrument be laid before and approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 93(12).

37 In making any provision in relation to fees, regard must be had to the desirability of securing that the fees received by the Environment Agency under the regulations are sufficient to meet the costs and expenses incurred by the Agency in the performance of its functions under the regulations: see the Environment Act 1995 s 94(5). The Environment Act 1995 refers to a 'new agency', which means the Environment Agency or the Scottish Environment Protection Agency ('SEPA'): see s 94(6). See PARA 68.

Regulations may make provision as to which of the new agencies is the appropriate agency for the purposes of any function conferred or imposed by or under s 93 (see the text and notes 1-20) or s 94, or for the purposes of the exercise of that function in relation to the whole or a prescribed part of Great Britain, and may make provision for things done or omitted to be done by either new agency in relation to any part of Great Britain to be treated for prescribed purposes as done or omitted to be done by the other of them in relation to some other part of Great Britain: s 94(3). 649. Offences.

Regulations¹ may make provision for a person who contravenes a prescribed² requirement of the regulations to be guilty of an offence and liable to a penalty³.

Where an offence under any provision of the regulations committed by a body corporate is proved to have been committed with the consent or connivance of, or to have been attributable to any neglect on the part of, any director, manager, secretary or other similar officer of the body corporate or a person who was purporting to act in any such capacity, he as well as the body corporate is guilty of that offence and is liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly⁴. Where the affairs of a body corporate are managed by its members, these provisions apply in relation to the acts or defaults of a member in connection with his functions of management as if he were a director of the body corporate⁵.

Where the commission by any person of an offence under the regulations is due to the act or default of some other person, that other person may be charged with and convicted of the offence by virtue of these provisions whether or not proceedings for the offence are taken against the first-mentioned person⁶.

650. Packaging waste.

The Producer Responsibility Obligations (Packaging Waste) Regulations 2007¹ impose on producers² the obligation to recover and recycle packaging waste³, and related obligations, in order for the United Kingdom⁴ to reach the recovery and recycling targets set out in European legislation⁵.

Part I⁶ of the Regulations contains various definitions⁷ and excludes charities from having producer responsibility obligations⁸.

Part II⁹ of the Regulations provides that where a producer satisfies the two threshold tests¹⁰, he will have producer responsibility obligations for that year¹¹. A producer is able to purchase packaging waste recovery notes ('PRNs') or packaging waste export recovery notes ('PERNs') or both as a means of satisfying his obligations personally¹². Alternatively he may join a compliance scheme, in which case he is registered with the Environment Agency and is exempt from complying with his producer responsibility obligations for that year¹³.

In Part III¹⁴ of the Regulations there are the requirements for registration of a producer or a scheme, the conditions that apply and the circumstances and means for cancellation of that registration. Producers who are not members of registered schemes need to be registered with the Agency¹⁵. There is certain information required from the producer in his application¹⁶. There are also various conditions for registration of a producer¹⁷. Once the Agency is satisfied that an application has been properly made (including payment of the required fee)¹⁸ the producer is registered with the Agency for the year. There is provision for cancellation of registration where a producer fails to meet the specified conditions, is subsequently found to have given false information on his application or where he joins a registered compliance scheme¹⁹. There are similar registration requirements for schemes²⁰.

Part IV²¹ of the Regulations sets out the requirements on producers and operators²² of schemes to keep records and furnish returns to the Agency²³. Producers must also provide certificates demonstrating compliance²⁴ with their recovery and recycling obligations²⁵.

Part V²⁶ of the Regulations sets out the procedure for applying for accreditation as a reprocessor²⁷ to issue PRNs or as an exporter²⁸ to issue PERNs²⁹.

The right of appeal against certain decisions of the Agency³⁰ are set out in Part VI³¹ of the Regulations. There are also provisions as to the procedure to be followed³², and on the status of the producer or scheme until the appeal is resolved³³.

Part VII³⁴ of the Regulations sets out the duties of the Agency to monitor compliance³⁵ and its duties in relation to keeping a public register³⁶. There are also provisions relating to the powers of the Agency to approve persons to issue certificates of compliance and of entry and inspection³⁷, and requiring the Agency to collate certain information on the common database and to pass this data on to the Secretary of State³⁸.

Part VIII³⁹ of the Regulations covers the application of the Regulations to groups of companies⁴⁰ and where two or more businesses are in relationships involving licenses of trade marks or pub-operating agreements⁴¹; and it also deals with how to apportion recovery and recycling obligations and other obligations in the context of mid-year changes⁴².

Part X⁴³ of the Regulations revokes earlier legislation and contains transitional provisions.

Part IX⁴⁴ of the Regulations makes it an offence: (1) to contravene the producer responsibility obligations to register, recover and recycle packaging waste and furnish a certificate of compliance to the Agency; or (2) to provide false or misleading information; or (3) to prevent the Agency from exercising its powers of entry and inspection.

651. End-of-life vehicles.

The End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003¹ partially implement European legislation² on end-of-life vehicles³. Part II⁴ of the Regulations provides for the application of the Regulations.

In Part III⁵ of the Regulations the design requirements for materials and components of vehicles put on the market are set out. Producers⁶ are required to ensure that materials and components of such vehicles do not contain lead, mercury, cadmium or hexavalent chromium apart from in those cases listed⁷. Following a request from the enforcement authority, a producer must submit technical documents showing compliance⁸. A producer must keep the technical documents for a period of four years from the date the materials and components are put on the market⁹. Enforcement of Part III is by a compliance notice procedure¹⁰, and there are offences for breach of the requirements¹¹.

Information requirements are contained in Part IV¹² of the Regulations. A producer must use material and component coding standards to facilitate the identification of those materials and components which are suitable for re-use and recovery¹³. After a request from the enforcement authority, the producer must submit information showing that material and coding standards have been used¹⁴. A producer is required to keep the information necessary to demonstrate compliance for a period of four years from the date the materials and components are put on the market¹⁵. A producer must provide the enforcement authority with dismantling information within six months after the date that each type of new vehicle is put on the market¹⁶, and a producer must publish information on the recoverability and recyclability of vehicles¹⁷. Enforcement is by a compliance notice procedure¹⁸, and there is provision for offences and penalties for breach of the requirements in Part IV¹⁹.

Part V²⁰ of the Regulations covers the certificate of destruction. When an end-of-life vehicle is transferred to it for treatment, an authorised treatment facility²¹ may issue a certificate to the last holder/owner of the end-of-life vehicle²². The authorised treatment facility is prohibited from imposing a charge on the last holder/owner for issuing the certificate²³. Where an end-of-life vehicle is transferred to an authorised treatment facility, the facility must notify the Secretary of State for Transport that a certificate has been issued²⁴.

3 See the End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, reg 2. An 'end-of-life vehicle' is any vehicle which is 'waste' as defined in EEC Council Directive 75/442 (OJ L194, 25.7.75, p 39) art 1 (ie any substance or object which the holder disposes of or is required to do so under national legislation) (but see also European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2006/12 (OJ L114, 27.4.2006, p 9)) (see PARA 33). 'Vehicle' means any vehicle designated as category M1 or N1 defined in EEC Council Directive 70/156 (OJ L42, 23.2.70, p 1) on the type-approval of motor vehicles and their trailers, Annex IIA and three wheel motor vehicles as defined in EEC Council Directive 92/61 (OJ L225, 10.8.92, p 72) relating to the type-approval of two or three wheel motor vehicles, but excluding motor tricycles: see the End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, reg 2.

In particular, note that the provisions of the End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635, do not apply to three-wheel motor vehicles and that the provisions of Pt VI (regs 37-43) cease to apply from 31 December 2006: see reg 3(4), (5) (as so added and amended). Note also that Pt VII (regs 44-50) is revoked by SI 2007/3538.

652. Waste electrical and electronic equipment.

The Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment Regulations 2006¹ have been made for the purposes of implementing in the United Kingdom² European Union legislation³ on waste electrical and electronic equipment.

Part 1⁴ of the Regulations deals with extent, interpretation and service of documents⁵. Part 2⁶ provides that the Regulations will apply, with certain exceptions, to the categories of EEE specified⁷.

Part 3⁸ of the 2006 Regulations provides that all producers who put EEE on the market in the United Kingdom in a compliance period will be responsible for financing the costs of the collection, treatment, recovery and environmentally sound disposal of (1) WEEE from private households that is deposited at designated collection facilities, or returned in that compliance period⁹; and (2) WEEE from users other than private households that arises during that compliance period¹⁰. Any producer who has any obligation¹¹ must join an approved compliance scheme; and he is exempt from complying with any such obligation for the period that his membership of that scheme subsists¹². There are rules for working out the level of a producer's financing obligation under that regulation¹³. A producer must provide a declaration of compliance, together with supporting evidence, to the appropriate authority¹⁴. A producer must mark EEE that he puts on the market with the relevant crossed-out wheeled bin symbol¹⁵, and a producer identification mark and a date mark¹⁶. A producer must also provide information on reuse and environmentally sound treatment for each new type of EEE put on the market by that producer¹⁷. There are certain obligations placed on producers supplying EEE to a member state other than the United Kingdom by means of distance communication¹⁸.

Part 4¹⁹ of the Regulations requires an operator of an approved compliance scheme to register or notify each producer who is a member of that scheme with the appropriate authority²⁰. An operator of a scheme has certain obligations in relation to the reuse of whole appliances²¹, treatment²² and recovery²³ for any WEEE for which he is responsible. Such an operator has obligations as to reporting²⁴, compliance²⁵ and record keeping²⁶.

Under Part 5²⁷ a distributor is responsible for providing an in-store take back service for customers in relation to specified WEEE unless he is a member of a distributor take back scheme²⁸. A distributor supplying new EEE must make specified information available to users of EEE in private households²⁹. A distributor has a right to return WEEE from private households free of charge to a system set up by a compliance scheme³⁰. There is a record-keeping obligation on distributors³¹.

Part 6³² of the 2006 Regulations places a financing obligation on users other than private households in relation to WEEE that arises from EEE that was put on the market in the United Kingdom before 13 August 2005³³. A person collecting or transporting WEEE must ensure that reuse and recycling of that equipment, or its components, is optimised³⁴. A person has a right to refuse to handle contaminated WEEE³⁵. An operator of a scheme may establish and operate a system to take back WEEE from private households³⁶. No person may show a purchaser at the time of sale of new EEE the costs of financing the collection, treatment and environmentally sound disposal of WEEE from private households unless specified conditions apply³⁷.

In Part 7³⁸ there is set out the procedure for applying for approval as a scheme³⁹. Provision is made for refusal of approval⁴⁰, conditions of approval⁴¹ and withdrawal of approval⁴². Part 8⁴³ of the Regulations sets out the procedure for applying for approval as an authorised treatment facility ('ATF') or an exporter for the purpose of issuing evidence of producer or scheme compliance under the Regulations⁴⁴. Provision is made for conditions of approval⁴⁵ and suspension or cancellation of approval⁴⁶.

Under Part 9⁴⁷ the Secretary of State⁴⁸ has power to approve a distributor take back scheme⁴⁹ and designated collection facilities ('DCFs')⁵⁰. The Secretary of State has a power to approve a code of practice for the purpose of providing practical guidance to DCFs and operators of schemes⁵¹; and he also has a power to buy, sell or otherwise supply evidence notes issued by an approved ATF ('AATF') or an approved exporter; to issue evidence notes; and to approve the format of evidence notes issued by AATFs and approved exporters⁵². The Secretary of State has a duty to promote the design and production of EEE that takes into account and facilitates dismantling and recovery⁵³.

Part 10⁵⁴ of the Regulations provides that an appropriate authority is under a duty to maintain and make available a register of producers⁵⁵; and to monitor the performance of specified obligations of producers, operators of schemes, AATFs and approved exporters⁵⁶. There are duties imposed on an appropriate authority in relation to the approval of compliance schemes⁵⁷ and AATFs and approved exporters⁵⁸. An appropriate authority must publish information about EEE put on the market in the United Kingdom and WEEE deposited at DCFs⁵⁹.

In Part 11⁶⁰ provision is made for the disclosure of information by the Secretary of State, an appropriate authority and an enforcement authority to any person for the purpose of facilitating the carrying out of any function under the Regulations.

Part 12⁶¹ sets out the right and procedure of an appeal against certain decisions of an appropriate authority. Part 13⁶² of the Regulations covers enforcement⁶³. Finally Part 14⁶⁴ details the offences⁶⁵ and penalties⁶⁶ relating to any contravention of the 2006 Regulations.

653. Charges for single-use carrier bags.

The relevant national authority¹ may make provision by regulations² about charging by sellers³ of goods for the supply of single use carrier bags⁴. The regulations may make provision for such regulations⁵ to apply (1) to all sellers of goods; (2) to sellers of goods named in the regulations; (3) to sellers of goods identified by reference to specified factors⁶; or (4) to sellers of goods within head (2) above and sellers of goods within head (3) above⁷. The regulations may make provision requiring sellers of goods to charge for single use carrier bags supplied at the place where the goods are sold, for the purpose of enabling the goods to be taken away, or for the purpose of enabling the goods to be delivered⁸. The regulations may specify the minimum amount that a seller must charge for each single use carrier bag, or provide for that amount to be determined in accordance with the regulations⁹. The regulations may appoint a person (an 'administrator') to administer provision made by the regulations¹⁰. The regulations may confer or impose powers or duties on an administrator to enforce provision made by the regulations¹¹.

The relevant national authority may make provision by regulations about civil sanctions¹² for breaches of the regulations¹³. The regulations may make provision conferring on an administrator the power by notice to impose one or more discretionary requirements¹⁴ on a person who breaches the regulations¹⁵.

Such provision¹⁶ may include provision for an administrator by notice, to require a person on whom a discretionary requirement is imposed to pay the costs¹⁷ incurred by the administrator in relation to the imposition of the discretionary requirement up to the time of its imposition¹⁸. The regulations may not provide for the making of an appeal other than to the First-tier Tribunal, or another tribunal created under an enactment¹⁹. The regulations may make provision enabling an administrator to give a publicity notice to a person on whom a civil sanction has been imposed in accordance with the regulations²⁰. There is also power in the regulations to make provision regarding liability of the officers of a body corporate and the partners of a partnership²¹. Further provision is made with regard to guidance as to the use of civil sanctions²²; publication of enforcement action²³; compliance of the administrator with regulatory principles²⁴; review of the operation of any provision made by the authority conferring power on an administrator to impose a civil sanction²⁵; suspension of power to serve any further notice of intent²⁶; and payment of penalties into the Consolidated Fund²⁷.

1 'Relevant national authority' means the Secretary of State (see PARA 58) in relation to England or the Welsh Ministers (see PARA 59) in relation to Wales: see the Climate Change Act 2008 s 77(3). As to s 77, Sch 6 see also FUEL AND ENERGY.

2 Regulations under the Climate Change Act 2008 s 77, Sch 6 are subject to affirmative resolution procedure if (1) they are the first regulations to be made by the relevant nation authority in question under Sch 6; (2) they contain provision imposing or providing for the imposition of new civil sanctions; (3) they increase the amount or maximum amount of a monetary penalty or change the basis on which such an amount or maximum is to be determined; or (4) they amend or repeal a provision of an enactment contained in primary legislation: s 77(4). Otherwise regulations under Sch 6 are subject to negative resolution procedure: s 77(5). Where an instrument containing regulations under the Sch 6 made by a single national authority contains regulations that are to be made by the Secretary of State and are subject to affirmative resolution procedure, the regulations must not be made unless a draft of the statutory instrument containing them has been laid before and approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament: see Sch 6 para 27. In relation to an instrument containing regulations under Schedule 6 made or to be made by the Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers, if any of the regulations are subject to affirmative resolution procedure, all of them are subject to that procedure: see Sch 6 para 28. If a draft of an instrument containing regulations under Schedule 6 would, apart from Sch 6 para 29, be treated for the purposes of the standing orders of either House of Parliament as a hybrid instrument, it is to proceed in that House as if it were not such an instrument: Sch 6 para 29. At the date at which this volume states the law no regulations had been made under s 77, Sch 6.

3 'Seller', in relation to goods, has the meaning given by the regulations which may define that term by reference, in particular, to a person's involvement in selling the goods, a person's interest in the goods, or a person's interest in the place at or from which the goods are sold, or any combination of those factors: Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 6 para 3(1).

4 Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 6 para 1. 'Single use carrier bag' has the meaning given by the regulations, which may define that term by reference, in particular, to a bag's size, thickness, construction, composition or other characteristics, or its intended use, or any combination of those factors: Sch 6 para 5.

5 ie regulations under the Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 6.

6 The specified factors may include the place or places at or from which a seller supplies goods, the type of goods that a seller supplies, the value of goods that a seller supplies and a seller's turnover or any part of that turnover: see the Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 6 para 3(3). In Sch 6 'specified' means specified in regulations under Sch 6: Sch 6 para 3(4).

7 Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 6 para 3(2).

8 Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 6 para 2.

9 Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 6 para 4.

10 See the Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 6 para 6. More than one person may be appointed as administrator: Sch 6 para 6(2). As to record-keeping and publication of records relating to charges made for single use carrier bags see Sch 6 para 7.

11 See the Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 6 para 8.

12 In the Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 6 'civil sanction' means a fixed monetary penalty or a discretionary requirement: Sch 6 para 9(3). The regulations may make provision conferring on an administrator the power by notice to impose a fixed monetary penalty on a person who breaches regulations under Sch 6: Sch 6 para 10(1). The regulations may only confer such a power in relation to a case where the administrator is satisfied on the balance of probabilities that the breach has occurred: Sch 6 para 10(2). For the purposes of Sch 6 a 'fixed monetary penalty' is a requirement to pay to an administrator a penalty of an amount specified in or determined in accordance with the regulations: Sch 6 para 10(3). The regulations may not provide for the imposition of a fixed monetary penalty in excess of £5,000: Sch 6 para 10(4). As to procedure in relation to fixed monetary penalties see Sch 6 para 11. Provision may not be made under Sch 6 para 10 or Sch 6 para 12 (see the text and notes 14, 15) conferring powers on an administrator in relation to the same kind of breach of regulations under Sch 6 unless it complies with certain requirements: see Sch 6 para 15.

13 Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 6 para 9(1). For the purposes of Sch 6, a person breaches regulations under Sch 6 if, in such circumstances as may be specified, the person fails to comply with a requirement made by or under the regulations or obstructs or fails to assist an administrator: Sch 6 para 9(2).

14 'Discretionary requirement' means a requirement to pay a monetary penalty to an administrator of such amount as the administrator ('variable monetary penalty'), or a requirement to take such steps as an administrator may specify, within such period as the administrator may specify, to secure that the breach does not continue or recur ('non-monetary discretionary requirement'): see Sch 6 para 12(3). As to procedure with regard to discretionary requirements see Sch 6 para 13. As to the enforcement of discretionary requirements see Sch 6 para 14. See also Sch 6 para 15; and note 12.

15 See the Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 6 para 12(1). See also Sch 6 para 15; and note 12.

As to provision for early payment discounts, the payment of interest or other financial penalties for late payment of the monetary penalty and enforcement of the penalty, see Sch 6 para 16.

16 ie under the Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 6 para 12.

17 Such costs include in particular investigation costs, administration costs and costs of obtaining expert advice, including legal advice: see the Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 6 para 17(2).

18 See the Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 6 para 17(1).

19 See the Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 6 para 18. As to the First-tier Tribunal see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW. The reference to 'tribunal' does not include an ordinary court of law: Sch 6 para 18(2).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/10. WASTE MANAGEMENT/(2) POWERS AND DUTIES/(vi) Site Waste/654. Site waste management plans.

(vi) Site Waste

654. Site waste management plans.

The appropriate person¹ may by regulations² make provision requiring persons of a specified³ description: (1) to prepare plans for the management and disposal of waste created in the course of specified descriptions of works involving construction or demolition⁴; (2) to comply with such plans⁵.

Such regulations may make supplementary and incidental provision, including in particular provision as to:

- 1577 (a) the circumstances in which plans must be prepared⁶;
- 1578 (b) the contents of plans⁷;
- 1579 (c) enforcement authorities in relation to plans and the powers of such authorities⁸;
- 1580 (d) the keeping of plans and their production to enforcement authorities⁹;
- 1581 (e) offences in relation to a failure to comply with a requirement under the regulations¹⁰;
- 1582 (f) penalties for those offences¹¹;
- 1583 (g) the discharging of liability for an offence under the regulations by the payment of a fixed penalty to an enforcement authority¹²;
- 1584 (h) the uses to which such payments may be put by enforcement authorities¹³.

1 For these purposes, 'appropriate person' means: (1) in relation to works in England, the Secretary of State; (2) in relation to works in Wales, the Welsh Ministers: see the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 54(9). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

2 Regulations under the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 54 may make different provision for different purposes: s 54(4). They are to be made by statutory instrument: s 54(6). A statutory instrument containing regulations made by the Secretary of State is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 54(7). As to regulations made see the Site Waste Management Plans Regulations 2008, SI 2008/314. As to citation, application and commencement see reg 1; as to interpretation see reg 2; as to exemptions see reg 3; as to appointment of the principal contractor see reg 4; as to preparation of a site waste management plan see reg 5; as to requirements for a site waste management plan see reg 6; as to updating a site waste management plans for a project of £500,000 or less see reg 7; as to updating a site waste management plan for a project worth more than £500,000 see reg 8; as to availability of the plan see reg 9; as to keeping plans see reg 10; as to additional duties see reg 11, Schedule; as to false statements see reg 12; as to obstruction see reg 13; as to penalties see reg 14; as to enforcement see reg 15; as to fixed penalty notices see reg 16; and as to transitional provisions see reg 17.

3 I.e. specified in regulations under the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 54 (see note 2): see s 54(9).

4 Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 54(1)(a). Descriptions of works that may be specified under s 54(1)(a) include, in particular, description by reference to the cost or likely cost of such works: s 54(2).

5 Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 54(1)(b).

6 Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 54(3)(a). See note 2.

7 Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 54(3)(b). See note 2.

8 Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 54(3)(c). The appropriate person may give guidance to persons who are enforcement authorities under s 54(3)(c) in relation to the powers conferred on them under that provision: s 54(8). See note 2.

9 Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 54(3)(d). See note 2.

10 Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 54(3)(e). See note 2.

11 Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 54(3)(f). See note 2.

12 Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 54(3)(g). See note 2.

13 Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 54(3)(h). Regulations making provision under s 54(3)(h) may, in particular, make different provision relating to different enforcement authorities or different descriptions of enforcement authority (including provision framed by reference to performance categories under the Local Government Act 2003 s 99(4): see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 789): Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 54(5). See note 2.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/10. WASTE MANAGEMENT/(3) UNAUTHORISED OR HARMFUL DEPOSITING, TREATMENT OR DISPOSAL OF WASTE/655. Prohibition on unauthorised or harmful depositing, treatment or disposal etc of waste.

(3) UNAUTHORISED OR HARMFUL DEPOSITING, TREATMENT OR DISPOSAL OF WASTE

655. Prohibition on unauthorised or harmful depositing, treatment or disposal etc of waste.

A person must not:

- 1585 (1) deposit¹ controlled waste² or extractive waste³, or knowingly cause or knowingly permit⁴ controlled waste or extractive waste to be deposited in or on any land⁵ unless an environmental permit⁶ authorising the deposit is in force and the deposit is in accordance with the permit⁷;
- 1586 (2) submit controlled waste, or knowingly cause or knowingly permit controlled waste to be submitted, to any listed operation (other than an operation within head (1) above) that: (a) is carried out in or on any land, or by means of any mobile plant⁸; and (b) is not carried out under and in accordance with an environmental permit⁹;
- 1587 (3) treat, keep or dispose¹⁰ of controlled waste or extractive waste in a manner likely to cause pollution of the environment¹¹ or harm to human health¹².

Heads (1) and (2) above do not apply in relation to a waste operation that is an exempt waste operation¹³. Heads (1) to (3) above¹⁴ do not apply in relation to the carrying on of any of certain activities¹⁵.

Heads (1) and (2) above also do not apply in relation to household waste¹⁶ from a domestic property which is treated, kept or disposed of within the curtilage of the property¹⁷; nor do heads (1) to (3) above apply in cases prescribed in regulations made by the Secretary of State¹⁸.

A person who contravenes head (1), (2) or (3) above commits an offence¹⁹. It is a defence for a person charged with an offence under these provisions to prove:

- 1588 (i) that he took all reasonable precautions and exercised all due diligence to avoid the commission of the offence²⁰; or
- 1589 (ii) that the acts alleged to constitute the contravention were done in an emergency in order to avoid danger to human health in a case where: (A) he took all such steps as were reasonably practicable in the circumstances for minimising pollution of the environment and harm to human health; and (B) particulars of the acts were furnished to the waste regulation authority²¹ as soon as reasonably practicable after they were done²².

1 'Deposit' includes temporary deposit (see R v Metropolitan Stipendiary Magistrate, ex p London Waste Regulation Authority [1993] 3 All ER 113, DC; R v Leighton and Town and Country Refuse Collections Ltd [1997] Env LR 411, CA; cf Leigh Land Reclamation Ltd v Walsall Metropolitan Borough Council [1991] JPL 867), and may include continuing activities where appropriate (see Thames Waste Management Ltd v Surrey County Council [1997] Env LR 148). See also Scott v Westminster City Council (1995) 93 LGR 370, CA.

2 As to the meaning of 'controlled waste' see PARA 624. See Environment Agency v Inglenorth Ltd [2009] EWHC 670 (Admin), [2009] LLR 389, [2009] All ER (D) 167 (Mar); and PARA 624.

3 As to the meaning of 'extractive waste' see PARA 663 note 1; definition applied by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 29(13) (added by SI 2007/3538; and amended by SI 2009/1799).

4 Causation should be approached using common sense: see Alphacell Ltd v Woodward [1972] AC 824, [1972] 2 All ER 475, HL; National Rivers Authority v Yorkshire Water Services Ltd [1995] 1 AC 444, [1995] 1 All ER 225, HL. As to the meaning of 'knowingly' see Westminster City Council v Croyalgrange Ltd [1986] 2 All ER 353, [1986] 1 WLR 674, HL (decided under local government legislation). See also Shanks and McEwan (Teesside) Ltd v Environment Agency [1999] QB 333, [1997] 2 All ER 332, DC. As to the meaning of 'permitting' see Vehicle Inspectorate v Nuttall (t/a Redline Coaches) [1999] 1 WLR 629, [1999] RTR 264, HL. See also Tophams Ltd v Earl of Sefton [1967] 1 AC 50, [1966] 1 All ER 1039, HL; Kent County Council v Beaney [1993] Env LR 380.

As to the approach to causation under the Water Resources Act 1991 see Environment Agency (formerly National Rivers Authority) v Empress Car Co (Abertillery) Ltd [1999] 2 AC 22, sub nom Empress Car Co (Abertillery) Ltd v National Rivers Authority [1998] 1 All ER 481, HL. In this case, it was held that a person caused a pollutant to enter controlled waters within the meaning of the Water Resources Act 1991 s 85(1) (see PARA 291) if he actively did something, with or without the occurrence of other factors, which produced a situation in which the polluting matter could escape, even though what he did was not the immediate cause of the pollution. Where a necessary condition of the actual escape which happened was also the act of a third party or a natural event, the justices should consider whether that act or event should be regarded as a normal fact of life or something extraordinary. If it was an ordinary occurrence, it would not negative the causal effect of the defendant's acts, even if it was not foreseeable that it would happen to that particular defendant, or take that particular form; however, if it could be regarded as something extraordinary, it would be open to the justices to hold that the defendant did not cause the pollution. Whether an act or event was ordinary or extraordinary was one of fact and degree to which the justices should apply its common sense and knowledge of what happened in the area.

As to pollution of water see PARA 270 et seq.

Evidence of ownership of a vehicle is sufficient to establish a prima facie case that the owner is in control of, or in a position to control the use of, a vehicle which deposits controlled waste in contravention of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1)(a): Environment Agency v Melland [2002] EWHC 904 (Admin), [2002] RTR 425, [2002] Env LR 29.

5 As to the meaning of 'land' see PARA 620 note 2.

6 As to the meaning of 'environmental permit' see PARA 664; definition applied by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 29(13) (added by SI 2007/3538).

7 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1)(a) (amended by SI 2007/3538; and SI 2009/1799). See also note 12. Where controlled waste is carried in and deposited from a motor vehicle, the person who controls or is in a position to control the use of the vehicle is, for the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1)(a), treated as knowingly causing the waste to be deposited whether or not he gave any instructions for this to be done: s 33(5). For the purposes of s 33(1)(a), the deposit of waste in or on land includes any listed operation involving such a deposit: s 33(11) (s 33(11)-(13) added by SI 2007/3538). For the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33, a 'listed operation' is an operation listed in European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2006/12 (OJ L114, 27.4.2006, p 9) on waste Annex IIA or Annex IIB: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(13) (as so added). As to Directive 2006/12 see PARA 33.

See further, in relation to the disapplication of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1)(a) above, in so far as it relates to an operation which falls within a description in the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, Sch 3A, Pt 2 (Sch 3A added by SI 2009/3381) and meets the conditions specified in the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, Sch 3A, Pt 2 for an operation of that description, the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 68(1) (reg 68 substituted by SI 2009/3381); and see also the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 68(3) (as so substituted), Sch 20 (amended by SI 2009/1799). See also PARA 663 note 1. As to the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, generally see PARA 662 et seq.

See Shanks and McEwan (Teesside) Ltd v Environment Agency [1999] QB 333, [1997] 2 All ER 332, DC (a company would be guilty of an offence under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1)(a) (in fact an earlier version of this provision before environmental permits replaced waste management licences: see PARA 662) if it had knowledge of controlled waste being caused or permitted to be deposited in or on its land; it is not additionally necessary to prove that the company had knowingly permitted the alleged breach of the conditions of a waste management licence or that it had knowledge of the particular deposit of waste or of the container into which that waste was deposited; s 33(1)(a) only requires knowledge of the fact of deposit and not of the breach of conditions). As to investigation and enforcement costs see the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33A; and PARA 656. As to clean-up costs see s 33B; and PARA 657. As to forfeiture of vehicles see s 33C; and PARA 658. As to powers of seizure where there is a belief that a vehicle has been, is being or is about to be used in the commission of an offence under s 33 or s 34 see ss 34B, 34C; and PARA 659.

8 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1)(b)(i) (s 33(1)(b) substituted by SI 2007/3538). 'Mobile plant' means plant which is designed to move or be moved whether on roads or other land: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 29(1), (9) (s 29(9) amended by SI 2007/3538).

9 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1)(b)(ii) (as substituted: see note 8).

10 For the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1)(c) (see head (3) in the text), treating, keeping or disposing of controlled waste includes submitting it to any listed operation: s 33(12) (as added: see note 7). Generally as to the meaning of 'disposal' see PARA 620 note 12; and as to the treatment of waste see PARA 620 note 12. As to waste producers see Gotech Industrial and Environmental Services Ltd v Friel 1995 SCCR 22 (decided under earlier legislation). As to keeping waste see R v Leighton and Town and Country Refuse Collection Ltd [1997] Env LR 411. See also Dudley v Holland [1965] 1 QB 31, [1963] 3 All ER 732, DC.

11 'Pollution of the environment' means pollution of the environment due to the release or escape (into any environmental medium) from: (1) the land on which controlled waste or extractive waste is treated; (2) the land on which controlled waste or extractive waste is kept; (3) the land in or on which controlled waste or extractive waste is deposited; (4) fixed plant by means of which controlled waste or extractive waste is treated, kept or disposed of, of substances or articles constituting or resulting from the waste and capable (by reason of the quantity or concentrations involved) of causing harm to man or any other living organisms supported by the environment: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 29(1), (3) (s 29(3) amended by SI 2009/1799). As to the meaning of 'environment' see PARA 627 note 2. As to the meaning of 'substance' see PARA 623 note 2.

The Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 29(3) applies in relation to mobile plant by means of which controlled waste or extractive waste is treated or disposed of as it applies to plant on land by means of which controlled waste or extractive waste is treated or disposed of: s 29(1), (4) (s 29(4) amended by SI 2009/1799).

For the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 29(3), (4), 'harm' means harm to the health of living organisms or other interference with the ecological systems of which they form part and in the case of man includes offence to any of his senses or harm to his property; and 'harmless' has a corresponding meaning: s 29(1), (5).

12 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1)(c) (amended by SI 2009/1799). See also the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(12); and note 10. The provisions of s 33(1)(a)-(c) (in fact an earlier version of these provisions) create different offences, each of which may be committed by any one of the different acts specified: see R v Leighton and Town and Country Refuse Collections Ltd [1997] Env LR 411, CA (where it was held that, in principle, it is permissible to charge a single offence stating various acts of commission in the alternative). See also Neal Soil Suppliers Ltd v Environment Agency for Wales [2007] EWHC 2592 (Admin), [2007] All ER (D) 472 (Oct); and PARA 702.

As to liability for damage caused by waste see PARA 660.

13 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1A) (s 33(1A), (1B) added by SI 2007/3538). As to the meaning of 'exempt waste operation' see PARA 663 note 1; definition applied by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 29(13) (added by SI 2007/3538).

14 I.e. the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1).

15 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1B) (as added: see note 13). The activities referred to are: (1) the disposal of liquid waste under a consent under the Water Resources Act 1991 Pt III Ch II (ss 85-91) (see PARA 291 et seq); (2) a waste operation which is or forms part of an operation which (a) is the subject of a licence under the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 Pt II (ss 5-15) (see PARA 525 et seq); or (b) by virtue of an order under s 7 (see PARA 527), does not require such a licence; (3) the disposal of agricultural waste in or on land under an authorisation under the Groundwater Regulations 1998, SI 1998/2746, reg 18 (revoked) (see now the Groundwater (England and Wales) Regulations 2009, SI 2009/2902; and PARA 335): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1B) (as so added).

16 As to the meaning of 'household waste' see PARA 624.

17 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(2) (s 33(2) substituted, and s 33(2A) added, by SI 2006/937). However, the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(2) does not apply to the treatment, keeping or disposal of household waste by an establishment or undertaking: s 33(2A) (as so added).

18 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(3). The regulations may make different exceptions for different areas: see s 33(3). The Secretary of State, in exercising his power under s 33(3), must have regard in particular to the expediency of excluding from the prohibitions in s 33(1) (see heads (1)-(3) in the text): (1) any deposits which are small enough or of such a temporary nature that they may be so excluded; (2) any means of treatment or disposal which are innocuous enough to be so excluded; (3) cases for which adequate controls are provided by another enactment than s 33: s 33(4) (amended by SI 2007/3538). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59. As to the regulations made see the Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1994, SI 1994/1056 (see PARA 661) but they are now mostly replaced by the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538 (see PARA 662 et seq). See also the Controlled Waste Regulations 1992, SI 1992/588 (see PARA 624); and the Waste Management (England and Wales) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/937 (see also PARAS 624, 709).

Whether a particular exemption applies is primarily a question of fact: see North Yorkshire County Council v Boyne [1997] JPL 434, [1997] Env LR 91. See also Environment Agency v Armstrong Environmental Services Ltd [2005] EWHC 633 (Admin), [2005] Env LR 40, [2005] All ER (D) 373 (Mar).

As to cases under the previous waste management licensing provisions see London Waste Regulation Authority v Drinkwater Sabey Ltd [1997] Env LR 137 (exempt activities are completely outside normal waste management licensing provisions, and prosecutions under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(6) (see the text and note 19) can only relate to activities for which a licence is required); Environment Agency v R Newcomb & Sons Ltd [2002] EWHC 2095 (Admin), [2002] All ER (D) 226 (Oct) (exemptions in the Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1994, SI 1994/1056, allow no margin of tolerance).

19 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(6) (amended by SI 2007/3538). An offence can be committed only by the person who actually contravenes the condition of a licence, which in some circumstances may mean the occupier and not the licence holder: see Shanks & McEwen (Midlands) Ltd v Wrexham Maelor Borough Council [1996] Env LR D26 (this case was decided before waste management licences were replaced by environmental permits and the amendment to the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(6)).

Where a person is charged with an offence under s 33(1)(a) (see head (1) in the text) (in fact again an earlier version of the provision), the court should consider whether an exemption is in play, and then examine the issues of fact in each case, before deciding whether the burden of proof is on the defendant: Environment Agency v ME Foley Contractors Ltd [2002] EWHC 258 (Admin), [2002] 1 WLR 1754, [2002] Env LR 27.

A person who commits an offence under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33 is liable: (1) on summary conviction, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding 12 months or a fine not exceeding £50,000 or both; (2) on conviction on indictment, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding five years or a fine or both: s 33(8) (substituted for former s 33(8), (9) by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 41(1); Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(8) amended, and new s 33(9), (10) added, by SI 2006/937). However, a person (other than an establishment or undertaking) who commits a relevant offence is liable: (a) on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum; and (b) on conviction on indictment, to a fine: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(9) (as so added). In s 33, 'relevant offence' means an offence under s 33 in respect of a contravention of s 33(1)(c) (see head (3) in the text) consisting of the treatment, keeping or disposal within the curtilage of a domestic property of household waste from that property: s 33(10) (as so added). As to the statutory maximum see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 140.

Where commercial flytipping is deliberate, repeated, large scale, highly organised, financially motivated and highly profitable, it is appropriate to impose a custodial sentence, even in the absence of aggravating features: R v Kelleher [2008] EWCA Crim 3055, [2009] 2 Cr App Rep (S) 188, [2009] All ER (D) 18 (Mar).

For cases on sentencing generally see R v O'Brien [2000] 2 Cr App Rep (S) 358, [2000] Env LR 653, [2000] All ER (D) 192, CA; R v Garrett (Terence William) [1998] Env LR D2, CA. As to 'due diligence' defences see Durham County Council v Peter Connors Industrial Services Ltd [1992] Crim LR 743, [1993] Env LR 197; Environment Agency v Short [1999] Env LR 300. 656. Investigation and enforcement costs.

Where a person is convicted of a relevant offence¹, the court by or before which the offender is convicted may make an order² requiring him to pay to an enforcement authority³ a sum which appears to the court not to exceed the costs arising from:

- 1590 (1) investigations of the enforcement authority which resulted in the conviction⁴; and
- 1591 (2) the seizure by the enforcement authority of a vehicle involved in the offence⁵.

1 Is an offence (1) under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33, in respect of a contravention of s 33(1) (see PARA 655); (2) under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 38(1)(a) (see PARA 674 head (1)), in respect of a waste operation or a mining waste operation: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33A(1) (s 33A added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 42(1); and the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33A(1) substituted by SI 2007/3538; and amended by SI 2009/1799). As to the meaning of 'waste operation' see PARA 663 note 1; definition applied by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 29(13) (added by SI 2007/3538; and amended by SI 2009/1799). As to the meaning of 'mining waste operation' see PARA 663 note 1; definition applied by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 29(13) (as so added and amended).

2 The power of a court to make an order under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33A is in addition to its power to make an order under the Prosecution of Offences Act 1985 s 18 (award of costs against accused) (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(4) (2006 Reissue) PARA 2063): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33A(4) (as added: see note 1).

3 For these purposes, 'enforcement authority' means the Environment Agency or a waste collection authority: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33A(5) (as added: see note 1). As to the Environment Agency see PARA 68 et seq. As to the meaning of 'waste collection authority' see PARA 620 note 8.

4 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33A(2)(a) (as added: see note 1).

5 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33A(2)(b) (as added: see note 1). As to the seizure of such a vehicle see s 34B; and PARA 659. The costs arising from the seizure of a vehicle as specified in s 33A(2)(b) may include the cost of disposing of the contents of the vehicle: s 33A(3) (as so added).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/10. WASTE MANAGEMENT/(3) UNAUTHORISED OR HARMFUL DEPOSITING, TREATMENT OR DISPOSAL OF WASTE/657. Clean-up costs.

657. Clean-up costs.

Where a person is convicted of a relevant offence¹, the reference in the provision of the Powers of Criminal Courts (Sentencing) Act 2000 concerning compensation orders² to loss or damage resulting from the offence includes costs incurred³ or to be incurred by a relevant person⁴ in: (1) removing the waste deposited or disposed of in or on the land⁵; (2) taking other steps to eliminate or reduce the consequences of the deposit or disposal⁶; or (3) both⁷.

² I.e. under the Powers of Criminal Courts (Sentencing) Act 2000 s 130(1)(a): see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(4) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1685.

³ The reference in the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33B(2) to costs incurred does not, in the case of the Environment Agency or a waste collection authority, include any costs which the Agency or authority has already recovered under s 59(8) (see PARA 702): s 33B(4) (as added: see note 1). In relation to the costs referred to in s 33B(2), the reference in the Powers of Criminal Courts (Sentencing) Act 2000 s 131(1) (limit on amount payable) (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(4) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1685) to £5,000 is instead to be construed as a reference to the amount of those costs (or, if the costs have not yet been incurred, the likely amount): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33B(5) (as so added; and amended by SI 2006/937). However, the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33B(5) does not apply where a person (other than an establishment or undertaking) is convicted of a relevant offence within the meaning of s 33 (see PARA 655 note 19): s 33B(6) (s 33B as so added; s 33B(6) added by SI 2006/937). As to the Environment Agency see PARA 68 et seq. As to the meaning of 'waste collection authority' see PARA 620 note 8.

⁵ Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33B(2)(a) (as added: see note 1).

⁶ Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33B(2)(b) (as added: see note 1).

⁷ Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33B(2)(c) (as added: see note 1).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/10. WASTE MANAGEMENT/(3) UNAUTHORISED OR HARMFUL DEPOSITING, TREATMENT OR DISPOSAL OF WASTE/658. Forfeiture of vehicles.

658. Forfeiture of vehicles.

Where a person is convicted of a relevant offence¹, the court by or before which the offender is convicted may make an order² if: (1) the court is satisfied that a vehicle³ was used in or for the purposes of the commission of the offence⁴; and (2) at the time of his conviction the offender has rights in the vehicle⁵.

Such an order operates to deprive the offender of his rights in the vehicle (including its fuel) at the time of his conviction and to vest those rights in the relevant enforcement authority⁶. In a case where a vehicle has been seized⁷ and the offender retains rights in any of the vehicle's contents, an order⁸ may, if and to the extent that it so specifies, deprive the offender of those rights and vest them in the relevant enforcement authority⁹. Where such an order is made, the relevant enforcement authority may¹⁰ take possession of the vehicle¹¹. The court may make such an order whether or not it also deals with the offender in any other way in respect of the offence of which he is convicted¹².

In considering whether to make an order¹³ a court must in particular have regard to:

- 1592 (a) the value of the vehicle¹⁴;
- 1593 (b) the likely financial and other effects on the offender of the making of the order (taken together with any other order that the court contemplates making)¹⁵;
- 1594 (c) the offender's need to use the vehicle for lawful purposes¹⁶;
- 1595 (d) whether, in a case where it appears to the court that the offender is engaged in a business which consists wholly or partly in activities which are unlawful¹⁷, the making of the order is likely to inhibit the offender from engaging in further such activities¹⁸.

1 Ie an offence (1) under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33, in respect of a contravention of s 33(1) consisting of the deposit or disposal of controlled waste (see PARA 655); (2) under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 38(1)(a) (see PARA 674 head (1)), in respect of a contravention of reg 12 (see PARA 663) consisting of the disposal of waste: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33C(1) (s 33C added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 44(1); and the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33C(1) substituted by SI 2007/3538). As to the meaning of 'controlled waste' see PARA 624.

However the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33C does not apply where a person (other than an establishment or undertaking) is convicted of a relevant offence within the meaning of s 33: s 33C(1A) (s 33C as so added; s 33C(1A) added by SI 2006/937).

The Powers of Criminal Courts (Sentencing) Act 2000 s 143 (power to deprive offender of property) (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(4) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1807) does not apply in any case where the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33C applies: s 33C(8) (as so added).

2 Ie under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33C.

3 'Vehicle' means any motor vehicle or trailer within the meaning of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 210) or any mobile plant: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33C(10) (as added: see note 1). As to the meaning of 'mobile plant' see PARA 655 note 8.

4 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33C(2)(a) (as added: see note 1).

5 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33C(2)(b) (as added: see note 1).

6 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33C(3) (as added: see note 1). For these purposes, 'relevant enforcement authority' means: (1) the Environment Agency, where the proceedings in respect of the offence have been brought by or on behalf of the Agency; or (2) in any other case, the waste collection authority in whose area the offence was committed: s 33C(10) (as so added). As to the Environment Agency see PARA 68 et seq. As to the meaning of 'waste collection authority' see PARA 620 note 8.

7 Ie under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34B: see PARA 659.

8 Ie under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33C.

9 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33C(4) (as added: see note 1). For the purposes of s 33C, where a vehicle or its contents have been seized under s 34B (see PARA 659) in connection with the offence referred to in s 33C(1), any transfer by the offender after the seizure and before his conviction of any of his rights in the vehicle or its contents is of no effect: s 33C(9) (as so added).

10 Ie if it has not already done so under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34C: see PARA 659.

659. Power to search and seize vehicles.

As from a day to be appointed, the following provisions have effect¹. Where an authorised officer² of an enforcement authority³ or a constable⁴ reasonably believes that the grounds in head (a) or head (b) below exist⁵, he may: (1) search the vehicle⁶; (2) seize the vehicle and any of its contents⁷. The grounds referred to above are:

1596 (a) an offence under the Environmental Protection Act 1990⁸ has been committed, or an offence under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007⁹ has been committed in relation to a waste operation¹⁰, a vehicle was used in the commission of the offence, and proceedings for the offence have not yet been brought against any person¹¹; or 1597 (b) such an offence under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007 is being or is about to be committed, or such an offence under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007¹² is being or is about to be committed in relation to a waste operation, and a vehicle is being or is about to be used in the commission of the offence¹³.

In acting under heads (1) and (2) above the authorised officer or constable may stop the vehicle¹⁴ and enter any premises for the purpose of searching or seizing the vehicle¹⁵.

A person commits an offence¹⁶ if he fails without reasonable excuse to give any assistance that an authorised officer or constable may reasonably request in the exercise of the above powers¹⁷, or he otherwise intentionally obstructs an authorised officer or constable in exercising those powers¹⁸.

Where an authorised officer or constable has stopped a vehicle¹⁹, he may require any occupant of the vehicle to give him the occupant's name and address²⁰, the name and address of the registered owner of the vehicle²¹, and any other information he may reasonably request²². A person commits an offence²³ if: (i) he fails without reasonable excuse to comply with any of the above requirements²⁴; (ii) he gives information so required that is to his knowledge false or misleading in a material way, or that is given recklessly and is false or misleading in a material way²⁵.

Where under the above powers²⁶ an authorised officer or constable seizes a vehicle or its contents ('seized property') on behalf of an enforcement authority, the authority may remove the seized property to such a place as it considers appropriate²⁷. An enforcement authority must deal with any seized property in accordance with regulations made by the appropriate person²⁸. Such regulations may in particular include provision as to:

1598 (A) the duties of enforcement authorities in relation to the safe custody of seized property²⁹;

1599 (B) the circumstances in which they must return any such property to a person claiming entitlement to it³⁰;

1600 (C) the manner in which such persons, and the seized property to which they are entitled, may be determined³¹;

1601 (D) the circumstances in which an enforcement authority may sell, destroy or otherwise dispose of seized property³²;

1602 (E) the uses to which the proceeds of any such sale may be put³³.

1 The Environmental Protection Act 1990 ss 34B, 34C are added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 46 as from a day to be appointed under s 108. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed in relation to England; in relation to Wales, the appointed day for certain purposes is 16 March 2006: see the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 (Commencement No 1 and Savings) (Wales) Order 2006, SI 2006/768, art 3.

2 For the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 ss 34B, 34C, 'authorised officer' means an officer of an enforcement authority who is authorised in writing by the authority for the purposes of s 34B; and 'enforcement authority' means: (1) the Environment Agency; or (2) a waste collection authority: s 34B(11) (as added: see note 1). As to the Environment Agency see PARA 68 et seq. As to the meaning of 'waste collection authority' see PARA 620 note 8.

3 See note 2.

4 As to the office of constable see POLICE vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 101 et seq.

5 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34B(1) (as added: see note 1).

6 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34B(4)(a) (as added: see note 1). For the purposes of ss 34B, 34C, 'vehicle' means any motor vehicle or trailer within the meaning of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 210) or any mobile plant: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34B(11) (as so added). As to the meaning of 'mobile plant' see PARA 655 note 8.

A vehicle or its contents seized under s 34B(4): (1) by an authorised officer of an enforcement authority, are seized on behalf of that authority; (2) by a constable in the presence of an authorised officer of an enforcement authority, are seized on behalf of that authority; (3) by a constable without such an officer present, are seized on behalf of the waste collection authority in whose area the seizure takes place: s 34B(6) (as so added).

14 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34B(5)(a) (as added: see note 1). However, only a constable in uniform may stop a vehicle on any road: see s 34B(5)(a) (as so added). 'Road' has the same meaning as in the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 206): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34B(11) (as so added).

15 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34B(5)(b) (as added: see note 1).

16 A person guilty of an offence under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 34B is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: s 34B(10) (as added: see note 1). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142.

660. Liability for damage caused by waste.

Where any damage¹ is caused by waste² which has been deposited in or on land³, any person who deposited it, or knowingly caused or knowingly permitted it to be deposited, in either case so as to commit an offence⁴, is liable for the damage⁵ except where the damage:

- 1603 (1) was due wholly to the fault⁶ of the person who suffered it⁷; or
- 1604 (2) was suffered by a person who voluntarily accepted the risk of the damage being caused⁸, but without prejudice to any liability arising otherwise than under this provision⁹.

1 For these purposes, 'damage' includes the death of, or injury to, any person (including any disease and any impairment of physical or mental condition): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 73(8).

WASTE MANAGEMENT/(3) UNAUTHORISED OR HARMFUL DEPOSITING, TREATMENT OR DISPOSAL OF WASTE/661. Prohibition on disposal or recovery of controlled waste on behalf of another person except as a registered broker.

661. Prohibition on disposal or recovery of controlled waste on behalf of another person except as a registered broker.

Subject to certain exceptions¹, it is an offence for an establishment or undertaking to arrange as dealer or broker for the disposal or recovery of controlled waste² on behalf of another person unless it is a registered broker of controlled waste³. A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a penalty⁴.

1 As to the exceptions see the Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1994, SI 1994/1056, reg 20(2)-(4) (reg 20(2) substituted by SI 2007/3538; and the Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1994, SI 1994/1056, reg 20(4) amended by SI 2006/937).

In particular, the Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1994, SI 1994/1056, reg 20(1) (see the text and notes 1-3) does not apply in relation to an arrangement under which an establishment or undertaking will itself carry out the disposal or recovery of the waste and either (1) it is authorised to carry out the disposal or recovery of the waste by an environmental permit under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538 (see PARA 664), a consent under the Water Resources Act 1991 Pt III Ch II (ss 85-91) (see PARA 291 et seq) or a licence under the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 Pt II (ss 5-15) (see PARA 525 et seq); or (2) the recovery of the waste is covered by (a) an exempt waste operation under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538 (see PARA 663 note 1) or any other operation exempt from the requirements of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1)(a), (b) (see PARA 655 heads (1), (2)) under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538; or (b) the Deposits in the Sea (Exemptions) Order 1985, SI 1985/1699, art 3 (see PARA 528): see the Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1994, SI 1994/1056, reg 20(2) (as so substituted).

As to applications for registration see the Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1994, SI 1994/1056, Sch 5 paras 1(2)-(4), 3 (amended by SI 1998/606). As to registration and the amendment of entries see the Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1994, SI 1994/1056, Sch 5 para 4; and as to revocation of registration see Sch 5 paras 1(2), (3), 5. As to appeals see Sch 5 paras 1(5), 6 (amended by SI 1996/593). As to the duration of registration see the Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1994, SI 1994/1056, Sch 5 para 7; and as to the cessation of registration see Sch 5 para 8. The provisions of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 71(2), (3) (power to obtain information) (see PARA 626) have effect as if the Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1994, SI 1994/1056, reg 20, Sch 5 were provisions of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt II (ss 29-78): see the Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1994, SI 1994/1056, reg 20(8).

4 Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1994, SI 1994/1056, reg 20(5). The penalty is a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see s 20(5). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142. The Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 157 (offences by bodies corporate) (see PARA 145) applies to an offence under the Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1994, SI 1994/1056, reg 20 as it applies to an offence under the Environmental Protection Act 1990: reg 20(6).

(4) ENVIRONMENTAL PERMITTING

(i) In general

662. Introduction.

Calls for a more administratively efficient system of pollution control regulation led to the introduction of a streamlined permitting system under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007¹ which provide for a stand-alone system of environmental permits for specified 'regulated facilities'² in England and Wales. The new system combines the previous waste management licensing system³ with the pollution prevention and control ('PPC') permitting system⁴. The aim is administrative simplicity and although there is much in the way of amendment⁵ the substantive nature of both systems remains intact. It is also important to note that 'environmental permitting' is not simply a set of regulations, but rather an ongoing programme likely to be extended in the future⁶. There is a single procedural framework with a broad outline for making applications⁷ and granting permits⁸ and also for monitoring and enforcement⁹. There is also a general duty for regulators¹⁰ to exercise relevant functions¹¹ to achieve compliance with relevant European Union Directives¹². Generally the 2007 Regulations apply to the Crown¹³.

The 2007 Regulations came into force on 6 April 2008 (see reg 1(1)) and were made in exercise of the powers conferred by the Pollution Prevention and Control Act 1999 s 2, Sch 1: see PARAS 186, 187.

As to transitional provisions see the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, regs 69, 70, 71 (amended by SI 2009/1799), and the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 71A (added by SI 2009/1799) (and in regard to reg 71A see also PARA 663 note 2). As to savings see the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 72 (amended by SI 2009/1307; and SI 2009/1799).

12 The Directives include the following: EEC Council Directive 87/217 (OJ L85, 28.3.87, p 40) on the prevention and reduction of environmental pollution by asbestos (see PARAS 11, 47); EEC Council Directive 92/112 (OJ L409, 31.12.92, p 11) on procedures for harmonising the programmes for the reduction and eventual elimination of pollution caused by waste from the titanium dioxide industry (see PARA 38); European Parliament and EC Council Directive 94/63 (OJ L365, 31.12.94, p 24) on the control of volatile organic compound emissions resulting from the storage of petrol and its distribution from terminals to service stations (see PARA 48); EC Council Directive 96/61 (OJ L257, 10.10.96, p 26) concerning integrated pollution prevention and control (now replaced by European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2008/1 (OJ L24, 29.1.2008, p 8) concerning integrated pollution prevention and control (Codified version) (see PARA 6); EC Council Directive 99/13 (OJ L85, 29.3.99, p 1) on the limitation of emissions of volatile organic compounds due to the use of organic solvents in certain activities and installations (see PARA 12); EC Council Directive 99/31 (OJ L182, 16.7.99, p 1) on the landfill of waste (see PARA 43); European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2000/53 (OJ L 269, 21.10.2000, p 34) on end-of-life vehicles (see PARAS 33, 39); European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2000/76 (OJ L332, 28.12.2000, p 91) on the incineration of waste (see PARAS 11, 25, 41, 42); European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2001/80 (OJ L309, 27.11.2001, p 1) on the limitation of emissions of certain pollutants into the air from large combustion plants (see PARAS 11, 13, 18); European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2002/96 (OJ L37, 13.2.2003, p 24) on waste electrical and electronic equipment (see PARA 33); European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2006/12 (OJ L114, 27.4.2006, p 9) on waste (see PARA 33). The Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, transpose provisions of these Directives (see eg Schs 7, 9-18) which impose obligations either required to be delivered through permits or capable of being delivered through permits. In fact some of these Directives (eg Directives 2000/53, 2000/76, 2002/96) have other transposing and implementing regulations that apply the provisions of those Directives outside the permitting system.

13 The Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538 (subject to Sch 4 paras 2-4) bind the Crown: reg 11, Sch 4 para 1. If the Crown contravenes a provision of the 2007 Regulations it is not criminally liable under reg 38 (see PARA 674); and no proceedings may be taken against it under reg 42 (see PARA 674): Sch 4 para 2(1). However (1) on the application of a regulator, the High Court may declare a contravention of the 2007 Regulations by the Crown to be unlawful; and (2) the 2007 Regulations apply to persons in the public service of the Crown as they apply to other persons: Sch 4 para 2(2). If the appropriate authority considers that in the interests of national security particular powers of entry must not be used in relation to particular Crown premises it may certify that those powers must not be used in relation to those premises: Sch 4 para 3(1). For the purposes of Sch 4 para 3, 'Crown premises' means premises held or used by or on behalf of the Crown; and 'power of entry' means a power of entry exercisable under the Environment Act 1995 s 108 (see PARA 148), in relation to a function under the 2007 Regulations: Sch 4 para 3(2). 'Regulator' means the authority on whom functions are conferred by reg 32 (see PARA 668), or by a direction under reg 33 (see PARA 669): reg 2(1). The 'appropriate authority' means (a) in relation to England, the Secretary of State (see PARA 58); and (2) in relation to Wales, the Welsh Ministers (see PARA 59): reg 2(1).

Schedule 4 para 4 applies in relation to a regulated facility operated or controlled by a person acting on behalf of (i) the Royal Household; (ii) the Duchy of Lancaster; or (iii) the Duke of Cornwall or other possessor of the Duchy of Cornwall: Sch 4 para 4(1). When serving or giving notices or notifications, or instituting proceedings, the following person must be treated as the operator (A) in relation to head (i) above, the Keeper of the Privy Purse; (B) in relation to head (ii) above, the person appointed by the Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster; (C) in relation to head (iii) above, the person appointed by the Duke of Cornwall or other possessor of the Duchy of Cornwall: Sch 4 para 4(2). As to the meaning of 'regulated facility' see PARA 663 note 1. As to the meaning of 'operator' see PARA 664 note 1. As to general provision made for notices, notifications, certificates, directions or forms see reg 10; and PARA 665 note 9.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/10. WASTE MANAGEMENT/(4) ENVIRONMENTAL PERMITTING/(ii) Environmental Permits/663. Requirement of an environmental permit.

(ii) Environmental Permits

663. Requirement of an environmental permit.

No person may operate a regulated facility¹ except under and to the extent authorised by an environmental permit².

'Activity' means, subject to Sch 1 Pt 1, an activity listed in Sch 1 Pt 2 (amended by SI 2009/1799; and SI 2009/3381): Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 2(1). Schedule 1 contains detailed descriptions of activities which must be authorised by a permit in order to operate, and Sch 1 also categorises those activities as 'Part A(1)', 'Part A(2)' and 'Part B' and these categories are used in reg 32 (see PARA 668) to designate the regulator. Sch 1 Pt 2 is divided into Chapters that are themselves divided into Sections. The chapters are as follows: Ch 1 Energy Activities; Ch 2 Production and Processing of Metals; Ch 3 Mineral Industries; Ch 4 The Chemical Industry; Ch 5 Waste Management; and Ch 6 Other Activities. 'Part A activity' means a Part A(1) activity or a Part A(2) activity; 'Part A(1) activity' means an activity falling within Part A(1) of any Section in Sch 1 Pt 2 (see above); 'Part A(2) activity' means an activity falling within Part A(2) of any Section in Sch 1 Pt 2; and 'Part B activity' means an activity falling within Part B of any Section in Sch 1 Pt 2: Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 3(1). 'Part A installation' means a Part A(1) installation or a Part A(2) installation; 'Part A(1) installation' means an installation where a Part A(1) activity is carried on, including an installation also carrying on a Part A(2) activity or a Part B activity; 'Part A(2) installation' means an installation where a Part A(2) activity is carried on, not being a Part A(1) installation but including an installation also carrying on a Part B activity; and 'Part B installation' means, subject to Sch 1 Pt 2 Sections 2.2, 5.1 and 6.4, an installation where a Part B activity is carried on, not being a Part A installation: reg 3(2). 'Part A mobile plant' means Part A(1) mobile plant or Part A(2) mobile plant; 'Part A(1) mobile plant' means mobile plant used to carry on a Part A(1) activity, including plant also carrying on a Part A(2) activity or a Part B activity; 'Part A(2) mobile plant' means mobile plant used to carry on a Part A(2) activity, not being Part A(1) mobile plant but including plant also carrying on a Part B activity; and 'Part B mobile plant' means mobile plant used to carry out a Part B activity, not being Part A mobile plant: reg 3(3).

'Mining waste operation' means the management of extractive waste, whether or not involving a mining waste facility, but does not include the activities in European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2006/21 (OJ L102 11.4.2006 p 15) on the management of waste from extractive industries and amending Directive 2004/35 art 2(2)(c) (see PARA 45): Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 2(1) (definition added by SI 2009/1799). 'Extractive waste' means waste within the meaning of European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2006/21 (OJ L102 11.4.2006 p 15) art 2(1), except where it is excluded from the scope of that Directive by art 2(2)(a), (b): Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 2(1) (definition added by SI 2009/1799).

An exempt waste operation (see below) is not a regulated facility within the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 8(1)(a) (see head (1) above) where it is an activity falling within Sch 1 Ch 5 Section 5.3 or Section 5.4 or a directly associated activity of that activity (see below): reg 8(2) (substituted by SI 2009/1799). An exempt waste operation is not a regulated facility within the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 8(1)(b)-(d) (see heads (2)-(4) above); and the following are not regulated facilities within reg 8(c) or (d) (see heads (3), (4) above): an excluded waste operation; the disposal or recovery of household waste from a domestic property within the curtilage of that property by a person other than an establishment or undertaking; reg 8(3) (amended by SI 2009/1799). For these purposes 'household waste' has the meaning given in the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 75(5) (see PARA 624): Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 8(4).

'Excluded waste operation' means (a) a waste operation which is or forms part of an operation which is the subject of a licence under the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 Pt II (ss 5-15) (see PARA 525 et seq), or by virtue of an order under s 7 (see PARA 527), does not require such a licence; (b) the disposal of liquid waste under a consent under the Water Resources Act 1991 Pt III Ch II (ss 85-91) (see PARA 291 et seq); (c) the disposal of agricultural waste in or on land under an authorisation under the Groundwater Regulations 1998, SI 1998/2746, reg 18 (revoked) (see now the Groundwater (England and Wales) Regulations 2009, SI 2009/2902; and PARA 335); (d) the disposal or recovery of waste which is not to be treated as industrial waste or commercial waste by virtue of the Controlled Waste Regulations 1992, SI 1992/588, reg 7(1) (see PARA 624): Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 2(1), 4. 'Disposal' has the same meaning as in European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2006/12 (OJ L114, 27.4.2006, p 9) and related terms must be construed accordingly: Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 2(1).

A waste operation is an 'exempt waste operation' if the requirements in Sch 2 para 3(1) (see generally below) are met in respect of the waste operation: reg 2(1), 5(1) (reg 5 substituted by SI 2009/3381). The Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, Sch 2 (substituted by SI 2009/3381) (exempt waste operations: general) (see below) has effect: Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 5(2) (as so substituted). The Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, Sch 2 contains the procedure in relation to exempt waste operations and covers the following: interpretation (see Sch 2 paras 1, 2 (as so substituted)); requirements for exempt waste operations (see Sch 2 para 3 (as so substituted)); procedure for registering an exempt waste operation (see Sch 2 para 4 (as so substituted)); restrictions on registering exempt waste operations carried on at the same place (see Sch 2 para 5 (as so substituted)); fee for registration relating to WEEE operations (see Sch 2 para 6 (as so substituted)); validity of registration (see Sch 2 para 7 (as so substituted)); changes to relevant particulars (see Sch 2 para 8 (as so substituted)); register of exempt waste operations (see Sch 2 para 9 (as so substituted)); duty to remove entries from the register (see Sch 2 para 10 (as so substituted)); exclusion from the register of information affecting national security (see Sch 2 para 11 (as so substituted)); record keeping (see Sch 2 para 12 (as so substituted)); and periodic inspections (see Sch 2 para 13 (as so substituted)). 'WEEE operation' means a waste operation falling within a description in the para T11 in Sch 3 Pt 2 Ch 2 (repair or refurbishment of WEEE) (see below): Sch 2 para 1 (as so substituted). 'WEEE' has the meaning given by European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2002/96 (OJ L37, 13.2.2003, p 24) on waste electrical and electronic equipment art 3(b) (see generally PARA 33): Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 2(1). A waste operation cannot be an exempt waste operation unless it falls within Sch 3 (substituted by SI 2009/3381) (exempt waste operations: descriptions and conditions); and see the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, Sch 3A (added by SI 2009/391) (descriptions and conditions: other waste operations to which the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1)(a) does not apply). See also PARA 655 note 7.

'Directly associated activity' means (i) in relation to a SED activity, an operation which has a technical connection with the SED activity, is carried on on the same site as the SED activity, and could have an effect on a discharge of volatile organic compounds into the environment; (ii) in relation to any other activity, an operation which has a technical connection with the activity, is carried on on the same site as the activity, and could have an effect on pollution: Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 2(1). 'SED activity' means an activity falling within Sch 1 Pt 2 Section 7 (see generally above): reg 2(1). As to the meaning of 'operator' see PARA 664 note 1. As to general provision made for notices, notifications, certificates, directions or forms see reg 10; and PARA 665 note 9.

2 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 12(1) (reg 12 substituted by SI 2009/1799). As to the meaning of 'environmental permit' see PARA 664.

The Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 12(1) is subject to reg 71A (transitional provision: existing mining waste operations): reg 12(2) (as so substituted). Regulation 12(1) does not apply to an existing mining waste operation involving an existing mining waste facility until the date referred to in reg 71A(2) (see below): reg 71A(1) (reg 71A added by SI 2009/1799). The date referred to in the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 71A is (1) if an application for the grant or variation of an environmental permit is made on or before 1 May 2011 (a) if the application is granted, the date of the grant; (b) if the application is refused, and the applicant appeals against the refusal in accordance with reg 31(1) (see PARA 667), the date the appeal is determined or withdrawn; (c) if the application is refused, and the applicant is entitled to appeal against the refusal in accordance with reg 31(1) but does not do so, the day after the last day on which an appeal could have been brought, determined in accordance with Sch 6 para 3(1) (see generally PARA 667 note 20); or (d) if the application is for the grant or variation of an environmental permit in relation to a Category A mining waste facility that is an existing mining waste facility and the application is refused pursuant to Sch 18B para 14(2) (see generally PARA 671 note 15), the date of the refusal; or (2) if no such application is made, 1 May 2011: reg 71A(2) (as so added). Where an existing mining waste operation is not covered by reg 71A(1) (see above), reg 12(1) does not apply to that operation until the date referred to in reg 71A(4): reg 71A(3) (as so added). The date referred to in reg 71A(4) is (i) if an application for the grant or variation of an environmental permit is made on or before 30 December 2010 (A) if the application is granted, the date of the grant; (B) if the application is refused, and the applicant appeals against the refusal in accordance with reg 31(1), the date the appeal is determined or withdrawn; or (C) if the application is refused, and the applicant does not appeal against the refusal, the day after the last day on which an appeal could have been brought, determined in accordance with Sch 6 para 3(1); or (ii) if no such application is made, 30 December 2010: reg 71A(4) (as so added). For the purposes of reg 71A, 'existing mining waste operation' means a mining waste operation subsisting on 1 May 2008: reg 71A(5) (as so added). 'Existing mining waste facility' means a mining waste facility in operation on 1 May 2008: reg 2(1) (definition added by SI 2009/1799). 'Mining waste facility' means a 'waste facility' as defined in European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2006/21 (OJ L102 11.4.2006 p 15) on the management of waste from extractive industries and amending Directive 2004/35 art 3(15) (see generally PARA 45) but excludes those activities mentioned in art 24(2) or art 24(4) first sentence: Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 2(1). 'Category A mining waste facility' means a mining waste facility that is classified as Category A under European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2006/21 (OJ L102 11.4.2006 p 15) art 9: Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 2(1) (definition added by SI 2009/1799).

As to other transitional provisions see the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 70 (transitional provision: conversion of permits and licences subject to certain applications), reg 71 (amended by SI 2009/1799) (transitional provision: conversion of PPC permits resulting from applications in relation to existing Part A installations and mobile plant); and the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 71B (added by SI 2009/3381) (transitional provision: exempt waste operations).

663 Requirement of an environmental permit

NOTE 1--Reference to SI 2009/391 should be to SI 2009/3381.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/10. WASTE MANAGEMENT/(4) ENVIRONMENTAL PERMITTING/(ii) Environmental Permits/664. Grant of an environmental permit.

664. Grant of an environmental permit.

On the application of an operator¹, the regulator² may grant to that operator a permit³ (an 'environmental permit') authorising the operation of a regulated facility⁴.

An environmental permit must specify (1) every regulated facility to which it relates; and (2) the person authorised to operate that regulated facility⁵. An environmental permit may be in electronic form⁶. An environmental permit authorising the operation of a regulated facility, other than mobile plant⁷, must include a map, plan or other description of the site showing the geographical extent of the site of the facility⁸.

Conditions in an environmental permit may require the operator to carry out works or do other things in relation to land which he is not entitled to do without obtaining the consent of another person⁹. If an environmental permit contains such a condition, the person whose consent is required must grant the operator such rights as are necessary to enable the operator to comply with the condition¹⁰.

If an environmental permit ('permit A') authorises the operation of mobile plant on the site of a regulated facility the operation of which is authorised by a separate environmental permit ('permit B'); and there is an inconsistency between the requirements imposed by permit A and those imposed by permit B, the requirements imposed by permit B prevail¹¹.

The regulator may authorise under a single environmental permit, the operation by the same operator (a) of more than one regulated facility on the same site; (b) of more than one mobile plant; or (c) of more than one standard facility¹², but may not otherwise authorise the operation of more than one regulated facility under a single environmental permit¹³.

If there is more than one environmental permit which authorises (i) the operation of mobile plant by the same operator; (ii) the operation of standard facilities¹⁴ by the same operator; or (iii) in any other case, the operation of regulated facilities on the same site by the same operator¹⁵, the regulator may replace the environmental permits with a consolidated environmental permit applying to the same regulated facilities; and subject to the same conditions as the permits being replaced¹⁶. The regulator may replace an environmental permit which has been varied with a consolidated environmental permit subject to the same conditions¹⁷.

Once granted an environmental permit continues in force until (A) it is revoked in whole¹⁸; (B) it is surrendered in whole¹⁹; or (C) it is replaced with a consolidated permit²⁰.

1 'Operator' means (1) the person who has control over the operation of a regulated facility; (2) if a regulated facility has not been put into operation, the person who will have control over the facility when it is put into operation; or (3) if a regulated facility has ceased to be in operation, the person who holds the environmental permit which authorised the operation of the facility: Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, regs 2(1), 7. As to the meaning of 'regulated facility' see PARA 663 note 1. As to the meaning of 'environmental permit' see note 3.

2 As to the meaning of 'regulator' see PARA 662 note 13.

3 'Environmental permit' has the meaning given in the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 13(1) (see the text): reg 2(1).

4 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 13(1). Sch 5 Pt 1 (grant, variation, transfer and surrender of environmental permits) applies in relation to an application for the grant of an environmental permit: reg 13(2). The following matters are covered: making an application (see Sch 5 para 2); withdrawing an application (see Sch 5 para 3); further information in respect of a duly made application (see Sch 5 para 4); public participation (see Sch 5 paras 5-8 (Sch 5 para 5 amended by SI 2009/1799)); consultation (see the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, Sch 5 paras 9, 10 (Sch 5 para 10 amended by SI 2009/1799)); duty to consider representations (see the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, Sch 5 para 11); duty to determine an application (see Sch 5 para 12); identity and competence of the operator (see Sch 5 para 13); surrender applications (see Sch 5 para 14); time limits for determination (see Sch 5 paras 15, 16 (Sch 5 para 16 amended by SI 2009/1799)); notification of a determination or decision (see the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, Sch 5 para 17); and date of effect of certain determinations and decisions (see Sch 5 para 18, 19).

As to the application of the Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010, SI 2010/490, regs 61, 62 ('the assessment provisions') to the granting of an environmental permit under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, see the Conservation of Habitats and Species Regulations 2010, SI 2010/490, reg 98; and OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE.

6 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 14(2). As to general provision made for notices, notifications, certificates, directions or forms see reg 10; and PARA 665 note 9.

7 As to the meaning of 'mobile plant' see PARA 663 note 1.

8 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 14(3). If there is more than one regulated facility on the site, the map, plan or other description may show only the combined extent of all the facilities: reg 14(4).

9 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 15(1).

10 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 15(2). Sch 5 Pt 2 (compensation in relation to conditions affecting certain interests in land) applies where such rights are granted: reg 15(3). The following matters are covered: entitlement to compensation (see Sch 5 para 21); loss and damage for which compensation is payable (see Sch 5 para 22); date when entitlement to compensation arises (see Sch 5 para 23); application for compensation (see Sch 5 para 24); assessment of the amount to be paid by way of compensation (see Sch 5 para 25); payment of compensation (see Sch 5 para 26 (amended by SI 2009/1307)); and interest payable on compensation (see the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, Sch 5 para 27).

11 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 16.

12 Ie other than a standard facility to which European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2008/1 (OJ L24, 29.1.2008, p 8) concerning integrated pollution prevention and control (Codified version) (see PARA 6). 'Standard facility' means a regulated facility described in standard rules published under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 26(5) (see PARA 666): reg 2(1).

13 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 17 (substituted by SI 2009/1799).

14 Ie not being standard facilities to which European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2008/1 (OJ L24, 29.1.2008, p 8) applies.

15 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 18(1).

16 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 18(2).

17 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 18(3).

18 Ie in accordance with the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 22: see PARA 665.

19 Ie in accordance with Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 25, Sch 5 Pt 1: see note 4.

20 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 19. This replacement would be in accordance with reg 18(2) (see the text and note 16), reg 22(5) (see PARA 665), Sch 5 Pt 1 para 19(2) (see note 4).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/10. WASTE MANAGEMENT/(4) ENVIRONMENTAL PERMITTING/(ii) Environmental Permits/665. Variation, transfer, revocation and surrender of an environmental permit.

665. Variation, transfer, revocation and surrender of an environmental permit.

The regulator¹ may vary an environmental permit² on the application of the operator³ or on its own initiative⁴. However such a variation must not reduce the extent of the site of a regulated facility⁵.

The regulator may transfer an environmental permit in whole or in part from the operator to another person on the joint application of the operator and that other person⁶.

The regulator may revoke an environmental permit in whole or in part⁷. If the regulator revokes a permit in part, it may vary the permit conditions to the extent that it considers necessary to take account of the revocation⁸.

Where the regulator decides to revoke an environmental permit it must serve a notice on the operator specifying (1) the reasons for the revocation; (2) in the case of a partial revocation the extent to which the environmental permit is being revoked, and any variation to the conditions of the environmental permit; and (3) the date on which the revocation is to take place, which must not be less than 20 working days from the date on which the notice is served⁹. Unless the regulator withdraws a revocation notice, an environmental permit ceases to have effect on the date specified in the notice in the case of a revocation in whole, entirely; or in the case of a partial revocation, to the extent of the part revoked¹⁰.

In the case of a partial revocation, the regulator may replace the environmental permit with a consolidated environmental permit reflecting the change¹¹. If the regulator issues such a consolidated permit it must at the same time serve a notice on the operator specifying any variation to the permit conditions; and only the variations specified are subject to the right of appeal¹².

Where the regulator has decided to revoke an environmental permit and it considers that, after the revocation takes effect, it is appropriate for the operator to take steps (a) to avoid a pollution¹³ risk resulting from the operation of the regulated facility; or (b) to return the site of the regulated facility to a satisfactory state, having regard to the state of the site before the facility was put into operation¹⁴, the environmental permit continues to have effect to the extent that it requires the steps to be taken until the regulator issues a certificate stating that it is satisfied that all the steps have been taken¹⁵.

An operator may surrender an environmental permit¹⁶, in whole or in part, by notifying the regulator of the surrender¹⁷. A notification must (i) be made on the form provided by the regulator; (ii) include such information as is specified in the form; and (iii) specify the date on which the surrender is to take place, which must not be less than 20 working days from the date on which the notification is given¹⁸. The environmental permit ceases to have effect on the date specified in the notification to the extent specified there¹⁹.

In the case of a partial surrender if the regulator considers it necessary to vary the environmental permit conditions to take account of that surrender²⁰: (A) the regulator must serve a notice on the operator specifying the regulator's view²¹, the variation, and the date the variation takes effect²²; (B) if the date specified in the notice under head (A) above is later than the date specified in the relevant notification²³, the variation and partial surrender both take effect on the later date²⁴.

An operator may surrender an environmental permit²⁵, in whole or in part, by application to the regulator²⁶.

1 As to the meaning of 'regulator' see PARA 662 note 13.

2 As to the meaning of 'environmental permit' see PARA 664.

3 As to the meaning of 'operator' see PARA 664 note 1.

4 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 20(1). Schedule 5 Pt 1 (grant, variation, transfer and surrender of environmental permits) (see PARA 664 note 4) applies in relation to an application to vary an environmental permit or a proposal to vary an environmental permit on the initiative of the regulator under reg 20(1): reg 20(4). 'Regulator-initiated variation' means the variation of an environmental permit on the initiative of the regulator under reg 20(1): reg 2(1).

5 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 20(2). As to the meaning of 'regulated facility' see PARA 663 note 1. Regulation 20(2) does not apply to Part B installations: reg 20(3). As to the meaning of 'Part B installation' see PARA 663 note 1.

6 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 21(1). Schedule 5 Pt 1 (grant, variation, transfer and surrender of environmental permits) (see PARA 664 note 4) applies in relation to the transfer of an environmental permit in whole or in part: reg 21(2). Where (1) an enforcement notice (see reg 36; and PARA 672) is in force in respect of an environmental permit; and (2) the permit is transferred to another person, either in whole or in part, the duty to comply with the enforcement notice is also transferred to the other person to the extent that it relates to the permit or part transferred: reg 21(2).

7 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 22(1).

Where an environmental permit authorises in whole or in part a waste operation which, on or after 6 April 2010, becomes an exempt waste operation, that part of the permit which authorises the exempt waste operation is revoked on the date that the operation becomes an exempt waste operation: reg 22(7) (added by SI 2009/3318). As to the meaning of 'exempt waste operation' see PARA 663 note 1.

8 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 22(2).

9 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 22(3). 'Revocation notice' means a notice served under reg 22(3): reg 2(1).

As to general provision made for notices, notifications, certificates, directions or forms under the 2007 Regulations see reg 10. For these purposes, 'instrument' means a notice, notification, certificate, direction or form under the 2007 Regulations: reg 10(1). An instrument must be in writing: reg 10(2). An instrument may be served on or given to a person by (1) delivering it to him in person; (2) leaving it at his proper address; or (3) sending it by post or electronic means to his proper address: reg 10(3). In the case of a body corporate, an instrument may be served on or given to the secretary or clerk of that body: reg 10(4). In the case of a partnership, an instrument may be served on or given to a partner or a person having control or management of the partnership business: reg 10(5). If a person to be served with or given an instrument has specified an address in the United Kingdom other than his proper address at which he or someone on his behalf will accept instruments of that description, that address must also be treated as his proper address: reg 10(6). As to the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 2. For these purposes, 'proper address' means (a) in the case of a body corporate or their secretary or clerk, the registered or principal office of that body, or the email address of the secretary or clerk; (b) in the case of a partnership or a partner or person having control or management of the partnership business, the principal office of the partnership, or the email address of a partner or a person having that control or management; (c) in any other case, a person's last known address, which includes an email address: reg 10(7). For the purposes of reg 10(7), the principal office of a company registered outside the United Kingdom or of a partnership established outside the United Kingdom is their principal office in the United Kingdom: reg 10(8). A form provided by the regulator which specifies an electronic address for submission may be submitted electronically to that address: reg 10(9). A form provided by the regulator for completion and submission through a website may be submitted through that site: reg 10(10).

10 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 22(4).

11 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 22(5).

12 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 22(6). The right of appeal referred to is in reg 31(1)(b): see PARA 667 head (2).

13 'Pollution' means any emission as a result of human activity which may (1) be harmful to human health or the quality of the environment; (2) cause offence to a human sense; (3) result in damage to material property; or (4) impair or interfere with amenities and other legitimate uses of the environment: Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 2(1).

'Emission' means (a) in relation to a Part A installation, the direct or indirect release of substances, vibrations, heat or noise from individual or diffuse sources in the installation into the air, water or land; (b) in relation to a Part B installation, the direct release of substances or heat from individual or diffuse sources in the installation into the air; (c) in relation to Part A mobile plant, the direct or indirect release of substances, vibrations, heat or noise from the mobile plant into the air, water or land; (d) in relation to Part B mobile plant, the direct release of substances or heat from the mobile plant into the air; and (e) in relation to (i) a waste operation not falling within heads (a)-(d) above; or (ii) a mining waste operation, the direct or indirect release of substances, vibrations, heat or noise from individual or diffuse sources related to the operation into the air, water or land: reg 2(1) (definition amended by SI 2009/1799). As to the meanings of 'Part A installation', 'Part B installation', 'Part A mobile plant' and 'Part B mobile plant'; and 'waste operation' see PARA 663 note 1.

14 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 23(1). However reg 23 does not apply in relation to a Part B installation or Part B mobile plant: reg 23(2).

If the operator is already required to take the steps mentioned in reg 23(1) under the environmental permit, the revocation notice must specify the regulator's view under reg 23(1) and state that reg 23(4) (see the text and note 15) applies: reg 23(3).

If the operator is not already required to take the steps mentioned in reg 23(1) under the environmental permit, the revocation notice must specify the regulator's view under reg 23(1) and the steps to be taken: reg 23(5). If reg 23(5) applies, unless the regulator issues a certificate stating that it is satisfied that all the steps have been taken, the steps must be treated as if they were conditions of an environmental permit for the purposes of (1) reg 20 (see the text and notes 1-5); (2) reg 36 (see PARA 672); and (3) the offence of failing to comply with or contravening a condition in reg 38(1)(b) (see PARA 674 head (2)): reg 23(6).

15 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 23(4). See notes 9, 14.

16 Is an environmental permit to which the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 24 applies.

17 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 24(2). Regulation 24 applies to (1) an environmental permit for mobile plant; (2) an environmental permit for a Part B installation, except to the extent that it relates to a waste operation; and (3) any part of an environmental permit which relates to an activity falling within Sch 1 Pt 2 Section 5.1 Part A(2) (see PARA 663 note 1): reg 24(1) (amended by SI 2009/1799). As to the meanings of 'waste operation' and 'activity' see PARA 663 note 1.

18 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 24(3).

19 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 24(4). This is subject to reg 24(7): see the text and notes 23, 24.

20 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 24(5).

21 Is under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 24(5).

22 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 24(6).

23 Is the notification under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 24(3): see the text and note 18.

24 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 24(7).

25 Is to which the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, regs 24, 25 apply.

26 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 25(1), (2). Schedule 5 Pt 1 (grant, variation, transfer and surrender of environmental permits) (see PARA 664 note 4) applies in relation to an application to surrender an environmental permit in whole or in part: reg 25(3).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/10. WASTE MANAGEMENT/(4) ENVIRONMENTAL PERMITTING/(ii) Environmental Permits/666. Standard rules.

666. Standard rules.

A rule-making authority¹ may prepare standard rules for such regulated facilities as are described in those rules².

In preparing or revising standard rules the authority must consult (1) such persons or bodies as it considers are representative of the interests of communities likely to be affected by, or persons operating, the regulated facilities described in the rules; and (2) such other persons as it considers are likely to be affected by or have an interest in the rules³. However this duty⁴ does not apply in relation to revisions which comprise only minor administrative changes⁵.

The authority must keep under review all standard rules published by it⁶ and revise those rules when it considers necessary⁷. The authority must publish on its website all standard rules prepared or revised by it⁸.

Where a rule-making authority has published⁹ standard rules¹⁰, at the request of the operator¹¹ of a standard facility¹² the regulator¹³ may include in the environmental permit¹⁴ authorising the facility a term providing that the relevant rules¹⁵ are conditions of the permit¹⁶. If the regulator includes such a term, the relevant rules are conditions of the permit for the purposes of the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007¹⁷, but there is no right of appeal¹⁸ in relation to such a condition or the relevant rules¹⁹.

Where the rule-making authority proposes to revise²⁰ standard rules²¹, before the rule-making authority complies with the requirement²² to publish the rules on its website the regulator must notify any operator who holds a relevant environmental permit²³ (a) of the proposed revisions; (b) of the date when the revised rules will be published²⁴; and (c) that on this date the revised rules will become conditions of the environmental permit²⁵. The revised rules take effect when published²⁶.

The rule-making authority may revoke standard rules, but before doing so must consult the persons and bodies referred to heads (1) and (2) above²⁷.

In the case of an environmental permit which includes a standard rules term²⁸ if the standard rules applying by virtue of that term have been revoked by the regulator²⁹, the revoked rules continue to have effect until the regulator varies the permit as below³⁰.

As soon as reasonably practicable after the revocation of the rules, the regulator must vary the permit so as to (i) remove the standard rules term; and (ii) include such alternative conditions as it considers appropriate³¹.

1 'Rule-making authority' means (1) in relation to a regulated facility for which a local authority is the regulator, the appropriate authority, and (2) in relation to any other regulated facility, the Environment Agency: Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 2(1). As to the meaning of 'regulated facility' see PARA 663 note 1. As to the meaning of 'appropriate authority' see PARA 662 note 13. As to the Environment Agency see PARA 68 et seq.

'Local authority' means (1) in England outside Greater London a district council; where there is a county council but no district council, the county council; or the Council of the Isles of Scilly; (2) in Greater London the council of a London borough; the Common Council of the City of London; the Sub-Treasurer of the Inner Temple; or the Under-Treasurer of the Middle Temple; (3) in Wales a county council; or a county borough council: regs 2(1), 6(1). Where a port health authority has been constituted for a port health district by an order under the Public Health (Control of Disease) Act 1984 s 2 (see PARA 102) that authority is the local authority for the area covered by that district in relation to a Part B installation: Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 6(2). As to the meaning of 'Part B installation' see PARA 663 note 1.

2 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 26(1). A range of guidance documents on policy and regulatory interpretation on environmental permitting are available on the Environment Agency website which was, at the date this volume states the law, www.environment-agency.gov.uk.

3 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 26(2). The duty in reg 26(2) may be satisfied by a consultation carried out partially or wholly before the coming into force of the 2007 Regulations: reg 26(6). The 2007 Regulations came into force on 6 April 2008: see reg 1(1).

667. Appeals to an appropriate authority.

The following persons may appeal to the appropriate authority¹:

- 1605 (1) a person whose application for the grant of an environmental permit², to vary an environmental permit, to transfer an environmental permit in whole or in part, or to surrender an environmental permit in whole or in part, is refused³;
- 1606 (2) a person who is aggrieved by an environmental permit condition imposed following an application for the grant of an environmental permit, following an application to vary an environmental permit, pursuant to a regulator-initiated variation, or to take account of the transfer in whole or in part or the partial surrender of an environmental permit⁴;
- 1607 (3) a person who is aggrieved by the deemed withdrawal of a duly-made application⁵;
- 1608 (4) a person who is aggrieved by a decision not to authorise the closure procedure mentioned in certain Directive provisions⁶;
- 1609 (5) a person on whom a revocation notice⁷, enforcement notice⁸, suspension notice⁹, mining waste facility closure notice¹⁰ or landfill closure notice¹¹ is served¹².

Heads (1) to (5) above¹³ do not apply (a) where the relevant decision or notice implements a direction of the appropriate authority given under certain provisions¹⁴; or (b) where an application for the grant or variation of an environmental permit in relation to a Category A mining waste facility¹⁵ that is an existing mining waste facility¹⁶ is refused¹⁷.

When determining an appeal in respect of a decision the appropriate authority has the same powers as the regulator¹⁸ had when making the decision¹⁹.

There are further provisions which have effect in relation to the making and determination of appeals²⁰.

On determining an appeal²¹ in respect of a notice the appropriate authority (i) may quash or affirm the notice; and (ii) if it affirms, may do so in its original form or with such modifications as it thinks fit²².

On the determination of an appeal against a decision, unless the appropriate authority affirms the decision the authority must direct the regulator to give effect to its determination when sending a copy of it to the regulator²³.

An appeal²⁴ does not have the effect of suspending the decision or notice in question²⁵. However where an appeal is brought against a revocation notice, the revocation does not take effect until the final determination or the withdrawal of the appeal²⁶.

WASTE MANAGEMENT/(4) ENVIRONMENTAL PERMITTING/(iii) Discharge of Functions in relation to a Regulated Facility/668. Discharge of functions.

(iii) Discharge of Functions in relation to a Regulated Facility

668. Discharge of functions.

Functions in relation to a Part A(1) installation¹ or Part A(1) mobile plant² are exercisable by the Environment Agency³.

Functions in relation to a Part A(2) installation⁴ or a Part B installation⁵ are exercisable by the local authority⁶ in whose area the installation⁷ is or will be operated⁸. However functions in relation to a waste operation⁹ carried out at a Part B installation are exercisable by the Environment Agency¹⁰.

If the operator of Part A(2) mobile plant¹¹ or Part B mobile plant¹² has his principal place of business in England and Wales¹³, functions in relation to that plant are exercisable by the local authority in whose area the place of business is¹⁴.

If the operator of Part A(2) mobile plant or Part B mobile plant does not have his principal place of business in England and Wales, functions in relation to that plant are exercisable by (1) the local authority which granted the environmental permit¹⁵ authorising the operation of the plant; or (2) if no permit has been granted, the local authority in whose area the plant is first operated, or is intended to be first operated¹⁶.

Functions in relation to a waste operation which is carried on other than at an installation, or by Part A mobile¹⁷ plant or Part B mobile plant, are exercisable by the Environment Agency¹⁸.

Functions in relation to a mining waste operation¹⁹ are exercisable by the Environment Agency²⁰.

WASTE MANAGEMENT/(4) ENVIRONMENTAL PERMITTING/(iii) Discharge of Functions in relation to a Regulated Facility/669. Direction to a regulator: discharge of functions by a different regulator.

669. Direction to a regulator: discharge of functions by a different regulator.

An appropriate authority¹ may direct² (1) the Environment Agency³ to exercise such local authority functions⁴ as are, and for such period as is, specified in the direction; or (2) a local authority to exercise such Agency functions⁵ as are, and for such period as is, specified in the direction⁶.

A direction⁷ may include such saving and transitional provisions as the appropriate authority considers necessary or expedient⁸. A direction⁹ may be made in respect of a description of regulated facility¹⁰ or a specific regulated facility¹¹.

When giving such a direction¹² the appropriate authority must notify the persons below¹³ of the direction and publish the direction on its website¹⁴. The persons are (a) the Environment Agency; and (b) any local authority or other person who in the appropriate authority's opinion are affected by the direction¹⁵. An appropriate authority must not comply with this duty¹⁶ in a case where the authority considers that to do so would be contrary to the interests of national security¹⁷.

1 As to the meaning of 'appropriate authority' see PARA 662 note 13.

2 A power to give a direction includes a power to vary or revoke it: Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 2(3). As to general provision made for notices, notifications, certificates, directions or forms see reg 10; and PARA 665 note 9.

3 As to the Environment Agency see PARA 68 et seq.

4 For these purposes, 'local authority functions' means functions which are exercisable by a local authority by virtue of the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 32 (see PARA 668) or Sch 2 para 2 (see PARA 663 note 1) (ignoring any direction under reg 33): reg 33(8). Schedule 12 covers the following matters: application (see Sch 12 para 1); interpretation (see Sch 12 para 2); applications for an environmental permit (see Sch 12 para 3); and exercise of relevant functions (see Sch 12 para 4).

9 See the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 35(g); and Sch 13. Sch 13 covers the following matters: application (see Sch 13 para 1); interpretation (see Sch 13 para 2); applications for environmental permit (see Sch 13 para 3); and exercise of relevant functions (see Sch 13 para 4).

10 See the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 35(h); and Sch 14. 'SED installation' means (1) a stationary technical unit where one or more SED activities are carried on; and (2) any other location on the same site where any other directly associated activities are carried on: reg 2(1). As to the meaning of 'SED activity' see PARA 663 note 1. As to the meaning of 'directly associated activity' see PARA 663 note 1. Sch 14 covers the following matters: application (see Sch 14 para 1); interpretation (see Sch 14 para 2); and exercise of relevant functions (see Sch 14 para 3).

11 See the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 35(i); and Sch 15. Sch 15 covers the following matters: application (see Sch 15 para 1); interpretation (see Sch 15 para 2); and exercise of relevant functions (see Sch 15 para 3).

12 See the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 35(j); and Sch 16. Sch 16 covers the following matters: application (see Sch 16 para 1); interpretation (see Sch 16 para 2); and exercise of relevant functions (see Sch 16 para 3).

13 See the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 35(k); and Sch 17. Sch 17 covers the following matters: application (see Sch 17 para 1); interpretation (see Sch 17 para 2); and exercise of relevant functions (see Sch 17 para 3).

14 See the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 35(l); and Sch 18. Sch 18 covers the following matters: application (see Sch 18 para 1); interpretation (see Sch 18 para 2); and exercise of relevant functions (see Sch 18 para 3).

15 See the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 35(m); and Sch 18A (both added by SI 2009/890). 'Waste battery or accumulator' has the meaning given by European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2006/66 (OJ L266 26.9.2006 p 1) on batteries and accumulators and waste batteries and accumulators art 3(7) (see generally PARA 37), but does not include any waste which is excluded from the scope of that Directive by art 2(2): Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 2(1) (definition added by SI 2009/890). The Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, Sch 18A covers the following matters: application (see Sch 18A para 1 (as so added)); and exercise of relevant functions (see Sch 18A para 2 (as so added)).

As to further provision in relation to waste batteries and accumulators see reg 68A (added by SI 2009/890). In regard to any environmental permit which (1) immediately before the coming into force of the Waste Batteries and Accumulators Regulations 2009, SI 2009/890 (see PARA 37; and SALE OF GOODS AND SUPPLY OF SERVICES vol 41 (2005 Reissue) PARA 393) authorised a waste operation which involves treatment of waste batteries or accumulators; and (2) does not require compliance with European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2006/66 (OJ L266 26.9.2006 p 1) on batteries and accumulators and waste batteries and accumulators art 12(2) (see generally PARA 37), the environmental permit must be read as if it contained the following condition: 'Treatment of waste batteries and accumulators must meet the minimum requirements set out in Annex III, Part A of Directive 2006/66/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council on batteries and accumulators and waste batteries and accumulators and repealing Directive 91/157/EEC': Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 68A(1), (2) (as so added). For these purposes, 'treatment' has the meaning given in European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2006/66 (OJ L266 26.9.2006 p 1) art 3(10):

16 See the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 35(n); and Sch 18B (both added by SI 2009/1799). As to the meaning of 'mining waste operation' see PARA 663 note 1. The Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, Sch 18B covers the following matters: application (see Sch 18B para 1 (as so added)); interpretation (see Sch 18B para 2 (as so added)); applications for an environmental permit (see Sch 18B para 3 (as so added)); review of environmental permits (see Sch 18B para 4 (as so added)); classification of mining waste facilities (see Sch 18B para 5 (as so added)); inspections (see Sch 18B para 6 (as so added)); exercise of relevant functions (see Sch 18B para 7 (as so added)); public participation (see Sch 18B para 8 (as so added)); derogations from requirements (see Sch 18B para 9 (as so added)); closure of a mining waste facility (see Sch 18B para 10 (as so added)); inventory of closed mining waste facilities (see Sch 18B para 11 (as so added)); developments in best available techniques (see Sch 18B para 12 (as so added)); planning permission requirements and conditions (see Sch 18B para 13 (as so added)); applications for an environmental permit for a Category A mining waste facility (see Sch 18B para 14 (as so added)).

(iv) Enforcement and Offences

672. Enforcement notices.

If the regulator¹ considers that an operator² has contravened, is contravening, or is likely to contravene an environmental permit³ condition⁴, the regulator may serve a notice on him (an 'enforcement notice')⁵.

An enforcement notice must (1) state the regulator's view⁶; (2) specify the matters constituting the contravention or making a contravention likely; (3) specify the steps that must be taken to remedy the contravention or to ensure that the likely contravention does not occur; and (4) specify the period within which those steps must be taken⁷.

Steps that may be specified in an enforcement notice include steps (a) to make the operation of a regulated facility⁸ comply with the environmental permit conditions; and (b) to remedy the effects of pollution⁹ caused by the contravention¹⁰.

The regulator may withdraw an enforcement notice at any time by further notice served on the operator¹¹.

1 As to the meaning of 'regulator' see PARA 662 note 13.

2 As to the meaning of 'operator' see PARA 664 note 1.

3 As to the meaning of 'environmental permit' see PARA 664.

673. Suspension notices.

If the regulator¹ considers that the operation of a regulated facility² under an environmental permit³ involves a risk of serious pollution⁴, it may serve a notice on the operator (a 'suspension notice')⁵. This is the case⁶ whether or not the manner of operating the facility which involves the risk is subject to or contravenes an environmental permit condition⁷.

A suspension notice must (1) state the regulator's view⁸; (2) specify (a) the risk of serious pollution⁹; (b) the steps that must be taken to remove that risk; and (c) the period within which the steps must be taken; (3) state that the environmental permit ceases to have effect to the extent specified in the notice until the notice is withdrawn; and (4) if the environmental permit continues to authorise an operation, state any steps¹⁰ that are to be taken when carrying on that operation¹¹.

If a suspension notice is served the environmental permit ceases to have effect to the extent stated in the notice¹².

The regulator (i) may withdraw a suspension notice at any time by further notice served on the operator; and (ii) must withdraw a notice when satisfied that the steps specified in it have been taken¹³.

674. Offences, penalties and defence.

It is an offence for a person:

- 1624 (1) to contravene, or knowingly cause or knowingly permit the contravention of, the provision requiring an environmental permit¹;
- 1625 (2) to fail to comply with or to contravene an environmental permit condition²;
- 1626 (3) to fail to comply with the requirements of an enforcement notice³, a suspension notice⁴, a mining waste facility closure notice⁵ or a landfill closure notice⁶;
- 1627 (4) to fail to comply with a notice⁷ requiring the provision of information, without reasonable excuse⁸;
- 1628 (5) to make a statement which he knows to be false or misleading in a material particular, or recklessly to make a statement which is false or misleading in a material particular, where the statement is made (a) in purported compliance with a requirement to provide information imposed by or under a provision of the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007⁹; or (b) for the purpose of obtaining the grant of an environmental permit to himself or another person, or the variation, transfer in whole or in part, or surrender in whole or in part of an environmental permit¹⁰;
- 1629 (6) intentionally to make a false entry in a record required to be kept under an environmental permit condition¹¹;
- 1630 (7) with intent to deceive (a) to forge or use a document issued or authorised to be issued or required for any purpose under an environmental permit condition; or (b) to make or have in his possession a document so closely resembling such a document as to be likely to deceive¹².

It is an offence for an establishment or undertaking:

- 1631 (i) to fail to comply with certain parts of the provision on record-keeping in regard to exempt waste operations¹³; or
- 1632 (ii) intentionally to make a false entry in a record required to be kept under those parts of the latter provision¹⁴.

If an offence committed by a person¹⁵ is due to the act or default of some other person, that other person is also guilty of the offence and liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly¹⁶.

A person guilty of an offence under head (1), (2) or (3) above¹⁷ is liable to a fine or imprisonment or both¹⁸.

A person guilty of an offence under head (4), (5), (6) or (7) above¹⁹ is liable to a fine or imprisonment or both²⁰.

An establishment or undertaking guilty of an offence under head (i) or (ii) above²¹ is liable to a fine²².

It is a defence for a person charged with an offence under head (1), (2) or (3) above²³ to prove that the acts alleged to constitute the contravention were done in an emergency in order to avoid danger to human health in a case where (A) he took all such steps as were reasonably practicable in the circumstances for minimising pollution²⁴; and (B) particulars of the acts were furnished to the regulator as soon as reasonably practicable after they were done²⁵.

If an offence committed under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007²⁶ by a body corporate is shown to have been committed with the consent or connivance of an officer²⁷, or to be attributable to any neglect on his part, the officer as well as the body corporate is guilty of the offence and liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly²⁸.

If the regulator considers that proceedings against a person for an offence under reg 38(1)(c) would afford an ineffectual remedy against the person, the regulator may take proceedings in the High Court for the purpose of securing compliance with the enforcement notice, suspension notice, mining waste facility closure notice or landfill closure notice: reg 42 (amended by SI 2009/1799). 675. Admissibility of evidence; power to order cause of offence to be remedied.

Where, pursuant to an environmental permit¹ granted by a local authority², an entry is required to be made in any record as to the observance of a condition³ of the environmental permit and the entry has not been made, that fact is admissible as evidence that the condition has not been observed⁴.

Where a person is convicted of any of certain offences⁵ in respect of a matter which appears to the court to be a matter which it is in his power to remedy⁶, in addition to or instead of a punishment imposed⁷ the court may order the person to take such steps for remedying the matter within such period as may be specified in the order⁸. The period may be extended, or further extended, by order of the court on an application made before the end of the period or the extended period, as the case may be⁹. If a person is ordered to remedy a matter, that person is not liable¹⁰ in respect of that matter during the period or the extended period¹¹.

(v) Public Registers

676. Duty of the regulator to maintain a public register.

The regulator¹ must maintain a register (a 'public register') containing certain information².

A local authority³ must also include on its public register any information which is included on the Environment Agency's⁴ public register in respect of a regulated facility⁵ (other than mobile plant⁶) (1) for which the Agency is the regulator; and (2) which is in the area of the authority⁷.

The regulator must enter information on its public register as soon as reasonably practicable after it comes within the regulator's possession⁸.

Where information of any description is excluded from any public register as confidential information⁹, a statement must be entered in the register indicating the existence of information of that description¹⁰.

The regulator must (a) make its public register available for public inspection at all reasonable times, free of charge; and (b) enable members of the public to obtain copies of entries on its public register on payment of a reasonable charge¹¹. A public register may be kept in any form¹².

1 As to the meaning of 'regulator' see PARA 662 note 13.

2 Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, regs 2(1), 46(1). Regulation 46(1) is subject to reg 47 (see PARA 677) and reg 48 (see PARA 678): see reg 46(1). However, nothing in reg 46(1) requires a public register to contain information relating to criminal proceedings, or anything which is the subject matter of criminal proceedings, before those proceedings are finally disposed of: reg 46(2). For these purposes, 'criminal proceedings' includes prospective criminal proceedings: reg 46(3).

The information referred to in reg 46(1) is in Sch 19 para 1. A public register must contain a copy of:

- 39 (1) every application for the grant of an environmental permit, to vary an environmental permit, to transfer an environmental permit in whole or in part, or to surrender an environmental permit in whole or in part (Sch 19 para 1(1)(a));
- 40 (2) every notice requesting further information under Sch 5 para 4(1) (see PARA 666 note 4) (Sch 19 para 1(1)(b));
- 41 (3) all representations made in respect of an application for an environmental permit or to vary an environmental permit (Sch 19 para 1(1)(c));
- 42 (4) every environmental permit, variation, transfer in whole or in part, or surrender in whole or in part granted or made by the regulator (Sch 19 para 1(1)(d));
- 43 (5) every determination or decision notified under Sch 5 para 17(2)(a) (see PARA 666 note 4) (Sch 19 para 1(1)(e));
- 44 (6) every enforcement notice, revocation notice, suspension notice, landfill closure notice, mining waste facility closure notice or notice withdrawing such a notice served by the regulator (Sch 19 para 1(1)(f) (amended by SI 2009/1799));

- 45 (7) in relation to an appeal to an appropriate authority, every notice of appeal, document relating to the appeal, representation made in respect of the appeal, and determination of the authority, including any report accompanying that determination (Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, Sch 19 para 1(1)(g));
- 46 (8) all monitoring information obtained by the regulator as a result of its own monitoring, by virtue of any environmental permit condition, or under reg 60 (see PARA 687) (Sch 19 para 1(1)(h));
- 47 (9) all other information given to the regulator in compliance with an environmental permit condition, an enforcement notice, a suspension notice, a landfill closure notice, reg 60 (see PARA 687), or a mining waste facility closure notice (Sch 19 para 1(1)(i) (amended by SI 2009/1799));
- 48 (10) every report published by the regulator relating to an assessment of the environmental consequences of the operation of an installation (Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, Sch 19 para 1(1)(j));
- 49 (11) every direction given to the regulator or the exemption registration authority by an appropriate authority under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, other than a direction given under reg 47 (see PARA 677) or Sch 2 para 11 (see PARA 663 note 1) (Sch 19 para 1(1)(k) (substituted by SI 2009/3381)).

As to general provision made for notices, notifications, certificates, directions or forms see reg 10; and PARA 665 note 9.

A public register must also contain:

- 50 (a) details of any conviction or formal caution for an offence under reg 38 (see PARA 674) in respect of an environmental permit granted by the regulator or a failure to apply to the regulator for an environmental permit (Sch 19 para 1(2)(a));
- 51 (b) an inventory of closed mining waste facilities as required under European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2006/21 (OJ L102 11.4.2006 p 15) on the management of waste from extractive industries and amending Directive 2004/35 art 20 (see generally PARA 45) (Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, Sch 19 para 1(2)(aa) (added by SI 2009/1799));
- 52 (c) a list identifying all waste incineration installations (as to which see the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, Sch 13; and PARA 671 note 9) which have a capacity of less than two tonnes per hour, and are the subject of an environmental permit containing conditions which give effect to European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2000/76 (OJ L332, 28.12.2000, p 91) on the incineration of waste (see PARA 41) (Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, Sch 19 para 1(2)(b), (5)); and
- 53 (d) details of all fees and charges paid to the local authority pursuant to a scheme under reg 65 (see PARA 691), and the total expenditure of the authority in exercising its functions under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, in respect of permits granted by the authority (Sch 19 para 1(2)(c)).

The regulator may omit a representation referred to in Sch 19 para 1(1) (see heads (1)-(11) above) from its public register at the request of the person making the representation, but it must then include in the public register a statement that a representation was made and was the subject of such a request: Sch 19 reg 1(3).

If the regulator omits monitoring information referred to in Sch 19 para 1(1) from its public register on the grounds that it is commercially or industrially confidential the regulator must include in the public register a statement indicating whether or not there has been compliance with any environmental permit condition related to that monitoring information and requiring compliance with emission limit values: Sch 19 reg 1(4).

A regulator is not required to keep in its public register information which is no longer relevant for the purposes of public participation required under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538: Sch 19 reg 2.

A regulator must remove details of any formal caution from its public register five years after the caution was given: Sch 19 reg 3.

677. Exclusion from public registers of information affecting national security.

The appropriate authority¹ may direct² the regulator³ that in the interests of national security specified information or a specified description of information must be excluded from a public register⁴. The regulator must notify the appropriate authority of any information it excludes from a public register pursuant to such a direction⁵.

The appropriate authority may direct the regulator that in the interests of national security a specified description of information must be referred to the authority for its determination before the information is included on a public register⁶.

A person may give a notice to the appropriate authority stating that in his opinion the inclusion of information on a public register would be contrary to the interests of national security⁷. Such a notice⁸ must specify the information and indicate its apparent nature⁹. A person giving such a notice must at the same time notify the regulator¹⁰. The regulator must not include information so notified on a public register unless the appropriate authority determines that it may be included¹¹.

WASTE MANAGEMENT/(4) ENVIRONMENTAL PERMITTING/(v) Public Registers/678. Exclusion from public registers of confidential information and relevant procedure.

678. Exclusion from public registers of confidential information and relevant procedure.

The regulator¹ must exclude information from a public register², unless one of the conditions below³ is met, if it (1) considers that the information may be confidential information⁴; or (2) receives notice ('objection notice') from the information subject⁵ which states that he considers the information is confidential information, and gives reasons for that view⁶.

The conditions are that (a) in relation to head (1) above, the regulator has given the relevant notice⁷ and the information subject has given the relevant notice of consent⁸; (b) in relation to head (1) or head (2) above, a final confidentiality decision⁹ that the information should be included on the register has been made, or the appropriate authority¹⁰ has given a direction¹¹ which requires the information to be included on the register¹².

If the regulator considers that information may be confidential information but has not received an objection notice, it must give notice of that view to the information subject¹³.

The information subject may within 15 working days after the date of the notice given by the regulator¹⁴ (i) give notice to the regulator consenting to the regulator including the information on the register; or (ii) give an objection notice to the regulator¹⁵.

679. Determination of confidentiality.

The regulator¹ must determine whether information must be included on the public register², or excluded from the public register because it is confidential information³, if (1) having given notice⁴, it does not receive notice of consent⁵; or (2) it receives an objection notice⁶.

When making such a determination⁷, the regulator must comply with the following provisions⁸.

In making the determination, the regulator must (a) take any reasons given in an objection notice into account; (b) apply a presumption in favour of including the information on the public register; and (c) determine to exclude the information from the public register if it considers that (i) the information is commercial or industrial information; (ii) its confidentiality is provided by law to protect a legitimate economic interest; and (iii) in all the circumstances, the public interest in maintaining the confidentiality of the information outweighs the public interest in including it on the register⁹.

However, to the extent that information relates to emissions the regulator must determine to include it on the public register¹⁰.

Nothing in these provisions¹¹ authorises the exclusion from the public register of information contained in or otherwise held with other information excluded from the register unless the information is not reasonably capable of being separated for the purposes of inclusion on the register¹².

680. Procedure following a determination of confidentiality.

The regulator¹ must give notice of its determination of confidentiality², the reasons for it and the details of the appeals procedure³ to the information subject within (1) a period of 20 working days beginning with the date its duty to determine confidentiality⁴ arises; or (2) such longer period as it agrees with the information subject⁵.

If the regulator fails to give notice⁶ within the required period⁷, the information subject may give notice to the regulator of that failure, and on such notice (a) the regulator is deemed to have determined that the information must be included on the register; and (b) the deemed determination is subject to the right of appeal⁸.

If the regulator determines that the information must be included on the public register, it must not include the information before the expiry of the period of 15 working days after (i) it has given notice of the determination; or (ii) a notice under heads (a) and (b) above⁹ resulting in a deemed determination is given, but must include it after the expiry of that period if notice of appeal has not been given¹⁰.

681. Appeals in relation to confidentiality.

The information subject¹ may give notice of appeal to the appropriate authority² against a determination of confidentiality³ within 15 working days after the regulator⁴ has given notice of it⁵.

A notice of appeal must (1) be in writing; (2) include a statement of the grounds of appeal; (3) state whether the information subject⁶ wishes the appeal to be in the form of a hearing or to be disposed of through written representations; and (4) be copied to the regulator⁷.

If the information subject gives notice of appeal, the regulator must not include the information on the public register⁸ before the appeal is decided⁹.

The appropriate authority (a) may give the information subject and the regulator an opportunity of appearing before and being heard by a person appointed by it; and (b) must do so in a case where the notice of appeal states that the information subject wishes the appeal to be in the form of a hearing¹⁰.

If the appropriate authority allows the appeal, the regulator must exclude the information from the public register¹¹.

If the appropriate authority rejects the appeal or the appeal is withdrawn, the regulator must include the information on the public register¹².

682. Reconsideration of confidentiality.

The regulator¹ must cease to treat information as confidential information² at the expiry of (1) a period of four years after the final confidentiality decision³; or (2) such shorter period as is specified in that decision⁴.

If the regulator¹ considers that the operation of a regulated facility² under an environmental permit³ involves a risk of serious pollution⁴, it may arrange for steps to be taken to remove that risk⁵.

If the commission of an offence⁶ causes pollution, the regulator may arrange for steps to be taken to remedy the effects of that pollution⁷.

If the regulator intends to arrange for such steps to be taken⁸, it must notify the operator of the steps not less than five working days before they are taken⁹.

If the regulator arranges for steps to be taken¹⁰, it may recover the cost of taking those steps from the operator¹¹.

685. Notices by the Environment Agency in relation to emissions to water.

In regard to Part A installations¹ and Part A mobile plant² for which a local authority³ is the regulator⁴, at any time the Environment Agency⁵ may give notice to the local authority specifying the emission limit values⁶ or the conditions it considers appropriate for preventing or reducing emissions into water from the installation or plant⁷.

If such a notice is issued, the local authority must exercise its functions under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007⁸ to ensure the environmental permit⁹ for the installation or plant includes (1) the emission limit values or conditions specified in the notice; or (2) such stricter limit values or more onerous conditions as the authority thinks fit¹⁰.

WASTE MANAGEMENT/(4) ENVIRONMENTAL PERMITTING/(vi) Powers and Functions of the Regulator and the Appropriate Authority/686. Public participation statement by Environment Agency.

686. Public participation statement by Environment Agency.

The Environment Agency¹ must prepare and publish a statement of its policies for complying with its public participation duties².

In preparing or revising the statement the Agency must consult such persons as it considers are affected by, are likely to be affected by, or have an interest in the statement³.

The Agency must (1) keep the statement under review; (2) revise the statement when it considers necessary; and (3) publish any revised statement⁴.

The Agency must comply with any published statement when exercising certain of its functions⁵.

1 As to the Environment Agency see PARA 68 et seq.

687. Power to require the provision of information.

For the purposes of discharging its functions under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007¹, an appropriate authority² may, by notice served on a regulator³, require the regulator to provide such information as is specified in the notice⁴.

For the purposes of discharging its functions under the 2007 Regulations, a regulator may, by notice served on any person, require that person to provide such information in such form and within such period as is specified in the notice⁵.

Such a notice⁶ may require a person to provide any information on emissions⁷ where that requirement is reasonable, including the provision of information (1) not in the person's possession; and (2) which would not usually come into the person's possession⁸.

WASTE MANAGEMENT/(4) ENVIRONMENTAL PERMITTING/(vi) Powers and Functions of the Regulator and the Appropriate Authority/688. Directions to a regulator.

688. Directions to a regulator.

An appropriate authority¹ may give directions² to the regulator³ of a general or specific character with respect to the carrying out of its functions under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007⁴.

Without prejudice to the generality of the above power⁵, a direction may direct the regulator to exercise or not to exercise (1) specified powers; (2) its powers in specified circumstances; or (3) its powers in a specified manner⁶.

The regulator must comply with a direction given to it under the 2007 Regulations⁷.

An appropriate authority may give directions to the regulator requiring that a particular application⁸ or class of application be referred to it for determination⁹.

The regulator must (a) inform the applicant of the fact that his application is being referred to the appropriate authority; and (b) forward to the appropriate authority any representations made in respect of the application¹⁰.

When an application is referred to it, the appropriate authority (i) may afford the applicant and the regulator an opportunity of appearing before and being heard by a person appointed by him; and (ii) must do so in any case where a request is duly-made by the applicant or the regulator to be so heard¹¹.

On determining an application referred to it¹² the appropriate authority must give to the regulator a direction as to whether the regulator is to grant the application and, if so, the conditions that are to be attached to the environmental permit¹³.

689. Installations outside the United Kingdom.

Where an appropriate authority¹ receives certain information² in relation to the operation of an installation³ outside the United Kingdom⁴ which is likely to have a significant negative effect on the environment of England or Wales⁵, for the purpose of compliance⁶ the appropriate authority must direct the Environment Agency⁷ to take such steps as it considers appropriate to (1) bring the information to the attention of persons likely to be affected by the operation of the installation; and (2) provide them with an opportunity to comment on the information⁸.

690. Guidance to regulators and exemption registration authorities.

An appropriate authority¹ may issue guidance to a regulator² or exemption registration authority³ with respect to the exercise of its functions under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007⁴.

In the exercise of those functions the regulator or exemption registration authority must have regard to the guidance⁵.

WASTE MANAGEMENT/(4) ENVIRONMENTAL PERMITTING/(vi) Powers and Functions of the Regulator and the Appropriate Authority/691. Fees and charges in relation to local authorities.

691. Fees and charges in relation to local authorities.

An appropriate authority¹ may make, and from time to time revise, a scheme prescribing (1) fees payable in respect of applications for the grant of an environmental permit², to vary an environmental permit³, to transfer an environmental permit in whole or in part⁴, to surrender an environmental permit in whole or in part⁵; (2) fees payable in respect of a variation on the initiative of the regulator⁶; and (3) charges payable in respect of the subsistence of an environmental permit⁷.

A scheme may in particular (a) prescribe specific fees and charges or the methods by which they are to be calculated; (b) make different provision for different cases, including different provision in relation to different persons, circumstances or localities; (c) subject to the requirements of the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007⁸, provide for the time when, and the manner in which, payments required by the scheme are to be made; and (d) make such incidental, supplementary and transitional provision as appears necessary or expedient to the appropriate authority⁹.

In making or revising a scheme, so far as practicable the appropriate authority must ensure that the fees and charges payable are sufficient to cover expenditure by local authorities¹⁰ (i) in exercising their functions under the 2007 Regulations; (ii) in making payment to the Environment Agency¹¹ in relation to the exercise of its functions under the provision on notices in relation to emissions to water¹²; (iii) in making payment to any person who prepares guidance in relation to regulated facilities¹³ and regulated activities¹⁴ for which those authorities are the regulator¹⁵.

If a regulator considers that an operator¹⁶ has failed to pay a charge specified in a scheme in respect of the subsistence of the operator's permit, the regulator may revoke the permit¹⁷.

692. Plans relating to emissions.

An appropriate authority¹ may make plans for (1) the setting of limits on the total amount, or the total amount in any period, of emissions² from all or any description of source; or (2) the allocation of quotas relating to such emissions³.

If the appropriate authority allocates a quota in such a plan⁴ it may also make a scheme for the trading or other transfer of that quota⁵.

This provision⁶ does not apply to an emission plan⁷.

(5) WASTE COLLECTION

693. Collection of controlled waste.

It is the duty of each waste collection authority¹:

- 1633 (1) to arrange for the collection of household waste² in its area³, except waste:
 - (a) which is situated at a place which in the opinion of the authority is so isolated or inaccessible that the cost of collecting it would be unreasonably high⁴; and (b) as to which the authority is satisfied that adequate arrangements for its disposal⁵ have been or can reasonably be expected to be made by a person who controls the waste⁶; and
- 1634 (2) if requested by the occupier of premises in its area to collect any commercial waste⁷ from the premises, to arrange for the collection of the waste⁸.

Arrangements may be made for the collection of industrial waste⁹, if the occupier of premises requests its collection; but a collection authority whose area is included in the area of a disposal authority¹⁰ may not exercise this power except with the consent of the disposal authority¹¹.

No charge may be made for the collection of household waste except in cases prescribed in regulations made by the Secretary of State¹². In any of those cases, the duty to arrange for the collection of the waste does not arise until a person who controls the waste requests the authority to collect it¹³; and the authority may recover a reasonable charge for the collection of the waste from the person who made the request¹⁴.

A person at whose request waste other than household waste is collected is liable to pay a reasonable charge for the collection and disposal of the waste to the authority which arranged for its collection; and it is the duty of that authority to recover the charge unless in the case of a charge in respect of commercial waste the authority considers it inappropriate to do so¹⁵.

It is the duty of each waste collection authority:

- 1635 (i) to make such arrangements for the emptying, without charge, of privies¹⁶ serving one or more private dwellings in its area as the authority considers appropriate¹⁷;
- 1636 (ii) if requested by the person who controls a cesspool¹⁸ serving only one or more private dwellings in its area to empty the cesspool, to remove such of the contents of the cesspool as the authority considers appropriate on payment, if the authority so requires, of a reasonable charge¹⁹.

A waste collection authority may, if requested by the person who controls any other privy or cesspool in its area to empty the privy or cesspool, empty the privy or, as the case may be, remove from the cesspool such of its contents as the authority considers appropriate on payment, if the authority so requires, of a reasonable charge²⁰.

A waste collection authority may: (A) construct, lay and maintain, within or outside its area, pipes and associated works for the purpose of collecting waste²¹; (B) contribute towards the cost incurred by another person in providing or maintaining pipes or associated works connecting with pipes provided by the authority under head (A) above²².

A waste collection authority may contribute towards the cost incurred by another person in providing or maintaining plant or equipment intended to deal with commercial or industrial waste before it is collected under arrangements made by the authority²³.

Anything collected under arrangements made by a waste collection authority under these provisions belongs to the authority and may be dealt with accordingly²⁴.

2 As to the meaning of 'household waste' see PARA 624; and as to the meaning of 'waste' see PARA 623.

3 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 45(1)(a).

Any waste collection authority whose area is in England ('English waste collection authority') which has a duty under head (1) in the text must ensure that the arrangements include arrangements for the collection of at least two types of recyclable waste, together or individually separated from the rest of the household waste, unless it is satisfied either that the cost of doing so would be unreasonably high or that comparable alternative arrangements are available: s 45A(1)-(3) (s 45A added by the Household Waste Recycling Act 2003 s 1). 'Recyclable waste' means household waste which is capable of being recycled or composted: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 45A(6) (as so added). The duty in s 45A(2) applies from 31 December 2010: s 45A(4) (as so added). The Secretary of State may, if requested to do so by an English waste collection authority, direct the authority that its duty under s 45A(2) applies from such date (being no later than 31 December 2015) as may be specified in the direction: s 45A(5) (as so added). At the date at which this volume states the law no such direction had been made.

Not later than 31 October 2004, the Secretary of State had to lay before each House of Parliament a report of the performance of: (1) each English waste authority in meeting its recycling and composting standards (if any); and (2) each English waste collection authority towards meeting the requirement imposed by s 45A(2): s 47A(1) (s 47A added by Household Waste Recycling Act 2003 s 3). 'Recycling and composting standards' means such performance standards and performance indicators (if any) as may be specified for the authority in head (1) above in an order made under the Local Government Act 1999 s 4 (repealed) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 705) in connection with the recycling and composting of household waste: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 47A(2) (as so added).

The Welsh Ministers may by order made by statutory instrument apply s 45A to Welsh waste collection authorities: see s 45B(1), (2) (s 45B added by the Household Waste Recycling Act 2003 s 2). The Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 161(3) (see PARA 61) does not apply to the making of orders under s 45B: s 45B(3) (as so added).

The Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 12 is repealed save in so far as it relates to industrial waste (see the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 16 Pt II; and the Environmental Protection Act 1990 (Commencement No 11) Order 1992, SI 1992/266). It is wholly repealed as from a day to be appointed (see the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 16 Pt II), but at the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

The Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 45(2) contains provisions similar to those of the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 12(2), and is to come into force as from a day to be appointed. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. As from a day to be appointed, the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 45(2) is to apply to waste other than controlled waste as it applies to controlled waste: s 63(4) (repealed). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. As to the meaning of 'controlled waste' see PARA 624.

12 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 45(3). As to the regulations made see the Controlled Waste Regulations 1992, SI 1992/588 (see PARA 624); and the Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1994, SI 1994/1056, but these for the most part have been replaced by the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538 (see PARA 662 et seq).

23 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 45(8). In relation to industrial waste see the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 12(8) (amended by the Local Government Act 1985 Sch 6 para 3(2); and SI 1985/1884). As to the repeal of the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 12 see note 11.

24 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 45(9). This provision is subject to s 48(1): see PARA 697. In relation to industrial waste see the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 12(9). As to the repeal of s 12 see note 11.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/10. WASTE MANAGEMENT/(5) WASTE COLLECTION/694. Receptacles for household waste.

694. Receptacles for household waste.

Where a waste collection authority¹ has a duty² to arrange for the collection of household waste³ from any premises, the authority may, by notice served⁴ on him, require the occupier to place the waste for collection in receptacles⁵ of a specified⁶ kind and number⁷. The kind and number of the receptacles required to be used must be such only as are reasonable but, subject to that, separate receptacles or compartments of receptacles may be required to be used for waste which is to be recycled⁸ and waste which is not⁹. In making requirements the authority may, as respects the provision of the receptacles:

- 1637 (1) determine that they be provided by the authority free of charge¹⁰;
- 1638 (2) propose that they be provided, if the occupier agrees, by the authority on payment by him of such a single payment or such periodical payments as he agrees with the authority¹¹;
- 1639 (3) require the occupier to provide them if he does not enter into an agreement under head (2) above within a specified period¹²; or
- 1640 (4) require the occupier to provide them¹³.

In making requirements as respects receptacles, the authority may¹⁴ make provision with respect to:

- 1641 (a) the size, construction and maintenance of the receptacles¹⁵;
- 1642 (b) the placing of the receptacles for the purpose of facilitating the emptying of them, and access to the receptacles for that purpose¹⁶;
- 1643 (c) the placing of the receptacles for the purpose of avoiding nuisance or detriment to the amenities of the area¹⁷;
- 1644 (d) the placing of the receptacles for that purpose on highways¹⁸;
- 1645 (e) the substances¹⁹ or articles which may or may not be put into the receptacles or compartments of receptacles of any description and the precautions to be taken where particular substances or articles are put into them²⁰; and
- 1646 (f) the steps to be taken by occupiers of premises to facilitate the collection of waste from the receptacles²¹.

No requirement may be made for receptacles to be placed on a highway unless:

- 1647 (i) the relevant highway authority²² has given consent to their being so placed²³; and
- 1648 (ii) arrangements have been made as to the liability for any damage arising out of their being so placed²⁴.

A person who fails, without reasonable excuse, to comply with any of these requirements²⁵ is liable on summary conviction to a penalty²⁶.

Where an occupier is required to provide any receptacles he may, within the period allowed²⁷, appeal to a magistrates' court against any requirement²⁸ on the ground that the requirement is unreasonable²⁹ or that the receptacles in which household waste is placed for collection from the premises are adequate³⁰. Where such an appeal against a requirement is brought: (A) the requirement is of no effect pending the determination of the appeal³¹; (B) the court must either quash or modify the requirement or dismiss the appeal³²; and (C) no question as to whether the requirement is, in any respect, unreasonable may be entertained in any proceedings for an offence under these provisions³³.

A waste collection authority is not obliged to collect household waste that is placed for collection in contravention of a requirement under the above provisions³⁴.

7 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 46(1).

As from a day to be appointed, the following provisions (ie s 46(1A), (1B)) apply. Where (1) s 46(1) applies to a waste collection authority; and (2) a waste reduction scheme under Sch 2AA (see PARA 704) is in operation in the authority's area, the authority may require the occupier to place the waste for collection in receptacles identified by such means as may be specified: s 46(1A) (s 46(1A), (1B) prospectively added by the Climate Change Act 2008 Sch 5 Pt 2 para 3(1), (2)). A requirement under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 46(1A) (a) must be imposed by notice served on the occupier; (b) may be imposed instead of, or in addition to, any requirement imposed on the occupier under s 46(1): s 46(1B) (as so prospectively added). At the date at which this volume states the law no day had been appointed for the commencement of these provisions. See also notes 6, 26.

695. Receptacles for commercial or industrial waste.

A waste collection authority¹ may, at the request of any person, supply him with receptacles² for commercial or industrial waste³ which he has requested the authority to arrange to collect⁴ and must make a reasonable charge for any receptacle supplied unless in the case of a receptacle for commercial waste the authority considers it appropriate not to make a charge⁵. If it appears to a waste collection authority that there is likely to be situated, on any premises in its area, commercial waste or industrial waste of a kind which, if the waste is not stored in receptacles of a particular kind, is likely to cause a nuisance or to be detrimental to the amenities of the locality, the authority may, by notice served⁶ on him, require the occupier of the premises to provide at the premises receptacles for the storage of such waste of a specified⁷ kind and number⁸. The kind and number of the receptacles required to be used must be such only as are reasonable⁹. In making requirements as respects receptacles, the authority may¹⁰ make provision with respect to:

- 1649 (1) the size, construction and maintenance of the receptacles¹¹;
- 1650 (2) the placing of the receptacles for the purpose of facilitating the emptying of them, and access to the receptacles for that purpose¹²;
- 1651 (3) the placing of the receptacles for the purpose of avoiding nuisance or detriment to the amenities of the area¹³;
- 1652 (4) the placing of the receptacles for that purpose on highways¹⁴;
- 1653 (5) the substances¹⁵ or articles which may or may not be put into the receptacles and the precautions to be taken where particular substances or articles are put into them¹⁶; and
- 1654 (6) the steps to be taken by occupiers of premises to facilitate the collection of waste from the receptacles¹⁷.

No requirement may be made for receptacles to be placed on a highway unless:

- 1655 (a) the relevant highway authority¹⁸ has given consent to their being so placed¹⁹; and
- 1656 (b) arrangements have been made as to the liability for any damage arising out of their being so placed²⁰.

A person who fails, without reasonable excuse, to comply with any of these requirements²¹ is liable on summary conviction to a penalty²².

Where an occupier is required to provide any receptacles he may, within the period allowed²³, appeal to a magistrates' court against any requirement²⁴ on the ground that the requirement is unreasonable or that the waste is not likely to cause a nuisance or be detrimental to the amenities of the locality²⁵. Where such an appeal against a requirement is brought: (i) the requirement is of no effect pending the determination of the appeal²⁶; (ii) the court must either quash or modify the requirement or dismiss the appeal²⁷; and (iii) no question as to whether the requirement is, in any respect, unreasonable may be entertained in any proceedings for an offence under these provisions²⁸.

696. Fixed penalty notices for offences relating to waste receptacles.

Where on any occasion an authorised officer¹ of a waste collection authority has reason to believe that a person has committed an offence relating to waste receptacles², the authorised officer may give that person a notice³ offering him the opportunity of discharging any liability to conviction for the offence by payment of a fixed penalty to the waste collection authority⁴. Where a person is given such a notice in respect of an offence: (1) no proceedings may be instituted for that offence before the expiration of the period of 14 days following the date of the notice⁵; and (2) he may not be convicted of that offence if he pays the fixed penalty before the expiration of that period⁶.

Such a notice⁷ must give such particulars of the circumstances alleged to constitute the offence as are necessary for giving reasonable information of the offence⁸. It must also state: (a) the period during which, by virtue of heads (1) and (2) above, proceedings will not be taken for the offence⁹; (b) the amount of the fixed penalty¹⁰; and (c) the person to whom and the address at which the fixed penalty may be paid¹¹.

Without prejudice to payment by any other method, payment of the fixed penalty may be made by pre-paying and posting a letter containing the amount of the penalty (in cash or otherwise) to the person mentioned in head (c) above at the address so mentioned¹².

In any proceedings a certificate which purports to be signed on behalf of the chief finance officer¹³ of the waste collection authority, and states that payment of a fixed penalty was or was not received by a date specified in the certificate, is evidence of the facts stated¹⁴.

In relation to a fixed penalty payable to a waste collection authority in pursuance of a notice as mentioned above¹⁵, the amount of the fixed penalty: (i) is the amount specified by the waste collection authority in relation to the authority's area¹⁶; or (ii) if no amount is so specified, a specific amount¹⁷. The waste collection authority may make provision for treating the fixed penalty as having been paid if a lesser amount is paid before the end of a period specified by the authority¹⁸. The appropriate person may by regulations¹⁹ make provision in connection with these powers²⁰.

1 For these purposes, 'authorised officer', in relation to a waste collection authority, means: (1) an employee of the authority who is authorised in writing by the authority for the purposes of giving notices under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 47ZA; (2) any person who, in pursuance of arrangements made with the authority, has the function of giving such notices and is authorised in writing by the authority to perform that function; (3) any employee of such a person who is authorised in writing by the authority for the purpose of giving such notices: s 47ZA(10) (ss 47ZA, 47ZB added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 48). As to the meaning of 'waste collection authority' see PARA 620 note 8.

2 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 47ZA(1) (as added: see note 1). The offences referred to in the text are those under s 46 (see PARA 693) or s 47 (see PARA 694): see s 47ZA (as so added). As to the use of fixed penalty receipts see s 73A; and PARA 646.

3 The form of a notice under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 47ZA is to be such as the appropriate person may by order prescribe: s 47ZA(8) (as added: see note 1). As to the meaning of 'appropriate person' see PARA 646 note 4.

- 13 'Chief finance officer', in relation to a waste collection authority, means the person having responsibility for the financial affairs of the authority: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 47ZA(10) (as added: see note 1).
- 14 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 47ZA(9) (as added: see note 1).

- 17 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 47ZB(2)(b) (as added: see note 1). The amount is £100: see s 47ZB(2)(b) (as so added). The appropriate person may by order substitute a different amount for the amount for the time being specified in s 47ZB(2)(b): s 47ZB(6) (as so added).
- 18 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 47ZB(3) (as added: see note 1).
- 19 Regulations under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 47ZB(4) may, in particular: (1) require an amount specified under s 47ZB(2)(a) to fall within a range prescribed in the regulations; (2) restrict the extent to which, and the circumstances in which, a waste collection authority can make provision under s 47ZB(3): s 47ZB(5) (as added: see note 1). 697. Duties of waste collection authorities as respects disposal of waste collected.

It is the duty of each waste collection authority¹ to deliver for disposal² all waste³ which is collected by the authority⁴ to such places as the waste disposal authority⁵ for its area directs⁶. This duty imposed on a waste collection authority does not generally⁷ apply as respects household waste⁸ or commercial waste⁹ for which the authority decides to make arrangements for recycling¹⁰ the waste; and the authority must have regard, in deciding what recycling arrangements to make, to its waste recycling plan¹¹. However, where a waste disposal authority has made arrangements, as respects household waste or commercial waste in its area or any part of its area, to recycle the waste, or any of it, the waste disposal authority may, by notice served¹² on the waste collection authority, object to the waste collection authority having the waste recycled; and the objection may be made as respects all the waste, part only of the waste or specified descriptions of the waste¹³.

A waste collection authority may provide plant and equipment for the sorting and baling of waste retained¹⁴ by the authority¹⁵. A waste collection authority may permit another person to use such facilities provided by the authority¹⁶ and may provide for the use of another person any such facilities as the authority has power to provide¹⁷, and:

- 1657 (1) subject to head (2) below, it is the duty of the authority to make a reasonable charge in respect of the use by another person of the facilities, unless the authority considers it appropriate not to make a charge¹⁸;
- 1658 (2) no charge may be made under this provision in respect of household waste¹⁹; and
- 1659 (3) anything delivered to the authority by another person in the course of using the facilities belongs to the authority and may be dealt with accordingly²⁰.

698. Functions of waste disposal authorities.

It is the duty of each waste disposal authority¹ to arrange:

- 1660 (1) for the disposal² of the controlled waste³ collected in its area by the waste collection authorities⁴; and
- 1661 (2) for places to be provided at which persons resident in its area may deposit their household waste⁵ and for the disposal of waste so deposited⁶.

The arrangements made by a waste disposal authority under head (2) above must be such as to secure that:

- 1662 (a) each place is situated either within the area of the authority or so as to be reasonably accessible to persons resident in its area⁷;
- 1663 (b) each place is available for the deposit of waste at all reasonable times (including at least one period on the Saturday or following day of each week except a week in which the Saturday is 25 December or 1 January)⁸;
- 1664 (c) each place is available for the deposit of waste free of charge by persons resident in the area⁹, but the arrangements may restrict the availability of specified places to specified descriptions of waste¹⁰. A waste disposal authority may include in arrangements made under head (2) above arrangements for the places provided for its area for the deposit of household waste free of charge by residents in its area to be available for the deposit of household or other controlled waste by other persons on such terms as to payment (if any) as the authority determines¹¹.

For the purpose of discharging its duty under head (1) above as respects controlled waste collected as mentioned in that head, a waste disposal authority:

- 1665 (i) must give directions¹² to the waste collection authorities within its area as to the persons to whom and places at which such waste is to be delivered¹³;
- 1666 (ii) may contribute towards the cost incurred by persons who produce commercial or industrial waste¹⁴ in providing and maintaining plant or equipment intended to deal with such waste before it is collected¹⁵; and
- 1667 (iii) may contribute towards the cost incurred by persons who produce commercial or industrial waste in providing or maintaining pipes or associated works connecting with pipes provided by a waste collection authority within the area of the waste disposal authority¹⁶.

13 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 51(4)(a).

A waste disposal authority in England which is not also a waste collection authority may in directions under s 51(4)(a) include requirements about separation that relate to waste as delivered, but may do so only if it considers it necessary for assisting it to comply with any obligation imposed on it by or under any enactment: s 51(4A) (s 51(4A)-(4D) added by the Waste and Emissions Trading Act 2003 s 31(1), (3)). Before exercising its power to include requirements about separation in directions under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 51(4)(a), a waste disposal authority must consult the waste collection authorities within its area: s 51(4B) (as so added). In exercising its power to include requirements about separation in directions under s 51(4)(a), a waste disposal authority must have regard to any guidance given by the Secretary of State as to the exercise of that power: s 51(4C) (as so added). A waste disposal authority which includes requirements about separation in directions given under s 51(4)(a) must notify the waste collection authorities to which the directions are given of its reasons for including the requirements: s 51(4D) (as so added). 699. Payments for recycling and disposal etc of waste.

Where a waste collection authority¹ retains for recycling² waste³ collected by it⁴, the waste disposal authority⁵ for the area which includes the area of the waste collection authority must make to that authority payments in respect of the waste so retained: (1) in the case of a waste disposal authority in England, of such amounts as may be determined in accordance with regulations made by the Secretary of State; and (2) in the case of a waste disposal authority in Wales, of such amounts representing its net saving of expenditure on the disposal⁶ of the waste as the authority determines⁷.

Where, by reason of the discharge by a waste disposal authority of its functions, waste arising in its area does not fall to be collected by a waste collection authority⁸, the waste collection authority is to make to the waste disposal authority payments in respect of the waste not falling to be so collected: as from a day to be appointed (a) in the case of a waste disposal authority in England, of such amounts as may be determined in accordance with regulations made by the Secretary of State; and (b) in the case of a waste disposal authority in Wales, of such amounts representing its net saving of expenditure on the collection of the waste as the authority determines⁹.

Where a person other than a waste collection authority, for the purpose of recycling it, collects waste arising in the area of a waste disposal authority which would fall to be collected by the waste collection authority¹⁰, the waste disposal authority may make to that person payments in respect of the waste so collected: (i) in the case of a waste disposal authority in England, of such amounts as may be determined in accordance with regulations made by the Secretary of State; and (ii) in the case of a waste disposal authority in Wales, of such amounts representing its net saving of expenditure on the disposal of the waste as the authority determines¹¹.

Where a person other than a waste collection authority, for the purpose of recycling it, collects waste which would fall to be collected by the waste collection authority¹², the waste collection authority may make to that person payments in respect of the waste so collected: as from a day to be appointed (A) in the case of a waste collection authority in England, of such amounts as may be determined in accordance with regulations made by the Secretary of State; and (B) in the case of a waste collection authority in Wales, of such amounts representing its net saving of expenditure on the collection of the waste as the authority determines¹³.

The Secretary of State may by regulations impose on waste disposal authorities in England a duty to make payments¹⁴ to such persons in such circumstances and in respect of such descriptions or quantities of waste as are specified in the regulations¹⁵. Regulations may impose on waste disposal authorities in Wales a duty to make similar payments to such persons in such circumstances and in respect of such descriptions or quantities of waste as are specified in the regulations¹⁶.

The Secretary of State must by regulations make provision for the determination of the net saving of expenditure for the above purposes¹⁷.

A waste disposal authority is entitled to receive from a waste collection authority such sums as are needed to reimburse the waste disposal authority the reasonable cost of making arrangements¹⁸ for the disposal of commercial and industrial waste¹⁹ collected in the area of the waste disposal authority²⁰. A waste disposal authority must pay to a waste collection authority a reasonable contribution towards expenditure reasonably incurred by the waste collection authority in delivering waste²¹ to a place which is unreasonably far from the waste collection authority's area²².

A waste disposal authority in England which is not also a waste collection authority must pay to a waste collection authority within its area such amounts as are needed to ensure that the collection authority is not financially worse off as a result of having to comply with any separation requirements²³. A waste disposal authority in England which is not also a waste collection authority may pay to a waste collection authority within its area which performs its duty²⁴ by delivering waste in a state of separation, but which is not subject to any separation requirements as respects the delivery of that waste, contributions of such amounts as the disposal authority may determine towards expenditure of the collection authority that is attributable to its delivering the waste in that state²⁵. The Secretary of State may by regulations make provision about how amounts to be paid²⁶ are to be determined, and any such regulations may include provision for amounts to be less than they would otherwise be, or to be nil, if conditions specified in the regulations are not satisfied²⁷. Any question arising²⁸ must, in default of agreement between the paying and receiving authorities, be determined by arbitration²⁹. A waste collection authority in England which is not also a waste disposal authority must supply the waste disposal authority for its area with such information as the disposal authority may reasonably require for the purpose of determining the relevant amounts³⁰, or for the purpose of estimating any amounts that would fall to be determined³¹ were the collection authority to be subject to particular separation requirements³².

A waste disposal authority is not required to make payments to a waste collection authority under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 52(1) where, on the basis of arrangements involving the two authorities, the waste collection authority had agreed that such payments need not be made: s 52(1B) (as so added).

700. Powers for recycling waste.

The following provisions have effect for conferring on waste disposal authorities¹ and waste collection authorities² powers for the purposes of recycling waste³.

A waste disposal authority may: (1) make arrangements to recycle waste as respects which the authority has duties⁴ or agrees with another person for its disposal or treatment⁵; (2) make arrangements to use waste for the purpose of producing from it heat or electricity or both⁶; (3) buy or otherwise acquire waste with a view to its being recycled⁷; (4) use, sell or otherwise dispose of waste as respects which the authority has duties⁸ or anything produced from such waste⁹.

A waste collection authority may: (a) buy or otherwise acquire waste with a view to recycling it¹⁰; (b) use, or dispose of by way of sale or otherwise to another person, waste belonging to the authority or anything produced from such waste¹¹.

WASTE MANAGEMENT/(5) WASTE COLLECTION/701. Powers of Secretary of State to require waste to be accepted, treated, disposed of or delivered.

701. Powers of Secretary of State to require waste to be accepted, treated, disposed of or delivered.

The Secretary of State¹ may, by notice in writing, direct² the holder of any environmental permit³ authorising a waste operation⁴ to accept and keep, or accept and treat or dispose⁵ of, waste⁶ at specified⁷ places on specified terms⁸. The Secretary of State may, by notice in writing, direct any person who is keeping waste on any land⁹ to deliver the waste to a specified person on specified terms with a view to its being treated or disposed of by that other person¹⁰. A direction under these provisions may impose a requirement as respects waste of any specified kind or as respects any specified consignment of waste¹¹.

A person who fails, without reasonable excuse, to comply with a direction under these provisions is liable on summary conviction to a penalty¹².

5 As to the meaning of 'disposal' see PARA 620 note 12; and as to the treatment of waste see PARA 620 note 12.

6 For these purposes, 'waste' means anything which is waste as defined in EEC Council Directive 75/442 (OJ L194, 25.7.75, p 39) on waste, art 1, Annex 1 (see PARA 33), including anything which is excluded from the scope of that Directive by art 2(1)(b)(iii), but not including anything excluded by the remainder of that article: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 57(8) (substituted by SI 2005/3026).

7 For these purposes, 'specified' means specified in a direction under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 57: s 57(8) (as substituted: see note 6).

8 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 57(1) (amended by SI 2005/3026; and SI 2007/3538).

9 As to the meaning of 'land' see PARA 620 note 2.

10 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 57(2) (amended by SI 2005/3026). A direction under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 57(2) may require the person who is directed to deliver the waste to pay to the specified person his reasonable costs of treating or disposing of the waste: s 57(4). The Secretary of State may, where the costs of the treatment or disposal of waste are not paid or not fully paid in pursuance of s 57(4) to the person treating or disposing of the waste, pay the costs or the unpaid costs, as the case may be, to that person: s 57(7).

11 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 57(3).

12 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 57(5). The penalty is a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see s 57(5). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142.

A person is not guilty of an offence under any other enactment prescribed by the Secretary of State by regulations made for the purposes of this provision by reason only of anything necessarily done or omitted in order to comply with a direction under s 57: s 57(6). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations are in force.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/10. WASTE MANAGEMENT/(5) WASTE COLLECTION/702. Powers to require removal of waste unlawfully deposited.

702. Powers to require removal of waste unlawfully deposited.

If any controlled waste¹ or extractive waste² is deposited³ in or on any land⁴ in the area of a waste regulation authority⁵ or waste collection authority⁶, the authority may, by notice served on him⁷, require the occupier to do either or both of the following⁸, that is:

- 1668 (1) to remove the waste from the land within a specified period not less than a period of 21 days beginning with the service of the notice⁹;
- 1669 (2) to take within such a period specified steps with a view to eliminating or reducing the consequences of the deposit of the waste¹⁰.

A person on whom any such requirements are imposed may, within the period of 21 days, appeal against the requirement to a magistrates' court¹¹. On any such appeal, the court must quash the requirement if it is satisfied that:

- 1670 (a) the appellant neither deposited nor knowingly caused nor knowingly permitted the deposit of the waste¹²; or
- 1671 (b) there is a material defect in the notice¹³.

In any other case, the court must either modify the requirement or dismiss the appeal¹⁴.

Where a person appeals against any requirement, the requirement is of no effect pending the determination of the appeal; and where the court modifies the requirement or dismisses the appeal it may extend the period specified in the notice¹⁵.

If a person on whom a requirement is imposed¹⁶ fails, without reasonable excuse, to comply with the requirement he is liable, on summary conviction, to a penalty¹⁷.

Where a person on whom a requirement has been imposed¹⁸ by an authority fails to comply with the requirement, the authority may do what that person was required to do and may recover from him any expenses reasonably incurred by the authority in doing it¹⁹.

If it appears to a waste regulation authority or waste collection authority that waste has been deposited in or on any land²⁰ and that:

- 1672 (i) in order to remove or prevent pollution of land, water or air²¹, or harm²² to human health, it is necessary that the waste be forthwith removed or other steps taken to eliminate or reduce the consequences of the deposit or both²³; or
- 1673 (ii) there is no occupier of the land or the occupier cannot be found without the authority incurring unreasonable expense²⁴; or
- 1674 (iii) the occupier neither made nor knowingly permitted the deposit of the waste²⁵, then the authority may remove the waste from the land or take other steps to eliminate or reduce the consequences of the deposit or, as the case may require, to remove the waste and take those steps²⁶.

1 As to the meaning of 'controlled waste' see PARA 624. As to the meaning of 'waste' see PARA 623.

2 As to the meaning of 'extractive waste' see PARA 663 note 1; definition applied by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 29(13) (added by SI 2007/3538; and amended by SI 2009/1799).

3 In contravention of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 33(1) (see PARA 655) or of the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 12 (see PARA 663). As to the meaning of 'deposit' see PARA 655 note 1.

5 As to the meaning of 'waste regulation authority' see PARA 620 note 6.

6 As to the meaning of 'waste collection authority' see PARA 620 note 8.

7 As to service of notices see the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 160; and PARA 147.

8 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 59(1) (amended by SI 2007/3538; and SI 2009/1799). Certain functions under s 59 are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

The Secretary of State may issue directions setting out categories of waste to which a waste regulation authority or waste collection authority should give priority for the purposes of exercising its powers under s 59: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 59A(1) (s 59A added by the Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 55(4)). Priorities set out in directions under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 59A(1) may be different for different authorities or areas: s 59A(2) (as so added). However, nothing in s 59A or in any directions issued under it affects any power of an authority under s 59: s 59A(3) (as so added). A waste regulation authority must publicise any direction given to it under s 59A(1) in such manner as it considers appropriate: s 59A(4) (added by SI 2007/3538).

As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

9 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 59(1)(a). See note 8.

Where the grounds in s 59ZA(2), (3) or (4) are met, a waste regulation authority or waste collection authority may, by notice served on him, require the owner of any land in its area to comply with either or both of the requirements mentioned in s 59(1)(a) and s 59(1)(b) (see heads (1) and (2) in the text): s 59ZA(1) (s 59ZA added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 50(2)). The grounds in s 59ZA(2) are: (1) that it appears to the authority that waste has been deposited in or on the land in contravention of s 33(1) (see PARA 655) or of the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 12 (see PARA 663); and (2) there is no occupier of the land, or the occupier cannot be found without the authority incurring unreasonable expense: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 59ZA(2) (as so added; and amended by SI 2007/3538). The grounds in the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 59ZA(3) are that: (a) the authority has served a notice under s 59(1) imposing a requirement on the occupier of the land; (b) the occupier of the land is not the same person as the owner of the land; and (c) the occupier has failed to comply with the requirement mentioned in head (a) above within the period specified in the notice: s 59ZA(3) (as so added). The grounds in s 59ZA(4) are that: (i) the authority has served a notice under s 59(1) imposing a requirement on the occupier of the land; (ii) the occupier of the land is not the same person as the owner of the land; and (iii) the requirement mentioned in head (i) above has been quashed on the ground specified in s 59(3)(a) (see head (a) in the text): s 59ZA(4) (as so added). The provisions of s 59(2)-(6) (see the text and notes 11-19) apply in relation to requirements imposed under s 59ZA on the owner of the land as they apply in relation to requirements imposed under that provision on the occupier of the land but as if there were an additional ground on which the court must quash a requirement, namely where the court is satisfied that in order to comply with the requirement the appellant would be required to enter the land unlawfully: see s 59ZA(5) (as so added). As to the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 762 note 9; definition applied by s 59ZA(6) (as so added).

25 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 59(7)(c).

26 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 59(7) (as amended: see notes 23, 24). Where an authority exercises any of the powers conferred on it by s 59(7), it is entitled to recover the cost incurred by it in removing the waste or taking the steps or both and in disposing of the waste:

54 (1) in a case falling within s 59(7)(a) (see head (i) in the text), from the occupier of the land unless he proves that he neither made nor knowingly caused nor knowingly permitted the deposit of the waste (s 59(8)(a));

55 (2) in any case, from any person who deposited or knowingly caused or knowingly permitted the deposit of any of the waste (s 59(8)(b)), except such of the cost as the occupier or that person shows was incurred unnecessarily: s 59(8). Any waste removed by an authority under s 59(7) belongs to that authority and may be dealt with accordingly: s 59(9).

An authority may not recover costs under s 59(8) if a compensation order has been made under the Powers of Criminal Courts (Sentencing) Act 2000 s 130 (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(4) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1685) in favour of the authority in respect of any part of those costs: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 59(8A) (s 59(8A), (8B) added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 43(2)). The Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 59(8A) does not apply if the order is set aside on appeal: s 59(8B) (as so added).

703. Interference with waste sites and receptacles for waste.

No person may sort over or disturb:

- 1675 (1) anything deposited at a place for the deposit of waste¹ provided by a waste collection authority², by or under arrangements made with a waste disposal authority³ or by any other local authority or person⁴;
- 1676 (2) anything deposited in a receptacle for waste, whether for public or private use, provided by or under arrangements made with a waste disposal authority, by a parish or community council or by a holder of a waste management licence⁵; or
- 1677 (3) the contents of any receptacle for waste which is placed⁶ on any highway or in any other place with a view to its being emptied⁷, unless he has the relevant consent or right to do so⁸. The consent or right that is relevant for these purposes is:

- 1678 (a) in the case of head (1) above, the consent of the authority or other person who provides the place for the deposit of the waste⁹;
- 1679 (b) in the case of head (2) above, the consent of the authority or other person who provides the receptacle for the deposit of the waste¹⁰;
- 1680 (c) in the case of head (3) above, the right to the custody of the receptacle, the consent of the person having the right to the custody of the receptacle, or the right conferred by the function by or under Part II of the Environmental Protection Act 1990¹¹ of emptying such receptacles¹².

A person who contravenes these provisions is liable on summary conviction to a penalty¹³.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/10. WASTE MANAGEMENT/(5) WASTE COLLECTION/704. Waste reduction schemes.

704. Waste reduction schemes.

The following provisions come into force subject to the relevant provisions on piloting, report and review¹.

A waste collection authority whose area is in England may make a waste reduction scheme². The purpose of a waste reduction scheme is to provide a financial incentive to produce less domestic waste³ and to recycle⁴ more of what is produced, and accordingly to reduce the amount of residual domestic waste⁵. A waste reduction scheme may cover the whole or any part of the area of a waste collection authority, and may apply to all domestic premises, to domestic premises other than those of a specified⁶ description or to specified descriptions of domestic premises⁷. A waste collection authority may make a waste reduction scheme only if a good recycling service⁸ is available to the occupiers of premises to which the scheme applies, the scheme takes account of the needs of groups who might be unduly disadvantaged by it, and the authority has a strategy for preventing, minimising or otherwise dealing with the unauthorised deposit⁹ or disposal of waste¹⁰. A waste reduction scheme must provide for a financial incentive that the authority considers will be effective to achieve the purpose of the scheme¹¹. The scheme may provide for the incentive to be provided by means of rebates from council tax or by other payments, or by means of relevant charges¹².

A waste reduction scheme may include provision for charging¹³ by reference to the amount of residual domestic waste collected from premises, the size of receptacles used for the purposes of the collection of residual domestic waste from premises, the number of receptacles used for such purposes, or the frequency with which residual domestic waste is collected from premises, or by reference to any combination of those factors¹⁴. The scheme may, in particular, make provision for occupiers of premises (1) to be required, by notice¹⁵, to place residual domestic waste for collection in receptacles of a specified kind; (2) to be required, by such notice, to place such waste in receptacles that are identified by such means as may be specified; or (3) to be required to do both, and for a charge to be made by the authority in respect of the receptacles, the means of identifying them or both¹⁶.

After making a waste reduction scheme and before it is brought into operation, the authority must (a) publish the scheme in such manner as it considers appropriate; and (b) send to the occupier of any premises to which the scheme applies a notice setting out the requirements applicable under the scheme in relation to the collection of domestic waste from premises to which the scheme applies, any rebates or other payments available under the scheme and the manner in which they are to be made and any charges provided for by the scheme and the manner in which they are to be collected¹⁷. A waste reduction scheme must contain provision enabling a person to appeal against any decision affecting, directly or indirectly, that person's entitlement to a rebate or other payment, or liability to pay a charge, under the scheme¹⁸. Where a waste collection authority that operates a waste reduction scheme is not also the waste disposal authority¹⁹, the waste disposal authority may pay to the collection authority contributions of such amounts as the disposal authority may determine towards expenditure of the collection authority attributable to the scheme²⁰.

The Secretary of State may by regulations make provision as to the manner in which the amount of any rebate or other payment is to be determined, and any rebate or payment is to be given, and the manner in which the amount of any charge is to be determined, and any charge is to be collected or enforced²¹. An authority may use for the purpose of administering a waste reduction scheme information it has obtained for the purpose of carrying out its functions under the enactments relating to council tax²². An authority that has made a waste reduction scheme may amend or revoke the scheme²³. The Secretary of State may issue guidance to waste collection authorities and waste disposal authorities as respects the exercise of their functions under the provisions described above²⁴.

1 The Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 60A, Sch 2AA are prospectively added by the Climate Change Act 2008 s 71, Sch 5 Pt 1 paras 1, 2. The Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 60A, Sch 2AA come into force in accordance with the following provisions: see the Climate Change Act 2008 ss 71(1), (2), 100(2). If a waste collection authority submits to the Secretary of State proposals for a waste reduction scheme and the proposals are approved by the Secretary of State as suitable for piloting one or more aspects of the waste reduction provisions, the Secretary of State may by order designate the area of that authority as a pilot area; and the authority may make a scheme in accordance with the proposals: s 72(1). As to the meaning of 'waste collection authority' see PARA 620 note 8. In these provisions, the 'waste reduction provisions' means the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 60A, Sch 2AA and any subordinate legislation made under those provisions: Climate Change Act 2008 s 71(3). Not more than five areas may be so designated: s 72(2). The order designating a pilot area must provide that the waste reduction provisions have effect in relation to that area, for the purpose of enabling the authority to make and operate the proposed scheme, for such period as may be specified in the order: s 72(3). Any power to make subordinate legislation or issue guidance under the waste reduction provisions may be exercised so as to make different provision for different pilot areas; and may be exercised at any time after the coming into force of s 72: s 72(4). If a draft of an instrument containing such subordinate legislation would, apart from s 72(5), be treated for the purposes of the standing orders of either House of Parliament as a hybrid instrument, it is to proceed in that House as if it were not such an instrument: s 72(5). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

The Secretary of State must lay before Parliament a report on the operation of the waste reduction provisions in each pilot area: s 73(1). The report must contain, in respect of each pilot area to which it relates (1) a description of the scheme and of the respects in which the provision made by it differed from that made by the schemes in other pilot areas; (2) a copy of the order made by the Secretary of State under s 72 (see above); (3) a description of the respects in which the relevant enactments and guidance applying in that area differed from that applying in other pilot areas, and in areas not designated as pilot areas; and (4) an assessment of the scheme's success or otherwise: s 73(2). The report must also contain a review of the waste reduction provisions in the light of their operation in the pilot area or areas to which the report relates: s 73(3).

If it appears to the Secretary of State that it will not be possible to lay a report under s 73 (see above) in relation to a pilot area before the end of three years beginning with the day the Climate Change Act 2008 is passed (ie 20 November 2008), the Secretary of State must lay before Parliament an interim report in relation to that pilot area before the end of that period: s 74(1). The interim report must contain (a) a description of the scheme and of the respects in which the provision made or to be made by it differs from that made by the schemes in other pilot areas; (b) a copy of the order made by the Secretary of State under s 72 (see above); and (c) a description of the respects in which the relevant enactments and guidance applying in that area differ from that applying in other pilot areas, and in areas not designated as pilot areas: s 74(2). If the scheme has not been implemented, the interim report must contain a description of the progress made towards its implementation: s 74(3). Otherwise, the interim report must contain a description of the scheme's operation; and an assessment of the progress made towards achieving the scheme's objectives, if such an assessment can reasonably be made: s 74(4).

The following provisions apply after s 73 (see above) has been complied with in relation to one or more pilot areas: s 75(1). The Secretary of State may by order (i) provide that the waste reduction provisions come into force generally on such date as is specified in the order; or (ii) make such amendments of the waste reduction provisions as appear to the Secretary of State to be necessary or expedient having regard to the operation of the provisions in the pilot areas, and provide that those provisions as amended come into force generally on such date as is specified in the order: s 75(2). The amendments may include provision conferring power on the Secretary of State to make subordinate legislation: s 75(3). Where the amendments include such provision, they must also include provision (A) for a statutory instrument containing the subordinate legislation to be subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament; or (B) requiring a draft of such an instrument to be laid before and approved by resolution of each House of Parliament before the subordinate legislation is made, as the Secretary of State thinks fit: s 75(4). If the Secretary of State decides not to make an order under s 75(2) (see above), the Secretary of State must make an order repealing the waste reduction provisions: s 75(5). Any order under s 75(2)(b) (see head (ii) above) or s 75(5) (see above) is subject to affirmative resolution procedure: s 75(6). At the date at which this volume states the law, no subordinate legislation had been made under the above provisions.

2 In accordance with the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA: s 60A (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force).

3 'Domestic waste' means household waste from domestic purposes: Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA para 15(1) (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force). As to the meaning of 'household waste' see PARA 624. 'Domestic premises' means (1) a building or self-contained part of a building which is used wholly for the purposes of living accommodation; (2) a caravan, as defined in the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 s 29(1) (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(1) (2006 Reissue) PARA 610) that usually and for the time being is situated on a caravan site, within the meaning of the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960, or a moored vessel used wholly for the purposes of living accommodation: Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA s 15(1) (as so added). The Secretary of State may by order amend the definition of 'domestic premises' in Sch 2AA para 15(1): Sch 2AA para 15(2) (as so added). An order under Sch 2AA para 15(2) is subject to affirmative resolution procedure: Sch 2AA para 16(1) (as so added). See also Sch 2AA para 16(6); and note 21.

4 As to the meaning of 'recycle' see PARA 620 note 12. References in the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA to recycling include re-using and composting: Sch 2AA para 15(3) (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force).

5 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA para 1(1) (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force). 'Residual domestic waste' means domestic waste that is not waste meeting the conditions for collection by the authority as recyclable waste, or waste for which a charge may be made by virtue of regulations under s 45(3) (see PARA 693): Sch 2AA para 15(1). 'Recyclable waste' means waste that is capable of being recycled: Sch 2AA para 15(1). As to the meaning of 'waste' see PARA 623.

6 'Specified' means specified in the waste reduction scheme: Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA para 15(1) (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force).

7 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA para 1(2) (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force).

8 A 'recycling service' means arrangements for the collection of recyclable domestic waste from premises separately from other waste and a 'good' recycling service means a recycling service that meets the standards specified for the purposes of this definition in guidance issued by the Secretary of State: Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA para 2(2) (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force). The Secretary of State may by order amend Sch 2AA para 2(1), (2): Sch 2AA para 2(3) (as so added). An order under Sch 2AA para 2(3) is subject to affirmative resolution procedure: Sch 2AA para 16(1) (as so added). See also Sch 2AA para 16(6); and note 21. At the date at which this volume states the law no such order had been made.

9 As to the meaning of 'deposit' see PARA 655 note 1.

10 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA para 2(1) (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force). As to the meaning of 'disposal' see PARA 620 note 12. See note 8.

11 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA para 3(1) (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force).

12 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA para 3(2) (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force). The reference is to charges under Sch 2AA para 4: see note 13.

13 A charge under Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA para 4 in respect of a receptacle is in addition to any charge under s 46 (see PARA 694) in respect of the cost of providing the receptacle: Sch 2AA para 4(3) (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force). The amount of any charge under Sch 2AA para 4 need not be related to the authority's costs: Sch 2AA para 4(4) (as so added). The scheme may make provision as to the person or persons by whom any charge is payable: Sch 2AA para 4(5) (as so added). The scheme may require any charge to be paid in advance on the basis of an estimate of the amount that is likely to be payable in respect of any premises or require payments in respect of any charge to be made on account or by instalments: Sch 2AA para 4(6) (as so added). The Secretary of State may by order set a limit on the amount of the charge under Sch 2AA para 4 that may be imposed in respect of any premises in any financial year: Sch 2AA para 5(1) (as so added). Section 161(3) (see PARA 61) applies in relation to an order under Sch 2AA para 5(1): Sch 2AA para 16(2) (as so added). An order under Sch 2AA para 5(1) is subject to affirmative resolution procedure if it is the first order to be made under Sch 2AA para 5(1), or it increases the limit for the time being set by an order under Sch 2AA para 5(1) by more than is necessary to reflect changes in the value of money since that limit was set: Sch 2AA para 16(3) (as so added). A failure to pay a charge under Sch 2AA para 4 does not affect the authority's duty under s 45(1)(a) (see PARA 693): Sch 2AA para 5(2) (as so added). Section 45(3) (see PARA 693) has effect subject to Sch 2AA para 4: Sch 2AA para 5(3) (as so added). From year to year, and taking one year with another, the aggregate amount of charges under a waste reduction scheme must not exceed the aggregate amount of the rebates or other payments under the scheme: Sch 2AA para 6(1) (as so added). The Secretary of State may by order amend Sch 2AA para 6(1): Sch 2AA para 6(2) (as so added). An order under Sch 2AA para 6(2) is subject to affirmative resolution procedure: Sch 2AA para 16(1) (as so added). See also Sch 2AA para 16(6); and note 21. Any order under Sch 2AA para 6(2) may make any amendments of Sch 2AA para 4(4) (see above) that appear to the Secretary of State to be necessary or expedient in consequence of, or in connection with, the amendment of Sch 2AA para 6(1): Sch 2AA para 6(3) (as so added). A waste collection authority that operates a waste reduction scheme must keep a separate account of any rebates or other payments under the scheme, and any charges received by it under the scheme: Sch 2AA para 9(1) (as so added). Any person interested may at any reasonable time and without payment inspect the account and make copies of it or any part of it: Sch 2AA para 9(2) (as so added). A person having custody of the account who intentionally obstructs a person in the exercise of the rights conferred by Sch 2AA para 9(2) commits an offence: Sch 2AA para 9(3) (as so added). A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: Sch 2AA para 9(4) (as so added). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142.

17 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA para 7(1)-(3) (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force).

18 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA para 8 (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force).

19 As to the meaning of 'waste disposal authority' see PARA 620 note 7.

20 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA para 10(1) (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force). The collection authority must supply to the disposal authority such information as the disposal authority may reasonably require for the purpose of determining amounts under Sch 2AA para 10: Sch 2AA para 10(2) (as so added).

21 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA para 11(1) (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force). The regulations may in particular provide (1) for appeals against determinations or any failure to make a determination; (2) for the appointment of persons or bodies to hear appeals; and (3) for charges to be recoverable, if a county court so orders, as if they were payable under a county court order: Sch 2AA para 11(2) (as so added). The regulations may include provision (a) for integrating the administration of the scheme with the administration of council tax; and (b) for that purpose modifying, to such extent as appears to the Secretary of State to be necessary or expedient, any of the enactments relating to council tax; and in head (b) above 'modifying' includes making additions, amendments or omissions: Sch 2AA para 11(3) (as so added). The regulations may in particular provide (i) for including material relating to the scheme in the notice containing the council tax demand; (ii) for applying to questions arising under the scheme the procedure for appeals about liability to council tax; and (iii) for applying to any liability under the scheme the procedures for the enforcement of liability for council tax: Sch 2AA para 11(4) (as so added). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made.

Section 161(2) (see PARA 61) applies in relation to regulations under Sch 2AA para 11, although regulations under Sch 2AA para 11 are subject to affirmative resolution procedure if they modify an enactment contained in an Act of Parliament: see Sch 2AA para 16(4), (5) (as so added). 'Enactment' includes an enactment contained in subordinate legislation: Sch 2AA para 15(1) (as so added). Where an order or regulations are subject to affirmative resolution procedure the Secretary of State must not make the order or regulations unless a draft of the statutory instrument containing them has been laid before and approved by resolution of each House of Parliament: Sch 2AA para 16(6) (as so added).

22 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA para 12 (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force).

23 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA para 13(1) (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force). After amending a scheme and before bringing the amendment into operation, the authority must (1) publish the amended scheme in such manner as it thinks appropriate; and (2) if the amendment affects any of the matters previously notified to occupiers, send to the occupier of any premises to which the scheme applies a notice setting out the effect of the amendment: Sch 2AA para 13(2) (as so added). The amendment or revocation of a scheme does not affect any entitlement or liability under the scheme in respect of a period before the amendment or revocation takes effect: Sch 2AA para 13(3) (as so added). The revocation of a scheme does not affect the duty of the authority to comply with Sch 2AA para 6(1) (see note 13): Sch 2AA para 13(4) (as so added).

24 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 2AA para 14(1) (as added: see note 1) (not yet in force). Any such guidance issued (1) must be published in such manner as the Secretary of State considers appropriate; and (2) may be amended or replaced by further guidance, or revoked: Sch 2AA para 14(2) (as so added). In exercising their functions under Sch 2AA waste collection authorities and waste disposal authorities must have regard to any guidance in force under Sch 2AA para 14: Sch 2AA para 14(3) (as so added). At the date at which this volume states the law no such guidance had been issued.

(6) HAZARDOUS WASTE AND NON-CONTROLLED WASTE

705. Special provision with respect to certain dangerous or intractable waste.

The Secretary of State¹ must by regulations² list any controlled waste³ in England which:

- 1681 (1) is not listed as a hazardous waste⁴ in the Hazardous Waste List⁵; and
- 1682 (2) appears to him to display any of the properties listed in the Hazardous Waste Directive⁶.

The Welsh Ministers⁷ must by regulations⁸ list any controlled waste in Wales which:

- 1683 (a) is not listed as a hazardous waste in the Hazardous Waste List⁹; and
- 1684 (b) appears to them to display any of the properties listed in the Hazardous Waste Directive¹⁰.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58.

2 As to the regulations see the Hazardous Waste (England and Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/894. See also PARA 624.

The Hazardous Waste (England and Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/894, set out the regime for the control and tracking of the movement of hazardous waste for the purpose of implementing EEC Council Directive 91/689 (OJ L337, 31.12.91, p 20) on hazardous waste (see PARA 33). See also the Hazardous Waste (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1806 (amended by SI 2006/937; SI 2007/3538; and SI 2009/2861). The Hazardous Waste (England and Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/894, include provisions relating to: the definition of 'hazardous waste' and how regulations apply to such waste (see Pts 1-3 (regs 1-17) (amended by SI 2006/937; SI 2007/3538; and SI 2009/507)); a ban on mixing of hazardous waste without a permit and a duty to separate mixed wastes (see the Hazardous Waste (England and Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/894, Pt 4 (regs 18-20)); notification to Environment Agency of where waste is produced or removed (see Pt 5 (regs 21-32) (amended by SI 2007/3538; and SI 2009/507)); requirements in regard to movement of hazardous waste, including consignment codes, documents to be completed for consignments, rejected consignments, time limits and cross-border movements (see the Hazardous Waste (England and Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/894, Pt 6 (regs 33-46) (amended by SI 2007/3538; SI 2007/3476; and SI 2009/507)); a requirement for records to be kept by producers, holders, carriers, consignors and consignees of such waste (see the Hazardous Waste (England and Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/894, Pt 7 (regs 47-55) (amended by SI 2009/507)); inspection by the Environment Agency and its other functions (see the Hazardous Waste (England and Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/894, Pt 8 (regs 56-60)); holders' duties where there is an emergency or grave danger (see Pt 9 (regs 61-63) (amended by SI 2009/507)); and offences and penalties (see the Hazardous Waste (England and Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/894, Pt 10 (regs 64-70) (amended by SI 2007/3476)). 706. Radioactive substances.

Except as provided by regulations¹ made by the Secretary of State² under this provision, nothing in Part II of the Environmental Protection Act 1990³ applies to radioactive waste⁴; but regulations may:

- 1685 (1) provide for prescribed provisions of Part II of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 to have effect with such modifications as the Secretary of State considers appropriate for the purposes of dealing with such radioactive waste⁵;
- 1686 (2) make such modifications of the Radioactive Substances Act 1993 and any other Act as the Secretary of State considers appropriate⁶.

707. Disposal of waste by the United Kingdom Atomic Energy Authority.

Without prejudice to the other powers of the United Kingdom Atomic Energy Authority¹, that authority has power to engage in the United Kingdom² and elsewhere in such activities relating to the treatment or disposal of waste³ and other matter as the Secretary of State⁴ may from time to time specify by notice given to the authority⁵, and to do anything which appears to the authority to be appropriate for the purpose of exercising that power⁶.

(7) APPEALS

708. Appeals.

An appeal against any decision of a magistrates' court under Part II of the Environmental Protection Act 1990¹ (other than a decision made in criminal proceedings) lies to the Crown Court² at the instance of any party to the proceedings in which the decision was given if such an appeal does not lie to the Crown Court by virtue of any other enactment³. Where a person appeals to the Crown Court against a decision of a magistrates' court dismissing an appeal against any requirement imposed under Part II of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 which was suspended pending determination of that appeal, the requirement is again to be suspended pending the determination of the appeal to the Crown Court⁴.

Where an appeal against a decision of any authority lies to a magistrates' court by virtue of any provision of Part II of the Environmental Protection Act 1990, it is the duty of the authority to include in any document by which it notifies the decision to the person concerned a statement indicating that such an appeal lies and specifying the time within which it must be brought⁵.

Where, on an appeal to any court against or arising out of a decision of any authority under Part II of the Environmental Protection Act 1990, the court varies or reverses the decision, it is the duty of the authority to act in accordance with the court's decision⁶.

(8) TRANSPORT OF WASTE

709. Offence of transporting controlled waste without registering.

Under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989¹, it is an offence for any person who is not a registered carrier² of controlled waste³, in the course of any business of his or otherwise with a view to profit, to transport⁴ any controlled waste to or from any place in Great Britain⁵.

However, a person is not guilty of an offence in respect of:

- 1687 (1) the transport of controlled waste within the same premises between different places in those premises⁶;
- 1688 (2) the transport to a place in Great Britain of controlled waste which has been brought from a country or territory outside Great Britain and is not landed in Great Britain until it arrives at that place⁷;
- 1689 (3) the transport by air or sea of controlled waste from a place in Great Britain to a place outside Great Britain⁸.

The Secretary of State may by regulations⁹ provide that a person is not required for these purposes to be a registered carrier of controlled waste if: (a) he is a prescribed¹⁰ person or a person of such a description as may be prescribed¹¹; or (b) without prejudice to head (a) above, he is a person in relation to whom the prescribed requirements under the law of any other member state¹² are satisfied¹³.

In proceedings against any person for an offence under these provisions in respect of the transport of any controlled waste it is a defence for that person to show:

- 1690 (i) that the waste was transported in an emergency¹⁴ of which notice was given, as soon as practicable after it occurred, to the regulation authority¹⁵ in whose area the emergency occurred¹⁶; or
- 1691 (ii) that he neither knew nor had reasonable grounds for suspecting that what was being transported was controlled waste and took all such steps as it was reasonable to take for ascertaining whether it was such waste¹⁷.

1 The Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 does not extend to Northern Ireland (see s 11 (amended by the Environment Act 1995 s 112(2), Sch 24; and the Statute Law (Repeals) Act 2004)), nor does it apply in relation to the Isles of Scilly, although an order may be made providing for the application of any of its provisions to those Isles (see the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 10A (added by the Environment Act 1995 s 118(1))). At the date at which this volume states the law no such order had been made.

There must be paid out of money provided by Parliament: (1) any administrative expenses incurred by the Secretary of State in consequence of the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989; and (2) any increase attributable to that Act in the sums payable out of money so provided under any other Act: s 10. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59. Section 10 does not apply in so far as such a sum is payable by the Welsh Ministers.

2 As to registration of carriers see PARA 710.

3 As to the meaning of 'controlled waste' see PARA 624; definition applied by the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 9(1) (amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31).

4 'Transport', in relation to any controlled waste, includes the transport of that waste by road or rail or by air, sea or inland waterway but does not include moving that waste from one place to another by means of any pipe or other apparatus that joins those two places: Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 9(1). 'Road' has the same meaning as in the Road Traffic Act 1988 (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 206): Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 9(1).

5 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 1(1). As to the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 1 note 2. A person guilty of an offence under s 1 is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: s 1(5). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142.

9 The powers of the Secretary of State under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 to make regulations or orders are exercisable by statutory instrument subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament (s 8(1) (amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 Sch 4 para 11(1), (2))); and the powers of the Welsh Ministers to make regulations and orders under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5 (see PARA 712) or s 5C (see PARA 713) are also exercisable by statutory instrument (s 8(1A) (added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 Sch 4 para 11(1), (3))). Regulations or orders made in exercise of any such power may: (1) contain such supplemental, consequential and transitional provision as the person making the regulations or order considers appropriate; and (2) make different provision for different cases (including different provision for different persons, circumstances or localities): Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 8(2) (amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 Sch 4 para 11(1), (4)(a), (b)).

13 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 1(3)(b). At the date at which this volume states the law no regulations had been made under s 1(3)(b).

14 For these purposes, 'emergency', in relation to the transport of any controlled waste, means any circumstances in which, in order to avoid, remove or reduce any serious danger to the public or serious risk of damage to the environment, it is necessary for the waste to be transported from one place to another without the use of a registered carrier of such waste: Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 1(6).

15 'Regulation authority' means, in relation to England and Wales, the Environment Agency; and any reference to the area of a regulation authority is accordingly to be construed as a reference to any area in England and Wales: Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 9(1) (definition added by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31; and substituted by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 22 para 37). 710. Registration of carriers.

The Secretary of State¹ may by regulations² make provision for the registration of persons with regulation authorities³ as carriers of controlled waste⁴ and, for that purpose, for the establishment and maintenance by such authorities, in accordance with the regulations, of such registers as may be prescribed⁵. Such regulations may:

- 1692 (1) make provision with respect to applications for registration⁶;
- 1693 (2) impose requirements with respect to the manner in which regulation authorities maintain registers of carriers of controlled waste⁷;
- 1694 (3) provide for the issue of a certificate of registration to a registered carrier of controlled waste both on his registration and on the making of any alteration of any entry relating to him in a register of such carriers⁸;
- 1695 (4) provide that the provision by a regulation authority to a registered carrier of such copies of a certificate of registration as are provided in addition to the certificate provided in pursuance of provision made by virtue of head (3) above is to be made subject to the payment of a charge imposed under the regulations⁹.

The above regulations¹⁰ may include provision for:

- 1696 (a) the registration of a person as a carrier of controlled waste to be subject to conditions relating to the vehicles used by him in transporting such waste¹¹; or
- 1697 (b) the revocation by a regulation authority of the registration of a carrier of controlled waste who has breached a condition imposed on him under head (a) above¹².

Nothing in any such regulations is to authorise a regulation authority to refuse an application for registration except where:

- 1698 (i) there has, in relation to that application, been a contravention of the requirements of any regulations made by virtue of head (1) above¹³; or
- 1699 (ii) the applicant or another relevant person has been convicted of a prescribed offence¹⁴ and, in the opinion of the authority, it is undesirable for the applicant to be authorised to transport controlled waste¹⁵.

Nor is anything in any such regulations to authorise any regulation authority to revoke any person's registration as a carrier of controlled waste except where in accordance with regulations under head (a) and (b) above or:

- 1700 (A) that person or another relevant person has been convicted of a prescribed offence¹⁶; and
- 1701 (B) in the opinion of the authority, it is undesirable for the registered carrier to continue to be authorised to transport controlled waste¹⁷.

However, registration in accordance with any such regulations ceases to have effect after such period as may be prescribed or if the registered carrier gives written notice requiring the removal of his name from the register¹⁸.

Nothing in the regulations is to have the effect of bringing the revocation of any person's registration as a carrier of controlled waste into force except after the end of such period as may be prescribed for appealing against the revocation¹⁹; or where that person has indicated, within that period, that he does not intend to make or continue with an appeal²⁰.

The regulations may require every registration in respect of a business which is or is to be carried on by a partnership to be a registration of all the partners and to cease to have effect if any of the partners ceases to be registered or if any person who is not registered becomes a partner²¹.

5 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 2(1) (amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 9(1). The provisions of s 2(2)-(4B) (see the text and notes 6-12) are without prejudice to the generality of s 2(1): s 2(5) (amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 36(1), (6)).

As to the regulations made see the Controlled Waste (Registration of Carriers and Seizure of Vehicles) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/1624 (see PARA 709 note 11); and the Waste Management Licensing Regulations 1994, SI 1994/1056, but these for the most part have been replaced by the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538 (see PARA 662 et seq). 6 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 2(2)(a). Provision contained in any regulations by virtue of s 2(2)(a) may, in particular, include provision which:

56 (1) prescribes the manner of determining the regulation authority to which an application is to be made (s 2(3)(a) (amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31));

57 (2) prescribes the period within which an application for the renewal of any registration which is due to expire is to be made (Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 2(3)(c));

58 (3) imposes requirements with respect to the information which is to be provided by an applicant to the authority to which his application is made (s 2(3)(d)).

Without prejudice to the generality of head (3) above, the power to impose requirements with respect to information under head (3) above includes power to make provision requiring an application to be accompanied by such information as may reasonably be required by the regulation authority to which it is to be made: s 2(3A) (added by the Environment Act 1995 s 120, Sch 22 para 37; and amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 36(1), (4)(a), (b), Sch 5 Pt 4).

7 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 2(2)(b) (amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31).

Provision contained in any regulations by virtue of the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 2(2)(b) may, in particular, include provision:

59 (1) specifying or describing the information to be incorporated in any register maintained by a regulation authority in pursuance of any such regulations (s 2(4)(a) (amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31));

- 60 (2) requiring a registered carrier of controlled waste to notify a regulation authority which maintains such a register of any change of circumstances affecting information contained in the entry relating to that carrier in that register (Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 2(4)(b) (amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31));
- 61 (3) requiring a regulation authority, to such extent and in such manner as may be prescribed, to make the contents of any such register available for public inspection free of charge (Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 2(4)(c) (amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31)); and
- 62 (4) requiring such an authority, on payment of such charges as may be imposed under the regulations, to provide such copies of the contents of any such register to any person applying for a copy as may be prescribed (Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 2(4)(d)).

8 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 2(2)(c) (amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 36(1), (2)(a), Sch 5 Pt 4).

10 In regulations under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 2.

11 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 2(4A)(a) (s 2(4A), (4B) added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 36(1), (5)). Provision contained in any regulations under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 2 by virtue of s 2(4A) may, in particular, include provision: (1) for inspection by a regulation authority of the vehicles of registered carriers of controlled waste for the purpose of ensuring compliance with conditions imposed under s 2(4A)(a) (s 2(4B)(a) (as so added)); (2) for a regulation authority to impose charges on registered carriers of controlled waste in respect of such inspections (s 2(4B)(b) (as so added)).

13 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 3(1)(a) (s 3(1) amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31). As to regulations see note 5.

14 In relation to any applicant for registration or registered carrier, another relevant person is to be treated for the purposes of any provision made by virtue of the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 3(1) or s 3(2) (see the text and notes 16-18) as having been convicted of a prescribed offence if:

- 63 (1) any person has been convicted of a prescribed offence committed by him in the course of his employment by the applicant or registered carrier or in the course of the carrying on of any business by a partnership one of the members of which was the applicant or registered carrier (s 3(5)(a));
- 64 (2) a body corporate has been convicted of a prescribed offence committed at a time when the applicant or registered carrier was a director, manager, secretary or other similar officer of that body corporate (s 3(5)(b)); or
- 65 (3) where the applicant or registered carrier is a body corporate, a person who is a director, manager, secretary or other similar officer of that body corporate: (a) has been convicted of a prescribed offence (s 3(5)(c)(i)); or (b) was a director, manager, secretary or other similar officer of another body corporate at a time when a prescribed offence for which that other body corporate has been convicted was committed (s 3(5)(c)(ii)).

15 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 3(1)(b) (as amended: see note 13). In determining for the purposes of any provision made by virtue of s 3(1) or s 3(2) (see the text and notes 16-18) whether it is desirable for any individual to be or to continue to be authorised to transport controlled waste, a regulation authority must have regard, in a case in which a person other than the individual has been convicted of a prescribed offence, to whether that individual has been a party to the carrying on of a business in a manner involving the commission of prescribed offences: s 3(6) (amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31). As to the meaning of 'transport' see PARA 709 note 4.

16 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 3(2)(a) (s 3(2) amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31; and the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 36(1), (7)).

711. Appeals against refusal of registration etc.

Where a person has applied to a regulation authority¹ to be registered², he may appeal to the Secretary of State³ if: (1) his application is refused⁴; or (2) the relevant period⁵ from the making of the application has expired without his having been registered⁶.

Similarly, a person whose registration as a carrier of controlled waste⁷ has been revoked may appeal against the revocation to the Secretary of State⁸.

On an appeal under these provisions, the Secretary of State may, as he thinks fit, either dismiss the appeal or give the regulation authority in question a direction to register the appellant or, as the case may be, to cancel the revocation⁹. Where, on an appeal made by virtue of head (2) above, the Secretary of State dismisses an appeal, he must direct the regulation authority in question not to register the appellant¹⁰. It is the duty of a regulation authority to comply with any direction under these provisions¹¹.

The Secretary of State may by regulations¹² make provision as to the manner in which and time within which an appeal under these provisions is to be made and as to the procedure to be followed on any such appeal¹³.

Where an appeal is made in accordance with regulations under these provisions:

- 1702 (a) by a person whose appeal is in respect of such an application for the renewal of his registration as was made¹⁴ at a time when he was already registered¹⁵; or
- 1703 (b) by a person whose registration has been revoked¹⁶, that registration continues in force, notwithstanding the expiry of the prescribed¹⁷ period or the revocation, until the appeal is disposed of¹⁸.

5 For the purposes of the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 4(1), the relevant period is two months or, except in the case of an application for the renewal of his registration by a person who is already registered, such longer period as may be agreed between the applicant and the regulation authority in question: s 4(1) (as amended: see note 4).

 - 66 (1) the appeal is withdrawn (s 4(8)(a));
 - 67 (2) the appellant is notified by the Secretary of State or the regulation authority in question that his appeal has been dismissed (s 4(8)(b) (amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31)); or
 - 68 (3) the regulation authority complies with any direction of the Secretary of State to renew the appellant's registration or to cancel the revocation (Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 4(8)(c) (amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31)).

712. Enforcement.

Where an authorised officer of a regulation authority¹ or a constable² reasonably believes that controlled waste³ has been, is being or is about to be transported⁴ in contravention of the registration requirement⁵, the authorised officer or constable may⁶:

- 1704 (1) require any person appearing to him to be or to have been engaged in transporting that waste to produce his (or, as the case may be, his employer's) authority to do so⁷;
- 1705 (2) search any vehicle⁸ that appears to him to be a vehicle that has been, is being or is about to be used for transporting that waste⁹;
- 1706 (3) carry out tests on anything found in any such vehicle (including by taking away samples for testing of anything so found)¹⁰;
- 1707 (4) seize any such vehicle and any of its contents¹¹.

A person commits an offence¹² if: (a) he fails without reasonable excuse to comply with a requirement imposed under head (1) above¹³; (b) he fails without reasonable excuse to give any assistance that an authorised officer or constable may reasonably request in the exercise of a power under that head¹⁴; (c) he otherwise intentionally obstructs an authorised officer or constable in the exercise of a power under that head¹⁵. A person also commits an offence if he fails without reasonable excuse to comply with a requirement to give certain information on request when stopped¹⁶; or he gives information so required that is to his knowledge false or misleading in a material way, or that is given recklessly and is false or misleading in a material way¹⁷.

Where under the above powers¹⁸ an authorised officer of a regulation authority or a constable seizes a vehicle or its contents ('seized property') on behalf of a regulation authority, the authority may remove the seized property to such a place as the authority considers appropriate¹⁹. A regulation authority must deal with any seized property in accordance with regulations made by the appropriate person²⁰. The appropriate person may issue guidance to regulation authorities in relation to the performance of their functions under such regulations²¹.

1 In the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 ss 5-7, 'regulation authority' means a waste collection authority falling within the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 30(3)(a), (b) or (bb) (see PARA 620 note 8): Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 9(1A) (added by the Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 5(1), (3)). For the purposes of any provision of the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989, 'authorised officer' in relation to any authority means an officer of the authority who is authorised in writing by the authority for the purposes of that provision: s 9(1B) (added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 39(1)(3)).

2 As to the office of constable see POLICE vol 36(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 101 et seq.

3 As to the meaning of 'controlled waste' see PARA 624; definition applied by the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 9(1) (amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31).

4 As to the meaning of 'transport' see PARA 709 note 4.

5 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5(1) (s 5 substituted, and s 5A added, by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 37). Certain functions under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 ss 5, 5A are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

As to the registration requirement referred to in the text see the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 1(1); and PARA 709.

6 In acting under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5(2) (see heads (1)-(4) in the text), an authorised officer or constable may: (1) stop any vehicle as referred to in head (2) in the text (but only a constable in uniform may stop a vehicle on any road); (2) enter any premises for the purpose specified in head (2) or head (4) in the text: s 5(5) (as substituted: see note 5). As to the meaning of 'road' see PARA 709 note 4.

Where an authorised officer or constable has stopped a vehicle under s 5(5), he may (in addition to any requirement that may be imposed under s 5(2)(a): see head (1) in the text) require any occupant of the vehicle to give him: (a) the occupant's name and address; (b) the name and address of the registered owner of the vehicle; (c) any other information he may reasonably request: s 5(9) (as so substituted).

7 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5(2)(a) (as substituted: see note 5). As to the use of fixed penalty notices for an offence under s 5(2)(a) see ss 5B, 5C; and PARA 713.

For the purposes of s 5(2)(a), a person's authority for transporting controlled waste is: (1) his certificate of registration as a carrier of controlled waste; (2) such copy of that certificate as satisfies requirements specified in regulations made by the appropriate person; or (3) such evidence as may be so specified that he is not required to be registered as a carrier of controlled waste: s 5(3) (as so substituted). In the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989, 'appropriate person' means the Secretary of State in relation to England (see PARA 58), and the Welsh Ministers in relation to Wales (see PARA 59): s 9(1) (definition added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 39(1), (2)). As to the power to make regulations see PARA 709 note 9. As to regulations made see the Controlled Waste (Registration of Carriers and Seizure of Vehicles) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/1624 ; and see PARA 709 note 11.

Where an authorised officer or constable has required a person to produce an authority under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5(2)(a), the person must do so: (a) by producing it forthwith to the authorised officer or constable; (b) by producing it at a place and within a period specified in regulations made by the appropriate person; or (c) by sending it to that place and within that period: s 5(4) (as so substituted).

8 'Vehicle' means any motor vehicle or trailer within the meaning of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 210): Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 9(1).

9 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5(2)(b) (as substituted: see note 5). See note 7.

10 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5(2)(c) (as substituted: see note 5). See note 7.

11 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5(2)(d) (as substituted: see note 5). See notes 5, 7.

A vehicle or its contents seized under s 5(2)(d): (1) by an authorised officer of a regulation authority, are seized on behalf of that authority; (2) by a constable in the presence of an authorised officer of a regulation authority, are seized on behalf of that authority; (3) by a constable without such an officer present, are seized on behalf of the waste collection authority in whose area the seizure takes place: s 5(6) (as so substituted).

12 A person guilty of an offence under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5 is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: s 5(11) (as substituted: see note 5). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142.

13 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5(7)(a) (as substituted: see note 5). A person is not guilty of an offence by virtue of s 5(7)(a) unless it is shown: (1) that the waste in question was controlled waste; and (2) that the waste was or was being transported to or from a place in Great Britain: s 5(8) (as so substituted). As to the use of fixed penalty notices for an offence under s 5(7)(a) see ss 5B, 5C; and PARA 713. As to the meaning of 'Great Britain' see PARA 1 note 2.

14 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5(7)(b) (as substituted: see note 5).

15 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5(7)(c) (as substituted: see note 5).

16 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5(10)(a) (as substituted: see note 5). As to this requirement see s 5(9); and note 6.

17 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5(10)(b) (as substituted: see note 5).

18 Ie under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5: see the text and notes 1-17.

19 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5A(1) (as added: see note 5).

20 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5A(2) (as added: see note 5).

Regulations under s 5A(2) may in particular include provision as to: (1) the duties of a regulation authority in relation to the safe custody of seized property; (2) the circumstances in which the authority must return any such property to a person claiming entitlement to it; (3) the manner in which such persons, and the seized property to which they are entitled, may be determined; (4) the circumstances in which the authority may sell, destroy or otherwise dispose of seized property; (5) the uses to which the proceeds of any such sale may be put: s 5A(3) (as so added).

Regulations making provision under s 5A(3)(d) (see head (4) above): (a) must (subject to head (c) below) require the regulation authority to publish a notice in such form, and to take any other steps, as may be specified in the regulations for informing persons who may be entitled to the seized property that it has been seized and is available to be claimed; (b) must (subject to head (c) below) prohibit the authority from selling, destroying or otherwise disposing of any seized property unless a period specified in the regulations has expired without any obligation arising under the regulations for the authority to return the property to any person; (c) may allow for the requirements in heads (a) and (b) above to be dispensed with if the condition of the seized property requires its disposal without delay: s 5A(4) (as so added).

713. Fixed penalty notices for use in relation to enforcement offences.

Where it appears to a regulation authority¹ that a person has failed without reasonable excuse to comply with a requirement to produce authority to transport waste², the regulation authority may give that person a notice³ offering him the opportunity of discharging any liability to conviction for an offence⁴ by payment of a fixed penalty⁵.

Where a person is given such a notice⁶ in respect of an offence: (1) no proceedings may be instituted for that offence before expiration of the period of 14 days following the date of the notice⁷; and (2) he may not be convicted of that offence if he pays the fixed penalty before the expiration of the period⁸.

Such a notice must give such particulars of the circumstances alleged to constitute the offence as are necessary for giving reasonable information of the offence⁹. The notice must also state: (a) the period during which¹⁰ proceedings will not be taken for the offence¹¹; (b) the amount of the fixed penalty¹²; and (c) the person to whom and the address at which the fixed penalty may be paid¹³.

Without prejudice to payment by any other method, payment of the fixed penalty may be made by pre-paying and posting a letter containing the amount of the penalty (in cash or otherwise) to the person mentioned in head (c) above at the address so mentioned¹⁴. The regulation authority to which a fixed penalty is payable¹⁵ may make provision for treating it as having been paid if a lesser amount is paid before the end of a period specified by the authority¹⁶.

In any proceedings a certificate which purports to be signed on behalf of the chief finance officer¹⁷ of the regulation authority, and states that payment of a fixed penalty was or was not received by a date specified in the certificate, is evidence of the facts stated¹⁸.

Fixed penalty receipts¹⁹, where received by the Environment Agency²⁰, must be paid to the Secretary of State²¹. Where received by a waste collection authority²², they must be used in accordance with the following provisions²³. A waste collection authority may use its fixed penalty receipts only for the purposes of: (i) its functions under the provision requiring the production of authority, vehicle search, tests and seizure authority²⁴ (including functions relating to the enforcement of offences under that provision)²⁵; (ii) such other of its functions as may be specified in regulations made by the appropriate person²⁶. A waste collection authority must supply the appropriate person with such information relating to its use of its fixed penalty receipts as the appropriate person may require²⁷.

The appropriate person may by regulations²⁸:

- 1708 (A) make provision for what a waste collection authority is to do with its fixed penalty receipts pending their being used for the purposes of functions of the authority referred to in heads (i) and (ii) above²⁹, if they are not so used before such time after their receipt as may be specified by the order³⁰;
- 1709 (B) make provision for accounting arrangements in respect of a waste collection authority's fixed penalty receipts³¹.

As to the requirement referred to in the text see the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5(2)(a); and PARA 712 head (1).

3 The form of a notice under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5B must be such as the appropriate person may by order prescribe: s 5B(9) (as added: see note 2). As to the meaning of 'appropriate person' see PARA 712 note 7.

4 Is an offence under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5(7)(a): see PARA 712 head (a).

5 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5B(2) (as added: see note 2).

The fixed penalty payable to a regulation authority under s 5B is, subject to s 5B(10), £300: s 5B(9) (as so added). The appropriate person may by order substitute a different amount for the amount for the time being specified in s 5B(9): s 5B(10) (as so added).

6 Is a notice under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5B.

7 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5B(3)(a) (as added: see note 2).

8 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5B(3)(b) (as added: see note 2).

9 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5B(4) (as added: see note 2).

10 Is by virtue of the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5B(3).

11 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5B(5)(a) (as added: see note 2).

12 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5B(5)(b) (as added: see note 2).

13 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5B(5)(c) (as added: see note 2).

14 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5B(6) (as added: see note 2). Where a letter is sent in accordance with s 5B(6) payment is to be regarded as having been made at the time at which that letter would be delivered in the ordinary course of post: s 5B(7) (as so added).

15 Is payable under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5B.

16 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5B(11) (as added: see note 2). The appropriate person may by regulations restrict the extent to which, and the circumstances in which, a regulation authority may make provision under s 5B(11): s 5B(12) (as so added). As to regulations under s 5B(12) see the Environmental Offences (Fixed Penalties) (Miscellaneous Provisions) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/175. See also the Environmental Offences (Use of Fixed Penalty Receipts) (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/739 (amended by SI 2008/663); and the Environmental Offences (Fixed Penalties) (Miscellaneous Provisions) (Wales) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/663.

17 For these purposes, 'chief finance officer', in relation to a regulation authority, means the person having responsibility for the financial affairs of the authority: Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5B(14) (as added: see note 2).

18 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5B(13) (as added: see note 2).

25 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5C(3)(a) (as added: see note 2).

26 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5C(3)(b) (as added: see note 2). Regulations under s 5C(3)(b) may in particular have the effect that an authority may use its fixed penalty receipts for the purposes of any of its functions: s 5C(4) (as so added). As to the power to make regulations under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 see PARA 709 note 9. As to regulations made under s 5C(3)(b), (4) see the Environmental Offences (Fixed Penalties) (Miscellaneous Provisions) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/175.

27 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5C(5) (as added: see note 2).

28 Before making regulations under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5C, the appropriate person must consult: (1) the authorities to which the regulations are to apply; (2) such other persons as the appropriate person thinks fit: s 5C(8) (as added: see note 2).

The powers to make regulations conferred by s 5C are, for the purposes of the Local Government Act 2003 s 100(1), to be regarded as included among the powers mentioned in s 100(2) (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 789): Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5C(9) (as so added).

29 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5C(6)(a)(i) (as added: see note 2).

30 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 5C(6)(a)(ii) (as added: see note 2). The provision that may be made under s 5C(6)(a)(ii) includes, in particular, provision for the payment of sums to a person (including the appropriate person) other than the authority: s 5C(7) (as so added).

714. Seizure and disposal of vehicles used for illegal waste disposal.

The following provisions apply until a day to be appointed¹. A justice of the peace may issue a warrant to a regulation authority² for the seizure of any vehicle³ if he is satisfied, on sworn information in writing:

- 1710 (1) that there are reasonable grounds for believing: (a) that an offence relating to the unauthorised deposit, treatment or disposal of waste⁴ has been committed⁵; and (b) that that vehicle was used in the commission of the offence⁶;
- 1711 (2) that proceedings for that offence have not yet been brought against any person⁷; and
- 1712 (3) that the authority has failed, after taking the prescribed⁸ steps, to ascertain the name and address of any person who is able to provide it with the prescribed information about who was using the vehicle at the time when the offence was committed⁹.

Where a warrant under these provisions has been issued to a regulation authority in respect of any vehicle, any duly authorised officer of the regulation authority or any constable¹⁰ may stop the vehicle and, on behalf of the authority, seize the vehicle and its contents¹¹. A warrant continues in force until its purpose is fulfilled¹². Any person seizing any property under these provisions must, if required to do so, produce both the warrant and any authority in pursuance of which he is acting under the warrant¹³.

Where any property has been seized under these provisions on behalf of a regulation authority, the authority may, in accordance with regulations made by the Secretary of State¹⁴, remove it to such place as the authority considers appropriate¹⁵ and may retain custody of it until either: (a) it is returned, in accordance with the regulations, to a person who establishes that he is entitled to it¹⁶; or (b) it is disposed of by the authority in exercise of a power conferred by the regulations to sell or destroy the property or to deposit it at any place¹⁷. Subject to its powers¹⁸ to sell or destroy any property or to dispose of it by depositing it at any place, it is the duty of a regulation authority, while any property is in its custody by virtue of a warrant under these provisions, to take such steps as are reasonably necessary for the safe custody of that property¹⁹.

Any person who intentionally obstructs any authorised officer of a regulation authority or constable in the exercise of any power conferred by virtue of a warrant under these provisions is guilty of an offence and liable, on summary conviction, to a penalty²⁰.

¹ The Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 6 is repealed by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 Sch 5 Pt 4 as from a day to be appointed under s 108. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

17 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 6(5)(b) (as amended: see note 15). See note 1. Regulations under s 6 may not authorise a regulation authority to sell or destroy any property or to deposit any property at any place unless:

69 (1) the following conditions are satisfied, that is to say: (a) the authority has published such notice, and taken such other steps (if any), as may be prescribed for informing persons who may be entitled to the property that it has been seized and is available to be claimed; and (b) the prescribed period has expired without any obligation arising under the regulations for the regulation authority to return the property to any person (s 6(6)(a) (s 6(6) substituted by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 22 para 37)); or 70 (2) the condition of the property requires it to be disposed of without delay (Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 6(6)(b) (as so substituted)).

Regulations may:

71 (i) impose obligations on a regulation authority to return any property which has been seized under s 6 to a person who claims to be entitled to it and satisfies such requirements for establishing his entitlement, and such other requirements, as may be prescribed (s 6(7)(a) (amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31));

72 (ii) provide for the manner in which the person entitled to any such property is to be determined where there is more than one claim to it (Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 6(7)(b));

73 (iii) provide for the proceeds of sale of any property sold by a regulation authority under the regulations to be applied towards meeting expenses incurred by the authority in exercising its functions by virtue of s 6 and, in so far as they are not so applied, to be applied in such other manner as may be prescribed (s 6(7)(c) (amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31));

- 74 (iv) make provision which treats a person who establishes that he is entitled to a vehicle as having established for the purposes of regulations under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 6 that he is also entitled to its contents (s 6(7)(d)).

715. Further enforcement provisions.

The provisions of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 relating to the obtaining of information¹ have effect as if the provisions of the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 were provisions of the Environmental Protection Act 1990².

A person is guilty of an offence³ if he: (1) fails, without reasonable excuse, to comply with any requirement in pursuance of regulations under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 to provide information to the Secretary of State⁴ or a regulation authority⁵; or (2) in complying with any such requirement, provides information which he knows to be false or misleading in a material particular or recklessly provides information which is false or misleading in a material particular⁶.

1 Ie the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 71: see PARA 626.

2 Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 7(1) (amended by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 15 para 31; the Environment Act 1995 Sch 22 para 37; and the Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 55(1), (2)). Certain functions under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 7 are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

The provisions of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 71 apply as if references to a waste regulation authority were references to a regulation authority: Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 7(1) (as so amended). As to the meaning of 'regulation authority' see PARA 712 note 1.

3 A person guilty of an offence under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 s 7(3) is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: s 7(4). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142.

Where the commission by any person of an offence under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 is due to the act or default of some other person, that other person is also guilty of the offence; and a person may be charged with and convicted of an offence by virtue of this provision whether or not proceedings for the offence are taken against any other person: s 7(5).

Where a body corporate is guilty of an offence under the Control of Pollution (Amendment) Act 1989 (including where it is so guilty by virtue of s 7(5)) in respect of any act or omission which is shown to have been committed with the consent or connivance of, or to be attributable to any neglect on the part of, any director, manager, secretary or other similar officer of the body corporate or any person who was purporting to act in any such capacity, he, as well as the body corporate, is guilty of that offence and is liable to be proceeded against and punished accordingly: s 7(6). Where the affairs of a body corporate are managed by its members, s 7(6) applies in relation to the acts and defaults of a member in connection with his functions of management as if he were a director of the body corporate: s 7(7).

716. Power to prohibit or restrict the importation or exportation of waste.

The Secretary of State¹ may, for the purpose of preventing any risk of pollution of the environment² or of harm³ to human health arising from waste⁴ being imported or exported or of conserving the facilities or resources for dealing with waste, make regulations prohibiting or restricting, or providing for the prohibition or restriction of:

- 1713 (1) the importation into and the landing and unloading in the United Kingdom⁵; or
- 1714 (2) the exportation, or the loading for exportation, from the United Kingdom⁶, of waste of any description⁷. The regulations may make different provision for different descriptions of waste or waste of any description in different circumstances⁸. The regulations may, as respects any description of waste, confer or impose on waste regulation authorities⁹ or any of them such functions in relation to the importation of waste as appear to be appropriate to the Secretary of State, subject to such limitations and conditions as are specified in the regulations¹⁰.

The regulations may:

- 1715 (a) as respects functions conferred or imposed on waste regulation authorities, make them exercisable in relation to individual consignments or consignments in a series by the same person but not in relation to consignments or descriptions of consignments generally¹¹;
- 1716 (b) impose or provide for the imposition of prohibitions either absolutely or only if conditions or procedures prescribed in or under the regulations are not complied with¹²;
- 1717 (c) impose duties to be complied with before, on or after any importation or exportation of waste by persons who are, or are to be, consignors, consignees, carriers or holders of the waste or any waste derived from it¹³;
- 1718 (d) confer certain powers¹⁴;
- 1719 (e) provide for appeals to the Secretary of State from determinations made by authorities under the regulations¹⁵;
- 1720 (f) provide for the keeping by the Secretary of State, waste regulation authorities and waste collection authorities¹⁶ of public registers of information relating to the importation and exportation of waste and for the transmission of such information between any of those persons¹⁷;
- 1721 (g) create offences¹⁸.

2 For the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 141, the 'environment' means land, water and air or any of them: s 141(6).

3 For the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 141, 'harm' includes offence to any of man's senses: s 141(6).

- 4 As to the meaning of 'waste' see PARA 623; definition applied by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 141(6).
- 5 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 141(1)(a). For the purposes of s 141, the 'United Kingdom' includes its territorial sea: s 141(6). As to the meaning of 'United Kingdom' generally see PARA 1 note 2.

- 7 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 141(1). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made.
- 8 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 141(2).
- 9 As to the meaning of 'waste regulation authority' see PARA 620 note 6; definition applied by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 141(6). In the application of s 141 to Northern Ireland and the territorial sea of the United Kingdom adjacent to Northern Ireland, 'waste regulation authority' means the Department of the Environment for Northern Ireland: s 141(7) (amended by SI 1997/2778).
- 10 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 141(3). The regulations may confer or impose on waste regulation authorities or any of them functions of enforcing any of the regulations on behalf of the Secretary of State whether or not the functions fall within s 141(3): s 141(4).
- 11 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 141(5)(a) (amended by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 22 para 90, Sch 24).

- 15 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 141(5)(e).
- 16 As to the meaning of 'waste collection authority' see PARA 620 note 8; definition applied by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 141(6).
- 17 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 141(5)(f).
- 18 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 141(5)(g). This power is subject to the limitation that no offence is to be punishable with imprisonment for more than two years or punishable on summary conviction with imprisonment for more than six months or a fine exceeding level 5 on the standard scale (if not calculated on a daily basis) or, in the case of a continuing offence, exceeding one-tenth of the level on the standard scale specified as the maximum penalty for the original offence: see s 141(5)(g). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142.

As from a day to be appointed, s 141(5)(g) is amended so as to refer to the prescribed term instead of six months: see s 141(5)(g), (5A) (s 141(5)(g) prospectively amended, and s 141(5A) prospectively added, by the Criminal Justice Act 2003 Sch 27 para 6). In the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 141(5)(g), 'prescribed term' means (1) in relation to England and Wales, where the offence is a summary offence, 51 weeks; (2) in relation to England and Wales, where the offence is triable either way, 12 months: see s 141(5A) (as so prospectively added). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

3 Litter Act 1983 s 3. Section 3 has effect in its application to the Isles of Scilly with such modifications, additions, omissions and amendments as the Secretary of State may by order specify: s 11. At the date at which this volume states the law no such order had been made. As to the making of orders under the Litter Act 1983 see PARA 718 note 7. The Litter Act 1983 does not extend to Northern Ireland: see s 13.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/11. LITTER AND GRAFFITI/(1) PROVISIONS RELATING TO LITTER/718. Consultations and proposals for abatement of litter.

718. Consultations and proposals for abatement of litter.

As from a day to be appointed¹, it is the duty of the council of each non-metropolitan county and the other litter authorities² whose areas are included in the county to consult from time to time together, and with such voluntary bodies as they consider appropriate and as agree to participate in the consultations, about the steps which the county council, each of the other litter authorities and each of the bodies are to take for the purpose of abating litter in the county³. It is the duty of the county council: (1) to prepare and from time to time revise a statement of the steps which the council, each of the other litter authorities and each of the bodies agree to take for that purpose⁴; (2) to take such steps as in its opinion will give adequate publicity in the county to the statement⁵; and (3) to keep a copy of the statement available at its principal office for inspection by the public free of charge at all reasonable hours⁶.

The Secretary of State may by order⁷ repeal or amend any provision of any local Act⁸ passed before 31 July 1974⁹, or any order or other instrument made under an Act so passed¹⁰, if it appears to him that the provision is inconsistent with, or has become unnecessary or requires alteration in consequence of, these provisions¹¹.

1 The Litter Act 1983 s 4 is to come into force on such day as the Secretary of State may by order appoint: s 13(2). Different days may be appointed for different purposes: s 13(2). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

Similar provision is made by the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 24(1)-(3). At the date at which this volume states the law no day had been appointed under s 109(2) for the commencement of these provisions, and they are prospectively repealed by the Litter Act 1983 Sch 2. So far as they repeal the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 24(1)-(3), the provisions of the Litter Act 1983 s 12(3), Sch 2 are to come into force on such day as the Secretary of State may by order appoint: s 13(2). Different days may be appointed for different purposes: s 13(2). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

Once in force, s 4 is to have effect in its application to the Isles of Scilly with such modifications, additions, omissions and amendments as the Secretary of State may by order specify: s 11.

As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59. As to the making of orders under the Litter Act 1983 see note 7.

2 For the purposes of the Litter Act 1983 s 4(1), 'litter authority' includes a parish meeting but not a joint body: s 4(3). 'Joint body' means a joint body constituted solely of two or more such councils as are mentioned in heads (1)-(6) below: s 10(1) (s 10(1) renumbered by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 Sch 9 para 12). The Litter Act s 4 is to have effect as if a national park authority were a litter authority, as if the relevant park were the authority's area, and as if the reference to the authority's area were a reference to any part of the relevant park: Environment Act 1995 s 70, Sch 9 para 12. As to national parks see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 636 et seq.

For the purposes of the Litter Act 1983 generally, 'litter authority', in relation to England and Wales, means, except so far as is otherwise provided: (1) a county council; (2) a district council; (3) a London borough council; (4) the Common Council of the City of London; (5) a parish council; (6) a community council; (7) a joint body; (8) the Sub-Treasurer of the Inner Temple; or (9) the Under-Treasurer of the Middle Temple: s 10(1) (as so renumbered; definition amended by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 24). In the application of the Litter Act 1983 in relation to Wales, any reference to a county is to be read as including a reference to a county borough and any reference to a county council is to be read as including a reference to a county borough council: s 10(2) (s 10(2) added by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 Sch 9 para 12).

3 Litter Act 1983 s 4(1) (amended by the Local Government Act 1985 Sch 6 para 5; and the Environment Act 1995 Sch 24). As to the application of the Litter Act 1983 s 4(1) to a metropolitan county, and to Greater London, see s 4(2) (substituted by the Local Government Act 1985 Sch 6 para 5).

4 Litter Act 1983 s 4(1)(i) (amended by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 24). See also note 3.

5 Litter Act 1983 s 4(1)(ii). See also note 3.

6 Litter Act 1983 s 4(1)(iii). See also note 3.

7 An order under the Litter Act 1983 is to be made by statutory instrument: s 9(1). Any such statutory instrument, other than one made under s 13(2) (see note 1), is to be subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 9(2). An order under the Litter Act 1983, other than one made under s 13(2) (see note 1), may contain such transitional, supplemental or incidental provisions as appear to the Secretary of State to be appropriate: s 9(5). An order under s 4 may make different provision for different circumstances: s 9(3).

8 This includes an Act confirming a provisional order: see the Litter Act 1983 s 4(5)(a).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/11. LITTER AND GRAFFITI/(1) PROVISIONS RELATING TO LITTER/719. Litter bins.

719. Litter bins.

A litter authority¹ in England and Wales may provide and may maintain in any street or public place receptacles for refuse or litter ('litter bins')². It is the duty of a litter authority in England and Wales to make arrangements for the regular emptying and cleansing of any litter bins provided or maintained by it³; and such an authority has power to cleanse and empty litter bins provided in any street or public place⁴. This regular emptying of litter bins must be sufficiently frequent to ensure that no such litter bin or its contents becomes a nuisance or gives reasonable ground for complaint⁵. In any place where a litter bin is provided or maintained⁶, a litter authority may put up notices about the leaving of refuse and litter, and for that purpose may erect and maintain notice boards⁷. Any person who wilfully removes or otherwise interferes with any litter bin or notice board⁸ is liable on summary conviction to a penalty⁹.

The powers conferred by these provisions are only exercisable with the consent of certain persons¹⁰. A litter authority may not, under these provisions, do anything that is unlawful under the law relating to ancient monuments or to town and country planning¹¹.

1 For the purposes of the Litter Act 1983 s 5, 'litter authority' includes the Council of the Isles of Scilly but not a joint body: s 6(8) (amended by the Environment Act 1995 Sch 24). As to the meaning of 'joint body' see PARA 718 note 2. As to the meaning of 'litter authority' generally see PARA 718 note 2.

A county council and a metropolitan district council may if they think fit make a contribution to any expenditure incurred by a parish council or a community council under the Litter Act 1983 s 5: s 6(1) (amended by the Local Government Act 1985 Sch 6 para 5). A parish council or community council may contribute towards the reasonable expenses incurred by any person in doing anything which the council has power to do under the Litter Act 1983 s 5, and the expenses incurred by any other parish council or community council in exercising its powers under s 5: s 6(2). Two or more parish councils or community councils may by agreement combine for the purposes of exercising their powers under s 5: s 6(3).

2 Litter Act 1983 s 5(1). The provisions of s 5 apply to a receptacle provided under the Public Health Act 1936 s 76 (repealed) or the Public Health Act 1961 s 51 (repealed) as if it had been provided under the Litter Act 1983 s 5: s 5(11).

The Secretary of State may by order repeal or amend any provision in any local Act passed before 3 August 1961 (ie the date on which the Public Health Act 1961 was passed), in any Act passed before that date and confirming a provisional order, or in any order or other instrument made under an Act before that date, where it appears to him that that provision is inconsistent with, or has become unnecessary in consequence of, the Litter Act 1983 s 5 or s 6: s 6(4). However, the Secretary of State may not make such an order repealing or amending a provision in a local Act the Bill for which was promoted by: (1) a county council, a district council, a London borough council, the Common Council of the City of London, the Sub-Treasurer of the Inner Temple, the Under-Treasurer of the Middle Temple or the Council of the Isles of Scilly; or (2) any authority, board, commissioners, trustees or other body whose functions under the local Act have become exercisable by such a council, Sub-Treasurer or Under-Treasurer, except on the application of that council, Sub-Treasurer or Under-Treasurer: s 6(5). Before making an order under s 6, the Secretary of State must consult with any of the authorities mentioned in head (1) above who appear to him to be concerned, not being an authority on whose application the order is made: s 9(4). At the date at which this volume states the law no such order had been made. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

Where a resolution under the Local Government Act 1972 s 147(3) (repealed), or an order under the Local Government Act 1933 s 190(3) (repealed) that by virtue of the Local Government Act 1972 s 147(6) (repealed) continues to have effect as if it were such a resolution, contains or has effect as if it included a reference to the Public Health Act 1961 s 51 (repealed), that reference has effect as if it were a reference to s 51 (repealed) or the Litter Act 1983 s 5: s 6(6). See also LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 613.

Certain provisions of the Public Health Act 1936 apply in relation to the Litter Act 1983 ss 5, 6, Sch 1 as if those provisions of the Litter Act 1983 were contained in the Public Health Act 1936: Litter Act 1983 s 6(7). The provisions of the Public Health Act 1936 referred to are: ss 283-285 (see PARAS 119-120); s 288 (see PARA 115); s 304 (see PARA 128); s 305 (see PARA 105); s 341 (see PARA 108); s 343: see the Litter Act 1983 s 6(7).

3 le under the Litter Act 1983 s 5 or the Highways Act 1980 s 185 (which provides a similar power to install refuse or litter bins in streets) (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 568).

4 Litter Act 1983 s 5(2). This power may be exercised by the authority or any other person: s 5(2). A litter authority may sell refuse or litter removed by it from any litter bins: s 5(7).

5 Litter Act 1983 s 5(3).

6 See note 3.

7 Litter Act 1983 s 5(4).

8 le any litter bin or notice board provided or erected under the Litter Act 1983 s 5 or the Highways Act 1980 s 185 (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 568).

9 Litter Act 1983 s 5(9). The penalty is a fine not exceeding level 1 on the standard scale: s 5(9). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142.

The court by which a person is convicted under s 5(9) may order him to pay a sum not exceeding £20 as compensation to the litter authority concerned, and any such order is enforceable in the same way as an order for costs to be paid by the offender: s 5(10).

10 See the Litter Act 1983 s 5(6), Sch 1 para 1. The persons whose consent is required are: (1) in a street which is a highway for which the litter authority is not the highway authority, the highway authority for the street; (2) in a street belonging to and repairable by any railway, dock, harbour, canal, inland navigation or passenger road transport undertakers and forming the approach to a station, dock, wharf or depot of those undertakers, the undertakers; (3) on a bridge not vested in the litter authority or on the approaches to such a bridge, the authority or other person in whom the bridge is vested; (4) on a bridge carrying a street over a railway, canal or inland navigation, or on the approaches to such a bridge, or under a bridge carrying a railway, canal or inland navigation over a street, the railway, canal or inland navigation undertakers concerned; (5) in a position obstructing or interfering with any existing access to land or premises abutting upon a street, the owner and the occupier of the land or premises: Sch 1 para 1, Table. A consent required by these provisions must not be unreasonably withheld but may be given subject to any reasonable conditions, including a condition that the authority must remove a litter bin or notice board either at any time or after the expiration of a period if reasonably required to do so by the person giving the consent: Sch 1 para 2. Where the consent of the Secretary of State is required under these provisions, any dispute between him and the authority as to whether the consent is unreasonably withheld or is given subject to reasonable conditions, or whether the removal of anything to the provision of which the consent relates in accordance with any condition of the consent is reasonably required, must be referred to and determined by an arbitrator to be appointed in default of agreement by the President of the Institution of Civil Engineers: Sch 1 para 3. As to the Institution of Civil Engineers see BUILDING CONTRACTS, ARCHITECTS, ENGINEERS, VALUERS AND SURVEYORS vol 4(3) (Reissue) PARAS 220-221.

Subject to the City of London (Various Powers) Act 1971 s 13 (amended by the Litter Act 1983 Sch 2), which provides for a power to affix receptacles for refuse or litter to external walls of buildings fronting any street, a litter authority does not have power under the Litter Act 1983 s 5 to place any litter bin or any notice board: (a) on any land forming part of an open space as defined in the Open Spaces Act 1906 (see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 504) which is provided by or under the management and control of some other litter authority or a parish meeting, without the consent of that authority or meeting; or (b) on any other land not forming part of a street, without the consent of the owner and of the occupier of that land: s 5(5).

721. Offence of leaving litter.

A person is guilty of an offence if he throws down, drops or otherwise deposits any litter¹ in any specified place² and leaves it³. No offence is committed⁴ where the depositing of the litter is: (1) authorised by law⁵; or (2) done by or with the consent of the owner, occupier or other person having control of the place where it is deposited⁶. A person may only give consent under head (2) above in relation to the depositing of litter in a lake or pond⁷ or watercourse⁸ if he is the owner, occupier or other person having control of: (a) all the land adjoining that lake or pond or watercourse⁹; and (b) all the land through or into which water in that lake or pond or watercourse directly or indirectly discharges, otherwise than by means of a public sewer¹⁰.

1 'Litter' includes the discarded ends of cigarettes, cigars and like products, and discarded chewing-gum and the discarded remains of other products designed for chewing: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 98(5A) (added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 27). See Westminster City Council v Riding [1996] Env LR 95 ('litter' given its natural meaning of miscellaneous rubbish left lying about but no clear dichotomy between 'waste' under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt II (ss 29-78) (see PARA 623) and Pt IV (ss 86-99)).

The Secretary of State may, by order, apply the provisions of Pt IV which apply to refuse to any description of animal droppings in all or any prescribed circumstances subject to such modifications as appear to him to be necessary: s 86(1), (14). As to the order that has been made see the Litter (Animal Droppings) Order 1991, SI 1991/961.

Any power under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 86 may be exercised differently as respects different areas, different descriptions of land or for different circumstances: s 86(1), (15).

As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

2 In any place in the area of a principal litter authority which is open to the air (except a place which is 'open to the air' for the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IV, by virtue of s 86(13), if the public does not have access to it, with or without payment): s 87(2), (3) (s 87(1)-(4) substituted by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 18). The Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 86(13) provides that a place on land is to be treated as 'open to the air' notwithstanding that it is covered if it is open to the air on at least one side: see s 86(13). See Felix v DPP [1998] Crim LR 657, [1998] All ER (D) 146 (telephone box not a 'public open space' as it was not 'open to the air on one side').

It is immaterial for the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 87 whether the litter is deposited on land or in water: s 87(4) (as so substituted).

3 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 87(1) (as substituted: see note 2). Certain functions under s 87 are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

A person who is guilty of an offence under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 87 is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 4 on the standard scale: s 87(5). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142. A local authority, with a view to promoting the abatement of litter, may take such steps as the authority thinks appropriate for making the effect of s 87(5) known to the public in its area: s 87(6). See Westminster City Council v Riding [1996] Env LR 95 (necessary element of the offence to prove when litter deposited).

As to graffiti and fly-posting see the Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 ss 43-52; and PARAS 735-736. See also the London Local Authorities Act 2007 s 31(1), Sch 2 Pt 1 (modification of enactments in enforcement action zone).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/11. LITTER AND GRAFFITI/(1) PROVISIONS RELATING TO LITTER/722. Fixed penalty notices for leaving litter.

722. Fixed penalty notices for leaving litter.

Where on any occasion an authorised officer¹ of a litter authority² finds a person who he has reason to believe has on that occasion committed an offence³ in the area of that authority, he may give that person a notice offering him the opportunity of discharging any liability to conviction for that offence by payment of a fixed penalty⁴. Where a person is given such a notice in respect of an offence:

- 1722 (1) no proceedings may be instituted for that offence before the expiration of 14 days following the date of the notice⁵; and
- 1723 (2) he may not be convicted of that offence if he pays the fixed penalty before the expiration of that period⁶.

A notice under these provisions must give such particulars of the circumstances alleged to constitute the offence as are necessary for giving reasonable information of the offence and must state⁷:

- 1724 (a) the period during which proceedings will not be taken⁸ for the offence⁹;
- 1725 (b) the amount of the fixed penalty¹⁰; and
- 1726 (c) the person to whom and the address at which the fixed penalty may be paid¹¹.

Without prejudice to payment by any other method, payment of the fixed penalty may be made by pre-paying and posting to that person at that address a letter containing the amount of the penalty (in cash or otherwise)¹².

In any proceedings a certificate which purports to be signed by or on behalf of the chief finance officer¹³ of the litter authority¹⁴, and states that payment of a fixed penalty was or was not received by a date specified in the certificate¹⁵, is evidence of the facts stated¹⁶.

If an authorised officer of a litter authority proposes to give a person a notice under the above provisions¹⁷, the officer may require the person to give him his name and address¹⁸. A person commits an offence if: (i) he fails to give his name and address when required to do so¹⁹; or (ii) he gives a false or inaccurate name or address in response to such a requirement²⁰.

1 For these purposes, 'authorised officer', in relation to a litter authority (see note 2), means: (1) an employee of the authority who is authorised in writing by the authority for the purpose of giving notices under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 88; (2) any person who, in pursuance of arrangements made with the authority, has the function of giving such notices and is authorised in writing by the authority to perform that function; and (3) any employee of such a person who is authorised in writing by the authority for the purpose of giving such notices: s 88(10) (definition substituted by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 19(1), (5)).

2 For these purposes, the following are 'litter authorities': (1) any principal litter authority, other than an English county council or a joint board; (2) any English county council or joint board designated by the Secretary of State, by order, in relation to such area as is specified in the order (not being an area in a national park); (3) the Broads Authority; (4) a parish or community council: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 88(9) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 Sch 9 para 17(8); the Environment Act 1995 Sch 24; and the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 19(1), (4)).

At the date at which this volume states the law no order had been made under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 88(9). Section 88 is to have effect as if a national park authority were a litter authority and as if the relevant park were the authority's area: see the Environment Act 1995 s 70, Sch 9 para 12. In England and Wales the following are 'principal litter authorities': (a) a county council; (b) a county borough council; (c) a district council; (d) a London borough council; (e) the Common Council of the City of London; and (f) the Council of the Isles of Scilly, but the Secretary of State may, by order, designate other descriptions of local authorities as litter authorities for the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IV (ss 86-99), and any such authority is also a principal litter authority: s 86(1), (2) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 Sch 9 para 17(6)). At the date at which this volume states the law no order had been made under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 86(2). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59. As to local authorities see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 22 et seq. As to national parks and the national park authorities see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) (Reissue) PARA 636 et seq. As to the Broads Authority see WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 101 (2009) PARA 734.

The appropriate person may by regulations prescribe conditions to be satisfied by a person before a parish or community council may authorise him in writing for the purpose of giving notices under s 88: s 88(11) (added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 19(1), (6)). See note 1. 'Appropriate person' means, in relation to England, the Secretary of State and, in relation to Wales, the Welsh Ministers: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 98(1A) (added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 26). In exercise of the power in the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 88(11) the Environmental Offences (Fixed Penalties) (Miscellaneous Provisions) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/175, were made. See also the Environmental Offences (Use of Fixed Penalty Receipts) (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/739 (amended by SI 2008/663); and the Environmental Offences (Fixed Penalties) (Miscellaneous Provisions) (Wales) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/663.

3 le under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 87: see PARA 721.

4 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 88(1). The fixed penalty payable in pursuance of a notice under s 88 is payable to the litter authority (see note 2) whose authorised officer gave the notice: s 88(6) (s 88(6), (7) substituted, and s 88(6A), (6B) added, by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 19(1), (2)). The amount of a fixed penalty payable in pursuance of a notice under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 88: (1) is the amount specified by a principal litter authority in relation to its area (whether the penalty is payable to that or another authority); or (2) if no amount is so specified, is £75: s 88(6A) (as so added). The reference in s 88(6A) to a principal litter authority does not include an English county council for an area for which there is also a district council: s 88(6B) (as so added). The litter authority to which a fixed penalty is payable under s 88 may make provision for treating it as having been paid if a lesser amount is paid before the end of a period specified by the authority: s 88(7) (as so substituted). The Secretary of State may, when making an order under s 88(7) substitute different penalties as regards enforcement action zones designated under the London Local Authorities Act 2007 s 29 (enforcement action zones) (see LONDON GOVERNMENT): see the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 88(7A) (added by London Local Authorities Act 2007 Sch 2 Pt 2). The amount of a fixed penalty capable of being specified by a principal litter authority in Wales under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Act s 88 must not be less than £75 and not more than £150: Environmental Offences (Fixed Penalties) (Miscellaneous Provisions) (Wales) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/663, reg 2(1)(a). See note 1. See also PARA 720. As to fixed penalties generally see the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 97A; and PARA 733.

Certain functions under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 88 are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/11. LITTER AND GRAFFITI/(1) PROVISIONS RELATING TO LITTER/723. Duty to keep land and highways clear of litter etc.

723. Duty to keep land and highways clear of litter etc.

It is the duty of:

- 1727 (1) each local authority, as respects any relevant highway¹ for which it is responsible²;
- 1728 (2) the Secretary of State, as respects any trunk road³ which is a special road⁴ and any relevant highway for which he is responsible⁵;
- 1729 (3) each principal litter authority⁶, as respects its relevant land⁷;
- 1730 (4) the appropriate Crown authority⁸, as respects its relevant Crown land⁹;
- 1731 (5) each designated statutory undertaker¹⁰, as respects its relevant land¹¹; and
- 1732 (6) the governing body of each designated educational institution¹², as respects its relevant land¹³, to ensure that the land is, so far as is practicable, kept clear of litter and refuse¹⁴.

It is also the duty of:

- 1733 (a) each local authority, as respects any relevant highway for which it is responsible¹⁵;
- 1734 (b) the Secretary of State, as respects any trunk road which is a special road and any relevant highway for which he is responsible¹⁶, to ensure that the highway is, so far as is practicable, kept clean¹⁷.

In determining what standard is required, as respects any description of land or highway, for compliance with the above provisions¹⁸, regard must be had to the character and use of the land or highway as well as the measures which are practicable in the circumstances¹⁹.

The Secretary of State must prepare and issue a code of practice for the purpose of providing practical guidance on the discharge of the duties imposed by the above provisions²⁰, and any person subject to any such duty must have regard to the code of practice in force in discharging that duty²¹.

1 Every highway maintainable at the public expense other than a trunk road which is a special road is a 'relevant highway' and the local authority which is, for the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IV (ss 86-99), 'responsible' for so much of it as lies within its area is, subject to any order under s 86(11) (see note 2): (1) in Greater London, the council of the London borough or the Common Council of the City of London; (2) in England outside Greater London, the council of the district; (3) in Wales, the council of the county or county borough; and (4) the Council of the Isles of Scilly: s 86(1), (9) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 Sch 9 para 17(7)). 'Highway', 'highway maintainable at the public expense', 'special road' and 'trunk road', in relation to England and Wales, have the same meanings as in the Highways Act 1980 (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 11); Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 98(1), (5). As to litter on highways see also HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 382 et seq.

2 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 89(1)(a). See also note 14. As to the local authority which is 'responsible' see note 1.

It is the duty of a local authority, when discharging its duty under s 89(1)(a) or s 89(2) (see the text and notes 15-17) as respects any relevant highway, to place and maintain on the highway such traffic signs and barriers as may be necessary for giving warning and preventing danger to traffic or for regulating it and afterwards to remove them as soon as they cease to be necessary for those purposes; but this provision has effect subject to any directions given under s 89(6): s 89(5). For these purposes, 'traffic sign' has the meaning given in the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 64(1) (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 830): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 89(14). In discharging its duty under s 89(1)(a) or s 89(2) (see the text and notes 15-17) to keep clear of litter and refuse or to clean any relevant highway for which it is responsible, the local authority must comply with any directions given to it by the highway authority with respect to: (1) the placing and maintenance of any traffic signs or barriers; (2) the days or periods during which clearing or cleaning may not be undertaken or undertaken to any extent specified in the direction; and for the purpose of enabling it to discharge its duty under s 89(1)(a) or s 89(2) as respects any relevant highway the local authority may apply to the highway authority for that authority to exercise its powers under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 14(1) or s 14(2) (temporary prohibition or restriction of traffic) (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 755): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 89(6) (amended by the Road Traffic (Temporary Restrictions) Act 1991 s 2(6)). As to the highway authority see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 236.

Matter of any description prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State for the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 89(1)(a) and s 89(2) (see the text and notes 15-17) is litter or refuse to which the duties imposed by those provisions apply as respects relevant highways whether or not it would be litter or refuse apart from this provision: s 89(4). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

The Secretary of State may by order, as respects relevant highways, relevant highways of any class or any part of a relevant highway specified in the order, transfer the responsibility for the discharge of the duties imposed by s 89 from the local authority to the highway authority: s 86(1), (11). He must not, however, make an order under this provision unless: (a) (except where he is the highway authority) he is requested to do so by the highway authority; (b) he consults the local authority; and (c) it appears to him to be necessary or expedient to do so in order to prevent or minimise interference with the passage or with the safety of traffic along the highway in question: s 86(1), (11). Where, by an order under this provision, responsibility for the discharge of those duties is transferred, the authority to which the transfer is made is, for the purposes of Pt IV, 'responsible' for the highway or part specified in the order: s 86(1), (11). As to the exercise of any power under s 86 see PARA 721 note 1. As to the orders made see eg the Highway Litter Clearance and Cleaning (Transfer of Duties) Order 1991, SI 1991/337; the Highway Litter Clearance and Cleaning (Transfer of Responsibility) Order 1997, SI 1997/2960; the Highway Litter Clearance and Cleaning (Transfer of Responsibility) Order 1998, SI 1998/467; the Highway Litter Clearance and Cleaning (Transfer of Responsibility) (A13 Trunk Road) Order 2000, SI 2000/1508; and the Highway Litter Clearance and Cleaning (Transfer of Responsibility) (England) Order 2009, SI 2009/2677.

3 As to the meaning of 'trunk road' see note 1.

4 As to the meaning of 'special road' see note 1.

5 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 89(1)(b).

6 As to principal litter authorities see PARA 722 note 2.

7 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 89(1)(c).

Subject to s 86(8), land is 'relevant land' of a principal litter authority if, not being relevant land falling within s 86(7) (see note 12), it is open to the air and is land (but not a highway) which is under the direct control of such an authority to which the public is entitled or permitted to have access with or without payment: s 86(1), (4).

The Secretary of State may by order designate descriptions of land which are not to be treated as relevant Crown land (see note 9) or as relevant land of principal litter authorities, designated statutory undertakers (see note 10) or designated educational institutions (see note 12) or of any description of any of them: s 86(1), (8). As to the orders made see the Litter (Relevant Land of Principal Litter Authorities and Relevant Crown Land) Order 1991, SI 1991/476; and the Litter (Statutory Undertakers) (Designation and Relevant Land) Order 1991, SI 1991/1043 (amended by SI 1992/406; SI 1999/1443; SI 2003/1615).

8 The 'appropriate Crown authority' for any Crown land is the Crown Estate Commissioners, the minister in charge of the government department, or the body which occupies or manages the land on the Crown's behalf, as the case may be: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 86(1), (5). As to Crown land generally see CROWN PROPERTY. As to the Crown Estate Commissioners see CROWN PROPERTY vol 12(1) (Reissue) PARA 278 et seq.

9 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 89(1)(d). Land is 'Crown land' if it is land:

75 (1) occupied by the Crown Estate Commissioners as part of the Crown Estate;

76 (2) occupied by or for the purposes of a government department or for naval, military or air force purposes; or

77 (3) occupied or managed by any body acting on behalf of the Crown, and is 'relevant Crown land' if it is Crown land which is open to the air and is land (but not a highway) to which the public is entitled or permitted to have access with or without payment: s 86(1), (5).

10 'Statutory undertaker' means: (1) any person authorised by any enactment to carry on any railway, light railway, tramway or road transport undertaking; (2) any operator of a relevant railway asset; (3) any person authorised by any enactment to carry on any canal, inland navigation, dock, harbour or pier undertaking; or (4) any relevant airport operator (within the meaning of the Airports Act 1986 Pt V (ss 57-62)) (see AIR LAW vol 2 (2008) PARA 189): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 98(1), (6) (definition amended by SI 1999/1443).

Subject to s 86(8) (see note 7), land is 'relevant land' of a designated statutory undertaker if it is land which is under the direct control of any statutory undertaker or a statutory undertaker of any description which may be designated by the Secretary of State by order for the purposes of Pt IV, being land to which the public is entitled or permitted to have access with or without payment or, in such cases as may be prescribed in the designation order, land in relation to which the public has no such right or permission: s 86(1), (6). As to the order made see the Litter (Statutory Undertakers) (Designation and Relevant Land) Order 1991, SI 1991/1043 (see note 7).

12 'Educational institution', in relation to England and Wales, means: (1) the Open University; (2) any institution which provides higher education or further education (or both) which is full-time education, being an institution which: (a) is maintained by grants made by the Secretary of State under the Education Act 1996 s 485 (see EDUCATION vol 15(1) (2006 Reissue) PARA 69); or (b) is maintained by a local education authority; (3) any institution within the higher education sector within the meaning of the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 91(5) (see EDUCATION vol 15(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 646); (4) any institution within the further education sector within the meaning of the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 91(3) (see EDUCATION vol 15(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 579); (5) any city technology college or city college for the technology of the arts or academy (see EDUCATION vol 15(1) (2006 Reissue) PARA 496); (6) any community, foundation or voluntary school; (7) any community or foundation special school: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 98(1), (2) (definition amended by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 Sch 8 Pt II para 95, Sch 9; the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 Pt I para 100; the School Standards and Framework Act 1998 Sch 30 para 23; the Learning and Skills Act 2000 Sch 9 paras 1, 9; and the Education Act 2002 Sch 7 Pt 2 para 2, Sch 21 para 10, Sch 22 Pt 3).

13 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 89(1)(f). See also note 14.

Subject to s 86(8) (see note 7), land is 'relevant land' of a designated educational institution if it is open to the air and is land which is under the direct control of the governing body of any educational institution or an educational institution of any description which may be designated by the Secretary of State by order for the purposes of Pt IV: s 86(1), (7). As to the order made see the Litter (Designated Educational Institutions) Order 1991, SI 1991/561.

14 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 89(1). See also HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 382. Certain functions under s 89 are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

The Secretary of State may, for the purposes of the transition to the duties imposed by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 89 on local authorities and educational bodies, by regulations make provision: (1) modifying s 89; or (2) modifying the Local Government Act 1988 Pt I (ss 1-16) (competition rules for functional work or works contracts) (repealed) (see now the Local Government Act 1999; and LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 688 et seq): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 97(1). For these purposes, 'local authorities' means the local authorities mentioned in s 89(1)(a), (c), (2)(a) (see heads (1), (3), (a) in the text); and 'educational bodies' means the governing bodies mentioned in s 89(1)(f) (see head (6) in the text): s 97(3). Regulations under s 97 may make different provision for different descriptions of authorities, different areas or other different circumstances or cases: s 97(2). As to the regulations made see the Litter etc (Transitional Provisions) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/719.

19 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 89(3).

20 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 89(7). Different codes of practice may be prepared and issued under s 89(7) for different areas: s 89(8). The Secretary of State may issue modifications of, or withdraw, a code issued under s 89(7); but where a code is withdrawn, he must prepare and issue a new code in substitution for it: s 89(9).

A draft code prepared under s 89(7) must be laid before both Houses of Parliament and may not be issued until after the end of the period of 40 days beginning with the day on which the code was so laid, or if the draft is laid on different days, the later of the two days: s 89(11). If, within the period mentioned in s 89(11), either House resolves that the code the draft of which was laid before it should not be issued, the Secretary of State must not issue that code: s 89(12). No account may be taken in reckoning any period of 40 days for the purposes of s 89 of any time during which Parliament is dissolved or prorogued or during which both Houses are adjourned for more than four days: s 89(13).

As to the code of practice that has been produced see the Department of the Environment, Transport and the Regions - Environmental Protection Act 1990: Code of Practice on Litter and Refuse, which was published on 1 June 1999.

724. Power to clean streets etc.

With the consent of any person who has an interest in or is the occupier of any relevant land¹, a local authority² may arrange for the cleaning of the land and may enter into an agreement with such a person for the payment by him of charges in respect of the cleaning³.

If any court, yard or passage which is used in common by the occupants of two or more buildings, but is not a highway maintainable at the public expense⁴, is not regularly swept and kept clean and free from rubbish or other accumulation to the satisfaction of the local authority⁵, the authority may cause it to be swept and cleansed⁶. The authority may recover any expenses reasonably incurred by it under these provisions from the occupiers of the buildings which front or abut on the court or yard, or to which the passage affords access, in such proportions as may be determined by the authority or, in case of dispute, by a magistrates' court⁷.

A local authority may make byelaws⁸: (1) for preventing nuisances occurring from snow, filth, dust, ashes and rubbish⁹; (2) for preventing the keeping of animals so as to be prejudicial to health¹⁰; (3) prescribing the times for the removal, or carriage through the streets, of any faecal or offensive or noxious matter or liquid¹¹; (4) requiring that the receptacle or vehicle used for the removal or carriage of any such matter or liquid is properly constructed and covered so as to prevent the escape of any such matter or liquid¹²; and (5) requiring the cleansing of any place where any such matter or liquid has been dropped or spilt in the course of removal or carriage¹³.

1 'Relevant land' means any land in the open air to which members of the public have access, either as of right or otherwise, and which is not the site of a highway: Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 22(3).

2 For the purposes of the Control of Pollution Act 1974 ss 22, 23 (see PARA 725), 'local authority' means the council of a district or London borough and the Common Council of the City of London; but, in relation to Wales, means the council of a county or county borough: s 22(4) (definition amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 Sch 9 para 10).

3 Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 22(3). Certain functions under s 22 are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

As to graffiti and fly-posting see the Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 ss 43-52; and PARAS 735-736.

4 The Public Health Act 1936 refers to a highway repairable by the inhabitants at large, but as from 1 January 1960 such highways became maintainable at the public expense: see the Highways Act 1959 s 38(1), (2)(a) (repealed); the Highways Act 1980 s 36(1); and HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 248.

5 As to the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 99.

6 Public Health Act 1936 s 78(1).

7 See the Public Health Act 1936 s 78(2).

8 As to byelaws generally see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 553 et seq.

9 Public Health Act 1936 s 81(a).

10 Public Health Act 1936 s 81(b). As to the meaning of 'prejudicial to health' see NUISANCE vol 78 (2010) PARA 158.

11 Public Health Act 1936 s 82(1)(a). This applies whether the matter or liquid is in course of removal or carriage from within, or from without, or through, its district: see s 82(1)(a). See note 13.

12 Public Health Act 1936 s 82(1)(b). See note 13.

13 Public Health Act 1936 s 82(1)(c). If and so far as a byelaw made under s 82(1) is inconsistent with an order under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 6 (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 747), the order prevails: Public Health Act 1936 s 82(2) (amended by the London Government Act 1963 Sch 11 Pt I para 18(2)); Interpretation Act 1978 s 17(2)(a).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/11. LITTER AND GRAFFITI/(1) PROVISIONS RELATING TO LITTER/725. Prohibition of parking to facilitate street cleaning.

725. Prohibition of parking to facilitate street cleaning.

Where in the case of any part of a highway¹ (the 'relevant area') the highway authority² for the relevant area or the local authority³ in whose area the relevant area is situated considers that, in order to facilitate the cleaning of the relevant area on a particular day (the 'relevant day'), it is appropriate to prohibit the parking of vehicles in the relevant area during certain hours of the relevant day, the authority may give notice⁴ prohibiting such parking⁵.

If, either before or during the hours on the relevant day which are specified in such a notice, the authority displays notices in the relevant area stating that the prohibition on parking is not to come into force or is to cease to be in force, the effect of the notices is to prevent the prohibition coming into force or, as the case may be, to terminate it⁶.

The highway authority for any part of a highway and the local authority in whose area that part is situated must co-operate in performing these functions⁷; and where a highway authority or a local authority gives notice prohibiting parking in respect of any part of a highway for which it is the highway authority or, as the case may be, which is within its area, any other authority which is the highway authority for that part or which is the local authority within whose area that part is situated is entitled, with the approval of the authority which gave the notice, to act in pursuance of these provisions as if the other authority had given similar notice⁸.

Where any parking in the relevant area is prohibited⁹ during specified hours on the relevant day, no right of action accrues to any person by reason of the fact that all or some of the cleaning of the relevant area which the highway authority or, as the case may be, the local authority proposes to do or has done during those hours is not cleaning which that authority has or had power to do if the other of those authorities has or had power to do it¹⁰.

1 For the purposes of the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 23, 'highway' means highway maintainable at the public expense within the meaning of the Highways Act 1980 (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 7): Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 22(4) (definition amended by the Highways Act 1980 Sch 24 para 24). Any reference in the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 23 to a part of a highway includes any such part on which the parking of vehicles is, apart from s 23, authorised by virtue of any enactment, whether on payment or free of charge; and where the parking of vehicles on such a part is prohibited by virtue of s 23 a person is not entitled to recover any sum paid by him for parking there: see s 23(8).

2 As to highway authorities see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 49 et seq.

3 As to the meaning of 'local authority' for these purposes see PARA 724 note 2.

4 Such a notice must specify the relevant area, the relevant day and the hours in question; and a copy of the notice must be served on the occupier of any premises adjoining the relevant area and be conspicuously displayed at places in the relevant area: Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 23(2) (substituted by the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 2 para 11). The effect of the giving of such a notice and of the service and display of copies of it as so required is to suspend the operation of any provision which is contained in an order under the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 742 et seq) or a local enactment and which authorises, designates or regulates the use of a street parking place in the relevant area: Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 23(2A) (s 23(2A), (2B) added by the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 2 para 11). The authority giving the notice must cover up traffic signs and parking meters in the relevant area during the hours of the relevant day specified in the notice, but without prejudice to the effect of the notice: Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 23(2B) (as so added). 'Parking meter', 'traffic sign' and 'street parking place' have the meanings respectively assigned to them by the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 46(2)(a), s 64(1), s 142(1) (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(2) (2007 Reissue) PARAS 752, 810, 830): Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 23(9) (added by the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 2 para 11; and amended by the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 s 146, Sch 13 para 30).

⁵ Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 23(1). Certain functions under s 23 are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

Regulations may provide that the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 ss 99-102 (removal, storage and disposal of vehicles illegally parked) (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 870 et seq) have effect in relation to any vehicle which is or was standing on any part of a highway while parking on that part is or was prohibited by virtue of the Control of Pollution Act 1974 s 23, with such modifications as are prescribed: s 23(4) (amended by the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 34 Pt II; and the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 Sch 13 para 30). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/11. LITTER AND GRAFFITI/(1) PROVISIONS RELATING TO LITTER/726. Litter clearing notices.

726. Litter clearing notices.

A principal litter authority¹ may² serve a notice (a 'litter clearing notice')³ in relation to any land⁴ in its area which is open to the air⁵.

A litter clearing notice is to require the person on whom it is served: (1) to clear the land of the litter or refuse⁶; and (2) if the principal litter authority is satisfied that the land is likely to become defaced by litter or refuse again, to take reasonable steps to prevent it from becoming so defaced⁷.

A litter clearing notice must be served on the occupier of the land to which it relates⁸ or, if the land is not occupied, the owner⁹. A principal litter authority must, in discharging its functions¹⁰, have regard to any guidance given to the authority by the appropriate person¹¹.

Where a principal litter authority proposes to serve a litter clearing notice in respect of any land but is unable after reasonable inquiry to ascertain the name or proper address of the occupier of the land (or, if the land is unoccupied, the owner):

- 1735 (a) the authority may post the notice on the land (and may enter any land to the extent reasonably necessary for that purpose)¹²; and
- 1736 (b) the notice is to be treated as having been served upon the occupier (or, if the land is unoccupied, the owner) at the time the notice is posted¹³.

A person on whom a litter clearing notice is served¹⁴ may appeal against it to a magistrates' court¹⁵, and the grounds on which such an appeal may be made are that:

- 1737 (i) there is a material defect or error in, or in connection with, the notice¹⁶;
- 1738 (ii) the notice should have been served on another person¹⁷;
- 1739 (iii) the land is not defaced by litter or refuse so as to be detrimental to the amenity of the locality¹⁸;
- 1740 (iv) the action required is unfair or unduly onerous¹⁹.

On the determination of such an appeal, the magistrates' court must: (A) quash the notice²⁰; (B) modify the notice (including modifying it by extending the period specified in it)²¹; or (C) dismiss the appeal²².

Where the person on whom a litter clearing notice is served²³ fails without reasonable excuse to comply with any requirement imposed by the notice²⁴, the person is guilty of an offence²⁵. The principal litter authority which served the notice or any person authorised by the authority may enter the land to which the notice relates and clear it of litter and refuse²⁶.

Where on any occasion it appears to an authorised officer²⁷ of a principal litter authority that a person has committed an offence²⁸ in relation to a notice served by that authority²⁹, the authorised officer may give that person a notice offering him the opportunity of discharging any liability to conviction for the offence by payment of a fixed penalty to the principal litter authority³⁰. The amount of a fixed penalty thus payable³¹ to a principal litter authority is the amount specified by the authority in relation to its area³². The principal litter authority to which a fixed penalty is payable may make provision for treating it as having been paid if a lesser amount is paid before the end of a period specified by the authority³³.

In any proceedings a certificate which purports to be signed by or on behalf of the chief finance officer³⁴ of a principal litter authority, and states that payment of a fixed penalty was or was not received by the date specified in the certificate, is evidence of the facts stated³⁵.

1 As to principal litter authorities see PARA 722 note 2.

2 Ie in accordance with the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 92A: see the text and notes 3-13.

3 The form and content of a litter clearing notice is to be such as the appropriate person may by order specify: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 92A(8) (ss 92A-92C added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 20(2)). As to the meaning of 'appropriate person' see PARA 722 note 2.

4 A litter clearing notice may not be served in relation to land of any of the following descriptions: (1) a highway maintainable at the public expense (see PARA 723 note 1); (2) land under the direct control of a principal litter authority (see PARA 722 note 2); (3) Crown land (see PARA 723 note 9); (4) relevant land of a designated statutory undertaker (see PARA 723 note 11); (5) relevant land of a designated educational institution (see PARA 723 note 13); (6) land which is covered (but 'open to the air' for the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IV (ss 86-99) by virtue of s 86(13), ie open to the air on at least one side) and to which the public are not entitled or permitted to have access, with or without payment: s 92A(11) (as added: see note 3).

5 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 92A(1) (as added: see note 3). Certain functions under s 92A are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

Before serving a litter clearing notice in relation to any land a principal litter authority must be satisfied that the land is defaced by litter or refuse so as to be detrimental to the amenity of the locality: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 92A(2) (as so added). As to the meaning of 'litter' see PARA 721 note 1.

Section 92A(1) does not apply to an English county council for an area for which there is a district council: s 92A(10) (as so added). As to local government areas and authorities see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 22 et seq.

As to graffiti and fly-posting see the Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 ss 43-52; and PARAS 735-736.

6 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 92A(3)(a) (as added: see note 3). A litter clearing notice imposing a requirement under s 92A(3)(a) may specify: (1) a period within which the requirement must be complied with; (2) standards of compliance: s 92A(5) (as so added). A period specified under head (1) above may not be less than 28 days beginning with the day on which the notice is served: s 92A(6) (as so added).

- Where a principal litter authority exercises the power in s 92C(3), it may require the person on whom the notice was served to pay a reasonable charge in respect of the exercise of the power: s 92C(4) (as so added). A principal litter authority may for the purposes of s 92C(4) impose charges by reference to land of particular descriptions or categories (including categories determined by reference to surface area): s 92C(4) (as so added).
- 27 For these purposes, 'authorised officer', in relation to a principal litter authority, means an officer of the authority who is authorised in writing by the authority for the purposes of giving notices under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 94A: s 94A(7) (s 94A added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 22).

- 31 Ie payable under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 94A.
- 32 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 94A(4)(a) (as added: see note 27). An authority may specify different amounts for the two different offences referred to in s 94A(1): see s 94A(4)(a) (as so added). Alternatively, if no amount is specified under s 94A(4)(a), the amount is £100: s 94A(4)(b) (as so added). As to fixed penalties generally see s 97A; and PARA 733. The amount must not be less than £100 and not more than £150: Environmental Offences (Fixed Penalties) (Miscellaneous Provisions) (Wales) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/663, reg 2(2)(b).
- 33 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 94A(5) (as added: see note 27). The amount must not be less than £60: Environmental Offences (Fixed Penalties) (Miscellaneous Provisions) (Wales) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/663, reg 3(2)(b).
- 34 For these purposes, 'chief finance officer', in relation to a principal litter authority, means the person having responsibility for the financial affairs of that authority: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 94A(7) (as added: see note 27).
- 35 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 94A(6) (as added: see note 27).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/11. LITTER AND GRAFFITI/(1) PROVISIONS RELATING TO LITTER/727. Street litter control notices.

727. Street litter control notices.

A principal litter authority other than an English county council or a joint board¹ may, with a view to the prevention of accumulations of litter or refuse in and around any street² or open land³ adjacent to any street, issue notices ('street litter control notices') imposing requirements on occupiers of premises⁴ in relation to such litter or refuse⁵.

If the authority is satisfied, in respect of any premises which are of a prescribed⁶ description and have a frontage on a street in its area, that:

- 1741 (1) there is recurrent defacement by litter or refuse of any land, being part of the street or open land adjacent to the street, which is in the vicinity of the premises⁷; or
- 1742 (2) the condition of any part of the premises which is open land in the vicinity of the frontage is, and if no notice is served is likely to continue to be, detrimental to the amenities of the locality by reason of the presence of litter or refuse⁸; or
- 1743 (3) there is produced, as a result of the activities carried on on the premises, quantities of litter or refuse of such nature and in such amounts as are likely to cause the defacement of any part of the street, or of open land adjacent to the street, which is in the vicinity of the premises⁹, the authority may serve a street litter control notice on the occupier or, if the premises are unoccupied, on the owner of the premises¹⁰. A notice must¹¹:

- 1744 (a) identify the premises and state the grounds¹² on which it is issued¹³;
- 1745 (b) specify an area of open land which adjoins or is in the vicinity of the frontage of the premises on the street¹⁴;
- 1746 (c) specify, in relation to that area or any part of it, such reasonable requirements as the authority considers appropriate in the circumstances¹⁵.

A person commits an offence if, without reasonable excuse, he fails to comply with a requirement imposed on him by a notice¹⁶.

1 As to principal litter authorities see PARA 722 note 2.

2 For these purposes, 'street' means a relevant highway or any other highway over which there is a right of way on foot: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 93(4). As to the meanings of 'highway' and 'relevant highway' see PARA 723 note 1.

3 For these purposes, 'open land' means land in the open air: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 93(4).

4 For these purposes, the 'premises', in relation to a notice, means the premises in respect of which the notice is issued: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 93(4). 'Notice' means a street litter control notice: s 93(4).

5 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 93(1) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 Sch 9 para 17(10)). Certain functions under s 93 are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

The requirements which may be imposed by a notice must relate to the clearing of litter or refuse from the specified area (see note 14) and may in particular require: (1) the provision or emptying of receptacles for litter or refuse; (2) the doing within a period specified in the notice of any such thing as may be so specified (including the standards to which any such thing must be done); or (3) the doing (while the notice remains in force) at such times or intervals, or within such periods, of any such thing as may be so specified: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 94(4) (amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 21(2)). A notice may not require the clearing of litter or refuse from any carriageway, except at a time when the carriageway is closed to all vehicular traffic: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 94(4).

In relation to so much of the specified area as is not part of the premises the authority must take account, in determining what requirements to impose, of its own duties under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IV (ss 86-99) or otherwise, and of any similar duties of any other local authority, in relation to that land: s 94(5).

As to graffiti and fly-posting see the Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 ss 43-52; and PARAS 735-736.

6 le prescribed under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 94(1)(a): see note 15.

7 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 93(2)(a).

8 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 93(2)(b).

9 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 93(2)(c).

10 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 93(2). An authority proposing to serve a notice must: (1) inform the person on whom the notice is to be served; (2) give him the opportunity to make representations about the notice within the period of 21 days beginning with the day on which he is so informed; and (3) take any representations so made into account in making its decision: s 94(6).

A person on whom a notice is served may appeal against the notice to a magistrates' court by way of summary application; and the court may quash the notice or may quash, vary or add to any requirement imposed by the notice: s 94(7).

As to fixed penalty notices see PARA 733.

11 le subject to the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 94(2), (3), (4): see notes 5, 14, 15.

12 le under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 93(2): see the text and notes 7-10.

13 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 93(3)(a). See also note 15.

14 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 93(3)(b). See also note 15. For these purposes, an area which includes land on both sides of the frontage of the premises is to be treated as an area adjoining that frontage: s 93(3).

A vehicle or stall or other moveable structure which is used for one or more commercial or retail activities while parked or set at a particular place on or verging a street is to be treated for the purposes of s 93 and s 94 as if it were premises situated at that place having a frontage on that street in the place where it is parked or set: s 93(3A) (s 93(3A), (3B) added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 21(1)). For these purposes, 'vehicle' means any vehicle intended or adapted for use on roads: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 93(3B) (as so added).

The land comprised in a specified area: (1) must include only land of one or more of the descriptions prescribed under s 94(1)(b) (see note 15); (2) must not include any land which is not: (a) part of the premises; (b) part of a street; (c) relevant land of a principal litter authority; or (d) land under the direct control of any other local authority; and (3) must not exceed any applicable maximum area prescribed under s 94(1)(c) (see note 15): s 94(3) (amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 Sch 5 Pt 2). 'Specified area' means the area specified in a notice under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 93(3)(b): s 93(4). As to the meaning of 'relevant land' of a principal litter authority see PARA 723 note 7.

15 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 93(3)(c). The Secretary of State may by order prescribe:

78 (1) the descriptions of commercial or retail premises in respect of which a street litter control notice may be issued (s 94(1)(a));

79 (2) the descriptions of land which may be included in a specified area (s 94(1)(b)); and

80 (3) the maximum area of land which may be included in a specified area (s 94(1)(c)), and different descriptions or maximum dimensions may be prescribed under head (2) or head (3) above for different cases or circumstances: s 94(1). As to the order made see the Street Litter Control Notices Order 1991, SI 1991/1324 (amended by SI 1997/632; and SI 2007/1524). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

The power to describe premises or land under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 94(1)(a) (see head (1) above) or s 94(1)(b) (see head (2) above) includes power to describe the premises or land by reference to occupation or ownership or to the activities carried on there: s 94(2).

16 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 94(8) (s 94(8), (9) substituted by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 21(3)). A person guilty of an offence under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 94(8) is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 4 on the standard scale: s 94(9) (as so substituted). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142. As to fixed penalty notices see PARA 733.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/11. LITTER AND GRAFFITI/(1) PROVISIONS RELATING TO LITTER/728. Distribution of free printed matter.

728. Distribution of free printed matter.

A person commits an offence¹ if he distributes² any free³ printed matter without the consent⁴ of a principal litter authority⁵ on any land which is designated⁶ by the authority, where the person knows that the land is so designated⁷. A person also commits an offence⁸ if he causes another person to distribute any free printed matter without the consent of a principal litter authority on any land so designated by the authority⁹.

A principal litter authority may on the application of any person consent to that person or any other person (identified specifically or by description) distributing free printed matter on any land designated by the authority¹⁰. Such consent may be given without limitation or may be limited: (1) by reference to the material to be distributed¹¹; (2) by reference to a particular period, or particular times or dates¹²; (3) by reference to any part of the designated land¹³; (4) to a particular distribution¹⁴.

A principal litter authority need not give such consent to any applicant where it considers that the proposed distribution would in all the circumstances be likely to lead to defacement of the designated land¹⁵, nor need consent be given to any applicant if within the period of five years ending on the date of his application he has been convicted of an unauthorised distribution offence¹⁶ or he has paid a fixed penalty¹⁷. Consent may be given subject to such conditions as the authority considers necessary or desirable for protecting the designated land from defacement or the effective operation and enforcement of these provisions¹⁸. Consent given by a principal litter authority¹⁹ may at any time be revoked (entirely or to any extent) by notice to the person to whom it was given, where: (a) he has failed to comply with any condition subject to which it was given²⁰; or (b) he is convicted of an unauthorised distribution offence²¹ or pays a fixed penalty²².

Where it appears to an authorised officer²³ of a principal litter authority that a person distributing any printed matter is committing an unauthorised distribution offence²⁴, he may seize all or any of it²⁵. Any person claiming to own any printed matter thus seized may apply to a magistrates' court for an order that the printed matter be released to him²⁶. Any printed matter thus seized (and not released)²⁷ must be returned to the person from whom it is seized: (i) at the conclusion of proceedings for the offence (unless the court orders otherwise)²⁸; (ii) at the end of the period in which proceedings for the offence may be instituted, if no such proceedings have been instituted in that period (or have been instituted but discontinued)²⁹.

Where on any occasion it appears to an authorised officer of a principal litter authority that a person has committed an unauthorised distribution offence³⁰ on any land designated by the authority³¹, the authorised officer may give that person a notice offering him the opportunity of discharging any liability to conviction for the offence by payment of a fixed penalty to the principal litter authority³². The amount of the fixed penalty thus payable to a principal litter authority is the amount specified by the authority in relation to its area³³. The principal litter authority to which a fixed penalty is thus payable may make provision for treating it as having been paid if a lesser amount is paid before the end of a period specified by the authority³⁴.

In any proceedings a certificate which purports to be signed on behalf of the chief finance officer³⁵ of a principal litter authority, and states that payment of a fixed penalty was or was not received by a date specified in the certificate, is evidence of the facts stated³⁶.

If an authorised officer of a principal litter authority proposes to give a person a fixed penalty notice³⁷, the officer may require the person to give him his name and address³⁸. A person commits an offence³⁹ if he fails to give his name and address when required to do so or if he gives a false or inaccurate name or address in response to such a requirement⁴⁰.

1 A person guilty of an offence under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 3A para 1 is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 4 on the standard scale: s 94B, Sch 3A para 1(4) (s 94B, Sch 3A added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 23). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142.

2 For the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 3A, to 'distribute' printed matter means to give it out to, or offer or make it available to, members of the public and includes placing it on or affixing it to vehicles, but does not include putting it inside a building or letter-box: Sch 3A para 1(6)(a) (as added: see note 1).

For the purposes of Sch 3A a person does not distribute printed matter if the distribution takes place inside a public service vehicle (within the meaning of the Public Passenger Vehicles Act 1981) (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1136); Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 3A para 1(7) (as so added).

Nothing in Sch 3A para 1 applies to the distribution of printed matter: (1) by or on behalf of a charity within the meaning of the Charities Act 1993 (see CHARITIES vol 8 (2010) PARA 1), where the printed matter relates to or is intended for the benefit of the charity; (2) where the distribution is for political purposes or for the purposes of a religion or belief: Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 3A para 1(4) (as so added).

3 For the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 3A, printed matter is 'free' if it is distributed without charge to the persons to whom it is distributed: Sch 3A para 1(6)(b) (as added: see note 1).

4 As to consent see the text and notes 15-22.

5 As to principal litter authorities see PARA 722 note 2.

6 Ie designated under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 3A.

A principal litter authority may by order in accordance with Sch 3A para 2 designate land in its area for the purposes of Sch 3A: Sch 3A para 2(1) (as added: see note 1). The provisions of Sch 3A para 2(1) do not apply to an English county council for an area for which there is a district council: Sch 3A para 2(2) (as so added). The land designated must consist of: (1) relevant land of the authority (see PARA 723 note 7); (2) all or part of any relevant highway (see PARA 723 note 1) for which the authority is responsible; or (3) both: Sch 3A para 2(2) (as so added). A principal litter authority may only designate land where it is satisfied that the land is being defaced by the discarding of free printed matter which has been distributed there: Sch 3A para 2(3) (as so added). As to local government areas and authorities see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 22 et seq.

Where a principal litter authority proposes to make an order under Sch 3A para 2(1) in respect of any land, it must publish a notice of its proposal in at least one newspaper circulating in an area which includes the land and post such a notice on the land: Sch 3A para 2(4) (as so added). Such a notice must specify: (a) the land proposed to be designated; (b) the date on which it is proposed that the order is to come into force (which may not be earlier than the end of a period of 28 days beginning with the day on which the notice is given); (c) the fact that objections may be made to the proposal, how they may be made and the period within which they may be made (being a period of at least 14 days beginning with the day on which the notice is given): Sch 3A para 2(5) (as so added). Where after giving such notice and taking into account any objections duly made pursuant to head (c) above an authority decides to make an order under Sch 3A para 2(1) in respect of any or all of the land in respect of which the notice was given, the authority must publish a notice of its decision in at least one newspaper circulating in an area which includes the land and post such a notice on the land: Sch 3A para 2(6) (as so added). A notice under Sch 3A para 2(6) must specify the date on which the order is to come into force, being a date not earlier than: (i) the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the notice is given; and (ii) the date referred to in head (b) above: Sch 3A para 2(7) (as so added).

A principal litter authority may at any time revoke an order under Sch 3A para 2(1) in respect of any land to which the order relates: Sch 3A para 2(8) (as so added). A principal litter authority must publish a notice of any such revocation in at least one newspaper circulating in an area which includes the land in question and post such a notice on the land: Sch 3A para 2(9) (as so added).

7 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 3A para 1(1) (as added: see note 1). Certain functions under s 94B, Sch 3A are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

8 As to the penalty see note 1.

9 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 3A para 1(2) (as added: see note 1). A person is not guilty of an offence under Sch 3A para 1(2) if he took reasonable steps to ensure that the distribution did not occur on any land designated under Sch 3A: Sch 3A para 1(3) (as so added).

10 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 3A para 3(1) (as added: see note 1). The text refers to designation under Sch 3A.

A principal litter authority may require the payment of a fee before giving consent under Sch 3A para 3: Sch 3A para 4(1) (as so added). The amount of a fee is to be such as the authority may determine, but may not be more, when taken together with all other fees charged by the authority under Sch 3A para 4, than is reasonable to cover the costs of operating and enforcing Sch 3A: Sch 3A para 4(2) (as so added).

Any person aggrieved by a decision of a principal litter authority under Sch 3A para 3: (1) to refuse consent; (2) to impose any limitation or condition subject to which consent is given; (3) to revoke consent (or to revoke it to any extent), may appeal against the decision to a magistrates' court: Sch 3A para 5(1) (as so added). A magistrates' court may on such an appeal: (a) uphold any refusal of consent or require the authority to grant consent (without limitation or condition or subject to any limitation or condition); (b) require the authority to revoke or vary any condition; (c) uphold or quash revocation of consent (or uphold or quash revocation to any extent): Sch 3A para 5(2) (as so added).

11 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 3A para 3(2)(a) (as added: see note 1).

12 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 3A para 3(2)(b) (as added: see note 1).

729. Summary proceedings by persons aggrieved by litter.

A magistrates' court may act under the following provisions on a complaint made by any person on the ground that he is aggrieved by the defacement, by litter or refuse, of:

- 1747 (1) any relevant highway¹;
- 1748 (2) any trunk road² which is a special road³;
- 1749 (3) any relevant land of a principal litter authority⁴;
- 1750 (4) any relevant Crown land⁵;
- 1751 (5) any relevant land of a designated statutory undertaker⁶; or
- 1752 (6) any relevant land of a designated educational institution⁷.

A magistrates' court may also act under these provisions on a complaint made by any person on the ground that he is aggrieved by the want of cleanliness of any relevant highway or any trunk road which is a special road⁸.

A principal litter authority may not be treated as a person aggrieved for the purposes of proceedings under these provisions⁹.

Proceedings under these provisions must be brought against the person who has the duty to keep the land clear¹⁰ or to keep the highway clean¹¹, as the case may be¹². Before instituting proceedings under these provisions against any person, the complainant must give to the person not less than five days' written notice of his intention to make the complaint and the notice must specify the matter complained of¹³. If the magistrates' court is satisfied that the highway or land in question is defaced by litter or refuse or, in the case of a highway, is wanting in cleanliness, the court may make an order (a 'litter abatement order') requiring the defendant to clear the litter or refuse away or, as the case may be, clean the highway within a time specified in the order¹⁴. A person who, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with a litter abatement order is guilty of an offence¹⁵. A code of practice¹⁶ is admissible in evidence in any proceedings under the above provisions and if any provision of such a code appears to the court to be relevant to any question in the proceedings it must be taken into account in determining that question¹⁷.

Where a magistrates' court is satisfied on the hearing of a complaint under these provisions:

- 1753 (a) that, when the complaint was made to it, the highway or land in question was defaced by litter or refuse or, as the case may be, was wanting in cleanliness¹⁸; and
- 1754 (b) that there were reasonable grounds for bringing the complaint¹⁹, the court must order the defendant to pay such reasonable sum to the complainant as the court may determine in respect of the expenses incurred by the complainant in bringing the complaint and the proceedings before the court²⁰.

730. Summary proceedings by litter authorities.

Where a principal litter authority¹ other than an English county council or a joint board² is satisfied as respects:

- 1755 (1) any relevant Crown land³;
- 1756 (2) any relevant land of a designated statutory undertaker⁴; or
- 1757 (3) any relevant land of a designated educational institution⁵, that it is defaced by litter or refuse or that defacement of it by litter or refuse is likely to recur, the authority must serve a notice (a 'litter abatement notice') imposing either or both of the following⁶:

- 1758 (a) a requirement that the litter or refuse be cleared within a time specified in the notice⁷;
- 1759 (b) a prohibition on permitting the land to become defaced by litter or refuse⁸.

The litter abatement notice must be served:

- 1760 (i) as respects relevant Crown land, on the appropriate Crown authority⁹;
- 1761 (ii) as respects relevant land of a designated statutory undertaker, on the undertaker¹⁰;
- 1762 (iii) as respects relevant land of a designated educational institution, on the governing body of the institution¹¹.

The person served with the notice may appeal against the notice to a magistrates' court by way of summary application within the period of 21 days beginning with the date on which the notice was served¹². If a person on whom a litter abatement notice is served, without reasonable excuse, fails to comply with or contravenes the requirement or prohibition imposed by the notice, he is guilty of an offence¹³. A code of practice¹⁴ is admissible in evidence in any proceedings under these provisions and if any provision of such a code appears to the court to be relevant to any question in the proceedings it must be taken into account in determining that question¹⁵.

If a person on whom a litter abatement notice is served fails to comply with the requirement imposed by the notice in respect of any land¹⁶, the authority may:

- 1763 (A) enter on the land and clear the litter or refuse¹⁷; and
- 1764 (B) recover from that person the expenditure attributable to its having done so, except such of the expenditure as that person shows was unnecessary in the circumstances¹⁸.

731. Public registers.

It is the duty of each principal litter authority other than an English county council or a joint board¹ to maintain, in accordance with the following provisions, a register containing copies² of: (1) all street litter control notices issued³; and (2) all orders made by the authority⁴.

Copies of the orders and notices required to be kept in the register must be so kept for so long as the order or notice is in force⁵.

It is the duty of each authority maintaining a register under these provisions:

1765 (a) to secure that the register is available, at all reasonable times, for inspection by the public free of charge⁶; and 1766 (b) to afford to members of the public facilities for obtaining copies of the documents kept in the register, on payment of reasonable charges⁷.

A register under these provisions need not be kept in documentary form⁸.

732. Application of certain provisions relating to waste.

In relation to litter and refuse collected by certain bodies¹, the Secretary of State² may make regulations providing that prescribed provisions of Part II of the Environmental Protection Act 1990³ are to have effect, with such modifications (if any) as may be prescribed⁴:

1767 (1) as if references to controlled waste⁵ or controlled waste of a prescribed description included references to such litter and refuse or any description of such litter and refuse⁶;

1768 (2) as if references to controlled waste or controlled waste of a prescribed description collected under the provisions relating to waste⁷ included references to litter and refuse collected as mentioned above⁸ or any description of such litter and refuse⁹.

The powers conferred by these provisions are exercisable in relation to litter and refuse to which they apply whether or not the circumstances are such that the litter or refuse would be treated as controlled waste apart from these provisions¹⁰.

1 le litter and refuse collected: (1) by any authority or person in pursuance of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 89(1) (see PARA 723); (2) by a principal litter authority in pursuance of s 92(9) (see PARA 730) or s 92C(3) (see PARA 726); or (3) by any person in pursuance of s 93 (see PARA 727): s 96(1) (amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 Sch 4 paras 2, 9). Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/11. LITTER AND GRAFFITI/(2) GRAFFITI AND OTHER DEFACEMENT/735. Penalty notices for graffiti and fly-posting.

(2) GRAFFITI AND OTHER DEFACEMENT

735. Penalty notices for graffiti and fly-posting.

Where an authorised officer¹ of a local authority² has reason to believe that a person has committed a relevant offence in the area of that authority, he may give that person a notice (a 'penalty notice') offering him the opportunity of discharging any liability to conviction for that offence by payment of a penalty³ in accordance with the penalty notice⁴. A 'relevant offence' is: (1) an offence of unlawfully affixing a poster on a building etc in London⁵; (2) an offence of defacement of streets with slogans etc⁶; (3) an offence of damaging or destroying property⁷ which involves only the painting or writing on, or the soiling, marking or other defacing of, any property by whatever means⁸; (4) an offence of obliterating a traffic sign etc⁹; (5) an offence of painting or affixing things on or structures on a highway¹⁰; (6) an offence of displaying an advertisement in contravention of regulations¹¹. An authorised officer may not give a penalty notice if he considers that the commission of the offence, in the case of a relevant offence falling within head (3) above also involves racially or religiously aggravated criminal damage¹² or, in the case of any other relevant offence, was motivated, wholly or partly, by hostility towards a person based on his membership¹³, or presumed membership¹⁴, of a racial or religious group¹⁵, or towards members of a racial or religious group based on their membership of that group¹⁶. In the case of a relevant offence falling within head (6) above, an authorised officer may not give a penalty notice to a person in relation to the display of an advertisement¹⁷ unless he has reason to believe that that person personally affixed or placed the advertisement to, against or on the land¹⁸ or object on which the advertisement is or was displayed¹⁹. Where a person is given a penalty notice in respect of an offence, no proceedings may be instituted for that offence, or any other relevant offence arising out of the same circumstances, before the expiration of the period of 14 days following the date of the penalty notice, and he may not be convicted of that offence, or any other relevant offence arising out of the same circumstances, if before the expiration of that period he pays the penalty in accordance with the penalty notice²⁰.

A penalty notice must give such particulars of the circumstances alleged to constitute the offence as are necessary for giving reasonable information of the offence²¹, and must state the period during which proceedings will not be instituted²² for the offence, the amount of the penalty and the person to whom and the address at which the penalty may be paid²³. A penalty notice must be in such form as the appropriate person may by order prescribe²⁴.

The fixed penalty payable in pursuance of a penalty notice²⁵ is payable to the local authority whose authorised officer gave the notice²⁶.

1 'Authorised officer', in relation to a local authority, means: (1) an employee of the authority who is authorised in writing by the authority for the purpose of giving notices under the Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 43(1) (see the text and note 4); (2) any person who, in pursuance of arrangements made with the authority, has the function of giving such notices and is authorised in writing by the authority to perform that function; and (3) any employee of such a person who is authorised in writing by the authority for the purpose of giving such notices: s 47(1) (definition substituted by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 30(1)).

2 'Local authority' means an authority in England and Wales which is a litter authority for the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 88 (see PARA 722): Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 47(1).

3 The amount of a penalty payable in pursuance of a notice under the Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 43(1) (see the text and note 4) is: (1) the amount specified by a relevant local authority in relation to its area (whether or not the penalty is payable to that or another authority); or (2) if no amount is so specified, £75: s 43A(1) (s 43A added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 28).

For these above purposes, 'relevant local authority' in head (1) above means: (a) a district council in England; (b) a county council in England for an area for which there is no district council; (c) a London borough council; (d) the Common Council of the City of London; (e) the Council of the Isles of Scilly; (f) a county or county borough council in Wales: Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 43A(2) (as so added). See LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 22 et seq; LONDON GOVERNMENT.

The local authority to which a penalty is payable in pursuance of a notice under s 43(1) (see the text and note 4) may make provision for treating it as having been paid if a lesser amount is paid before the end of a period specified by the authority: s 43A(3) (as so added).

The appropriate person may by regulations make provision in connection with the powers conferred under s 43A(1)(a) (see head (1) above) and s 43A(3): s 43A(4) (as so added). Regulations under s 43A(4) may, in particular: (i) require an amount specified under head (1) above to fall within a range prescribed in the regulations; (ii) restrict the extent to which, and the circumstances in which, a local authority can make provision under s 43A(3): s 43A(5) (as so added). The appropriate person may by order substitute a different amount for the amount for the time being specified in head (1) above: s 43A(6) (as so added). The 'appropriate person' means, in relation to England, the Secretary of State (see PARA 58) and, in relation to Wales, the Welsh Ministers (see PARA 59): s 47(1).

If an authorised officer of a local authority proposes to give a person a notice under s 43(1), the officer may require the person to give him his name and address: s 43B(1) (s 43B added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 29). A person commits an offence if: (A) he fails to give his name and address when required to do so under the Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 43B(1); or (B) he gives a false or inaccurate name or address in response to that requirement: s 43B(2) (as so added). A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: s 43B(3) (as so added). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142.

4 Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 43(1). Certain functions under s 43 are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

The appropriate person may issue guidance about the exercise of the discretion to give penalty notices, and about the giving of penalty notices: Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 47(3).

The appropriate person may by regulations prescribe conditions to be satisfied by a person before a parish or community council may authorise him in writing for the purpose of giving notices under s 43(1): s 47(4) (added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 30(2)). As to regulations under the Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 47(4) see the Environmental Offences (Fixed Penalties) (Miscellaneous Provisions) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/175. See also the Environmental Offences (Use of Fixed Penalty Receipts) (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/739 (amended by SI 2008/663); and the Environmental Offences (Fixed Penalties) (Miscellaneous Provisions) (Wales) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/663.

14 'Presumed' means presumed by the offender: Crime and Disorder Act 1998 s 28(2); applied by the Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 47(2).

15 'Racial group' and 'religious group' have the meanings given by the Crime and Disorder Act 1998 s 28(4), (5) (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(1) (2006 Reissue) PARA 154): Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 47(1).

23 Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 43(6). Without prejudice to payment by any other method, payment of a penalty in pursuance of a notice under s 43(1) (see the text and note 4) may be made by pre-paying and posting a letter containing the amount of the penalty, in cash or otherwise, to the person mentioned under s 46(5) as the person to whom the penalty may be paid at the address so mentioned: s 43(7). Where a letter is sent in accordance with s 43(7), payment is to be regarded as having been made at the time at which that letter would be delivered in the ordinary course of post: s 43(8).

In any proceedings a certificate which purports to be signed by or on behalf of the person responsible for the financial affairs of a local authority, and states that payment of a penalty payable in pursuance of a penalty notice was or was not received by a date specified in the certificate, is evidence of the facts stated: Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 45(2).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/11. LITTER AND GRAFFITI/(2) GRAFFITI AND OTHER DEFACEMENT/736. Defacement removal notices.

736. Defacement removal notices.

Where a local authority¹ is satisfied that a relevant surface² in an area has been defaced by graffiti³ or any poster or flyer the display of which contravenes regulations under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990, and that the defacement is detrimental to the amenity of the area or is offensive⁴, it may serve a notice⁵ (a 'defacement removal notice') on any person who is responsible for the surface⁶ imposing a requirement that the defacement be removed, cleared or otherwise remedied within a period specified in the notice being not less than 28 days beginning with the day on which the notice is served⁷. Where that requirement is not complied with, the authority or any person authorised by the authority may remove, clear or otherwise remedy the defacement⁸, and may enter any land to the extent reasonably necessary for that purpose⁹.

A local authority may recover from the person on whom a defacement removal notice was served expenditure reasonably incurred in removing, clearing or otherwise remedying the defacement¹⁰. However, a local authority may not so recover expenditure unless it has served on the person in question a notice¹¹ which sets out the amount of, and details of, the expenditure which it proposes to recover¹².

The Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers must issue guidance to local authorities in relation to defacement removal notices and the recovery of expenditure¹³, and local authorities must have regard to any such guidance¹⁴.

A person on whom a defacement removal notice is served may, within the period of 21 days beginning with the day on which it is served, appeal against the notice to a magistrates' court on any of the following grounds¹⁵: (1) the defacement is neither detrimental to the amenity of the area nor offensive; (2) there is a material defect or error in, or in connection with, the notice; (3) that the notice should be served on another person¹⁶. Where a person so appeals against the defacement removal notice, it is of no effect pending the final determination or withdrawal of the appeal¹⁷. On the determination of such an appeal, the court must either quash or modify the notice, or dismiss the appeal¹⁸. Further, a person on whom a defacement removal notice is served may, within the period of 21 days beginning with the day on which it is served, appeal to a magistrates' court on the grounds that the expenditure which the authority is proposing to recover is excessive¹⁹. On the determination of such an appeal, the court must either confirm that the amount which the authority is proposing to recover is reasonable or substitute a lower amount as the amount which the authority is entitled to recover²⁰.

Specified persons are exempt from liability to any person responsible for the relevant surface for damages or otherwise, whether at common law or otherwise, arising out of anything done or omitted to be done in the exercise or purported exercise of the power to remove, clear or otherwise remedy the defacement²¹, or the power to affix a defacement removal notice to a relevant surface²². In relation to the power to remove, clear or otherwise remedy the defacement, those persons are: (a) the local authority and any employee of the authority; (b) any person authorised by the authority to remove, clear or otherwise remedy the defacement and the employer or any employee of that person²³. In relation to the power to affix a defacement removal notice to a relevant surface, those persons are: the local authority and any employee of the authority²⁴. However, the exemption from liability does not apply: (i) if the act or omission is shown to have been in bad faith²⁵; (ii) to liability arising out of a failure to exercise due care and attention²⁶; (iii) so as to prevent an award of damages made in respect of an act or omission on the ground that the act or omission amounts was unlawful by virtue of the Human Rights Act 1998²⁷.

1 'Local authority' means an authority in England and Wales which is a litter authority for the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 88 (see PARA 722) but not a parish or community council: Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 48(12) (amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 Sch 4 paras 12, 17(1), (7)).

2 'Relevant surface' is any of the following surfaces, whether internal or external or open to the air or not: (1) the surface of any street or of any building, structure, apparatus, plant or other object in or on any street; (2) the surface of any land owned, occupied or controlled by a statutory undertaker or of any building, structure, apparatus, plant or other object in or on any such land; (3) the surface of any land owned, occupied or controlled by an educational institution, including its governing body, or of any building, structure, apparatus, plant or other object in or on any such land: Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 48(9). 'Street' has the meaning given by the New Roads and Street Works Act 1991 s 48(1) (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 9); 'statutory undertaker' has the meaning given by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 98(6) (see PARA 723 note 10); and 'educational institution' has the meaning given by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 98(2) (see PARA 723 note 12): s 48(12). However, a surface is not a relevant surface unless: (a) in the case of a surface within head (1) above, the street is public land; (b) in the case of a surface within head (2) or head (3) above, the land is public land, the surface is visible from public land, or the surface is otherwise visible to members of the public using the services or facilities of the statutory undertaker or educational institution in question or any other statutory undertaker or educational institution: s 48(10). 'Public land' means land to which the public are entitled or permitted to have access with or without payment, including any street to which the public are so entitled or permitted: s 48(12).

3 'Graffiti' includes painting, writing, soiling, marking or other defacing by whatever means: Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 48(12).

4 Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 48(1) (amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 31). The reference in the text is a reference to regulations under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 220: see TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING vol 46(2) (Reissue) PARA 769.

5 The Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 160 has effect in relation to defacement removal notices as if they were notices within s 160(2) (see PARA 147): Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 48(7) (amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 Sch 4 paras 12, 17(1), (4)). Where after reasonable inquiry a local authority is unable to ascertain the name or proper address of any person who is responsible for a relevant surface, it may affix a defacement removal notice to the surface and enter any land to the extent reasonably necessary for that purpose, and that notice is to be treated as having been served on a person responsible for the surface: Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 48(8) (amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 Sch 4 paras 12, 17(1), (5)). 'Proper address' is to be read in accordance with the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 160(4) and (5) (see PARA 147): Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 48(12).

6 A person is responsible for a relevant surface if: (1) where it is the surface of any land, including a street, he owns, leases, occupies, controls, operates or maintains the land; and (2) where it is the surface of any other thing mentioned in the Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 48(9) (see note 2), he owns, leases, occupies, controls, operates or maintains the thing: s 48(11).

7 Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 48(2), (3), (12) (s 48(2), (6) amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 Sch 4 paras 12, 17(1), (3)). A defacement removal notice must explain the effect of the Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 ss 48(4), (5), 49, 51 (see the text and notes 15-20): s 48(6) (as so amended). Certain functions under s 48 are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/11. LITTER AND GRAFFITI/(3) ABANDONED TROLLEYS/737. Powers in relation to abandoned shopping and luggage trolleys.

(3) ABANDONED TROLLEYS

737. Powers in relation to abandoned shopping and luggage trolleys.

The Environmental Protection Act 1990 contains provisions relating to abandoned shopping and luggage trolleys¹. A local authority² may resolve that those provisions are to apply in its area; and if a local authority does so resolve, those provisions will come into force in its area on the day specified in the resolution, which may not be before the expiration of the period of three months beginning with the day on which the resolution is passed³. A local authority must publish in at least one newspaper circulating in its area a notice that the authority has passed such a resolution and indicating the general effect of those provisions⁴. It is the duty of a local authority, before making any such resolution, to consult with the persons or representatives of persons who appear to the authority to be persons who will be affected by the application of those provisions⁵. It is also the duty of a local authority from time to time to consult about the operation of those provisions with the persons or representatives of persons who appear to be affected by their operation⁶.

1 See the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 99, Sch 4. Schedule 4 applies where any shopping or luggage trolley is found by an authorised officer of the local authority (see note 2) on any land in the open air and appears to him to be abandoned: Sch 4 para 1(1). Schedule 4 does not, however, apply in relation to a shopping or luggage trolley found on the following descriptions of land, that is to say:

- 81 (1) land in which the owner of the trolley has a legal estate (Sch 4 para 1(2)(a));
- 82 (2) where an off-street parking place affords facilities to the customers of shops for leaving shopping trolleys used by them, land on which those facilities are afforded (Sch 4 para 1(2)(b));
- 83 (3) where any other place designated by the local authority for these purposes affords like facilities, land on which those facilities are afforded (Sch 4 para 1(2)(c)); and
- 84 (4) as respects luggage trolleys, land which is used for the purposes of their undertaking by persons authorised by an enactment to carry on any railway, light railway, tramway or road transport undertaking, by an operator of railway services (within the meaning of the Railways Act 1993 Pt I (ss 3-83)) (see RAILWAYS, INLAND WATERWAYS AND CROSS-COUNTRY PIPELINES vol 39(1A) (Reissue) PARA 33) provided in connection with a transferred network, or by a relevant airport operator (within the meaning of the Airports Act 1986 Pt V (ss 57-62)) (see AIR LAW vol 2 (2008) PARA 189) (Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 4 para 1(2)(d) (amended by SI 1999/1443)).

In the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 4, 'shopping trolley' means a trolley provided by the owner of a shop to customers for use by them for carrying goods purchased at the shop, not being a trolley which is power-assisted: Sch 4 para 5. 'Luggage trolley' means a trolley provided by a person carrying on an undertaking mentioned in head (4) above to travellers for use by them for carrying their luggage to, from or within the premises used for the purposes of his undertaking, not being a trolley which is power-assisted: Sch 4 para 5.

2 For these purposes, 'local authority' means: (1) the council of a district; (2) the council of a London borough; (3) the Common Council of the City of London; (4) the council of the Isles of Scilly; (5) in Wales, the council of a county or county borough: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 99(5) (amended by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 22(3), Sch 9 para 17(11)). In the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 4, 'local authority' means any local authority which has resolved that that Schedule is to apply in its area: s 99(6). As to local government areas and authorities see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 22 et seq.

738. Power to seize and remove trolleys.

Where the provisions relating to abandoned shopping and luggage trolleys¹ apply in relation to a shopping or luggage trolley, the local authority² may: (1) seize the trolley³; and (2) remove it to such place under its control as the authority thinks fit⁴.

When a shopping or luggage trolley is found on any land appearing to the authorised officer to be occupied by any person, the trolley must not be removed without the consent of that person unless:

- 1769 (a) the local authority has served on that person a notice stating that the authority proposes to remove the trolley⁵; and
- 1770 (b) no notice objecting to its removal is served by that person on the local authority within the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which the local authority served the notice of the proposed removal on him⁶.

1 See the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 99, Sch 4. As to where these provisions apply see PARA 737 note 1. As to the meanings of 'shopping trolley' and 'luggage trolley' see PARA 737 note 1.

739. Retention, return and disposal of trolleys.

The local authority¹, as respects any shopping or luggage trolley it has seized and removed²:

- 1771 (1) must keep the trolley for a period of six weeks³; and
- 1772 (2) may sell or otherwise dispose of the trolley at any time after the end of that period⁴.

The local authority must, as respects any trolley it has seized and removed, as soon as reasonably practicable (but not later than 14 days) after its removal, serve on the person (if any) who appears to the authority to be the owner of the trolley a notice stating⁵:

- 1773 (a) that the authority has removed the trolley and is keeping it⁶;
- 1774 (b) the place where it is being kept⁷; and
- 1775 (c) that, if it is not claimed, the authority may dispose of it⁸.

If, within the period mentioned in head (1) above, any person claims to be the owner of a shopping or luggage trolley being kept by the authority under that head, the local authority must, if it appears that the claimant is the owner, deliver the trolley to him⁹. A person claiming to be the owner of a shopping or luggage trolley is not entitled to have the trolley delivered to him unless he pays the local authority, on demand, such charge as the authority requires¹⁰. No shopping or luggage trolley may be disposed of by the local authority unless (where it has not been claimed) the authority has made reasonable inquiries to ascertain who owns it¹¹.

4 Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 4 para 3(1)(b).

Where the local authority is entitled to sell or otherwise dispose of a shopping or luggage trolley in accordance with Sch 4 para 3(1)(b), if it appears to the authority that a particular person is the owner of the trolley, the authority may charge him a sum in respect of the removal, storage and disposal of the trolley: Sch 4 para 3A(1), (2) (Sch 4 para 3A added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 99(1), (3)). The charge is payable to the authority on demand: Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 4 para 3A(3) (as so added). The sum payable as a charge under Sch 4 para 3A is recoverable by the authority as a debt due to it: Sch 4 para 3A(4) (as so added). In proceedings against a person under Sch 4 para 3A(4) for enforcement of a charge, it is a defence for the person to prove that he was not the owner of the trolley to which the charge relates at the time it was removed: Sch 4 para 3A(5) (as so added).

As to transitional provisions, where a local authority before the commencement date of the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 99 has resolved under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 99 (see PARA 737) that Sch 4 is to apply in its area, see the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 100.

740. Charges.

The local authority¹, in fixing the charges to be paid², must secure that the charges so payable are such as are sufficient, taking one financial year with another, to cover the cost of removing, storing and disposing of shopping or luggage trolleys³. The local authority may agree with persons who own shopping or luggage trolleys and make them available for use in its area a scheme for the collection by them of trolleys they make available for use; and where such an agreement is in force with any person, no charge may be demanded⁴ by the local authority in respect of any trolley within the scheme in relation to which the provisions of the scheme are complied with⁵.

(4) CONTROL OF DUMPING OF VEHICLES AND OTHER REFUSE

741. Provision by local authorities for disposal of refuse.

Under the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978¹, it is the duty of a local authority² to provide places where refuse³, other than refuse falling to be disposed of in the course of a business, may be deposited at all reasonable times free of charge by persons resident in the area of the authority and, on payment of such charges (if any) as the authority thinks fit, by other persons⁴. Any place provided by a local authority in pursuance of these provisions must either be situated within the area of the authority or, if not so situated, be reasonably accessible to persons resident in that area; and a local authority may if it thinks fit determine that any such place is to be available for the deposit of refuse of such descriptions only as are specified in the determination⁵.

A local authority may: (1) permit, on such terms as it thinks fit, the deposit at a place provided by it in pursuance of these provisions of refuse falling to be disposed of in the course of a business⁶; (2) provide plant and apparatus for the treatment or disposal of refuse deposited at such a place⁷; and (3) sell or otherwise dispose of any such refuse⁸.

The power of a local authority to provide places, plant and apparatus and to accept and dispose of refuse in pursuance of these provisions includes power to enter into an agreement with any other person for the provision of facilities by him for the purposes of these provisions at any place under his control⁹.

No action lies against a local authority in respect of damage resulting from its failure to carry out its duty under these provisions¹⁰; but if the Secretary of State is satisfied, after holding a local inquiry, that a local authority has failed to carry out that duty he may by order require the authority to take such steps for carrying it out as are specified in the order¹¹.

1 le under the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 1. As from a day to be appointed s 1 is repealed by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Sch 16 Pt II. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

The Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 does not extend to Northern Ireland: s 13(5). As to the application of the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 to the Isles of Scilly see s 9; and the Isles of Scilly (Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978) Order 1984, SI 1984/288.

2 For the purposes of the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 1, 'local authority' means, in relation to England: (1) in Greater London, the council of a London borough or the Common Council of the City of London; (2) in the metropolitan county of Greater Manchester (excluding the metropolitan district of Wigan), the Greater Manchester Waste Disposal Authority; (3) in the metropolitan county of Merseyside, the Merseyside Waste Disposal Authority; (4) in all other areas in England, the council of the county or metropolitan district: s 1(7) (definition substituted by SI 1985/1884). As to the meaning of 'local authority' generally see PARA 99.

3 'Refuse' includes any matter whatsoever, whether inorganic or organic: Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 1(7).

Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 1(1). As from the relevant date, this provision is substituted so that it is the duty of a local authority to provide places where refuse, other than refuse falling to be disposed of in the course of a business, may be deposited at all reasonable times (including at least one period of time on the Saturday or the following day of each week except a week in which the Saturday is 25 December or 1 January) free of charge by any person: see s 1(1) (substituted by s 1(8)). The 'relevant date' means such day as the Secretary of State may by order appoint: ss 11(1), 13(3). Different days may be appointed for different provisions, and for such different purposes of the same provision as may be specified in the order: see s 13(4). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

5 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 1(2). This power is without prejudice to the generality of its duty under s 1(1): see s 1(2).

6 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 1(3)(a). Every local authority is required to establish and maintain a register for its area of persons carrying on business as motor salvage operators in the area: see the Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 Pt 1 (ss 1-16); and PARA 750 et seq. As to the disposal and recycling of vehicles which are waste see the End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635; and PARA 651.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/11. LITTER AND GRAFFITI/(4) CONTROL OF DUMPING OF VEHICLES AND OTHER REFUSE/742. Penalty for unauthorised dumping.

742. Penalty for unauthorised dumping.

Any person who, without lawful authority: (1) abandons¹ on any land in the open air, or on any other land forming part of a highway, a motor vehicle² or anything which formed part of a motor vehicle and was removed from it in the course of dismantling the vehicle on the land³; or (2) abandons on any such land any thing other than a motor vehicle, being a thing which he has brought to the land for the purpose of abandoning it there⁴, is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a penalty⁵.

Where on any occasion it appears to an authorised officer⁶ of a local authority⁷ that a person has committed the offence of abandoning a motor vehicle⁸ in the area of that authority, the officer may give that person a notice⁹ offering him the opportunity of discharging any liability to conviction for the offence by payment of a fixed penalty to the authority¹⁰.

Where a person is given such a notice¹¹ in respect of an offence: (a) no proceedings may be instituted for that offence before the expiration of the period of 14 days following the date of the notice¹²; and (b) he may not be convicted of that offence if he pays the fixed penalty before the expiration of the period¹³.

Such a notice must give such particulars of the circumstances alleged to constitute the offence as are necessary for giving reasonable information of the offence¹⁴, and must also state: (i) the period during which¹⁵ proceedings will not be taken for the offence¹⁶; (ii) the amount of the fixed penalty¹⁷; and (iii) the person to whom and the address at which the fixed penalty may be paid¹⁸.

Without prejudice to payment by any other method, payment of the fixed penalty may be made by pre-paying and posting a letter containing the amount¹⁹ of the penalty (in cash or otherwise) to the person mentioned in head (iii) above at the address so mentioned²⁰. The local authority to which a fixed penalty is payable²¹ may make provision for treating it as having been paid if a lesser amount is paid before the end of a period specified by the authority²².

In any proceedings a certificate which purports to be signed on behalf of the chief finance officer²³ of the local authority, and states that payment of a fixed penalty was or was not received by a date specified in the certificate, is evidence of the facts stated²⁴.

If an authorised officer²⁵ of a local authority proposes to give a person a notice as described above²⁶, the officer may require the person to give him his name and address²⁷. A person commits an offence if he fails to give his name and address when required to do so²⁸, or if he gives a false or inaccurate name or address in response to such a requirement²⁹.

A local authority may use its fixed penalty receipts³⁰ only for the purposes of specific statutory functions³¹. A local authority must supply the appropriate person with such information relating to its use of its fixed penalty receipts as the appropriate person may require³².

The appropriate person may by regulations³³:

- 1776 (A) make provision for what a local authority is to do with its fixed penalty receipts pending their being used for the purposes of the functions of the authority referred to above³⁴; or if they are not so used before such time after their receipt as may be specified by the regulations³⁵;

1777 (B) make provision for accounting arrangements in respect of a local authority's fixed penalty receipts³⁶.

1 For these purposes, a person who leaves any thing on any land in such circumstances or for such a period that he may reasonably be assumed to have abandoned it or to have brought it to the land for the purpose of abandoning it there is deemed to have abandoned it there or, as the case may be, to have brought it to the land for that purpose unless the contrary is shown: Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 2(2).

2 'Motor vehicle' means a mechanically propelled vehicle intended or adapted for use on roads, whether or not it is in a fit state for such use, and includes any trailer intended or adapted for use as an attachment to such a vehicle, any chassis or body, with or without wheels, appearing to have formed part of such a vehicle or trailer, and anything attached to such a vehicle or trailer: Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 11(1).

3 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 2(1)(a). As to the disposal and recycling of vehicles which are waste see the End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635; and PARA 651.

4 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 2(1)(b).

5 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 2(1). The penalty is a fine of an amount not exceeding level 4 on the standard scale or imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or both: see s 2(1) (amended by virtue of the Criminal Justice Act 1982 ss 35, 38, 46). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142.

As from a day to be appointed, the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 2(1) is further amended so as to refer to 51 weeks instead of three months: see s 2(1) (prospectively amended by the Criminal Justice Act 2003 Sch 26 para 25). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

6 For these purposes, 'authorised officer', in relation to a local authority, means an employee of the authority who is authorised in writing by the authority for the purposes of giving notices under the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 2A: ss 2A(14), 2B(4) (ss 2A-2C added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 10).

7 As to the meaning of 'local authority' for these purposes see PARA 99.

8 Ie an offence under the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 2(1)(a): see head (1) in the text.

9 The form of a notice under the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 2A is to be such as the appropriate person may by order prescribe: s 2A(7) (as added: see note 6). 'Appropriate person' means: (1) in relation to a local authority in England, the Secretary of State (see PARA 58); (2) in relation to a local authority in Wales, the Welsh Ministers (see PARA 59): s 11(1) (definition added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 14(1), (3)).

18 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 2A(4)(c) (as added: see note 6).

19 The fixed penalty payable to a local authority under the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 2A is, subject to s 2A(9), £200: s 2A(8) (as added: see note 6). The appropriate person may by order substitute a different amount for the amount for the time being specified in s 2A(8): s 2A(9) (as so added).

20 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 2A(5) (as added: see note 6).

Where a letter is sent in accordance with s 2A(5), payment is to be regarded as having been made at the time at which that letter would be delivered in the ordinary course of post: s 2A(6) (as so added).

21 Ie payable under the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 2A.

22 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 2A(10) (as added: see note 6). The appropriate person may by regulations restrict the extent to which, and the circumstances in which, a local authority may make provision under s 2A(10): s 2A(11) (as so added). See also note 9. 743. Removal of abandoned vehicles.

Where it appears to a local authority¹ that a motor vehicle² in its area is abandoned without lawful authority on any land in the open air or on any other land forming part of a highway, it is the duty of the authority to remove the vehicle³. Where it appears to a local authority that the land on which a motor vehicle is abandoned is occupied by any person, the authority must give him notice that it proposes to remove the vehicle in pursuance of these provisions⁴. The local authority is not entitled to remove the vehicle if the occupier of the land objects to the proposal within the prescribed period⁵.

No action lies against a local authority in respect of damage resulting from its failure to carry out its duty under these provisions⁶; but if the Secretary of State is satisfied, after holding a local inquiry, that a local authority has failed to carry out that duty he may by order require the authority to take such steps for carrying it out as are specified in the order⁷.

1 As to the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 99.

2 As to the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 742 note 2.

Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 3(1). A local authority is not required by virtue of s 3(1) to remove a vehicle situated otherwise than on a carriageway within the meaning of the Highways Act 1980 (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 64) if it appears to the authority that the cost of its removal to the nearest convenient carriageway within the meaning of that Act would be unreasonably high: Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 3(3) (amended by the Highways Act 1980 Sch 24 para 30).

Any vehicle removed under the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 3 by the council of a London borough whose area is included in the area of a London waste disposal authority, or by the council of a metropolitan district whose area is included in the area of the Greater Manchester Waste Disposal Authority or the Merseyside Waste Disposal Authority, must be delivered by the council to the authority in question in accordance with such arrangements (including arrangements as to the sharing of any expenses incurred or sums received by the council and the authority under the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978) as may be agreed between the council and the authority or, in default of agreement, as may be determined by arbitration: s 3(6) (substituted by SI 1985/1884). 'London waste disposal authority' means an authority established by the Waste Regulation and Disposal (Authorities) Order 1985, SI 1985/1884, Sch 1 Pt II, III, IV or V: Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 11(1) (definition added by SI 1985/1884). In the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 ss 3, 5 (see also PARA 745), 'the area of the Greater Manchester Waste Disposal Authority' is the metropolitan county of Greater Manchester excluding the metropolitan district of Wigan: s 3(10) (added by SI 1985/1884). Any vehicle removed by the council of a non-metropolitan district in England under these provisions must be delivered by the council to the county council in accordance with such arrangements (including arrangements as to the sharing of any expenses incurred or sums received by the district council and the county council under the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978) as may be agreed between the district council and the county council or, in default of agreement, as may be determined by arbitration: s 3(7) (amended by the Local Government Act 1985 Sch 6 para 4).

While a vehicle is in the custody of a local authority, a London waste disposal authority, the Greater Manchester Waste Disposal Authority, the Merseyside Waste Disposal Authority or the council of a county in England in pursuance of these provisions, it is the duty of that body to take such steps as are reasonably necessary for the safe custody of the vehicle: Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 3(8) (amended by the Local Government Act 1985 Sch 17; the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 Sch 5 Pt 1; and SI 1985/1884).

Any authority on whom functions are conferred under the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 3 or s 4 (see PARA 744) must, in exercising those functions, have regard to any guidance given to the authority for the purpose by the appropriate person: s 4A (added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 13). As to the meaning of 'appropriate person' see PARA 742 note 9.

As to the disposal of removed vehicles see PARA 744. As to the disposal and recycling of vehicles which are waste see the End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635; and PARA 651.

4 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 3(2) (amended by the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 34 Pt III). As to the giving of guidance to the authority see note 3.

The Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 3(2) does not apply where the vehicle is abandoned on a road (within the meaning of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984) (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(1) (2007 Reissue) PARA 206): Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 3(2A) (added by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 11(1), (2)).

5 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 3(2) (as amended: see note 4). As to the non-application of s 3(2) see also note 4. 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: s 11(1). As to the regulations made see the Removal and Disposal of Vehicles Regulations 1986, SI 1986/183 (amended by SI 1993/278; SI 1993/1708; SI 1994/1503; SI 1996/1008; SI 1997/2971; SI 2002/746; SI 2002/2777; SI 2005/3252; and SI 2007/3484).

6 See the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 ss 1(5), 3(9). The duty referred to in the text is the duty under s 3(1), (2) (see the text and notes 1-5): see s 3(9).

7 See the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 ss 1(5), 3(9). Such an order is enforceable on the application of the Secretary of State by mandatory order (formerly an order of mandamus): see ss 1(6), 3(9).

744. Disposal of removed vehicles.

A local authority¹ may, in such manner as it thinks fit, dispose of any vehicle which is in its custody²:

1778 (1) in the case of a vehicle which in the opinion of the authority is in such a condition that it ought to be destroyed, at any time after its removal³;

1779 (2) in the case of a vehicle, not falling within head (1) above, which:

173

138. (a) does not display a licence⁴ (whether current or otherwise and whether or not the vehicle is required to display a licence)⁵; and

139. (b) does not display any registration mark (whether indicating registration within or outside the United Kingdom)⁶,

174

1780 at any time after its removal⁷;

1781 (3) in any other case, at any time after the local authority has taken such steps as may be prescribed⁸ to find a person appearing to it to be the owner⁹ of the vehicle and either: (a) it has failed to find such a person¹⁰; or (b) he has failed to comply with a notice served on him in the prescribed manner by the local authority requiring him to remove the vehicle within the prescribed period from its custody¹¹.

The power to dispose of vehicles conferred on a local authority by these provisions includes power to provide plant and apparatus for the purpose of disposing of vehicles¹².

If before a vehicle is disposed of by a local authority in pursuance of these provisions the vehicle is claimed by a person who satisfies the authority that he is its owner and pays to the authority such sums in respect of its removal and storage as may be prescribed, the local authority must permit him to remove the vehicle from its custody during such period as may be prescribed¹³.

If before the expiration of the period of one year beginning with the date on which a vehicle is sold by a local authority in pursuance of these provisions any person satisfies the authority that at the time of its sale he was the owner of the vehicle, the local authority must pay over to him any sum by which the proceeds of sale exceed the aggregate of such sums in respect of the removal, storage and disposal of the vehicle as may be prescribed¹⁴.

1 For the purposes of the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 4, 'local authority' means, in relation to England: (1) in the area of a London waste disposal authority, that authority; (2) in other areas of Greater London, the council of a London borough or the Common Council of the City of London; (3) in the metropolitan county of Greater Manchester (excluding the metropolitan district of Wigan), the Greater Manchester Waste Disposal Authority; (4) in the metropolitan county of Merseyside, the Merseyside Waste Disposal Authority; and (5) in other areas in England, the council of the county or metropolitan district: s 4(8) (substituted by SI 1985/1884). As to the meaning of 'London waste disposal authority' see PARA 743 note 3. As to the meaning of 'local authority' generally see PARA 99.

2 In pursuance of the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 3: see PARA 743.

As to guidance for any authority on whom functions are conferred under s 3 (see PARA 743) or s 4 see s 4A; and PARA 743 note 3.

As to the disposal and recycling of vehicles which are waste see the End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635; and PARA 651.

3 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 4(1)(a) (s 4(1)(a), (b) substituted by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 12(1), (2)).

4 'Licence' means, in relation to a vehicle, a licence issued for the vehicle under the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 (see CUSTOMS AND EXCISE vol 12(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 718; ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 871), including a nil licence within the meaning of that Act: Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 11(1) (definition amended by the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994 Sch 3 para 12; and the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 12(1), (4)).

5 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 4(1)(b)(i) (as substituted: see note 3).

6 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 4(1)(b)(ii) (as substituted: see note 3). As to the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 2.

7 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 4(1)(b) (as substituted: see note 3).

8 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 11(1). As to the regulations made see the Removal and Disposal of Vehicles Regulations 1986, SI 1986/183; and PARA 743 note 5. See also the Removal, Storage and Disposal of Vehicles (Prescribed Sums and Charges) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/2095 (amended by SI 2008/3013).

9 'Owner', in relation to a motor vehicle which is the subject of a hiring agreement or hire-purchase agreement, includes the person entitled to possession of the vehicle under the agreement: Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 11(1). As to the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 742 note 2.

If in the case of any vehicle it appears to a local authority that more than one person is or was its owner at the relevant time, such one of them as the authority thinks fit is to be treated as its owner for the purposes of s 4(5), (6) (see the text and notes 12-13): s 4(7).

745. Recovery of expenses connected with removed vehicles.

Where a vehicle is removed¹ the appropriate authority² is entitled to recover from any person responsible³: (1) such charges as may be prescribed⁴ in respect of the removal of the vehicle⁵; (2) charges ascertained by reference to a prescribed scale in respect of any period during which the vehicle is in the custody of the authority⁶; and (3) where the vehicle is disposed of⁷, charges determined in the prescribed manner in respect of its disposal⁸. Any sum recoverable by virtue of these provisions is recoverable as a simple contract debt in any court of competent jurisdiction⁹.

1 In pursuance of the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 3(1): see PARA 743.

2 For the purposes of the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 5, 'appropriate authority' means: (1) in the case of a vehicle removed in pursuance of s 3(1) (see PARA 743) by the council of a London borough whose area is included in the area of a London waste disposal authority, that authority; (2) in the case of a vehicle so removed by the council of a metropolitan district whose area is included in the area of the Greater Manchester Waste Disposal Authority or the Merseyside Waste Disposal Authority, the authority in question; (3) in the case of a vehicle so removed by the council of a non-metropolitan district in England, the county council; and (4) in the case of a vehicle so removed by any other local authority in England or by a local authority in Wales, that local authority: s 5(4) (definition substituted by SI 1985/1884). As to the meanings of 'London waste disposal authority' and 'the area of the Greater Manchester Waste Disposal Authority' see PARA 743 note 3. As to the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 99.

3 'Person responsible', in relation to a vehicle, means: (1) the owner of the vehicle at the time when it was put in the place from which it was so removed, unless he shows that he was not concerned in and did not know of its being put there; (2) any person by whom it was put in that place; (3) any person convicted of an offence under the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 2(1) (see PARA 742) in consequence of the putting of the vehicle in that place: s 5(4).

4 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 11(1). As to the regulations made see the Removal, Storage and Disposal of Vehicles (Prescribed Sums and Charges) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/2095; and PARA 744 note 8.

5 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 5(1)(a). As to the disposal and recycling of vehicles which are waste see the End-of-Life Vehicles Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2635; and PARA 651.

6 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 5(1)(b). For these purposes: (1) a vehicle removed in pursuance of s 3(1) (see PARA 743) by the council of a London borough whose area is included in the area of a London waste disposal authority, or by the council of a metropolitan district whose area is included in the area of the Greater Manchester Waste Disposal Authority or the Merseyside Waste Disposal Authority, is to be treated as in the control of the authority in question while it was in the custody of the council by whom it was so removed; and (2) a vehicle so removed by the council of a non-metropolitan district in England is to be treated as in the custody of the county council while it was in the custody of the district council by whom it was so removed: s 5(5) (amended by the Local Government Act 1985 Sch 6 para 4, Sch 17; and SI 1985/1884).

7 In pursuance of the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 4: see PARA 744.

8 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 5(1)(c).

9 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 5(2). Without prejudice to s 5(2), the court by which a person is convicted of an offence under s 2(1) (see PARA 742) in respect of a motor vehicle may, on the application of the appropriate authority and in addition to any other order made by the court in relation to that person, order him to pay to the authority any sum which, in the opinion of the court, the authority is entitled to recover from him under s 5 in respect of the vehicle: s 5(3). As to the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 742 note 2.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/11. LITTER AND GRAFFITI/(4) CONTROL OF DUMPING OF VEHICLES AND OTHER REFUSE/746. Removal and disposal etc of other refuse.

746. Removal and disposal etc of other refuse.

Where it appears to a local authority¹ that any thing in its area, other than a motor vehicle², is abandoned without lawful authority on any land in the open air or on any other land forming part of a highway, the authority may if it thinks fit remove the thing³. A local authority is not entitled to exercise its powers under these provisions as respects a thing situated on land appearing to the authority to be occupied by any person unless the authority has given him notice that it proposes to remove the thing and he has failed to object to the proposal within the prescribed period⁴.

A local authority by whom any thing is removed in pursuance of these provisions is entitled to recover the cost of removing and disposing of it from: (1) any person by whom it was put in the place from which it was so removed⁵; or (2) any person convicted of an offence⁶ in consequence of the putting of the thing in that place⁷. Any sum recoverable by virtue of these provisions is recoverable as a simple contract debt in any court of competent jurisdiction⁸.

1 As to the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 99.

2 As to the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 742 note 2.

3 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 6(1). The provisions of the Public Health Act 1936 s 76 (with the exception of s 76(3)(a)) are applied to any thing removed in pursuance of the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 6(1) as they apply to other refuse: see s 6(3). However, the Public Health Act 1936 s 76 has been repealed by the Control of Pollution Act 1974 Sch 4. As from the relevant date, the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 6(3) is substituted so as to provide that a local authority may: (1) provide for the deposit of any thing removed by it under s 6(1); (2) provide plant and apparatus for the treatment or disposal of any thing deposited at such a place; and (3) sell or otherwise dispose of any such thing: s 6(3) (substituted by s 6(8)(a)). As to the meaning of 'relevant date' see PARA 741 note 4.

4 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 6(2) (amended by the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 34 Pt III). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 11(1). At the date at which this volume states the law no regulations had been made under this provision, but the Removal of Refuse Regulations 1967, SI 1967/1240, have effect as if so made: see the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 12(3), (4).

5 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 6(4)(a).

6 Ie under the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 2(1): see PARA 742.

7 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 6(4)(b).

8 See the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 ss 5(2), 6(6). The court by which a person is convicted of an offence under s 2(1) (see PARA 742) in respect of any thing other than a motor vehicle may, on the application of the relevant local authority and in addition to any other order made by the court in relation to that person, order him to pay to the authority any sum which, in the opinion of the court, the authority is entitled to recover from him under these provisions in respect of the thing: see ss 5(3), 6(6). As to the meaning of 'motor vehicle' see PARA 742 note 2.

747. Acquisition of land.

A local authority¹ and in England the council of a county may be authorised by the Secretary of State² to acquire land compulsorily for any of the purposes of the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978³.

1 As to the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 99.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

3 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 7 (amended by the Acquisition of Land Act 1981 Sch 4 para 1, Sch 6 Pt I; and the Local Government Act 1985 Sch 17). The Acquisition of Land Act 1981 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 501 et seq) applies to the compulsory acquisition of land under this provision: Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 7 (as so amended).

748. Powers of entry etc.

Any person duly authorised in writing by the Secretary of State¹ or a local authority² may at any reasonable time enter upon any land for the purpose of ascertaining whether certain functions under the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978³ should or may be exercised in connection with the land, or for the purpose of exercising any of those functions in connection with the land⁴.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

2 As to the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 99.

3 Ie any of the functions conferred by the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 3 (see PARA 743) or s 6 (see PARA 746): see s 8(1).

4 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 8(1). The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 325(1)-(7) (which contains supplementary provisions as to rights of entry under s 324) (see TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING vol 46(1) (Reissue) PARAS 57-58) has effect with the necessary modifications as if references to s 324 included references to the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 8(1): s 8(2) (s 8(2), (3) amended by the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 4, Sch 2 para 41).

The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 ss 320, 322, 323, 329, 330 (which relate to local inquiries, the service of notices and the furnishing of information) (see TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING) have effect as if any reference to that Act or specified provisions of that Act included a reference to the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978: s 8(3) (as so amended).

749. Orders and regulations.

Any power to make regulations conferred by the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 includes power to make provision in respect of such cases only as may be specified in the regulations and to make different provision for different circumstances¹.

Generally, an order under any provision of the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 may be revoked or varied by a subsequent order under that provision².

Any power to make regulations or an order under any provision of the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 is exercisable by statutory instrument³.

1 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 10(1).

2 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 10(2). There is an exception in the case of an order made under s 13 (see PARA 741 note 4): see s 10(2). An order under s 13 appointing a day in respect of s 1(8) (see PARA 741 note 4) or s 6(8) (see PARA 746 note 3) may be revoked or varied by an order made by the Secretary of State which comes into force before that day: s 10(3). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

3 Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 s 10(4). There are exceptions in the case of orders made under s 1(5) (see PARA 741), s 5(3) (see PARA 745), and s 1(5) as applied by s 3(9) (see PARA 743): see s 10(4).

Generally, any statutory instrument made by virtue of any provision of the Refuse Disposal (Amenity) Act 1978 is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament: s 10(5). There are exceptions in the case of: (1) an order or regulations under s 2A (see PARA 742) or regulations under s 2C (see PARA 742) made by the Welsh Ministers; or (2) an order under s 9 (see PARA 741); or (3) an order under s 13 relating to s 1(8) (see PARA 741 note 4) or s 6(8) (see PARA 746 note 3): see s 10(5) (amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 14(1), (2)).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/11. LITTER AND GRAFFITI/(5) MOTOR SALVAGE/750. Requirement of registration.

(5) MOTOR SALVAGE

750. Requirement of registration.

Any person who carries on business as a motor salvage operator in the area of a local authority¹ without being registered² for that area by the authority is guilty of an offence³. For these purposes, a person carries on business as a motor salvage operator if he carries on a business which consists: (1) wholly or partly in the recovery for re-use or sale of salvageable parts from motor vehicles⁴ and the subsequent sale or other disposal for scrap of the remainder of the vehicles concerned⁵; (2) wholly or mainly in the purchase of written-off vehicles⁶ and their subsequent repair and resale⁷; (3) wholly or mainly in the sale or purchase of motor vehicles which are to be the subject (whether immediately or on a subsequent resale) of any of the activities mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above⁸; or (4) wholly or mainly in activities falling within heads (2) and (3) above⁹.

For these purposes, a person carrying on business as a motor salvage operator is to be treated as carrying on that business in the area of a local authority if (but only if): (a) premises¹⁰ in that area are occupied by him as a motor salvage yard¹¹; (b) no premises are occupied by him as a motor salvage yard (whether in that area or elsewhere) but he has his usual place of residence in that area¹²; or (c) no premises are occupied by him as a motor salvage yard (whether in that area or elsewhere) but premises in that area are occupied by him wholly or partly for the purposes of that business so far as it consists of any of the activities mentioned in heads (1) to (4) above¹³.

A person who is registered in the register and is not carrying on business as a motor salvage operator in the area of the local authority must give notice in writing to the local authority concerned of that fact within 28 days of the beginning of the period in which he is not carrying on business in that area while registered¹⁴. A person who fails to give such notice is guilty of an offence¹⁵.

The Secretary of State¹⁶ may by order amend or repeal any provision of a private or local Act passed before or in the same session as the Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001¹⁷, if it appears to him necessary or expedient to do so in consequence of the provisions for the regulation of motor salvage operators¹⁸.

1 'Local authority' means: (1) in relation to England: (a) a unitary authority; (b) a district council so far as it is not a unitary authority; (2) in relation to Wales, a county council or a county borough council: Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 16(3). 'Unitary authority' means: (i) the council of a county so far as it is the council for an area for which there are no district councils; (ii) the council of any district comprised in an area for which there is no county council; (iii) a London borough council; (iv) the Common Council of the City of London in its capacity as a local authority; (v) the Council of the Isles of Scilly: s 16(4). As to local government areas and authorities see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 22 et seq.

2 For the purposes of the Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 Pt 1 (ss 1-16), 'registered' means registered in accordance with the provisions of Pt 1 in a register established and maintained by a local authority under s 2; and cognate expressions are to be construed accordingly: s 1(3).

3 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 1(1). Such a person is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see s 1(1). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142. As to the prosecution of offences under Pt 1 see PARA 758.

Generally see also the discussion of the legislation in relation to end-of-life vehicles at PARA 651.

4 'Motor vehicle' means any vehicle whose function is or was to be used on roads as a mechanically propelled vehicle: Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 16(1). 'Road' means any highway and any other road to which the public has access: s 16(1). As to the meaning of 'highway' generally see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES (2004 Reissue) PARA 1 et seq.

5 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 1(2)(a).

6 'Written-off motor vehicle' means a motor vehicle which is in need of substantial repair but in relation to which a decision has been made not to carry out the repairs: Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 16(1).

7 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 1(2)(b).

8 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 1(2)(c).

9 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 1(2)(d).

10 'Premises' includes any land or other place (whether or not enclosed): Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 16(1).

11 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 16(5)(a). 'Motor salvage yard' means any premises where any motor vehicles are received or kept in the course of the carrying on of business as a motor salvage operator so far as the business consists of any of the activities mentioned in s 1(2) (see heads (1)-(4) in the text) (excluding any premises where only salvageable parts of motor vehicles are so received or kept): s 16(1).

Section 16(5) has effect, in relation to any person who carries on business as a motor salvage operator in partnership with another person, as if any reference to the occupation of a place (whether as a motor salvage yard or otherwise) by a person were a reference to the occupation of that place for the purposes of the partnership by that person, alone or jointly with a member of the partnership, or by another member of the partnership alone: s 16(6).

17 The Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 received Royal Assent on 10 April 2001.

18 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 15(1). The provisions referred to in the text are those of Pt 1. Before exercising this power in relation to any Act which concerns the area of a local authority or county council, the Secretary of State must consult the local authority or county council concerned: s 15(2).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/11. LITTER AND GRAFFITI/(5) MOTOR SALVAGE/751. Registers of motor salvage operators.

751. Registers of motor salvage operators.

Every local authority¹ must establish and maintain a register for its area of persons carrying on business as motor salvage operators in that area². The register must be, subject to any requirements that may be prescribed, in such form as the local authority considers appropriate³; and each person's entry in the register must contain such particulars as may be prescribed⁴.

A person ceases to be registered in the register at the end of the period of three years beginning with the relevant day⁵ unless his registration is renewed before the end of that period⁶. Where, at the end of the period of three years beginning with the relevant day, an application for renewal of registration has been made⁷ but has not been withdrawn or finally determined, the registration of the person concerned is deemed to continue until the withdrawal or final determination of the application⁸. If the application is finally determined in favour of the applicant, the renewal is deemed to have had effect from the end of the period of three years beginning with the relevant day⁹.

A person who is registered in the register must give notice in writing to the local authority of any changes affecting his entry in the register within 28 days of the changes occurring; and the local authority must amend the register accordingly¹⁰. A person who fails to give such notice is guilty of an offence¹¹.

The local authority must secure that the contents of the register are available for inspection by members of the public at all reasonable times subject to such reasonable fees (if any) as the local authority may determine¹².

1 As to the meaning of 'local authority' for these purposes see PARA 750 note 1.

2 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 2(1).

3 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 2(2).

4 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 2(3). For these purposes, the prescribed particulars of each motor salvage operator's entry in the register are: (1) the full name and date of birth of the motor salvage operator, the full names and dates of birth of all the directors if the business is undertaken by a body corporate, or the full names and dates of birth of all the partners if the business is undertaken by a partnership; (2) the address: (a) if the operator is an individual, of his usual place of residence; (b) if the operator is a partnership, of each partner's usual place of residence; (c) if the operator is a body corporate, of its registered or principal office; and (d) of each place in the administrative area of the local authority which is occupied by the motor salvage operator wholly, mainly or partly for the purpose of carrying on a business as defined in s 1(2) (see PARA 750): Motor Salvage Operators Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1916, reg 3. 'Partnership' has the same meaning as in the Partnership Act 1890 s 1(1) (see PARTNERSHIP vol 79 (2008) PARA 1): Motor Salvage Operators Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1916, reg 2.

5 For the purposes of the Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 2(4)-(6), 'relevant day' means the day on which the person was registered or (if the registration has previously been renewed) the day from which it was last so renewed: s 2(7).

6 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 2(4). Registration must be renewed in accordance with s 3 (see PARA 752): s 2(4).

8 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 2(5). For the purposes of s 2(5) and s 2(6) (see the text and note 9), an application is taken to be finally determined: (1) in the case of the grant of a renewal of registration, when the grant is made; (2) in the case of a refusal to grant a renewal of registration, when no appeal under s 6 (see PARA 756) is possible in relation to the refusal or any such appeal has been finally determined or withdrawn: s 2(8).

11 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 11(4). See further PARA 758.

12 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 2(9). If requested by any person to do so and subject to such reasonable fee (if any) as the local authority may determine, the local authority must supply the person concerned with a copy (certified to be true) of the register or of an extract from it: s 2(10). Any such certified copy is evidence of the matters mentioned in it: s 2(11).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/11. LITTER AND GRAFFITI/(5) MOTOR SALVAGE/752. Applications for registration and renewal of registration.

752. Applications for registration and renewal of registration.

An application for registration in a register of motor salvage operators¹ for a particular area or for the renewal of such a registration must be made to the local authority² concerned in accordance with such requirements as may be prescribed³; and must be accompanied by a fee of such amount (if any) as the local authority may determine⁴.

A local authority, on receiving an application for registration or renewal in respect of the register for its area, must register, or (as the case may be) renew the registration of, the applicant in that register unless it is satisfied that he is not a fit and proper person to carry on business as a motor salvage operator⁵. In deciding whether it is so satisfied, the local authority must, in particular, have regard to whether the applicant has been convicted of any of certain offences⁶, and whether the applicant has been convicted of any offences of a description specified by the Secretary of State by order⁷.

Where a local authority has refused to register⁸ a person in the register for its area, it may refuse to consider any application for registration made by that person during the period of three years beginning with the day on which the refusal was first given⁹. Where a local authority has refused to renew a person's registration in the register for its area¹⁰, it may refuse to consider any application for registration made by that person during the period of three years beginning with the day on which the refusal became final¹¹.

The provisions above are subject to the right to make representations¹².

A person applying to be registered in the register or to renew his registration in the register must give notice in writing to the local authority of any changes affecting in a material particular the accuracy of the information which he has provided in connection with his application¹³. A person who fails to give such notice is guilty of an offence¹⁴.

1 As to the register see PARA 751.

2 As to the meaning of 'local authority' for these purposes see PARA 750 note 1.

3 An application for registration in a register for a particular area or an application for the renewal of such registration must contain the following information: (1) the full name and date of birth of the applicant, or the names and dates of birth of all the directors or partners if the applicant business is undertaken by a body corporate or a partnership; (2) the address of the usual place of residence of each applicant or director or partner of the applicant business; (3) the address of each place in the administrative area of the local authority which is occupied by the applicant wholly, mainly or partly for the purpose of carrying on a business as defined in the Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 1(2) (see PARA 750); (4) whether it is an initial application to register or an application for renewal of registration; (5) whether any previous application for registration has been refused and, if so, by which local authority, and for what reasons; (6) any convictions for any offence under Pt 1 (ss 1-16); (7) any conviction for any offence specified in an order made by the Secretary of State in pursuance of his power under s 3(4)(b) (see the text and note 7); (8) whether the applicant, or any of the directors or partners of the applicant business, is a bankrupt: Motor Salvage Operators Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1916, reg 4. 'Bankrupt' has the same meaning as in the Insolvency Act 1986 s 381 (see BANKRUPTCY AND INDIVIDUAL INSOLVENCY vol 3(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 84): Motor Salvage Operators Regulations 2002, SI 2002/1916, reg 2. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58.

4 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 3(1). A local authority may set the level of fees to be charged in respect of applications with a view to recovering the reasonable costs incurred by it in connection with the administration of Pt 1, and so that different fees are payable in different circumstances: s 3(2).

5 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 3(3). For these purposes, a local authority is satisfied that:

85 (1) a company is not a fit and proper person to carry on business as a motor salvage operator if it is satisfied that any director of the company is not a fit and proper person to carry on such a business;

86 (2) a limited liability partnership is not a fit and proper person to carry on business as a motor salvage operator if it is satisfied that any member of the partnership is not a fit and proper person to carry on such a business, and s 3(4) is to be construed accordingly: s 13.

6 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 3(4)(a). See note 5. The offences referred to in the text are any offences under Pt 1. References in Pt 1 to offences under Pt 1 include references to anything which is an offence by virtue of s 7(3), (4) (see PARA 756) or s 8(2), (3) (notification of destruction of motor vehicles): s 16(7).

The Secretary of State may by regulations provide for the notification by registered persons of the destruction of motor vehicle: s 8(1). Such regulations may specify provisions of the regulations as provisions to which s 8(3) applies: s 8(2). A person who contravenes any provision to which this provision applies is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale: s 8(3). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142. At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made.

7 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 3(4)(b). See note 5. The following offences are specified for these purposes: (1) theft or attempted theft of or from a motor vehicle, contrary to the Theft Act 1968 s 1 (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(1) (2006 Reissue) PARA 282); (2) aggravated vehicle-taking, contrary to s 12A (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(1) (2006 Reissue) PARA 299); (3) handling stolen goods, contrary to s 22 (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(1) (2006 Reissue) PARA 302); (4) going equipped to steal or take a motor vehicle, contrary to s 23 (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(1) (2006 Reissue) PARA 305); (5) interference with a motor vehicle, contrary to the Criminal Attempts Act 1981 s 9 (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(1) (2006 Reissue) PARA 300); (6) tampering with a motor vehicle, contrary to the Road Traffic Act 1988 s 25 (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(2) (2006 Reissue) PARA 1049); Motor Salvage Operators (Specified Offences) Order 2002, SI 2002/1917, art 2.

753. Cancellation of registration.

A local authority¹ may cancel a person's registration in the register of motor salvage operators² for its area if it is satisfied that he is not a fit and proper person to carry on business as a motor salvage operator³. In deciding whether it is so satisfied, the local authority must have regard, in particular, to the matters to which it must have regard⁴ on an application for registration or renewal of registration⁵. A local authority may cancel a person's registration in the register for its area if it is satisfied that he is not carrying on business as a motor salvage operator in that area and has not, while registered, been doing so for at least 28 days⁶.

A cancellation under these provisions does not have effect: (1) if no appeal is brought⁷, before the end of the period of 21 days⁸; (2) if an appeal is brought⁹, before the final determination or withdrawal of the appeal¹⁰.

Where a local authority has cancelled a person's registration in the register for its area, it may refuse to consider any application for registration made by that person during the period of three years beginning with the day on which the cancellation had effect¹¹.

The provisions above are subject to the right to make representations¹².

2 As to the register see PARA 751.

3 Vehicles (Crime) Act 2001 s 4(1). For these purposes, a local authority is satisfied that:

87 (1) a company is not a fit and proper person to carry on business as a motor salvage operator if it is satisfied that any director of the company is not a fit and proper person to carry on such a business;

88 (2) a limited liability partnership is not a fit and proper person to carry on business as a motor salvage operator if it is satisfied that any member of the partnership is not a fit and proper person to carry on such a business,

754. Right to make representations.

A local authority¹ must not:

- 1782 (1) refuse to register a person who has made an application² for registration in the register of motor salvage operators³ for its area⁴;
- 1783 (2) refuse to renew the registration of a person who has made an application⁵ for renewal of registration in the register for its area⁶; or
- 1784 (3) cancel a person's registration in the register for its area, unless it has complied with the following provisions⁷.

The local authority must serve a notice in writing on the person concerned stating: (a) what it is proposing to do⁸; (b) the reasons for it⁹; and (c) the period¹⁰ within which the person concerned may by notice require it to give him an opportunity to make representations about the proposal or inform it that he does not wish to make any such representations¹¹.

Where a notice has been so served by the local authority, it must not proceed with its proposed refusal or (as the case may be) cancellation until: (i) the person concerned has made representations about it or informed it that he does not wish to make any such representations¹²; (ii) the period mentioned in head (c) above has passed without the local authority being required to give the person concerned an opportunity to make representations or without it being informed that he does not wish to make any representations¹³; or (iii) the following conditions are satisfied¹⁴. The conditions are that: (A) the person concerned has required the local authority to give him an opportunity to make representations¹⁵ to it about the proposal¹⁶; (B) the local authority has allowed him a reasonable period to make his representations¹⁷; and (C) he has failed to make them within that period¹⁸. If the person concerned informs the local authority that he desires to make oral representations, the local authority must give him an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the local authority¹⁹. If the local authority decides to proceed with its proposed refusal or (as the case may be) cancellation, it must serve a notice in writing on the person concerned informing him of its decision to proceed and of the refusal or cancellation²⁰. Such a notice must also inform the person concerned of his right to appeal²¹ against the refusal or cancellation²²; the time within which such an appeal may be brought²³; and in the case of a cancellation, the date on which the cancellation is to have effect²⁴.

755. Appeals.

An appeal against: (1) a refusal by a local authority¹ to register in the register of motor salvage operators² for its area a person who has made an application for registration³; (2) a refusal by a local authority to renew the registration in that register of a person who has made an application for renewal of registration⁴; or (3) the cancellation by a local authority of a person's registration in that register⁵, may be brought to a magistrates' court⁶. Such an appeal must be brought within the period of 21 days beginning with the day on which the person concerned is served with a decision notice⁷.

On an appeal under these provisions, the magistrates' court concerned may confirm, vary or reverse the local authority's decision and generally give such directions as it considers appropriate having regard to the provisions for the regulation of motor salvage operators⁸. It is the duty of the local authority to comply with any such directions but it need not comply with any directions given by the court until the time for making an application by way of case stated⁹ has passed or, if such an application is made, until the final determination or withdrawal of the application¹⁰.

756. Keeping of records.

The Secretary of State may by regulations provide for the keeping of records by registered¹, including formerly registered, persons².

For these purposes, registered persons must keep the records set out below³. When a registered person receives any vehicle he must make and keep a record of the following information: (1) details of the vehicle registration number, vehicle identification number, make, model and colour of the vehicle⁴; (2) the name, address and contact details of the supplier of the vehicle⁵; (3) details of any proof of identity shown to the registered person by, or on behalf of the supplier of the vehicle, to establish the identity of the vehicle supplier, including whether any document produced was a United Kingdom photocard driver's licence, a passport, a utility bill, council tax bill or rent book, or other form of identification containing a photograph of the vehicle supplier⁶; (4) the general condition of the vehicle including details of the type of damage to the vehicle (for example, whether the damage has been caused by fire, water or impact) and the part of the vehicle damaged⁷; (5) the date on which the information referred to in heads (1) to (4) above was entered on the record⁸.

When a registered person sells or otherwise disposes of any vehicle, he must add the following pieces of information to the record made under heads (1) to (5) above: (a) the date of sale or other disposal of the vehicle⁹; (b) the name, address, and contact details of the person receiving the vehicle¹⁰; (c) details of any proof of identity shown to the registered person by, or on behalf of, the purchaser of the vehicle, to establish the identity of the person receiving the vehicle, including whether any document produced was a United Kingdom photocard driver's licence, a passport, a utility bill, council tax bill or rent book, or other form of identification containing a photograph of the vehicle purchaser¹¹; (d) the condition of the vehicle at the time of the sale or other disposal (for example, whether it was repaired, unrepaired, dismantled, or in the same condition as at purchase)¹²; (e) the date when the information referred to in heads (a) to (d) above was entered on the record¹³.

The records referred to above must be kept for a period of six years from the date of the last entry on the record for the vehicle¹⁴.

A person who contravenes¹⁵ the requirements imposed by head (1), (2), (5), (a), (b) or (e) above is guilty of an offence¹⁶.

757. Rights to enter and inspect premises.

A constable¹ may at any reasonable time enter and inspect premises² for the time being entered in a local authority's register of motor salvage operators³ as premises which are occupied as a motor salvage yard⁴ by a person carrying on business as a motor salvage operator⁵, or occupied by a person carrying on business as a motor salvage operator wholly or partly for the purposes of his business so far as it consists of any of the specified activities⁶. A constable may at any reasonable time: (1) require production of, and inspect, any motor vehicles⁷ or salvageable parts kept at premises described above⁸; and (2) require production of, inspect, and take copies of or extracts from any records which the person carrying on business as a motor salvage operator is required to keep at such premises by virtue of the provisions for the regulation of motor salvage operators⁹.

Where, on an application made by a constable, a justice of the peace is satisfied that admission to premises specified in the application is reasonably required in order to secure compliance with those provisions, or to ascertain whether those provisions are being complied with, he may issue a warrant authorising a constable to enter and inspect the premises concerned¹⁰.

A constable is not entitled to use force to enter premises in the exercise of his powers¹¹ of entry and inspection of premises but may if necessary use reasonable force in the exercise of his powers under a warrant¹². A constable, in seeking to enter any premises¹³, must, if required by or on behalf of the owner or occupier or person in charge of the premises, produce evidence of his identity, and of his authority for entering, before doing so¹⁴.

758. Other offences.

A person who, in making an application to be registered in a local authority's register of motor salvage operators¹ or to renew his registration in such a register: (1) makes a statement which he knows to be false in a material particular²; or (2) recklessly makes a statement which is false in a material particular³, is guilty of an offence⁴.

A person who fails to give notice to a local authority in accordance with notification requirements⁵ is guilty of an offence⁶.

Any person who, on selling a motor vehicle⁷ to a person who is in the course of carrying on business as a motor salvage operator so far as it consists of any of specified activities⁸, gives that person a false name or address is guilty of an offence⁹.

Proceedings for an offence under the provisions for the regulation of motor salvage operators¹⁰ may not be instituted except: (a) by a local authority or a constable¹¹; or (b) in any other case, with the consent of the Attorney General¹².

(6) ACCUMULATIONS OF RUBBISH

759. Accumulations of rubbish.

If it appears to a local authority¹ that there is on any land² in the open air in its area any rubbish³ which is seriously detrimental to the amenities of the neighbourhood, the local authority may take such steps for removing the rubbish as it may consider necessary in the interests of amenity⁴.

Not less than 28 days before taking any action under these provisions, the local authority must serve on the owner⁵ and occupier of the land a notice stating the steps which it proposes to take and giving particulars of the following provisions⁶; and a person on whom the notice is served and any other person having an interest in the land may within 28 days from the service of the notice:

- 1785 (1) serve a counter-notice on the local authority stating that he intends to take those steps himself⁷; or
- 1786 (2) appeal to a magistrates' court on the ground that the local authority was not justified in concluding that action should be taken under these provisions, or that the steps proposed to be taken are unreasonable⁸.

If a counter-notice is served, the local authority may take no further action in the matter under these provisions unless the person who served the counter-notice either: (a) fails within what seems to the local authority a reasonable time to begin to take the steps stated in the notice⁹; or (b) having begun to take those steps fails to make such progress towards their completion as seems to the local authority reasonable¹⁰.

If an appeal is brought, the local authority may take no further action in the matter under these provisions until the appeal is finally determined or withdrawn¹¹; and, on the hearing of the appeal, the court may direct the local authority to take no further action or may permit the local authority to take such steps as the court may direct or may dismiss the appeal¹².

12. CONTAMINATED LAND

760. Common law.

Although controls on contaminated land took a while to develop¹, they were mostly focused on legislative controls² which for the most part deal with current contamination. Historical contamination³ is another matter and courts generally have been reluctant to develop the common law as a means of dealing with this due to the extensive framework of environmental legislation⁴. The scope for using the common law in regard to historical contamination is limited as the duty of care in negligence or a duty not to cause a nuisance must be owed to specific persons⁵.

Despite some suggestions that the Human Rights Act 1998 may be of potential assistance⁶, there remains the requirement that any damage must be reasonably foreseeable at the time at which the pollution causing the contamination occurred⁷. Although scientific knowledge has developed considerably, much historic contamination would not be actionable simply because it would not have been actionable at the time it occurred. Whatever the scientific developments that might assist matters further, contaminating incidents are less likely to arise due to the preventive pollution control regimes in place⁸. In short, unless statutory schemes are introduced specifically tackling historic contamination, the common law here remains of limited application.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/12. CONTAMINATED LAND/761. Meanings of 'contaminated land' and 'special site'.

761. Meanings of 'contaminated land' and 'special site'.

For the purposes of Part IIA of the Environmental Protection Act 1990¹, 'contaminated land' is any land which appears to the local authority² in whose area it is situated to be in such a condition, by reason of substances³ in, on or under the land, that: (1) significant harm⁴ is being caused or there is a significant possibility of such harm being caused⁵; or (2) pollution of controlled waters⁶ is being, or is likely to be, caused⁷.

Where it appears to a local authority that two or more different sites, when considered together, are in such a condition, by reason of substances in, on or under the land, that:

- 1787 (a) significant harm is being caused or there is a significant possibility of such harm being caused⁸; or
- 1788 (b) pollution of controlled waters is being, or is likely to be, caused⁹,

Part IIA of the Environmental Protection Act 1990¹⁰ applies in relation to each of those sites, whether or not the condition of the land at any of them, when considered alone, appears to the authority to be such that significant harm is being caused, or there is a significant possibility of such harm being caused, or that pollution of controlled waters is being or is likely to be caused¹¹.

Where it appears to a local authority that any land outside, but adjoining or adjacent to, its area is in such a condition, by reason of substances in, on or under the land, that significant harm is being caused, or there is a significant possibility of such harm being caused, or that pollution of controlled waters is being, or is likely to be, caused within its area, then the authority may, in exercising its functions under Part IIA of the Environmental Protection Act 1990¹² treat the land as if it were land situated within its area¹³; but this is without prejudice to the functions of the local authority in whose area the land is in fact situated¹⁴.

A 'special site' is any contaminated land: (i) which has been designated¹⁵ as such a site¹⁶; and (ii) whose designation as such has not been terminated¹⁷ by the Environment Agency¹⁸.

1 le the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IIA (ss 78A-78YC). This Part was originally added by the Environment Act 1995 s 57. In so far as s 57 confers power on the Secretary of State to make regulations or orders, give directions or issue guidance, or makes provision with respect to the exercise of any such power, it was brought into force on 21 September 1995 by the Environment Act 1995 (Commencement No 1) Order 1995, SI 1995/1983. In so far as it was not already in force, the Environment Act 1995 s 57 was brought into force in England on 1 April 2000 by the Environment Act 1995 (Commencement No 16 and Saving Provision) (England) Order 2000, SI 2000/340, and in Wales on 15 September 2001 by the Environment Act 1995 (Commencement No 20 and Saving Provision) (Wales) Order 2001, SI 2001/3211 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59. As to the application of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IIA to the Isles of Scilly see s 78Y (as so added).

2 As to the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 99.

3 'Substance' means any natural or artificial substance, whether in solid or liquid form or in the form of a gas or vapour: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78A(1), (9) (as added: see note 1). A person who has caused or knowingly permitted any substance ('substance A') to be in, on or under any land must also be taken for the purposes of these provisions to have caused or knowingly permitted there to be in, on or under that land any substance which is there as a result of a chemical reaction or biological process affecting substance A: see the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F(9); and PARA 767 note 6.

As to modifications of ss 78A, 78F(9) for the purpose of the identification and remediation of radioactive contaminated land see the Radioactive Contaminated Land (Modification of Enactments) (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1379, regs 5, 9 (both substituted by SI 2007/3245).

4 'Harm' means harm to the health of living organisms or other interference with the ecological systems of which they form part and, in the case of man, includes harm to his property: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78A(1), (4) (as added: see note 1).

The questions:

- 89 (1) what harm is to be regarded as 'significant';
- 90 (2) whether the possibility of significant harm being caused is 'significant';
- 91 (3) whether pollution of controlled waters is being, or is likely to be caused, must be determined in accordance with guidance issued for the purpose by the Secretary of State in accordance with s 78YA (see PARA 786): s 78A(1), (5) (as so added). As from a day to be appointed, s 78A(5) is amended so as to remove head (3) above; and so as to refer in head (1) above to harm or pollution of controlled waters and in head (2) above to significant harm or significant pollution of controlled waters: see s 78A(5) (prospectively amended by the Water Act 2003 s 86(1), (2)(b)(i)-(iii), Sch 9 Pt 3). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

Without prejudice to the guidance that may be issued under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78A(5), guidance under head (1) above may make provision for different degrees of importance to be assigned to, or for the disregard of:

- 92 (a) different descriptions of living organisms or ecological systems;
- 93 (b) different descriptions of places; or
- 94 (c) different descriptions of harm to health or property, or other interference, and guidance under head (2) above may make provision for different degrees of possibility to be regarded as 'significant' (or as not being 'significant') in relation to different descriptions of significant harm: s 78A(1), (6) (as so added). As from a day to be appointed, s 78A(6) is amended so as also to refer in head (a) above to different descriptions of poisonous, noxious or polluting matter or solid waste matter, and in head (b) above to different descriptions of controlled waters or different degrees of pollution; and so that the guidance may make provision for different degrees of possibility to be regarded as 'significant' (or as not being 'significant') in relation to different descriptions of significant harm or of significant pollution: see s 78A(6) (prospectively amended by the Water Act 2003 s 86(1), (2)(c)(i)-(iii)). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

See note 3.

5 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78A(1), (2)(a) (as added: see note 1). See note 3.

6 'Pollution of controlled waters' means the entry into controlled waters of any poisonous, noxious or polluting matter or any solid waste matter: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78A(1), (9) (as added: see note 1). 'Controlled waters', in relation to England and Wales, has the same meaning as in the Water Resources Act 1991 Pt III (ss 82-104) (see PARA 289) except that 'ground waters' does not include waters contained in underground strata but above the saturation zone: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78A(1), (9) (as so added; definition amended by the Water Act 2003 s 86(1), (2)(f)). See note 3. As to pollution of water generally see PARA 270 et seq.

Controlled waters are 'affected by' contaminated land if (and only if) it appears to the enforcing authority that the contaminated land in question is, for the purposes of s 78A(2), in such a condition, by reason of substances in, on or under the land, that pollution of those waters is being, or is likely to be caused: s 78A(1), (8) (as so added). As from a day to be appointed, s 78A(8) is amended so as to refer to 'significant' pollution: see s 78A(8) (prospectively amended by the Water Act 2003 s 86(1), (2)(e)). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

'Enforcing authority' means: (1) in relation to a special site (see the text and notes 8-11), the appropriate agency; (2) in relation to contaminated land other than a special site, the local authority in whose area the land is situated: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78A(1), (9) (as so added). 'Appropriate agency' means, in relation to England and Wales, the Environment Agency: s 78A(1), (9) (as so added). As to the Environment Agency see PARA 68 et seq.

See note 3.

7 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78A(1), (2)(b) (as added: see note 1). As from a day to be appointed, s 78A(2)(b) is substituted so as to refer to 'significant' pollution of such waters being caused or a 'significant' possibility of such pollution being caused: see s 78A(2)(b) (prospectively substituted by the Water Act 2003 s 86(1), (2)(a)). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

In determining whether any land appears to be such land, a local authority must, subject to the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78A(5) (see note 4), act in accordance with guidance issued by the Secretary of State in accordance with s 78YA (see PARA 786) with respect to the manner in which that determination is to be made: s 78A(1), (2) (as so added). As to guidance on the meaning of contaminated land see Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs (DEFRA) Guidance on the Legal Definition of Contaminated Land (2008); and the relevant website which was, at the date at which this volume states the law, www.defra.gov.uk.

See note 3.

The Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IIA does not apply if and to the extent that (1) any significant harm, or pollution of controlled waters, by reason of which land would otherwise fall to be regarded as contaminated, is attributable to the operation of a regulated facility; and (2) enforcement action may be taken in relation to that harm or pollution: s 78YB(1) (substituted for former s 78YB(1)-(2C) by SI 2007/3538). For these purposes, as to the meaning of 'regulated facility' see PARA 663 note 1; definition applied by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78YB(5) (added by SI 2007/3538). 'Enforcement action' means action under the Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538, reg 36 (see PARA 672), reg 37 (see PARA 673) or reg 42 (see PARA 674): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78YB(5) (as so added).

As to modifications of s 78YB for the purpose of the identification and remediation of radioactive contaminated land see the Radioactive Contaminated Land (Modification of Enactments) (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1379, reg 17 (substituted by SI 2008/520).

9 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78X(1)(b) (as added: see note 1). As from a day to be appointed, s 78X(1)(b) is substituted so as to refer to 'significant' pollution of such waters being caused or a 'significant' possibility of such pollution being caused: see s 78X(1)(b) (prospectively substituted by the Water Act 2003 s 86(1), (6)(a)(i)). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. See note 8.

10 See note 1.

11 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78X(1) (as added: see note 1). As from a day to be appointed, s 78X(1) is amended so as to refer to 'significant' pollution of controlled waters being caused or a 'significant' possibility of such harm or pollution being caused: see s 78X(1) (prospectively amended by the Water Act 2003 s 86(1), (6)(a)(ii)). Where this provision applies, any reference (except in this provision) to land within the area of a local authority or to the local authority in whose area any land is situated is to be construed accordingly: s 78X(2)(b) (as so added). As from a day to be appointed, s 78X(2) is amended so as to refer to 'significant' pollution of controlled waters being caused or a 'significant' possibility of such harm or pollution being caused: see s 78X(2) (prospectively amended by the Water Act 2003 s 86(1), (6)(b)). 762. Identification of contaminated land.

Every local authority¹ must cause its area to be inspected from time to time² for the purpose:

- 1789 (1) of identifying contaminated land³; and
- 1790 (2) of enabling the authority to decide whether any such land is land which is required to be designated as a special site⁴.

In performing these functions a local authority must act in accordance with any guidance issued⁵ for the purpose by the Secretary of State⁶.

If a local authority identifies any contaminated land in its area, it must give notice⁷ of that fact to:

- 1791 (a) the Environment Agency⁸;
- 1792 (b) the owner⁹ of the land¹⁰;
- 1793 (c) any person who appears to the authority to be in occupation of the whole or any part of the land¹¹; and
- 1794 (d) each person who appears to the authority to be an appropriate person¹².

Any notice so given must state by virtue of which of heads (a) to (d) above it is given¹³.

If, at any time after a local authority has given any person a notice pursuant to head (d) above in respect of any land, it appears to the enforcing authority¹⁴ that another person is an appropriate person, the enforcing authority must give notice to that other person:

- 1795 (i) of the fact that the local authority has identified the land in question as contaminated land¹⁵; and
- 1796 (ii) that he appears to the enforcing authority to be an appropriate person¹⁶.

763. Identification and designation of special sites.

If at any time it appears to a local authority¹ that any contaminated land² in its area might be land which is required to be designated as a special site³, the authority:

- 1797 (1) must decide whether or not the land is land which is required to be so designated⁴; and
- 1798 (2) if the authority decides that the land is land which is required to be so designated, must give notice⁵ of that decision to the relevant persons⁶.

For these purposes, the 'relevant persons' at any time in the case of any land are the persons who at that time fall within heads (a) to (d) below⁷, that is to say:

- 1799 (a) the Environment Agency⁸;
- 1800 (b) the owner⁹ of the land¹⁰;
- 1801 (c) any person who appears to the local authority concerned to be in occupation of the whole or any part of the land¹¹; and
- 1802 (d) each person who appears to that authority to be an appropriate person¹².

If at any time the Environment Agency considers that any contaminated land is land which is required to be designated as a special site, the Environment Agency may give notice of that fact to the local authority in whose area the land is situated¹³. Where such a notice is given to a local authority, the authority must decide whether the land in question:

- 1803 (i) is land which is required to be designated as a special site¹⁴; or
- 1804 (ii) is not land which is required to be so designated¹⁵, and must give notice of that decision to the relevant persons¹⁶.

Where a local authority makes a decision falling within head (2) or head (i) above, the decision takes effect¹⁷ on the day after whichever of the following events first occurs¹⁸, that is to say:

- 1805 (A) the expiration of the period of 21 days beginning with the day on which the notice required by virtue of head (2) above or, as the case may be, head (i) above is given to the Environment Agency¹⁹; or
- 1806 (B) if the appropriate agency gives notification²⁰ to the local authority in question that it agrees with the decision, the giving of that notification²¹.

Where a decision takes effect by virtue of these provisions, the local authority must give notice of that fact to the relevant persons²². Where a decision that any land is land which is required to be designated as a special site takes effect in accordance with these provisions²³, the notice given under head (2) above or, as the case may be, head (i) above has effect, as from the time when the decision takes effect, as the designation of that land as such a site²⁴.

¹ As to the meaning of 'local authority' see PARA 99.

2 As to the meaning of 'contaminated land' see PARA 761.

3 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78C(1) (ss 78A, 78C, 78X added by the Environment Act 1995 s 57). As to the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IIA (ss 78A-78YC) generally see PARA 761 note 1. As to the meaning of 'special site' see PARA 761.

For the purposes of Pt IIA, land is required to be designated as a special site if, and only if, it is land of a description prescribed for the purposes of s 78C(8): ss 78A(1), (9), 78C(8) (as so added). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: s 78A(1), (9) (as so added). 'Regulations' means regulations made by the Secretary of State: s 78A(1), (9) (as so added). Regulations may make different provision for different cases or circumstances (s 78X(5) (as so added)), and regulations under s 78C(8) may also make different provision for different areas or localities and may, in particular, describe land by reference to the area or locality in which it is situated (s 78C(9) (as so added)). Without prejudice to the generality of his power to prescribe any description of land for the purposes of s 78C(8), the Secretary of State, in deciding whether to prescribe a particular description of contaminated land for those purposes, may, in particular, have regard to:

95 (1) whether land of the description in question appears to him to be land which is likely to be in such a condition, by reason of substances in, on or under the land that: (a) serious harm would or might be caused; or (b) serious pollution of controlled waters would be, or would be likely to be, caused (s 78C(10)(a) (as so added)); or 96 (2) whether the Environment Agency is likely to have expertise in dealing with the kind of significant harm, or pollution of controlled waters, by reason of which land of the description in question is contaminated land (s 78C(10)(b) (as so added)).

As to the meaning of 'substance' see PARA 761 note 3. As to the meaning of 'harm' see PARA 761 note 4. As to what constitutes significant harm see PARA 761 note 4. 4 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78C(1)(a) (as added: see note 3). Before making such a decision in any particular case, a local authority must request the advice of the Environment Agency, and in making its decision must have regard to any advice given by the Environment Agency in response to the request: s 78C(3) (as so added).

764. Land required to be designated as a special site.

Contaminated land¹ of the following descriptions is prescribed in relation to England² as land required to be designated as a special site³:

- 1807 (1) certain land affecting controlled waters⁴;
- 1808 (2) land which is contaminated land by reason of waste acid tars in, on or under the land⁵;
- 1809 (3) land on which any of the following activities have been carried on at any time: (a) the purification (including refining) of crude petroleum or of oil extracted from petroleum, shale or any other bituminous substance except coal⁶; or (b) the manufacture or processing of explosives⁷;
- 1810 (4) land on which a prescribed process⁸ designated for central control⁹ has been or is being carried on under an authorisation¹⁰ where the process does not comprise solely things being done which are required by way of remediation¹¹;
- 1811 (5) land on which an activity has been or is being carried on in a Part A(1) installation or by means of Part A(1) mobile plant under a permit where the activity does not comprise solely things being done which are required by way of remediation¹²;
- 1812 (6) land within a nuclear site¹³;
- 1813 (7) land owned or occupied by or on behalf of the Secretary of State for Defence, the Defence Council, an international headquarters or defence organisation¹⁴, or the service authority of a visiting force¹⁵, being land used for naval, military or air force purposes¹⁶;
- 1814 (8) land on which the manufacture, production or disposal of:
 - 175 140. (a) chemical weapons¹⁷;
 - 141. (b) certain biological agents or toxins¹⁸; or
 - 142. (c) certain weapons, equipment or means of delivery¹⁹,
- 176 1815 has been carried on at any time²⁰;
- 1816 (9) land comprising premises which are or were designated by the Secretary of State by an order relating to arrangements for development of nuclear devices²¹;
- 1817 (10) certain land held for the benefit of Greenwich Hospital²²;
- 1818 (11) land which is contaminated land wholly or partly by virtue of any radioactivity possessed by any substance in, on or under that land²³; and
- 1819 (12) land which: (a) is adjoining or adjacent to land of a description specified in heads (2) to (11) above; and (b) is contaminated land by virtue of substances which appear to have escaped from land of such a description²⁴.

1 As to the meaning of 'contaminated land' see PARA 761.

2 Ie for the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78C(8): see PARA 763.

As to the descriptions of land prescribed in relation to Wales see the Contaminated Land (Wales) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2989, regs 2, 3 (reg 2 amended by SI 2007/3538).

3 As to the meaning of 'special site' see PARA 761.

4 The land to which the Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 3 applies: reg 2(1)(a). As to the meaning of 'controlled waters' see PARA 761 note 6.

Regulation 3 applies to land where: (1) controlled waters which are, or are intended to be, used solely for the supply of drinking water for human consumption are being affected by land and, as a result, require a treatment process or a change in such a process to be applied to those waters before use, so as to be regarded as wholesome within the meaning of the Water Industry Act 1991 Pt III (ss 37-93) (see WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 100 (2009) PARA 373); (2) controlled waters are being affected by the land and, as a result, those waters do not meet or are not likely to meet the criterion for classification applying to the relevant description of waters specified in regulations made under the Water Resources Act 1991 s 82 (see PARA 330); or (3) controlled waters are being affected by the land and (a) any of the substances by reason of which the pollution of waters is being or is likely to be caused falls within any of the families or groups of substances listed in the Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 1 para 1; and (b) the waters, or any part of the waters, are contained within underground strata which comprise wholly or partly any of the formations of rocks listed in Sch 1 para 2: reg 3. The families or groups of substances referred to above are: organohalogen compounds and substances which may form such compounds in the aquatic environment; organophosphorus compounds; organotin compounds; substances which possess carcinogenic, mutagenic or teratogenic properties in or via the aquatic environment; mercury and its compounds; cadmium and its compounds; mineral oil and other hydrocarbons; cyanides: Sch 1 para 1. The formations of rocks referred to above are: Pleistocene Norwich Crag; Upper Cretaceous Chalk; Lower Cretaceous Sandstones; Upper Jurassic Corallian; Middle Jurassic Limestones; Lower Jurassic Cotteswold Sands; Permo-Triassic Sherwood Sandstone Group; Upper Permian Magnesian Limestone; Lower Permian Penrith Sandstone; Lower Permian Collyhurst Sandstone; Lower Permian Basal Breccias, Conglomerates and Sandstones; Lower Carboniferous Limestones: Sch 1 para 2.

5 Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(b). For these purposes, 'waste acid tars' are tars which: (1) contain sulphuric acid; (2) were produced as a result of the refining of benzole, used lubricants or petroleum; and (3) are or were stored on land used as a retention basin for the disposal of such tars: reg 2(2).

6 Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(c)(i).

7 Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(c)(ii).

8 As to the meaning of 'prescribed process' see PARA 159 note 2; definition applied by the Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(3).

9 The reference to designation for central control is a reference to designation under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 2(4) (prospectively repealed) (see PARA 159): Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(3).

10 As to the meaning of 'authorisation' see PARA 159 note 3; definition applied by the Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(3).

11 Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(d). As to the meaning of 'remediation' under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IIA (ss 78A-78YC) see PARA 766. As to the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IIA generally see PARA 761 note 1.

12 Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(e). As to the meanings of 'Part A(1) installation', 'Part A(1) mobile plant' and 'permit' (ie 'environmental permit') see PARAS 663 note 1, 664; definitions applied by the Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(4) (substituted by SI 2007/3538).

13 Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(f). For these purposes, 'nuclear site' means: (1) any site in respect of which, or part of which, a nuclear site licence is for the time being in force; or (2) any site in respect of which, or part of which, after the revocation or surrender of a nuclear site licence, the period of responsibility of the licensee has not come to an end: reg 2(5). 'Nuclear site licence', 'licensee' and 'period of responsibility' have the meanings given by the Nuclear Installations Act 1965 (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1357 et seq): Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(6).

14 'International headquarters' and 'defence organisation' mean, respectively, any international headquarters or defence organisation designated for the purposes of the International Headquarters and Defence Organisations Act 1964 (see ARMED FORCES vol 2(2) (Reissue) PARA 150): Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(7). As to the Secretary of State for Defence see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 441; and as to the Defence Council see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS PARA 444.

15 'Service authority' and 'visiting force' have the same meanings as in the Visiting Forces Act 1952 Pt I (ss 1-12) (see ARMED FORCES vol 2(2) (Reissue) PARAS 140, 143): Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(8).

16 Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(g). For these purposes, land used for residential purposes or by the Navy, Army and Air Force Institutes (NAAFI) is to be treated as land used for naval, military or air force purposes only if the land forms part of a base occupied for naval, military or air force purposes: reg 2(7).

17 Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(h)(i). 'Chemical weapon' has the same meaning as in the Chemical Weapons Act 1996 s 1 (see WAR AND ARMED CONFLICT vol 49(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 474): Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(9).

18 Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(h)(ii). This provision refers to any biological agent or toxin which falls within the Biological Weapons Act 1974 s 1(1)(a) (see WAR AND ARMED CONFLICT vol 49(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 469): Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(h)(ii).

19 Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(h)(iii). This provision refers to any weapon, equipment or means of delivery which falls within the Biological Weapons Act 1974 s 1(1)(b) (see WAR AND ARMED CONFLICT vol 49(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 469): Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(h)(iii).

20 Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(h).

21 Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(i). This provision refers to an order made under the Atomic Weapons Establishment Act 1991 s 1(1) (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1387): Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(i). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58.

22 Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(j). This provision refers to land to which the Armed Forces Act 1996 s 30 applies: Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(j).

23 Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 2(1)(k).

765. Referral of special site decisions to the Secretary of State.

In any case where:

- 1820 (1) a local authority¹ gives notice of a decision² to the Environment Agency³;
but 1821 (2) before the expiration of the period of 21 days beginning with the day on which that notice is so given, the Environment Agency gives the local authority notice that it disagrees with the decision, together with a statement of its reasons for disagreeing⁴, the authority must refer the decision to the Secretary of State and must send to him a statement of its reasons for reaching the decision⁵.

Where a local authority refers a decision to the Secretary of State, it must give notice of that fact to the relevant persons⁶.

Where a decision of a local authority is referred to the Secretary of State, he may confirm or reverse the decision with respect to the whole or any part of the land to which it relates⁷. He must give notice of his decision on the referral to the relevant persons and to the local authority⁸.

Where a decision of a local authority is referred to the Secretary of State, the decision does not take effect until the day after that on which the Secretary of State gives notice of his decision on the referral to the persons mentioned above⁹, and then takes effect as confirmed or reversed by him¹⁰. Where a decision which takes effect in accordance with this provision is to the effect that at least some land is land which is required to be designated as a special site¹¹, the notice of the decision on the referral¹² has effect, as from the time when the decision takes effect, as the designation of that land as such a site¹³.

- 1822 (1) any land has been designated¹ as a special site²; or
- 1823 (2) a local authority³ has identified any contaminated land⁴ (other than a special site) in its area⁵, the enforcing authority⁶ is to serve⁷ on each person who is an appropriate person⁸ a notice (a 'remediation notice')⁹ specifying what that person is to do by way of remediation¹⁰ and the periods within which he is required to do each of the things so specified¹¹. Different remediation notices requiring the doing of different things by way of remediation may be served on different persons in consequence of the presence of different substances¹² in, on or under any land or waters¹³. Where two or more persons are appropriate persons in relation to any particular thing which is to be done by way of remediation, the remediation notice served on each of them must state the proportion¹⁴ of the cost of doing that thing which each of them respectively is liable to bear¹⁵. The enforcing authority must, at the same time as it serves a remediation notice, send a copy of it to each of the following persons, not being a person on whom the notice is to be served: (a) any person who was required to be consulted¹⁶ before service of the notice¹⁷; (b) where the local authority is the enforcing authority, the Environment Agency¹⁸; and (c) where the Environment Agency is the enforcing authority, the local authority in whose area the contaminated land in question is situated¹⁹.

The only things by way of remediation which the enforcing authority may do, or require to be done, under or by virtue of these provisions are things which it considers reasonable²⁰, having regard to: (i) the cost which is likely to be involved²¹; and (ii) the seriousness of the harm, or pollution of controlled waters, in question²².

In determining for any purpose of these provisions:

- 1824 (A) what is to be done (whether by an appropriate person, the enforcing authority or any other person) by way of remediation in any particular case²³;
- 1825 (B) the standard to which any land is, or waters are, to be remediated pursuant to the notice²⁴; or
- 1826 (C) what is, or is not, to be regarded as reasonable²⁵, the enforcing authority must have regard to any guidance issued for the purpose by the Secretary of State²⁶.

9 Environmental Protection Act 1990 ss 78A(1), (9), 78E(1) (as added: see note 2).

10 'Remediation' means:

97 (1) the doing of anything for the purpose of assessing the condition of: (a) the contaminated land in question; (b) any controlled waters affected by that land; or (c) any land adjoining or adjacent to that land (Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78A(1), (7)(a) (as added: see note 2));

98 (2) the doing of any works, the carrying out of any operations or the taking of any steps in relation to any such land or waters for the purpose: (a) of preventing or minimising, or remedying or mitigating the effects of, any significant harm, or any pollution of controlled waters, by reason of which the contaminated land is such land; or (b) of restoring the land or waters to their former state (s 78A(1), (7)(b) (as so added)); or

99 (3) the making of subsequent inspections from time to time for the purpose of keeping under review the condition of the land or waters (s 78A(1), (7)(c) (as so added)).

As from a day to be appointed, s 78A(7)(b) (see head (2) above) is amended so as to refer to 'significant' pollution: see s 78A(7)(b) (prospectively amended by the Water Act 2003 s 86(1), (2)(d)). A remediation notice must state, in addition to the matters required by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78E(1) and s 78E(3) (see the text and note 15):

100 (1) the name and address of the person on whom the notice is served (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 4(1)(a));

101 (2) the location and extent of the contaminated land to which the notice relates (the 'contaminated land in question'), sufficient to enable it to be identified whether by reference to a plan or otherwise (reg 4(1)(b));

102 (3) the date of any notice which was given under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78B (see PARA 762) to the person on whom the remediation notice is served identifying the contaminated land in question as contaminated land (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 4(1)(c));

103 (4) whether the enforcing authority considers the person on whom the notice is served is an appropriate person by reason of: (a) having caused or knowingly permitted the substances, or any of the substances, by reason of which the contaminated land in question is contaminated land, to be in, on or under that land; or (b) being the owner or occupier of the contaminated land in question (reg 4(1)(d));

104 (5) particulars of the significant harm or pollution of controlled waters by reason of which the contaminated land in question is contaminated land (reg 4(1)(e));

- 105 (6) the substances by reason of which the contaminated land in question is contaminated land and, if any of the substances have escaped from other land, the location of that other land (reg 4(1)(f));
- 106 (7) the enforcing authority's reasons for its decisions as to the things by way of remediation that the appropriate person is required to do, which must show how any guidance issued by the Secretary of State under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78E(5) (see the text and notes 23-26) has been applied (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 4(1)(g));
- 107 (8) where two or more persons are appropriate persons in relation to the contaminated land in question: (a) that this is the case; (b) the name and address of each such person; and (c) the thing by way of remediation for which each such person bears responsibility (reg 4(1)(h));
- 108 (9) where two or more persons would, apart from the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F(6) (see PARA 767), be appropriate persons in relation to any particular thing which is to be done by way of remediation, the enforcing authority's reasons for its determination as to whether any, and if so which, of them is to be treated as not being an appropriate person in relation to that thing, which must show how any guidance issued by the Secretary of State under s 78F(6) has been applied (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 4(1)(i));
- 109 (10) where the remediation notice is required by the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78E(3) (see the text and notes 14-15) to state the proportion of the cost of a thing which is to be done by way of remediation which each of the appropriate persons in relation to that thing is liable to bear, the enforcing authority's reasons for the proportion which it has determined, which must show how any guidance issued by the Secretary of State under s 78F(7) (see PARA 767) has been applied (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 4(1)(j));
- 110 (11) where known to the enforcing authority, the name and address of: (a) the owner of the contaminated land in question; and (b) any person who appears to the enforcing authority to be in occupation of the whole or any part of the contaminated land in question (reg 4(1)(k));
- 111 (12) where known to the enforcing authority, the name and address of any person whose consent is required under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78G(2) (see PARA 768) before any thing required by the remediation notice may be done (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 4(1)(l));
- 112 (13) where the notice is to be served in reliance on the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78H(4) (see PARA 769), that it appears to the enforcing authority that the contaminated land in question is in such a condition, by reason of substances in, on or under the land, that there is imminent danger of serious harm, or serious pollution of controlled waters, being caused (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 4(1)(m));
- 113 (14) that a person on whom a remediation notice is served may be guilty of an offence for failure, without reasonable excuse, to comply with any of the requirements of the notice (reg 4(1)(n));
- 114 (15) the penalties which may be applied on conviction for such an offence (reg 4(1)(o));
- 115 (16) the name and address of the enforcing authority serving the notice (reg 4(1)(p)); and
- 116 (17) the date of the notice (reg 4(1)(q)).

A remediation notice must explain: (i) that a person on whom it is served has a right of appeal against the notice under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78L (see PARA 772); (ii) how, within what period and on what grounds an appeal may be made; and (iii) that a notice is suspended, where an appeal is duly made, until the final determination or abandonment of the appeal: Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 4(2). 767. Determination of the appropriate person to bear responsibility for remediation.

The following provisions have effect for the purpose of determining who is the appropriate person¹ to bear responsibility for any particular thing which the enforcing authority² determines is to be done by way of remediation in any particular case³.

Subject to the following provisions, any person, or any of the persons, who caused⁴ or knowingly permitted⁵ the substances⁶, or any of the substances, by reason of which the contaminated land⁷ in question is such land to be in, on or under that land, is an appropriate person⁸. A person is only an appropriate person⁹ in relation to things which are to be done by way of remediation which are to any extent referable to substances which he caused or knowingly permitted to be present in, on or under the contaminated land in question¹⁰.

If no person has, after reasonable inquiry, been found who is an appropriate person¹¹ to bear responsibility for the things which are to be done by way of remediation, the owner¹² or occupier for the time being of the contaminated land in question is an appropriate person¹³. If there are things which are to be done¹⁴ by way of remediation in relation to which no person has, after reasonable inquiry, been found who is an appropriate person¹⁵, the owner or occupier for the time being of the contaminated land in question is an appropriate person in relation to those things¹⁶.

Where two or more persons would, apart from this provision, be appropriate persons in relation to any particular thing which is to be done by way of remediation, the enforcing authority must determine in accordance with guidance issued for the purpose by the Secretary of State whether any, and if so which, of them is to be treated as not being an appropriate person in relation to that thing¹⁷. Where two or more persons are appropriate persons in relation to any particular thing which is to be done by way of remediation, they are liable to bear the cost of doing that thing in proportions determined by the enforcing authority in accordance with guidance issued for the purpose by the Secretary of State¹⁸.

1 'Appropriate person' means any person who is an appropriate person, determined in accordance with the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F, to bear responsibility for any thing which is to be done by way of remediation in any particular case: s 78A(1), (9) (ss 78A, 78F added by the Environment Act 1995 s 57). As to the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IIA (ss 78A-78YC) generally see PARA 761 note 1. As to the meaning of 'remediation' see PARA 766 note 10. As to the 'appropriate person' see also R (on the application of National Grid Gas plc) v Environment Agency [2007] UKHL 30, [2007] 3 All ER 877, [2007] 1 WLR 1780; and note 3.

2 As to the meaning of 'enforcing authority' see PARA 761 note 6.

3 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F(1) (as added: see note 1). As to a claim for judicial review of the decision that the claimant gas company was an appropriate person within the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IIA see R (on the application of National Grid Gas plc) v Environment Agency [2006] EWHC 1083 (Admin), [2007] 1 All ER 1163, [2006] All ER (D) 241 (May) (although the Parliamentary intention is that the original polluter responsible for the contamination should have primary responsibility, it was held at first instance that where such a polluter company had been dissolved and assets not found that was different from the situation where assets, rights and liabilities had been transferred under a clear chain of statutory provisions ensuring continuity); but the decision was reversed on appeal: [2007] UKHL 30, [2007] 3 All ER 877, [2007] 1 WLR 1780 (the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F is not to be construed so as to include every person, who, by statute, becomes successor to liabilities of actual polluters).

4 Assistance in interpreting the words 'cause' or 'causing' can be found in the cases described below which were decided under similarly worded water pollution legislation. However, some care should be taken: water pollution offences are different in substance, as they are concerned with active entry or discharges in contrast to causing the presence of substances to be in, on or under the affected land. As to pollution of water generally see PARA 270 et seq.

Causation is a question of pure fact, not law (CPC (UK) Ltd v National Rivers Authority [1994] Env LR 131, sub nom R v CPC (UK) Ltd (1994) Times, 4 August, CA), and is to be given a common sense meaning, there being no need for proof of mens rea (Alphacell Ltd v Woodward [1972] AC 824, [1972] 2 All ER 475, HL). An act of God or the act of a third party, even if deliberate or negligent, will not break the chain of causation when, even though unforeseeable in the particular case, such an act was in the generality a normal and familiar fact of life, as opposed to abnormal and extraordinary, the difference being one of fact and degree: Environment Agency (formerly National Rivers Authority) v Empress Car Co (Abertillery) Ltd [1999] 2 AC 22, sub nom Empress Car Co (Abertillery) Ltd v National Rivers Authority [1998] 1 All ER 481, HL. See also Environment Agency v Brock plc [1998] 4 PLR 37, (1998) Times, 26 March, DC; Southern Water Authority v Pegrum (1989) 153 JP 581; A-G's Reference (No 1 of 1994) [1995] 2 All ER 1007, [1995] 1 WLR 599, CA (more than one person may cause the same pollution by separate acts); National Rivers Authority v Yorkshire Water Services Ltd [1995] 1 AC 444, [1995] 1 All ER 225, HL (where the defendant was acquitted on unrelated grounds). A company is vicariously liable for all causative acts or omissions of its employees, whatever their level: National Rivers Authority v Alfred McAlpine Homes East Ltd [1994] 4 All ER 286, [1994] Crim LR 760.

5 'Knowingly permits' connotes a failure to prevent the state of affairs in question, with actual or constructive knowledge thereof: see Schulmans Inc v National Rivers Authority [1993] Env LR D1-2, DC. This case related to water pollution legislation, as to which see note 4. As to 'knowingly permits' in the context of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F see Circular Facilities (London) Ltd v Sevenoaks District Council [2005] EWHC 865 (Admin), [2005] Env LR 35, [2005] All ER (D) 126 (May). As to 'knowingly permitting' in the context of the Water Resources Act 1991 s 85 (see PARA 291) see Environment Agency v Biffa Waste Services Ltd [2006] EWHC 1102 (Admin), [2006] All ER (D) 355 (Mar).

6 As to the meaning of 'substance' see PARA 761 note 3. A person who has caused or knowingly permitted any substance ('substance A') to be in, on or under any land must also be taken for the purposes of these provisions to have caused or knowingly permitted there to be in, on or under that land any substance which is there as a result of a chemical reaction or biological process affecting substance A: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F(9) (as added: see note 1).

As to modifications of s 78F(9) for the purpose of the identification and remediation of radioactive contaminated land see the Radioactive Contaminated Land (Modification of Enactments) (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1379, reg 9 (substituted by SI 2007/3245).

7 As to the meaning of 'contaminated land' see PARA 761.

8 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F(2) (as added: see note 1). Special exemptions are granted to those acting in certain capacities in insolvency situations: see note 10.

9 Ie by virtue of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F(2): see the text and notes 4-8.

10 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F(3) (as added: see note 1). A thing which is to be done by way of remediation may be regarded for the purposes of Pt IIA as referable to the presence of any substance notwithstanding that the thing in question would not have to be done: (1) in consequence only of the presence of that substance in any quantity; or (2) in consequence only of the quantity of that substance which any particular person caused or knowingly permitted to be present: s 78F(10) (as so added).

A person acting in a relevant capacity:

117 (a) is not thereby personally liable, under Pt IIA, to bear the whole or any part of the cost of doing any thing by way of remediation, unless that thing is to any extent referable to substances whose presence in, on or under the contaminated land in question is a result of any act done or omission made by him which it was unreasonable for a person acting in that capacity to do or make (s 78X(3)(a) (as so added)); and

118 (b) is not thereby guilty of an offence under or by virtue of s 78M (see PARA 776) unless the requirement which has not been complied with is a requirement to do some particular thing for which he is personally liable to bear the whole or any part of the cost (s 78X(3)(b) (as so added)).

For these purposes, 'person acting in a relevant capacity' means: (i) a person acting as an insolvency practitioner, within the meaning of the Insolvency Act 1986 s 388 (see BANKRUPTCY AND INDIVIDUAL INSOLVENCY vol 3(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 43) (including that provision as it applies in relation to an insolvent partnership by virtue of any order made under s 421: see BANKRUPTCY AND INDIVIDUAL INSOLVENCY vol 3(2) (2002 Reissue) PARAS 823-824); (ii) the official receiver acting in a capacity in which he would be regarded as acting as an insolvency practitioner within the meaning of s 388 (see BANKRUPTCY AND INDIVIDUAL INSOLVENCY vol 3(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 43) if s 388(5) were disregarded; (iii) the official receiver acting as receiver or manager; (iv) a person acting as a special manager under s 177 or s 370 (see BANKRUPTCY AND INDIVIDUAL INSOLVENCY vol 3(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 236 et seq; COMPANY AND PARTNERSHIP INSOLVENCY vol 7(3) (2004 Reissue) PARA 496 et seq; COMPANY AND PARTNERSHIP INSOLVENCY vol 7(4) (2004 Reissue) PARA 971); (v) a person acting as a receiver or receiver and manager under or by virtue of any enactment, or by virtue of his appointment as such by an order of a court or by any other instrument: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78X(4) (as so added).

11 Ie by virtue of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F(2): see the text and notes 4-8.

12 As to the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 762 note 9.

13 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F(4) (as added: see note 1).

As to identifying the appropriate person in the context of statutory undertakers and local authorities and the transfer of liabilities across many different corporate identities see generally R (on the application of National Grid Gas plc) v Environment Agency [2007] UKHL 30, [2007] 3 All ER 877; and note 3.

14 Ie in consequence of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F(3): see the text and note 10.

15 Ie by virtue of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F(2): see the text and notes 4-8.

16 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F(5) (as added: see note 1).

17 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F(6) (as added: see note 1). Any guidance issued for the purposes of s 78F(6) must be issued in accordance with s 78YA (see PARA 786): s 78F(8) (as so added). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

18 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F(7) (as added: see note 1). Any guidance issued for the purposes of s 78F(7) must be issued in accordance with s 78YA (see PARA 786): s 78F(8) (as so added). As to the Secretary of State's guidance see Department of the Environment, Transport and the Regions (DETR) Circular 2/2000 (Contaminated Land), Annex 3.

768. Grant of, and compensation for, rights of entry etc.

A remediation notice¹ may require an appropriate person² to do things by way of remediation³, notwithstanding that he is not entitled to do those things⁴. Any person whose consent is required before any thing required by a remediation notice may be done must grant, or join in granting, such rights in relation to any of the relevant land or waters⁵ as will enable the appropriate person to comply with any requirements imposed by the remediation notice⁶. Before serving a remediation notice, the enforcing authority⁷ must reasonably endeavour to consult every person who appears to the authority:

- 1827 (1) to be the owner⁸ or occupier of any of the relevant land or waters⁹; and
- 1828 (2) to be a person who might be required¹⁰ to grant, or join in granting, any rights¹¹, concerning the rights which that person may be required to grant¹².

A person who grants, or joins in granting, any rights¹³ is entitled, on making an application within such period as may be prescribed¹⁴ and in such manner as may be prescribed to such person as may be prescribed, to be paid by the appropriate person compensation of such amount as may be determined in such manner as may be prescribed¹⁵.

1 As to the meaning of 'remediation notice' see PARA 766.

5 For these purposes, 'relevant land or waters' means: (1) the contaminated land in question; (2) any controlled waters affected by that land; or (3) any land adjoining or adjacent to that land or those waters: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78G(7) (as added: see note 4). As to the meaning of 'contaminated land' see PARA 761. As to the meaning of 'controlled waters', and as to when controlled waters are affected by contaminated land, see PARA 761 note 6.

As to modifications of s 78G(2), (3), (4), (7) for the purpose of the identification and remediation of radioactive contaminated land see the Radioactive Contaminated Land (Modification of Enactments) (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1379, reg 10.

6 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78G(2) (as added: see note 4). See note 5.

11 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78G(3)(b) (as added: see note 4). See note 5.

12 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78G(3) (as added: see note 4). Section 78G(3) does not preclude the service of a remediation notice in any case where it appears to the enforcing authority that the contaminated land in question is in such a condition, by reason of substances in, on or under the land, that there is imminent danger of serious harm, or serious pollution of controlled waters, being caused: s 78G(4) (as so added). As to the meaning of 'substance' see PARA 761 note 3; as to the meaning of 'harm' see PARA 761 note 4; and as to the meaning of 'pollution of controlled waters' see PARA 761 note 6. See note 5.

13 le pursuant to the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78G(2): see the text and notes 5-6.

14 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78A(1), (9) (as added: see note 4). As to the meaning of 'regulations' see PARA 763 note 3. As to the making of regulations see PARA 763 note 3. An application must be made within the period beginning with the date of the grant of the rights in respect of which compensation is claimed and ending on whichever is the latest of the following periods: (1) 12 months after the date of the grant of those rights; (2) where an appeal is made against a remediation notice in respect of which the rights in question have been granted, and the notice is of no effect by virtue of the Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 12 (see PARA 772), 12 months after the date of the final determination or abandonment of the appeal; or (3) six months after the date on which the rights were first exercised: reg 6(a), Sch 2 para 2. As to the similar provisions applying in Wales see the Contaminated Land (Wales) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2989, reg 6, Sch 2 para 2.

15 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78G(5) (as added: see note 4). Without prejudice to the generality of the regulations that may be made by virtue of s 78G(5), regulations may make such provision in relation to compensation under s 78G as may be made by regulations by virtue of s 35A(4) (repealed) in relation to compensation under that provision: s 78G(6) (as so added). The Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, contain provision for prescribing the manner in which, and the person to whom, an application for compensation may be made (see reg 6(b), Sch 2); and for prescribing the manner in which the amount of such compensation is to be determined and for making further provision relating to such compensation (reg 6(c), Sch 2).

An application must be made in writing and delivered at or sent by pre-paid post to the last known address for correspondence of the appropriate person to whom the rights were granted: Sch 2 para 3(1). The application must contain, or be accompanied by: (1) a copy of the grant of rights in respect of which the grantor is applying for compensation, and of any plans attached to that grant; (2) a description of the exact nature of any interest in land in respect of which compensation is applied for; and (3) a statement of the amount of compensation applied for, distinguishing the amounts applied for under each of heads (a)-(e) below, and showing how the amount applied for under each head has been calculated: Sch 2 para 3(2). 'Grantor' means a person who has granted, or joined in the granting of, any rights pursuant to the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78G(2) (see the text and note 6): Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 2 para 1. Compensation is payable under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78G for loss and damage of the following descriptions:

- 119 (a) depreciation in the value of any relevant interest to which the grantor is entitled which results from the grant of the rights (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 2 para 4(a));
- 120 (b) depreciation in the value of any other interest in land to which the grantor is entitled which results from the exercise of the rights (Sch 2 para 4(b));
- 121 (c) loss or damage, in relation to any relevant interest to which the grantor is entitled, which: (i) is attributable to the grant of the rights or the exercise of them; (ii) does not consist of depreciation in the value of that interest; and (iii) is loss or damage of a kind in respect of which compensation for disturbance, or any other matter not directly based on the value of that interest, is payable on a compulsory acquisition (Sch 2 para 4(c));
- 122 (d) damage to, or injurious affection of, any interest in land to which the grantor is entitled which is not a relevant interest, and which results from the grant of the rights or the exercise of them (Sch 2 para 4(d)); and
- 123 (e) loss in respect of work carried out by or on behalf of the grantor which is rendered abortive by the grant of the rights or the exercise of them (Sch 2 para 4(e)).

'Relevant interest' means an interest in land out of which rights have been granted pursuant to the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78G(2): Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 2 para 1.

The following provisions have effect for the purpose of assessing the amount to be paid by way of compensation under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78G: Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 2 para 5(1). The rules for assessing compensation set out in the Land Compensation Act 1961 s 5 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 718 et seq), so far as applicable and subject to any necessary modifications, have effect for the purpose of assessing any such compensation as they have effect for the purpose of assessing compensation for the compulsory acquisition of an interest in land: Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 2 para 5(2). No account is to be taken of any enhancement of the value of any interest in land, by reason of any building erected, work done or improvement or alteration made on any land in which the grantor is, or was at the time of erection, doing or making, directly or indirectly concerned, if the Upper Tribunal is satisfied that the erection of the building, the doing of the work, the making of the improvement or the alteration was not reasonably necessary and was undertaken with a view to obtaining compensation or increased compensation: Sch 2 para 5(3) (amended by SI 2009/1307). As to the Upper Tribunal see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW. In calculating the amount of any loss under head (e) above, expenditure incurred in the preparation of plans or on other similar preparatory matters must be taken into account: Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 2 para 5(4). Where the interest in respect of which compensation is to be assessed is subject to a mortgage, the compensation is to be assessed as if the interest were not subject to the mortgage; and no compensation is payable in respect of the interest of the mortgagee (as distinct from the interest which is subject to the mortgage): Sch 2 para 5(5). Compensation under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78G must include an amount equal to the grantor's reasonable valuation and legal expenses: Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 2 para 5(6).

Compensation payable under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78G in respect of an interest which is subject to a mortgage is to be paid to the mortgagee or, if there is more than one mortgagee, to the first mortgagee and must, in either case, be applied by him as if it were proceeds of sale: Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 2 para 6(1).

Amounts of compensation determined under these provisions are payable: (A) where the appropriate person and the grantor or mortgagee agree that a single payment is to be made on a specified date, on that date; (B) where the appropriate person and the grantor or mortgagee agree that payment is to be made in instalments at different dates, on the date agreed as regards each instalment; and (C) in any other case, subject to any direction of the Upper Tribunal or the court, as soon as reasonably practicable after the amount of the compensation has been finally determined: Sch 2 para 6(2) (amended by SI 2009/1307).

Any question of the application of the Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 2 para 5(3) or of disputed compensation must be referred to and determined by the Upper Tribunal: Sch 2 para 6(3) (amended by SI 2009/1307). In relation to the determination of any such question, the Land Compensation Act 1961 s 4 (costs) (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 720 et seq) applies as if the reference in s 2(1) to s 1 were a reference to the Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 2 para 6(3): Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 2 para 6(4) (substituted by SI 2009/1307). As to the similar provisions applying in Wales see the Contaminated Land (Wales) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2989, regs 6, Sch 2.

The dates from which interest can accrue on the compensation payable under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78G(5) are as follows: (aa) by virtue of the Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 2 para 4(a), (b) (compensation for rights of entry etc), the date of the depreciation; (bb) by virtue of Sch 2 para 4(c), (d) or (e), the date on which the loss is sustained or the damage is done, or where injurious affection is sustained, the date of the injurious affection; (cc) by virtue of Sch 2 para 5(6), the date on which the expenses become payable: Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 80, Sch 18 Pt I (entry added by SI 2002/116).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/12. CONTAMINATED LAND/769. Restrictions and prohibitions on serving remediation notices.

769. Restrictions and prohibitions on serving remediation notices.

Before serving a remediation notice¹, the enforcing authority² must reasonably endeavour to consult the following³:

- 1829 (1) the person on whom the notice is to be served⁴;
- 1830 (2) the owner⁵ of any land to which the notice relates⁶;
- 1831 (3) any person who appears to that authority to be in occupation of the whole or any part of the land⁷; and
- 1832 (4) any person of such other description as may be prescribed⁸, concerning what is to be done by way of remediation⁹. Regulations¹⁰ may make provision for, or in connection with, steps to be taken for these purposes¹¹.

No remediation notice may be served on any person by reference to any contaminated land¹² during any of certain specified periods¹³.

The above provisions¹⁴ do not preclude the service of a remediation notice in any case where it appears to the enforcing authority that the land in question is in such a condition, by reason of substances¹⁵ in, on or under the land, that there is imminent danger of serious harm¹⁶, or serious pollution of controlled waters¹⁷, being caused¹⁸.

The enforcing authority must not serve a remediation notice on a person if and so long as any one or more of the following conditions is for the time being satisfied in the particular case¹⁹, that is to say:

- 1833 (a) the authority is satisfied²⁰ that there is nothing by way of remediation which could be specified in a remediation notice served on that person²¹;
- 1834 (b) the authority is satisfied that appropriate things are being, or will be, done by way of remediation without the service of a remediation notice on that person²²;
- 1835 (c) it appears to the authority that the person on whom the notice would be served is the authority itself²³; or
- 1836 (d) the authority is satisfied that the powers conferred on it²⁴ to do what is appropriate by way of remediation are exercisable²⁵.

Where the enforcing authority is precluded²⁶ from specifying in a remediation notice any particular thing by way of remediation which it would otherwise have specified in such a notice, the authority must prepare and publish a document (a 'remediation declaration'²⁷) which must record the reasons why the authority would have specified that thing and the grounds on which the authority is satisfied that it is precluded from specifying that thing in such a notice²⁸.

In any case where the enforcing authority is precluded, by virtue of head (b), (c) or (d) above, from serving a remediation notice, the responsible person²⁹ must prepare and publish a document (a 'remediation statement'³⁰) which must record:

- 1837 (i) the things which are being, have been, or are expected to be, done by way of remediation in the particular case³¹;
- 1838 (ii) the name and address of the person who is doing, has done, or is expected to do, each of those things³²; and

- 1839 (iii) the periods within which each of those things is being, or is expected to be, done³³.

A remediation notice may not be served if and to the extent that it appears to the enforcing authority that the powers of the Environment Agency to remedy harm³⁴ may be exercised in relation to:

- 1840 (A) the significant harm (if any)³⁵; and 1841 (B) the pollution of controlled waters (if any)³⁶, by reason of which the contaminated land in question is such land³⁷.

If, in a case falling within the provisions relating to removal of unlawfully deposited controlled waste³⁸, the land in question is contaminated land, or becomes such land by reason of the deposit of the controlled waste in question, a remediation notice must not be served in respect of that land by reason of that waste or any consequences of its deposit, if and to the extent that it appears to the enforcing authority that the powers of a waste regulation authority³⁹ or waste collection authority⁴⁰ under those provisions may be exercised in relation to that waste or the consequences of its deposit⁴¹.

No remediation notice may require a person to do anything the effect of which would be to impede or prevent the making of a discharge in pursuance of a consent given under provisions relating to pollution in the Water Resources Act 1991⁴².

26. (b) in a case where the decision is referred to the Secretary of State, the day on which he gives the notice required by s 78D(4)(b) (see PARA 765) (s 78H(3)(b)(ii) (as so added));
26
- 126 (3) if the Environment Agency gives a notice under s 78C(4) (see PARA 763) to a local authority in relation to the contaminated land in question, the period beginning with the day on which that notice is given and ending with the expiration of the period of three months beginning with:
27. (a) in a case where notice is given under s 78C(6) (see PARA 763), the day on which that notice is given (s 78H(3)(c)(i) (as so added));
27
28. (b) in a case where the authority makes a decision falling within s 78C(5)(b) (see PARA 763) and the Environment Agency fails to give notice under s 78D(1)(b) (see PARA 765), the day following the expiration of the period of 21 days mentioned in that provision (s 78H(3)(c)(ii) (as so added)); or 28
29. (c) in a case where the authority makes a decision falling within s 78C(5)(b) (see PARA 763) which is referred to the Secretary of State under s 78D (see PARA 765), the day on which the Secretary of State gives the notice required by s 78D(4)(b) (see PARA 765) (s 78H(3)(c)(iii) (as so added)).

Any such notice may be so served without any further endeavours by the authority to consult persons pursuant to s 78H(1) (see the text and notes 1-9), if and to the extent that that person has been consulted pursuant to that provision concerning the things which will be specified in the notice: s 78H(10) (as so added). If a person who is required by virtue of head (1) above to prepare and publish a remediation statement fails to do so within a reasonable time after the date on which a remediation notice specifying the things there mentioned could, apart from s 78H(5), have been served, the enforcing authority may itself prepare and publish the statement and may recover its reasonable costs of doing so from that person: s 78H(9) (as so added).

770. Restrictions on liability relating to the pollution of controlled waters.

The following provisions apply where any land is contaminated land¹ in that pollution of controlled waters² is being, or is likely to be, caused³.

Where these provisions apply, no remediation notice⁴ given in consequence of the land in question being contaminated land may require a person who is an appropriate person⁵ only by virtue of being an owner⁶ or occupier of land⁷, to do anything by way of remediation⁸ to that or any other land, or any waters, which he could not have been required to do by such a notice had the provisions concerning pollution of controlled waters⁹ been omitted from Part IIA of the Environmental Protection Act 1990¹⁰.

If, in a case where these provisions apply, a person permits, has permitted, or might permit, water from an abandoned mine¹¹ or part of a mine:

- 1842 (1) to enter any controlled waters¹²; or
- 1843 (2) to reach a place from which it is or, as the case may be, was likely, in the opinion of the enforcing authority¹³, to enter such waters¹⁴, no remediation notice may require him in consequence to do anything by way of remediation (whether to the contaminated land in question or to any other land or waters) which he could not have been required to do by such a notice had the provisions concerning pollution of controlled waters¹⁵ been omitted from Part IIA of the Environmental Protection Act 1990¹⁶.

Nothing in these provisions¹⁷ prevents the enforcing authority from doing anything by way of remediation¹⁸ which it could have done apart from these provisions, but the authority is not entitled¹⁹ to recover from any person any part of the cost incurred by the authority in doing by way of remediation anything which it is precluded by these provisions from requiring that person to do²⁰.

7 I.e. a person who is an appropriate person by virtue of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78F(4) or s 78F(5): see PARA 767.

10 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78J(2) (as added: see note 3). See note 3.

This provision restricts the statutory liability to that arising under the Water Resources Act 1991 s 161 and s 161A (see PARA 321 et seq). The effect is that, under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IIA, the owner or occupier who is not also the polluter can only be required to remediate where the contamination is or may become significantly harmful within the meaning of s 78A(2)(a) (see PARA 761).

11 For these purposes, 'mine' has the same meaning as in the Mines and Quarries Act 1954 (see MINES, MINERALS AND QUARRIES vol 31 (2003 Reissue) PARA 5): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78J(8) (as added: see note 3). See note 3.

As to the duty to tell the Environment Agency of abandoned mines see the Water Resources Act 1991 Pt III Ch IIA (ss 91A, 91B); and MINES, MINERALS AND QUARRIES vol 31 (2003 Reissue) PARA 529.

15 See note 9.

16 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78J(3) (as added: see note 3). Section 78J(3) does not apply to the owner or former operator of any mine or part of a mine if the mine or part in question became abandoned after 31 December 1999: s 78J(4) (as so added). In determining for the purposes of s 78J(4) whether a mine or part of a mine became abandoned before, on or after 31 December 1999 in a case where the mine or part has become abandoned on two or more occasions, of which at least one falls on or before that date and at least one falls after that date, the mine or part is to be regarded as becoming abandoned after that date (but without prejudice to the operation of s 78J(3) in relation to that mine or part at, or in relation to, any time before the first of those occasions which falls after that date): s 78J(5) (as so added). Where, immediately before a part of a mine becomes abandoned, that part is the only part of the mine not falling to be regarded as abandoned for the time being, the abandonment of that part is not to be regarded for the purposes of s 78J(4) or s 78J(5) as constituting the abandonment of the mine, but only of that part of it: s 78J(6) (as so added). See note 3.

771. Liability in respect of contaminating substances which escape to other land.

A person who has caused¹ or knowingly permitted² any substances³ to be in, on or under any land is also to be taken for the purposes of Part IIA of the Environmental Protection Act 1990⁴ to have caused or, as the case may be, knowingly permitted those substances to be in, on or under any other land to which they appear⁵ to have escaped⁶.

In any case where it appears that any substances are or have been in, on or under any land ('land A') as a result of their escape, whether directly or indirectly, from other land in, on or under which a person caused or knowingly permitted them to be⁷:

1844 (1) no remediation notice⁸ may require a person who is the owner⁹ or occupier of land A, and who has not caused or knowingly permitted the substances in question to be in, on or under that land, to do anything by way of remediation¹⁰ to any land or waters (other than land or waters of which he is the owner or occupier) in consequence of land A appearing to be in such a condition, by reason of the presence of those substances in, on or under it, that significant harm¹¹, is being caused, or there is a significant possibility of such harm being caused, or that pollution of controlled waters¹² is being, or is likely to be caused¹³;

1845 (2) no remediation notice may require a person who is the owner or occupier of land A, and who has not caused or knowingly permitted the substances in question to be in, on or under that land, to do anything by way of remediation in consequence of any further land in, on or under which those substances or any of them appear to be or to have been present as a result of their escape from land A ('land B'), appearing to be in such a condition, by reason of the presence of those substances in, on or under it, that significant harm is being caused, or there is a significant possibility of such harm being caused, or that pollution of controlled waters is being, or is likely to be caused, unless he is also the owner or occupier of land B¹⁴.

In any case where:

1846 (a) a person ('person A') has caused or knowingly permitted any substances to be in, on, or under any land¹⁵;

1847 (b) another person ('person B') who has not caused or knowingly permitted those substances to be in, on or under that land becomes the owner or occupier of that land¹⁶; and

1848 (c) the substances, or any of the substances, mentioned in head (a) above appear to have escaped to other land¹⁷, no remediation notice may require person B to do anything by way of remediation to that other land in consequence of the apparent acts or omissions of person A, except to the extent that person B caused or knowingly permitted the escape¹⁸.

Nothing in these provisions¹⁹ prevents the enforcing authority from doing anything by way of remediation²⁰ which it could have done apart from these provisions, but the authority is not entitled²¹ to recover from any person any part of the cost incurred by the authority in doing by way of remediation anything which it is precluded by these provisions from requiring that person to do²².

772. Appeals against remediation notices.

A person on whom a remediation notice¹ is served may, within the period of 21 days beginning with the day on which the notice is served, appeal against the notice to the appellate authority², that is:

- 1849 (1) if it was served by a local authority³ in England, or served by the Environment Agency⁴ in relation to land in England, to the Secretary of State⁵; or 1850 (2) if it was served by a local authority in Wales, or served by the Environment Agency in relation to land in Wales, to the Welsh Ministers⁶.

On any such appeal the appellate authority must quash the notice, if it is satisfied that there is a material defect in the notice⁷; but, subject to that, it may confirm the remediation notice, with or without modification, or quash it⁸.

Where an appellate authority confirms a remediation notice, with or without modification, it may extend the period specified in the notice for doing what the notice requires to be done⁹.

Where an appeal is duly made against a remediation notice¹⁰, the notice is of no effect pending the final determination or abandonment of the appeal¹¹.

1 As to the meaning of 'remediation notice' see PARA 766.

2 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78L(1) (s 78L added by the Environment Act 1995 s 57). As to the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IIA (ss 78A-78YC) generally see PARA 761 note 1. For these purposes, the 'appellate authority' means the Secretary of State (see PARA 58) or the Welsh Ministers (see PARA 59), as the case may be: see the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78L(1) (as so added; and amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 104(1), (3), (7)).

The Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78L is subject to the Environment Act 1995 s 114 (delegation or reference of appeals etc) (see PARA 65): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78L(6) (as so added; and amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 104(1), (5), (7), Sch 5 Pt 10).

Regulations may make provision with respect to: (1) the grounds on which appeals under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78L(1) may be made; or (2) the procedure on such an appeal: s 78L(4) (as so added; and amended by the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 s 104(1), (4), (7), Sch 5 Pt 10). As to the meaning of 'regulations' see PARA 763 note 3. Regulations under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78L(4) may (among other things): (a) include provisions comparable to those in the Public Health Act 1936 s 290 (appeals against notices requiring the execution of works) (see PARAS 125-127); (b) prescribe the cases in which a remediation notice is, or is not, to be suspended until the appeal is decided, or until some other stage in the proceedings; (c) prescribe the cases in which the decision on an appeal may in some respects be less favourable to the appellant than the remediation notice against which he is appealing; (d) prescribe the cases in which the appellant may claim that a remediation notice should have been served on some other person and prescribe the procedure to be followed in those cases; (e) make provision as respects: (i) the particulars to be included in the notice of appeal; (ii) the persons on whom notice of appeal is to be served and the particulars, if any, which are to accompany the notice; and (iii) the abandonment of an appeal; (f) make different provision for different cases or classes of case: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78L(5) (as so added). As to the regulations made relating to appeals see the Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380; the Contaminated Land (Wales) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2989; and see also PARAS 773-775.

7 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78L(2)(a) (as added: see note 2).

8 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78L(2)(b) (as added: see note 2). Before modifying a remediation notice under s 78L(2)(b) in any respect which would be less favourable to the appellant or any other person on whom the notice was served, the Secretary of State must: (1) notify the appellant and any persons on whom the appellant was required to serve a copy of the notice of appeal of the proposed modification; (2) permit any persons so notified to make representations in relation to the proposed modification; and (3) permit the appellant or any other person on whom the remediation notice was served to be heard if any such person so requests: Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 11(1). Where, in accordance with reg 11(1), the appellant or any other person is heard, the enforcing authority is also entitled to be heard: reg 11(2). As to the meaning of 'enforcing authority' see PARA 761 note 6. As to the similar provisions applying in Wales see the Contaminated Land (Wales) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2989, reg 11.

9 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78L(3) (as added: see note 2).

10 An appeal against a remediation notice is duly made for these purposes if it is made within the period specified in the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78L(1) (see the text and note 2) and the requirements of the Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 8(1), (2) (see PARA 774) have been complied with: reg 12(2).

773. Grounds of appeal.

The grounds of appeal against a remediation notice¹ are any of the following:

- 1851 (1) that, in determining whether any land to which the notice relates appears to be contaminated land², the local authority³: (a) failed to act in accordance with guidance issued by the Secretary of State⁴; or (b) whether by reason of such a failure or otherwise, unreasonably identified all or any of the land to which the notice relates as contaminated land⁵;
- 1852 (2) that, in determining a requirement of the notice, the enforcing authority⁶: (a) failed to have regard to guidance issued by the Secretary of State⁷; or (b) whether by reason of such a failure or otherwise, unreasonably required the appellant to do any thing by way of remediation⁸;
- 1853 (3) that the enforcing authority unreasonably determined the appellant to be the appropriate person who is to bear responsibility for any thing required by the notice to be done by way of remediation⁹;
- 1854 (4) that the enforcing authority unreasonably failed to determine that some person in addition to the appellant is an appropriate person in relation to any thing required by the notice to be done by way of remediation¹⁰;
- 1855 (5) that, in respect of any thing required by the notice to be done by way of remediation, the enforcing authority failed to act in accordance with guidance issued by the Secretary of State¹¹;
- 1856 (6) that, where two or more persons are appropriate persons in relation to any thing required by the notice to be done by way of remediation, the enforcing authority: (a) failed to determine the proportion of the cost stated in the notice to be the liability of the appellant in accordance with guidance issued by the Secretary of State¹²; or (b) whether, by reason of such a failure or otherwise, unreasonably determined the proportion of the cost that the appellant is to bear¹³;
- 1857 (7) that service of the notice contravened a provision restricting or prohibiting the serving of remediation notices¹⁴;
- 1858 (8) that, where the notice was served in reliance on the provisions permitting service where there is imminent danger of serious harm, or serious pollution of controlled waters, being caused¹⁵, the enforcing authority could not reasonably have taken the view that the contaminated land in question was in such a condition by reason of substances¹⁶ in, on or under the land, that there was imminent danger of serious harm, or serious pollution of controlled waters, being caused¹⁷;
- 1859 (9) that the enforcing authority has unreasonably failed to be satisfied¹⁸ that appropriate things are being, or will be, done by way of remediation without service of a notice¹⁹;
- 1860 (10) that any thing required by the notice to be done by way of remediation was required in contravention of a provision restricting liability in relation to the pollution of controlled waters²⁰;
- 1861 (11) that any thing required by the notice to be done by way of remediation was required in contravention of a provision relating to liability in respect of contaminating substances which escape to other land²¹;
- 1862 (12) that the enforcing authority itself has power²² to do what is appropriate by way of remediation²³;

- 1863 (13) that the enforcing authority, in considering²⁴ whether it would seek to recover all or a portion of the cost incurred by it in doing some particular thing by way of remediation: (a) failed to have regard to any hardship which the recovery may cause to the person from whom the cost is recoverable or to any guidance issued by the Secretary of State²⁵; or (b) whether by reason of such a failure or otherwise, unreasonably determined that it would decide to seek to recover all of the cost²⁶;
- 1864 (14) that, in determining a requirement of the notice, the enforcing authority failed to have regard to guidance issued by the Environment Agency²⁷;
- 1865 (15) that a period specified in the notice within which the appellant is required to do anything is not reasonably sufficient for the purpose²⁸;
- 1866 (16) that the notice provides for a person acting in a relevant capacity to be personally liable to bear the whole or part of the cost of doing any thing by way of remediation, contrary to certain provisions²⁹;
- 1867 (17) that service of the notice contravened a provision relating to the interaction of enactments³⁰, and that it ought reasonably to have appeared to the enforcing authority that certain powers might be exercised³¹; or
- 1868 (18) that there has been some informality, defect or error in, or in connection with, the notice, in respect of which there is no right of appeal under the grounds set out in heads (1) to (17) above³².

774. Procedure for making or abandoning an appeal.

An appeal to the Secretary of State¹ against a remediation notice² is made to him by a notice ('notice of appeal') which must state:

- 1869 (1) the name and address of the appellant³;
- 1870 (2) the grounds on which the appeal is made⁴; and
- 1871 (3) whether the appellant wishes the appeal to be in the form of a hearing or to be disposed of on the basis of written representations⁵.

At the same time as he serves a notice of appeal on the Secretary of State, the appellant must:

- 1872 (a) serve a copy of it on: (i) the enforcing authority⁶; (ii) any person named in the remediation notice as an appropriate person⁷; (iii) any person named in the notice of appeal as an appropriate person⁸; and (iv) any person named in the remediation notice as the owner or occupier of the whole or any part of the land to which the notice relates⁹;
- 1873 (b) serve on the Secretary of State a statement of the names and addresses of any persons falling within head (a)(ii), (iii) or (iv) above¹⁰; and
- 1874 (c) serve a copy of the remediation notice to which the appeal relates on the Secretary of State and on any person named in the notice of appeal as an appropriate person who is not so named in the remediation notice¹¹.

If the appellant wishes to abandon an appeal, he must do so by notifying the Secretary of State in writing and the appeal is to be treated as abandoned on the date the Secretary of State receives that notification¹². The Secretary of State may refuse to permit an appellant to abandon his appeal against a remediation notice where the notification by the appellant is received by the Secretary of State at any time after the Secretary of State has notified the appellant¹³ of a proposed modification of the remediation notice¹⁴. Where an appeal is abandoned, the Secretary of State must give notice of the abandonment to any person on whom the appellant was required to serve a copy of the notice of appeal¹⁵.

775. Determination of appeal and notification of decision.

Before determining an appeal¹, the Secretary of State² may, if he thinks fit: (1) cause the appeal to take or continue in the form of a hearing (which may, if the person hearing the appeal so decides, be held, or held to any extent, in private)³; or (2) cause a local inquiry to be held⁴. The Secretary of State must act as mentioned in head (1) or head (2) above if a request is made by either the appellant or the enforcing authority⁵ to be heard with respect to the appeal⁶. The persons entitled to be heard at a hearing are the appellant, the enforcing authority and any person (other than the enforcing authority) on whom the appellant was required to serve a copy of the notice of appeal⁷. After the conclusion of a hearing, the person appointed to conduct the hearing must, unless he has been appointed⁸ to determine the appeal, make a report in writing to the Secretary of State which must include his conclusions and his recommendations or his reasons for not making any recommendations⁹.

The Secretary of State must notify the appellant in writing of his decision on an appeal and must provide him with a copy of any report¹⁰. The Secretary of State must, at the same time as he notifies the appellant, send a copy of the documents¹¹ to the enforcing authority and to any other person on whom the appellant was required to serve a copy of the notice of appeal¹².

776. Offences of not complying with a remediation notice.

If a person on whom an enforcing authority¹ serves a remediation notice² fails, without reasonable excuse, to comply with any of the requirements of the notice, he is guilty of an offence³, and is liable on summary conviction to a penalty⁴. Where the remediation notice in question is one which was required⁵ to state, in relation to the requirement which has not been complied with, the proportion of the cost involved which the person charged with the offence is liable to bear, it is a defence for that person to prove that the only reason why he has not complied with the requirement is that one or more of the other persons who are liable to bear a proportion of that cost refused, or was not able, to comply with the requirement⁶. If the enforcing authority is of the opinion that proceedings for an offence under these provisions would afford an ineffectual remedy against a person who has failed to comply with any of the requirements of a remediation notice which that authority has served on him, that authority may take proceedings in the High Court for the purpose of securing compliance with the remediation notice⁷.

Special exemptions are granted to those acting in certain capacities in insolvency situations: see PARA 767 note 10.

4 Except in a case falling within the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78M(4), a person who commits an offence under s 78M(1) is liable, on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale and to a further fine of an amount equal to one-tenth of level 5 on the standard scale for each day on which the failure continues after conviction of the offence and before the enforcing authority has begun to exercise its powers by virtue of s 78N(3)(c) (see PARA 777): s 78M(3) (as added: see note 3). As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142.

A person who commits an offence under s 78M(1) in a case where the contaminated land to which the remediation notice relates is industrial, trade or business premises is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £20,000 or such greater sum as the Secretary of State may from time to time by order substitute, and to a further fine of an amount equal to one-tenth of that sum for each day on which the failure continues after conviction of the offence and before the enforcing authority has begun to exercise its powers by virtue of s 78N(3)(c) (see PARA 777): s 78M(4) (as so added). As to the meaning of 'contaminated land' see PARA 761. For these purposes, 'industrial, trade or business premises' means premises used for any industrial, trade or business purposes or premises not so used on which matter is burnt in connection with any industrial, trade or business process, and premises are used for industrial purposes where they are used for the purposes of any treatment or process as well as where they are used for the purpose of manufacturing: s 78M(6) (as so added). No order may be made under s 78M(4) unless a draft of the order has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: s 78M(7) (as so added). 777. Powers of the enforcing authority to carry out remediation.

An enforcing authority¹ has power in certain cases² to do what is appropriate by way of remediation³ to the relevant land or waters⁴ where:

- 1875 (1) the enforcing authority considers it necessary to do anything itself by way of remediation for the purpose of preventing the occurrence of any serious harm⁵, or serious pollution of controlled waters⁶, of which there is imminent danger⁷;
- 1876 (2) an appropriate person⁸ has entered into a written agreement with the enforcing authority for that authority to do, at the cost of that person, that which he would otherwise be required to do⁹ by way of remediation¹⁰;
- 1877 (3) a person on whom the enforcing authority serves a remediation notice fails to comply with any of the requirements of the notice¹¹;
- 1878 (4) the enforcing authority is precluded¹² from including something by way of remediation in a remediation notice¹³;
- 1879 (5) the enforcing authority considers that, were it to do some particular thing by way of remediation, it would decide¹⁴:
- 177
 - 143. (a) not to seek to recover¹⁵ any of the reasonable cost incurred by it in doing that thing¹⁶; or
 - 144. (b) to seek to recover only a portion of that cost¹⁷;
- 178
 - 1880 (6) no person has, after reasonable inquiry, been found who is an appropriate person in relation to any particular thing¹⁸.

For these purposes, the things which it is appropriate for the enforcing authority to do by way of remediation are¹⁹:

- 1881 (i) in a case falling within head (1) above, anything by way of remediation which the enforcing authority considers necessary for the purpose there mentioned²⁰;
- 1882 (ii) in a case falling within head (2) above, anything specified in, or determined under, the agreement there mentioned²¹;
- 1883 (iii) in a case falling within head (3) above, anything which the person there mentioned was required to do by virtue of the remediation notice²²;
- 1884 (iv) in a case falling within head (4) above, anything by way of remediation which the enforcing authority is precluded²³ from including in a remediation notice²⁴;
- 1885 (v) in a case falling within head (5) or (6) above, the particular thing there mentioned²⁵.

As to the meaning of 'contaminated land' see PARA 761; and as to the meaning of 'controlled waters' see PARA 761 note 6.

Section 78N(1) does not confer power on the enforcing authority to do anything by way of remediation if the authority would, in the particular case, be precluded by s 78YB (see PARAS 761, 769) from serving a remediation notice requiring that thing to be done: s 78N(2) (as so added). 778. Recovery of, and security for, the cost of remediation by the enforcing authority.

Where the enforcing authority¹ does any particular thing by way of remediation², it is entitled³ to recover the reasonable cost incurred in doing it from the appropriate person⁴ or, if there are two or more appropriate persons in relation to the thing in question, from those persons in such proportions as are determined⁵. In deciding whether to recover the cost, and, if so, how much of the cost, which it is entitled to recover under these provisions, the enforcing authority must have regard: (1) to any hardship which the recovery may cause to the person from whom the cost is recoverable; and (2) to any guidance issued by the Secretary of State for these purposes⁶.

In any case where:

- 1886 (a) any cost is recoverable⁷ from a person who is the owner⁸ of any premises which consist of or include the contaminated land⁹ in question and who caused or knowingly permitted the substances¹⁰, or any of the substances, by reason of which the land is contaminated land to be in, on or under the land¹¹; and
- 1887 (b) the enforcing authority serves a notice under this provision (a 'charging notice'¹²) on that person¹³, the cost carries interest, at such reasonable rate as the enforcing authority may determine, from the date of service of the notice until the whole amount is paid; and, subject to the following provisions, the cost and accrued interest are a charge on the premises mentioned in head (a) above¹⁴.

On the date on which an enforcing authority serves a charging notice on a person, the authority must also serve a copy of the notice on every other person who, to the knowledge of the authority, has an interest in the premises capable of being affected by the charge¹⁵.

The amount of any cost specified in a charging notice and the accrued interest are a charge on the premises:

- 1888 (i) as from the end of the period of 21 days beginning with the service of the charging notice¹⁶; or
- 1889 (ii) where an appeal is brought¹⁷, as from the final determination or (as the case may be) the withdrawal of the appeal¹⁸, until the cost and interest are recovered¹⁹.

A person served with a charging notice or a copy of a charging notice may appeal against the notice to a county court within the period of 21 days beginning with the date of service²⁰. On such an appeal, the court may:

- 1890 (A) confirm the notice without modification²¹;
- 1891 (B) order that the notice is to have effect with the substitution of a different amount for the amount originally specified in it²²; or
- 1892 (C) order that the notice is to be of no effect²³.

Regulations²⁴ may make provision with respect to the grounds on which such appeals may be made, or the procedure on any such appeal²⁵.

For the purpose of enforcing a charge under these provisions, an enforcing authority has all the same powers and remedies under the Law of Property Act 1925²⁶, and otherwise, as if it were a mortgagee by deed having powers of sale and lease, of accepting surrenders of leases, and of appointing a receiver²⁷.

Where any cost is a charge on premises under these provisions, the enforcing authority may by order declare the cost to be payable with interest²⁸ by instalments within the specified period²⁹ until the whole amount is paid³⁰.

779. Designation of special sites after service of remediation notice.

If, in a case where a local authority¹ has served a remediation notice², the contaminated land³ in question becomes a special site⁴, the Environment Agency⁵ may adopt the remediation notice⁶ and, if it does so:

- 1893 (1) it must give notice⁷ of its decision to adopt the remediation notice to the appropriate person⁸ and to the local authority⁹;
- 1894 (2) the remediation notice has effect, as from the time at which the Environment Agency decides to adopt it, as a remediation notice given by the Environment Agency¹⁰; and
- 1895 (3) the validity of the remediation notice is not affected by:
 - 179 145. (a) the contaminated land having become a special site¹¹;
 - 146. (b) the adoption of the remediation notice by the Environment Agency¹²; or
 - 180 147. (c) anything in head (2) above¹³.

Where a local authority has¹⁴ begun to do any thing, or any series of things, by way of remediation¹⁵:

- 1896 (i) the authority may continue doing that thing, or that series of things notwithstanding that the contaminated land in question becomes a special site¹⁶; and
- 1897 (ii) provisions relating to the recovery of, and security for, the cost of remediation by the enforcing authority¹⁷ apply in relation to the reasonable cost incurred by the authority in doing that thing or those things as if that authority were the enforcing authority¹⁸.

If and so long as any land is a special site, the Environment Agency may from time to time inspect that land for the purpose of keeping its condition under review¹⁹. If it appears to the Environment Agency that a special site is no longer land which is required to be designated as such a site, the Environment Agency may give notice:

- 1898 (A) to the Secretary of State²⁰; and
- 1899 (B) to the local authority in whose area the site is situated²¹, terminating the designation of the land in question as a special site as from such date as may be specified in the notice²². In exercising these functions²³ the Environment Agency must act in accordance with any guidance given for the purpose by the Secretary of State²⁴.

780. Registers.

Every enforcing authority¹ must maintain a register (which may be kept in any form²) containing prescribed³ particulars of or relating to⁴:

- 1900 (1) remediation notices served by that authority⁵;
- 1901 (2) appeals against any such remediation notices⁶;
- 1902 (3) remediation statements or remediation declarations⁷;
- 1903 (4) in relation to an enforcing authority in England and Wales, appeals against charging notices served by that authority⁸;
- 1904 (5) notices⁹ which have effect¹⁰ as the designation of any land as a special site¹¹;
- 1905 (6) notices given by or to the enforcing authority¹² terminating the designation of any land as a special site¹³;
- 1906 (7) notifications given to that authority by persons:
 - 181 148. (a) on whom a remediation notice has been served¹⁴; or
 - 149. (b) who are or were required¹⁵ to prepare and publish a remediation statement¹⁶,
 - 182
 - 1907 of what they claim has been done by them by way of remediation¹⁷;
 - 1908 (8) notifications given to that authority by owners¹⁸ or occupiers of land:
 - 183 150. (a) in respect of which a remediation notice has been served¹⁹; or
 - 151. (b) in respect of which a remediation statement has been prepared and published²⁰,
 - 184
 - 1909 of what they claim has been done on the land in question by way of remediation²¹;
 - 1910 (9) convictions for such offences²² as may be prescribed²³;
 - 1911 (10) such other matters relating to contaminated land as may be prescribed²⁴.

Where any particulars are entered on a register maintained under these provisions by the Environment Agency, the Environment Agency must send a copy of those particulars to the local authority in whose area is situated the land to which the particulars relate²⁵. In any case where:

- 1912 (i) any land is treated²⁶ as situated in the area of a local authority other than the local authority in whose area it is in fact situated²⁷; and
- 1913 (ii) any particulars relating to that land are entered on the register maintained under these provisions by the local authority in whose area the land is so treated as situated²⁸, that authority must send a copy of those particulars to the local authority in whose area the land is in fact situated²⁹. Where a local authority receives a copy of any particulars sent to it³⁰, the authority must enter those particulars on the register maintained by it under these provisions³¹.

Where information of any description is excluded³² from any register maintained under these provisions, a statement must be entered in the register indicating the existence of information of that description³³. It is the duty of each enforcing authority:

- 1914 (A) to secure that the registers maintained by it are available, at all reasonable times, for inspection by the public free of charge³⁴; and
- 1915 (B) to afford to members of the public facilities for obtaining copies of entries, on payment of reasonable charges³⁵.

1 As to the meaning of 'enforcing authority' see PARA 761 note 6.

2 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78R(9) (ss 78A, 78R added by the Environment Act 1995 s 57). As to the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt IIA (ss 78A-78YC) generally see PARA 761 note 1.

3 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78A(1), (9) (as added: see note 2). As to the meaning of 'regulations' see PARA 763 note 3. As to the making of regulations see PARA 763 note 3. Provision is made for prescribing: (1) for the purposes of s 78R(1), the particulars of or relating to the matters to be contained in a register maintained under that provision; and (2) other matters in respect of which such a register must contain prescribed particulars pursuant to s 78R(1)(l) (see the text and note 24): see the Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, reg 13(1), Sch 3. As to the similar provisions applying in Wales see the Contaminated Land (Wales) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2989, reg 13(1), Sch 3.

A register maintained by an enforcing authority under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78R must contain full particulars of the following matters:

- 127 (a) in relation to a remediation notice served by the authority:
 - 30. (i) the name and address of the person on whom the notice is served (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 3 para 1(a)); 30
 - 31. (ii) the location and extent of the contaminated land to which the notice relates, in sufficient detail to enable it to be identified, whether by reference to a plan or otherwise (Sch 3 para 1(b));
31
 - 32. (iii) the significant harm or pollution of controlled waters by reason of which the contaminated land in question is contaminated land (Sch 3 para 1(c));
32
 - 33. (iv) the substances by reason of which the contaminated land in question is contaminated land and, if any of the substances have escaped from other land, the location of that other land (Sch 3 para 1(d));
33
 - 34. (v) the current use of the contaminated land in question (Sch 3 para 1(e)); 34
 - 35. (vi) what each appropriate person is to do by way of remediation and the periods within which each of the things must be done (Sch 3 para 1(f)); and 35
 - 36. (vii) the date of the notice (Sch 3 para 1(g)); 36
- 128 (b) any appeal against a remediation notice served by the authority (Sch 3 para 2);
- 129 (c) any decision on such an appeal (Sch 3 para 3);
- 130 (d) any remediation declaration prepared and published by the enforcing authority under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78H(6) (see PARA 769) (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 3 para 4);
- 131 (e) in relation to any such remediation declaration: (i) the location and extent of the contaminated land in question, sufficient to enable it to be identified whether by reference to a plan or otherwise; and (ii) the matters referred to in heads (a)(iii), (iv) and (v) above (Sch 3 para 5);

- 132 (f) any remediation statement prepared and published by the responsible person under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78H(7) or by the enforcing authority under s 78H(9) (see PARA 769) (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 3 para 6);
- 133 (g) in relation to any such remediation statement: (i) the location and extent of the contaminated land in question, sufficient to enable it to be identified whether by reference to a plan or otherwise; and (ii) the matters referred to in heads (a)(iii), (iv) and (v) above (Sch 3 para 7);
- 134 (h) in the case of an enforcing authority, any appeal under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78P(8) against a charging notice served by the enforcing authority (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 3 para 8);
- 135 (i) any decision on such an appeal (Sch 3 para 9);
- 136 (j) in the case of the Environment Agency, as respects any land in relation to which it is the enforcing authority, and in the case of a local authority, as respects any land in its area:
37. (i) any notice given by a local authority under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78C(1)(b) or s 78C(5)(a) (see PARA 763) or by the Secretary of State under s 78D(4)(b) (see PARA 765) which, by virtue of s 78C(7) or s 78D(6) respectively, has effect as the designation of any land as a special site (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 3 para 10(a));
37
38. (ii) the provisions of reg 2 or reg 3 (see PARA 764) by virtue of which the land is required to be designated as a special site (Sch 3 para 10(b));
38
39. (iii) any notice given by the Environment Agency under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78Q(1)(a) (see PARA 779) of its decision to adopt a remediation notice (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 3 para 10(c)); and 39
40. (iv) any notice given by or to the enforcing authority under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78Q(4) (see PARA 779) terminating the designation of any land as a special site (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 3 para 10(d));
40
- 137 (k) any notification given to the authority for the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78R(1)(h) or (j) (see the text and notes 14-21) (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 3 para 11);
- 138 (l) any conviction of a person for any offence under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78M (see PARA 776) in relation to a remediation notice served by the authority, including the name of the offender, the date of conviction, the penalty imposed and the name of the court (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 3 para 12);
- 139 (m) in the case of the Environment Agency, the date of any guidance issued by it under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78V(1) (see PARA 784) and, in the case of a local authority, the date of any guidance issued by the Environment Agency to it under that provision (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 3 para 13);
- 140 (n) where the authority is precluded by virtue of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78YB(1) or s 78YB(2B) (see PARA 769) from serving a remediation notice:
41. (i) the location and extent of the contaminated land in question, in sufficient detail to enable it to be identified whether by reference to a plan or otherwise (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 3 para 14(a));
41
42. (ii) the matters referred to in heads (a)(iii), (iv) and (v) above (Sch 3 para 14(b)); and 42
43. (iii) any steps of which the authority has knowledge, carried out under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 27 (prospectively repealed) (see PARA 185) or by means of an enforcement notice within the meaning of s 78YB(2B), towards remedying any significant harm or pollution of controlled waters by reason of which the land in question is contaminated land (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 3 para 14(c)); 43

141 (o) where the authority is precluded by virtue of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78YB(3) (see PARA 769) from serving a remediation notice in respect of land which is contaminated land by reason of the deposit of controlled waste or any consequences of its deposit:

44. (i) the location and extent of the contaminated land in question, in sufficient detail to enable it to be identified whether by reference to a plan or otherwise (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 3 para 15(a));
44

45. (ii) the matters referred to in heads (a)(iii), (iv) and (v) above (Sch 3 para 15(b)); and 45

46. (iii) any steps of which the enforcing authority has knowledge, carried out under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 59 (see PARA 702), in relation to that waste or the consequences of its deposit, including in a case where a waste collection authority (within the meaning of s 30(3)) (see PARA 620) took those steps or required the steps to be taken, the name of that authority (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 3 para 15(c));
46

142 (p) where, as a result of a consent given under the Water Resources Act 1991 Pt III Ch II (ss 85-91) (see PARA 291 et seq), the enforcing authority is precluded by virtue of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78YB(4) (see PARA 769) from specifying in a remediation notice any particular thing by way of remediation which it would otherwise have specified in such a notice:

47. (i) the consent (Contaminated Land (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1380, Sch 3 para 16(a));
47

48. (ii) the location and extent of the contaminated land in question, in sufficient detail to enable it to be identified whether by reference to a plan or otherwise (Sch 3 para 16(b)); and 48

49. (iii) the matters referred to in heads (a)(iii), (iv) and (v) above (Sch 3 para 16(c)).

781. Exclusion from registers of information affecting national security.

No information may be included in a register¹ if and so long as, in the opinion of the Secretary of State, the inclusion in the register of that information, or information of that description, would be contrary to the interests of national security². The Secretary of State may, for the purpose of securing the exclusion from registers of information to which the above provision applies, give directions to enforcing authorities³:

- 1916 (1) specifying information, or descriptions of information, to be excluded from their registers⁴; or
- 1917 (2) specifying descriptions of information to be referred to the Secretary of State for his determination⁵.

No information referred to the Secretary of State in pursuance of head (2) above may be included in any such register until the Secretary of State determines that it should be so included⁶.

² Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78S(1) (s 78S added by the Environment Act 1995 s 57). A person may, as respects any information which appears to him to be information to which the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 78S(1) may apply, give a notice to the Secretary of State specifying the information and indicating its apparent nature; and if he does so: (1) he must notify the enforcing authority that he has done so; and (2) no information so notified to the Secretary of State may be included in any such register until the Secretary of State has determined that it should be so included: s 78S(4) (as so added). As to the meaning of 'notice' see PARA 762 note 7.

782. Exclusion from registers of certain confidential information.

No information relating to the affairs of any individual or business may be included in a register¹ without the consent of that individual or the person for the time being carrying on that business², if and so long as the information:

- 1918 (1) is, in relation to him, commercially confidential³; and
- 1919 (2) is not required⁴ to be included in the register⁵.

Information is not commercially confidential for these purposes unless it is determined under these provisions to be so by the enforcing authority⁶ or, on appeal, by the Secretary of State⁷. Where it appears to an enforcing authority that any information which has been obtained by the authority under or by virtue of any provision of Part IIA of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 might be commercially confidential, the authority must⁸:

- 1920 (a) give to the person to whom or to whose business it relates notice⁹ that that information is required to be included in the register unless excluded under these provisions¹⁰; and
- 1921 (b) give him a reasonable opportunity of objecting to the inclusion of the information on the ground that it is commercially confidential, and of making representations to the authority for the purpose of justifying any such objection¹¹.

If any representations are made, the enforcing authority must, having taken the representations into account, determine whether the information is or is not commercially confidential¹². Where an authority determines that information is not commercially confidential:

- 1922 (i) the information must not be entered in the register until the end of the period of 21 days beginning with the date on which the determination is notified to the person concerned¹³; and
- 1923 (ii) that person may appeal to the Secretary of State against the decision¹⁴.

Where an appeal is brought in respect of any information, the information must not be entered in the register until the end of the period of seven days following the day on which the appeal is finally determined or withdrawn¹⁵.

The Secretary of State may give to the enforcing authorities directions as to specified information, or descriptions of information, which the public interest requires to be included in registers¹⁶ notwithstanding that the information may be commercially confidential¹⁷.

Information excluded from a register is to be treated as ceasing to be commercially confidential for these purposes at the expiry of the period of four years beginning with the date of the determination by virtue of which it was excluded; but the person who furnished it may apply to the authority for the information to remain excluded from the register on the ground that it is still commercially confidential and the authority must determine whether or not that is the case¹⁸.

786. General provisions with respect to guidance by the Secretary of State.

Any power of the Secretary of State¹ to issue guidance under Part IIA of the Environmental Protection Act 1990² is only exercisable after consultation with the Environment Agency³ and such other bodies or persons as he may consider it appropriate to consult in relation to the guidance in question⁴. A draft of any guidance proposed to be issued⁵ must be laid before each House of Parliament and the guidance must not be issued until after the period of 40 days beginning with the day on which the draft was so laid or, if the draft is laid on different days, the later of the two days⁶.

The Secretary of State must arrange for any guidance issued by him under these provisions to be published in such manner as he considers appropriate⁷.

There is European Union legislation relating to hazardous substances, which is concerned with the control of major accident hazards¹ and the use of genetically modified organisms². The control of major accident hazards is generally dealt with elsewhere in this work³. EU legislation relating to the use of genetically modified organisms is implemented in England and Wales by Part VI of the Environmental Protection Act 1990⁴ and regulations made under it⁵.

789. Advisory Committee on Hazardous Substances.

The Secretary of State¹ may by order establish a committee to give him advice in relation to the exercise of the power to make regulations prohibiting or restricting the importation, use supply or storage of injurious substances or articles². In exercise of this power, the Advisory Committee on Hazardous Substances was established in 1991³.

The Secretary of State must appoint the members of the committee, and must appoint one of those members to be chairman⁴. The committee must include persons who appear to the Secretary of State to be representative of:

- 1926 (1) persons engaged in carrying on industrial or commercial undertakings⁵;
- 1927 (2) persons having scientific knowledge of matters concerning pollution of the environment⁶;
- 1928 (3) bodies concerned with the protection or improvement of the environment⁷; and
- 1929 (4) bodies concerned with the protection of persons using substances⁸ or articles which are subject to regulation⁹.

The Secretary of State may make provision by regulations with respect to the terms on which members of the committee are to hold and vacate office, including the terms on which any person appointed as chairman is to hold and vacate office as chairman¹⁰. The Secretary of State must provide the committee with such services and other facilities as appear to him to be necessary or expedient for the proper performance of the committee's functions¹¹. The Secretary of State may pay to the members of the committee such remuneration (if any) and such allowances as may be determined by the Secretary of State with the consent of the Treasury¹².

INJURIOUS AND HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES/790. Power to prohibit or restrict the importation, use, supply or storage of injurious substances or articles.

790. Power to prohibit or restrict the importation, use, supply or storage of injurious substances or articles.

The Secretary of State¹ may by regulations prohibit or restrict:

- 1930 (1) the importation into and the landing and unloading in the United Kingdom²;
- 1931 (2) the use for any purpose³;
- 1932 (3) the supply for any purpose⁴; and of any specified substance⁶ or article if he considers it appropriate to do so for the purpose of preventing the substance or article from causing pollution of the environment⁷ or harm to human health or to the health of animals or plants⁸. Any such prohibition or restriction may apply: (a) in all, or only in specified, areas⁹; (b) in all, or only in specified, circumstances or if conditions imposed by the regulations are not complied with¹⁰; and (c) to all, or only to specified descriptions of, persons¹¹.

The regulations may:

- 1934 (i) confer on the Secretary of State power to direct that any substance or article whose use, supply or storage is prohibited or restricted is to be treated as waste or controlled waste¹² of any description and, in relation to any such substance or article, to apply, with or without modification, specified provisions of Part II of the Environmental Protection Act 1990¹³, or to direct that it be disposed of or treated in accordance with the direction¹⁴;
- 1935 (ii) confer on the Secretary of State power, where a substance or article has been imported, landed or unloaded in contravention of a prohibition or restriction imposed under head (1) above, to require that the substance or article be disposed of or treated in or removed from the United Kingdom¹⁵;
- 1936 (iii) confer powers¹⁶ on persons authorised for any purpose of the regulations by the Secretary of State or any local or other authority¹⁷; and
- 1937 (iv) include such other incidental and supplemental, and such transitional provisions, as the Secretary of State considers appropriate¹⁸.

The regulations may provide that a person who contravenes or fails to comply with a specified provision of the regulations or causes or permits another person to contravene or fail to comply with a specified provision of the regulations commits an offence and may prescribe the maximum penalty for the offence¹⁹.

It is the duty of the Secretary of State before he makes any regulations²⁰:

- 1938 (A) to consult the Advisory Committee on Hazardous Substances²¹ about the proposed regulations²²;
- 1939 (B) having consulted the committee, to publish in the London Gazette and, if the regulations apply in Scotland or Northern Ireland, the Edinburgh Gazette or, as the case may be, the Belfast Gazette and in any other publication which he considers appropriate, a notice indicating the effect of the proposed regulations and giving certain information²³; and 1940 (c) to consider any representations which are made to him in accordance with the notice²⁴.

As to the standard scale see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARA 142.

20 In other than regulations under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 140(4) (see note 15): see s 140(6). The Secretary of State may make regulations under s 140 in relation to any substance or article without observing the requirements of s 140(6) where it appears to him that there is an imminent risk, if those requirements are observed, that serious pollution of the environment will be caused: s 140(7).

The Secretary of State may, after performing the duty imposed on him by s 140(6) with respect to any proposed regulations, make the regulations either in the form of the draft mentioned in s 140(6)(b) (see note 23), or in that form with such modifications as he considers appropriate; but the Secretary of State must not make any regulations incorporating modifications unless he is of the opinion that it is appropriate for the requirements of s 140(6) to be disregarded: s 140(8).

791. Powers to obtain information about potentially hazardous substances.

The Secretary of State¹ may, for the purpose of assessing their potential for causing pollution of the environment² or harm to human health, by regulations make provision for and in connection with the obtaining of relevant information³ relating to substances which may be specified by him by order for these purposes⁴. The Secretary of State must not make such an order specifying any substance:

- 1941 (1) which was first supplied in any member state on or after 18 September 1981⁵; or
- 1942 (2) in so far as it is a regulated substance for the purposes of any relevant enactment⁶.

The Secretary of State must not make an order under these provisions specifying any substance without consulting the Advisory Committee on Hazardous Substances⁷ except where it appears to him that information about the substance needs to be obtained urgently⁸.

The regulations may:

- 1943 (a) prescribe the descriptions of relevant information which are to be furnished under these provisions in relation to specified substances⁹;
- 1944 (b) impose requirements on manufacturers, importers or suppliers generally to furnish information prescribed under head (a) above¹⁰;
- 1945 (c) provide for the imposition of requirements on manufacturers, importers or suppliers generally to furnish relevant information relating to products or articles containing specified substances in relation to which information has been furnished in pursuance of head (b) above¹¹;
- 1946 (d) provide for the imposition of requirements on particular manufacturers, importers or suppliers to furnish further information relating to specified substances in relation to which information has been furnished in pursuance of head (b) above¹²;
- 1947 (e) provide for the imposition of requirements on particular manufacturers or importers to carry out tests of specified substances and to furnish information of the results of the tests¹³;
- 1948 (f) authorise persons to comply with requirements to furnish information imposed on them by or under the regulations by means of representative persons or bodies¹⁴;
- 1949 (g) impose restrictions on the disclosure of information obtained under these provisions and provide for determining what information is, and what information is not, to be treated as furnished in confidence¹⁵;
- 1950 (h) create offences¹⁶;
- 1951 (i) make any public authority designated by the regulations responsible for the enforcement of the regulations to such extent as may be specified in the regulations¹⁷;
- 1952 (j) include such other incidental and supplemental, and such transitional, provisions as the Secretary of State considers appropriate¹⁸.

The Secretary of State must have regard, in imposing or providing for the imposition of any requirement under head (b), (c), (d) or (e) above, to the cost likely to be involved in complying with the requirement¹⁹.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 58. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59.

2 For these purposes, the 'environment' means the air, water and land or any of them: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 142(6).

3 For these purposes, 'relevant information', in relation to substances, products or articles, means information relating to their properties, production, distribution, importation or use or intended use and, in relation to products or articles, to their disposal as waste: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 142(6). For these purposes, 'substance' means any natural or artificial substance, whether in solid or liquid form or in the form of a gas or vapour and it includes mixtures of substances: s 142(6).

4 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 142(1). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made. Certain functions under s 142 are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733. Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 142 are specified for the purposes of s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW.

5 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 142(2)(a).

6 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 142(2)(b). The enactments which are relevant for these purposes are the following: the Manufacture and Storage of Explosives Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1082 (see EXPLOSIVES); the Radioactive Substances Act 1993 (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1340 et seq); the Medicines Act 1968 Pt II (ss 6-50) (licences etc) (see MEDICINAL PRODUCTS AND DRUGS vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 42 et seq), Pt III (ss 51-68) (sale and supply) (see MEDICINAL PRODUCTS AND DRUGS vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 133 et seq), Pt VIII (ss 104-136) (miscellaneous and supplementary provisions) (see MEDICINAL PRODUCTS AND DRUGS); the Agriculture Act 1970 Pt IV (ss 66-87) (see AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION AND MARKETING vol 1 (2008) PARA 941 et seq); the Misuse of Drugs Act 1971 (see MEDICINAL PRODUCTS AND DRUGS vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 237 et seq); the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 Pt III (ss 16-19) (see AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION AND MARKETING vol 1 (2008) PARA 1036 et seq); the Food Safety Act 1990 (see FOOD); and the Veterinary Medicines Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2407 (revoked and replaced by the Veterinary Medicines Regulations 2007, SI 2007/2539) (see AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION AND MARKETING vol 1 (2008) PARA 996 et seq): see the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 142(7) (amended by the Radioactive Substances Act 1993 Sch 4 para 8; SI 2005/1082; and SI 2006/2407). A substance is a regulated substance for the purposes of any such enactment in so far as any prohibition, restriction or requirement is imposed in relation to it by or under the enactment for the purposes of that enactment: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 142(7) (as so amended).

14. GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS

(1) INTRODUCTION

792. European Union legislation.

There is European Union legislation relating to the use and deliberate release of genetically modified organisms¹, which is implemented in England and Wales by Part VI of the Environmental Protection Act 1990² and regulations made under it³. There is also EU legislation concerning the traceability and labelling of genetically modified organisms and the traceability of food and feed products produced from genetically modified organisms⁴.

¹ See PARA 46. See also PARA 788.

le the Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt VI (ss 106-127): see PARA 793 et seq.

³ See the Genetically Modified Organisms (Contained Use) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/2831; the Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2443; the Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3188; and PARA 793 et seq.

⁴ le European Parliament and EC Council Regulation 1830/2003 (OJ L268, 18.10.2003, p 24) amending European Parliament and EC Council Directive 2001/18 (OJ L106, 17.4.2001, p 1): see PARA 46. This Regulation is implemented in England by the Genetically Modified Organisms (Traceability and Labelling) (England) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/2412, which make provision for: enforcement (see reg 3); the appointment of inspectors (see reg 4); powers of entry (see reg 5); information to inspectors (see reg 6); notices by inspectors in regard to incorrectly labelled products (see reg 7); offences (and defence) for contravening Community obligations, obstructing inspectors, giving false information (see reg 8 (amended by SI 2008/2598)); offences due to fault of another person (see the Genetically Modified Organisms (Traceability and Labelling) (England) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/2412, reg 9); offences by corporate bodies (see reg 10); penalties and time limits for bringing prosecutions (see regs 11, 12); and service of notices (see reg 13). As to the similar provisions relating to Wales see the Genetically Modified Organisms (Traceability and Labelling) (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1914.

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/14. GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS/(1) INTRODUCTION/793. Meaning of 'genetically modified organism' and related expressions.

793. Meaning of 'genetically modified organism' and related expressions.

In England and Wales, the control of damage to the environment caused by genetically modified organisms is governed chiefly by Part VI of the Environmental Protection Act 1990¹. The legislation has effect for the purpose of ensuring that all appropriate measures are taken to avoid damage to the environment² which may arise from the escape or release from human control³ of genetically modified organisms⁴. For these purposes, the term 'organism' means any acellular, unicellular or multicellular entity (in any form), other than humans, human embryos or human admixed embryos; and, unless the context otherwise requires, the term also includes any article or substance consisting of or including biological matter⁵.

An organism is 'genetically modified' if any of the genes or other genetic material in the organism:

- 1953 (1) have been artificially modified⁶; or
- 1954 (2) are inherited or otherwise derived, through any number of replications, from genes or other genetic material (from any source) which were so modified⁷.

Genetically modified organisms present in the environment are capable of causing harm⁸ if: (a) they are individually capable, or are present in numbers such that together they are capable, of causing harm⁹; or (b) they are able to produce descendants¹⁰ which will be capable, or which will be present in numbers such that together they will be capable, of causing harm¹¹. A single organism is capable of causing harm either if it is itself capable of causing harm or if it is able to produce descendants which will be so capable¹².

In addition to the general controls referred to above, detailed provision is made as to the control of operations involving the genetic modification of organisms¹³.

1 The Environmental Protection Act 1990 Pt VI (ss 106-127). Part VI, except in so far as it relates to importations of genetically modified organisms, applies to the territorial sea adjacent to England (or Wales) as it applies to England (or Wales); and applies to any area for the time being designated under the Continental Shelf Act 1964 s 1(7) (see FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARA 1636), as it applies in England: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 127(2) (amended by SI 2002/2443; and SI 2002/3188). 'Import' means import into the United Kingdom: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 127(1). As to the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 1 note 2.

2 The 'environment' includes land, air and water and living organisms supported by any of those media: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 107(1), (2) (s 107(2) substituted by SI 2002/2443; and SI 2002/3188). 'Damage to the environment' is caused by the presence in the environment of genetically modified organisms which have (or of a single such organism which has) escaped or been released from a person's control and are (or is) capable of causing harm: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 107(1), (3) (s 107(3) amended by SI 2002/2443; and SI 2002/3188). An organism is regarded as present in the environment notwithstanding that it is present in or on any human or other organism, or any other thing, which is itself present in the environment: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 107(1), (4). As to the meaning of 'genetically modified organisms' see the text and notes 6-7. As to the meanings of 'escapes', 'release' and 'control' see note 3. As to the meaning of 'organism' see the text and note 5; and as to the meaning of 'harm' see note 8. As to when genetically modified organisms are capable of causing harm see the text and notes 8-12.

3 Organisms of any description are under the 'control' of a person where he keeps them contained by measures designed to limit their contact with humans and the environment and to prevent or minimise the risk of harm: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 107(1), (9) (amended by SI 2002/2443; and SI 2002/3188).

An organism under a person's control is 'released' if he deliberately causes or permits it to cease to be under his control or the control of any other person and to enter the environment; and such an organism 'escapes' if, otherwise than by being released, it ceases to be under his control or that of any other person and enters the environment: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 107(1), (10).

4 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 106(1) (amended by SI 2002/2443; and SI 2002/3188).

5 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 106(2) (amended by the Human Fertilisation and Embryology Act 2008 s 60(1), (2)).

For the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 106(2): (1) 'human embryo' means an embryo within the meaning given in the provisions of the Human Fertilisation and Embryology Act 1990 (apart from s 4A) (see MEDICAL PROFESSIONS) by virtue of s 1(1), (6) (see CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS vol 5(3) (2008 Reissue) PARA 102); and (2) 'human admixed embryo' has the same meaning as it has by virtue of s 4A(6), (11) (see MEDICAL PROFESSIONS): Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 106(3A) (added by the Human Fertilisation and Embryology Act 2008 s 60(1), (3)). Also for the purposes of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 106(2), 'biological matter' means anything (other than an entity mentioned in s 106(2)) which consists of or includes: (a) tissue or cells (including gametes or propagules) or subcellular entities, of any kind, capable of replication or of transferring genetic material; or (b) genes or other genetic material, in any form, which are so capable, and it is immaterial, in determining if something is or is not an organism or biological matter, whether it is the product of natural or artificial processes of reproduction and, in the case of biological matter, whether it has ever been part of a whole organism: s 106(3). Where the context permits, a reference to 'reproduction', in relation to an organism, includes a reference to its replication or its transferring genetic material: s 106(7).

6 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 106(4)(a) (substituted by SI 2002/2443; and SI 2002/3188).

Subject as follows, genes or other genetic material in an organism are 'artificially modified' if they are altered otherwise than by a process which occurs naturally in mating or natural recombination: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 106(4A) (s 106(4A)-(4D) added by SI 2002/2443; and SI 2002/3188). For these purposes: (1) genes or other genetic material must be taken to be artificially modified if they are altered using such techniques as may be prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State for such purposes; (2) genes or other genetic material must not be regarded as artificially modified by reason only of being altered by the use of such techniques as may be so prescribed: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 106(4B), (4D) (as so added). An organism must be taken not to be a genetically modified organism if it is an organism of a description prescribed by regulations made by the Secretary of State: s 106(4C), (4D) (as so added). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made. As to the Secretary of State see paras 58, 812. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59. As to the duty to consult the Food Standards Agency before regulations are made under these provisions see PARA 812 note 5. As to the Food Standards Agency generally see FOOD vol 18(2) (Reissue) PARA 225 et seq.

Until the coming into force of the first regulations under head (1) above, genes or other genetic material must be taken, for the purposes of s 106(4), to be artificially modified if they are altered using any of the following techniques: (a) recombinant nucleic acid techniques involving the formation of new combinations of genetic material by the insertion of nucleic acid molecules, produced by whatever means outside an organism, into any virus, bacterial plasmid or other vector system and their incorporation into a host organism in which they do not naturally occur but in which they are capable of continued propagation; (b) techniques involving the direct introduction into an organism of heritable material prepared outside the organism including micro-injection, macro-injection and micro-encapsulation; (c) cell fusion (including protoplast fusion) or hybridisation techniques where live cells with new combinations of heritable genetic material are formed through the fusion of two or more cells by means of methods that do not occur naturally: Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2443, reg 5(1); Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3188, reg 6(1). Until the coming into force of the first regulations under head (2) above, genes or other genetic material must not be regarded as artificially modified by reason only of being altered by the use of in vitro fertilisation, natural processes such as conjugation, transduction and transformation, or by the use of polyploidy induction, provided that such techniques do not involve the use of recombinant nucleic acid molecules or genetically modified organisms made by techniques or methods other than: (i) mutagenesis; or (ii) cell fusion (including protoplast fusion) of plant cells of organisms which can exchange genetic material through traditional breeding methods: Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2443, reg 5(2); Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3188, reg 6(2). Until the coming into force of the first regulations under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 106(4C) (see above), an organism must be taken, for the purposes of Pt VI, not to be a genetically modified organism if it is yielded from the techniques or methods listed in heads (i), (ii) above provided that those techniques or methods did not involve the use of recombinant nucleic acid molecules or genetically modified organisms other than those made by techniques or methods listed in the Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2443, reg 5(2) or the Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3188, reg 6(2): Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2443, reg 5(3); Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3188, reg 6(3). For these purposes, 'genetically modified organisms' means a genetically modified organism or a combination of genetically modified organisms: Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2443, reg 2; Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3188, reg 2.

7 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 106(4)(b).

8 'Harm' means adverse effects as regards the health of humans or the environment: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 107(1), (6) (s 107(6) substituted by SI 2002/2443; and SI 2002/3188). 'Harmful' and 'harmless' mean respectively, in relation to genetically modified organisms, their being capable or their being incapable of causing harm: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 107(1), (7). The Secretary of State may by regulations provide, in relation to genetically modified organisms of any description specified in the regulations, that: (1) the capacity of those organisms for causing harm of any description so specified; or (2) harm of any description so specified, is to be disregarded for such purposes of Pt VI as may be so specified: s 107(1), (8). See the Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2443; and the Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3188.

9 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 107(1), (5)(a).

10 'Descendant', in relation to a genetically modified organism, means any other organism whose genes or other genetic material is derived, through any number of generations, from that organism by any process of reproduction: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 127(1).

11 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 107(1), (5)(b).

12 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 107(1), (5).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/14. GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS/(2) ACQUISITION, IMPORTATION, RELEASE, MARKETING AND KEEPING OF GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS/(i) General Controls/794. Risk assessment and notification requirements.

(2) ACQUISITION, IMPORTATION, RELEASE, MARKETING AND KEEPING OF GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS

(i) General Controls

794. Risk assessment and notification requirements.

No person may import¹ or acquire², release³ or market⁴ any genetically modified organisms unless, before doing that act⁵:

- 1955 (1) he has carried out an assessment of any risks there are (by reference to the nature of the organisms and the manner in which he intends to keep them after their importation or acquisition or, as the case may be, to release or market them) of damage to the environment⁶ being caused as a result of doing that act⁷; and
- 1956 (2) in such cases and circumstances as may be prescribed⁸, he has given the Secretary of State such notice of his intention of doing that act and such information as may be prescribed⁹.

A person who is keeping genetically modified organisms must, in such cases or circumstances and at such times or intervals as may be prescribed¹⁰: (a) carry out an assessment of any risks there are of damage to the environment being caused as a result of his continuing to keep them¹¹; and (b) give the Secretary of State notice of the fact that he is keeping the organisms and such information as may be prescribed¹².

It is the duty of a person who carries out an assessment under head (1) or head (a) above to keep, for the prescribed period, such a record of the assessment as may be prescribed¹³. A person required by head (2) or head (b) above to give notice to the Secretary of State must give the Secretary of State such further information as the Secretary of State may by notice in writing require¹⁴.

The Secretary of State may at any time:

- 1957 (i) give directions to a person wishing to import, acquire, release or market genetically modified organisms¹⁵ requiring that person to apply for a consent before doing the act in question¹⁶; or
- 1958 (ii) give directions to a person who is keeping genetically modified organisms¹⁷ requiring that person, before such date as may be specified in the direction, to apply for a consent authorising him to continue keeping the organisms in question¹⁸.

In such cases, the person given directions is, from the specified date, required to obtain consent¹⁹.

It is an offence to contravene or fail to comply with certain of the provisions described above, or to make a false statement or false entry in a record in connection with these provisions²⁰.

There are also specific risk assessment and notification requirements in relation to operations involving the genetic modification of organisms²¹.

1 As to the meaning of 'import' see PARA 793 note 1.

2 'Acquire', in relation to genetically modified organisms, includes any method by which such organisms may come to be in a person's possession, other than by their being imported: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 127(1). As to the meanings of 'genetically modified organisms' and 'organisms' see PARA 793.

3 As to the meaning of 'released' see PARA 793 note 3.

4 Genetically modified organisms of any description are 'marketed' by a person when products consisting of or including such organisms are placed on the market by being made available to other persons, whether or not for consideration: Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 107(1), (11) (s 107(11) substituted by SI 2002/2443; and SI 2002/3188).

5 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 108(1). This is expressed to be subject to s 108(2) (not yet in force) and s 108(7) (see note 8).

Section 108(1) does not apply to a person proposing to do an act mentioned in that provision who is required under s 111(1)(a) (see PARA 797) to have a consent before doing that act: s 108(2). At the date at which this volume states the law no order had been made bringing s 108(2) into force.

Regulations under s 108 may provide for exemptions or for the granting by the Secretary of State, or by the Secretary of State and the Food Standards Agency acting jointly, of exemptions to particular persons or classes of person, from the requirements of s 108(1) or s 108(3) in such cases or circumstances, and to such extent, as may be prescribed: s 108(7) (amended by the Food Standards Act 1999 Sch 3 para 17). For these purposes, 'prescribed' means prescribed by the Secretary of State in regulations under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 108: s 108(10). As to the Secretary of State see PARAS 58, 812. As to the transfer of functions of the Secretary of State, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers see PARA 59. As to regulations made under these provisions see the Genetically Modified Organisms (Risk Assessment) (Records and Exemptions) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1106 (amended by SI 1997/1900; SI 2000/2831; and SI 2005/2759).

Regulations under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 108 may:

147 (1) prescribe the manner in which assessments under s 108(1) or s 108(3) (see the text and notes 10-12) are to be carried out and the matters which must be investigated and assessed (s 108(9)(a));

148 (2) prescribe minimum periods of notice between the giving of a notice under head (2) in the text and the doing of the act in question (s 108(9)(b));

149 (3) make provision allowing the Secretary of State to shorten or to extend any such period (s 108(9)(c)); or 150 (4) prescribe maximum intervals at which assessments under head (a) in the text must be carried out (s 108(9)(d)).

The regulations may make different provision for different cases and different circumstances: s 108(9). As to the duty to consult the Food Standards Agency before regulations are made under these provisions see PARA 812 note 5. As to the Food Standards Agency generally see FOOD vol 18(2) (Reissue) PARA 225 et seq.

6 As to the meanings of 'environment' and 'damage to the environment' see PARA 793 note 2.

7 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 108(1)(a). A person who imports or acquires genetically modified organisms is exempt from the requirements of s 108(1)(a) in so far as they relate to the protection of human health: Genetically Modified Organisms (Risk Assessment) (Records and Exemptions) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1106, reg 3(1). Such a person is also exempt from the requirements of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 108(1)(a) where the organisms to be imported or acquired: (1) are, within the meaning of the Genetically Modified Organisms (Contained Use) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/2831, reg 2(1), genetically modified micro-organisms (see PARA 813); (2) are organisms, within the meaning of reg 2(1) (see PARA 813 note 3), other than micro-organisms within the meaning of reg 2(1), which are modified by means of: (a) the application of the techniques which, by virtue of reg 2(1), Sch 2 Pt II, are not considered to result in genetic modification for the purposes of the definition of that expression in reg 2(1); or (b) the application of the techniques to which, by virtue of reg 3(2), Sch 2 Pt III, the Genetically Modified Organisms (Contained Use) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/2831, do not apply; (3) are or are contained in a medicinal product for human or veterinary use which is the subject of a market authorisation under EC Council Regulation 2309/93 (OJ L214, 24.08.1993, p 1) or

European Parliament and EC Council Regulation 726/2004 (OJ L329, 16.12.2005, p 4) laying down Community procedures for the authorisation and supervision of medicinal products for human and veterinary use and establishing a European Medicines Agency (see MEDICINAL PRODUCTS AND DRUGS vol 30(2) (Reissue) PARA 19 et seq); (4) consist of, or are included in, an approved product as defined in the Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2443, reg 2 (and the Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3188, reg 2) which is imported or acquired in accordance with the conditions and limitations to which the use of the product is subject; or (5) are or are contained in a novel food or novel food ingredient which is authorised for marketing in accordance with the provisions of EC Regulation 258/97 (OJ L43, 14.02.1997, p 1) (see FOOD vol 18(2) (Reissue) PARA 349 et seq): Genetically Modified Organisms (Risk Assessment) (Records and Exemptions) Regulations 1996, SI 1996/1106, reg 3(2) (amended by SI 1997/1900; SI 2000/2831; and SI 2005/2759). 'Approved product' means a product permitted to be marketed by a consent granted under the Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 111(1) (see PARA 797) by a person other than the Secretary of State or otherwise in accordance with EC Council Directive 2001/18 (OJ L106, 17.4.2001, p 1) on the deliberate release of genetically modified organisms into the environment arts 15(3), 17(6), 18(2) (amended by EC Regulation 1830/2003 (OJ L268, 18.10.2003, p 24)) or EC Council Directive 1990/220 (OJ L117, 8.5.1990, p 15) on the deliberate release into the environment of genetically modified organisms art 13(4) (repealed): see the Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2443, reg 2; and the Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3188, reg 2.

As to the procedure which the Secretary of State must follow on receipt of any new information which affects the risk assessment for the marketing of genetically modified organisms see the Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2443, reg 31; and the Genetically Modified Organisms (Deliberate Release) (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/3188, reg 32.

10 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 108(3). This is expressed to be subject to s 108(4) (not yet in force) and s 108(7) (see note 5). Section 108(3) does not apply to a person who is keeping genetically modified organisms and is required under s 111(2) (see PARA 797) to have a consent authorising him to continue to keep the organisms: s 108(4). At the date at which this volume states the law no order had been made bringing s 108(4) into force. At the date at which this volume states the law no regulations have been made for the purposes of s 108(3).

'Consent' means a consent granted under s 111 (see PARA 797); and a reference to the limitations or conditions to which a consent is subject is a reference to the limitations or conditions subject to which the consent for the time being has effect: s 127(1).

Halsbury's Laws of England/ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH (VOLUME 45 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 1-575; VOLUME 46 (2010) 5TH EDITION, PARAS 576-1081)/14. GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS/(2) ACQUISITION, IMPORTATION, RELEASE, MARKETING AND KEEPING OF GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS/(i) General Controls/795. General duties relating to importation, acquisition, keeping, release or marketing of organisms.

795. General duties relating to importation, acquisition, keeping, release or marketing of organisms.

As from a day to be appointed¹, a person who is proposing to import² or acquire³ any genetically modified organisms⁴, or who is keeping any such organisms, or who is proposing to release⁵ or market⁶ any such organisms, is⁷ subject to the applicable duties as specified below⁸.

A person who proposes to import or acquire genetically modified organisms: (1) must take all reasonable steps to identify, by reference to the nature of the organisms and the manner in which he intends to keep them (including any precautions to be taken against their escaping⁹ or causing damage to the environment¹⁰), what risks there are of damage to the environment being caused as a result of their importation or acquisition¹¹; and (2) must not import or acquire the organisms if it appears that, despite any precautions which can be taken, there is a risk of damage to the environment being caused as a result of their importation or acquisition¹².

A person who is keeping genetically modified organisms: (a) must take all reasonable steps to keep himself informed of any damage to the environment which may have been caused as a result of his keeping the organisms and to identify what risks there are of damage to the environment being caused as a result of his continuing to keep them¹³; (b) must cease keeping the organisms if, despite any additional precautions which can be taken, it appears at any time that there is a risk of damage to the environment being caused as a result of his continuing to keep them¹⁴; and (c) must use the best available techniques not entailing excessive cost for keeping the organisms under his control¹⁵ and for preventing any damage to the environment being caused as a result of his continuing to keep the organisms¹⁶. Where a person is required by head (b) above to cease keeping the organisms he must dispose of them as safely and as quickly as practicable, and head (c) above continues to apply until he has done so¹⁷.

A person who proposes to release genetically modified organisms: (i) must take all reasonable steps to keep himself informed, by reference to the nature of the organisms and the extent and manner of the release (including any precautions to be taken against their causing damage to the environment), what risks there are of damage to the environment being caused as a result of their being released¹⁸; (ii) must not release the organisms if it appears that, despite the precautions which can be taken, there is a risk of damage to the environment being caused as a result of their being released¹⁹; and (iii) subject to head (ii) above, must use the best available techniques not entailing excessive cost for preventing any damage to the environment being caused as a result of their being released²⁰. Heads (i) to (iii) above also apply, with the necessary modifications, to a person proposing to market organisms²¹.

None of the provisions described above apply:

- 1959 (A) to persons proposing to import or acquire, to release or to market any genetically modified organisms, in cases or circumstances where they are not required to carry out a risk assessment²² before doing that act²³;
- 1960 (B) to persons who are keeping any genetically modified organisms and who were not required to carry out a risk assessment before importing or acquiring them, and have not been required to carry out a risk assessment in respect of the keeping of those organisms since importing or acquiring them²⁴; or
- 1961 (C) to holders of consents²⁵, in the case of acts authorised by those consents²⁶.

Failure to comply with the above requirements is an offence²⁷.

GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS/(2) ACQUISITION, IMPORTATION, RELEASE, MARKETING AND KEEPING OF GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS/(i) General Controls/796. Prohibition notices.

796. Prohibition notices.

The Secretary of State¹ may serve a notice under the following provisions (a 'prohibition notice') on any person he has reason to believe:

- 1962 (1) is proposing to import² or acquire³, release⁴ or market⁵ any genetically modified organisms⁶; or
- 1963 (2) is keeping any such organisms⁷,

if he is of the opinion that doing any such act in relation to those organisms or continuing to keep them, as the case may be, would involve a risk of causing damage to the environment⁸.

A prohibition notice may prohibit a person from doing an act mentioned in head (1) above in relation to any genetically modified organisms or from continuing to keep them, and the prohibition may apply in all cases or circumstances or in such cases or circumstances as may be specified in the notice⁹. A prohibition notice must:

- 1964 (a) state that the Secretary of State is, in relation to the person on whom it is served, of the opinion mentioned above¹⁰;
- 1965 (b) specify what is, or is to be, prohibited by the notice¹¹; and
- 1966 (c) if the prohibition is not to be effective on being served, specify the date on which the prohibition is to take effect¹².

A notice may be served on a person notwithstanding that he may have a consent¹³ authorising any act which is, or is to be, prohibited by the notice¹⁴.

Where a person is prohibited by a prohibition notice from continuing to keep any genetically modified organisms, he must dispose of them as quickly and safely as practicable or, if the notice so provides, as may be specified in the notice¹⁵.

The Secretary of State may at any time withdraw a prohibition notice served on any person by notice given to that person¹⁶.

It is an offence to contravene any prohibition imposed by a prohibition notice¹⁷.

GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS/(2) ACQUISITION, IMPORTATION, RELEASE, MARKETING AND KEEPING OF GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS/(ii) Consents/797. Consents required by certain persons.

(ii) Consents

797. Consents required by certain persons.

No person may import¹ or acquire², release³ or market⁴ any genetically modified organisms⁵:

- 1967 (1) in such cases or circumstances as may be prescribed in relation to that act⁶; or
- 1968 (2) in any case where he has been given directions⁷, except in pursuance of a consent granted by the Secretary of State⁸ and in accordance with any limitations and conditions to which the consent is subject⁹.

No person who has imported or acquired any genetically modified organisms (whether under a consent or not) may continue to keep the organisms:

- 1969 (a) in such cases or circumstances as may be prescribed, after the end of the prescribed period¹⁰; or
- 1970 (b) if he has been given directions¹¹, after the date specified in the directions¹², except in pursuance of a consent granted by the Secretary of State and in accordance with any limitations or conditions to which the consent is subject¹³.

An application for a consent must contain such information and be made and advertised in such manner as may be prescribed¹⁴, and must be accompanied by a fee¹⁵. The applicant must, in prescribed circumstances, give such notice of his application to such persons as may be prescribed¹⁶. The Secretary of State may by notice to the applicant require him to furnish such further information specified in the notice, within such period as may be so specified, as he may require for the purpose of determining the application; and if the applicant fails to furnish the information within the specified period, the Secretary of State may refuse to proceed with the application¹⁷. Where an applicant for consent for releasing or marketing genetically modified organisms becomes aware, before his application is either granted or rejected, of any new information with regard to any risks there are of damage to the environment¹⁸ being caused as a result of the organisms being released or marketed, he must notify the Secretary of State of that new information forthwith¹⁹.

Regulations under these provisions may provide for exemptions, or for the granting by the Secretary of State, or by the Secretary of State and the Food Standards Agency²⁰ acting jointly, of exemptions to particular persons or classes of person, from: (i) any requirement²¹ to have a consent; or (ii) any of the requirements to be fulfilled under the regulations by an applicant for a consent, in such cases or circumstances as may be prescribed²².

Where an application for a consent is duly made to him, the Secretary of State may grant the consent subject to such limitations and conditions as may be imposed²³ or he may refuse the application²⁴. The conditions attached to a consent may include conditions which are to continue to have effect notwithstanding that the holder has completed or ceased the act or acts authorised by the consent²⁵.

The Secretary of State may at any time, by notice given to the holder of a consent, revoke the consent or vary the consent (whether by attaching new limitations and conditions or by revoking or varying any limitations and conditions to which it is at that time subject)²⁶.

The Food Standards Agency must be consulted before any consent is granted or varied²⁷.

Contravention of the prohibition on doing anything without a consent, making a false statement or entry in any record, or forging any document required by these provisions, is an offence²⁸.

GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS/(2) ACQUISITION, IMPORTATION, RELEASE, MARKETING AND KEEPING OF GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS/(ii) Consents/798. Limitations and conditions included in consents.

798. Limitations and conditions included in consents.

The Secretary of State¹ may include in a consent² such limitations and conditions as he may think fit for the purpose of ensuring that all appropriate measures are taken to avoid damage to the environment which may arise from the activity permitted by the consent³. Without prejudice to the generality of this provision, the conditions included in a consent may:

- 1971 (1) require the giving of notice of any fact to the Secretary of State⁴; or
- 1972 (2) prohibit or restrict the keeping, releasing⁵ or marketing⁶ of genetically modified organisms⁷ under the consent in specified cases or circumstances⁸.

Where, under any condition, the holder of a consent is required to cease keeping any genetically modified organisms, he must dispose of them, if no manner is specified in the conditions, as quickly and safely as practicable⁹.

As from a day to be appointed¹⁰, there is implied in every consent for the importation¹¹ or acquisition¹² of genetically modified organisms a general condition¹³ that the holder of the consent will:

- 1973 (a) take all reasonable steps to keep himself informed (by reference to the nature of the organisms and the manner in which he intends to keep them after their importation or acquisition) of any risks there are of damage to the environment¹⁴ being caused as a result of their importation or acquisition¹⁵; and
- 1974 (b) if at any time it appears that any such risks are more serious than were apparent when the consent was granted, notify the Secretary of State forthwith¹⁶.

As from a day to be appointed¹⁷, there is implied in every consent for keeping genetically modified organisms a general condition¹⁸ that the holder of the consent will:

- 1975 (i) take all reasonable steps to keep himself informed of any damage to the environment which may have been caused as a result of his keeping the organisms and of any risks there are of such damage being caused as a result of his continuing to keep them¹⁹;
- 1976 (ii) if at any time it appears that any such risks are more serious than were apparent when the consent was granted, notify the Secretary of State forthwith²⁰; and
- 1977 (iii) use the best available techniques not entailing excessive cost for keeping the organisms under his control²¹ and for preventing any damage to the environment being caused as a result of his continuing to keep them²².

There is implied in every consent for releasing or marketing genetically modified organisms a general condition²³ that the holder of the consent will:

- 1978 (A) take all reasonable steps to keep himself informed (by reference to the nature of the organisms and the extent and manner of the release or marketing) of

- any risks there are of damage to the environment being caused as a result of their being released or, as the case may be, marketed²⁴;
- 1979 (B) notify the Secretary of State²⁵ forthwith of:
- 185
152. (aa) any new information which becomes available with regard to any risks there are of damage to the environment being so caused²⁶; and
153. (bb) any unforeseen event, occurring in connection with a release by him, which might affect the risks there are of damage to the environment being caused as a result of their being released²⁷;
- 186
- 1980 (C) take such measures as are necessary to prevent damage to the environment being caused as a result of the release or, as the case may be, the marketing of the organisms²⁸;
- 1981 (D) notify the Secretary of State of the measures, if any, taken as a result of new information becoming available or an unforeseen event occurring as described in head (bb) above²⁹; and
- 1982 (E) in a case where new information becomes available or an unforeseen event so occurs, revise the information contained in his application for a consent accordingly and supply the revised information to the Secretary of State³⁰.

There is implied in every consent for keeping, releasing or marketing genetically modified organisms of any description a general condition³¹ that the holder of the consent³² will take all reasonable steps to keep himself informed of developments in the techniques which may be available in his case for preventing damage to the environment being caused as a result of the doing of the act authorised by the consent in relation to organisms of that description³³; and if it appears at any time that any better techniques are available to him than is required by any condition included in the consent³⁴, he must notify the Secretary of State of that fact forthwith³⁵.

Where an entry is required by a condition in a consent to be made in any record as to the observance of any other condition and the entry has not been made, that fact is admissible as evidence that that other condition has not been observed³⁶.

GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS/(2) ACQUISITION, IMPORTATION, RELEASE, MARKETING AND KEEPING OF GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS/(ii) Consents/799. Fees and charges.

799. Fees and charges.

The Secretary of State¹ may, with the approval of the Treasury², make and from time to time revise a scheme prescribing:

- 1983 (1) fees payable in respect of applications for consents³; and
- 1984 (2) charges payable by persons holding consents in respect of the subsistence of their consents⁴.

It is a condition of any such consent that any applicable prescribed charge is paid in accordance with that scheme⁵. Such a scheme may, in particular:

- 1985 (a) provide for different fees or charges to be payable in different cases or circumstances⁶;
- 1986 (b) provide for the times at which and the manner in which payments are to be made⁷; and
- 1987 (c) make such incidental, supplementary and transitional provision as appears to the Secretary of State to be appropriate⁸.

The Secretary of State must so frame a scheme as to secure, so far as practicable, that the amounts payable under it will be sufficient, taking one financial year with another, to cover the expenditure of the Secretary of State in discharging his statutory functions⁹ in relation to consents¹⁰. On making or revising such a scheme, the Secretary of State must lay a copy of the scheme or of the scheme as revised before each House of Parliament¹¹.

(iii) Enforcement

A. INSPECTORS

800. Appointment etc of inspectors.

The Secretary of State¹ may appoint as inspectors, for carrying the statutory provisions² into effect, such number of persons appearing to him to be qualified for the purpose as he may consider necessary³. The Secretary of State may make to or in respect of any person so appointed such payments by way of remuneration, allowances or otherwise as he may with the approval of the Treasury⁴ determine⁵. An inspector is not personally liable in any civil or criminal proceedings for anything done in the purported exercise of any power relating to rights of entry and inspection, or power to deal with causes of imminent danger of damage to the environment⁶ if the court is satisfied that the act was done in good faith and that there were reasonable grounds for doing it⁷. In England and Wales an inspector, if authorised to do so by the Secretary of State, may prosecute before a magistrates' court proceedings for an offence⁸.

It is an offence falsely to pretend to be an inspector⁹.

3 Environmental Protection Act 1990 s 114(1). In Pt VI, 'inspector' means, subject to s 125, a person appointed as an inspector under s 114(1): s 114(5). In ss 115, 117 (see PARAS 801, 803), 'inspector' includes, to the extent of the delegation, any inspector appointed by an authority to whom functions are delegated by the Secretary of State: s 125(2). GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS/(2) ACQUISITION, IMPORTATION, RELEASE, MARKETING AND KEEPING OF GENETICALLY MODIFIED ORGANISMS/(iii) Enforcement/B. ENFORCEMENT POWERS/801. Rights of entry and inspection.

B. ENFORCEMENT POWERS

801. Rights of entry and inspection.

An inspector¹ may, on production (if so required) of his authority, exercise any of the powers mentioned below² for the purposes of the discharge of the functions of the Secretary of State³ under the relevant statutory provisions⁴. Those powers are exercisable:

- 1988 (1) in relation to premises⁵: (a) on which the inspector has reason to believe a person is keeping or has kept any genetically modified organisms⁶; or (b) from which he has reason to believe any such organisms have been released⁷ or have escaped⁸; and
- 1989 (2) in relation to premises on which the inspector has reason to believe there may be harmful⁹ genetically modified organisms or evidence of damage to the environment¹⁰ caused by genetically modified organisms¹¹.

The powers are not, however, exercisable in relation to premises used wholly or mainly for domestic purposes¹².

The powers of an inspector are:

- 1990 (i) at any reasonable time (or, in a situation in which in his opinion there is an immediate risk of damage to the environment, at any time)¹³:

187

- 154. (A) to enter premises which he has reason to believe it is necessary for him to enter and to take with him any person duly authorised by the Secretary of State and, if the inspector has reasonable cause to apprehend any serious obstruction in the execution of his duty, a constable¹⁴; and
- 155. (B) to take with him any equipment or materials required for any purpose for which the power of entry is being exercised¹⁵;

188

- 1991 (ii) to carry out such tests and inspections (and to make such recordings) as may in any circumstances be necessary¹⁶;
- 1992 (iii) to direct that any, or any part of, premises which he has power to enter, or anything in or on such premises, is to be left undisturbed (whether generally or in particular respects) for so long as is reasonably necessary for the purpose of any test or inspection¹⁷;
- 1993 (iv) to take samples of any organisms, articles or substances found in or on any premises which he has power to enter, and of the air, water or land in, on, or in the vicinity of the premises¹⁸;
- 1994 (v) in the case of anything found in or on any premises which he has power to enter, which appears to him to contain or to have contained genetically modified organisms which have caused or are likely to cause damage to the environment, to cause it to be dismantled or subjected to any process or test (but not so as to damage or destroy it unless this is necessary)¹⁹;

1995 (vi) in the case of anything mentioned in head (v) above or anything found on premises which he has power to enter which appears to be a genetically modified organism or to consist of or include genetically modified organisms, to take possession of it and detain it for so long as is necessary for all or any of the following purposes²⁰, namely:

189

156. (A) to examine it and do to it anything which he has power to do under head (v) above²¹;

157. (B) to ensure that it is not tampered with before his examination of it is completed²²; and

158. (C) to ensure that it is available for use as evidence in any proceedings for an offence²³;

190

1996 (vii) to require any person whom he has reasonable cause to believe to be able to give any information relevant to any test or inspection under these provisions to answer (in the absence of persons other than a person nominated to be present and any persons whom the inspector may allow to be present) such questions as the inspector thinks fit to ask and to sign a declaration of the truth of his answers²⁴;

1997 (viii) to require the production of, or where the information is recorded in computerised form, the furnishing of extracts from, any records which are required to be kept²⁵ or it is necessary for him to see for the purposes of any test or inspection under these provisions and to inspect, and take copies of, or of any entry in, the records²⁶;

1998 (ix) to require any person to afford him such facilities and assistance with respect to any matters or things within that person's control or in relation to which that person has responsibilities as are necessary to enable the inspector to exercise any of the powers conferred on him²⁷;

1999 (x) any other power²⁸ which is conferred by regulations made by the Secretary of State²⁹.

The powers conferred by heads (i) to (v) and head (viii) above are also exercisable³⁰ by any person authorised for the purpose in writing by the Secretary of State³¹.

Nothing in the above provisions may be taken to compel the production by any person of a document of which he would on grounds of legal professional privilege be entitled to withhold production on an order for disclosure in a claim in the High Court³².

It is an offence to fail to comply with any requirement imposed by these provisions, to prevent any person from answering any question put by an inspector, to obstruct an inspector, to make false or misleading statements or entries or to forge any document, or falsely to pretend to be an inspector³³.

Before taking possession under that power of:
- 151 (1) any thing that forms part of a batch of similar things; or
- 152 (2) any substance,
- an inspector must, if it is practical and safe for him to do so, take a sample of it and give to a responsible person at the premises a portion of the sample marked in a manner sufficient to identify it: s 115(7).
